14. Makes peace in thy Bounds, satisfies thee with the best of the Wheat.

15. He sends forth his Speech on the Earth: his Word runs very speedily.

16. He gives Snow comparable to Wool, disperses the white Frost like Ashes,

17. Casts his Ice as if in Bits: who can stand before his Cold?

18. He sends forth his Word, and melts them: making his Wind blow, the Water flows.

19. He declares his Word to Jacob, his Ordinances and Judgments to Israel.

20. He does not deal so with any Nation: as for the Judgments, they do not know them. Praise the Lord.

P S A L M CXLVIII.

PRAISE the Lord, praise the Lord from Heaven, praise him in the Heights.

2. Praise him, all his Angels: praise him, all his Armies.

3. Praise him, Sun and Moon: praise him, all you Stars of Light.

4. Praise him, O Heaven of Heavens, and Water which is above the Heavens.

5. Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for when he commanded, they were created.

6. And he makes them remain perpetually for ever: he gave an Ordinance, which shall not pass away.

7. Praise the Lord from the Earth, O Whales, and all Depths,

8. Fire and Hail, Snow and Smoak, tempestuous Wind performing his Word,

9. Mountains and all Hills, Fruit-trees and all Cedars,

10. Beasts and all Cattle, creeping Things and winged Fowls,

11. Kings of the Earth and all Nations, Princes and all Judges of the Earth,

12. Young Men and also Virgins, old Men with Children.

13. Let them praise the Name of the Lord, since his Name alone is high, his Majesty above the Earth and the Heaven.

14. And he exalts the Horn of his People, is the Praise of all his pious ones, of the Israelites a People near to him. Praise the Lord.

P S A L M CXLIX.

PRAISE the Lord, sing to the Lord a new Song, his Praise in the Congregation of the pious ones.

2. Let Israel be glad through his Maker, the Children of Zion rejoice through their King.

3. Let them praise his Name with Dancing, sing to him melodiously with the Timbrel and Harp.

4. For the Lord delights in his People, he adorns the Meek with Salvation.

5. Let the Pious triumph gloriously, sing aloud upon their Beds.

6. Let there be Extollings of God in their Throat, and a Sword with Edges in their Hand; in Eng. thus, Who covers the Mountains with Grass; as also to the Herd affords Provisions, and the Sacrifice-feasts that are asked for to thee, O Raven.

1b. Mountains] The Gr. proceeds with (whence our Psalt.) and Herb for the Service of Men, as Psa. civ. 14. for so the LXX borrow, chop and change.

Ver. 9. Ravens] So one Cambridge Sax. Copy has bresa, but another crawan, and Spelman's broca, being Birds not much unlike.

Ver. 10. does not delight in the Legs of a Man] Non curat celeres cursores, Cares not for swift Runners, Grot.

Ver. 16. Snow comparable to Wool] As at the Time when I write this; with a striking Resemblance, several Flakes seeming about an Inch long.

1b. Wool] Sax. wulle.

Ver. 4. Water which is above the Heavens] the Air below being also called Heaven, as Grotius observes.

Ver. 5. for] Here the LXX thrust in, he spoke, and they were made; from whom the vulg. Lat. and Litur. have theirs.

1b. when he commanded] The Psalt. having before it, he spoke the Word, and they were made, from the Gr. or Lat. is but a different Rendering of the same Heb.

Words, like that in Psa. xxix. 1. as the Author of the State of the Pr. Heb. observes, p. 505.

Ver. 7. Earth] including the whole Globe, and even its Atmosphere; since Hail, Snow, Wind and Fowls are comprehended, as well as Whales.

1b. Whales] So Jun. and Trem. with Cass. have it erte, agreeing best with Depths.

Ver. 14. is] with what Advantage is easily seen.

1b. near to] Litur. that serveth.

Ver. 1. Song] Sax. lesang, which sounds like Loversong, and might be taken so in other Places of the Psalms; but is not, for the Sax. les is Praise, as it follows in this Verse.

Ver. 3. Timbrel] By the E. of Dartf. drum.

Ver. 4. adorns the Meek with Salvation] For this the Lit. has helpeth the meek-hearted; which puts the great Defender hard to it for a Plea, with help importing all manner of Divine Favours, &c. The Sept. have exalts; how does not appear, otherwise than loosely from the right Verb.

Ver. 5. gloriously] 2 with Nouns being used in Heb. for Adverbs, Buxt. Gram. Lib. ii. Cap. 20. whereas Mudge turns it in their Heart, taking Glory for Heart instead of Tongue, Psa. xvi. 9.

Ver. 6. Sword] by which they were evidently to do

7. To execute Vengeance among the Gentiles, Rebukes in the Nations ;

8. To bind their Kings with Chains, and their honourable ones with iron Fetters ;

9. To execute among them the Judgment that is written : it being the Honour of all his pious ones. Praise the Lord.

P S A L M CL.

PRAISE the Lord, praise God in his holy Place, praise him in the Firmament of his Strength.

2. Praise him in his powerful Things, praise him according to the Abundance of his Greatness.

3. Praise him with the Sound of the Trumpet, praise him with the Lute and Harp.

4. Praise him with the Timbrel and Dancing, praise him with the stringed Instruments and Organ.

5. Praise him with the loud Cymbals, praise him with the sounding ones.

6. Let the whole Breath praise the Lord. Praise you the Lord.

what follows, that is the Israelites to their Enemies : and cannot be that Power which God hath given to the church to rule the consciences of men, as said in the Contents of the com. Bible ; nay even thole were but to execute the Judgment written, Ver. ult.

Ver. 7. Vengeance] Sax. wracc.

Ver. 8. bind] Sax. gewrithenne.

Ib. Chains—Fetters] Id. fotcopsum—bandcopsum.

Ver. 1. holy Place] Litur. bolinessse, unintelligible. The Douayists gravely instruct their Readers in the Fooleries of Augustine (for his being ever so great a Doctor or Father will not make them otherwise) as that 150, the Number of the Psalms, signifies the Concord of the two Testaments : for in the old the Sabbath, which is the seventh Day, in the new ours, that is the eight (it should be eighth to be Sense, but it is the first) making fifteen (the 7th Day and 1st or 8th Day make but two) multiplied by ten, the Commandments, rise unto 150. Again 7 multiplied by 7 (for the old Sabbath, which was only one, not 7) whereis one, the 8th (tho' it was 8 before) being added make 50, which multiplied by 3, signifying the B. Trinity, make 150.

Ib. in the Firmament] This I suppose may mean on Earth, being within the Concave of the mighty Firmament ; the Sight and Consideration of which, might be a Means of stirring up the Mind to praise God.

Ver. 2. in] the same as in the preceding Verse.

Ib. the Abundance (or Multitude) of his Greatness] as the Heb. is, and the Sax. mæniysæaldnyffe mucelnyffe his.

Ver. 6. the whole Breath] as joined in Consort with the foregoing Instruments, it also appearing to be only Man that is called on to praise God in this and the Psalms before ; and in the 148th where other Animals were, inanimate Things were likewise. I conclude this Book with my Remarks, that I found the following Psalms, by reason of their Sublimity, difficult to translate, viz. liii, lviii, lxxiii, lxxiii, lxxiv, lxxvi, lxxxiv, lxxxvii, xc, xcv, cx, cxxxix, cxi, cxli ; and so in a less Degree, the iv, x, xxii, lxxv, xciii, cvii ; but the xlvii, lxvii, xcvi, xcvi, xcvi, xcix, c, cxxxvi, and cxlv, plain and easy.

UPON THE BIBLE,

CRITICAL and EXPLANATORY, &c.

NOTES upon the PROVERBS.

CHAPTER I.

THE Proverbs of Solomon the Son of David, King of Israel :

2. To know Wisdom and Instruction, to understand the Sayings of Prudence ;

3. To receive the Instruction of Understanding, Righteousness, and Judgment, and Uprightness ;

4. To give the Simple Direction, the Youth Knowledge and Sagacity ;

5. (Even the Wise shall hear, and proceed in Doctrine, and the Prudent get Policy ;)

6. To understand a Proverb and the Interpretation, the Words of the Wise, and their obscure Speeches.

7. The Fear of the Lord is the Beginning of Knowledge : Fools despise Wisdom and Instruction.

8. My Son, hear the Instruction of thy

Father, and forsake not the Law of thy Mother.

9. For they will be a graceful Dress to thy Head, and Chains to thy Neck.

10. My Son, if Sinners entice thee, do not consent.

11. If they say ; Come with us, let us lie in wait for Blood, hide for the Innocent undeservedly ;

12. Let us swallow them up alive like the Grave, and whole as those who go down to the Pit ;

13. Let us find all the precious Substance, fill our Houses with Spoil :

14. Cast thy Lot amongst us, let us all have one Purse.

15. My Son, go not in the Way with them, with-hold thy Foot from their Path ;

16. Since their Feet run to Mischief, and they make haste to shed Blood.

Ver. 1. King] namely Solomon ; not David, which it is parted from by a Heb. Point : our Translation, says Cross, is wrong, making but one Proposition of the Verse, and making David King when Solomon wrote, or leaving it doubtful who, Tagb. Art. p. 180. publ. 1698, and patronized by the Archbp. of Cant.

Ver. 2. Prudence] See L. de Dieu Anim. and Ch. ii. 3.

Ver. 3. Understanding] different from that in Ver. 2.

1b. Righteousness] as usually rendered in the com. Trans. and Ch. ii. 9. where these Words are : this, according to Grotius, signifies what belongs to Bonitas, Goodness ; the next to Right (and so that might be called Justice) and the 3d whatever belongs to any other Virtue.

Ver. 6. their obscure Speeches] Diogenes Laertius speaks in his Preface, of the Gymnosophists and Druids, even among the Barbarians, delivering their Philosophy in Ænigmas and obscure Problems, while they exhorted Men to worship God, to do Nothing that was evil, and to practise Fortitude.

Ver. 7. Beginning] For says Diogenes Appaloniates, in the Entrance of his Treatise, preserved by Diog. Laert. He that undertakes to teach any Thing, should in my Opinion lay down a certain Beginning, and, adds he, use plain and proper Speech : both which Solomon may be observed to do.

Ver. 9. graceful] which of grace must mean, if it means with Propriety.

Ver. 16. they make] the same as in Isa. lix. 7. and we are not to suppose the feet shed Blood.

17. For in vain is the Net spread in the Sight of any that has Wings.

18. Nay they lie in wait for their own Blood, hide for their own Lives.

19. So are the Paths of every one who is given to Gain; which takes away the Life of the Owners of it.

20. Wisdom cries out abroad, gives forth its Voice in the Streets.

21. It calls at the Head of the Croud, at the Enterings of the Gates; in the City it declares its Sayings:

22. How long, simple ones, will you love Simplicity, Deriders desire for themselves Derision, and Fools hate Knowledge?

23. Return at my Reproof: behold I would utter my Mind to you, would let you know my Words.

24. Because I call, and you refuse, stretch out my Hand, and none attends;

25. But you reject all my Counsel, and consent not to my Reproof:

26. I also will smile at your Calamity, will mock when your Dread comes.

27. When your Dread comes as Wasting, and your Calamity approaches like a Whirlwind, when Distress and Streightness come upon you;

28. Then may they call upon me, but I will not answer, may seek me early, but shall not find me:

29. Forasmuch as they hated Knowledge, and did not choose the Fear of the Lord.

30. They consented not to my Counsel, contemned all my Reproof.

31. So they shall eat of the Fruit of their own Way, and be filled from their own Counsels.

32. For the turning away of the Simple will slay them, and the Quietness of Fools make them perish.

33. Whereas he who hearkens to me shall dwell securely, and be quiet from the Dread of Harm.

MY Son, if thou receivest my Sayings, and layest up my Commandments with thee;

2. Causing thy Ears to attend to Wisdom, inclinest thy Heart to Understanding:

3. Nay if thou callest for Prudence, givest forth thy Voice for Understanding;

4. If thou seekest for her as Silver, and searchest for her as Treasures:

5. Then wilt thou understand the Fear of the Lord, and find the Knowledge of God.

6. For the Lord gives Wisdom, from his Mouth is Knowledge and Understanding.

7. He lays up substantial Matter for the Upright, is a Shield to such as walk with Integrity;

8. Keeping the Paths of Judgment, and preserves the Way of his pious ones.

9. Then wilt thou understand Righteousness, and Judgment, and Uprightness, every good Way.

10. For Wisdom will come into thy Heart, and Knowledge be pleasant to thy Soul.

11. Sagacity will preserve thee, Understanding keep thee:

12. Rescuing thee from the Way of Evil, from the Man that speaks Frowardness:

13. Those who leave the Paths of Virtue, to go in the Ways of Darkeness;

14. Who are glad to do Evil, rejoice in the Frowardness of it;

15. Whose Paths are perverse, and they are froward in their Roads:

16. Rescuing thee from the strange Woman, from the unknown one that flatters with her Sayings;

17. Who leaves the Guide of her Youth, and forgets the Covenant of her God.

18. For her House bends down to Death, and her Ways to the deceased.

19. Not any who come to her return, nor reach the Paths of Life.

Ver. 17. For] Thou mayest easily shun their Way, when it is now shewn to thee, as the winged Species do. It is the same Conjunction (denoting the Reason of a Thing) that begins the preceding Verse.

Ib. in vain] which Patrick to expound contradicts, Be not as the silly Birds, who use to run into the Net, which they see the Fowler lay before their Eyes.

Ver. 18. Nay] not only shewing that their wicked Proceeding would be in vain, excepting on the weak and simple, Ver. 17. but also the Mischief of it to themselves, as strong Arguments of Dissuasion. How variously this Place is understood, see in De Dieu's Lat. Animadversions on the Old Testament, curiously printed at Leyden by Elzevir, 1648.

Ib. for their own] This Patrick says is like the Fowler's catching the Birds, when it is quite contrary.

Ver. 22. Somebody saying to Diogenes, I am not fit for Philosophy; he answered, Ti ἂν εἴς, αἱ τὰ μακάρις εἴης μὴ μέλει ου; Why dost thou live then, if thou hast no care to live well? Diog. Laert. in his Life.

Ver. 32. turning away] To this is put in the Eng. Marg. or ease; which should belong to prosperity, as Gell. observes, Essay, p. 437. though of the simple be added to it; and that ought to have been omitted when in the Text, if ease was referred hither.

Ver. 3. Prudence] Here is the same Heb. Word as in Ch. i. 2. and that for Knowledge is another, Ver. 5, 6, 10.

Ib. givest forth] the same Verb as in Chap. i. 20. which abundantly is used for give.

Ver. 10. For] the same Particle that begins Ver. 6, 18, 21.

Ver. 17. the Guide] her Husband: but Grotius says God; whereas if that had been the Meaning, his Covenant would have been proper, and it would intimate as if Adulteresses in general had God for their Guide when young.

20. That thou mayest go in the Way of the Good, and observe the Paths of the Righteous.

21. For the Upright will dwell in the Country, and the Perfect remain in it.

22. But the Wicked will be cut off from the Earth, and the Treacherous be plucked away from it.

CHAP. III.

MY Son, forget not my Law, but let thy Heart keep my Commandments.

2. For Length of Days, Years of Life, and Peace shall they add to thee.

3. Let not Kindness and Truth leave thee; tie them upon thy Neck, write them upon the Table of thy Heart.

4. So find Favour and good Understanding, in the Sight of God and Man.

5. Trust on the Lord with thy whole Heart, and do not depend on thy own assistance.

6. Acknowledge him in all thy Ways; and he will make thy Paths right.

7. Do not think thy self wise: fear the Lord, and depart from Evil;

8. Which will be healing to thy Navel, and watering to thy Bones.

9. Honour the Lord with thy Substance, and with the First-fruits of all thy Increase.

10. Thus will thy Barns be filled with Sufficiency, and thy Wine-presses burst with new Wine.

11. The Instruction of the Lord, my Son, do not despise, nor be weary of his Reproof.

12. For whom the Lord loves he re-proves, even as a Father the Son he delights in.

13. Happy is the Man who finds Wisdom, and the Man who obtains Understanding.

14. For its Merchandise is better than that of Silver, and the Increase of it than Gold.

15. It is more precious than Pearls, and all the Things of thy Desire are not equal with it.

16. Long Life is in its right Hand, in its left Riches and Honour.

17. The Ways of it are pleasant ones, and all its Paths peaceable.

18. It is a Tree of Life to those who hold it fast, and he is happy that retains it.

19. The Lord founded the Earth by Wisdom, established the Heaven by Understanding.

20. By his Knowledge the Depths were cleaved, and the Skies distil the Dew.

21. My Son, let them not depart from thy Sight, keep substantial Matter and Sagacity.

22. These will be Life to thy Soul, and Embellishment to thy Neck.

23. Then wilt thou walk securely in thy Way, and thy Foot not stumble.

24. When thou liest down, thou wilt not be in dread; nay thou wilt lie down, and thy Sleep will be sweet.

25. Be not in fear of Dread suddenly, nor of the Wasting of the Wicked, though it comes;

26. Since the Lord will be for thy Hope, and will preserve thy Foot from being taken.

27. Do not withhold Good from the Owners of it, when it is in the Power of thy Hand to do it.

28. Do not say to thy Neighbour, Go and return, and to Morrow I will give; when it is with thee.

29. Contrive not Harm against thy Neighbour, when he dwells securely with thee.

30. Do not contend with a Man undeservedly, if he has requited thee no Ill.

31. Envy not a violent Man, nor choose any of his Ways.

32. For the Froward is an Abomination to the Lord; but his Secret is with the Upright.

33. The Curse of the Lord is in the House of the Wicked; whereas he blesses the Habitation of the righteous ones.

34. Though he derides the Deriders, yet he gives Grace to the Meek.

35. The Wise will possess Honour; but the exalting of Fools will be Baseness.

Ver. 4. find] imperative.

Ver. 7. not-wise] It was an Observation of Zeno, that nothing is so unbecoming as Haughtiness or Self-conceit, especially in young People, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 8. Navel] as being the middle of the Body, I suppose; since it is not spoken to Infants in the Womb.

Ver. 11. Instruction] So Jun. and Trem. render it eruditionem, Cast. and the Vulg. Lat. Transf. disciplinam; as παιδείας also Heb. xii. 5. signifies more than chastening.

Ver. 12. reproves] the Heb. Verb not signifying correcteth.

Ver. 13. Happy] Hippodamus Thurius the Pythagorean Philosopher says in his Book Of Happiness, Εὐδαιμονία ἐκ ἀρετῶν ἀρτάς, There cannot be Happiness without Virtue; and Theagus in his Of Virtues, Ἀρετὰ καὶ δυνάμις καὶ πλεονέχεια τὰς ἀρετὰς αἰδουμένης, ἀ τῶν δυνάμει καὶ πλεονέχειας ἐκ-γινώσκας, The Beginning, Cause, and Rule of human Happiness, is the Knowledge of divine and very excellent Things.

Ib. Understanding] Of which may be said with Diogenes, that it is Sobriety to the Young, Comfort to the Old, Riches to the Poor, and an Ornament to the Rich, Laert. in Vit.

Ver. 15. It] as in the Ver. before.

Ib. Pearls] See Bechart's Hierozoicon de Sacr. Animal. Lib. 5. 6.

Ver. 28. Do not say] Thus Marcus Aurelius Antoninus in the first Book of his Meditations observes, one should not put off the Duties that are due to Friends and Acquaintance, under Pretence of other Business.

Ver. 34. Though] and not Surely.

C H A P. IV.

HEAR, O Sons, the Instruction of a Father, and hearken to know Understanding.

2. For I give you good Doctrine: forsake not my Law.

3. Since I being the Son of my Father, the tender and only one before my Mother;

4. He taught me, and said to me, Let thy Heart retain my Words; observe my Commandments, and live.

5. Get Wisdom, get Understanding: do not forget, nor turn away from the Sayings of my Mouth.

6. Forsake it not, and it will preserve thee: love it, and it will keep thee.

7. Wisdom is the chief Thing, get Wisdom, and with all thy Getting get Understanding.

8. Extol it, and it will exalt thee: it will dignify thee, because thou embracest it.

9. It will give a graceful Dress to thy Head, a Crown of Glory will it deliver to thee.

10. Hear, my Son, and receive my Sayings; so the Years of Life will be many to thee.

11. I teach thee in the Way of Wisdom, cause thee to go in the Roads of Virtue.

12. When thou walkest, thy Step will not be streightened; and if thou runnest, thou wilt not stumble.

13. Hold fast Instruction, leave not off: keep it, for it is thy Life.

14. Do not enter into the Path of the Wicked, nor go in the Way of the evil ones.

15. Withdraw from it, pass not in it: turn aside from it, and pass away.

16. Since they sleep not, unless they do evil; and their Sleep is taken away, if they cause not to fall.

17. For they eat the Bread of Wickedness, and drink the Wine of Violence.

18. But the Path of the Righteous is like the shining Light, that goes on in being Light to the established Day.

19. The Way of the Wicked is like Darkness, they know not what they stumble at.

20. My Son, hearken to my Words, incline thy Ear to my Sayings.

21. Do not cause them to depart from thy Sight, preserve them within thy Heart.

22. For they are Life to those who find them, and Healing to all the Flesh of each:

23. Keep thy Heart more than any Charge: for from it are the goings forth of Life.

24. Put away from thee the Perverseness of the Mouth, and the Frowardness of the Lips remove far from thee.

25. Let thy Eyes look straight forward, and thy Eye-lids be right before thee.

26. Consider the Road of thy Foot, so that all thy Ways may be established.

27. Incline neither to the right Hand nor left, put away thy Foot from Evil.

C H A P. V.

MY Son, hearken to my Wisdom, incline thy Ear to my Understanding;

2. To observe sagacious Things, and that thy Lips may keep Knowledge.

3. For the Lips of a strange Woman drop as a Honey-comb, and her Mouth is smother than Oil.

4. But the End of her is bitter like Wormwood, sharp like a Sword with Edges.

5. Her Feet go down to Death, her Steps take hold of Hell.

6. That thou mayest not consider the Path of Life, her Roads are removed thou dost not know how.

7. And now, O Sons, hear me, and depart not from the Sayings of my Mouth.

8. Remove thy Way far from her, and do not come near the Door of her House:

Ver. 4. said to me] which Patrick extends to Ver. 10. and may be, as he says, to the End of the Chap. but I do not think Solomon would either remember or repeat so many of his Father's Words once spoken, or that David used a Form in speaking to him; and rather suppose they are limited by this Verse, as being adapted and sufficient to enforce what was said, Ver. 1, 2.

Ver. 5. do not forget] the Sayings following; it being parted from the foregoing in Heb. as here in Eng.

Ver. 6. it] as added in the com. Trans though wrong, in the preceding Verse.

Ver. 7. get Wisdom] So wise Bias advised, Ἐπόδον ἀνδρόνισιν ἡσυχίας ἀναδιδόντων σοφίας, Take Wisdom for Provision in the Journey from Youth to old Age, Diog. Laer.

1b. get Understanding] or Learning, as distinct from the other: which, as Metrocles taught, is not to be purchased with Money, like a House, but with Time and Diligence, Id. Diog. in ejus Vit. The same Author tells us of Hipparchia the Woman-Philosopher, that being flouted at by Diodorus the Atheist, for coming from her Weaving, which was then Women's Work; asked him whether he really thought she had done ill for her self, by spending her Time in Learning, instead of the Loom?

Ver. 16. is taken away] Lat. rapitur, as in Clement's and some Copies of the Vulg. in others non capitur, is not taken.

Ver. 18. to the established Day] Dispart in Gr. Metre, ἕως ἡμέρας μὲν ἡμέραν ἀμφιγίγναι, till the Sun goes round to the Middle of the Heaven.

Ver. 21. Do not cause them to depart from thy Sight] Mind them often, as Ch. iii. 21. but the Verb is in the Conj. Hiphil here.

Ver. 23. more than] So our Translators own in the Marg. the Heb. is above, which Gell. approves of, Essay, p. 635. and likewise Trem. and Jun. render it supra.

1b. goings forth of Life] to the Soul, as to the Body.

Ver. 25. look straight forward] in the Way of Providence, minding thy own Concern.

9. Lest thou shouldest give thy Reputation to others, and thy Years to a cruel one;

10. Lest Strangers should be filled with thy Ability, and thy Labours be in the House of one unknown;

11. And thou groan in the End, when thy Flesh and Body are consumed;

12. And say; How have I hated Instruction, and my Heart contemned Reproof!

13. I have neither hearkened to the Voice of my Instructors, nor inclined my Ear to my Teachers;

14. Being almost in all Evil, within the Congregation and Assembly.

15. Drink of the Water from thy own Cistern, and of the Brooks from within thy Well.

16. Let thy own Springs be dispersed abroad, Streams of Water in the Streets.

17. Let them be thy own alone, and not Strangers with thee.

18. Let thy Fountain be blest, and be glad through the Wife of thy Youth;

19. As a Hind much beloved, and a favoured She-goat, let her Breasts intoxicate thee at all Times, and go astray continually in her Love.

20. And why wilt thou go astray, my Son, with a Stranger, and embrace the Bosom of one unknown?

21. For the Ways of a Man are before the Eyes of the Lord, and he considers all his Roads.

22. As for the Wicked, his Iniquities will take him, and he will be held with the Cords of his Sin:

23. He will die without Instruction, and go astray in the Multitude of his Folly.

MY Son, if thou art engaged for thy Neighbour, hast struck thy Hand to a Stranger;

2. Thou art ensnared with the Sayings of thy Mouth, art taken with the Sayings of thy own Mouth.

3. Do this now, my Son, and get free, since thou art come into thy Neighbour's Power; go, subject thy self, and be earnest with thy Neighbour:

4. Give no Sleep to thy Eyes, nor Slumber to thy Eye-lids;

5. Rescue thy self as a Roe out of the Power, and as a Bird out of that of the Fowler.

6. Go to the Ant, O Slothful, see her Ways, and be wise;

7. Who having no Leader, Officer, or Governor,

8 Prepares her Food in the Summer, gets together her Meat in the Harvest.

9. How long wilt thou lie down, O Slothful? When wilt thou rise up from thy Sleep?

10. As there is a little Sleep, a little Slumber, a little folding of the Hands to lie down;

11. Poverty will stride along as it were to thee, and Want as a Man with a Shield.

12. A Person of Naughtiness, a Man of Iniquity, goes with a perverse Mouth.

13. He winks with his Eyes, talks with his Feet, teaches with his Fingers.

14. There is Frowardness in his Heart, he contrives Mischief at all Times, sends forth Contentions.

Ver. 9. Reputation] Lowth in his Commentary on Dan. x. 8. says of this Word here, 'it should be translated Strength or Vigour, as appears by comparing that Verse with the parallel Text, Prov. xxxi. 3.' Whereas in the other Place the Heb. Word translated Strength, is different both in the Meaning and in every Letter. At this modern Fashion of commenting, what may not the Scripture be turned to? Nay the Texts are so far from being parallel, that others here is masculine, and therefore not the same as Women there.

Ib. thy Years] by being killed or enslaved.

Ib. a cruel one] her Husband.

Ver. 14. within] even publicly.

Ver. 15. Drink of the Water] Quench thy Thirst, or satisfy thy Desire.

Ib. Cistern] Wife, Vatab. De Dieu and Mercier.

Ver. 16. own Springs] a Man's own Children by his own Wife, according to the next Ver. and not the same as Ver. 18. This will also take off the Cavil of the Author of the Present State of the Printed Hebrew Text, p. 551. that not and nor are omitted in this Verse.

Ver. 18. Fountain] Fruitfulness by the Wife, from whence the Springs, Ver. 16.

Ver. 19. As a Hind] Be as loving to thy Wife, as a Buck and He-goat remarkably are, to their beloved favourite Females, which notable Comparison our Translators have spoiled, especially the first Part, by turning it contrary.

Ib. much beloved] Heb. of Loves.

Ib. She-goat] as in the other Gender every where, viz. 2 Sam. xxiv. 2. Job xxxix. 1. 1st Ju. civ. 18.

Ib. go astray] the same Verb that there is in Ver. 23. The Septuagint having, going about with her in her Love, thou wilt be mine, Grotius says, it appears that they read this Heb. Verb differently, so that it signified to multiply; whereas it is evident, it was the following Heb. Word for continually, which they took in a different Sense. If any Reader should understand that the Jewish Rabbins interpret it to go astray in other Things, I would have him consider the Text says, it is in her Love.

Ver. 3. be earnest] Heb. be strong, to get released.

Ver. 10. As] the Heb. Conjunction at the Beginning of the next Verse which signifies this as much as So, and how imperfect is it in the com. Transl. thus in Ch. xxv. 3, 25, &c.

Ver. 11. as a Man with] who is not to be destroyed as he approaches.

Ver. 13. Feet] by treading on the Toes, to give intimation of Something.

Ib. Fingers] by making Signs with them.

15. Therefore his Calamity will come suddenly; he will be broken at an instant, and without Healing.

16. The Lord hates these six Things, and seven are an Abomination to his Soul;

17. Lofty Eyes, a false Tongue, and Hands that shed innocent Blood,

18. A Heart which contrives Devices of Iniquity, Feet that make haste to run to Evil,

19. A false Witness who utters Lyes, and he that sends forth Contentions between Brethren.

20. Keep, my Son, the Commandment of thy Father, and forsake not the Law of thy Mother.

21. Bind them upon thy Heart continually, tie them upon thy Neck.

22. When thou walkest about, it will lead thee; preserve thee when thou liest down; and when thou awakest, it will converse with thee.

23. For the Commandment is a Lamp, the Law a Light, and the Reproofs of Instruction are the Way of Life;

24. To preserve thee from the evil Woman, from the Flattery of the Tongue of one unknown.

25. Do not desire her Beauty in thy Heart, nor let her take thee with her Eye-lids.

26. For by a Woman who is a Whore thou wilt be reduced to a Piece of Bread, and a Man's Wife will hunt for the precious Life.

27. May a Man receive Fire into his Bosom, and his Garments not be burnt?

28. Can a Man walk upon burning Coals, and his Feet be not scorched?

29. So is he that goes in to the Wife of his Neighbour: there will not any who meddles with her be innocent.

30. People do not despise a Thief, when he steals to fill his Appetite, because he is hungry;

31. Yet being found he must pay sevenfold, must give all the Substance of his House.

32. But he who commits Adultery with a Woman wants Sense, he that does it destroys his Soul.

33. He will find a Stroke and Vileness, and his Reproach will not be wiped off.

34. For Jealousy is the Wrath of a Man, and he will not spare in the Day of Vengeance.

35. He will not accept of any Ransom, nor acquiesce though thou multipliest Gifts.

C H A P. VII.

MY Son, observe my Sayings, and lay up my Commandments with thee.

2. Observe my Commandments and live, and my Law as the Apple of thy Eyes.

3. Bind them upon thy Fingers, write them upon the Table of thy Heart.

4. Say to Wisdom, Thou art my Sister; and call Understanding a Kinswoman:

5. To preserve thee from the strange Woman, from the unknown who flatters with her Sayings.

6. For at the Window of my House, looking out at my Casement;

7. I saw among the Simple, considered among the Sons, a young Man wanting Sense;

8. Who passed through the Lane by her Corner, and went on the Way to her House;

9. In the Twilight, in the Evening of the Day, in the black Night and Darkneis.

10. When behold a Woman met him with the Dress of a Whore, and of a close Heart;

11. (Who is noisy and obstinate, her Feet not staying at home;

12. Being one time in the Court, another time in the Streets, and lies in wait by every Corner)

13. And she took hold of him, kissing him; hardened her Face, and said to him:

14. There are Peace-offerings with me, to Day have I performed my Vows.

15. Therefore am I come forth to meet thee, to seek thy Face early, that I might find thee.

16. I have furnished my Couch with Tapestries, carved Things, Linen of Egypt.

17. I have perfumed my Bed with Myrrh, Aloes and Cinnamon.

Ver. 19. sends forth] seweth being from the vulg. Lat. whence the old Eng. was first translated, and so continued; and it appears that sew was in the Lat. (which is not in the Gr.) made comparatively from send forth, since seminat could scarce be corrupted from immittit, which seems the nearest in either of the three Languages.

Ver. 21. Bind them] as it were.

Ver. 22. converse] One asking Antisthenes what he got by Philosophy? He answered, Tò διαοδαι εαυτῷ ομιλεῖν, To be able to converse with myself, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 23. sevenfold] seven being used in the Scripture-language for divers; see the real Law for it Exod. xxii. 1.

Ib. all] as might be commonly the Case with such a poor Thief as is here described, who stole for Hunger.

Ver. 4. &c. turned into Verse by Wards

*Let all thy homage be to wisdom paid,
Seek her protection, and implore her Aid;
That she may keep thy Soul from harm secure,
And turn thy footsteps from the harlot's door,
Who with curs'd charms lures the unwary in,
And sooths with flattery their souls to sin.*

*Once from my window as I cast my eye
On those that pass'd in giddy Numbers by,
A youth among the foolish youths I spy'd,
Who took not sacred Wisdom for his guide.*

Ver. 13. said] which Solomon may be supposed to overhear.

Ver. 14. performed] Vulg. payed, yet I find it right paid in 1613, and one late Oxf. Edit.

18. Come;

18. Come, let us be intoxicated with beloved Things till the Morning, let us rejoice our selves in Love.

19. For the Husband is not at home, he is gone a long Way off.

20. He took a Bag of Money with him, will come home at the Day appointed.

21. She made him turn aside by a great deal of her Instruction, and compelled him with the Flattery of her Lips.

22. He walks after her presently, as an Ox goes to the Slaughter, and as one fettered to the Correction of the Foolish;

23. Till an Arrow cuts his Liver asunder, like a Bird which makes haste to the Snare, being ignorant that it is for his Life.

24. And now, O Sons, hear me, and hearken to the Sayings of my Mouth.

25. Let not thy Heart decline to her Ways, go not astray in her Paths.

26. For she causes many pierced to fall, and numerous ones are all her slain.

27. Her House is the Ways to the Grave, that go down to the Chambers of Death.

C H A P. VIII.

DOES not Wisdom call, and Understanding give forth its Voice?

2. In the Head of the high Places upon the Way, at the House of the Paths does it stand.

3. At the Side of the Gates, at the Passage into the City, the Entrance of the Doors, it cries:

4. To you, O Men, I call, and my Voice is to the Sons of Man.

5. Understand, O simple ones, Discretion; and, ye Fools, understand with the Heart.

6. Hear, for I will speak like the Rulers, and the opening of my Lips shall be with upright Things.

7. For my Mouth shall discourse Truth, Wickedness being an Abomination to my Lips.

8. All the Sayings of my Mouth are in Righteousness, there is nothing froward or perverse in them.

9. All of them are right to him that understands, and upright to those who find Knowledge.

10. Receive my Instruction, and not Silver, and Knowledge rather than choice Gold.

11. For Wisdom is better than Pearls, and all desirable Things are not equal to it.

12. I Wisdom dwell with Discretion, and find out the Knowledge of sagacious Things.

13. The Fear of the Lord being to hate Evil; Haughtiness, Pride, the evil Way, and the froward Mouth I hate.

14. Of me are Counsel and substantial Matter: I am Prudence, to me belongs Power.

15. By me Kings reign, and Princes decree Justice.

16. By me Princes have the Sovereignty, and Nobles, all the Judges of the Earth.

17. I will love those that love me; and they who seek me early shall find me.

18. Riches and Honour are with me, durable Substance and Righteousness.

19. My Fruit is better than Gold, nay than pure Gold, and my Increase than choice Silver.

20. I cause to walk in the Path of Righteousness, within the Foot-paths of Judgment;

21. To make them that love me possess what there is, whose Treasures I fill.

22. The Lord possessed me at the Beginning of his Way, before his Works from that Time.

23. I have been anointed from everlasting, from the Beginning, from before the most ancient Times of the Earth.

24. When there were no Depths I was

*Th'unguarded youth in silken fetters ty'd
Resign'd his Reason, and with ease comply'd.*

Ib. turn aside to her House.

Ver. 23. Arrow shot by her Husband.

Ver. 26. numerous Since the Heb. Word has this Meaning, and the next is all, not many, it is requisite here; because the strong all would not be true, though in the Gen. Vers. so Jun. and Trem. have numerosi.

Ver. 3. it cries Jun. and Trem. translate the Verb plurally, recantant, they chant over; sapientia nimirum & intelligentia; ut supra l. 20. namely Wisdom and Understanding (Ver. 1.) as before Ch. i. 20. say they in a Note; though there they render this very same Word singularly, and here those in Ver. 2, 4, &c. and though not only the Spelling of the Word shews it to be singular, but also the great Buxtorf sen. produces it for such in his Heb. Gram. Lib. i. cap. 19. having למדת clamat, (it cries)

Provir. l. 20. yet Buxtorf's Son following them, puts it for cantans in the Concordance: for which one Thing may be said, that Wisdom Ch. i. 20. is plural; but so it is Ch.

ix, 1, &c. with singular Verbs and Pronouns, and may therefore be taken for consummate Wisdom, as Jun. and Trem. have their summa sapientia.

Ver. 13. to hate Jun. and Trem. turn it odium, Hatred, and join it to the foregoing Verse; whereas that in Heb. is sinath, but this senoth, an infinitive Verb; nor are here Conjunctions so to join it, nor would it be suitable: so that those great Men were not infallible.

Ver. 20. I cause So Juvenal writes, Sat. 13.

*Plurima felix
Paulatim vitia, atque errores exiit omnes
Prima docens rectum Sapientia.*

Which Greech having skipt over in his Translation, is, Happy Wisdom that first teaches what is right, by degrees strips off the many Vices, and all Errors.

Ver. 22. at the Beginning The very ancient and famous Poet Linus begins his Poem of the Creation thus,

Ἦν ποτὶ χρόνον ἅπαντα ἐκ ἀναρχίας ἐκείνης.
There was a Time in which all Things were created together.

Ver. 23. anointed Nothing of set up,

25. So was I before the Mountains were settled, antecedent to the Hills ;

26. While he had not made the Earth, or the Lawns, or the Top of the Mould of the habitable World.

27. When he prepared the Heaven I was there, when he appointed a Compass upon the Surface of the Deep,

28. When he fortified the Skies above, when he strengthened the Fountains of the Deep,

29. When he set the Sea its Appointment, that the Waters should not pass his Command, when he appointed the Foundations of the Earth.

30. Nay I was nourished with him, and was delightful Day by Day, smiling before him at all Times :

31. Smiling in the habitable Part of his Earth, and my Delights were with the Sons of Man.

32. And now, O Sons, hear me ; since they are blessed who observe my Ways.

33. Hear Instruction, and be wise, and do not reject.

34. The Man is blessed who hears me, watching at my Gates Day by Day, observing at the Posts of my Doors.

35. For he who finds me, finds Life, and shall obtain Favour from the Lord.

36. But he that sins against me, does Violence to his Soul ; all who hate me, love Death.

CH A P. IX.

WISDOM builds its House, cuts out its seven Pillars ;

2. Slays what it has to be slain, mixes its Wine, furnishes also its Table ;

3. Sends forth its Maids, calls upon the high Battlements of the City,

4. Whoever is simple, let him turn aside hither : to him that wants Sense she says ;

5. Come, eat of my Bread, and drink of the Wine I have mixed.

6. Forfake the Simple, and live, and go in the Way of Understanding.

Ver. 30. smiling] Since the Heb. Word does not signify rejoicing, as may be seen by comparing other Places, by Buxt. &c. this seems more suitable than either laughing or playing.

Ver. 33. Instruction] Demophilus says in his Similitudes, 'H παιδεία ὡς χρυσὸν στεφάνον καὶ γὰρ τιμὴν ἔχει καὶ τὸ λυσιτελεῖν. To be well instructed is like a golden Crown ; for it is both honourable and profitable.

1b. reject] Our Translators might take [it] from the old Lat. but not from the Heb. unless by mistaking the last Letter of the Verb for a Preposition, which seems to be the Case.

Ver. 1. its House] Grotius says Corpus humanum, the Body of Man ; and interprets the seven Pillars to be the

7. He who corrects a Scornor, receives Baseness himself ; and he who reproves the Wicked, his Blemish.

8. Do not reprove a Scornor, lest he should hate thee : reprove the Wise, and he will love thee.

9. Give to the Wise, and he will be wise the more : make known to the Righteous, and he will proceed in Doctrine.

10. The Beginning of Wisdom is the Fear of the Lord, and the Perception of the holy ones is Understanding.

11. For by me thy Days shall be many, and Years of Life shall be added to thee.

12. If thou art wise, thou wilt be wise for thy self ; or dost deride, thy self alone wilt bear.

13. A foolish Woman is noisy, simple, and does not know what.

14. Such a one sits at the Door of her House, upon a Seat at the high Places of the City ;

15. To call to those who pass along the Way, that are right in their Paths,

16. Whoever is simple, let him turn aside hither : as for him that wants Sense, she also says to him,

17. Liquor stolen is sweet, and Victuals in private Places is pleasant.

THE Proverbs of Solomon. A wife Child makes the Father glad ; but a foolish one is the Sorrow of its Mother.

2. Treasures of Wickedness are unprofitable ; whereas Righteousness delivers from Death.

3. The Lord will not let the Stomach of the Righteous be hungry, but will drive away the Substance of the Wicked.

4. He will be poor who works with a deceitful Hand ; but the Hand of the Diligent will make rich :

5. He that gets together in the Summer is a Son who considers : he who is fast asleep in the Harvest, is one that makes ashamed.

6. Blessings are on the Head of the Righteous ; but Violence covers the Mouth of the Wicked.

7. The Remembrance of the Righteous is for a Blessing ; but the Name of the Wicked will rot.

8. He that is of a wise Heart will receive the Commandments ; but a foolish Talker will be disquieted.

9. He who walks in Integrity goes securely : but he that perverts his Way will be made known.

10. He who winks with the Eye gives Grief ; and a foolish Talker will be disquieted.

11. The Mouth of the Righteous is a Spring of Life ; but Violence covers the Mouth of the Wicked.

12. Hatred stirs up Contentions ; but Love covers over all Transgressions.

13. Wisdom is found in the Lips of the Prudent ; but a Stick is for the Back of him who wants Sense.

14. The Wise lay up Knowledge ; but the Mouth of the Foolish is near Calamity.

15. The Wealth of the Rich is his strong City ; the Calamity of the Poor is their Poverty.

16. The Work of the Righteous is for Life ; the Increase of the Wicked for Sin.

17. The Path to Life is of him who keeps Instruction ; but he that leaves Reproof causes to go astray.

18. He who covers Hatred with false Lips, and brings forth an ill Report, is a Fool.

19. Transgression does not cease in a Multitude of Words ; but he who restrains his Lips considers.

20. The Tongue of the Righteous is as choice Silver ; the Heart of the Wicked is of little Value.

21. The Lips of the Righteous feed many ; but the Foolish die for want of Sense.

22. The Blessing of the Lord is what makes rich ; and he adds no Grief with it.

23. It is as Sport to a Fool to do Mischief ; but a Man of Understanding has Wisdom.

24. The very Dread of the Wicked that will come on him ; whereas the Desire of the Righteous will be given.

25. As the Whirlwind passes away, thus the Wicked is gone ; but the Righteous is founded for ever,

26. As Vinegar to the Teeth, and as Smoak to the Eyes, so is the Slothful to those who send him.

27. The Fear of the Lord adds Days ; but the Years of the Wicked will be shortened.

28. The Hope of the Righteous is Gladness ; but the Expectation of the Wicked perishes.

29. The Way of the Lord is Strength to the Perfect ; but Calamity is for the Workers of Iniquity.

30. The Righteous will never be moved ; but the Wicked shall not inhabit the Earth.

31. The Mouth of the Righteous is fruitful with Wisdom ; but a froward Tongue will be cut off.

32. The Lips of the Righteous know Favour, but the Mouth of the Wicked Frowardness.

CHAP. XI.

DECETRUL Scales are Abomination to the Lord ; but a perfect Weight is to his liking.

2. Pride coming, Baseness will come ; but Wisdom is with the Modest.

3. The Integrity of the Upright will lead them ; as the Perverseness of the Treacherous will waste these.

4. Wealth will be unprofitable in the Day of Wrath ; but Righteousness will deliver from Death.

5. The Righteousness of the Perfect will make his Way right ; whereas the Wicked will fall in his Wickedness.

Ver. 6. Violence, &c.] his own violent Dealing stops him from speaking ; see Ver. 11. where the Opposition of the Sentences is clearer.

Ver. 8. disquieted] as the two famous Jewish Writers Sol. Jar. and Levi expound it, as Jun. and Trem. translate, and Burt. has it in his Lexic. and Concord. It is passive in the Original as here.

Ver. 10. and] For Vice, as Mercer and Poole write, is not here opposed to Virtue, but one Vice is compared to another ; and the Repetition from Ver. 8. need not be wondered at, if we consider the Frequency of them in the Scripture and other Books too. Yet two or three of the old Translators stumbling at it, have but he that reproves with Freedom makes Peace ; which the Author of the Present State of the Printed Hebrew Text lays hold of, and struggles to make the Heb. appear mistranscribed from Ver. 8. but we are not to part with the Original for Imaginations, nor yet for Translations, so few too, following one another ; when he did not find his Amendment in any of the 70 MS Copies, with which he would correct the printed ones.

Ver. 15. Calamity] not destruction.

Ver. 17. leaves] and not refuses in the Orig. and the following Verb is in the Conjug. which signifies to cause or make some other do Something ; whence we may conclude, with De Dieu, this is spoken of such as are to give, not receive Reproof, as likewise the former Part.

Ver. 1. Scales] Don't step, said Pythagoras, over the Beam of the Scales, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 5. Righteousness] Plato, according to Diog. Laertius in his Life, made perfect Virtue to consist in four Things, φρόνησις, δικαιοσύνη, ἀνδρεία, σωφροσύνη ; Prudence, Justice, Fortitude and Temperance. And Metopius in his Book Of Virtue writes, Ἀρετὴ ἐστὶ ἀνθρώπου τελειότης φύσεως ἀνθρώπου, Man's Virtue is the Perfection of human Nature.

1b. will make his Way right] How inestimable is this divine Sentence !

6. The Righteousness of the Upright will deliver them; but the Treacherous will be taken in Frowardness.

7. When a wicked Man dies, Expectation perishes, as does also the Hope of Power.

8. The Righteous is delivered from Distress, and the Wicked comes in his room.

9. A Hypocrite destroys his Neighbour by the Mouth; but the Righteous are delivered by Knowledge.

10. The City triumphs in the Good of the Righteous, and when the Wicked perish there is Singing.

11. The City is exalted by the Blessing of the Upright, but it is thrown down by the Mouth of the Wicked.

14. Without Policy a People falls; whereas there is Safety in the Multitude of Counsellors.

15. He will be utterly broke that is engaged for a Stranger; but he who hates striking Hands is secure.

16. A Woman of Grace holds Honour, as terrible Men do Riches.

17. A kind Man is bountiful to his Soul; but the cruel troubles his own Flesh.

18. The Wicked does the Work of Falsehood; but for him who sows Righteousness is the Reward of Truth.

19. Righteousness is right for Life; and he that pursues Evil for his Death.

20. Those of perverse Heart are Abomination to the Lord; but those of perfect Way are to his liking.

21. With Hand to Hand, the Evil will not be quit; but the Offspring of the Righteous will be delivered.

22. As a Jewel of Gold in a Hog's Nose, is a Woman who is fair, and void of Reason.

23. The Desire of the Righteous has only Good: the Expectation of the Wicked has Wrath.

24. There is he who disperses, and there is still Increase; and he who keeps back more than is right, only to be in Want.

25. The Person that blesses will be made fat; as for him who waters, he will also be watered.

26. Him that with-holds Wheat, the Nation will curse; but a Blessing will be on the Head of him who sows.

27. He who enquires early for Good, asks for Favour; and he that seeks for Evil, it will come to him.

28. He will fall who trusts in his Riches; but the Righteous will flourish as a Leaf.

29. He that disturbs his Family will possess the Wind, and the Fool will be Servant to him of a wise Heart.

30. The Fruit of the Righteous is a Tree of Life, and he who gains Souls is wise.

31. Behold the Righteous is recompensed on the Earth, much more the Wicked and Sinner.

C H A P. XII.

HE who loves Instruction, loves Knowledge; but he that hates Reproof is brutish.

2. The Good obtains Favour from the Lord; but a Man of heinous Things he will condemn.

3. Mankind is not established in Wickedness; but the Root of the Righteous will not be moved.

4. A Woman of Ability is a Crown to her Husband; whereas she who makes ashamed is like Rottenness in his Bones.

Ver. 7. Power] as the Word indisputably signifies, and Mercer comments: accordingly Mont. translates it roborum, the strong; Jun. and Trem. have spes valentissima, the most powerful Hope.

Ver. 13. a Secret] Chilo being asked what was difficult? answered notably, Τὸ τὰ ἀποκρύφια ἀποκρύπτειν, καὶ ὀφθαλμοὺς εὐ διακρίνειν, καὶ ἀδικημάτων ἀνασθεῖν φίλων. Not to divulge Secrets, to dispose of one's Leisure-time well, and to be able to bear Injuries, Diog. Laert. in Vit.

Ver. 16. Honour] The Gr. has thrust in here, but the Woman who hates Righteousness is a Throne of Disgrace. Slothful ones with Riches become needy; which seems to have been an additional Paraphrase, and so brought into that Text, and from thence to the Syr. and Arab.

Ver. 17. bountiful] not niggardly, as Misers.

Ib. Flesh] brings Punishment on his own Body, as well as Soul.

Ver. 18. The Wicked does the Work] but the Righteous has the Reward, and how different! according to what follows; which might be finely unfolded and expatiated on, but too large for me here, and spoiled in the com. Transf.

Ver. 19. right] This otherwise signifies so, though not as, but has a wrong Position in the Heb. for that.

Ver. 21. Hand] Upon which, writes Patrick, there are as many Glosses almost as Interpreters: I take it with him to mean Confederacy with others.

Ver. 23. bar] or as Jun. and Trem. render, To the Desire of the Righteous comes to pass only Good.

Ib. Wrath] of God: as if he had said, A virtuous Person will have what he desires, with a Blessing; and a wicked one not what he properly desires at all, but what he looks for, with a Curse, that is generally.

Ver. 29. disturbs his Family] Stulta administratione sua, by his own silly Management, Jun. and Trem. as Grot. expounds it to be one, qui neque ordinem neque modum servat in administratione rei familiaris, who keeps neither Order nor Measure in managing his household Affairs.

Ib. possess the Wind] have but little Substance left to possess.

Ver. 31. recompensed] for doing Ill, agreeable to 1 Pet. iv. 17, with Jun. Merc. and Patr.

5. The Thoughts of the Righteous are Judgment, the Policies of the Wicked Deceit.

6. The Words of the Wicked are to lie in wait for Blood; but the Mouth of the Upright will deliver them.

7. The Wicked are overthrown, and gone, but the Family of the Righteous stands.

8. A Man is praised after the Manner of his Understanding; but he who is of a perverse Heart becomes contemptible.

9. Better is he who is base, and has a Servant, than he who honours himself, and wants Bread.

10. The Righteous knows the Desire of his Beast; but the Compassions of the Wicked are cruel.

11. He who tills his Ground will be filled with Bread; but he that pursues after vain Things wants Sense.

12. The Wicked desires the Fortification of the evil ones ; but the Root of the Righteous brings forth.

13. In the Transgression of the Lips is the Snare of an evil Man; but the Righteous comes out of Distress.

14. A Person is filled with Good by the Fruit of his Mouth, and the Recompence of a Man's Hands is rendered to him.

15. The Way of a Fool is right in his own Sight; but he that hearkens to Counsel is wise.

16. A Fool is known at the Time of his Indignation; but the Discreet covers Baseness.

17. He who utters Truth declares Righteousness, but a Witness of Falsehoods Deceit.

18. There is he that pronounces like the Piercing of a Sword; but the Tongue of the Wife is Healing.

19. The Lip of Truth is established for evermore; whereas the Tongue of Falſhood is but for a Moment.

20. Deceit is in the Mind of those who contrive Evil ; but the Counsellors of Peace have Gladness.

21. There does not any Thing bad fall out to the Righteous; but the Wicked are full of Evil.

22. Lips of Falsehood are Abomination to the Lord; but those who do faithfully are to his liking.

23. A discreet Man covers Knowledge;
but the Heart of the Foolish proclaims Folly.

24. The Hand of the Industrious will have Dominion; but the Deceitful will be for Tribute.

25. Trouble in the Heart of Man causes it to bow down; but a good Word makes it glad.

26. The Righteous is more excellent than his Neighbour; but the Way of the Wicked causes them to go astray.

27. The Deceitful does not roast what he catches by hunting; but the Substance of an industrious Man is precious.

28. In the Path of Righteousness is Life, and at the Way of the Foot-path no Death.

CHAPTER. XIII.

A WISE Son hears the Instruction of a Father, but a Derider not Rebuke.

2. A Man from the Fruit of his Mouth will eat Good, but the Soul of the Treacherous Violence.

3. He who keeps his Mouth, preserves his Life: he that puts open his Lips, has Calamity.

4. The Stomach of the Slothful desires, and there is Nothing; but the Stomach of the Industrious will be made fat.

Ver. 6. them] for whose Blood the Wicked lie in wait, which is to be understood.

Ver. 10. Desire] or Appetite; and knows, as the Heb. Verb is, how his Beast is fed.

Ib. cruel] attended with Cruelty, so as to be cruel rather than compassionate; which plain Meaning, it may be wondered, any should expound away.

Ver. 11. things] as Jun. and Trem. render, and shew, and which seems a fitter Opposite to tilling Ground than Persons.

Ver. 12. Fortification] matzud, as Jeb xix. 6. from tzud, to hunt, being a Net; not matzud, as here, from matzud, a Fort: so Jun. and Trem. render it praesidium.

Ver. 16. Discret] I have observed, that this Heb. Adjective, which ofteneft occurs, with the Substantive and Verb, are all still used in a good Signification throughout this Book, or by Solomon, but every where else in the Scripture with a bad Meaning of crafty, &c.. If it is of any Use to inform the Reader, I may add, that there is another Word for Prudent, as Ch. xviii. 15.

Ver. 18. pronounces] By Theodotion, is confident, as if בושח had been בושק

Ver. 19. is but for a Moment] As the Truth will soon be discovered.

Ver. 25. causes—makes] according to the Heb.

Ver 27. Deceitful] So the Word is here and Ver. 24. not slothful; it being shewn that a deceitful Person, who is not trusty in Business, will be kept under, and not enjoy what he gets.

Ver. 28. no] By taking מַלְּאָח for מַלְּאָח have been produced the following Interpretations: with the Seventy, ἀδὸς δὲ πορεύουσιν εἰς θάνατον, but the Ways of those who are mindful of Injuries are to Death; in the Targum, וְאִרְיָהוּ דְּעִינְתָּא לְסוּתָא, and the Way of a perverse one is to Death; vulg. Lat. iter autem devium ducit ad mortem, but the byway (as the College of Doway render that into Eng.) leadeth to death; so Castal. haz, via devia ducit ad mortem; and the Tigur. Verf. both Senses thus, et hæc ipsa ad mortem nequaquam ducet, and this it self will not at all lead to Death. But if those Translators had kept as strictly to the rest of the Heb. Words as מַלְּאָח they would not have coined such foreign Meanings.

5. The Righteous hates a false Word; but the Wicked causes to stink, and makes ashamed.

6. Righteousness keeps him of a perfect Way; but Wickedness perverts the Sinner.

7. There is he who feigns himself rich without any Thing, he who feigns himself poor with much Substance.

8. The Ransom of a Person's Life are his Riches; but the Poor does not hear Rebuke.

9. The Light of the Righteous will be glad; but the Lamp of the Wicked be extinguished.

10. By Pride is given only Contention; but with those who take counsel is Wisdom.

11. Substance by Vanity will become little; but of him who gathers together by the Hand it will be much.

12. Hope delayed makes the Heart sick; but the Desire coming is a Tree of Life.

13. He that despises the Word will be destroyed himself; but as for him who fears the Commandment, he will be recompensed.

14. The Law of the Wise is a Fountain of Life, to depart from the Snares of Death.

24. He that restrains his Rod, hates his Son; but he who loves him, seeks Correction for him early.

25. The Righteous eats so as to satisfy his Appetite; but the Belly of the Wicked wants.

C H A P. XIV.

A Wise Woman builds up her House; whereas the Foolish pulls it down with her own Hands.

2. He who goes on in his Virtue, fears the Lord; but one froward of his Ways despises him.

3. There is a Rod of Pride in the Mouth of a Fool; but the Lips of the Wise preserve them.

4. Without Oxen the Rack is clean; but much Increase is by the Strength of the Ox.

5. A Witness of faithful Things will not lye; but a Witness of Falsehood will utter Lyes.

6. A Derider seeks for Wisdom, and there is none; but Knowledge is easy to him who understands.

7. Go at a distance from a foolish Man, when thou knowest there are not the Lips of Knowledge.

8. The Wisdom of the Discreet is to understand his Way, but the Folly of the Foolish Deceit.

9. Fools deride Guilt; but Favour is among the Upright.

10. The Heart knows the Bitterness of it self; and a Stranger does not mix himself with its Gladness.

11. The House of the Wicked will be destroyed; but the Tent of the Upright will flourish.

Ver. 5. makes] These two Verbs are in the Conjug. Hiphil, which is active in the strongest Degree; and thus Kimhi takes it.

Ver. 7. feigns] as Words of this peculiar Conjugation are rendered in the com. Transf. 2 Sam. xiv. 2. 1 King. xiv. 6. and as is evidently meant here.

Ver. 8. but] A poor Man escapes Reproof, in Cases where the Life of the rich is in danger, as in publick Affairs.

Ver. 15. gives Favour] to those themselves who have good Understanding.

Ver. 17. Messenger] The Septuag. say King, mistaking מלך for, or rather interpreting it by מלך

Ver. 20: becomes evil] Jun. and Trem. efficiatur peior, will be made worse; Cast. malo efficiatur, will be made bad, and the Fig. Vers. the like.

Ver. 22: is laid up for the Righteous] Since the Sinner or Miser who lays it up, does no Good with it, but per-verts the Use of it; Money, as our English Solomon, Sir Fran. Bacon says, being like Muck or Dung, not good except it be spread, Essay 15.

Ver. 23. a great deal] viz. by their Industry.

Ib. new-broke Ground] as the Farmers call it, and according to the Heb. with Jer. iv. 3. Hos. x. 12. these being all the Places where it is.

Ver. 1. own] without which with her Hands might be no more necessary than to the first Part.

Ver. 7. at a distance from] Look towards the End of the Pref. for the various Ways of turning this in the com. Transf. from whence Patrick imagining the Heb. also signifies before, expounds it too in that Sense by, Observe a Fool; whereas if that Meaning had any Foundation, it would be overturned here by what follows.

Ver. 8. Deceit] viz. to understand it, which makes good Sense, and is Deceit scarce any: thus also Jun. as I observed after.

12. There is a Way that is right before a Man, but the End of it is the Avenues of Death.

13. Even in Laughter the Heart may grieve, and the End of Joy it self may be Sorrow.

14. He who is turned away in Heart, will be filled from his own Ways; but a good Man from above himself.

15. The Simple believes every Word; but the Discreet considers his Going.

16. The Wise fears, and departs from Evil; but the Foolish is in a Wrath, and confident.

33. Wisdom rests in the Heart of the Prudent; but what is within the Foolish is made known.

34. Virtue advances a Nation; whereas Sin is a Reproach to several.

35. The Favour of the King is for an understanding Servant; but his Indignation for him who makes ashamed.

CHAP. XV.

A SOFT Answer turns away Wrath; but a grievous Word brings up Anger.

2. The Tongue of the Wise uses Knowledge well; but the Mouth of the Foolish utters forth Folly.

3. The Eyes of the Lord are in every Place, watching the Evil and the Good.

4. The Healing of the Tongue is a Tree of Life; but Perverseness in it is a Breaking to the Spirit.

5. A Fool contemns the Correction of his Father; but he who observes Reproof is discreet.

Ver. 14. from his own Ways] viz: from the ill Effects of them.

Ib. a good Man] who is not turned away; like the other, from Good.

Ib. from above himself] from Something divine, as Chap. xv. 24. which being exactly literal from the Heb. as Montan. has it desuper, makes a good Antithesis, or suitable Opposite to the foregoing Member; but in the rom. Bib. contrary Persons are made much the same.

Ver. 16. fears, and departs] Cleantes was reproached for being fearful; But therefore, said he, I seldom do amiss, Diog. Laert. in Vit.

Ib. Evil] When Antisthenes was asked what Learning was most necessary? He answered, says Diog. Laert. To learn to unlearn what is evil.

Ib. is in a Wrath] Chald. Targ. מְחַרְחֵר מְחַרְחֵר mingle himself with Foolishness, which last Word is neither in Buxtorf's great Chal. Lexicon, nor in Castellut's; and the LXX have μίγνυνται ἀνόμῳ, mingle with the Unrighteous: both taking, as Schindler notes in his Lex. the Heb. Word מְחַרְחֵר from עָרַב instead of עָרַב by Metathesis or Transposition of two Letters, Faults which they are divers times guilty of.

Ver. 18. compass] active, and even in the Conjug. Hi-phil.

Ver. 23. Talk] Zeno, when he was asked why we have two Ears; and but one Mouth, said, Because we should hear more than we speak, as Diog. Laert. writes in his Life:

Ver. 24. most foolish] as Heb. Words may signify superlatively.

Ver. 26. his] who fears the Lord, understood from the foregoing.

Ver. 30. Mind] For the Heart is Flesh it self.

Ib. Envy] As Iron by the Rust, said Antisthenes, so are envious Persons consumed by Envy, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 34. several] Being here plural, and of the same Meaning as Nation before.

Ver. 3. watching] Dioclet the Magnesian in his Excursion of the Philosophers, quoted by Diog. Laertius in the Life of Zeno, says that according to the Stoics, the Apprehension of some Things is by Sense, as white and black, rough and smooth (which the Lat. and Eng. Transl. have differently transposed) of others by Abstr., the Intelligence of the Mind, as that there is a God, and that he takes care of this World; which admit of Demonstration.

Ver. 4. Perverseness in it is a Breaking to the Spirit] But the Sept. be that preserves it will be filled in Spirit: for which Simon says, Crit. Hist. B. ii. Ch. 5. he thinks οὐρεῖται was before ἐκλείπει; a strange Corruption indeed! I will attempt at a likelier, I suppose then שָׁכַח was mistaken for שָׁכַח and that סָלַח being scarce, and so more uncertain, was accommodated thus to the other.

Ver. 5. Correction] as rendered Ver. 10. and by Pagn. Munst. Leo Jud. and Merc. which may answer better to Reproof, and well to Father.

6. There is much Store in the House of the Righteous; whereas it is troubled by the Increase of the Wicked.

7. The Lips of the Wise scatter about Knowledge, but the Heart of the Foolish not so.

8. The Sacrifice of the Wicked is Abomination to the Lord; but the Prayer of the Upright is to his liking.

9. An Abomination to the Lord is the Way of the Wicked; but him who pursues after Righteousness he loves.

10. Correction is ill to him who forsakes the Path, he that hates Reproof shall die.

11. Hell and Perdition are before the Lord, much more the Hearts of Mankind.

12. A Derider does not love one who reproves him, he will not go to the Wise.

13. A glad Heart makes the Face look well; but by Grief of the Heart is a bruised Spirit.

14. An understanding Heart seeks Knowledge; but the Mouth of the Foolish feeds on Folly.

15. All the Days of the Afflicted are ill; but a cheerful Heart is a continual Feast.

16. A Little with the Fear of the Lord, is better than much Treasure, and Vexation with it.

17. Provision of Pot-herbs, and Love there, is better than a fatted Ox, and Hatred with it.

18. A Man of Wrath mixes Contention; but he who is delaying of Anger pacifies Strife.

19. The Way of the Slothful is like a Hedge of Briers; but the Path of the Upright is cast up.

20. A wise Son makes the Father glad; but the Foolish among Men despises his Mother.

21. Folly is Gladness to him who wants Sense; but a Man of Understanding causes to go right.

22. Thoughts are each made void without Counsel; whereas by the Multitude of Counsellors it stands.

23. A Man has Gladness by the Answer of his Mouth; and how good a Word is in its Time!

24. The Path of Life is above for him who considers, that he may depart from Hell below.

25. The Lord will pluck away the House of the Proud; but will set up the Bounds of the Widow.

26. The Thoughts of the Evil are Abomination to the Lord; but of the Pure are pleasant Sayings.

27. He troubles his Family that is wholly given to Gain; but he who hates Gifts will live.

28. The Heart of the Righteous meditates how to answer; but the Mouth of the Wicked utters forth evil Things.

29. The Lord is far off from the Wicked; but he hears the Prayer of the Righteous.

30. The Light of the Eyes makes the Heart glad, good News makes the Bones fat.

31. The Ear that hears the Reproof of Life, will abide among the Wise.

32. He that rejects Instruction, despises his own Soul; but he who hears Reproof, gets Sense.

33. The Fear of the Lord is the Instruction of Wisdom; and Humility is before Honour.

CHAP. XVI.

OF Men are the Dispositions of the Heart; but the Answer of the Tongue is from the Lord.

2. All the Ways of a Man are pure in his own Sight; but the Lord considers the Spirits.

3. Commit thy Deeds to the Lord, and thy Thoughts will be established.

4. The Lord works all Things for his own sake; and even the Wicked is for the Day of Ill.

Ver. 6. it is troubled] viz. a House, according to the Jewish Rab. Levi and others, as Mercer relates; for thus the Heb. is, being a passive Verb.

Ver. 7. scatter about] Symmachus turned it φυσάσκειν keep, which was as if the Letter zain in the Heb. Word had been xade, that being like z soft, this like a hard z.

Ver. 8. Abomination] Bias being once on a Voyage with some wicked Persons in a Tempest, when they called upon God, Σηῶναι (ἐπὶ) μὲν αἰσθηταὶ ἡμῶν ἐνθάδε πᾶσι-οῦται, Ἰσθὲν τὰ γλῶσσας (εἰπὼν) ἵνα μὴ παρατηρήσῃς ὅτι ἐνθάδε πᾶσι-οῦται, Ἰσθὲν τὰ γλῶσσας (εἰπὼν) ἵνα μὴ παρατηρήσῃς ὅτι ἐνθάδε πᾶσι-οῦται, Hold your tongues (said he) lest he should take notice you are sailing here, Diog. Laert. in his Life.

Ver. 15. cheerful] but merry seems much to debase it; nor is this the same as in Ver. 13.

Ver. 16. Vexation] For according to the Italian Proverb, Alta Fortuna alto Travaglio apporto, Great Fortune brings great Misfortune.

Ver. 19. Briers] denoting Difficulties and Perplexities, by reason of Sloth.

Ver. 30. Light] for Sight.

1b. glad] by seeing delightful Things.

Ver. 1. Dispositions] So Mont. has dispositiones, Cast. compositio, Leo Jud. est disponere, it is to dispose, and the vulg. Lat. est praeponere.

1b. but] Thus Jun. and Trem. Munst. Castal. Leo Jud. Mercer, and the Geneva Bib. agreeable to Ver. 9. and Ch. xix. 21. and Patrick says, our Translation seems to have missed the Sense, by ascribing both to the Lord.

Ver. 4. works] which this Heb. Word properly signifies, and others commonly made.

1b. is] this latter Part of the Verse being separated from the other by a great Point, and so unlikely to belong to the Verb there, especially as the Verb-substantive is frequently understood, or implied, in Heb.

1b. for the Day of Ill] to be punished for the sake of God's Justice; see also Grotius's Letter 91.

5. Every

5. Every one of a lofty Heart is an Abomination to the Lord, with Hand to Hand he will not be quit.

6. Iniquity is purged away by Kindness and Truth, and there is departing from Evil by the Fear of the Lord.

7. When the Lord is pleased with the Ways of a Man, he makes even his Enemies have peace with him.

8. A little with Honesty, is better than Abundance of Increase without Right.

9. The Heart of Man contrives his own Way; but the Lord establishes his Step.

10. There is an Oracle in the Lips of a King, his Mouth does not plead falsely in Judgment.

11. The Balance and Scales of Judgment are of the Lord, all the Weights of the Bag are his Work.

12. It is Abomination for Kings to do Wickedness; because the Throne is established by Righteousness.

13. The Will of Kings is the Lips of Righteousness, and each loves the Speaker of upright Things.

14. The Wrath of the King is Messengers of Death; but a wise Man pacifies it.

15. In the Light of the King's Countenance is Life; and his Favour is as a thick Cloud of the latter Rain.

16. How good it is to get Wisdom rather than Gold! And to get Understanding is to be chosen more than Silver.

17. The High-way of the Upright is to depart from Evil: he who keeps his Way, preserves his Soul.

18. Pride is before Breaking, and a lofty Spirit before a Fall.

19. One of a humble Spirit with the Afflicted, is better than he that divides the Spoil with the Proud.

20. He who considers of a Thing finds Good; and he who trusts in the Lord is blessed.

21. A Person of a wise Heart will be called prudent; and the Sweetness of the Lips adds Doctrine.

Ver. 5. Hand] See Ch. xi. 21.

Ver. 6. by the Fear] So Henry Lord, in his little Treatise so much esteemed, intitled, The Religion of the Perses, pr. at Lond. in quarto 1630, gives it as one of their Rules of Living for every one, To have such a Fear of God always present with them, as not to commit Sin.

Ver. 15. In the Light] when he looks pleased.

Ver. 26. turns back] as the Heb.-Verb signifies, not craveth; in which Manner Muysl. with Jun. and Trem. translate the Verse: but this latter Part is done strangely by the Sept. and forces his own Destruction; but he that is perverse in his Mouth brings Destruction; perhaps they translated it twice, for fear once should not be right.

Ver. 27. there is like] Septuag. he treasures up; which Maldonat the Jesuit, as quoted by Patr. confirms by the Spanish Inquisition, whereby he that speaks rashly against the

22. Understanding is a Fountain of Life to the Owners of it; but the Instruction of Fools is Folly.

23. The Heart of the Wise instructs his Mouth, and adds Doctrine to his Lips.

24. Pleasant Sayings are as a Honey-comb, sweet to the Soul, and healing to the Bones.

25. There is a Way that is right before a Man, but the End of it is the Avenues of Death.

26. A troublesome Person troubles himself; for his Mouth turns back upon him.

27. An ungodly Man digs up Evil, and in his Lips there is like burning Fire.

28. A froward Man sends forth Contention; and a Whisperer separates a Leader.

29. A violent Man entices his Neighbour; and causes him to go in a Way not good:

30. He winks his Eyes to contrive Frowardness, wagging his Lips he accomplishes Evil.

31. A Crown of Glory is grey Hair that is found in the Way of Righteousness.

32. He who is delaying of Anger, is better than the Powerful; and he who has dominion over his Temper, than he that takes a City.

33. The Lot is cast into the Bosom, but all the Judgment of it is from the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

A DRY Bit, and Quietness with it, is better than a House full of Sacrifices with Strife.

2. An understanding Servant will have dominion over a Son who makes ashamed; and will divide the Possession among the Brethren:

3. The trying Vessel is for Silver, and the Furnace for Gold; but the Prover of Hearts is the Lord.

4. An Evil-doer hearkens to the Lip of Iniquity: a false one gives ear to the Tongue of Frowardness.

5. He that scoffs at the Poor, reproaches

Faith, is deservedly delivered up to the Fire, which, adds he; I wish were done every where: yet I find his great Skill in expounding the Scripture (in his Commentaries) is much extolled, particularly by Jackson on the Creed, Lib. iii. Cap. 13, 15.

Ver. 28. separates a Leader] from those whom he leads; the Heb. Word being singular, and signifying thus.

Ver. 31. that is found] Non cani, non ruga repente auctoritatem arripere possunt; sed honeste aetate superior atque fructus caput auctoritatis extremos:

*Not from gray Hairs Authority doth flow,
Nor from bald Heads, nor from a wrinkled Brow;
But our past Life, when virtuously spent,
Must to our Age those happy Fruits present.*

his Maker: he who is glad at Calamity, will not be quit.

6. The Crown of the Ancient are Children's Children; and the Ornament of Children are their Fathers.

7. The Lip of Excellency is not comely to a vile Person, much less the Lip of Falshood to a Noble.

8. A Gift is a Stone of Favour in the Sight of him who has it, whithersoever it turns, it prospers.

9. He who covers Transgression, seeks Love, but he that repeats a Thing, separates a Leader.

10. A Rebuke goes down into him who understands, more than a hundred Strokes into the Foolish.

11. The Evil seeks only Rebellion, so a cruel Messenger will be sent against him.

12. A Bear deprived of its Young may meet a Man, but not the Foolish in his Folly.

13. He that returns Evil for Good, Evil will not depart from his House.

14. The Beginning of Contention is like one letting out Water, so leave Strife before it is meddled with.

15. He that justifies the Wicked, and he that condemns the Righteous, are even both of them Abomination to the Lord.

16. Why is the Pay with the Foolish, to get Wisdom, when there is no Sense?

17. A Friend loves at all Times, and a Brother is born for Distress.

18. A Man that wants Sense strikes the Hand, entering into an Engagement before his Friend.

19. He who loves Debate, loves Transgression: he that exalts his Gate, seeks Breaking.

20. One of a perverse Heart does not find Good; and he who is changeable with his Tongue, falls into Evil.

21. He that begets the Foolish it is to his Sorrow, and the Father of a vile Person is not glad.

22. A glad Heart makes a good Medicine; but a bruised Spirit dries up the Bones.

23. The Wicked takes a Gift from the Bosom, to turn aside the Paths of Judgment.

24. Wisdom is in the Countenance of him who understands; but the Eyes of the Foolish are at the End of the Earth.

25. A foolish Son is Indignation to his Father, and Bitterness to her who bore him.

26. Even to punish the Righteous is not well, to smite Nobles for Right.

27. He who is acquainted with Knowledge restrains his Sayings: a Man of Understanding is of a precious Spirit.

28. Even a Fool who holds his peace is esteemed wise, he that shuts his Lips prudent.

C H A P. XVIII.

HE who with Desire seeks being separated, meddles with all substantial Matter.

2. The Foolish does not delight in Understanding, but for his Heart to discover it self.

3. When the Wicked comes, there comes also Contempt, and with Vileness Reproach.

4. The Words of a Man's Mouth are

Ver. 9. a Leader] the same as Chap. xvi. 28.

Ver. 13. not depart] and so supply the Defect of human Laws against that heinous Crime Ingratitude, which Heaven particularly punishes for; see also Psa. cix. 5.

Ib. from his House] On which Patrick glosses, but shall descend upon his posterity to all generations; an Inference, neither deducible from the Text, nor consistent with the Tenor of its Doctrines.

Ver. 14. leave] better than leave off, which neither accords well with the rest, nor its own Heb. Word.

Ver. 17. Friend] Demetrius Phalerens says, Friends should visit in Prosperity when they are called, but in Adversity of their own accord without being called; so Diog. Laert. in Vit. which latter Part is left out in the Eng. Transf.

Ver. 19. exalts his Gate] makes the Entrance into his House fine and grand, according to Kimbi in the Book of Routs, and Dupart in the following Gr. Metre, and he who for Pride puts a lofty Gate to his House, seeks heavy Ruin: for the literal Sense may claim the Preference.

"Ος δ' υπερουλησι θύρας μεγάροισιν ἰῶσιν

"Τψηλὰς ἐπέθηκεν, ὃ δὲ θύρας αἶψαν ὄλεθρον,

Ver. 26. punish] for Something amiss, when he is otherwise righteous; since his Righteousness will correct him.

Ib. well] These being Matters of Prudence, rather than Virtue.

Ib. for Right] to have one's Right; as that may occasion him to do more Wrong.

Ver. 27. restrains] One of the wise Sayings of Thales, as given by Diogenes Laertius in his Life, is, Οὐ τι τα πολλά ἐκιν ἔργον ἀρετῆς ἀποδοῦναι δοξᾷ. Which the Eng. Translation, from the Lat. one, Non multa Verba prudentis animi Indicium sunt, instead of the Original, has, Few Words are the Sign of a prudent Judgment. Whereas it should be, Not to have many Words shews a prudent Reputation, or a Person in Credit: for such as are not in Reputation commonly endeavour to talk themselves into it, as the imprudent are apt to talk themselves out of it.

Ver. 28. holds his peace] Theophrastus observing a Man silent in Company, said to him, If thou art a Fool, thou art wise; but if a wise Man, foolishly, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 1. He] Most Interpreters taking this for the Foolish in the next Ver. expound accordingly; but to me with Desire seeks and does not delight in the same, are too inconsistent for the same Person.

Ib. separated] Somebody that blamed Chrysippus, for not keeping Company with others at another Philosopher's House, was answered by him, If I should mind much Company, I shall not be a right Philosopher, Laertius in Vit.

Ver. 2. discover it self] i. e. shew its Folly and Disposition.

deep Water, the Fountain of Wisdom is a springing Flood.

5. To respect the Face of the Wicked is not good, to turn aside the Righteous in Judgment.

6. The Lips of the Foolish enter into Strife, and his Mouth calls for Blows.

7. The Mouth of the Foolish is Calamity to him, and his Lips are the Snare of his Soul.

8. The Words of a Whisperer are like those who beat, and they go down to the inner Parts of the Body.

9. Even he that is negligent in his Work, is Brother to a Master of Destruction.

10. The Name of the Lord is a strong Tower; the Righteous runs into it, and becomes high.

11. The Substance of the Rich is his strong Town, and as a high Wall in his Imagination.

12. The Mind of a Man is lofty before Breaking; and Humility is before Honour.

13. To him who returns Word before he hears it out, that is Folly and Shame.

14. The Spirit of a man may sustain his Disease; but as for a bruised Spirit, who can bear it?

15. The Heart of the Prudent gets Knowledge, and the Ear of the Wise seeks for the same.

16. The Gift of a Man makes way for him, and leads him before the Great.

17. He that is first in his Cause is just; but his Neighbour comes and searches him out.

18. The Lot causes Contentions to cease, and parts between the Strong.

19. A Brother trespassed against is more than a strong Town, and the Contentions are as the Bar of a Castle.

20. By the Fruit of a Man's Mouth will his Belly be satisfied: he will be satisfied with the Increase of his Lips.

21. Death and Life are in the Power of the Tongue; and they that love it, will eat the Fruit of it.

22. He who finds a Wife finds Good, and obtains Favour from the Lord.

23. The Poor speaks with Supplications; but the Rich answers with hard Things.

24. A Man with Friends is to make himself friendly; and there is a Lover who cleaves faster than a Brother.

CHAP. XIX.

THE Poor who walks in his Integrity, is better than he that is perverse with his Lips, and foolish.

2. Both for the Soul to be without Knowledge is not good, and he who is hasty with the Feet does amiss.

3. The Folly of Man perverts his Way, and then he repines in his Heart at the Lord.

4. Substance adds many Friends; but the Decayed is separated from his one.

5. A Witness of Falsehoods will not be quit, nor he that utters Lyes escape.

6. Many make supplication before a Noble, and every one is Friend to a Man of Gifts.

7. All the Brothers of the Poor slight him, much more are his Friends far off from him; though he follows with Words, they are Nought.

8. He who gets Sense, loves his own Soul: he who keeps Understanding, finds Good.

9. A Witness of Falsehoods will not be quit, and he that utters Lyes will perish.

10. Delight is not comely for the Foolish, much less for a Servant to have dominion over Princes.

Ver. 4. a springing Flood] that has continual fresh Supplies.

Ver. 5. of the Wicked] The Vulg. adds to it in Judgment.

Ver. 6. calls for Blows] Sets People from Quarrelling to Fighting.

Ver. 11. high] Watts has Something like this in his Lyric Poem of False Greatness,

So might the Plough-boy climb a Tree,

When Cræsus mounts his Throne,

And both stand up, and smile to see

How long their Shadow's grown.

Alas! how vain their Fancies be

To think that Shade their own!

Ver. 14. Spirit] An Ailment of the Body is far more tolerable, than a troubled Conscience or Mind.

Ver. 21. Tongue] Diog. Laertius relates it was inscribed on the Statues of Anacharsis, Γλώσσας, γαστέρας, αλδαιας κρυπτὰς, The Tongue, Belly, and secret Parts are to be restrained.

1b. love it] the Tongue; that is love to talk.

Ver. 22. a Wife] To one who enquired of Menedemus, whether a good Man should marry? (not a wife Man as in the Lai. Transf. nor whether he himself should marry, as in the Eng. but εὐδαίμων a good Man) the Philosopher said, Doest thou think me such a one? which the Man allowing; Then, replied he, I am married, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 24. friendly] Cleobulus, as writes Diog. Laertius in his Life, says, Προσέσχεον τῶν μὴ φίλων, τὸν ἴσον τῶν δὲ ἐχθρῶν, τὰς ἐπικυρίας, One should take care of being blamed by Friends, and of being insnared by Foes.

Ver. 1. Lips, and foolish] Syr. Ways, and rich, to make an exact Antithesis, which Solomon might not intend, and neither the Ver. before nor the two following have. The Pains taken by the Author of the Present State of the Printed Hebrew Text seem therefore superfluous.

Ver. 2. Both] Ignorance and Hurry are both cautioned against, as being generally wrong.

Ver. 3. Folly] by want of Knowledge and by hurrying, as before.

Ver. 4. one] Friend, as just before; and with how great Advantage!

Ver. 7. Nought] while our English turn it, as Amama takes notice, as if there was וְלֹא when וְלֹא to him is only put in the Marg. for אֵל Antibar. Bib. p. 473.

11. The Understanding of Man delays his Anger, and it is his Glory to pass over Transgression.

12. The Indignation of a King is like the Roaring of a young Lion, but his Favour as the Dew upon the Grass.

13. A foolish Son is the Calamity of his Father; and the Contentions of a Wife are a continual Dropping.

14. The Possession of Fathers is a House and Substance; but a prudent Wife is from the Lord.

15. Slothfulness causes to fall into a sound Sleep; and the deceitful Person will be hungry.

16. He who keeps the Commandment, keeps his own Soul: he that despises his own Ways, will die.

17. He who shews Favour to the Decayed, lends to the Lord, who will pay him that which he bestows.

18. Correct thy Son, when there is Hope; and let not thy Affection excuse to the letting him die.

19. He that is of great Wrath will suffer Punishment; nay if thou deliverest, thou must also do it again.

20. Hear Counsel, and receive Instruction, that thou mayest be wise at thy End.

21. There are many Thoughts in the Heart of a Man, but the Counsel of the Lord that will stand.

22. The Desire of Mankind is his Kindness; and the Poor is better than a Man of Lyes.

23. The Fear of the Lord is for Life, and he who shall abide full of it, will not be visited with Evil.

24. The Slothful hides his Hand in the Bosom, he will not even bring it back to his Mouth.

25. Smite the Scorer, so the Simple will be discreet; and reprove him that has Understanding, who will understand Knowledge.

26. He that wastes a Father, that causes a Mother to flee, is a Son who makes ashamed, and brings to Confusion.

27. Leave off hearing Instruction, my Son, to err from the Sayings of Knowledge.

28. An ungodly Witness derides Judgment; and the Mouth of the Wicked swallows down Iniquity.

29. Judgments are prepared for Scorners, and Strokes for the Back of the Foolish.

C H A P. XX.

WINE is scornful, strong Drink tumultuous; and any one who errs by it is unwise.

2. The Terror of the King is like the Roaring of a young Lion; he that puts him in a Wrath, offends against his own Life.

3. Ceasing from Strife is Glory to a Man; but every Novice will be tampering.

4. The Slothful not ploughing because of the Winter, begs at Harvest, and there is Nothing.

5. Counsel in the Heart of a Man is as deep Water; but a Man of Understanding draws it up.

6. A Multitude of Men proclaim their respective Kindness; but a faithful Man who can find?

7. The Righteous going on continually in his Integrity, his Children are blessed after him.

8. The King sitting upon the Throne of Judgment, scatters away all Evil with his Eyes.

Ver. 12. like—as] suitable to the different Matter, of terrible and mild.

Ver. 14. prudent Wife] Daughters ought to be married, says the wise Cleobulus, being Virgins in Age, and Women in Prudence: δὲν ἀνωμαλίας τὰς θυγατέρας, μακρὴν μὲν τὴν ἡλικίαν, τὴν φρονεῖν δὲ γυναικῶς, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 15. deceitful] not idle, the same as before.

Ib. be hungry] Because People will not employ him, or deal with him.

Ver. 16. own] which is necessary, that it may be known whose his is, but is not necessary to Soul.

Ver. 18. to the letting or making him die] since by correcting him he will not die, Chap. xxiii. 13. that is in Hell, as the next Ver. shews; there being such Likeness between divers of the Proverbs in distant Places: in this Sense it is taken by the Septuagint, the Targumist, the vulg. Lat. Translator, Pagnine, Jun. and Trem. Leo Juda, Castalio, Grotius and Mercer; and there is no Proof of any such Noun made from מָוֶת to signify crying.

Ver. 19. nay if] See on Jer. xxxvii. 10.

Ver. 22. Desire] Good-will.

Ib. Poor] who can do no Kindness besides wishing well.

Ib. Lyes] false Promises. In this Sense the Terms, like the primary and secondary Planets, enlighten one another; and this I dare trust for the right and best, though I know no other Interpreter that has it.

Ver. 25. Smite—reprove] Neither of these are imperative in Heb. but of that beautiful Expression described at Hag. ii. 16. and with Variety here, the former being the 2d, the latter the 3d Person.

Ver. 2. Terror] for fear is improper, and scarce signified by the Heb. Word, which properly denotes this.

Ver. 5. draws it up] The Lord Bacon, as Patrick produces him, gives six Ways of knowing Men, by their Countenances, Words, Deeds, Nature, Ends, and the Relations of others; with this Observation among the rest, that the weakest and simplest Sort of Persons are best known by their Natures (or Inclinations) but the wisest and most reserved by their Ends and Aims, Advanc. of Learn. Lib. viii. 7.

Ver. 6. Kindness] which the Heb. Word properly signifies, scarce goodness at all in any other sense; and thus it is connective with the following, and the whole perspicuous.

Ver. 8. scatters] Plato being asked, what was the Duty of one that would govern well? answered in this Manner, To make the Condition of his Subjects better, Olympeus in his Life.

9. Who can say, I have purified my Heart, I am clean from my Sin?

10. Different Weights, different Measures are even both of them Abomination to the Lord.

11. Even a Child makes himself known by his Doings, whether his Work is pure, and whether right.

12. The Ear for hearing, and Eye for seeing, were even both of them made by the Lord.

13. Do not love Sleep, lest thou shouldest become poor: open thy Eyes, have Victuals enough.

14. It is bad, bad, says the Buyer; but being gone away, then he brags.

15. There is Gold, and a Multitude of Pearls, but the Lips of Knowledge are a precious Instrument.

16. Take his Garment, when one is engaged for a Stranger; and of him who is for an unknown Woman, receive it in pawn.

17. Food of Falsehood is sweet to a Man, but afterwards his Mouth is full of Gravel.

18. Thoughts are respectively established by Counsel, and by Policies make War.

19. He reveals a Secret who goes about backbiting; and mix not thy self with him that is so simple with his Lips.

20. He who curses his Father or Mother, shall have his Lamp extinguished in black Darkness.

21. A Possession may be hurried up at first, but the End of it will not be blessed.

22. Do not say, I will reward Evil; wait for the Lord, and he will save thee.

23. Different Weights are an Abomination to the Lord, and Scales of Deceit are not good.

24. The Steps of a Person are from the Lord; how then shall Man understand his own Way?

25. It is a Snare for Man to swallow down a holy Thing, and after vows to enquire.

26. A wise King disperses the Wicked, and causes the Wheel to return over them.

27. The Spirit of Man is the Lamp of the Lord, searching all the inner Parts of the Body.

28. Kindness and Truth keep the King, and he supports his Throne by Kindness.

29. The Ornament of young Men is their Strength, the Comeliness of old Men is grey Hair.

30. Corrupt Matter of a Wound is a Cleansing for Ill, and Strokes for the inner Parts of the Body.

CHAP. XXI.

THE Heart of the King is as Streams of Water in the Hand of the Lord, he turns it aside whithersoever he pleases.

2. Every Way of a Man is right in his own Sight; but the Lord considers the Hearts.

3. To do Righteousness and Judgment, is chosen by the Lord more than Sacrifice.

4. The Height of the Eyes, and the Largeness of the Heart, being the Lamp of the Wicked, are Sin.

Ver. 13. Sleep] There is a Proverb of the Italians, Chi dorme grosse mattinata, va mendicando la giornata: he who sleeps all the Morning, may go a begging all the Day after.

Ver. 14. The Italian Proverb is very ingenious, Chi biasima vuol comprare, he that finds fault intends to buy.

Ver. 16. who is for] What do I see in the com. Bible? Or what is the Meaning of it? Is take a Pledge of him for a strange Woman, to let out a Prostitute on pawn? Or is it to give the Pledge to her? Or was [for] to mean [by reason of,] viz. because it was a strange Woman, as badly expressed in the Bish. Bib. for the unknown sake? The first would be wicked, but though the plainest to the Words, was surely not intended; the second would be ridiculous, therefore doubtless not designed; and the last is very obscure and ill phrased for that Sense, which perhaps the Heb. Word has not, and the strongest Instance for it seems to be in Jer. xi. 14. for their trouble, but that may signify for Help in it, or Deliverance from it; besides this latter Part of the Verse would then depend on the former, and so strange woman to be the same with stranger masc. would be absurd.

Ib. an unknown Woman] Marginal to be as in Ch. xxvii. 13. but textual, unknown Men.

Ver. 17. Falsehood] so, and not deceit, the original Word signifies.

Ver. 19. simple] not flattereth, nor yet enticeth as in the Eng. Marg. the first being also almost opposite to Backbiting or a Backbiter, as the other Heb. Word means (not merely a tale-bearer) and enticeth very different from it.

Ver. 25. swallow down] Instead of devour the chief

Editions of the vulg. Lat. have devotare, and all sancit Saints.

Ib. to enquire] how his Vows may be performed, which should be enquired before, that he might not vow what he could not do. I choose this Meaning that is so literal, and also mild, which Snare seems rather to denote, than enquiring how to make the Vows void, according to the Assembly's Annot. Patrick, &c. which would be more than a Snare.

Ver. 26. the Wheel] Some think it means to thresh them as it were, according to Isa. xxviii. 28. but this is another Heb. Word for Wheel, and so may seem another Sort of Wheel; besides threshing is done before winnowing: for they would also have winnow instead of disperse. The literal Sense may be most justifiable.

Ver. 30. Corrupt Matter] from the Root to associate together; whence blueness must be discarded, as well as from Surgery and Truth too.

Ib. inner Parts] the Heart.

Ver. 4. Height] for Pride, as Eyes for Look; and both should be literal or metaphorical.

Ib. Largeness] for Ambition, and so Heart for Mind.

Ib. being] or which are, as Mercer expounds it, both in his Commentary and on Pagnine's Lexicon, and as Cast. translates; here being also no Conjunction, and the Advantage of Sense may shew the same.

Ib. Lamp] according to the Gr. Chald. vulg. Lat. and Genev. Translations, with Castal. as likewise Elias in his Animadversions added to Kimbi's Book of Roots; nay the Heb. Bibles of Plantine and Stephens, the Lexic. too of

5. The Thoughts of the Diligent are only for Advantage, but of every one who is hasty only for Want.

6. The getting of Treasures by a false Tongue, is a driven Vanity of those that seek Death.

7. The Wasting of the Wicked will cut them asunder, because they refuse to do Judgment.

8. The Way of a Man is turning and strange; but as for the Pure, his Work is right.

9. It is better to dwell upon a Corner of the Roof, than with a Woman of Contentions, and in a House of Company.

10. The Soul of the Wicked desires Evil, his Neighbour is not in Favour with him.

11. When the Scornor is punished, the Simple becomes wise; and when the Wise considers, he takes Knowledge.

12. The Righteous considers the Family of the Wicked, that it perverts the wicked ones to Evil.

13. He who stops his Ear at the Cry of the Decayed, will call also himself, and none will answer.

14. A Gift in secret suppresses Anger, and a Bribe in the Bosom strong Wrath.

15. It is Gladness to the Righteous to do Judgment; but there is Calamity for the Workers of Iniquity.

16. A Man who goes astray from the Way of Understanding, will rest in the Congregation of the Deceased.

17. He will be a Person of Want, who loves Mirth: such a one as loves Wine and Oil, will not be rich.

18. The Wicked will be a Ransom for the Righteous, and the Treacherous in the room of the Upright.

19. It is better to dwell in the Country of the Wilderness, than with a Woman of Contentions and Indignation.

20. There is a desirable Treasure, with Oil, in the Habitation of the Wise; but the Foolish among Mankind swallows it up.

21. He who follows after Righteousness, and Kindness, will find Life, Righteousness and Glory.

22. The Wise climbs up the City of the Powerful, and casts down the Strength of its Confidence,

23. He that keeps his Mouth and Tongue, keeps his Mind from Distresses.

24. Proud, haughty, scornful may be his Name, who acts with Wrath in Pride.

25. The Wish of the Slothful causes him to die, because his Hands refuse to work.

26. Every Day he wishes for what is desirable; while the Righteous can give without keeping back.

27. The Sacrifice of the Wicked is Abomination, much more on bringing it heinously.

28. A Witness of Lyes will perish; but a Man can always speak what he heard.

29. A wicked Man hardens his Face; but as for the Upright, he considers his Way.

30. There is no Wisdom, no Understanding, nor any Counsel before the Lord.

31. The Horse is prepared for the Day of Battle, but Safety is of the Lord.

C H A P. XXII.

RENOWN is to be chosen more than much Riches; Favour is better than Silver, or than Gold.

2. The Rich and Poor are met; the Lord is the Maker of them all.

3. The Discreet sees Harm, and hides; but the Simple go on, and are punished.

4. The Reward of Meekness, of the Fear of the Lord, is Riches, Honour and Life.

5. Prickles, Snares are in the Way of the Perverse; he who keeps his Soul, will be far off from them.

Buxtorf the Father, and Vindic. of the Son, p. 515, 516; for which perhaps more might be said from the Heb. besides its making far better Sense, as it seems to me, than taking the Word the other Way, in which it would signify fallow ground, that lies still after it has been plowed, not plowing, as in Jer. iv. 3. Hos. x. 12. where it cannot be plowing; and fallow ground would be absurd here, if plowing is not.

Ver. 6. The getting of] Sept. he that gets. Vulg. gathers; taking the Heb. Noun for a Participle.

Ib. is a driven Vanity of those that seek Death] Sept. follows vain Things in the Snares of Death. Vulg. is vain and senseless, and shall stumble at the Snares of Death: supposing מִבְּקָשׁ to be מִבְּקָשׁ would make Snares, wherein they hold together against the Original; stumble, and some more, is added, &c.

Ver. 12. is perverts] of which Mercer writes, מִסְּבִיחַ pervertit 'ad dominum referri non potest, cujus non est facta mentio,' i. e. mesalleph, it perverts, cannot be referred to God, of whom there is no Mention made. It is thus rendered in our vulg. Trans. Ch. xix. 3. Exod. xxiii. 8. Deut. xvi. 19. and the Noun from it pervertens, Ch. xi. 3. & xv. 4. and the Family might properly be said to pervert, by the Prosperity of it, like Job xxi. 7, 8, 9, 14. Psa. lv. 19. besides their perverting personally.

Ver. 25. Wish] being continued, as Ver. 26. by not obtaining it.

Ver. 28. heard] to be distinguished from heard of.

Ver. 31. Safety is of the Lord] Thus in Pope's Homer, B. 3.

Whose Arms shall conquer, and what Prince shall fall
Heav'n only knows, for Heav'n disposes all.

Ver. 1. better] so the Heb. and not the same as before.

Ver. 2. are met] by the Disposal of divine Providence, that they may be useful to each other.

Ver. 4. Reward] Thus Jun. and Trem. have it præmium, the Tig. Pers. and Cast. the same; and so Mercer expounds it.

6. Put a Child at first into the Entrance of his Way, and even when he is old he will not depart from it.

7. The Rich has dominion over the poor ones; and he that borrows is a Servant to the Man who lends.

8. He that sows Iniquity will reap Vanity, and the Rod of his Fury will fail.

9. He who is of a good Eye will be blessed, because he gives some of his Victuals to the Poor.

10. Drive out the Derider, and Contention will go forth; nay Strife, and Baseness will cease.

11. He who loves to be of a pure Heart, by the Favour of his Lips will the King be his Friend.

12. The Eyes of the Lord preserve Knowledge; but he overthrows the Words of the Treacherous.

13. The Slothful says, There is a Lion abroad, I shall be slain within the Streets.

14. The Mouth of strange Women is a deep Pit, he that is abhorred of the Lord will fall in there.

15. Folly being bound in the Heart of a Child, the Rod of Correction will cause it to be far from him.

16. He who oppresses the Poor to multiply to himself, he who gives to the Rich, each verily tends to Want.

17. Incline thy Ear, and hear the Words of the Wise, and set thy Heart to my Knowledge:

18. For it is pleasant when thou preservest them in thy Inside, when they are prepared together in thy Lips.

19. For thy Trust to be in the Lord I make known this Day, even to thee thy self.

20. Do not I write to thee principal Things, in Counsels and Knowledge;

21. To make known to thee the Verity of the Sayings of Truth, for thee to bring them back to those who send thee?

22. Do not rob the Poor, because he is poor, nor bruise the Afflicted at the Gate:

23. For the Lord will plead their Cause, and spoil the Soul of those that spoil them.

24. Do not join thy self in Fellowship with one given to Anger, nor go in with a wrathful Man;

25. Lest thou shouldest learn his Ways, and receive a Snare to thy Soul.

26. Be not among them who strike the Hand, among such as are engaged for Debts:

27. If thou hast Nothing to pay, why should he take thy Bed from under thee?

28. Remove not the old Bounds, which thy Fathers made.

29. Shouldest thou see a Man ready at his Work, he will stand before Kings; will not stand before the Obscure.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHEN thou fittest to eat with a Governor, consider thoroughly what is before thee:

2. For thou wilt put a Knife to thy Throat, if thou art a Man of Appetite.

3. Desire not his Dainties; for each is very false Food.

4. Do not labour to be rich, refrain from thy own Prudence.

5. Wilt thou cause thy Eyes to fly to it, since it will not be? For it will thoroughly make it self Wings, will fly away as an Eagle in the Air.

6. Do not eat the Victuals of a Man with an evil Eye, nor desire his Dainties:

7. For as he judges in his Mind, so that is: Eat and drink, he says to thee; but his Heart is not with thee.

8. Thy Bit that thou eatest thou wilt vomit up, and lose thy pleasant Words.

Ver. 6. Put a Child] When Aristippus was asked, what it was Children should learn? He answered, says Diog. Laertius, ὅτι ἀνδρες γυναικὶν καὶ παισὶν, Those Things that they are to practise when they are Men. And to the 35th Question, proposed by Ptolemy Philadelphus King of Egypt, to the Greek Translators, What is the greatest Neglect in the World? as related by Aristeus, it was answered, Not to regard our Children, and take care of their Education.

Ver. 8. The Sept. have additionally at the End, God blesses (the Complut. Edit. The Lord loves) the cheerful and the Giver, &c. which Wall on 2 Cor. ix. 7. says is cited there (but more truly alluded to) and by St. Paul's citing it is right here; which is a non sequitur or inconclusive, and the 70 took great Liberty.

Ver. 11. pure] sincere, an Adj.

Ib. the Favour of his Lips] his making petition.

Ver. 12. Knowledge] metonymical for those who do according to Knowledge.

Ver. 17. Patrick makes this the Beginning of another Part, having a new Form of Speech; and the Vulg. begins it with My Son.

VOL. II.

Ver. 21. Sayings of Truth] There being, as Parnides observes in Diog. Laert. which the Lat. Translator has omitted, some Doctrine according to Truth, and some according to Opinion.

Ver. 22. at the Gate] where judicial Causes were tried.

Ver. 29. Shouldest] not a Question, but as If, like Ch. xxiv. 10. see Nold. at ON

Ib. ready] not diligent, but better.

Ver. 2. wilt put] the Heb. being not imperative, and the Sense harsh that Way: so Pagn. and Mont. have pones, the Tig. Bib. intendabis, both in the fut. Tense; Jun. and Trem. render alioquin inderas, otherwise thou wouldest put; and in this Manner Mercer explains it.

Ver. 3. Dainties] Diogenes seeing a young Man going to Supper with some great Persons, took him away home to his Friends, and bid them take care of him, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 4. Prudence] in labouring to be rich.

Ver. 5. it] the being rich.

Ver. 7. judges] from the Noun Gate, where they judged.

Ib. Mind] heart in our Transf. might be taken by Mistake from the following.

G

9. Do

9. Do not speak in the Hearing of the Foolish : for he will despise the Sense of thy Speeches.

10. Remove not the old Bounds, nor enter into the Fields of the Fatherless :

11. For their Redeemer is strong, he will plead their Cause with thee.

12. Bring thy Heart to Instruction, and thy Ears to the Sayings of Knowledge.

13. Do not withhold Correction from a Child : for smiting him with a Rod, he shall not die.

14. Thou shalt smite him with a Rod, and deliver his Soul from Hell.

15. My Son, if thy Heart is wise, my own Heart it self shall be glad ;

16. And my Reins shall triumph, when thy Lips speak upright Things.

17. Let not thy Heart envy Sinners, but be in the Fear of the Lord every Day :

18. Forasmuch as there is a Remainder, and thy Expectation will not be cut off.

19. Hear thou, my Son, and be wise ; and guide thy Heart in the Way.

20. Be not among the Drinkers of Wine, among those who glut themselves with Flesh :

21. For the Drunkard and Glutton will be poor, and Slumbering will cloath with Rags.

22. Harken to this thy Father who begot thee, and do not despise thy Mother when she is old.

23. Buy the Truth, and sell not ; for Wisdom, Instruction and Prudence.

24. The Father of the Righteous will thoroughly rejoice ; and having begot a wise one, will be glad of him :

25. Thy Father and Mother will be glad, particularly she who bore thee will rejoice.

26. Give me thy Heart, my Son, and let thy Eyes keep my Ways :

27. For a Whore is a deep Pit, and an unknown Woman a narrow Well ;

28. She also lies in wait as for a Prey, and adds to the Treacherous among Mankind.

29. To whom is Wo ? To whom Alas ?

To whom Contentions ? To whom Prating ? To whom Wounds without Cause ? To whom Redness of Eyes ?

30. To them that stay at the Wine, to such as go in to search for the Mixture.

31. Do not look on the Wine, though it be red, though it give its Colour in the Cup, sparkling very rightly.

32. At its End it will bite like a Serpent, and sting as a Cockatrice.

33. Thy Eyes will see strange Things, and thy Heart speak perverse ones.

34. Nay thou wilt be as he who lies in the middle of the Sea, or like one lying on the Top of the Mast.

35. Yet sayest, They smiting me, I was not ill, beating me, I did not know ; when shall I awake ? I will seek it yet again.

CHAP. XXIV.

BE neither envious against evil Men, nor desire to be with them :

2. For their Heart meditates Wasting, and their Lips speak Trouble.

3. By Wisdom a House is built, and by Understanding established ;

4. Nay by Knowledge the Chambers are filled with all precious and pleasant Substance.

5. A wise Man is in Strength, and a Person of Knowledge strengthens Ability :

6. For by Policies thou shouldest make war for thy self ; and Safety is in the Multitude of Counsellors.

7. Wise Things are high to a Fool ; he does not open his Mouth at the Gate.

8. Him who contrives to do Evil, will they call a very heinous Man.

9. Sin is the Heinousness of Folly ; and a Scorn is an Abomination to Mankind.

10. Shouldest thou be negligent on the Day of Narrowness, thy Strength will be narrow.

11. If thou with-holdest delivering those

Ver. 23. Truth] D. Laertius in the Life of Plato quotes him saying in his Laws. Καλὸν μὲν ἡ ἀλήθεια, καὶ μόνον ἔστιν ὅπου δὲ ἡ ψάδιον πείθειται. Excellent is Truth and steadfast, but it does not seem easy to persuade to it.

Ib. sell not] In Reflections on Languages, published by Stackhouse, p. 115. it is said the Sense of this is, to communicate it to others freely.

Ver. 29. To whom Alas ?] In the vulg. Lat. To whose Father Wo ? Either by taking אבוי to be two Words, as has been supposed, (or which seems likelier) the Fore-part of it for Father.

Ver. 33. strange Things] as after perverse things, the Heb. being alike, without Women : so Grotius expounds the Matter, Res miras videre tibi videberis, thou wilt seem to see strange Things, as drunken People do ; and Mercer, Thou wilt see strange Sights.

Ver. 6. for thy self] id est, bono tuo, that is, for thy Good, say Trem. and Jun.

Ver. 10. on the Day] This Jun. and Trem. with Mere. join to the following, which the Accents do not allow of.

Ib. will be] If People do not exert themselves in Distress, they will be weakened, and suffer.

Ver. 9. Heinousness] as the Word frequently signifies, scarce ever thought : so Jun. and Trem. have scelus, the Fig. Vers. facinus. It may be taken for the worst Degree of Folly.

who are taken away to Death, and removed to the Slaughter;

12. Since thou sayest, Behold we did not know it: does not he understand who considers the Hearts, and he know who keeps thy Soul, and will render to Man according to his Work?

13. Eat Honey, my Son, for it is good; and the Honey-comb that is sweet to thy Palate:

14. So will the Knowledge of Wisdom be to thy Soul, if thou findest it, and there is the Consequence; thus thy Expectation will not be cut off.

15. Do not lay wait, O Wicked, at the Habitation of the Righteous: do not waste his Lodging-place.

16. Though the Righteous falls seven times, yet he rises up; but the Wicked fall down into Evil.

17. When thy Enemy falls, do not be glad; and when he stumbles, let not thy Heart rejoice:

18. Lest the Lord looking, should be displeased with it, and he turn away his Anger from him.

19. Be not exasperated against Evil-doers: be not envious against the Wicked:

20. For there will be no Remainder to the Evil, the Lamp of the Wicked will be extinguished.

21. Fear the Lord, my Son, and the King: mix not thy self with those who change:

22. For their Calamity will rise up suddenly; and who knows the Oppression of their Years?

23. These Things are peculiarly for the Wise: to take notice of the Face in Judgment is not good:

24. He that says to the Wicked, Thou art righteous, People will curse him, Nations will abhor him;

25. But to those who reprove, it will be pleasant, and the Blessing of Good will come upon them.

26. A Man will kiss the Lips of him who returns right Words.

27. Fit thy Work without, and prepare it for thee in the Field; afterwards also build thy House.

28. Be not a Witness against thy Neighbour undeservedly, when thou hast seduced with thy Lips.

29. Do not say, According as he has done to me, so will I do to him; I will render to the Man according to his Work.

30. I passed over the Field of the slothful Person, and over the Vineyard of the Man wanting Sense;

31. And behold on all of it came up Thistles, Nettles covered the Surface of it, and its Stone-fence was thrown down.

32. And looking, I took notice; seeing, I received Instruction:

33. As there is a little Sleep, a little Slumber, a little folding of the Hands to lie down;

34. Poverty will stride on to thee apace, and manifold Want as a Man with a Shield.

CHAP. XXV.

THESE also are the Proverbs of Solomon, which the Men of Hezekiah King of Judah copied out.

2. It is the Glory of God to conceal a Thing, and the Glory of Kings to search a Thing out.

3. As the Heaven is for Height, and the

Ver. 14. Consequence] so the Heb. and its great Stop is here.

Ve. 16. falls] in afflictiones scilicet, that is to say, into Afflictions, Jun. and Trem. as also Grotius writes, Cave de peccatis hæc accipias, Beware of taking this as belonging to Sin; nay Patrick says, The Word fall never signifies falling into Sin, as Abundance of learned Men have observed: besides there being Nothing of day in the Text, how grossly wrong are these Words in The Complaint of a Sinner, bound up at the End of Bibles?

The Scripture plain tells me,
The righteous man offendeth
Seven times a day 'gainst thee,
Whereon thy Wrath dependeth.

Ver. 19. against—be not] as Psa. xxxvii. 1.

Ver. 21. Fear] Διδάσκων δὲ τοὺς νέους ἢ ἀρχαῖς τὰς τοῦ θεοῦ τιμὰς καὶ τὰς τοῦ νόμου, Young Men should be taught to reverence God and the Law, writes Clinias the Pythagorean.

Ver. 22. their Years] for so the Heb. may be, and the very same is, Job xxxvi. 11. which seems to agree far best to the Context, denoting the future Trouble, or Continuance of it answerable to suddenly, for those that make Changes in Government; whereas both has not proper Antecedents answerable to it, nor a Preposit. before it to denote them; see also De Dieu.

Ver. 23. for the Wise] as the next for a Judge, and the following for a Minister of State, People, like Nations, signifying in the Original those of different Countries; but what are These Things in the pres. Transf. with a full Point at the End of the Verse?

Ver. 27. prepare] It is reported that Anacharsis enquiring of the Oracle, whether there was any one wiser than himself, received for Answer that one Myso was; upon this he went to the Village where he lived, and found him sitting up a Plough, which being in the Summer, he said, O Myso, it is not the Time now for ploughing; But, said the other, It is to prepare for it, Diog. Laert. in the Life of Myso.

Ver. 28. when thou hast] the Heb. having no not, nor being here imperative, but in the preterperfect Tense; and thus makes a good and concurrent Lesson of Dehortation.

Ver. 32. Instruction] The Vulgate subjoins here Ch. vi. 9. only with the latter Part, How long art thou rising up from Sleep?

Ver. 34. manifold Want] plur. here, &c. see Ch. vi. 10, 11.

Ver. 1. copied] From the Death of Solomon to the Commencement of Hezekiah's Reign being two hundred and sixty Years, and this was probably done from the Prototype or first Exemplar.

Earth

Earth for Depth, there is no searching out the Heart of Kings.

4. Take away the Dross from the Silver, and there will come forth a Vessel for the Founder:

5. Take away the Wicked before the King, and his Throne will be established in Righteousness.

6. Do not honour thy self before the King, nor stand in the Place of the Great:

7. For it is better to be said to thee, Come up hither; than for thee to be put down before the Prince, whom thy Eyes have seen.

8. Go not forth to contend speedily, lest there should be what thou must do at the End of it, when thy Neighbour puts thee to Confusion.

9. Plead thy Cause with thy Neighbour, and do not disclose the Secret to another;

10. Lest he who hears should put thee to reproach, and the ill Report of thee not turn away.

11. As Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver, is a Word spoken in its Turn.

12. As an Ear-ring of Gold, and a Jewel of famous Gold, is a wise Reprover upon an attentive Ear.

13. Like the Cold of Snow in the Time of Harvest, is a faithful Ambassador to those who send him; and he restores the Soul of his Master.

14. As Clouds and Wind, with no Rain, is the Man that boasts of a false Gift.

15. In delaying of Anger a Leader is persuaded, and a soft Tongue breaks the Bone.

16. Having found Honey, eat but thy Sufficiency; lest thou shouldest be glutted with it, and vomit it up.

17. Let thy Foot be rare at thy Neighbour's House; lest he should be cloyed with thee, and hate thee.

18. As a Hammer, a Sword, and an Arrow sharpened, is the Man who gives Evidence against his Neighbour being a false Witness.

19. As a broken Tooth, and a Foot out of Joint, is Confidence in the Treacherous at the Time of Distress.

20. As he that takes away a Garment in a cold Day, and Vinegar to Salt-petre, is he also who sings Songs to a sad Heart.

21. If he who hates thee is hungry, cause him to eat Victuals; and if he is thirsty, make him drink some Liquor:

22. For thou wilt receive Coals upon his Head, and the Lord will recompense thee.

23. The north Wind disturbs the Rain, and an angry Look a lurking Tongue.

24. It is better to dwell upon a Corner of the Roof, than with a Woman of Contentions, and in a House of Company.

25. Like cold Water to the faint Soul, is good News from a Country far off.

26. As a Fountain trampled, and a Spring corrupted, is the Righteous who is moved before the Wicked.

27. To eat much Honey is not good, nor is it Honour for any to search out their own Honour.

28. As a City broke down with no Wall, is the Man in whom there is no Restraint to his Temper.

C H A P. XXVI.

LIKE Snow in Summer, and like Rain in Harvest; so Honour is not comely for the Foolish.

2. As a Bird in wandering, as the Swallow in flying; so a Curse will not come undeservedly.

3. A Whip is for a Horse, a Bridle for an Ass, and a Stick for the Back of the Foolish.

Ver. 6. nor stand] Lacydes, it is said, being sent for to King Attalus, returned answer that Images should be viewed at a distance; as in his Life by Diog. Laert.

Ver. 11. As Apples] The Order of the Heb. being thus, here and in Ver. 14, 18, 19, 26, 28, as at Ver. 12, 13, 20, 25.

Ver. 14. a false Gift] which he falsely pretends he will give.

Ver. 15. Bone] Inveterateness or Stiffness.

Ver. 16. eat] enjoy Prosperity with Moderation; which I cannot but think is better, than with others to understand it of Wisdom, Friendship or Pleasure.

Ver. 17. rare] or precious, according to the Heb.

Ver. 20. After this Verse follows in the Vulg. Lat. As a Moth the Garment, and a Worm the Wood, so the Grief of a Man hurts the Heart; as likewise in the Gr. with, in a Garment, &c. and the Chald. not much different; but marked for additional by Origen, as Patrick says from Jerome on Isa.

Ver. 22. receive] as the Word is, and never beap, but that taken from Rom. xii. 20. and Coals may well denote divine Vengeance, supposing he who hates still continues to do so. Thus this uncertain Text in the com. Transf. has a determinate Meaning:

Ver. 23. disturbs] as I have particularly observed this Day; so truly does the Scripture represent Nature. The Heb. Word signifies strictly makes to be in labour (as a Woman) or in anguish, &c. not driveth away; nor here beget, as Jun. and Trem. render, for which they are forced to transpose the Words of the next Member, which the Heb. must be very uncertain to allow of in such a comparative Sentence; and the Wind is strangely made to represent a (simulantis) dissembling Tongue, rather than an angry Look; besides being contrary to Job xxxvii. 22.

Ver. 24. Quite left out of the Bible of Pope Sixtus, though not so in others of the Vulgate.

Ver. 26. moved] which answers both to the Heb. and the Comparisons, falling down to neither; so that we need not be at a stand with Patrick, &c. to know whether it is falling into Sin or Calamity: but moved may signify any being disturbed or troubled.

Ver. 2. in wandering] i. e. goes away in the Air without alighting; so the Curse will.

Ib. not come] Duport in his Gr. Verse, when he leaves

4. Do not answer the Foolish according to his Folly; lest thou also shouldest be on a level with him:

5. Answer the Foolish according to his Folly; lest he should think himself wise.

6. He cuts off the Feet, drinks down Injury, who sends a Message by the Ministry of the Foolish.

7. The Legs of the lame are contracted, and a Proverb in the Mouth of the Foolish.

8. Like the tying up of a Stone in a Sling, so is the giving Honour to a Fool.

9. As a Thorn going up into the Hand of a Drunkard, is a Proverb in the Mouth of the Foolish.

10. The great Former of all both rewards the Foolish, and rewards Transgressors.

11. As a Dog returns to his Vomit, the Foolish does to his Folly.

12. Shouldest thou see a Man who thinks himself wise, there is more Hope of the Foolish, than of him.

13. The Slothful says, There is a fierce Lion in the Way, a Lion within the Streets.

14. A Door turns about upon its Hinge, and the Slothful upon his Bed.

15. The Slothful hides his Hand in the Bosom, it is wearisome to bring it back to his Mouth.

16. The Slothful thinks himself wiser than seven who render Reason.

17. As one that takes hold of a Dog's Ears, is he who passing by is in a Wrath about Strife which does not belong to him.

18. Like a Madman who throws Sparks, Arrows and Death;

19. So is the Man that cheats his Neighbour, and says, Am not I in jest?

20. By want of Wood the Fire is quenched, ed, and by there being no Whisperer Contention is still.

21. As Coal to burning Coals, and Wood to Fire, is a Man of Contentions to kindle Strife.

22. The Words of a Whisperer are like those who beat, and they go down to the inner Parts of the Body.

23. As Silver Dross covering over an earthen Vessel, are persecuting Lips, and an evil Heart.

24. He that hates shews himself otherwise with his Lips, but lays up Deceit within him:

25. Though he be gracious with his Voice, do not believe him; for there are seven Abominations in his Heart.

26. The Evil of him, whose Hatred covers it self with Deception, will be disclosed in the Congregation.

27. He that digs a Pit will fall into it; and to him who rolls a Stone, it will return.

28. A false Tongue hates those it has bruised, and a flattering Mouth makes driving away.

C H A P. XXVII.

DO not boast of the next Day; for thou dost not know what a Day will bring forth.

2. Let a Stranger praise thee, and not thy own Mouth; the unknown, and not thy own Lips.

3. A Stone has Heaviness, and Sand Weight; but the Indignation of a Fool is heavier than both of them.

4. Wrath is Cruelty, and Anger a Flood; but who can stand before Envy?

the com. Transf. is apt to do it by frigid Additions, as here he subjoins, after it has fled the Hedge of the Teeth, the Wind carries it away, nor is the Word steadfast.

Ver. 4. Do not answer] Diog. Laertius acquaints us, that a young Man talking insolently, Arcefilous said, Is there Nobody will go to play with this Boy? In Vit.

Ver. 4, 5. Do not answer—Answer] How can these be consistent? Thus, Do not answer the Foolish, unless (thou thinkest) thy not doing it will make him self-conceited.

Ver. 8. tying up] which is thereby made useless in slinging, which seems to me the best Meaning: for why tying up else, instead of putting in?

Ver. 9. into the Hand] As a Drunkard pricks himself by meddling with Thorns, so the Foolish exposes himself by using a Proverb.

Ver. 12. Shouldest] Like Ch. xxii. 29. and again Ch. xxix. 20.

Ver. 23. persecuting Lips] of a wicked Zealot, or any one who speaks severely against others for being bad, and is bad himself. This Interpretation indeed I have laboured for, because I found none to satisfy me: for how can persecuting or burning denote flattering? And how can angry Language merely be compared to a tinsel Covering? Buxtorf too quotes Sol. Jarhi on Psa. vii. for the Heb. Word always to signify persecuting.

Ver. 25. Like this are those ancient Greek Verses of Solon in Diog. Laert.

Περὶ μακροῦ καὶ βραχέως, &c.

*Beware, for wicked Man must still be watch'd,
Lest secret Mischief in his Heart be hatch'd;
When smooth he speaks, and with a Smile as fair
As new-blown Flow'rs exhaling fragrant Air:
Man's double Tongue can flatter, or can bowl,
When prompted by a black corrupted Soul.*

Ver. 28. bater] according to the ingenious foreign Proverb, The Injurer bears a spite to him that he has injured.

1b. flattering] Antisthenes, as Diog. Laert. writes from Hecato, said it was better to fall among coracas, Ravens, than colacas, Flatterers; because those devoured the Dead, but these the Living.

Ver. 1. will bring forth] on which Duport adds,

*Ἄλλοτε μητέρα πάλαι γέννη, ἄλλοτε μήνη,
Sometimes a Day is a Step-mother, sometimes a Mother;
but not quite ingeniously, since a Step-mother does not bring forth whom she is such to:*

Ver. 3. both of them] If not combined with the Genitive, it should be they both, viz. are.

Ver. 4. Anger] Diog. Laertius relates concerning Plato, that he said to Xenocrates, Beat this Boy: for I can't myself, because I am angry; and to a Servant, I would beat thee, if I was not angry.

5. Reproof published is better than Love that is hid.

6. The Wounds of him who loves are faithful; but the Kisses of him that hates should be intreated.

7. A full Person treads upon the Honeycomb: but to a hungry Person every bitter Thing is sweet.

8. As a Bird that wanders from its Nest, so is a Man who wanders from his Place.

9. Ointment and Perfuming make the Heart glad, and the Sweetness of its Friend by the Counsel of the Soul.

10. Do not leave thy Friend and thy Father's Friend, nor come to thy Brother's House at the Time of thy Calamity; a near Dweller being better than a Brother far off.

11. Be wise, my Son, and make my Heart glad, that I may return him Word who reproaches me.

12. The Discreet seeing the evil, becomes hid; the simple passing on, are punished.

13. Take his Garment, when one is engaged for a Stranger; and of him who is for an unknown Woman, receive it in pawn.

14. He that blesses his Friend aloud, rising early in the Morning, it will be reckoned a Curse to him.

15. A continual Dropping in a showery Day, and a Wife of Contentions are alike:

16. One of those who hide her, may hide the Wind, and the Ointment of his right Hand that will be published.

17. Iron sharpens Iron, and a Man makes sharp the Face of his Friend.

18. He who keeps the Fig-tree, will eat the Fruit of it; and he who observes his Master, will be honoured.

19. As in Water Face is to Face, so is the Heart of Man to Man.

20. The Grave and Perdition are not satisfied, nor are the Eyes of Man.

21. The trying Vessel is for Silver, and the Furnace for Gold, and a Man for the Mouth to praise him.

22. If thou shouldest pound a Fool in a Mortar, among ground Corn with a Pestle, his Folly would not depart from him.

23. Know fully the Sight of thy Flock, take notice of thy Herds:

24. For Store is not for ever; and is the Crown to every Generation?

25. The Grass discovers it self, the Herbage appears, and the Herbs of the Mountains are to be gathered;

26. The Lambs are for thy cloathing, and the He-goats the Price of the Field;

27. And there is Milk enough of the She-goats for thy own Food, for that of thy Family, and for thy Maids to live on.

C H A P. XXVIII.

THE Wicked is one of them who flee when none pursues; but the righteous ones are each as bold as a young Lion.

2. By the Transgression of a Country the Princes of it are many; but by an understanding, knowing Man, the Settlement is prolonged.

3. A Man poor, and oppressing the Decayed, is like Rain which sweeps away, so that there is no Food.

4. They that forsake the Law, praise the Wicked; but those who observe the Law, contend with them.

5. Evil Men do not understand Judgment; but such as seek the Lord, understand all Things.

Ver. 5. published] which thereby may cause Amendment.

Ib. hid] without shewing any Effect of it, as in Jam. ii. 16. and this rightly, with no strained and improbable Distinction of effeminate Friendship, &c.

Ver. 6. should be intreated] not admitted without such Intreaty or Desire, as may shew the Hatred gone; the Heb. Word signifying Nothing of deceitful.

Ver. 10. Friend] One of Solon's Precepts, as given by Diog. Laertius from Apollodorus, is, φίλους μὴ ταχὺ πρῶτον ἔσθ' ἀν' αὐτοὺς καὶ ἀποδομιματά. Do not get Friends quickly; but when they are got, do not cast them off.

Ib. Dweller] properly, and more suitable than neighbour with near.

Ver. 11. I] Pope Clem. has it in the 2d Pers.

Ver. 14. rising early] being very forward to do it.

Ib. a Curse to him] He who is extolled at such a Rate, will be thought the worse for it, as Observation shews.

Ver. 19. so is the Heart] A Man's Mind is like his Behaviour generally, though he may alter it sometimes. Patrick makes great Difficulty of this Verse, which by keeping strictly to the Words as elsewhere may be got over: it is not Heart to Heart, nor Man to Man, &c.

Ver. 21. the Mouth] which resembles a Vessel, and Furnace; and so the Heb. is.

Ib. to praise him] Heb. of his Praise. As Silver and Gold should be purified, so should a Man behave that he may be praised.

Ver. 24. is not for ever] does not last without taking care of it.

Ver. 26. Price] Value of it, according to the Number kept there.

Ver. 1. Wicked is one] being a Noun sing. to a Verb plur.

Ib. when none pursues] By reason of the Terrors of his own Conscience. To this Purpose Juvenal begins his 13th Satyr; translated by Creech,

*He that commits a Sin, shall quickly find
The pressing Guilt lie heavy on his Mind;
Though Bribes or Favour shall assert his Cause,
Pronounce him guiltless, and elude the Laws:
None quits himself; his own impartial Thought
Will damn, and Conscience will record the Fault.*

Ib. righteous ones are each] A Noun plur. by a beautiful Contrast, to a Verb sing. of which Nothing appears in the com. Vers.

Ver. 3. so that there is] But the Heb. has here Nothing that signifies leaveth; which was Italic in the Geneva Transl. such Carelessness has there been in the present.

6. The poor who goes in his Integrity, is better than he that is perverse with two Ways, though he is rich.

7. He who keeps the Law is an understanding Son; but he that associates with Gluttons, puts his Father to Confusion.

8. He that increases his Substance by Usury and Interest, gathers it together for him who shews pity to the Decayed.

9. He that turns away his Ear from hearing the Law, even his Prayer is an Abomination.

10. He who causes the upright to err in an evil Way, will fall himself into his own Pit; but the perfect will possess Good.

11. The rich Man thinks himself wise; yet the understanding decayed one searches him out.

12. When the Righteous triumph, there is great Glory; but when the Wicked rise up, Man is to be searched for.

13. He that covers his Transgressions, will not prosper; but he who confesses and forsakes, will obtain Mercy.

14. The Man is blessed who fears continually; whereas he that hardens his Heart, will fall into Evil.

15. As a Lion roaring, and a Bear running to and fro, is a wicked Governor over a decayed People.

16. When a Nobleman wants Understanding, there are great Oppressions; by hating Covetousness, he prolongs Life.

17. A Man who is seized for the Murder of a Person, should go away to the Pit, let none hold him.

18. He who goes with Integrity, will be saved; but he that is become perverse with two Ways, will fall in one.

19. He who tills his Ground, will be filled with Victuals; but he that pursues after vain Things, will be filled with Poverty.

20. A Man of Faithfulness is of great Blessings; but he that is hasty to be rich will not be innocent.

21. To acknowledge the Face is not well, since a Man will transgress for a Bit of Bread.

22. He that hurries on to Wealth is a Man of an evil Eye, and does not know that Want will come to him.

23. He who reproves a Man will afterwards find Favour, more than he that flatters with the Tongue.

24. He who robs his Father or Mother, and says, It is no Transgression, is himself a Companion to a Man of Destruction.

25. He that is puffed up in Mind, makes Contention; but he who trusts upon the Lord, will be made fat.

26. He that trusts in his own Heart is foolish; but he that walks in Wisdom, will deliver himself.

27. He who gives to the Poor, will not want; whereas he that hides his Eyes, will have large Curses.

28. When the Wicked rise up, Man is hid; but when they perish, the Righteous multiply.

CHAP. XXIX.

THE Man that being much reprov'd hardens the Neck, will be broke at an Instant, and there will be no Healing.

2. When the Righteous multiply, the People are glad; but when the Wicked has dominion, the People sigh.

3. The Man who loves Wisdom, makes his Father glad; but he that associates with Whores, causes Substance to perish.

4. The King makes the Country stand fast by Judgment; but a Person of Presents destroys it.

5. A Man that flatters his Friend, spreads a Net for his Goings.

6. In the Transgression of an evil Person is a Snare; but the Righteous sings, and is glad.

7. The Righteous knows the Cause of the Poor; the Wicked does not understand the Knowledge.

8. Men of Derision insnare a Town; but the Wise turn back Anger.

9. A wise Man comes to Judgment with a foolish one; but he is moved, or laughs, and there is no Rest.

Ver. 12. is to be searched for] so, and not as at Ver. 28.

Ver. 17. seized] passively, so that he should not be rescued from the Hand of Justice.

Ver. 18. save] Lat. Vulgate praised.

1b. with two Ways, will fall in one] as the Heb. is, the Word for Ways being the dual Number; see the like Ver. 6. and Mercer there.

Ver. 19. Things] see Ch. xii. 11.

1b. filled with Poverty] according to the Heb. and our Genev. and as before with Bread; but enough seems ludicrous.

Ver. 23. flatters] so Maximus Tyrius the Philosopher has his 4th Dissertation intitled, Τὸν φίλον τὸν νότατον τὸ φίλον λόγῳ, How a Friend should be distinguished from a Flatterer; which let the Curious consult.

Ver. 26. he that walks] as he that trusts in Heb. and whose is obsolete.

Ver. 1. hardens the Neck] Alluding to Oxen in the Yoke, according to Bochart, De Sacr. Animal. Lib. iii. Cap. 41.

Ver. 2. multiply] as in Ch. xxviii. ult.

Ver. 4. Presents] Heb. Lifted-offerings, Presents being made of such.

Ver. 6. is a Snare] to himself.

Ver. 8. Derision insnare] The Justness of which see in the Lord Bacon's Advanc. of Learn. B. viii. Ch. 2. or as quoted by Patrick.

Ver. 9. but he is moved, or laughs] which I think suits the foolish more than the wise, and makes a better Saying: accordingly Munst. says, Sensus est, quando sapiens lo-

10. Men

10. Bloody Men hate the Perfect; but the Upright enquire after his Soul.

11. The Foolish brings forth all his Mind, but the Wise restrains it back.

12. A Governor hearkening to the Word of Falschood, all his Ministers will be wicked.

13. The Poor and the Man of Frauds meet, the Lord enlightens the Eyes of them both.

14. The King who judges the Decayed in Truth, his Throne will be established for evermore.

15. The Rod of Reproof gives Wisdom; but a Child let go makes his Mother ashamed.

16. When the Wicked increase, Transgression increases; but the Righteous see their Fall.

17. Correct thy Son, and he will cause thee to rest, and will give Delights to thy Soul.

18. When there is no Vision, the People become bare; but he who observes the Law is blessed.

19. A Servant will not be corrected by Words; though he understands, yet he will not answer.

20. Shouldest thou see a Man hasty in his Words, there is hope of the Foolish more than of him.

21. One breeding up his Servant delicately from his Childhood, he will become a son at his End.

22. A Man of Anger makes Contention, and a Master of Wrath has much Transgression.

23. The Pride of Man will humble him; but Honour will uphold him of a humble Spirit.

24. He that divides with a Thief, hates his own Soul; he that hears Cursing, and does not tell it.

25. By Fearfulness Man puts a Snare; but he who trusts in the Lord will be exalted.

26. Many seek the Face of the Governor; but the Judgment of a Man is from the Lord.

27. The Abomination of the righteous ones is the Man of Iniquity; and the Abomination of the Wicked is he of an upright Way.

CHAP. XXX.

THE Words of Agur the Son of Jakeh, the Burden that the Man expressed to Ithiel, not only to him but also Ucal.

2. Because I am more stupid than a Man, and have not the Understanding of Mankind;

3. Having neither learned Wisdom, nor am acquainted with the Knowledge of holy Persons;

4. Who goes up to Heaven, and comes down? Who gathers up the Wind in his double Hand? Who binds up the Waters in a Cloth? Who establishes all the Limits of the Earth? What is his Name? And what is the Name of his Son, that thou knowest?

5. Every Saying of God is pure: he is a Shield to those that trust in him.

6. Do not add to his Words; lest he should reprove thee, and thou be a Liar.

7. I ask two Things of thee; do not withhold from me before I die.

8. Remove far from me Vanity, and lying Words: do not give me Poverty nor Riches, nourish me with the Bread of my Allowance; quitur, stultus vel ridet, vel furit: the Meaning is, when one who is wise speaks, the foolish either laughs, or is in a fury.

Ver. 10. enquire after his Soul] to save it, as Psa. cxlii. 4. which may determine this.

Ver. 12. will be wicked] See the Lord Bacon's Advancement of Learning, B. VIII. Ch. ii. Parab. 13.

Ver. 13. the Lord enlightens the Eyes of them both] agreeable to Ch. xxii. 2. and Mat. v. 45. as Mercer well observes; which Places I think unfold this.

Ib. them both] one not to be impoverished, and the other not to impoverish him by Frauds. He that can find a better Interpretation, let him.

Ver. 15. gives Wisdom] Lyco, as writes Diog. Laertius, said, δὲν ἀγασσέμεν τοῖς πασι τὸν δὲδωκεν καὶ φιλομαθῆναι, ὡς τοῖς ἵπποις μύθονα καὶ κακὸν. Shame and Emulation were as necessary for Children, as a Bridle and Spur for Horses.

Ib. a Child let go] Aristippus the Philosopher demanding 500 Drachmas of a Man to teach his Son, the other said he could buy a Slave for that; to which he replied, Πῶς, καὶ ἴσως δὲ, Do, and then thou wilt have two, Diog. Laert. in Vit.

Ib. Mother] The Italian Proverb is, La buona madre non dice, volete? The good Mother does not say, Will you?

Ver. 18. When] more suitable to the Heb. than where.

Ib. observes the Law] For, as Archytas speaks in his Book Concerning the Doctrine of Manners, ἡ ἀρετὴ τὰς ἀρετὰς ἀδυναμία ἐστὶν, ἀλλὰ χρῆσις, Blessedness does not consist in possessing Virtue, but in making use of it.

Ver. 21. Where see the great Sir Fran. Bacon Ld. Verulam again.

Ver. 25. Man puts] for Man, and not the foregoing Word, belongs to the Verb, as the Heb. Genders shew.

Ib. exalted] the Heb. Word not signifying safe.

Ver. 1. Burden] It being difficult for an unlearned Man, as Agur describes himself, to make a Speech to the Learned, which the others probably were; as it was for the Prophets to deliver their minatory Commissions to the unbelieving persecuting Rulers; whence prophecy, but so inconsistently and absurdly here, by our Translators.

Ver. 2. Because] How good a Connection this (which the Heb. Conjunction, not Adverb, signifies, instead of Surely) makes of the 4th Ver. to the 3d, and without which the 4th is a detached, disjointed, incoherent Matter, need not be remarked.

Ver. 4. that thou knowest] as De Dieu would have it rendered, and Ment. does it literally; it being not if.

Ver. 8. do not give] Τὴ γὰρ ἀπαλῆς ἐστὶν τὸ μίσην ὅτι

9. Lest I should be filled, and lye, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I should be poor, and steal, and take hold of the Name of my God.

10. Do not talk against a Servant to his Master, lest he should curse thee, and thou be guilty.

11. There is a Generation that curses its Father, and does not bless its Mother.

12. There is a Generation that thinks it self clean, yet is not washed from its Filthiness.

13. There is a Generation, how lofty are its Eyes, and its Eye-lids lifted up!

14. There is a Generation whose Teeth are Swords, and its Eye-teeth Knives; to consume the Poor from the Earth, and the Needy from Mankind.

15. The Horse-leach has two Daughters saying, Give, give; these three Things are not filled, four do not say, Here is Plenty;

16. The Grave, and the barren Womb, the Earth that is not filled with Water, and the Fire which does not say, Here is Fuel.

17. The Eye which scoffs at a Father, and despises the gathering of a Mother, that the Ravens of the Valley will pick out, and the young Eagles eat.

18. Those three Things are too wonderful for me, nay four which I do not know;

19. The Way of an Eagle in the Air, the Way of a Serpent upon a Rock, the Way of a Ship in the middle of the Sea, and the Way of a Man with a Maid.

20. So is the Way of a Woman who is an Adulteress, that eats, and wipes her Mouth; and says, I have done no Iniquity.

21. Under three Things is the Earth disturbed, nay under four, which it cannot bear;

22. Under a Servant when he reigns, and a vile one when he is filled with Food,

23. Under a hateful Woman when she is married, and a Handmaid when she is the Heiress of her Mistress.

24. Those four Things are little on the Earth, but they are the wisest of the wise ones:

25. The Ants that are a People not strong, but prepare their Food in the Summer;

26. The Rabbits that are a People not stout, but make their House in the Rock;

27. The Locust that has no King, but goes forth every one of them destroying;

28. The Spider that takes hold with the Hands, and is it self in the Palaces of the King.

29. Those three Things do march well, or four go well along:

30. An old Lion that is powerful among the Beasts, and does not turn away from the Face of any;

31. He that is girded on the Loins, or a He-goat, and a King with whom there is no rising up.

32. If thou hast fallen by setting thy self up, or if by heinous Things, let the Hand be to the Mouth.

33. For the pressing of Milk brings forth Butter, as the pressing of the Nose does Blood; and the pressing of Anger brings forth Contention.

Idus Iru. For there is no Bounds to what is once above Measure, says Epictetus, Ch. 61. And Horace, Od. Lib. iii. 16.

—Bene est cui Deus obtulit
Parca quod satis est manu:

Which Creech translates,

Happy, to whom indulgent Heav'n
Enough, and sparingly hath giv'n.

Ib. nor Riches] Demophilus in his Greek Similitudes says, Immoderate Riches are a Hindrance to the Mind, as long Garments are to the Body.

Ib. nourish me] Having Food and Raiment, says the Apostle, let us be therewith content, 1 Tim. vi. 8. and the Author of Night Thoughts, Man wants but little, nor that little long.

Ver. 9. take hold of] as Exod. xx. 7. Deut. v. 11.

Ver. 11, 12, 13, 14. He here brands the Undutiful, the Hypocrites, the Proud, and the Oppressors, as such perhaps who escaped the Law.

Ver. 15. two Daughters] these Annotators interpret to be its forked Tongue.

Ib. Plenty] Heb. Substance.

Ver. 17. scoffs] looks scornfully.

Ib. pick out] The Body being left unburied after some unnatural Death.

Ver. 18. Those] which the Heb. has, and so at Ver. 24, 29.

Ver. 19. with a Maid] I am ashamed of the Obscenity that is fillily thrown upon this Passage by Expositors!

while Way according to the Meaning of it in all the three foregoing Cases is where a Man and Maid go, that is in uncertain By-places at the Time of Courtship.

Ver. 20. So] to wit unknown likewise.

Ib. eats] as it were.

Ver. 27. destroying] Heb. cutting off, which in that Tongue is used for destroying; or it may be taken strictly cutting or biting off, that is the Vegetables, as in Buxt. and Pagn. Lexicons, and as rendered in the com. Transf. Job xxi. 21. see also De Dieu's Explication; who says that by hands is from mere Conjecture, since the Verb has not such a Meaning elsewhere, nor any Noun derived from it.

Ver. 31. He that is girded on the Loins] namely a Horse, not a Grey-hound, as may be easily understood: so Jun. and Trem. render accinctus lumbis equus, a Horse girt on the Loins.

Ib. or a He-goat] The worst of them, and properly the last, making up the three or four, but joined with the Beasts, as being one: for the Heb. Particle is or, never signifying also nor and. This, no Commentator that I know of, meddles with to unfold, not even the curious Mercer, though he mentions it; but being in the Scriptures, it claims some Notice, and would not have been so overlooked in one of the heathen Classics.

Ver. 32. fallen] very aptly; and I don't observe this Verb elsewhere signifies to do foolishly, though that was started by Ab. Ezra, one fond, like some Moderns, of new Meanings.

C H A P. XXXI.

THE Words of King Lemuel, the Burden in which his Mother instructed him.

2. What, my Son? And what, O Son of my Womb? And what, thou Son of my Vows?

3. Give not thy Strength to Women, nor thy Ways to that which destroys Kings.

4. It is not for Kings, O Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drink Wine; nor is the Desire of strong Drink for Princes;

5. Left by drinking, he should forget what is decreed, and change the Cause of any of those that are afflicted.

6. Give ye strong Drink to him who is perishing, and Wine to them of a bitter Soul.

7. Let him drink, and forget his Poverty, remembering his Labour no more.

8. Open thy Mouth for the Dumb, in the Cause of all those that are passing away.

9. Open thy Mouth, judge with Righteousness; and plead for the Afflicted and Needy.

10. * Who finds a Wife of Ability? for her Price is far more than Pearls.

11. * The Heart of her Husband trusts in her, and does not want Spoil.

12. * She recompenses him with Good, and not Evil, all the Days of her Life.

13. * She seeks for Wool and Flax, and works willingly with her Hands.

14. * She is like the Merchants Ships, she fetches her Victuals far off.

15. * And she rises up while it is Night, giving Food to her Family, and the Allowance to her Maids.

16. * She thinks of a Field, and takes it:

with the Fruit of her Hands she plants a Vineyard.

17. * She girds her Loins with Strength, and makes her Arms strong.

18. * She tastes that her Merchandise is good: her Candle is not put out at Night.

19. * She stretches out her Hands to the Spinning-wheel, and the Palms of them hold the Spindle.

20. * She spreads forth the Palm of her Hand to the Afflicted, and stretches out her Hands to the Needy.

21. * She does not fear for her Family, because of the Snow: for they are all cloathed with Scarlet.

22. * She makes her self Tapestries: her Cloathing is fine Linen and Purple.

23. * Her Husband is known at the Gates, when he sits with the Elders of the Country.

24. * She makes Lawn, and sells; and gives the Girdle to the Dealer.

25. * Strength and Honour is her Cloathing; and she will smile at the last Day.

26. * She opens her Mouth with Wisdom, and the Law of Kindness is upon her Tongue.

27. * She watches the Goings of her Family, and does not eat the Bread of Slothfulness.

28. * Her Children rise up, and call her blessed; her Husband, and he praises her.

29. * Many Daughters act with Ability, but thou ascendest above them all.

30. * Favour is Falsehood, and Beauty is Vanity: that Woman who fears the Lord will glory.

31. * Give her of the Fruit of her Hands, and let her Doings praise her at the Gates.

Ver. 1. his Mother] So the virtuous and admired Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius, Meditat. Lib. 1. relates, that he learned of his Mother to be religious and generous, not to do, nor even intend any Thing evil, to be contented with moderate Diet, and to shun the Excess that Wealth and Grandeur is liable to: in which there is a Resemblance to Ver. 4, 9. particularly.

Ib. Burden] Being Self-denial, Ver. 3, 4. and Nothing of prophecy.

Ver. 4. to drink Wine] So on the other hand Prince Hector, in Homer, to his Mother-Queen,

*Inflaming Wine, pernicious to Mankind,
Unnerves the Limbs, and dulls the noble Mind.*

Let Chiefs abstain——— Il. B. 6.

And it may be observed, that Samson the strongest Man, as being a Nazarite, drank no strong Liquor from his Birth, as probably also Mathias the longest Liver, and Solomon the wisest Man is here forbid it on the Authority of a Parent.

Ib. nor] as it is in the preceding Verse: for the Vulgate renders this strangely indeed, because there is no Secret where Drunkenness reigns; and the Septuag. in the Copies that have it, Princes will be angry, let them not drink Wine; which take only for a Taste.

Ib. Desire] The Word in the Text being ym appears to come from ym which signifies to desire, by only leaving out the last Letter; rather than to be put for ym not or rather none, which though of frequent Use, is no where else contracted so, nor even to ym with the same Vowel, and not each time before is denoted by ym besides the Place of its standing may determine this Matter, being next before that for strong Drink: accordingly Trem. and Jun. render it desiderium.

Ver. 8. passing away] thus the Verb signifies, but there is no Proof that it ever does to cut off, and that it signifies to destroy simply is not pretended.

Ver. 10. The Verses begin here, and continue to the End, alphabetical in Heb. as the Letters are prefixed.

Ib. Wife] as the following shews, and as rendered Ch. xviii. 22. where it is with the same Verb.

Ib. Ability] according both to the Heb. Word, and the Description.

Ver. 21. Scarlet] for an additional Garment, or warm one.

NOTES upon the BOOK of ECCLESIASTES.

CHAP. I.

SAYINGS of the Preacher, the Son of David, King at Jerusalem.

2. Every Thing is Vanity, says he, very and utterly vain.

3. What Profit has Man of all his Labour, which he does under the Sun?

4. One Generation goes away, and another comes; though the Earth remains continually.

5. The Sun both rises and sets; and hastening to his Place, he rises there again.

6. The Wind goes to the South, and turns round to the North, fetching a Compass about, and returning in its Circuits.

7. All the Rivers run into the Sea, and yet it is not full: to the Place from whence they came, thither they return to come afresh.

8. All Things are so laborious one cannot tell it: the Eye is neither satisfied by seeing, nor the Ear filled with hearing.

9. What is, the same has been; that which is done, is such as has been done: for there is Nothing new under the Sun.

10. Of what Matter can it be said, See, this is new? It has been already in Ages that were before us.

11. There is no Remembrance of former Things; neither will there be any of them that are later, nor of those which shall be after.

12. I the Preacher, being King over Israel at Jerusalem,

13. Gave my Heart to seek, and search out by Wisdom, concerning all that is done under Heaven; which is a grievous Exercise that God has given Mankind to be afflicted with.

14. I considered all the Works which are done under the Sun, and behold all are Vanity and Vexation of Mind.

15. That which is confused cannot be put in order, nor what is wanting be numbered up.

16. I said thus to my self; Lo I am great, and have more Wisdom than any who has been before me in Jerusalem, and my Heart is acquainted with much Wisdom and Knowledge:

17. I having applied it to understand Wisdom, as also the Knowledge of Madness and Folly; yet know withal that it is Vexation of Mind.

18. For in Abundance of Wisdom there is much Displeasure: and he who increases Knowledge does increase Grief.

CHAP. II.

COME now, thought I in my self, I will try thee with Mirth, and mind Pleasure; but doubtless that also was Vanity.

2. Of Laughter, I concluded it was a mad Thing; and of Mirth, what would that avail?

3. I fought in my Heart, whilst I guided it with Wisdom, to attract my Flesh with Wine, that I might take hold of Folly, till I

Ver. 2. very and utterly vain] to be proper and intelligible, as the Translation ought, when the Meaning of the Original is plain: Fun. and Trem. repeat vanitas vanissima, very vain Vanity, and so Bibliander in the Tigr. Bib. inanitas extrema, our Tyndal al is but playne vanite.

Ver. 4. One Generation] Homer has it under a fine Similitude;

Ὅτι περ φύλλον γεννῇ, τοῖνδε καὶ ἄνθρωποι.
Φύλλα τὰ μὲν τ' ἀνέμῳ χαμάδις χέου, ἄλλα δὲ δ' ὕλη
Τηλεδωσά φέει, ἱερὸν δ' ἐπαγγίλλεται ἔρπ'
Ὡς ἀνθρώπων γεννῇ, ἡ μὲν φύει, ἡ δ' ἀποδύσσει. Il. 7.
Like Leaves on Trees the Race of Man is found,
Now green in Youth, now with'ring on the Ground;
Another Race the following Spring supplies,
They fall successive, and successive rise;
So Generations in their Course decay,
So flourish these, when those are past away.

And the Son of Sirach the same in the same Tongue, Ὡς φύλλον θάλλον ἐπὶ δένδρου θωρεῖται τὰ μὲν καὶ ἀσπάζεται, ἄλλα δὲ φέει, ἕως καὶ γεννᾷ σπέρμα καὶ αἰμαίνετο, ἡ μὲν τελευτᾷ, ἡ δὲ γινώσκειται. Eccles. xiv. 18.

Ver. 5. hastening] Heb. panting, being a Participle. The old Lat. has returns, as Symmachus and Theodotion had runs back: it is possible shoph was supposed to have the Meaning of shabb from shubb.

Ver. 7. not full] the Water being carried up in Vapours by the Heat of the Sun. Of which Dr. Halley has a curious Discourse in the Philosophical Transactions, Num. 189. applied to the Mediterranean Sea, which flows on the Country of Israel, and to which these Words may be supposed most particularly relative; concluding that much more Water is expended that Way, than the nine great Rivers, the Iberus, Rhone, Tiber, Po, Danube, Neister, Borysthenes, Tanais and Nile, with all the little ones that run into it, supply; which however does not empty the Sea, as it falls back in Rain and Dew; see also Martin's Philosoph. Gram. Part IV. Chap. iii. p. 272.

1b. full] whereby the Rivers might cease running.

Ver. 8. laborious] Having first shewed that some of the principal Things in Nature are so, Ver. 4, 5, 6, 7.

Ver. 15. That which] in human Affairs, as done under the Sun.

1b. cannot] by the Ability of Man, Chap. vii. 13.

1b. numbered up] made up in Number; a Sense wanting in Commentators, whom I do not find speaking any Thing to the Purpose; and Jerome at the Head of them translates, the Number of Fools is infinite.

Ver. 2. thought I] Instead of ego, I, the vulg. Lat. has ergo, therefore; an Erratum, one may think, of the Scribes.

should see what was best for Mankind, to do under Heaven, as long as they live.

4. I did great Matters: built me Houses, planted me Vineyards,

5. Made me Gardens, and Orchards in which I planted Fruit-trees of all Sorts,

6. Making me Pools of Water, to water Nurseries for young Trees;

7. I got Servant-men and Maids, and had Children of the Family, besides more Possession of Herds and Flocks, than any who were before me in Jerusalem;

8. I also gathered me Silver, and Gold, with the Rarities of Kings and Provinces; prepared me Singing-men and Women, as well as Concerts of Musick, the Delights of Mankind.

9. Thus was I greater, and increased more than any who was in Jerusalem before me, my Wisdom too remaining with me.

10. Whatever my Eyes sought I did not keep from them, nor with-hold my Heart from any Joy: for this belonged to me out of all my Labour, that my Heart should be joyful by it.

11. Then looking on all the Deeds that my Hands had done, and on what I had laboured to do; behold all was Vanity, and Vexation of Mind, and there was no Profit under the Sun.

12. Besides I looked to see Wisdom, Madness and Folly: for what can the Man do who shall come after the King, but that which they have done already?

13. However I saw that there is more Profit of Wisdom than Folly, the same as of Light more than Darkness:

14. The Eyes of the Wise are in his Head, but the Fool goes in Darkness; yet I knew also that the same Event falls out to them all.

15. Therefore I said in my Heart, Since it falls out to me even as it does to the Foolish, why am I any wiser? Hence I concluded in my self, that this too was Vanity.

16. For there is no Remembrance of the wise Man nor foolish for ever, since that which is already will all be forgotten in Time to come; and the Wise dies in the same manner with the Foolish.

17. So I hated Life, because the Work which is done under the Sun was grievous to me: for all is Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

18. I likewise hated all my Labour that I had performed there, which I must leave to the Man who shall succeed me:

19. And who knows whether he will be wise, or foolish? Yet will he rule over all this in which I have laboured and been wise under the Sun: which is also Vanity.

20. Upon this I turned about to make my Heart despair, of all my Labour which I had done there.

21. For one whose Labour has been with Wisdom, Knowledge and Equity, gives it to another for his Part, who does not labour in that Manner: this is also Vanity, and a great Evil.

22. And what has a Man by all his Labour that he does under the Sun, and the Vexation of his Heart;

23. When all his Days are sorrowful, his Exercise displeasing, and his Mind does not lie still even at Night? this is likewise Vanity.

24. There is Nothing better for Man, than to eat, and drink, and let his Soul enjoy the Good of his Labour; which I saw is from the Hand of God:

25. (For who can eat, or do so faster than I?)

26. Because he gives Wisdom, Knowledge and Gladness, to the Man who is good in his Sight; and to the Sinner Exercise, in gathering and getting together, to give him who is good before God: this is Vanity too, and Vexation of Mind.

C H A P. III.

FOR every Thing there is a Season, and a Time for every Affair under Heaven.

Ver. 12. Then looking] Prior paraphrases thus,

My full Design with vast Expence achiev'd,

I came, beheld, admir'd, afflicted, griev'd.

I chid the Folly of my thoughtless Haste:

For, the Work perfected, the Joy was past,
Solomon on the Vanities of the World, B. 2.

Ib. Vexation] So of the Persons of Pleasure Young writes, Instead of rejoicing in tribulation (of which few amongst us ever heard) we sorrow in delight: for to speak the truth (tho' we would not have it divulg'd) we tread this eternal round of vanities, less for the pleasure it brings, than for the pain it suspends, Cent. not Fab. Let. 2.

Ver. 12. the King] Solomon himself.

Ib. they have done] who were before him.

Ver. 20. turned about] Vulg. Lat. ceased, and; there being some Likeness between the Heb. Words for turn about and cease, with [and] supplied to make the latter Sense.

Ver. 24. enjoy the Good] live contentedly as Providence disposes of him, which he cannot otherwise.

Ver. 26. who is good—and to the Sinner] So that our Great Young does not now stick to assert, 'Heaven and Hell, how distant soever some think them, are really, though not fully, on Earth, The Centaur not Fabul. Let. 4.

Ver. 1. a Time for every Affair] On the other Hand Theophrastus, who succeeded Aristotle over the School of the Peripatetick Philosophers, has in his Treatise called Characters of the Gentiles, a Chapter, viz. 13. of doing Things untimely, or out of Season.

Ib. Affair] translated in the com. Bible, Matter, Ch. v. 8. never signifying purpose that I find.

2. There

2. There is a Time to be born, and a Time to die; a Time to plant, and a Time to root up what is planted;
3. A Time to kill, and a Time to cure; a Time to break down, and a Time to build up;
4. A Time to weep, and a Time to laugh; a Time to lament, and a Time to dance;
5. A Time to cast away Stones, and a Time to gather them together; a Time to embrace, and a Time to be far from it;
6. A Time to seek, and a Time to lose; a Time to keep, and a Time to throw away;
7. A Time to tear, and a Time to sew up; a Time to be silent, and a Time to speak;
8. A Time to love, and a Time to hate; a Time of War, and a Time of Peace.
9. What Profit has the Doer in that which he labours in?
10. I have seen the Exercise which God has given to Mankind to be afflicted with.
11. He makes every Thing beautiful in its Time; he also puts Eternity into their Hearts, without which Men would not find out the Work that God does, from the Beginning to the End.
12. I know that there is Nothing good for them, but to be chearful, and to do well in their Lives;
13. And also that every Man should eat, drink, and enjoy the Good of all his Labour: it is the Gift of God.
14. All which he does, I know, must still be; Nothing can be added to it, nor taken from it: thus God does that they may stand in awe before him.
15. That which is, or shall be, has been already; and God requires what is to follow.
16. Seeing further under the Sun, that in the Place both of Judgment and Righteousness, Wickedness was there;
17. I said in my Heart, that God would judge the Righteous and Wicked; since there is a Time for every Affair, and for every Work there.

18. I said in like manner concerning the State of Mankind, that God would manifest them, and they should see that they themselves are as Beasts.

19. For the Event of Men and Beasts is the very same, both dying alike, all having the same Breath; so that Man has no more Excellency than a Beast, since all are Vanity.

20. All go to one Place: all are of Earth, and all turn to it again.

21. Who knows the Spirit of Man that goes upward, and the Spirit of the Beast that goes downward to the Ground?

22. So I saw that there is Nothing better than that a Man should be chearful in his Doings, since this belongs to him: for who can bring him to see what will be after him?

CHAP. IV.

AS I was seeing again all the Oppressions which were done under the Sun, behold the Tears of the Oppressed, who had no Comforter at all, while there was Power on the Side of their Oppressors.

2. Upon which I praised those that are already dead, above them who are yet living:

3. And he that has not yet been is better than both of them, who has not seen the evil Work which is done under the Sun.

4. I also saw in all Labour, that one is envied by another for every right Work: which is likewise Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

5. A Fool folds his Hands together, and eats his own Flesh.

6. A Handful with Quietness, is better than both the Hands full with Labour, and Vexation of Mind.

7. Moreover I saw Vanity again under the Sun.

Ver. 4. Time to laugh] Myse one of the ancient wise Heathens, was found laughing to himself, and being asked why he laughed when there was Nobody present? Answered, Δι' αὐτὸν τῆς αἰτίας, ὅτι οὐκ ἔστιν ὅστις με ἀντιτάσσῃ, For this very Reason I do; signifying that he should not have laughed in Company, Aristoxenus Var. Hist. in Diag. Laert.

Ver. 11. beautiful] So Thales who lived in the Time of Craesus King of Lydia, whom Cyrus of Persia conquered, and was one of the seven wise Men of that Age, had to say, καλλίστην νόμον, ναίειν γὰρ θεῷ the World is the most beautiful Thing, since it is the Work of God, Diag. Laert. in Thalet.

Ib. puts—into their Hearts] makes them sensible, or convinces them, of it.

Ib. Eternity] aptly answering to Time before, and according to the frequent Signification of the Heb. Word, which is never World that I find; as Ab. Exr. says it always signifies in Scripture a long Time or Eternity.

Ib. without which] literally from the Heb. the former Word being rendered thus in the com. Transf. Job vi. 6. & xxiv. 7. having no Signification of so, and the latter is the same that follows in this Verse, whereas the two that in the com. Transf. are of very different Meaning. It may also be asked with Noldius in his Concord. Not. 1569. How does Man not find out what is set in his Heart? The farther Refutation of wrong translating this Verse see in De Dicu.

Ver. 12. Sandys in his Paraphrase,
*What other Good can Man from these produce,
But to take pleasure in their present Use?*

Ib. to be chearful] as fitter than to rejoice; and for this, and against Sadness, may be read Hermas's Shepherd, B. ii. 10.

Ib. to do well] referring the unknown Event to Providence, according to the preceding Verse; and as Craetes the Mother of Cleomenes King of Sparta wisely said to him, Our Actions are all that are in our own Power, and Events wholly belong to Providence.

Ver. 15. follow] viz. the Event or Reward: the Heb. not past, nor yet driven away as the Eng. Marg. says.

Ver. 17. for every Work there] under the Sun, Ver. 16. as Ver. 1. otherwise it is referred to the Place, and to God.

8. 'There was one without a second, having no Child nor Brother, and yet there was no End to all his Labour, neither was his Eye satisfied with Riches, nor did he say, For whom do I labour, and let my self want what is good? this also is Vanity, and a grievous Exercise.

9. Two are better than one, because they have a better Reward for their Labour.

10. Nay if they fall, one will help up the other: but wo is to him that falls alone, and there is not another to help him up.

11. Besides if two lie together, they are warm: but how can it be warm to one?

12. In case one also prevails over another, two will stand before him, and a threefold Cord is not soon broke asunder.

13. A poor and wise Child, is better than an old and foolish King, who does not know what Advice to take further:

14. Since he came out of Prison to reign, and the other being born in his Kingdom is poor.

15. I considered all the Living who go about under the Sun, with the next Child that shall stand in his room:

16. There is no End to all the People, nor was to all who were before them; they also that shall be after will not be glad of him: for this too will be Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

CHAP. V.

TAKE care of thy Foot when thou goest to the House of God, and be nigher to hear than to give the Sacrifice of Fools: for they know not that they do evil.

2. Be not in a hurry with thy Mouth, nor let thy Heart be hasty to utter any Thing before God: for he is in Heaven, and thou art on the Earth; therefore let thy Words be few.

3. For as a Dream comes with a Multitude of Exercise, a Fool's Voice is with a Multitude of Words.

4. When thou makest a Vow to God, do not delay to perform what thou hast vowed; for he has no Delight in Fools.

5. It is better for thee not to vow, than to vow without performing.

6. Do not suffer thy Mouth to make thy self sin, nor speak before the Angel, that it may be an Error: why should God be in a Wrath at thy Voice, and destroy the Work of thy Hands?

7. For as there are Vanities in a Multitude of Dreams, so in many Words; but do thou fear God.

8. If thou seest Oppression of the Poor, and Spoil of Judgment and Justice in a Province, wonder not at the Affair: for the high One from above the high observes, there being high ones above those.

9. As to the Profit of the Ground, that is for all, the King is served of the Field.

10. He who loves Money will not be satisfied with it, nor he that loves Abundance with Increase: this also is Vanity.

11. When there is much Substance, there are many to consume it; and what Advantage has its Owner, excepting the Sight of his Eyes?

Ver. 8. Eye] which is well mentioned, according to Grotius, because that alone enjoys Riches with the Covetous.

Ver. 9. Sandys,

Two better are than one, of more Regard:

Their Labour less, and greater their Reward.

Ver. 13. foolish King] The Philosopher Sphaerus was charged with denying Ptolemy Philopater to be a King; But, said he, if Ptolemy be such a manner of Person (as a King ought) I say he is a King, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 14. he] How much more proper and unforced is it to understand this of the nearest antecedent King, than of the farthest Child! If we consider also the Unlikelihood of the Child's being in Prison; and how unsuitable it is to apply born to the old King, as some do, instead of the Child. Besides how insignificant would it be to mention the King's being born in his own Kingdom! And he could not in the Child's.

Ib. is poor] because a foolish King does not promote his wise Subjects, but by bad Government keeps or makes them poor.

Ver. 16. no End] of ill Government, as the Context both before and after shews; though others would have it the fickle Humour of the People.

Ib. to all the] So the Heb. indicates in the most express Manner; and all may denote those in the foregoing Verse, who were then living.

Ver. 1. the Sacrifice of Fools] Thus Persius at the End of his 2d Satyr,

Quin damus id superis, ac magna quod dare lance
Non possit nazni Messala lippa propago?
Compositum jus, saepe animi, sanctasque recessus
Mentis, & incertum generoso pectus honesto.

Rendered by Dryden,

But let us for the Gods a Gift prepare,
Which the Great Man's great Charges cannot bear:
A Soul, where Laws both Human and Divine,
In Practice more than Speculation shine:
A genuine Virtue, of a vigorous kind,
Pure in the last Recesses of the Mind.

Ver. 6. nor speak] Or nor say any Thing before the Angel, that may be an Error; which agrees with the Context.

Ib. before the Angel] at the Place of Divine Worship, as Ver. 1, 2.

Ver. 7. so in many Words] This being after Vanities in Heb.

Ver. 9. In the vulg. Lat. thus; And moreover the King of the whole Earth rules over him that serves: among other very obvious Mistakes, the Translator appears to me to have taken לשרה of the Field, for לשרה to be like a Prince, wrongly supposing that was infinitive, which so should be לשרה not to mention the Points; as also to have turned יתר insuper, moreover, like יתר the rest, instead of Profit.

12. The Sleep of him who works is sweet, whether he eats little or much : but the Fulness of the Rich will not let him sleep.

13. There is a sore Evil that I have seen under the Sun ; Riches kept for the Owner of them to his Hurt.

14. Which Riches perish in grievous Exercise, so that the Child whom he begets has Nothing in his Custody.

15. As he came naked out of his Mother's Womb, so he goes away again ; and there is Nothing of his Labour which he carries with him.

16. This also is a sore Evil, that he must go altogether so as he came : for what Profit has he who labours for the Wind ?

17. Nay all his Days he eats in Darkness, with much Displeasure, Diseases that he has, and Wrath.

18. Behold what I have seen to be good, what comely, is to eat, and to drink, and for a Man to enjoy the Good of all his Labour which he does under the Sun, the whole Time of his Life which God gives him : for it is what belongs to him.

19. Even every Man to whom God gives Riches, and Substance, and lets him have Power to eat of the same, to take his Part, and to be glad in his Labour, this is the Gift of God.

20. For he does not much remember the Days of his Life, because God answers to the Gladness of his Heart.

CHAP. VI.

THERE is an Evil that I have seen under the Sun, which is much among Men ;

2. A Person to whom God gives Riches, Substance and Honour, and he wants Nothing for his Mind of all that he desires, yet God does not let him have Power to eat of it, but a strange Person eats it : this is Vanity, and a grievous Disease.

3. If a Man begets a hundred Children, and lives many Years, so that he is of a great Age, yet his Mind is not satisfied with Good, and he also has no Burial ; I say, an untimely Birth is better than he.

4. For he comes into Vanity, and goes away into Darkness, with which his Name is covered.

5. That having neither seen nor known the Sun, has more Rest than this ;

6. Even if he should live twice a thousand Years, and see no Good : do not all go to one Place ?

7. All the Labour of Man is for his Mouth, and yet the Appetite is not filled.

8. For what has the Wise more than the Foolish ? What has the Poor who knows how to walk before the Living ?

9. The Sight of the Eyes is better than the Wandering of the Mind : this also is Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

10. That which is, has been called by its Name already, and it is known what Man himself is ; who cannot debate with him that is stronger than he.

11. Since there are many Things that increase Vanity, what has Man more ?

12. For who knows what is good for Man while he lives, the whole Time of his vain Life, which he passes away as a Shadow ? Because who can tell a Man, what will be after him under the Sun ?

CHAP. VII.

REPUTATION is better than the best Ointment, and the Day of Death than that of one's Birth.

2. It is better to go into a House of Mourning than one of Feasting, because that is the End of all Men ; which he who is living should mind.

3. Displeasure is better than Laughter : for in the Sadness of the Countenance the Heart becomes better.

Ver. 13. Riches] One of Chilo's Sayings was, Εὖ λήθεται ἀνὴρ ὁ χρυσὸν ἐκτάσσας, διδοὺς βάσανον παντὶ ἄνθρωπῳ ἀγαθῶν τε καὶ κακῶν τε τοῖς ἰδίοις ἡμετέροις. Gold is tried on Touch-stones, which make manifest what it is ; and the Minds both of good and bad Men the same on Gold.

Ver. 18. what] literal from the Heb. which has the Relative twice as here it stands, the latter rendered by our Translators and.

Ver. 4. he] the same as at the Conclusion of the foregoing Verse, and in Ver. 6. not the untimely birth, as our Translators intimate by beginning the next Verse with Moreover he, and then Poole so expounds it.

Ver. 8. What has the Poor] What does such a one get, though he is a Person of Understanding ? This Interpretation arises easily from the Words, notwithstanding Patrick's great Difficulty, which I cannot but think he makes greater, and that neither of his Meanings are suitable, I may say at all, to the Matter.

Ver. 9. Wandering] To one who said it was the greatest Good for every one to enjoy what he desired, Menecemus made answer, It is much greater to desire what he ought, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 10. what Man himself is] which the Heb. points out so directly, that it may be wondered why our Translators and some others should make so little Sense of it ! But the Septuagint like this : for the first Word is much more the Relative, than a Conjunction. The Targ. widely, from the Day that there was Man first.

Ib. him that is stronger] God :

Ver. 12. good for Man] in the Affairs of this Life.

Ib. after him] viz. the Event of what he has or does, especially after his Decease.

Ver. 1. Reputation] so Yun. and Trm. render it fama.

Ver. 2. is the End] The House of dying being the House of Mourning.

4. The Heart of the Wise is in the House of Mourning, but the Heart of the Foolish in the House of Mirth.

5. It is better to hear the Rebuke of the Wise, than for a Man to hear the Song of Fools.

6. For a Fool's Laughter is no other than as the Noise of Thorns under a Pot: this also is Vanity.

7. Since Oppression makes the Wise mad, and a Gift destroys the Heart;

8. The End of an Affair is better than the Beginning of it, a forbearing Spirit better than a haughty one.

9. Be not quickly passionate in thy Mind: for Passion rests in the Bosom of Fools.

10. Do not say, How was it that the former Days were better than these? For thou dost not ask wisely concerning this.

11. Wisdom is good with a Possession, and profitable to those who see the Sun.

12. For Wisdom is for Shelter, as well as Money; and the Profit of Knowledge is, that Wisdom keeps the Owners of it alive.

13. Consider the Work of God: for who can put in order, what he has brought to confusion?

14. In the Time of Prosperity remain in it, and in the Time of Adversity consider: God has also made one over against the other, to the end that Man may not find out any Thing after-it.

15. I have seen all in the Days of my Vanity: there is a righteous one perishes in his Righteousness, and a wicked one continues in his Evil.

16. Be not excessively righteous, nor make thy self too wise; why shouldest thou become desolate?

17. Be not excessively wicked, nor be foolish; why shouldest thou die before thy Time?

18. It is good for thee to take hold of this, and not let it go with thy Hand: for he who fears God will come out of all those Things.

19. Wisdom strengthens the Wise, more than ten Governors who might be in the City.

20. For there is no righteous Man on the Earth, who does good, and sins not.

21. Do not mind even all Words that are spoken, lest thou shouldest hear thy own Servant curse thee;

22. Especially when thou knowest in thy Heart, that thou hast likewise cursed others many times.

23. All this have I proved by Wisdom; thinking I would be wise, but it was far from me.

24. For who can find out what is far distant, and very deep?

25. I turned about with my Heart, to know, search out, and seek for Wisdom, and Contrivance; as also to know the Wickedness of Folly, and the Foolishness of Madness.

26. And I find the Woman more bitter than Death, who is like Fortifications, her Heart Nets, her Hands Bonds: he that is good before God will escape from her, but the Sinner will be taken by her.

27. See, I have found this, says the Preacher, by each one, doing it by Contrivance.

28. Whom my Mind still seeks for, without finding: though I find one Man out of a thousand, yet not a Woman among all these.

Ver. 7. Since] Since Oppression and Bribery may prevail in going to law, &c. it is better to see a Matter ended, and to bear Things. So Jun. and Trem. have Gum, and likewise join this Verse to the following.

Ver. 8. better] Because the Trouble and Fatigue of it is then over.

Ver. 12. Shelter] Heb. Shadow, as Psa. xci. 1. It may also be taken for Comfort or Refreshment, Shadow in that hot Country being as Sun-shine in our cold one.

Ib. Profit] thus translated Ch. i. 3. & ii. 11. & iii. 9. & v. 9, 16. & x. 10.

Ib. Wisdom] Diog. Laertius, on the Authority of Demetrius Magnesianus, writes of Crates the Philosopher, that he delivered his Money to a Banker, to be kept for his Children, if they should be silly; but if wise Men or Philosophers, to be given to the Poor, as they would not then want it.

Ib. alive] wise Men lengthening (or not shortening) their Lives by Piety, Temperance, Moderation, Caution and Understanding.

Ver. 14. Time] Φαμί δὲ τὸν ἀγαθὸν ἄνδρα, τὴν ἡμέραν τῶν περὶ αὐτὸν μεγάλων καὶ κατὰ τὴν ἀνάγκην χρόνων. ὅτις δὲ καὶ εἴη ὁ ἐντυχίαν τε δυνάμενος καὶ πάλιν ἀτυχίαν. Ἰσὺς βεῖα ἡ ἀγαθὴ Μαν, ἡ ὅτις ἡμέραν καὶ χρόνον ἀγαθὸν ἀνέστη. I say he is a good Man, who uses Things and Times of great Moment well, who can indeed bear both Prosperity and Adversity rightly, Archytas, Concerning a good and happy Man.

Ib. remain] The Verb-substantive be.

Ib. one over against the other] as if Man passed between them, so that he could not tell which would come upon him next.

Ib. after it] the present Time; by which the Meaning is both plain and proper, but neither appears by him, nor who the him belongs to.

Ver. 20. For] Because every one's Imperfections require Wisdom; and so the Verses are properly joined together by this Particle.

Ver. 22. Especially] which to render For, shews Solomon only speaking to Curfers.

Ver. 26. Fortifications] the very same Word as in Chap. ix. 14. of which see Prov. xii. 12.

Ver. 27. Contrivance] according to that in Ver. 25, 29. & Ch. ix. 16.

Ver. 28. Whom] This may seem to be the good one before God, Ver. 26. and not to be [Which] for Ver. 27. to make the direct Contradiction, this have I found— but I find not.

Ib. one Man] Empedocles telling Xenophanes it was difficult to find a wise Man; that is likely, said he, because he who does it must be wise himself, D. Laertius.

29. This

29. This only have I found, that God has made Man upright, but they have sought many Contrivances.

C H A P. VIII.

WH O is like the Wise, and him that knows the Meaning of a Matter? A Man's Wisdom enlightens his Countenance, so that the Boldness of it is altered.

2. As to me, observe the King's Command; and as to the High One, the Matter of the Oath of God.

3. Do not go troubled from his Presence, nor stand in an evil Matter: for he does all that he pleases.

4. There is Authority in what the Word of a King is: and who will say to him, What art thou doing?

5. He that observes the Commandment, will know no evil Thing: and the Mind of the Wise knows the Time and Manner.

6. For there is a Time and Manner for every Affair; because the Adversity of Man is much upon him:

7. Since he does not know what will come to pass; for who can tell him how it will be?

8. No Man is Ruler over the Spirit to with-hold it, and there is no Authority at the Time of Death, nor any Artillery in that Battle; neither will Wickedness deliver the Owners of it.

9. I have seen all this, and given my Mind to every Work that is done under the Sun. There is a Time in which one Man rules over another to his own Hurt.

10. And thus have I seen the Wicked buried, who came, being gone from the holy Place, and are forgot in the City where they did so: this also is Vanity.

11. Because the Decree is not executed on an evil Deed speedily, therefore the Hearts of Men in them are full of doing Evil;

12. By which a Sinner may do Evil a hundred times, and it may be prolonged to him: though I know too that it will be well with them that fear God, who stand in awe of his Presence.

13. But it will not be well with the Wicked, nor will his Time be long, which is like a Shadow; because he does not stand in awe before God.

14. There is a Vanity which is done upon the Earth, that there are righteous Persons to whom it falls out according to the Work of the Wicked, and wicked ones to whom it falls out according to the Work of the Righteous; which I thought was Vanity.

Ver. 29. Man] or Men, as translated elsewhere: the Heb. Word, says Gell. is appellative, not proper; God made thee, and me, and every Person upright; as appears by the Opposition following, Essay tow. Amendm. p. 244. see likewise p. 601.

Ver. 1. altered] to which Dupart adds by way of Paraphrase in Gr. Verse, He is neither so much with a down-cast Look, nor impudent, as he was before, when he did not know so many Things of Advice; but is very awful, and a grave Brightness shines upon, as also Boldness, mix'd with Meekness on, his Countenance.

Ver. 2. As to me] This is directly in the Heb. Manner of Expression, and has an Accent that makes a Stop.

Ib. High One] Where is great Zakeph another Stop, nor is this joined to the next Word by Makkaph, as in Ch. iii. 18. & vii. 14. for which it has been taken; but being thus doubly separated, is to be supposed this Noun, extant also in Hof. vii. 16. & xi. 7. 2 Sam. xxiii. 1. and according to Ch. v. 8. the same easy Sense, says Crosi, with Prov. xxiv. 21. 1 Pet. ii. 17. whose Tagb. Art see, p. 99, 100.

Ver. 3. troubled] for it will be in vain to be discontented at what he orders, which may also gain his Displeasure; and thus the Verb commonly signifies.

Ver. 5. knows the Time] Accordingly Pittacus advises, Καὶ πρὸς τὴν, Know the Time, Diog. Laert. in Vita ejus.

Ver. 6. because] Here is the same Heb. Particle as at the Beginning of the Ver. signifying for or because, but not therefore; so Pagn. and Merc. have this quia, Munst. eò quod, and Cast. quoniam: besides therefore spoils the Sense; for Because there is, as in the com. Transf. a time to every purpose, why therefore is the misery of man great? That would rather lessen it, by giving him Hope, which often exceeds the Enjoyment of earthly Things, that he shall some time obtain his Purpose.

Ver. 7. what will come to pass] In the com. Lat. the Things that are past, wrong both in Tense and Number.

Ib. how] Heb. according as; but when in the com. Transf. directly opposite to what is just before, supposes man does know that which shall be, only not the Time of it.

Ver. 8. to with-hold it] from his giving up the Ghost, as the Expression is plain for, and the rest of the Verse concerning Death: yet the Paraphrasts twist it, as Patrick, that no Prince can hinder Men from thinking what they please; or as others, that no Subject can save himself against the King's Authority. But when I look back upon those Meanings to the Words, I can't see the Resemblance that should be in them, nor why they must be spoken of Kings and their Subjects.

Ib. Artillery] no offensive Weapons to send at the Enemy; as the Word seems to import, and agrees best with the foregoing: so Broughton renders it armour; Jun. and Trem. missile, Dart; Bibliander in the Tig. Vers. (telorum) emissionem, throwing darts, and Merc. the like.

Ver. 10. the Wicked buried] whose ruling had procured their Death, this Verse being necessarily connected to the former by thus; and Solomon seems to have mentioned buried, because he had seen that himself.

Ib. being gone] before they came to the City, where they perpetrated their Wickedness.

Ib. the holy Place] which may denote their having been religious.

Ib. forgot] Sept. and vulg. Translations, were praised; which only counting 3 to be 2 might make: to the Jewish Rabbies play with this and other Words, but in these *Version*s it was rather a Mistake.

Ib. where they did so] The Author of the vulg. Lat. to help out his foregoing; turns it, as if they were of just Deeds; and here the prefixing but of 3 to וְאֵם might bring it to the same Sense, viz. as they who had done rightly, which Capellus it seems overlooked.

15. And I praised Chearfulness, because Man has no Good under the Sun, but to eat, drink, and be chearful: for that of his Labour will cleave to him, the Days of his Life which God gives him there.

16. As I was giving my Mind to know Wisdom, and to see the Business which is done upon the Earth, that there is he who does not even see Sleep Day nor Night with his Eyes;

17. I saw that of all the Work of God, Man cannot find out that which is done under the Sun; for the sake of which should a Man labour to seek, he could not find it; nay not if the Wise should think to know it.

CH A P. IX.

FOR I applied all this to my Mind, to manifest it all, that the Righteous, and the Wise, with their Services, are in the Hand of God: Men know neither his Love nor Hatred, by all that is before them.

2. All Things are alike to all; there is the same Event to the Righteous, and the Wicked; to the Good and Clean, and the Unclean; both to him who sacrifices, and him who does not: the Good and the Sinner are alike; he that swears, is as he that fears an Oath.

3. This is a grievous Thing among all which is done under the Sun, that there is the same Event to all; so that even Men's Hearts are full of Evil, and Madness is in them while they live, though after that they must be with the Dead.

4. Because there is some Trust for him who is joined to all the Living; for a living Dog himself is better than a dead Lion.

5. Though the Living know that they shall die; but the Dead know nothing, nor have they a Reward any more, since the Remembrance of them is forgot.

6. Both their Love and Hatred, with their Envy is now perished; and they have no Part any more for ever of all that is done under the Sun.

7. Go, eat thy Food with Gladness, and drink thy Wine with a good Heart: for now God is pleased with thy Deeds.

8. Let thy Cloaths be white at all times, and let not Oil be wanting on thy Head.

9. Enjoy Life with the Wife whom thou lovest, all the Days of thy vain Life, and of thy Vanity, which are given thee under the Sun: for that is what belongs to thee of Life, and of thy Labour which thou doest there.

10. Do all that thy Hand finds to do, with thy Might: for there is no Work, Contrivance, Knowledge, nor Wisdom in the Grave whither thou art going.

11. I saw again under the Sun, that the Race is not for the Swift, nor the Battle for the Strong, neither Food for the Wise, nor yet Riches for Men of Understanding, nay nor Favour for those who have Knowledge; because Time, and Casualty falls out to them all.

12. For even Man does not know his Time, like the Fishes which are taken in an ill Net, and as the Birds that are so in a Snare: like them are Men insnared at an ill Time, when it falls suddenly upon them.

13. However I saw this Wisdom under the Sun, which was great to me:

14. There was a little City, and few Men in it, to which a great King came, inclosed it about, and built great Ramparts against it;

15. And there was a poor wise Man found in it, who delivered the City by his Wisdom: yet the People did not remember that poor Man.

16. Upon which I said, Wisdom is better than Strength: though the Wisdom of a poor Person is despised, and his Words not hearkened to.

17. The Words of the Wise are hearkened to in Quietness, more than the Cry of him who has dominion among Fools.

Ver. 15. Chearfulness] better than Mirth, Chap. vii. 4. and though the Heb. Word is the same there, that might have a more extensive and different Meaning.

Ver. 1. in the Hand of God] as if concealed, as well as preserved there.

Ib. know neither his Love] God's Love or Hatred is not known by the outward View of Things, Prosperity or Adversity; and his seems necessarily and plainly to be understood from God expressed just before.

Ver. 2. to the Good] The Sept. and vulg. Lat. Transl. add and to the Bad; but Unclean may be opposite both to Good and Clean, according to Ab. Ezra, especially as there is [and] between them.

Ver. 3. so that] which is connective, and agreeable to Chap. viii. 11.

Ib. though] alike connective and well; but [and] makes it weak.

Ver. 4. Because there is some Trust] Because they have a Dependence on this Life; which I think clears up the Difficulty of understanding the Drift of this Verse well.

Ver. 5. Reward any more] He speaks in Regard to the Things of this Life only, as the following Words shew.

Ver. 7. for now God] Where Sandys,
Why should unfruitful Cares our Souls molest?
Please thou thy God, and in his Favour rest.

Ver. 10. Do] Pittacus being asked, What is best? Made answer, Tò παρὸν εὖ ποιεῖν, To do well what is present, Diog. Laert. in Vit. Accordingly the famous Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius Antoninus says ingeniously, in his Meditations, B. viii. 38. Τὴν ἰδὴ τὸν χρόνον σκαυτὴ χάριον, Know how to bestow the present Time upon thy self.

18. Wisdom is better than Weapons of War; but one Sinner destroys much Good.

CHAP. X.

DEAD Flies make the Apothecary's Ointment send forth a Stink, so a little Folly does him who is valued for Wisdom and Honour.

2. The Heart of the Wise is at his right Hand, but a Fool's Heart at his left.

3. And even when the Foolish goes along the Way his Heart fails, and he declares to all that he is foolish.

4. If the Spirit of the Governor get up against thee, leave not thy Place: for Healing pacifies great Faults.

5. There is an Evil I have seen under the Sun, as an Error which comes forth from before the Ruler:

6. Folly is put in many high Places, and the Rich sit in a low one.

7. I have seen Servants upon Horses, and Princes walking like Servants upon the Ground.

8. He who digs a Ditch, will fall into it; and him that breaks down a Hedge, a Serpent will bite:

9. He that removes Stones will be in pain by them; he who cleaves Wood, will be in danger by that.

10. If one has made the Iron blunt, and does not whet the Edge, he must increase the Force; but Wisdom is an Advantage to direct.

11. If a Serpent bites out of the Charming, he who charms with the Tongue has no Advantage.

12. The Words of a wise Man's Mouth are a Favour, but a Fool's Lips devour himself.

13. The Beginning of the Words of his Mouth is Folly, and the End of the same grievous Madness.

14. The Foolish has also much Talk; a Man does not know what it is, and who can tell him what will be after it?

15. The Labour of Fools tires each of them, because he knows not how to go to the City.

16. Wo is to thee, O Country, whose King is a Child, and thy Princes eat in the Morning.

17. Happy art thou, O Country, whose King is a Son of the Nobility; and thy Princes eat in Season, for Strength, and not for Feasting.

18. By much Slothfulness a Building decays, and by the Slackness of the Hands a House drops down.

19. Some dress Victuals for Mirth, and Wine makes the Living chearful; but Money answers all Things.

20. Do not curse the King, even in thy Mind, nor the Rich in thy Bed-chamber: for a Bird of the Air will carry the Voice, and that which has Wings will tell the Matter.

CHAP. XI.

CAST thy Breast atop of the Water; for thou wilt find it in many Days.

2. Give a Part to seven, and even to eight: for thou dost not know what Adversity may be on the Earth.

Ver. 18. better]

Great Actions less from Courage, Strength and Speed,
Than from wise Counsels and Commands proceed,
Denham's Transl. of Cicero's Treatise of old Age.

Ver. 3. declares to all] Aristippus being asked, what Difference there was between a wise and a foolish Man; made answer, Send them both naked to those who are unacquainted with them, and thou wilt know, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 4. pacifies] Not to provoke the Indignation of Superiors, Pythagoras expressed by, Do not stir up the Fire with a Sword, D. Laert. in Pythag.

Ver 11. If] So the Heb. is, not surely.

Ib. out of] or when there is not Charming, viz. bites before or after it; so that the right Time should be minded as well as the Matter, according to Chap. viii. 5. and without may have a double and opposite Meaning.

Ib. Charming] See Jer. viii. 17. Psa. lviii. 5.

Ib. Advantage] the same Word as in the foregoing Verse. This may be brought for an Instance of the Benefit of Wisdom to direct. Jun. and Trem. have nullum emolumentum incantationis, no Advantage of charming; thus also the learned Dieu expounds it; and Sandys turns the whole Verse,

If Serpents bite before the Charm be sung,

What then avails ib' Inchanter's babbling Tongue?

Ver. 12. Lips] by indiscreet talking with them.

Ib. devour] as the Lips do Food; but to swallow is the Office of the Throat.

Ver. 14. after it] See Jun. and Ch. vii. 14. but after him seems to stand out of joint.

Ver. 15. to the City] in the most plain Road.

Ver. 18. Slothfulness] Ουδὲν καλὸν ἐκ τῶν παρ' αὐτοῦ γινώσκου, No Good comes of Sloth or Idleness, writes Alan. Tyrinus, Dissert. 34.

Ver. 19. Some dress] act. and plur.

Ib. Victuals] not a feast.

Ver. 20. for] Sandys,

For Birds will bear thy Whisp'rings on their Wings,
To the wide Ears of death-inspiring Kings.

Ver. 1. Cast] If the Bread thou givest to the Poor, seems as much lost as if thou shouldst throw it on the Water; yet thou mayest consider, that even the Water in Time being drawn up into the Air, will fall upon the Ground, and make the Corn grow, whereby thou wilt have thy Bread again. The Meaning of this Verse is explained by the next; but see also Patrick's Par.

Ib. the Water] wet faces in the Bishops Bible, by which one would think those who weep, but their marginal Note is, Be liberal to the poore, although it seem to be cast into the Sea, yet it shall profit thee at the last. Matthews's Bible has, Send thy vittails over the waters.

Ver. 2. Adversity] when thou mayest want Help thy self,

3. If the Clouds are full of Rain, they empty themselves on the Ground; and a Tree will be in the Place where it falls, whether it is to the South, or the North.

4. He who observes the Wind, will not sow; nor will he that minds the Clouds, reap.

5. As thou knowest not what is the Way of the Spirit, nor of the Bones in the pregnant Womb; so dost thou not know the Work of God who makes all Things.

6. Sow thy Seed in the Morning, and cease not thy Hand at the Evening: for thou dost not know which will be right, this or that, or whether both of them will be alike good.

7. The Light indeed is sweet, and it is good for the Eyes to see the Sun:

8. But when a Man lives many Years, being merry in them all; let him remember the Days of Darkness, for they will be many. All that comes is Vanity.

9. Be merry, young Man, in thy Youth, and let thy Mind make thee chearful in thy youthful Days, go in the Ways of thy own Heart, and by the Sight of thy Eyes; but know that God will bring thee into Judgment for all these Things.

10. Therefore put away what displeases from thy Mind, and remove that which is evil from thy Flesh: for Youth and early Time are Vanity.

CHAP. XII.

AND remember thy Creator in the Days of thy Youth; while the bad Days are not come, nor the Years approached, of which thou wilt acknowledge, thou hast no Delight in them;

2. Whilst the Sun, with the Light, as also the Moon and Stars, are not become dark, nor the Clouds return after the Rain:

3. The Time in which the Keepers of the House will tremble, the stout ones overthrow themselves, the Grinders cease, as being become few, and those that look out at the Windows will be darkened;

4. When the Doors will be shut in the Street with the low Noise of the Grinding, he will rise up at the Voice of the Bird, and all the Daughters of Singing will be brought down;

5. They will also be afraid of being high, there will be Terrors in the Way, the Almond-tree will blossom, the Grasshopper be burdensome, and Desire pine away; because Man is going to his everlasting Home, and the Mourners go about in the Street:

Ver. 3. Clouds] which should be imitated in being charitable: for as a Man lives and dies, like a Tree that inclines and falls one Way, so it will be with him after.

Ver. 4. He &c.] Intimating by these beautiful and striking Allegories, that we should not refrain from Charity or doing Good, by every Thing that we hear (like the Wind) or see (as the Clouds) to the contrary; nor lose the Season or Opportunity for it, as more obscurely hinted by Seed-time and Harvest.

Ver. 5. the Work of God] his Providence according to its present Circumstances; yet, as in the next Verse, we are to continue doing well.

Ver. 8. But] which the two Heb. Particles unitedly signify, as I here render them.

Ver. 9. Be merry] Said ironically, according to almost all Interpreters, and the plain Purport of the Expressions; which need not be mentioned, but that Bp. Patrick takes it for a Permission to do these Things.

Ver. 10. what displeases] viz. God, who will bring to Account for it; so Jun. &c. but sorrow, which I do not find the Heb. Word ever signifies, leads quite away from it, though forced back again by its Expositors.

Ver. 2. An allegorical Description of the gloomy State of old Age.

Ib. as also] Our Translators seem simply to have used [or] because the Heb. Verb is sing. as supposing it belonged to the Nouns severally; which it would not to Stars, and surely Solomon did not mean it would be one only, without the other. Whereas it is a beautiful Figure of Speech, and not uncommon, to make Verbs agree with their nearest Subject, as here in the Original the Sun.

Ib. the Clouds return] to bring more Rain.

Ver. 3. Keepers] namely the Hands.

Ib. stout ones] the Legs.

Ib. overthrow] The Heb. Word not signifying bow.

Ib. themselves] one another, by their striking together through Weakness.

Ib. Grinders] the Teeth.

Ib. those that look] the Eyes.

Ver. 4. Doors] the Lips.

Ib. in the Street] comparatively without, or as Doors are in the Street; the Heb. being not Streets, as if real or proper ones, though so perhaps properly expounded.

Ib. with the low] low being an Adjective; not when—is low, as if a Verb.

Ib. low Noise] viz. Mumbling, as by ancient People.

Ib. at the Voice] early when the Birds begin singing, for want of Sleep.

Ib. Daughters of Singing] the Instruments of Speech, by which Singing is produced; not all the Daughters of Musick.

Ver. 5. afraid of being high] lest they should fall, through Weakness and Giddiness, belonging to old Age; and so Mercer explains it, timent loca alta conscendere, they are afraid to get up high Places.

Ib. Almond-tree] The Head will yield white Hairs. Though this Tree does not seem to be mentioned rather than any other for the Colour of its Blossoms, since they are reddish; but for blooming before Winter is over, which is an Emblem of old Age. This Interpretation however new, may stand fairest for what Solomon himself, who is not to be thought using an unmeaning Expression, intended.

Ib. the Grasshopper] which an aged Person, withered, lean, and with the Bones sticking out, may be thought to resemble the most of any Thing, as the Poets feigned old Tithon to be turned into a Grasshopper; and this Interpretation Lyra gives, and Psalm seems to like best. One may illustrate it by remarking, that the nimble sprightly Grasshopper becomes burdensome to himself at the End of Summer.

Ib. the Mourners] those who visit the Sick; rather than the Funeral Mourners, since a Person is here spoken of as not yet dead, nor is go about so apt to the latter.

6. While the silver Cord is not become distant, the golden Bowl cracked, the Pitcher broken at the Spring, nor the Wheel cracked at the Cistern;

7. When Earth will return to the Ground as it was, and the Spirit to God who gave it.

8. Every Thing is Vanity, says the Preacher, very vain.

9. Which is the more certain because the Preacher was wise; who still teaches the People Knowledge, has been attentive, searched, and put in order many Proverbs.

10. He endeavoured to find agreeable Words; however what is written is right, the Words of Truth.

11. The Words of the Wife are like Goads, and like Stakes set in, that keep the Cattle together; which are put by the same Shepherd.

12. So be the more admonished by them, my Son; there being no End of making many Books, and much Study being a Labour to the Flesh.

13. Let us hear the Conclusion of the whole Matter: Fear God; and observe his Commandments, for this is all that is for Man.

14. For God will bring every Work into Judgment, even every hidden Thing, whether it be good or evil.

Ver 6. silver Cord] the Marrow of the Back, according to Grotius, Poole, Patrick, the Geneva Notes, &c.

Ib. become distant] shrunk away from the Vertebrae or Bones: thus the Heb. Verb signifies, not loosed.

Ib. golden Bowl] the Dura Mater, or the Membrane that covers the Brain, Poole, Patr. and Gen. Not.

Ib. Pitcher] the Vena Cava, on the right Side of the Heart, carrying the Blood like a Pitcher.

Ib. Spring] the right Ventricle or Cell of the Heart, according to Poole and Patrick; rather than the Bladder after Grotius.

Ib. Wheel] the Vena Pulmonalis, and may be called the Wheel by reason of the Circulation of the Blood, in Allusion to the drawing Water with a Wheel.

Ib. Cistern] the left Ventricle of the Heart, it having two which hold the Blood; but Grotius would have this the Belly.

Ver. 10. by Sandys, worthy to be transcribed for the Poetry.

He found out Matter to delight the Mind;

And every Word he writ, by Truth was sign'd.

Ver. 11. Stakes] differing from Nails in one Heb. Letter.

Ib. set in] Heb. planted; Stakes being set in a Row, and at about an equal Distance, as Plants are.

Ib. that keep the Cattle together] Broughton translates it in the sheep-folds; Jun. and Trem. ad caulas, at the Folds; and thus it is coherent with Shepherd. But Hyde in Not. 15. on Chap. xiv. of Istin. Mund. says it is in the Eng. Bib. sensu plane nullo, i. e. evidently without any Sense: for, adds he, it is hard to divine, who are the masters of assemblies; and harder to believe, that it belonged to them, to drive and fasten nails with a hammer, as Smiths or Carpenters.

Ver. 12. Labour] To omit other Instances, Diog. Laertius tells concerning Carneades, that he was intent at his Study, till his Sight was so affected he could not see; and then ordering the Boy to bring a Candle, bid him read, as if it was Night.

Ver. 14. every Work] As Plutarch, writing About such as are punished slowly by the Deity, says, Ἀγωνίζεσθαι ὡς ποτὶ ἀδελφῆς κατὰ τὸν βίον, ὅταν δὲ διαγωνίσῃται τότε τὸ ψῆμα τὸν προσηυδέντα, in this Life there is to be striving like Wrestlers, and when it is lived out, then the Reward belonging to it is received.

NOTES upon THE POEM of SOLOMON.

CHAP. I.

THE chief of Solomon's Poems.
S H E.

2. Let him give me some Kisses with his Mouth, whose Love, which is thy own, is better than Wine.

3. According to the Smell of thy excellent Ointments, thy Name is like Ointment poured out: therefore do the Virgins love thee.

4. O pull me! and we will run after thee; the King who brought me into his Parlours: we will be glad and rejoice through thee, will remember thy Love more than Wine: the Sincere cannot but love thee.

5. Though brown, I am beautiful, Daughters of Jerusalem, like the Tents of Kedar, like Solomon's Curtains.

Ver. 1. Poem] Song being of profane Use, perhaps as much as Ballet formerly, when it was called in the Old English Bible, The Ballet of Balletes, nay in the Bishops Transl. made but in Q. Elizabeth's Reign, and was therefore altered.

Ib. She] which with [he] and [they] I annex throughout this Book, as necessary to make it plainer, since it is a Dialogue: which Manner of writing was much used in very ancient Times, as appears by Diogenes Laertius, who in his Lives of the Philosophers, mentions successively Stilpo writing 9 Dialogues, Crito, 17, Simo 33, Glauco 9, Simmias 23, Cebes 3; and the Speakers are distinguished in Matthew's Bib. 1537.

Ver. 2. give me] as we say.

Ib. In the spiritual, which is the principal Sense, Solomon seems to begin as with the saving Work of Regeneration; where tho' the Soul first expresses her Love, yet it is in Consequence of the Divine Love first acting in a previous and powerfull Call, according to 1 John iv. 19. and as the Bridegroom composed this by Ver. 1. notwithstanding the Bride first speaks.

Ib. Kisses] the common Sign of Love.

Ib. than Wine] The Soul soon becomes sensible, that the Love of God exceeds any earthly Enjoyment, which urges her on to obtain it.

Ver. 3. According to] Besides this, which is several times the Meaning of the Heb. Preposition, as any one may be satisfied by the Plenty of Instances produced by Noldius, I don't know any that makes agreeable Sense; however not the poor Compliment, that the Virgins loved Solomon because of the Smell of his Ointments, much less that his very Name was as Ointment because of that Smell.

Ver. 4. O pull me!] feeling, as the yet feeble Soul does, her own Sluggishness, while scarce or but just risen from the Earth.

Ib. we will run] I with others who do.

Ib. who brought] The Soul does not arrive to such holy Desire, till it has had some Experience of the Presence and Favour of its Saviour, as it was with Jacob, Gen. xxviii. 16, &c.

Ib. Parlours] the best Rooms of Entertainment, where she was treated with Wine, but minded and remembered his Love more than that, according to what follows: better Sense, I presume, than is to be made of Chambers; however being not a single one, the Libertine may ease himself of his loose Thoughts. The Word is rendered by our present Translators in 1 Chr. xxviii. 11. parlours, tho'

6. Look not at me however, since I am brown, because I am sun-burnt: for my Mother's Children displeased with me, made me keep the Vineyards, and yet I kept not my own.

7. Tell me, thou whom my very Soul loves, where thou feedest thy Flock, where thou lettest it lie down at Noon: for why should I be concealed as it were by those of thy Companions?

H E.

8. If thou dost not know, O fairest of the fair Sex, come forth in the Tracks of the Flock, and keep thy Kids by the Shepherds Huts.

9. I compare thee, my dear one, to the Horses in Pharaoh's Chariots:

belonging to the Temple, and I turn it so, Judg. iii. 24. where it is distinguished from Chamber, as I do also in 2 King. ix. 2.

Ver. 5. beautiful] Although I make a poor Appearance of my being religious, I am sincere and hearty in it, which is truly beautiful.

Ver. 5, 6.] Nothing perhaps in all the celebrated ancient and modern Pastorals comes up to these two Verses, even exclusive of their divine Signification, in the rural Ingenuity, and beautiful Simplicity, of the Thoughts; which to repeat in another Manner for Illustration, might be only to lessen.

Ver. 6. sun-burnt] not with the same Verb as before.

Ib. my Mother's Children] The mean Show I make is owing to the ill Professors of my Church, who instead of helping have hurt me.

Ib. made me] Having Power over her, it may be supposed, by her being younger, and also Envy to her for her being fairer, so forced her out to work, and be tanned in the Sun.

Ver. 7. Tell me] The Soul in Love with the Lord, wants to follow him; and ignorant how to do it rightly, seeks it properly by Prayer from himself.

Ib. why, &c.] which I have in manuscript Verse, designedly plain and close,

*Why should thy Shepherdess, as bid, repine
At others Company, and want of thine?*

Ib. concealed as it were] concealing her self from the other Shepherds, while she did not seem to do it, lest she should be taken notice of: the Case of those who are among false Teachers, and such a Church, seeking for the true one. It is undeniable that it is covered or concealed, but seems to have been altered because Translators did not understand the Meaning of it; and thus it suits with come forth in the next Verse.

Ver. 8. keep thy Kids] as an inferior Shepherdess.

Ib. by the Shepherds Huts] whither they would be sure to come.

Ver. 9. dear one] The Hebrew Word might perhaps be rendered most naturally Friend, or in Latin Amica: but this seems not sufficiently endearing, as belonging to Friendship rather than to connubial Love. My Dear, though tender, is trite; and I recollect not at present any Word in our Language more justly expressive of the Original.

Ib. the Horses] that seem by what follows to have had fine Collars on their Necks, and Rows (as is denoted in 10. They

10. Thy Cheeks being beautified along with Ringlets, thy Neck around with Ribbands.

11. But we will make thee such Ringlets of Gold, and Beads of Silver.

S H E.

12. While the King is in his Circle, my Spikenard gives a good Scent.

13. My Love is to me like a Bundle of Myrrh, lying all the Night long between my Breasts:

14. My Beloved is to me as a Bunch of Camphire, the Growth of the scented Grounds at Engedi.

H E.

15. Behold, thou art fair, my dear one, thou thy self exceeding fair: thy Eyes, to name no more, are like Doves.

S H E.

16. Lo not fair alone art thou, my Love, but good-tempered too; agreeable to our Bed being green,

17. The Rafter of our Houses Cedar, our Gallery Cypress.

CHAP. II.

TO be fragrant with the Rose of Sharon, fair with the Lilly of the Valleys, are mine.

2. But like a Lilly among Thorns, so is my dear one among the Daughters.

both the next Verses) of Ornaments on their Bridles down their Cheeks.

Ver. 10.] This Ver. in the Bishops Bib. Thy cheeks and thy necks is beautifull as the turtles, and hanged with spangs.

Ib. with—with] vulg. Lat. and Gr. for both as, by the Likeness of the Letters u and o and instead of Rows plur. a Turtle-dove's sing. but wrong, as shown by Mercer in Comment.

Ib. Ringlets] such as were suitable for a Shepherdess, but he would give her ones proper for a Princess.

Ver. 11. But we will make thee] The Accomplishments of a Person before Conversion, whether natural or acquired, are heightened by the divine Benediction after.

Ver. 12. Circle] surrounded by his Courtiers; the Manner in which they used to sit.

Ver. 13. lying] as here is not be in the Heb. that seems too immodest at the best. Nay thus the best Translators have rendered it; and to put Myrrh into the Bosom, says Patrick, was the Manner in those Countries.

Ver. 14. Grounds] Inclosures or Plots, more suitable than Vineyards for Camphire.

Ver. 15. like Doves] looking pretty and innocent; see Chap. iv. 1. & v. 12. so Sandys,

In either Eye there sits a Dove;
So mild, so full of artless Love.

Ver. 17. Houses] The Pleasure-houses seem to be intended, where the Rafter and Gallery were in Sight.

Ib. Gallery] as Chap. vii. 5.

Ver. 2. Lilly among Thorns] surpassingly beautiful.

S H E.

3. As an Apple-tree amongst the Trees of the Wood, so is my Love among the Sons; in whose Shade I should like to sit, and his Fruit would be pleasant to my Palate.

4. He introduced me into the Banqueting-house, the Sign of which over me was Love.

5. Support me with Cordials, strew Choice of Apples for me; because I am sick with Love.

6. Let his left Hand be laid under my Head, and his right put round my Waist:

7. I strictly charge you, Daughters of Jerusalem, who are among the wild Roes or Hinds, not any how to make his Love be stirred up, till it would.

8. That is the Voice of my Beloved! look yonder he comes! leaping upon the Mountains, skipping over the Hills;

9. My Love, even not unlike a Roe, or youthful Deer. Lo already he stands but behind our Wall, looks through the Windows, appears plainly at the Casement,

10. And pleasantly thus bespeaks me: Get ready, my dear one, my fair one, and come along.

11. For see the Winter is fled away, the rainy Season is quite gone.

12. Earth's Lap displays her infant Flowers, the warbling Spring is welcomed in, and hark how the Turtle-dove cooes in our Clime.

13. The Parent-tree produces its green Figs, and the Vines teeming with Grapes afford a pleasant Smell. Get ready, my dear one, my fair one, and come along.

14. My Dove, who dwellest in the Clefts of the Rock, in the Covert of the steep Place,

Ver. 5. strew] or spread, as the Heb. Word signifies, and is rendered Jeb xli. 30.

Ver. 6. Let] The Verb here is in the direct Form for the Imperative or let, which in the 3d Person is the same with the fut. Tense.

Ver. 7. I strictly charge you] being concerned lest the young Women abroad in the Country, from whence she was expecting him to come, according to the next Verse, should endeavour to gain his Affection before he got to her; but she signifies it would be in vain. It seems a lively Image of the Jealousy, the Fear, and yet the Confidence of a Lover.

Ib. who are among] at their Country-seats, Hunting, &c.

Ib. among] for how profane would it have been in Solomon to make Swearing by such Creatures? Ainsw. says, 'here may be understood, ye that are by the Roes, or 'abide with the Roes;' Jun. and Trem. have imperatively, emanate cum capreis, remain out with the Roes.

Ib. it would] The Verb belonging to Love, and not to him.

Ver. 8. leaping] Bish. hopping.

Ver. 9. through] not forth, he being represented as without, which behind, and his coming thither from the Hills shew.

Ib. appears plainly] Heb. flourishing: discovering himself gradually, as it is done divinely.

Ver. 13. teeming] The pleasant Smell being while the Vines are in Blossom.

Ver. 14. steep Place] Stairs in a House does not suit very well, either with Rock abroad, or with Dove.

let

let me see thy Countenance, hear thy Voice: for this is pleasant, and that is beautiful.

15. Catch the Foxes for us, the little Foxes that spoil the Vineyards; for ours have young Grapes.

16. I have a Love of my own, and I am his, who feeds his Flock amidst the Lillies.

17. Against the Day dawns, and the sable Shades flee fast away, turn about my Love, resemble the Roe, in Swiftneſs the Fawn, upon the boasted Mountains of Bether.

C H A P. III.

I CONSIDERED where to find him, whom my Soul loved, on my Bed in the Night; but considered alas in vain.

2. I will get up now, thought I, and go about in the City, through the Lanes and Streets, to seek for him, with a Lover's Fondneſs; but sought, and could not find him.

3. The Watchmen who went about there meeting with me, I ſaid, Did you ſee ſuch a one, to whom my Affection is engaged?

4. From them was I gone but a little, before I found him out: I caught hold of him, and held him faſt, till I had led him along to my Mother's Houſe, and into the very Parlour of her who conceived me.

5. I ſtrictly charge you, Daughters of Jeruſalem, who are among the wild Roes or Hinds, not any how to make his Love be ſtirred up, till it would.

Ver. 15.] ending the Speech of the Beloved that began Ver. 10. as in Barton's Hymns, p. 727. which I prefer to Patrick's making the foregoing Verſe and this, a Reply of his to the other, as unapt and confuſed.

Ver. 16. I have a Love of my own] That in the com. Transf. being Nothing, and I hope it won't be pretended the Original is ſo; on the contrary what is there turned my is properly I have.

Ib. feeds] the Flock, as Ch. i. 7. Gen. xxxvii. 13, 16.

Ver. 17. Day dawns] The heavenly Mind craves for the Coming of her new admired one ſoon. The Progreſs of Regeneration may be ſeen, notably as well as experimentally deſcribed, in Bramley's Sabbath of Reſt.

Ib. reſemble the Roe] to make haſte in coming to her, as Ver. 8, 9. Chap. viii. 14. and as ty ſignifies againſt as well as till, Gen. xliii. 25. it is more likely to be meant by Day than by Night; ſee alſo Ch. iv. 6. He ſhould get ready to come away ſpeedily as ſoon as ever he had the Morning-Light for it. Turn about may ſignify her Fear that he was not then coming towards her.

Ib. Bether] Vulg. Lat. Bethel, where uncommon Names are divers times changed for more common ones.

Ver. 1. Bed] The Emblem of Sloth or Negligence, by being in which as a Bed, the Soul's Beloved is loſt, according as at Ch. v. 2, 3.

Ver. 2. get up] He being ſought without Effect in a State of Negligence, a good Reſolution of Diligence well proſecuted, and perſeuered in, was proper and neceſſary.

Ver. 3. Watchmen] whom Quarles in a Note on his Verſe of this Book expounds to be The Miniſters of the Word, and Patrick the like.

Ib. Did you] The Perſon divinely reached, and afterwards coming to a Loſs, is upon the Enquiry from the

7. Behold there are threeſcore ſtout Men, round about his Bed, namely Solomon's, ſome of the ſtouteſt in Iſrael:

8. All of them can handle a Weapon, being inſtructed in War; and each have their Swords on their Thighs, by reaſon of Danger dreaded in the Night.

9. King Solomon made him a Marriage-bed of the Wood of Lebanon:

10. To which he put the Poſts of Silver, the Covering of Gold, the Canopy of Purple; the Middle of it being ſpread for Love by the Daughters of Jeruſalem.

11. Go forth, you Daughters of Zion, and ſee King Solomon with the Crown which his Mother crowned him with, on the Day of his Marriage-contract, on the Day of his Heart's Rejoicing.

C H A P. IV.

H E.

BEHOOLD thou art fair, my dear one, thou thy ſelf exceeding fair: thy Eyes are as Doves by thy Locks; thy Hair is like a Herd

Watchmen; but finds Chriſt again, after ſeeking there in vain.

Ver. 4. gone but a little] When ſhe turned from them, ſhe ſoon found her Love. A Sarcaſm, it may be doubted whether more ſharp or juſt.

Ib. held him faſt] The Favour of God being regained, great Care is taken not to loſe it again.

Ib. very Parlour] the beſt Room in the Houſe, and that for Entertainment; look to Ch. i. 3.

Ver. 6. this] viz. ſhe, as Ch. viii. 5. which the Heb. Verb and Participle here ſhew.

Ib. more than] not with as before.

Ver. 8. inſtructed in] the ſame as in 1 Chr. xxv. 7.

Ver. 9. Marriage-bed] which the two foregoing Verſes, and the following one, as well as the Root ſhew: ſo Jun. and Trem. have it Thore for Toro, noting it to be that mentioned Ch. i. 16. Matthæw's Bib. bedſteads; but the Biſh. and Gen. palace.

Ver. 10. Covering] or Counterpane, or Coverlet, were not the firſt too little known, and the latter too vulgar. Heb. Spreading.

Ib. ſpread for Love] made well for the Wedding-night. Others make this Part of it not real, but imaginary: an unſuitable Compound.

Ib. Love] Patrick, &c. lovely Figures, rather Figures of Love; and if ſo, on the Covering.

Ib. by] Thus have it Monian. Jun. and Patr. ſeveral Translators by reaſon of, ſeveral others only genit. of, the Heb. ſcarce allows of the latter, leſs of for.

Ib. Daughters of Jeruſalem] thoſe whom Solomon had married.

Ver. 1. as Doves] Beſides Doves Eyes being unapt of it ſelf, as may further appear by Ch. v. 12. ſuch a leſſening Simile does not ſeem to agree with the following.

of Goats that brouse on the Side of Mount Gilead ;

2. Thy Teeth are like a Flock to be shorn, that come up from Washing, which all bring forth Twins to Perfection ;

3. Thy Lips are like a scarlet Line, and thy Speech graceful ; as a Piece of Pomegranate are thy Temples by thy Locks ;

4. Thy Neck is like the Tower of David built for an Arsenal of Arms, on which there hang a thousand Bucklers, being all the Shields of valiant Warriors ;

5. Thy two Breasts are like two young Twin-Roes, that graze among the Lillies.

6. Against the Day dawns, and the sable Shades flee fast away, I will take a Tour to the Mountain of Myrrh, and to the Hill of Frankincense.

7. Thou art all over beautiful, my dear one, there is no Blemish in thee.

8. Thou shalt come with me from Lebanon, O Spouse, along with me from Lebanon ; shalt look from the Top of Amanah, from the Summit of Shenir and Hermon, from the Lions Dens, from the Mountains of Leopards.

9. Thou hast transported my Heart, my Sister-Spouse ; thou hast transported my very Heart with one of thy Eyes, with one Chain of thy Neck.

10. How comely is it to love thee ! my Sister-Spouse : how much better this than Wine ! and the Smell of thy Ointments than any Aromatics !

11. Thy Lips, thou Spouse, with the Honey-comb drop Sweetness : Honey and Milk flow from thy Tongue, and thy Garments smell like Lebanon.

12. Thou art as a Garden that is barred, my Sister-Spouse, like a Spring bolted, a Fountain locked up ;

13. Whose Product is an Orchard of Pomegranates, and other precious Fruits, Camphire together with Spikenard-trees,

14. Spikenard it self and Saffron, sweet Cane and Cinnamon, nay every Sort of Trees bearing Frankincense, Myrrh and Aloes, as likewise all the principal Spices :

15. There being a Garden-fountain, a Well of Spring-water, and Brooks from Lebanon.

S H E.

16. Rouze up, O North-wind, and come, thou South, blow alternately on my Garden, that its fragrant Spices may flow forth : then let my Love come into the Garden, no more mine, but his own, and eat his precious Fruits.

Nay if the Eyes are to be understood as compared to Doves Eyes, so might the Hair to Goats Hair, and the Teeth to Sheep's Teeth.

Ib. by] not within, with her Hair hanging over her Eyes, nor Ver. 3. with her Temples hid by it. Nold. Castal. and Tigr. without.

Ib. brouse] for which may be seen only Jun. and Trem. with Buxi.

Ver. 2. to be shorn] for Sheep are washed first, to cleanse their Wool fit for Shearing ; and as to the Word even in the com. Transf. which is turned Italic by wrong Printing, I see no Foundation for it in the Original, the Verb signifying to cut, as in 2 King. vi. 6.

Ib. that come up] as they are washed one after another in a Rank, as Teeth stand.

Ver. 3. scarlet Line] rose coloured ryband, Tynd.

Ib. Temples] where the fine Veins appear.

Ver. 4. the Shields of valiant Warriors] of such noted Warriors as had been slain by Israelites, according to the Custom of other Nations, of which I suppose Goliath's the chief, and most suitable for that Place, 1 Sam. xvii. 54. the Strength of whose Armour of Defence might best shew the Valour of those who overcame them. If they had been the Israelites Arms, their offensive Weapons, as Swords, &c. would have been more proper ; besides a thousand seem too few of theirs, 1 Chron. 12.

Ib. valiant Warriors] Mat. and Bish. the gyantes.

Ver. 6. Against] to be there early in the Morning, to gather the Myrrh and Frankincense. I cannot make Sense of until, and the Heb. Particle denoting both, I chose the other, as Ch. ii. 17. There is the same Word in the same Sense, Exod. xxii. 26.

Ver. 8. shalt come] He promises to fetch her from the desolate and dangerous Places.

Ib. Spouse] called but dear one before.

Ib. Shenir] so Part of Mount Hermon seems to be called from its ancient Name, Deut. iii. 9.

Ver. 9. transported] with the Bishops bewitched.

Ib. Sister-Spouse] Like Mother-Church, Parent-Plant,

nay Sister-Plaintiff by Dryden, and Sister-Fruits by Pope ; and my being omitted to the latter, points it out here. Otherwise I should prefer and added in, before my.

Ib. one of thy Eyes, with one Chain] The Conjunction and being elegantly left out, Patrick from Alcuinus, more fruitful in inventing than exact in comparing, paraphrases both to be, that lovely unity which I see between thy Pastors, and between the People that live in holy obedience to them : for how did the Eye obey the Chain ? Was not the former preferable to the latter ? &c.

Ver. 11. with] But the New-Eng. Metre has, My Spouse thy lips drop honey-comb, both Honey and milk are on ; honey being for one Syl. and on instead of under : as in the next Ver. there is shut and up for Rhime, and Ver. 15. 'live (for alive, instead of living) Waters.

Ver. 12. barred] The righteous Spouse is preserved from the World.

Ib. Spring] Instead of this the Gr. and old Lat. have Garden again, as tho' their Authors took the Heb. gal. for gan.

Ib. Spring—Fountain] Those which Salomon is thought to allude to, being about an Hour and a quarter distant from Bethlehem southward, have no Passage to them but by a little Hole about four Yards directly down, where in two vaulted Rooms (that might be this Spring and Fountain) the Water rises in four Places, and is from thence convey'd under Ground into Pools, and so into a Valley (supposed to be the Garden) inclos'd on both Sides with high Mountains, Maunder. Jour. to Jerus. p. 87, 88.

Ver. 15. There being] which is necessary to connect what follows, and make it intelligible ; this belonging to the Speech of the Bridegroom or Beloved before, according to Mercer ; though some would have it said by the Bride or Spouse ; but surely the Matter suits best with the foregoing, and may easier be joined to it.

Ib. Brooks from Lebanon] which, as Rauwolf relates, have pleasant Groves by them, and arise from Springs making a sweet Noise, Travels, Pt. 2. Ch. 12.

C H A P. V.

H E.

I AM come into this my Garden, my Sister-Spouse; I gather my Myrrh with my Spice, I eat my Honey-comb with my Honey, I drink my Wine with my Milk: eat Friends; drink, and carouse, ye my Favourites.

S H E.

2. I was asleep, but my Mind awake, when the Voice of my Love knocking was, Let me in, my Sister, my dear one, my Dove, my most exquisite one; because my Head is full of Dew, my Hair of the Drops by Night.

3. I have undressed my self, said I, how can I dress me again? I have washed my Feet, how can I daub them so?

4. But yet my Beloved reaching his Hand through the Hole, my Bowels yerned for him.

5. So I got up to let him in, my Hands dropping Myrrh, and my Fingers liquid Myrrh, upon the Handles of the Bolt.

6. When I had opened for my Love, he was withdrawn, gone away: my Soul was departing for the Speech of him; I sought after him, but could not find him; I called him, but he did not answer me.

7. The Watchmen who went about in the City meeting with me, beat me, wounded me; the Watchmen of the Walls pulled off my Veil from me.

8. I strictly charge you, Daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my Beloved, that you tell him I am sick with Love.

T H E Y.

9. What is thy Beloved more than another, O fairest of the fair Sex? What is thine above any other, that thou chargest us in such a Manner?

S H E.

10. My Beloved is white and red, like a Standard set up over ten thousand Men:

11. His Head is like a Piece of the finest Gold; his Hair is curled, and as black as a Raven;

12. His Eyes are like Doves at the Channels of Water, washing themselves milk-white, and sitting plump;

13. His Cheeks are like a Bed of Spice, and Heaps of Ointments; his Lips as Lillies dropping liquid Myrrh;

14. His Hands are like Rings of Gold set with Beryl; his Belly like bright Ivory covered with Sapphires;

15. His Legs as Pillars of Marble set on Bases of solid Gold; his Countenance is like Lebanon, as excellent as the Cedars;

16. His Mouth is very sweet; and he is all over desirable. This is my Beloved, and this is my dear one, O Daughters of Jerusalem.

Ver. 3. dress me again] Mat. and Bish. do it on thy gayer.

Ib. daub] Mat. fete, Bish. fyle, for defile, it seems.

Ver. 4. reaching] or putting forth, as the Heb. Word signifies, from him: which according to my understanding it, was to open the Door; but Patrick says, in a threatening manner to punish her; incoherent with the next, because that would have raised her Fear instead of Affection.

Ver. 5. dropping Myrrh] which she might have for Perfume or Ointment, according to Chap. i. 13. & 36. Est. ii. 12. and in her Haste, and Commotion of Mind, not put out of her Hands, or cleanse them from.

Ver. 6. for the Speech of him] wanting him to speak to her; not when he spoke, since she says not only that he was gone, but also did not answer her; and it seems quite overstrained and improper, to be referred to his speaking before, Ver. 2. when, as it appears too, she was not much affected with his Words, but at his putting his Hand through.

Ver. 7. Watchmen] whom Patrick says he takes in a good Sense, i. e. for Priests, and what they did to her to be out of love and charity: but it was wrong of her then to complain of them; and if such was the Effect of Love, would not Hatred have been better, as producing the contrary?

Ib. beat me] Those appointed for religious Watchmen are apt to treat the tender Seekers hardly.

Ib. Veil] Mat. garment, Bish. kercheffe.

Ver. 10. white and red] particularly in the Face, as a Standard in the Colour displayed at the Top of it.

Ver. 11. curled] as the Gen. but Mat. and the Bish. bushed, whence the present bushy.

Ib. as black as a Raven] in Mat. Bib. browne as the ravynge: Bish. for Raven, crowe.

Ver. 12. like Doves] What Excellency or Difference have the Eyes of Doves when they are by the Waters? On the other hand, the Sparkling of the Eyes has a pretty Resemblance to the fluttering of Doves in washing, and their Stillness to the sitting. So Patrick writes, washed and sitting do not refer unto the Eyes, but unto Doves.

Ib. milk-white] as the washing is active, it must belong to the Doves; and that it should be with Milk seems quite inconsistent, especially at the Water: a before a Noun is not only used for a Preposition, but to shew the Manner of a Verb, as here of washing.

Ib. plump] Heb. in or with Fulness. In Mat. Bib. the last Member is, and remaining in a plentiful Place, in the Gen. and remains by the vessels, Bish. and are set like pearls in gold.

Ver. 13. a Bed] in a Garden, parted into two by a Path.

Ib. Heaps] Heb. Towers.

Ib. Ointments] from whence our Translators made sweet.

Ver. 14. Belly] But Patr. widely fancies the Habit of the High Priest is here represented, and in the next words; it being as much as that of a Priestess at Ch. vii. 2.

Ib. Beryl] The Nails set in the roundish Compass of the Hand, when viewed on the Backside, may be denoted by this.

Ver. 15. Bases] which is the proper Meaning of the Heb. Word, tho' used also for Sockets; but it appears that these were the Feet, on which the Legs stand, much like Pillars on their Bases; whereas Sockets are hollow to receive Something into, not have it upon them.

CHAP. VI.

THEY.

WHITHER is thy Beloved gone, O fairest of the fair Sex? Whither is he turned away, that we may seek for him with thee?

SHE.

2. My Beloved is gone down into his Garden, to the spicy Parterres; to eat Fruit in the Walks there, and to gather Flowers.

3. My Love has me for his own, and he is mine, who feeds his Flock amidst the Lillies.

HE.

4. Thou art beautiful, my dear one, with Tirzah it self, magnificently fine like our Jerusalem, awful as stately Standards erected.

5. Turn about thy Eyes, over against me; that they may strengthen me: thy Hair is like a Herd of Goats that brouse on the Side of Gilead;

6. Thy Teeth are like a Flock of Sheep, that come up from Washing, which all bring forth Twins to Perfection;

7. As a Piece of Pomegranate are thy Temples by thy Locks.

8. Among the threescore Queens, fourscore Concubines, and Virgins without Number;

9. That one is my Dove, my exquisite one, she who is her Mother's only Child, and the pure one of her that she was born of: whom the Maidens bless, when they behold, the very Queens and Concubines extol.

10. Who is this appears as if it were the Morning, as fair as the Moon, clear like the Sun, with the dread Presence of a Banner displayed?

11. As I went down into the Garden that is pruned, to view the green Fruits of the Valley, to see whether the Vine budded, and the Pomegranates blossomed;

12. My Mind made me, I did not know how, like the Chariots of my free People.

13. Return, return, O Shulammites, come back again, that we may see thee. What will you see in the Shulammites? As it were the Company of Mahanaim.

CHAP. VII.

HOW handsome thy Feet are in the Shoes, O Prince's Daughter! The Joints of thy Thighs are like Jewels, when wrought by a Jeweller's Hands;

2. Thy Navel is like a round Bowl that holds choice Liquor, thy Belly like a Heap of Wheat, inclosed about with Lillies;

3. Thy two Breasts are like two young Roes that are Twins;

Ver. 2. Parterres] If such Words are thought not common enough for Pastoral, let it be remembered that this is between a King, and a Prince's Daughter, Chap. vii. 1. whom we are not to imagine unacquainted with the politest Terms, especially in a Garden their frequent Resort.

Ib. eat Fruit] consentaneously to Ch. v. 1. while feed is doubtful, whether transitive or intransitive; by which the Translators might mean either, or neither.

Ver. 5. over against] as rendered in the com. Transl. Gen. xxi. 16. Neb. iii. 19, 25, 27. and cannot signify merely from; but is not in 1 Cor. xii. 23. as Patr. refers.

Ib. that] the Heb. never signifying for.

Ib. strengthen] not overcome, the Verb not having that Signification: so Jun. and Trem. render, Adverte oculos tuos ex adverso mei, ut illi efferant me, Turn thy Eyes over-against me, that they may exalt me; Ainsworth, Turne-about thine eyes over-against me; for they have lifted me up; which Sense he pleads for in his Annotations; and no Wonder since her Eyes were so pleasing to this her Beloved, Chap. iv. 9. But Matthewe has makes me to proude; the Bishops have set me on fyre.

Ib. thy Hair] as before, Ch. iv. 1. to assure her that he had still the same Esteem of her, notwithstanding what had happened, Patr.

Ver. 7.] The Sept. have the whole 3d Verse of the 4th Chap.

Ver. 8. threescore Queens, fourscore Concubines] Solomon having married so many, as it seems, when he wrote this, being not yet turned from the Lord; which he was as he afterwards increased the Number to a thousand, 1 King. xi. iii. where I since find Grotius speaking in the same manner, as likewise Bochart.

Ver. 11. Garden that is pruned] Heb. Garden of Pruning: גֻּלְמֵי being from גָּלַם to cut or prune, as גֻּלְמֵי from גָּלַם and others of like Sort. Besides Nuts is plural, and not agreeable to what follows. The best Transl. Jun. and Trem. have hortes putatas, pruned Gardens; but the Heb. Words are both sing.

Ver. 12.] Patrick awkwardly puts this Verse as spoken by the Spouse. It is strangely in Matthewe's Bible, Then the charrettes of the Prince of my people made me suddenly asayed.

Ib. makes me] Solomon having in the Ver. before represented himself going into the Garden, to divert the Thoughts of her whom he was then in Love with being gone, shews here the Transport of Love that broke through those Amusements, even to the talking incoherently to himself, as in the next Verse. For an Emblem should be natural or congruous, and perhaps he could not have chosen a fitter Subject than the Love of the Sexes, to shadow the Divine Love between God and the Soul; and particularly here that holy Enthusiasm of the latter, to be felt, but not described, though by Change of the Parties, such as must be allowed to Similies.

Ib. like the Chariots] transported, elevated, unconfined, from the low, mean View of a Garden, in Comparison of exalted noble Love. And how vastly will this be enhanced, by taking it in a religious Sense, on the Contrast of heavenly with earthly Things.

Ib. my free People] which is the English of ammi nadib two distinct Heb. Words, and not a proper Name either of Person or Place.

Ver. 13. Shulammites] Com. Lat. Sunamite; Bish. the first time, thou perfect one.

Ib. Company of Mahanaim] the Angels who were there, Gen. xxxii. 1, 2. Mat. has more than when she daunceth amonge the men of warre, the Bish. She is lyke men of war singing in a companie; both very vulgar.

Ver. 1. like Jewels] for the Symmetry, and her good Gait in Walking.

4. Thy.

4. Thy Neck is like an ivory Tower; thy Eyes as the Fish-ponds in Heshbon, at the Gate of Bath-rabbim; thy Nose is like the Tower of Lebanon looking towards Damascus:

5. Thy Head is like Carmel upon thee; and the curled Hair of it as Purple: thus the King is confined in the Galleries.

6. How fair and how pleasant thou art, O Love, with Delights!

7. This Height of thine may be compared to the Palm-tree, and thy Breasts to the Bunches.

8. I thought I would climb up the Palm-tree, taking hold of its Branches; since now thy Breasts are like the Bunches on the Vine, and the Smell of thy Nose like Apples;

9. Thy Mouth also is like the best Wine, which sparkles very rightly for my Beloved, making the Lips of those who are asleep to speak.

S H E.

10. I have a Love of my own, and his Affection is towards me.

11. Come, my Love, let us walk forth into the Field, and lodge in the Villages.

12. Let us rise early to go into the Vineyards, that we may see if the Vine is budded, the young Grapes appear, and the Pomegranates are in bloom: there will I grant thee my Love.

13. The Mandrakes emit a sweet Smell, and at our Doors are all manner of fine

Fruits, new and old; which I have laid up for thee, my beloved one.

C H A P. VIII.

OH that thou wert as my own Brother, who sucked the Breasts of my Mother! that meeting with thee abroad, I might kiss thee, and not be despised.

2. I would lead thee along into my Mother's House, who should teach me: I would make thee drink some fine flavoured Wine, the Juice of my own Pomegranates.

3. His left Hand should be laid under my Head, and his right put round my Waist.

4. I strictly charge you, Daughters of Jerusalem, that ye will not any how make his Love be stirred up, till it would.

T H E Y.

5. Who is this comes up out of the Wilderness, leaning upon her Beloved? [S H E.] I that roused thee up under the Apple-tree; where thy Mother brought thee forth, where she was delivered who bore thee.

6. Put me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Signet on thy Arm: for Love is strong like Death, Jealousy as rigid as the Grave; the former burning like Coals of Fire, with a divine Flame.

7. Much Water cannot quench Love, nor can even Floods drown it: if a Man would give all the Substance he has for Love, that all would be utterly contemned.

Ver. 4. towards] Lebanon being on the west Side of Damascus.

Ver. 5. Carmel] Gen. Verf. scarlet, which might be thought a Blunder of the Printer, if but in one Edition.

Ib. in the Galleries] by looking there at her; the Galleries being for Sight of Things. Gen. tied in the rafters; the Bish. have and lyke a king dwelling among many water conduites, and Mat. with the foregoing the beads of thy beads is lyke the Kynges purple folden up in plates.

Ver. 7. Bunches] The Fruit of the Palm-tree, or Dates, which grow in Bunches or Clusters.

Ver. 8. the Palm-tree] viz. the Spouse, whose Height he compared to it.

Ib. Smell of thy Nose] having a sweet Breath, very proper to be described; though the Ignorant may laugh, as is not uncommon, at their own Ignorance.

Ver. 9. sparkles very rightly] as Prov. xxiii. 31. where are the like Words, and both of Solomon; nor has the Heb. here any Meaning of sweetly.

Ib. my Beloved] the Bridegroom's Friend. What other Interpretations I have met with, as in Mercer, &c. that the Spouse, or the Daughters of Jerusalem spoke this, or the Beloved of himself, are each so strained and improper, that I cannot be satisfied either of them was intended.

Ib. making the Lips, &c.] Duport in Gr. Verse,

Καὶ ὁμῶς ἀνοίξῃς Βεράν, τῆς καὶ γυναικὸς ἄνθρωπος ἔχον, and opens the Mouth of Mortals, who are held in sweet Sleep. Let it not be wondered why I have so seldom quoted such a learned, curious, and copious Performance of our own Countryman on this and the four foregoing Books; since he is a strict Follower of the com. Eng. Transf. and my Notes are generally upon my leaving it. With the Vulg. Lat. there is in the Place of this, and for his Lips and Teeth to chew over, but the Sept. have turned it, fit for my Lips and Teeth; both as if the first Letter in jeshenim had been ἰ &c.

Ver. 13. at our Doors] Fruit, as Apples, &c. being put in Heaps when gathered, without or within, where there is great Plenty; but the old seem plainly in the House, where they are also laid in the same Manner, so not at the Gates, but Doors.

Ver. 1. as my own Brother] a very natural and striking Wish! which with the rest may exhibit the superior Sense Solomon was endued with.

Ver. 5. thee up] namely the Bridegroom; for this, with thy and thee that follow, are masc. in Heb. therefore Pool's Interpretation, making these the Bridegroom's Words, and expounding this, 'When thou wert dead in Trespasses, I revived thee,' &c. must be quite wrong.

Ib. Apple-tree] which might spread over the House or Tent.

Ib. brought thee forth] But the Vulg. Lat. is, was corrupted, and for delivered, despised, as in the Douay English of it: whereas it is the sacred Text that is thus corrupted, and abhorrent of those Words, with the Omission of thee; notwithstanding the Canon or Decree in the 4th Session of the Council of Trent, Apr. 8, 1546, Si quis libros ipsos integros cum omnibus suis partibus, prout in veteri vulgata latina editione habentur, pro sacris & canonicis non susceperit, anathema sit: Whoever shall not receive all the Scripture for holy and canonical, entirely as it is throughout the vulgar Latin Bible, let him be accursed.

Ver. 6. upon thy Heart — on thy Arm] first secretly, then openly.

Ib. a divine Flame] Thus Trem. and Jun. have flamma divina, as the Heb. properly is.

8. We have a little Sister, whose Breasts are not grown; what shall we do for her, at the Time that she shall be spoken for?

9. If she was a Wall, we might build a Palace of Silver upon it; and if she were a Door, we might inclose it about with Planks of Cedar.

10. I was as a Wall, and my Breasts like Towers; then was I as if agreeable to him.

11. Solomon having a Vineyard at Baalhamon, which he let to Farmers, the Man bringing for its Fruit a thousand Shekels of Silver;

12. The Vineyard being mine, that I have before me, there are not only a thousand for thee, Solomon, but two hundred for those who keep the Vintage of it.

H E.

13. Let me hear thee who fittest in the Gardens, with thy Associates listening to what thou sayest.

S H E.

14. Come away then, my Love, as swift as a Roe, or a Fawn upon the famous Mountains of Spices.

Ver. 9. was a Wall] The Advantage here is apparent: if she was, not be or is, only Part of a House, that might receive a proper advantageous Addition.

Ib. upon it] as a Wall, not upon her as a Girl.

Ib. Planks] for the Lintels and Posts.

Ver. 10. I was] viz. the Spouse her self; as at Chap. vii. 8. not the little Sister, as has been thought.

Ib. agreeable] or well, which the Heb. Word frequently signifies, not favour.

Ver. 12. The Vineyard] spoken of Chap. i. 6. for that this and the foregoing Verse are Part of the Spouse's Speech, not only the Matter and Manner of Expression shew, but likewise Ainsw. and Mercer at the End of his Comment on it.

Ib. The Vineyard being mine] Otherwise I desire the Interpreters to give me any tolerable Account of it.

Ib. two hundred] shewing her commendable Generosity, and the Advantage of the Vineyard being in her Occupation.

Ver. 13. fittest] fem. in Heb. as it were, then Woman or Spouse who fittest.

Ib. what thou sayest] The holy Lore that so spontaneously flows from the consecrated Lips of one newly espoused to Christ, who as a Child delights to tutor the lesser Children. Since an experienced Child of God must know the exceeding Suitableness of this, and the few other Things of the same Kind here remarked; I have thought over and over, that the present Poem represents principally, if not only, the reciprocal Love and Regard of Christ Jesus, and the Soul, at the Season of its first Conversion, or during its being initiated into the State of Renovation.

NOTES upon the BOOK of ISAIAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Vision of Isaiah the Son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the Time of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, Kings of Judah.

2. Hear, O Heaven, and listen, thou Earth, for the Lord speaks: I bred up and advanced Children, and they themselves have rebelled against me.

3. The Ox knowing his Owner, and the Ass his Master's Rack; Israel does not know, my People do not understand.

4. Ah, it is a sinful Nation, a People heavy with Iniquity, an Offspring of Evil-doers, Children that corrupt themselves! they have forsaken the Lord, contemned the holy One of Israel, are turned backward in Alienation.

5. Why will you be smitten any more, by proceeding in Apostacy? The whole Head is diseased, and the whole Heart languishing.

6. From the Sole of the Foot to the Head, there is no Soundness in it; Wounds, and Swellings, and corrupted Sores; that have neither been squeezed, bound up, nor softened with Ointment.

7. Your Country is desolate, your Cities are burnt with Fire: your very Ground Strangers consume before you, and it is desolate as with an Overthrow by Strangers.

8. And the Daughter of Zion is left as a Booth in a Vineyard, as a Tent in a Cucumber-garden, like a besieged City.

9. Unless the Lord of Armies had left us some little Remainder, we should have been as Sodom, should have been like Gomorrah.

10. Hear the Lord's Commission, you Leaders of Sodom: give ear to the Law of our God, O People of Gomorrah.

11. For what is the Multitude of your Sacrifices to me? says the Lord: I am cloyed with the Burnt-offerings of Rams, and the Fat of fat Cattle; and do not delight in the Blood of Bullocks; Sheep, and He-goats.

12. When ye come to appear before me, who requires this of you, to trample my Courts?

13. Bring an Offering no more in vain,

Ver. 1. Isaiah] Heb. Jeshaiyahu, not Jesaiab as is said in Henry's Exposition.

In the Course of my translating this Prophet, I observed that he is very sublime, with various Elegancies of Language, to Chap. xxxvi. as is also Hezekiah's Prayer; and on to Chap. lvii. in a good moderate Style, not without some Flights of the former Kind; then to the End more sublime. Which three Sorts of Writing are observed in the Prince of the Latin Poets, but, to add my own Observations, with much Disadvantage: for instead of that copious and beautiful Variety of Expression in Isaiah, one might almost think Virgil composed his Aeneids, like a School-boy, by a Phrase-book. Next Isaiah has doubtless ranged those three Kinds in the best Order; first engaging, and possessing himself of, his Reader's Attention and Admiration (I speak as to Language) whom he pleasantly leads on, and leaves with fresh Endearments; like the Impetuosity and Roaring of a mighty Flood from the Mountain; which then runs smoothly through the Plain, and becomes deep and spacious as it approaches the Sea: so is the Prophet in his Style, engaging and pleasing in this Manner from the Beginning to the End; the Historical Part being as a Rest to the wanting Auditor, accommodated with a peculiar Agreeableness, because it is the fulfilling of what was just before predicted. Thus we see Isaiah's Abilities from the very Entrance; unlike Virgil, who seems to have commenced Author premature, and written his Eclogues as incapable of the Georgics, and these as of the Aeneids.

Ib. of Uzziah] Look at Chap. vi. 1.

Ver. 2. bred up and advanced] So Jun. and Trem. translate, educavi & extuli, and the Heb. Words signify, from making great and lifting up; the first not nourished or fed, nor the other brought or bred up.

Ver. 3. understand] which is the proper Meaning, and agrees with the Comparison.

Ver. 4. heavy] as we say with Sleep, the Heb. Word being so.

Ib. contemned] Castal. despicati sunt, Jun. and Trem. to look in no more, spreverunt, i. e. despised, as the Verb signifies, and is rendered in this Book, Chap. v. 24. & lx. 14.

Ib. turned] Heb. alienated backward, passive of a Verb to alienate or be strange. Pagn. & Montan. alienaverunt se.

Ver. 6. squeezed] to get out what the Surgeons call Pus, the corrupt Matter: so the Description is proper to the dressing Ulcers.

Ver. 7. consume] that is, the Product of it.

Ver. 9. Unless] as this was spoken concerning the Kingdom of Judah by Ver. 8, 11, 21, &c. which was prosperous both under Uzziah and Jotham, 2 Chron. xxvi. & xxvii. and as Isaiah is thought to be sawed asunder by Manasseh, Heb. xi. 37. between whose Reign and Uzziah's were 58 Years, he could scarce begin prophesying till the latter End of Uzziah, who reigning 52 Years, hinders this from respecting the Time before; it was consequently in the Reign of Ahaz, when we find it so to a great Degree, 2 Chron. xxviii. 5, 6, 7, 8, 17, 18, 19, 20. This particular Declamation might be put first for the Excellence of it; and several in Jeremiah are apparently displaced.

Ib. some] by turning back those who were going into Captivity, 2 Chron. xxviii. 8,—15.

Ver. 10. of Sodom] which they came up to in Sin, though they had escaped its Punishment.

Ver. 12. requires] Wm. Tyndal in his Prologue to Genes. says, To sow a Seed at the Commandment of God, to do thy Neighbour Service withal, is much better than to build an Abbey of thine own Imagination. What God commandeth not, getteth no Reward with God; how agreeable and illustrative to this Passage of Holy Writ!

Incense it self is an Abomination to me: of the New-moon and Sabbath, the Calling of the Convocation, I cannot bear with the Iniquity, and of the solemn Day.

14. My Soul hates your New-moons, and appointed Times: they are a Fatigue to me, which I am weary of bearing.

15. And when you spread forth your Hands, I will hide my Eyes from you; even though you make many Prayers, I will not hear: your Hands being full of Blood.

16. Wash, purify your selves, put away the Evil of your Deeds from before my Eyes, leave off doing evil:

17. Learn to do good, seek Judgment, direct the Oppressed, judge the Fatherless, plead for the Widow.

18. Come now, and let us reason, says the Lord: if your Sins are as it were Scarlet, they shall be as white as Snow; if they are as red as Crimson, they shall be like Wool.

19. If you are willing, and be obedient, you shall eat the Good of the Country;

20. But if you refuse, and rebel, you shall be consumed with the Sword: for it is the Mouth of the Lord speaks.

21. How is the faithful Town become a Harlot! it was full of Judgment, Righteousness lodged in it, but now Murderers.

22. Thy Silver is become Dross, thy Wine is mixed with Water.

23. Thy Princes are obstinate, and Companions of Thieves; every one loves a Bribe, and follows after Recompences: they do not judge for the Fatherless, nor does the Cause of the Widow come to them.

24. Therefore says the Sovereign Lord of Armies, the strong One of Israel: Ah, I will be comforted for my Adversaries, and revenged on my Enemies.

25. However I will turn back my Hand upon thee, and having refined out thy Dross as it were purely, and put away all thy Tin;

26. I will restore thy Judges as at first, and thy Counsellors as in the Beginning: afterwards thou shalt be called, The righteous City, the faithful Town.

27. Zion shall be redeemed with Judgment, and those who return of her with Righteousness.

28. Whereas the Breaking of the Rebelious and Sinners shall be together; and such as forsake the Lord shall be consumed.

29. For they shall be ashamed, because of the Oaks which you have desired; and you shall be in Confusion, by reason of the Gardens that you have chosen.

30. Since you shall be like an Oak whose Leaf is withered, and as a Garden which has no Water.

31. The Strong also shall become Tow, and his Work a Spark; both of them burning together, and none quenching.

CHAP. II.

THE Matter which Isaiah the Son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2. In the latter Days, will the Mountain of the Lord's House be established on the Top of the Mountains, and raised up above the Hills: and all Nations will assemble together to it.

3. Nay many People will go, and say, Come, and let us go up to the Mountain of the Lord, to the House of the God of Jacob; that he may teach us of his Ways, and we may walk in his Paths: for the Law shall go forth from Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

4. He will also judge between the Nations, and determine for many People: so that they

Ver. 13. bear] Johnson in his great Dictionary says, Perhaps cannot away with may mean cannot travel with: if so, it suits not well here; and if its Meaning is uncertain, it is also unfit.

Ver. 26. restore] In the next Restoration under Hezekiah, 2 Chron. Chap. xxix, & xxx, & xxxi. which I apply it to, much rather than by missing this and another under Josiah, to interpret it as Lowth does in his Commentary of that after the 70 Years Captivity, to which it also least agrees.

Ver. 27. return] not only they that were left in the Country, but those who should return from Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxix. 9.

Ver. 31. become] or be for, not as.

Ib. Work] The single Word might be either Work or Worker, not Maker, and the best Translators as well as the Context make it the former.

Ib. a Spark] His own wicked Work should consume him. A fine Simile!

Ver. 2. latter Days] of the Gospel.

will beat their Swords into Spades, and their Spears into Pruning-hooks; one Nation will not lift up the Sword against another, nor will they learn War any more.

5. O Family of Jacob, come, and let us go in the Light of the Lord.

6. For thou hast forsaken thy People, the Family of Jacob; because they are filled from the East, are Soothsayers like the Philistines, and clap Hands for the Race of Strangers.

7. As their Country is full of Silver and Gold, and there is no End of their Treasures, as it is full of Horses, and there is no End of their Chariots:

8. Their Country is likewise full of Idols; they bow down to the Work of their own Hands, to that which their Fingers have made.

9. Since the Men therefore are bowed down, and each one is low; do not thou lift them up.

10. Enter into the Rock, and hide in the Mould, by reason of the Dread of the Lord, and for his excellent Majesty.

11. The lofty Eyes of Men will be humbled, and the Height of Mortals bowed down; while the Lord alone will be exalted at that Time.

12. For the Lord of Armies will have a Time against every one that is proud and high, and against every one who is lifted up, so that he shall be humbled;

13. And against all the Cedars of Lebanon, which are high and mounted up, and against all the Oaks of Bashan,

14. And against all the high Mountains, and against all the Hills that are raised up,

15. And against every lofty Tower, and against every fortified Wall,

16. And against all the Ships of Tarshish, and against all the desirable Images.

17. Thus the Loftiness of Men will be bowed down, and the Height of Mortals humbled; while the Lord alone will be exalted at that Time.

18. And he will wholly make the Idols pass away.

19. So they shall enter into the Caves of the Rocks, and into the Caverns of the Ground, by reason of the Dread of the Lord, and for his excellent Majesty, when he rises up to shake the Country violently.

20. At that Time Men will throw their silver Idols, and their golden ones, which they have made them to bow down to, both to the Moles and Bats;

21. To enter into the Holes of the Rocks, and into the Craggs of the Quarries, by reason of the Dread of the Lord, and for his excellent Majesty, when he rises up to shake the Country violently.

22. Refrain your selves from Man, whose Breath is in his Nostrils: for wherein is he to be regarded?

3. The Captain of Fifty, and him who is of a respected Face, as also the Counsellor, the skilful Artificer, and him who understands Eloquence.

4. And I will make Boys their Princes, and Children shall rule over them.

5. The People too shall be exacted upon, one by another, and a Man by his Neighbour: they shall be haughty, the Boy against the Elder, and the Base against the Honourable.

6. Though a Man takes hold of his own Brother, of his Father's Family, saying, Thou hast Cloaths, thou shalt be our Leader, that this Disaster may be under thy Hand:

Ver. 5. let us go] that what is foretold in the preceding Verse may be fulfilled.

Ver. 6. For] So there was need of the Exhortation in the foregoing Verse, that the Lord who had forsaken them, might return to them again. The Heb. Particle is no more therefore, than the Connection or Sense of the Passage is.

7. He will lift up his Hand at that Time, protesting; I will not be one to bind up, for there is no Viſuals nor Cloaths in my Houſe; do not make me a Leader of the People:

8. Since Jeruſalem is ſtumbled, and Judah fallen; becauſe their Tongue and Doings towards the Lord, were to provoke his glorious Eyes.

9. The Impudence of their Face teſtifies againſt them, and they declare their Sin like Sodom, they do not conceal it: wo is to their Soul, for they recompence Evil to themſelves.

10. Say to the Righteous, that it will be well: for they ſhall eat the Fruit of their Doings.

11. Wo is to the Wicked, it will be ill: for the Recompence of his Hands ſhall be done to him.

12. As for my People, Children are Exaſters on them, and Women rule over them: my People, thoſe who direct thee cauſe to go aſtray, and devour the Way of thy Paths.

13. The Lord ſtands to plead, and ſtands up to judge the People.

14. The Lord will enter into Judgment with the Elders of his People, and the Princes of them: for you feed on the Vineyard, the Spoil of the Poor is in your Houſes.

15. What Buſineſs have you to bruise my People, and grind the Faces of the Poor? ſays the Sovereign Lord of Armies.

16. And the Lord ſays, becauſe the Daughters of Zion are lofty, and go ſtretching out the Neck, and winking with the Eyes, walking along mincing as they go, and wear Fetters on their Feet;

17. That he will make the Crown of the Daughters of Zion ſcabbed, and the Lord will make naked their ſecret Parts.

18. At that Time will the Lord take away the Fetter-ornaments, and the Cauls, and the Studs,

19. The Perfume-boxes, and the Chains, and the Spangles,

20. The Tires, and the Bracelets, and the Ribbands, and the Shrines, and the Amulets,

22. The Suits of Cloaths, and the Mantles, and the Aprons, and the Pockets,

23. The Looking-glaſſes, and the Lawn, and the Hoods, and the Veils.

24. And inſtead of Spice there ſhall be Corruption, inſtead of a Girdle cutting off, inſtead of trimmed Work Baldneſs, inſtead of a Gown girding with Sackcloth, burning inſtead of Beauty.

25. Thy Perſons ſhall fall by the Sword, and thy Power by the War.

26. Her Gates ſhall alſo ſorrow and mourn, and ſhe being cleaned ſhall ſit on the Ground.

3. And he that is left in Zion, and he that remains in Jerusalem, will be called holy, every one who is written as being alive in Jerusalem;

4. When the Lord has washed away the Filthiness of the Daughters of Zion, and washed off the Blood of Jerusalem from within it, by the Spirit of Judgment, and that of Burning.

5. The Lord too will create upon every Settlement of Mount Zion, and upon the Convocations of it, a Cloud by Day with Smoak, and the Shining of a flaming Fire at Night: for there will be a Protection over all the Glory.

6. And there will be a Tabernacle for a Shadow by Day, from the Heat; as also for a Shelter and a Covert, from the overflowing Storm and Rain.

C H A P. V.

I WILL sing now of my Beloved, my beloved One's Song concerning his Vineyard. My Beloved has a Vineyard in a very plentiful Place:

2. Which he fenced about, gathered the Stones out of it, planted it with a choice Vine, built a Tower within it, and also cut out a Wine-press therein; but when he expected it should yield Grapes, it yielded rotten ones.

3. And now, O Inhabitants of Jerusalem, and Men of Judah, I would have you judge between me and my Vineyard.

Ver. 2. the Sprout] Hezekiah strictly at that Time, 2 Chron. xxix. 1, 2, 3, &c. but ultimately and fully in the Evangelical Sense Christ.

Ib. Fruit] after the Scarcity, Chap. iii. 1. As it relates to Christ Jesus, the Sprout of the Lord, and Fruit of the Earth, may denote his being God and Man.

Ver. 5. Cloud] He will protect them as he did in the Wilderness, Exod. xiii. 21.

Ib. Glory] the Temple and sacred Things which were on Mount Zion.

Ver. 6. Tabernacle] to which he compares the divine Protection.

Ib. overflowing Storm] Heb. Flood.

Ver. 1. very] This is one of the most particular Hebraisms in Scripture, viz. the Horn of the Son of Oil; which I thus resolve, Horn usually in a metaphorical Sense signifies Strength, not a Hill, Son as it seems here Place, and Oil since it is not proper to a Vineyard Plenty: so in the Bibles both of Matthew and the Bishops, a very fruitful plenteous ground. Symmachus a Gr. Transl. turned the latter Words, in the midst of Olives, taking $\beta\alpha$ for $\gamma\alpha$ See Drusius Vet. Interp. Frag.

4. What was there more to be done to my Vineyard, that I did not do in it? Why when I expected it should yield Grapes, did it yield rotten ones?

5. Now therefore I would let you know, what I will do to my Vineyard: I will take away its Hedge, and it shall be fed on; break down its Fence, and it shall be trampled upon.

6. Nay I will make it desolate, it shall neither be pruned, nor weeded, but the Briers and Brambles shall come up; and I will command the Clouds to rain down no Rain upon it.

7. For the Family of Israel is the Vineyard of the Lord of Armies, and the Men of Judah are the Plant of his Delight: so he expects Judgment, but there is Banding together; Justice, but there is Clamour.

8. Wo be to those who join House to House, who put Field to Field, till there is no Place left; that you alone may be settled within the Country.

9. In my Hearing the Lord of Armies said, that many Houses should become desolate, great and good ones, without Inhabitant.

10. For ten Acres of Vineyard shall yield but one Bath, and a Homer of Seed shall yield but an Ephah.

11. Wo be to those who rising early in the Morning, follow strong Drink, after which in the Evening Wine inflames them;

12. And there is the Harp and Lute, Timbrel and Pipe, as well as Wine at their Entertainments: but they do not mind the Work of the Lord, nor consider the Doing of his Hands.

13. Therefore my People go away captive, by being without Knowledge; and those of their Glory are hungry Persons, and their Multitude are dried up with Thirst.

Ver. 2. also] of it, and also made a wine-press there is left out in my Eng. Bible printed at London, 1708, which I may well mention as a Caution concerning the Press.

Ver. 5. I would] or let me I pray, Ver. 3.

Ver. 7. Banding together] as the Root shews, to hinder Judgment and Justice by Clamour. The Original is harmonious in this Manner, He expects mishpat, but there is mispah; zedakah, but there is zegnakah.

Ver. 8. you] He elegantly turns it on themselves. they in com. Transl. seems to be through meer Carelessness, especially as so many had it under their Care.

Ib. Country] Any one's Sense may tell him that the Earth in general is not here meant.

Ver. 10. For] the Reason of the foregoing, as the Particle signifies.

Ib. Bath] nearly about seven Gallons and a half Wine-measure.

Ib. Ephah] but the tenth Part of what was sown, Ezek. xlv. 11. These were, the former for liquid, and this for dry Measure.

Ver. 13. captive] 2 Chron. xxviii. 5, 8, 17. I have chosen to render this and the next Verse in the present

14. There-

14. Therefore the Grave enlarges it self, and opens its Mouth out of Measure; and their Honour, Multitude and Tumult, with the Triumphant, go down into it.

15. So Man will be bowed down, each one be low, and the Eyes of the Lofty be humbled.

16. And the Lord of Armies will be lofty in Judgment, and the holy God sanctified in Justice.

17. Then will the Sheep feed as their Manner is, and Strangers eat the waste Places of the fat ones.

18. Wo be to them that draw Iniquity with Cords of Vanity, and Sin as with Cart-ropes:

19. Who say, Let him make speed, let him hasten his Doing, that we may see it; and let the Counsel of the Holy One of Israel approach, and come, for us to know it.

20. Wo be to those who call Evil Good, and Good Evil; who put Darkness for Light, and Light for Darkness; put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter.

21. Wo be to those who are wise in their own Sight, and of Understanding before their own Face.

22. Wo be to those who are powerful to drink Wine, and valiant Men to mix strong Drink:

23. That justify the Wicked for a Bribe, and take away the Righteousness of the Righteous from them.

24. Therefore as a Flake of Fire consumes the Stubble, and the Flame makes the Litter cease; their Root will be as Corruption, and their Flower will fly up like the Dust: for they reject the Law of the Lord of Armies, and contemn the Sayings of the Holy One of Israel.

25. For this Cause the Lord is angry with his People, and he stretches out his Hand against them, and smites them; so that the Mountains are moved, and their dead Bodies are as the Sweepings within the Streets: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is stretched out still.

26. And he will lift up a Standard for the Nations far off, and whistle for it from the utmost Part of the Earth; that will behold come with Speed swiftly.

27. None will be weary, nor yet stumble among them, they will not slumber nor sleep; neither will the Girdle of their Loins be let loose, nor the Latchet of their Shoes be broken asunder.

28. Whose Arrows are sharpened, and all their Bows bended: the Hoofs of their Horses are counted like the Rock, and their Wheels like the Whirlwind.

29. The Roaring of them will be as of a stout Lion, and they will roar like young Lions; nay rage, lay hold of the Prey, take away, and none will deliver.

30. They will even rage against them at that Time, like the Raging of the Sea: and when one looks at the Country, there will be Darkness, Distress, and the Light will be darkened in the Ruins of it.

CHAP. VI.

IN the Year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting upon a Throne high and raised up, and his Skirts filled the Temple.

2. There stood Seraphs above it, having each six Wings: with two he covered his Face, with two his Feet, and with two he flew.

3. And one cried thus to another, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Armies, the whole Earth is full of his Glory.

4. The Posts of the Door then moved at the Voice of him who cried, and the House was filled with Sinoak.

5. Upon which I said, Wo is to me, for I am ruined, because I am a Man of unclean Lips, and dwell among a People of the Tense, as the whole was evidently to be together, not some past and some to come when the Prophet delivered it, see Chap. ix. 2.

Ver. 14. the Grave] by reason of the Famine, according to the preceding Verse.

Ver. 17. feed] by the Country being so desolate and uninhabited.

Ver. 24. reject] not cast away, according to Ch. viii. 6. & vii. 15, 16. & liv. 6.

Ver. 25. as the Sweepings] or Scraping; having the same radical Letters with the Noun in Lam. iii. 45. and the Verb. in Ezek. xxvi. 4. and being so interpreted by Jarhi and the Targumist, the two best Jewish Expositors. On Supposition that the Letter of Similitude belongs to the Root, it would read dead Bodies are a cutting, not tern, which I do not see to be agreeable.

Ib. for all] when they had been afflicted as before, in the Reign of Ahaz.

Ver. 26. far off] belonging to Nebuchadnezzar, Ch. xxxix. 3. Jer. v. 15. for it is plain by the foregoing Verse, that this was to be another future Punishment, and so brought to pass after the Time of Jesiah.

Ib. it] How elegantly the Babylonian Empire is described, as being one, but containing several Nations, by the Use of the singular and plural Numbers!

Ver. 29. take away] This shews they were not the Affyrians under Hexekiah, as the next Words do that they were not those others who invaded Judah under Ahaz, because the Affyrians then delivered, 2 King. xvi. 9. but were the Babylonians.

Ver. 30. rage] as they did, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 17, 18, 19, 20. Jer. lii. 10, 13, 14, 15.

Ib. Ruins] strictly Beheadings, or Breakings of the Neck.

Ver. 1. In the Year] By Ver. 5, 7, 8, 9. Chap. i. 1. with the Scholium on Ch. ii. 10. and References there, it is sufficiently clear that now was the Beginning of Isaiah's Prophecy; see also on Ch. i. 9.

Ib. Skirts] which the Heb. is, perhaps as of a Gown or Robe; but a Train is drawn behind.

Ib. Temple] added in the Sistine Bib. and the House was filled by his Majesty.

same:

same: for my Eyes have seen the King, the Lord of Armies.

6. But one of the Seraphs flew to me, with a Coal in his Hand, which he had taken off with the Tongs from the Altar.

7. And he put it to touch my Mouth, and said, Behold this touching thy Lips, thy Iniquity is taken away, and thy Sin purged.

8. Then I heard the Voice of the Lord say, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? And I answered, Here am I, send me.

9. Go, replied he, and tell this People; Hear still, though you will not understand, and see still, though you will not know.

10. Cause the Heart of this People to be fat, their Ears heavy, and their Eyes dim; lest they should see with their Eyes, hear with their Ears, understand with their Heart, and when they are converted, be healed.

11. And I said, How long, O Lord? Who answered; Until the Cities are waste without Inhabitant, and the Houses without Man, as also the Ground is laid waste with Desolation.

12. And the Lord has removed Man far off, so that there is a great Forsaking within the Country.

13. But there shall yet be a Tenth in it, that shall return, and shall be sown: like the Oak of both Kinds, of which there are Pillars at the Gate Shallecheth, the holy Seed shall be the Pillar of it.

AND in the Time of Ahaz, the Son of Jotham, the Son of Uzziah, King of Judah, Rezin King of Syria, and Pekah the Son of Remaliah King of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to war against it; but could not overcome it.

2. However when it was told the Family of David, that Syria rested upon Ephraim, the Heart of it was moved, and that of its People, as the Trees of the Wood are by means of the Wind.

3. Upon this the Lord said to Isaiah: Go forth now to meet Ahaz, with thy Son Shear-jashub, to the End of the Conduit of the upper Fish-pond, at the Highway of the Fuller's Field.

4. To whom thou shalt say; Take care to be quiet, be not afraid, nor let thy Heart be discouraged at the two Tails of these smoking Firebrands, for the Heat of the Anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the Son of Remaliah;

5. Because Syria, Ephraim, and the Son of Remaliah, have consulted this Harm against thee,

6. Let us go up against Judah, fatigue it, and part it asunder for us, or make the Son of Tabeal King within it.

7. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; It shall not be established, nor come to pass.

8. Though Damascus is the Head of Syria, and Rezin the Head of Damascus; yet within the sixty five Years Ephraim shall be broken from being a People.

Ver. 7. this &c.] I have touched thy Lips with this in Valg. Lat. by only losing one Letter.

Ver. 9. still] The Heb. Idioms here of an Infinitive following its own finite Verb have this Meaning, according to Buxtorf's Heb. Gram. Lib. 2. Cap. 16. Reg. 2. as rendered, Josh. xxiv. 10. Jer. xxiii. 17. and by Trem. and Jun. here indefinitely.

Ib. will] those Verbs being plural, and not in the imperative Mood like hear and see.

Ver. 10. Cause] for warning them must in some Sense make them worse, because they would reject it, if not be more wicked (as is usual) for being reprov'd.

Ver. 11. How long] shall they be thus warned?

Ver. 13. a Tenth] which should return from the Babylonian Captivity.

Ib. sown] afflicted and oppressed, as they were afterwards.

Ib. both Kinds] Male and Female in the Heb.

Ib. Shallecheth] one of the Gates at the west Side of the outer Court round the Temple, 1 Chron. xxvi. 16. according to Lightfoot, and Prideaux's Ichnography of the Temple in Connect. Pt. 1. B. 3. at the Sides of which seem then to be two such large remarkable Trees for Posts. Jun. and Trem. supposed they grew at the Sides of the Causeway going to this Gate, and kept up the Earth there; but that is too wide from the Heb. Words.

Ver. 13. holy Seed] The virtuous Offspring of their Forefathers should be such a Pillar, after the Captivity; as were Ezra, Nehemiah, Zerubbabel, the Maccabees, &c. very remarkably.

Ver. 1. to Jerusalem] as 2 King. xvi. 5.

Ver. 2. rested] the same Verb as in Ver. 19, which does not signify to be confederate. Syria being the Principal in the War, 2 Chron. xxviii. 5. seems to have depended on Israel as an Auxiliary.

Ib. Heart of it] of David's Family; which Gratius applies to the Israelites, but without any Grounds that I can see.

Ver. 6. part] The Verb is usually for cleave, or cut asunder.

Ib. for us] The Heb. being also a Preposition and Pronoun.

Ib. or] So Jun. and Trem. have aut, agreeable to the foregoing Part.

Ib. the Son of Tabeal] who might be Zichri, 2 Chron. xxviii. 7. see on Ver. 5. there.

Ver. 8. Though] As the Heb. Particle signifies either for or though, I preferred that which only would make Sense; viz. though Ephraim had such a potent Friend in Rezin, yet, &c.

Ib. within] or in sixty five Years more, which may be full ones, as Ch. xxi. 16. Jer. xxviii. Josh. i. 11. with iii. 2.

Ib. sixty] of which see the Chronology at the End of Dan. - The Writer of Critical Notes on some Pass. exposes the Conceit of Louis Capellus, and of Gratius, who would have the 60 be 6, by leaving out 5, which he says was above seven Years after the Death of Rezin and Pekah; as he does another extravagant Attempt of Vitringa, to make it 16, by supposing the 6 after six to be a Numeral for 10; yet he himself would make it the latter, both by putting in 60 and putting out 5, a very odd

9. Notwithstanding Samaria is the Head of Ephraim, and the Son of Remaliah the Head of Samaria: I protest if you will not believe, that you shall not be confirmed.

10. The Lord also spoke further to Ahaz as follows,

11. Ask for a Sign for thee from the Lord thy God; asking either in the Depth, or the Height above.

12. But Ahaz answering, I will not ask, nor tempt the Lord.

13. He replied: Hear now, O Family of David; Is it little with you to weary Men, that ye weary my God also?

14. Therefore the Lord himself will give you a Sign; Behold a Virgin shall conceive, and bear a Son, whose Name she shall call Immanu-el.

15. He shall eat Butter and Honey, till he knows how to reject Evil, and to choose Good.

16. For before a Child shall know how to reject Evil, and to choose Good, the Country shall be forsaken, with which thou art fatigued by means of its two Kings.

17. The Lord will cause to come upon thee, upon thy People, and Fathers Family, Times that have not come, even from the Time Ephraim departed from Judah, by the King of Assyria.

18. At which Time the Lord will whistle for the Flies that are at the End of the Rivers of Egypt, and for the Bees which are in the Country of Assyria.

19. So that they shall come, and rest all of them in the desolate Valleys, in the Holes of the Rocks, in all thorny Places, and in all commendable ones.

20. At that Time the Lord will shave with a Razor which is hired, even with those beyond the River, with the King of Assyria, the Head and the Hair of the Feet; and it shall also consume the Beard.

21. At which Time a Man shall keep alive a young Cow, and two Sheep.

22. And through the Abundance of Milk that they will give, he shall eat Butter: for every one shall eat Butter and Honey, who is left in the Country.

23. In the same Time every Place, where there were a thousand Vines at a thousand Pieces of Silver, shall be for Briers and Brambles.

24. They shall come thither with Arrows and Bow: for the whole Country shall be Briers and Brambles.

Thing when so done, and not like the different Periods in Dan. ix. 25. which he would justify it by; see his pag. 65—70.

Ver. 9. Notwithstanding] Though Pekah King of Israel was so powerful in the manner related in the preceding Verse, yet they ought to believe what was said, as it would certainly be.

Ver. 11. asking] it in the Eng. is by mistaking n for a Pronoun, which requires other Pointing.

Ver. 14. Virgin] See Mat. i. 22, 23. That this Heb. Word always signifies so in Scripture, may be seen in Kidder's Demonstration of the Messiah, P. ii. Ch. 5. Virgil has,

*Jam redit et Virgo,
And the blest Maid restores,* Lauderdale.

Ib. a Son] Thus Virgil,

*Jam nova progenies caelo demittitur alto,
A golden Progeny from Heav'n descends,* Dryd.

Ver. 15. Butter and Honey] By Allusion to the general Diet now foretold, Ver. 22. and as to Jesus it might denote his mean Education, in Contradistinction to Flesh and Dainties.

Ib. till] Heb. to his knowing betw, which is the same respecting Time; and this is the apparent Meaning of h before the infinitive Mood, Psa. xxxvi. 2. and before a Noun, Dent. xvi. 4. Ezek. xxxix. 19. as also there rendered, and likewise here in the Chal. Targum by וְיָ and by Grotius donec. Lowth produces for parallel Instances Lev. xxiv. 12. Job. xxxviii. 13. but the first of them is less clear, and the latter will scarce be allowed that Meaning. However it is not to be thought, that the Knowledge is ascribed to the eating Butter and Honey.

Ib. knows] See Luk. ii. 40, 52. It might be partly mentioned to found the Prophecy of the following Verse upon.

Ver. 16. a Child] any one newly born when the Prophet spoke this; for it could not be the child Jesus.

Ib. the Country] Syria might be principally intended, which had King Pekah to assist it, Ver. 2.

Ib. forsaken] Pekah King of Israel being slain in the 5th Year of Ahaz, their Captivity seems to be the Year before, 2 King. xv. 29, 30. as that of Syria might be a Year sooner, 2 King. xvi. 9.

Ib. fatigued] the same Verb as in Ver. 6. which never signifies to abhor. Isaiah was not only fatigued through the Kings with the rest, but by his fruitless prophesying, Ver. 13.

Ib. by means] as this Word frequently signifies, but not simply of; and the Kings been slain is unapt to forsaken; see De Dieu, Animad.

Ver. 17. thee] for it began upon Ahaz, 2 Chron. xxviii. 20.

Ib. by] for the King of Assyria was not the Days, as in the pres. com. Transf. so Jun. and Trem. have per with Grot.

Ver. 18. Egypt] The King of Assyria having subdued Egypt before he went against Judah, Chap. xx. 1. probably took People from thence to help him, Ch. xx. 4. who are represented by Flies, as being weaker Insects than Bees.

Ver. 19. desolate] the fear of Sennacherib's Troops driving the Inhabitants into the fortified Cities, 2 King. xviii. 13.

Ib. commendable] fit for such Insects, from the Root to praise or commend; Vulgate, Holes, by mistaking n for n Schind. Lex.

Ver. 20. shave] As Sennacherib's Invasion of Judah did, rather than cut.

Ib. hired] because the King of Assyria was by Ahaz, 2 King. xvi. 7, 8.

Ib. River] Euphrates, beyond which Assyria lay.

Ib. Feet] modestly so expressed.

Ver. 22. Butter] shewing hereby the Scarcity of Corn, &c. see Chap. xxxii.

Ver. 24. thither] to hunt, Gen. xxvii. 3. but I do not suppose with other Expositors, that the Country was overrun with wild Beasts in a Year or two.

25. However as for all Mountains which are weeded with the Weeding-hook, there shall not come thither the Fear of Briers and Brambles; but it shall be for the sending forth of Oxen, and for the treading of small Cattle.

C H A P. VIII.

THE Lord said to me further, Take thee a great Volume, and write in it with a Man's Pen, concerning Maher-shalhash-baz.

2. And I had faithful Witnesses to testify for me, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the Son of Jeberechiah.

3. Having gone to the Prophets, who had conceived, and born a Son: and the Lord said unto me; Call his Name Maher-shalhash-baz.

4. For before the Child shall know how to call, My Father, and My Mother; the Wealth of Damascus, and the Spoil of Samaria, shall be carried away before the King of Assyria.

5. And the Lord proceeded to speak to me again as follows:

6. Because this People reject the Water of Shiloah that runs gently; and there is Joy with Rezin, and the Son of Remaliah:

7. Now therefore behold the Lord will bring up over them, the Waters of the River strong and many, even the King of Assyria and all his Glory; that shall come up over all its Channels, and run over all its Banks.

8. It shall also pass through Judah, overflow, and go over, reaching to the Neck; and the Stretching out of his Wings shall fill the Wideness of the Country, O Immanuel.

9. Join in Confederacy, O People, yet you shall be broke in pieces; and give ear, all who are of the remote Places of the Earth: gird your selves, yet ye shall be broke in pieces; gird your selves, yet you shall be broke in pieces.

10. Take counsel, yet it shall become void; speak the Word, yet it shall not stand: for it is Immanuel.

11. For thus spoke the Lord to me with a strong Hand, and instructed me from going in the Way of this People thus:

12. You shall not say, a Confederacy, of any of whom this People say, a Confederacy; neither shall you fear as they do, nor be in Dread.

13. Sanctify the Lord of Armies himself; and let him be whom you fear, and whom you dread.

14. So will he become a Sanctuary; but a tripping Stone, and a stumbling Rock to the two Families of Israel, a Gin and a Snare to the Inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15. Among whom many will stumble, fall, be broke, ensnared, and taken.

16. Bind up the Testimony, seal up the Law among my Scholars.

17. And I will tarry for the Lord, who hides his Face from the Family of Jacob, and will wait for him.

18. Behold I and the Children that the Lord has given, are Signs, and Tokens in Israel, from the Lord of Armies who dwells on Mount Zion.

19. And though they say to you, Seek to such as have familiar Spirits, and to Sorcerers that chirp and mutter; Should not the People seek to their God? What to the Dead for the Living?

20. It should be to the Law, and to the Testimony; if they do not speak according to this Word, it is not Morning with them.

21. And they shall pass through it with Difficulty, and Hunger: and when they are hungry, and enraged; they will curse their King and God, looking upward.

22. Then will they look on the Earth;

Ver. 25. Mountains] whither the People betook themselves for Safety, as Ver. 19.

Ib. Oxen] to till the Land.

Ib. Cattle] to feed.

Ver. 3. Having gone] not after he had the Witnesses.

Ib. Maher-shalhash-baz] that is Speedy for the Spoil, hastening to the Prey; מִהֵר being an Adjective, not an inf. Verb, as others expound it.

Ver. 6. this People] of Judah, to whom Isaiah belonged.

Ib. Shiloah] a Brook at Jerusalem, Neb. iii. 15. John ix.

7. By this the Lord seems to blame them for distrusting and disregarding his Help, who would defend Jerusalem, 2 King. xix. 34. and hiring the King of Assyria to save them, 2 King. xvi. 7, 8. as if they humanly compared their own Ability and the Assyrian King's to Shiloah and the Euphrates at Assyria, the Prophecy being continued under that Simile.

Ib. Joy] for the intended Conquest of Judah, Ch. vii.

6. As here is a Noun, and not a Verb, it also appears that it does not belong to the foregoing Part, or to the People.

Ver. 7. them] Syria and Israel, where Rezin and Pekah the Son of Remaliah reigned.

Ver. 8. Judah] of which see the fulfilling, 2 King. 18.

Ib. to the Neck] not quite drowning, aptly expressing Sennacherib's Invasion.

Ib. Immanuel] Christ being born there, who is so called, Mat. i. 23. It might also denote God's Presence with them then, according to the Meaning of the Word.

Ver. 9. Join] spoken ironically, meaning though you join.

Ver. 10. it is] the Country, as Ver. 8.

Ver. 14. Stones] See this explained Rom. ix. 32, 33. 1 Pet. ii. 8.

Ib. stumbling Rock] according to the Heb. by which understand, like such a one as is uneven and craggy to be gone over.

Ver. 18. Tokens] as in Ezek. xii. 11.

Ver. 20. Morning] as the Word signifies, not Light; those being unconverted.

Ver. 21. with Difficulty] Does one in ten thousand of the common People know that bestead means profited or supplied? used by Milton in the former Sense; and then hardly may rather be taken wrong for scarcely, or however be uncertain, and there will be Distress and Darkeness, Obscurity by Streightness, and being driven away in the Dark.

CHAP. IX.

THOUGH the Obscurity will not be such to those who are streightened in it, as at the Time he first inflicts it lightly in the Country of Zebulun, and that of Naphtali, and afterwards heavily: at the Way of the Sea, the Side of Jordan, in Galilee of the Gentiles,

2. The People that went in Darkeness see a great Light; they who dwelt in the Country of the Shadow of Death have the Light shining upon them.

3. Thou hast increased the Nation, hast not thou made the Gladness great? They are glad before thee as with the Gladness at Harvest, as Men rejoice when they divide the Spoil.

4. For the Yoke of his Burden, and the Staff of his Shoulder, the Rod of the Exacter on him, hast thou broke in pieces as at the Time of Midian.

5. Though every Combat of the Combatant is with Commotion, and Cloaths rolled in Blood; yet this will be with Burning, Fuel of Fire.

6. For we shall have a Child born, shall have a Son given, upon whose Shoulders will be the Principality; and his Name will be called, The Wonderful One, the Counsellor, the Powerful God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace.

7. Of the Abundance of Principality and Peace there will be no End, he being upon the Throne of David, and in his Kingdom, to establish it, and support it, with Judgment and Righteousness: henceforth even for ever, the Zeal of the Lord of Armies will do this.

8. The Lord has sent the Word into Jacob, and it has fallen in Israel.

9. And the People shall all of them know, Ephraim and the Inhabitants of Samaria, who in Pride and Greatness of Heart are saying,

10. The Bricks being fallen down, we

Ver. 1. The Affliction will not be so great during the Captivity of Israel, spoken of in the two last Verses, as at the very Time of destroying their Country, and carrying them into Captivity; which would first be done lightly in Comparison of the following, at those Places, as it was by Tiglath-pileser King of Assyria, 2 King. xv. 29. and afterwards heavily, as it was by Salmanser, 2 King. xviii. 9, 10, 11. see Chap. viii. 7.

Ib. at the Way] See the fulfilling and applying of this, Mat. iv. 13, 14, 15, 16. from which, as also from the Heb. Pauso, and the Judgment of the best Interpreters, it is to be thus parted.

Ib. Sea] that of Galilee or Tiberias, Job. vi. 1.

Ver. 2. see] The Prophets having a Knowledge or View of future Things as if present, might speak of them accordingly; and as it is not so easy to conceive how, or why, they should have a View of them as past, the variable Heb. Tense of the Verb seems best rendered in the Eng. present Tense.

Ver. 3. hast not] By not taking this interrogatively, how inconsistently Interpreters have exhibited it, we have an Example in the com. Bible. And sufficient might be said against the Ways taken by Grot. and Dico to reconcile it.

Ib. Harvest] See Chap. xvi. 9. Dent. xvi. 13, 14.

Ver. 4. Staff] for carrying Burdens I suppose between two, as Num. xiii. 23. see Chap. x. 27.

Ib. Midian] Judg. vii. 21, 22. see Chap. x. 26.

Ver. 5. every &c.] The Chald. Targum widely thus, All that they receive and give is with Wickedness; they have polluted themselves with Iniquities, even as a Garment stained with Blood, from which the Marks of the Spots are not cleansed: so as that is no more useful for any Thing, but to be burnt in the Fire; so will he put against those People them that are as strong as Fire, and they shall kill them.

Ib. Burning] As Mal. iv. 1.

Ver. 6. upon whose Shoulders] Virgil in his Pollio or 4th Eclogue, partly taken from the Cumæan Sibyl's Prophecy of Christ, as by his Ver. 4. Ultima Cumæi, &c. writes,

Aspicere convexo nutantem pondere mundum,
Terrasque, tractusque maris, cælumque profundum;

See lab'ring Nature calls thee to sustain

The nodding Frame of Heav'n, and Earth, and Main, Dryden.

Ib. The Wonderful One] Since Poole, whose Annotations are noted and frequent, pretty ingeniously pleads that the Words may best be taken jointly, Wonderful Counsellor, and consequently it might be thought I should have rendered them so: to obviate this, the Reader may be informed, that the Heb. does not admit of that Construction; a Substantive, as Buxtorf asserts, is always put before its Adjective, Thej. Gram. Lib. ii. Chap. 1. Reg. 2. for which reason Wonderful is not an Adjective to Counsellor, but has another Substantive understood, viz. Person or one; so that if the Words are joined, the latter must be the Genitive of the first, and will then read, The wonderful (one) of Counsellor, which is absurd. There are indeed divers Instances, where such an Adjective is followed by a Substantive not Personal, or denoting a Person, as in Psa. xcvi. 11. the upright (ones) of Heart; and so it may by a Personal Substantive that is plural, an Example of which occurs Dan. iv. 17. the lowest of Men, that is among Men: but, as it may now clearly appear, a singular Substantive of the latter Kind cannot be thus connected. Nor will this Criticism I presume be useless, besides its Application to those Words in the Text. Next as for the Sense of them, Poole's Proposal restricts Christ's being wonderful only to Counsel, and also makes him a Counsellor only wonderful; whereas he was wonderful in all Accomplishments, and a Counsellor in all respects.

Ib. Everlasting Father]

Thus shall Mankind his guardian Care engage,
The promis'd Father of the future Age,

Pope's Messiah.

Ib. Prince of Peace] The same Virgil,

Pacatumque reget patriis virtutibus orbem:

The jarring Nations he in Peace shall bind,

And with paternal Virtues rule Mankind.

Ver. 7. he being] For want of this the com. Version is quite imperfect.

Ib. do this] continue doing it; the original Heb. as also the Transl. of Jun. and Trem. being thus divided.

Ver. 10. fallen down] Pul King of Assyria having invaded their Country, and imposed a Contribution on them, 2 King. xv. 19, 20.

Ib. build up] by joining with Rezin King of Syria; Ch. vii. 1. 2 King. xvi. 5.

will build up with hewn Stone: the Sycomores being cut down, we will change them to Cedars.

11. Whereas the Lord will exalt the Adversaries of Rezin against him, and mingle his Enemies together;

12. Syria being before, and the Philistines behind, they shall eat up Israel with the whole Mouth: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is stretched out still.

13. Since the People do not return to him who smites them, nor seek the Lord of Armies.

14. So the Lord will cut off from Israel, the Head and Tail, the Branch and Rush, at one Time.

15. The Elder, who is of a respected Face, he is the Head; and the Prophet that teaches Falseness, he is the Tail.

16. Even those who guide this People cause to go astray, and such as are guided by them are devoured.

17. Therefore the Lord will not be glad for their young Men, nor have Mercy upon their Fatherless and Widows; since every one of them is a Hypocrite, and an Evil-doer, and every Mouth speaks Vileness: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is stretched out still.

18. For Wickedness burns like Fire, it will consume the Briers and Brambles; and kindle in the Brakes of the Wood, so that they will mount up in lofty Smoak.

19. Through the Wrath of the Lord of Armies is the Country darkened; and the People will be as the Fuel of Fire, they will not spare one another.

20. And they will cut on the right Hand, yet be hungry; and eat on the left, yet be not satisfied: they will eat each one the Flesh of his Arm;

21. Manasseh Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasseh; who will be together against Judah: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is stretched out still.

C H A P. X.

WO be to those who make Decrees of Iniquity, and write such grievous Things as they do:

2. To turn aside the Poor from Judgment, and to take away by force the Right of the Afflicted of my People; for Widows to be their Spoil, and that they may prey upon the Fatherless.

3. And what will you do at the Time of Visitation, and at the Wasting that shall come far off? To whom will you flee for Help? and where will you leave your Glory?

4. Without me they will bow down in the Place of Prisoners, and fall in the Place of the Slain: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is stretched out still.

5. Wo be to Assyria the Rod of my Anger, in whose Hand my Indignation is a Staff.

6. Whom I send into a hypocritical Nation, and command against the People of my Wrath; to take the Effects for Spoil, and what there is for Plunder, nay to make it be trod on as the Dirt of the Streets.

7. But he does not imagine so, nor his Heart think so: for it is in his Heart to destroy, and cut off Nations not a few.

8. For he says; are not my Princes together Kings?

9. Is not Calno like Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria like Damascus?

10. According as my Hand found the idolatrous Kingdoms, whose carved Images were above both those of Jerusalem, and those of Samaria;

11. Shall not I, as I have done to Samaria and its Idols, so do to Jerusalem and its Images?

12. Therefore when the Lord has accomplished all his Work on Mount Zion, and Jerusalem; I will punish the Fruit of the Greatness of the King of Assyria's Heart, and the Glory of his lofty Eyes.

13. For he boasts; By the Power of my Hand have I done it, and by my Wisdom; because I am prudent: so I have taken away the Bounds of the People, plundered their prepared Things, and cast down the Inhabitants like a strong one.

14. My Hand too has found the Wealth of the People like a Nest; and as one gathers up Eggs that are left, have I gathered up all the Earth : and there was none that wagged a Wing, opened the Bill, or chirped.

Ver. 1. do] The Verb is write as before, and properly rendered by this Auxiliary.

15. Shall the Ax glory against him who cuts with it ? Shall the Saw magnify it self against him who moves it ? As if a Rod should shake at those that lift it up, as if a Staff should set it self up not to be Wood.

16. The Lord, the Lord of Armies, will therefore send Leanness into his fat ones, and make a Burning under his Glory like that of a Fire.

17. For the Light of Israel will become a Fire, and his Holy One a Flame ; which will burn up, and consume his Brambles and Briers at one Time.

18. Nay will waste the Glory of his Woods and arable Land, both Inside and Outside ; and it will be like the fainting of an Ensign.

19. Moreover the rest of the Trees of his Woods will be so few, that a Child may write them down.

20. At which Time the rest of Israel, and those who are escaped of the Family of Jacob, will again no more depend upon him that smote them, but will truly depend upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel.

21. The rest will return, the rest of Jacob, to the powerful God.

22. For if thy People Israel are as the Sand of the Sea, it is the rest of them will return ; the Consummation determined will overflow with Righteousness.

23. Since a Consuming, and that determined, will the Sovereign Lord of Armies make within the whole Country.

24. Therefore thus says the Sovereign

Lord of Armies ; O my People, who dwell-est at Zion, be not afraid of Assyria, that smites thee with a Rod, and lifts up his Staff against thee, in the Manner of Egypt.

25. For within a very little while the Indignation shall be consumed, and my Anger for their Consumption.

26. And the Lord of Armies will stir up a Scourge against him, like the Slaughter of Midian on the Rock Oreb ; and his Staff upon the Sea, which he will lift up in the Manner of Egypt.

27. At which Time his Burden will depart from thy Shoulder, and his Yoke from thy Neck ; and the Yoke will be spoiled by reason of the Oil.

28. He comes by Aijath, passes through Migron ; at Michmash will he lay up his Arms.

29. They go over the Passage, lie all Night in the Lodging-place at Gebah : Ramah is afraid, Gibeah of Saul flees.

30. Squeak with thy Voice, O Daughter of Gallim ; make them hear to Laish, O poor Anathoth.

31. Madmenah removes, the Inhabitants of Gebim who are gathered together.

32. That Day standing yet at Nob, he will shake his Hand at the Mountain of the Daughter of Zion, the Hill of Jerusalem.

33. Behold the Sovereign Lord of Armies will lop the Branch with Violence ; and those who are of high Stature will be cut down, and the Lofty humbled.

34. He will also chop down the Brakes of the Wood with Iron ; and Lebanon shall fall by a magnificent one.

Ver. 15. moves] shaking being not the proper Action of a Saw.

Ver. 18. Inside and Outside] unless the foregoing Things have soul and body : as for those who put it spirit and flesh, that is worse.

Ver. 20. the rest] Those seem to be some of the Kingdom of Israel, who escaped the Assyrian Captivity, or were left behind, Chap. xvii. 6, 9. as Nebuchadnezzar afterwards left some in Judah ; who lived in Subjection to the King of Assyria, but after his Overthrow in Henekiab's Reign, joined themselves to Judah, and returned to the true God : which clearly accounts for this and the two next Verses. White in his Commentary expounds it to be those who were cooped up by the Army of Sennacherib in Jerusalem : to which Lowth objects, as well he might, that they were to return, Ver. xxi. 22. and so he refers it to the Converts under the Gospel, that perhaps less agrees with at which Time, or in that day. Besides what Conversion was there of the rest of the Jews, who escaped the Destruction by the Romans under Vespasian ? Though many were converted before, that does not agree with this Term the rest, Residue, or Remainder. Notwithstanding Lowth's opposing White's Interpretation, he himself says, the Remnant preserved in Jerusalem from Sennacherib's Invasion, were a Type or Figure of Converts under the Gospel, implying that Remnant to be partly intended ; nay he says it was the same Remnant mentioned chap. xxxvii. 32. and writes on [no more stay] thus, viz, as Ahaz did on the King of Assyria : so that both those Authors seem to apply it to the Kingdom of Judah, whereas the Prophet twice mentions Israel, they being then two Nations under those Names.

AND a Sprout will come out of the Stem of Jesse, even a Shoot will spring out of his Roots.

2. Upon whom the Spirit of the Lord will rest, the Spirit of Wisdom and Understanding, the Spirit of Counsel and Power, the Spirit of Knowledge and the Fear of the Lord.

3. Which will make him so sensible of the Fear of the Lord, that he will not judge after the Sight of his Eyes, nor determine after the Hearing of his Ears.

4. But will judge the Poor with Righteousness, and determine for the Meek of the Earth with Uprightness; smiting the Earth with the Rod of his Mouth, and killing the Wicked with the Breath of his Lips.

5. The Girdle of whose Reins will be Righteousness, and Faithfulness that of his Loins.

6. Then will the Wolf lodge with the Lamb, the Leopard lie down with the Kid; and the Calf, young Lion, and fat Beast be together, with a little Boy guiding them.

7. The Cow and the Bear too will feed, their young Ones lying down together; and the Lion will eat Straw like the Ox.

8. Nay the sucking Child will delight himself upon the Hole of the Asp, and he that is weaned put forth his Hand upon the Cockatrice's Den.

9. They will not hurt, nor destroy on all my holy Mountain: for the Earth will be full of knowing the Lord, as the Waters cover the Sea.

10. Since there will be a Root of Jesse at that Time, who will stand up for the Standard of the People, to whom the Gentiles will seek; and his Rest will be glorious.

11. At which Time the Lord will proceed again with his Hand, to get the Residue of his People that are left, from Assyria, Egypt, Pathros, Cush, Elam, Shinar, Hamath, and the Isles of the Sea.

12. And lifting up a Standard to the Nations, he will gather those who are driven away of Israel, and bring together the Dispersed of Judah, from the four Coasts of the Earth.

13. The Envy of Ephraim will then depart, and the Distressings of Judah be cut off: Ephraim will not envy Judah, nor Judah distress Ephraim.

14. And they will fly on the Shoulders of the Philistines to the West, will plunder the eastern Race together; stretching forth their Hand to Edom and Moab, and the Ammonites obeying them.

15. The Lord will also utterly destroy the Bay of the Egyptian Sea, shake his Hand over the River with the Strength of his Wind, and striking it at the seven Floods, cause to go through with Shoes.

16. And there will be a High-way for the

Ver. 6. Wolf] This Union and Familiarity of the Creatures, who may represent People of different Natures, seems to mean no more than the Peace and Unity of the true Christians; see Chap. ii. 4. or according to Maimonides, being no longer like such Beasts, More Nevoch. Pt. ii. Ch. 29.

Ver. 9. Mountain] That is Christ, as in Chap. ii. 2, 3. and here observe a Distinction between Mountain and Earth: the Knowledge of Christ would be much in the Earth, but they would be such as were really on him, who would not hurt nor destroy, according to Chap. ii. 2, 3, 4.

Ver. 11. At which Time] By this and the foregoing Expressions, with Ver. 12. it appears that all which follows in this Chapter was to be after the Coming of Christ, and as these Words with the great Gospel Conversion shew, about that Time; which Grotius forcibly strains to Hezekiah's.

Ib. again] as he did before from Egypt, Ver. 16. again relating to People, not to Residue.

Ver. 12. gather] to Christ, pursuant to Ver. 9. and especially Gen. xlix. 10. whereas other Expositors thinking they were to make a real Journey to Jerusalem, interpret it yet to be fulfilled: if so it must be the material Mount Zion in Ver. 9. and that Mountain must actually be raised up above others, if not be removed and placed upon them, to fulfil Ch. ii. 2. According to their Exposition the Breath Ver. 4. is to be understood in the same Manner, and as the Jews understand it; one of whom blowing with his Mouth, said to me, so Christ would do when he comes, and kill the Wicked. On the contrary this Prophecy must begin figuratively, Ver. 1. and must be so interpreted further, if it is consistently applied to the true Jesus Christ and Christianity.

Ver. 13. Distressings] which is evident and elegant, by considering the Verse together, since the Heb. Word signifies this as well as Adversaries.

Ib. seven] The River Nile in Egypt ran into the Mediterranean by seven Channels, which Diodorus names, Lib. i. 3. but now only by two, Prideaux, Connec. Anno 374. so that this is another sure Sign the Prophecy is fulfilled.

Residue of his People that are left, from Assyria; as there was for Israel, at the Time he came up from the Country of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

AT which Time thou wilt say; I will praise thee, O Lord; though thou hast been angry with me, thy Anger is turned away, and thou dost comfort me.

2. Behold God is my Salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord Jehovah is my Strength and Psalm, and is become Salvation to me.

3. You will also draw Water with Joy out of the Wells of Salvation.

4. And will say at that Time; Praise the Lord, call on his Name, cause his Deeds to be known among the People, make mention that his Name is exalted.

5. Sing melodiously to the Lord, for he does what is excellent: this is made known in the whole Earth.

6. Shout joyfully, and sing, O Inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel within thee.

CHAP. XIII.

THE Burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the Son of Amoz saw.

2. Lift up a Standard upon the eminent Mountain, elevate the Voice to them, shake the Hand, that they may enter the Gates of the Nobles.

3. I have commanded my Sanctified, have also called my powerful ones for my Anger, those who triumph in my Excellency.

4. There is the Noise of a Multitude on the Mountains, the Likeness of a great People, a tumultuous Noise of the heathen Kingdoms gathered together; the Lord of Armies mustering the Army for War.

5. They come from a Country far off, from the End of the Heaven; even the Lord, and the Weapons of his Indignation, to spoil the whole Country.

6. Lament, for the Day of the Lord is near; it will come as Wafting from the Almighty.

7. Therefore all Hands will be slack, and every Heart of Man melt.

8. And they will be troubled, Pains and Torments will take hold, they will be in Anguish as a Woman in Labour; will be astonished one at another, their Faces being in a Flame.

9. Behold the Day of the Lord is coming, fierce, and with Wrath, and fervent Anger, to make the Country desolate; and he will destroy its Sinners out of it.

10. For the Stars of Heaven, and its Constellations, will not cause their Light to glitter: the Sun will be darkened when it goes forth, and the Moon not make its Light shine.

11. Then will I punish the World for Vice, and the Wicked for their Iniquity; as also make the Pride of the Lofty cease, and will humble the Haughtiness of the Violent.

12. I will cause a Man to be more precious than pure Gold, and Mankind than the famous Gold of Ophir.

13. Therefore will I move the Heaven, and the Earth shall remove from its Place, in the Wrath of the Lord of Armies, and at the Time of his fervent Anger.

14. So that as a Roe driven away, and as a Flock when none gathers together, they shall turn to their respective People, and flee to their several Countries.

15. Every one who is found shall be run through, and every one who is added fall by the Sword.

16. Their Children also shall be dashed to pieces before their Eyes, their Houses be plundered, and their Wives ravished.

17. Behold I will stir up the Medes against them; who will not esteem Silver, nor delight in Gold it self.

18. And the Bows will dash the Youths to pieces; as they will shew no Compassion to the Fruit of the Womb, their Eye will not spare the Sons.

19. Thus Babylon the Glory of the Kingdoms, the Ornament of the Chaldeans Excellency, will be as God's Overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah.

20. It will never be inhabited, nor dwelt in to all Ages; the Arabian will neither there pitch a Tent, nor the Shepherds cause to lie down there.

CHAP. XIV.

FOR the Lord will shew Jacob compassion, and yet choose Israel, placing them in their own Country: the Strangers will also be joined to them, and gathered to the Family of Jacob.

2. Whom the People will take, and introduce them to their Place, so that the Family of Israel will take possession of them in the Lord's Country, for Servant-men and Maids; nay they will take those Prisoners who took them so, and rule over their Exacters.

3. And at the Time the Lord causes thee to rest from thy Grief, Disturbance, and the hard Service which thou hast done;

4. Then shalt thou take up this Proverb concerning the King of Babylon that follows: How the Exacter is ceased! the golden one ceased!

5. The Lord has broke the Staff of the Wicked, the Rod of the Governors.

6. He who smote the People in Wrath with a continual Stroke, he who ruled the Nations in Anger is persecuted, none restraining.

7. The whole Earth rests, is quiet: they break out into Singing.

8. The Fir-trees also are glad for thee, the Cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou hast been laid down, there is no Feller come up against us.

9. The Grave from below is moved for thee, to meet thee coming, it stirs up the Deceased for thee, all the Chief of the Earth, raises up all the Kings of the Nations from their Thrones.

10. All of them will speak to thee in this Manner, Thou art also made as weak as we, thou art become like us.

11. Thy Pride, the Noise of thy Lutes, is brought down to the Grave: the Worms are spread under thee, and the Earth-worms cover thee.

12. How thou art fallen from Heaven, O Day-star, the Offspring of the Morning, cut down to the Ground, become more feeble than the Nations!

13. Though thou sayest in thy Heart, I will get up to Heaven, will make my Throne high above the Stars of God, and sit on the Mountain of the solemn Assembly, at the north Sides:

14. I will get up above the high Places of the Clouds, will be like the Highest One;

15. Yet thou wilt be brought down to the Grave, to the Sides of the Pit.

16. Those that see thee will take a View of thee, look at thee, saying, Is this the Man who moved the Earth, who shook the Kingdoms;

19. But thou art cast out of thy Sepulchre as an abominable Shoot, the Cloaths of those who are slain, being thrust through with the Sword, that go down to the Stones of the Pit, like a dead Body which is trod upon.

20. Thou wilt not be united with them in Burial, because thou hast destroyed thy Country, slain thy People: the Posterity of Evil-doers will never be renowned.

21. Prepare Slaughter for his Sons, for the Iniquity of their Fathers; that they may not rise up, and inherit the Earth, and fill the Surface of the World with Cities.

22. Nay I will rise up against them, says the Lord of Armies; and will cut off from Babylon the Name and Residue, even Son and Grandson, says the Lord.

23. And I will make it the Inheritance of the Bittern, and Pools of Water, as also sweep it with the Besom of Destruction, says the Lord of Armies.

24. The Lord of Armies has sworn thus; As I have intended, so shall it come to pass, and as I have taken counsel, it shall be confirmed;

25. To break Assyria in my Country, and that I will tread him down upon my Mountains, that his Yoke shall be taken off from them, and his Burden taken off from the Shoulder of each.

26. This Counsel is taken against the whole Earth, and this Hand is stretched out against all the Nations.

27. For the Lord of Armies takes counsel, and who shall make void? And his Hand is stretched out, then who shall turn it back?

28. In the Year that King Ahaz died, there was this Burden.

29. Be not glad, O Philistia all of thee, though the Rod that smote thee is broken: for there will come forth a Cockatrice from the Serpent's Root, whose Fruit will be a flying fiery Serpent.

30. Whereas the First-born of the Poor shall feed, and the Needy lie down securely; but I will cause thy Root to die, with Famine, and he shall slay the Remainder of thee.

31. Lament, O Gate, cry, O City; all of thee, Philistia, shall be dissolved: for there comes a Smoak from the North, and none is alone of his Companies.

32. And what shall be answered to the Ambassadors of the Nation? That the Lord has founded Zion, and the Afflicted of his People will trust in it.

THE Burden of Moab. Because in the Night Ar of Moab is wasted, perished, because in the Night Kir of Moab is wasted, perished;

2. It goes up to Baith and Dibon the high Places, with Weeping: Moab will lament for Nebo, and for Medeba; on all the Heads of it will be Baldness, every Beard be cut off.

3. In its Courts they will be girded with Sackcloth; upon her Roofs and in her Streets every one of it will lament, going down with Weeping.

4. Both Heshbon and Elaleh will cry,

Ver. 1. perished] so, or according to others cut off, the Verb signifies in the Conjugation Niphal, as it is here, and Chap. vi. 5. Psa. xlix. 12, 20. Hof. x. 7, 15. Obad. v. Zeph. i. 11. Jer. xlvii. 5. and in the active Form to cease, Jer. xiv. 17. Lam. iii. 49.

Ver. 3. going down with Weeping] in the same Manner as they should go up, Ver. 5. abundantly is very odd, not to say ignorant, translating; the Pretence for it may be seen in the Marg.

Ver. 25. Assyria] One great and general Fault I have frequently observed in our Scripture-Expositors, is making their Interpretations from the com. Eng. Bible, and laying Stress upon Words there which the Original does not support: an Instance of this Kind is here in Lewth's Commentary, he imagining then to imply the final Deliverance of God's People at that Time, rejects the plain Meaning of their Deliverance by the Destruction of Sennacherib's Army, and conceits that by the Assyrian may be meant some remarkable Enemies, particularly Gog and Magog; though the Heb. has no Adverb of Time for it, but only a mere Conjunction to couple the Parts of the Sentence together.

their Voice will be heard to Jahaz: therefore the armed Men of Moab will cry out, their own Lives will be ill to them.

5. My Heart shall cry for Moab, for its Barriers to Zoar, as an Heifer of the third Year: for at the Ascent of Luhith it will go up into it with Weeping, and at the Way of Horonaim will they stir up a Cry of Ruin;

6. For the Water of Nimrim will be desolate, and the Grass will be dried up, the Herbs consumed, there will be no green Thing.

7. Therefore the Residue that it has got, and those Things which they have put up, will be carried into the Valley of Willows.

8. For the Cry will go about the Brder of Moab, her Lamentation to Eglaim, and the same to Beer-elim.

9. For the Water of Dimon shall be full of Blood, and I will put more Things upon Dimon; a Lion to those who are escaped of Moab, and to the Remainder of the Country.

CHAP. XVI.

SEND the Governor of the Country's Sheep, that are from the Rock even to the Wilderness, to the Mountain of the Daughter of Zion.

2. For the Daughters of Moab will be as a wandering Bird sent out of the Nest, at the Passages of Arnon.

3. Bring Counsel, manage with Judgment, make thy Shadow like Night at the very Noon, hide the expelled ones, do not discover the Wanderer.

4. Let my expelled ones sojourn in thee; O Moab, be a Hiding-place to them from the Face of him who wastes: for the Presser will have an end, the Waster will fail, those that tread down be consumed out of the Country.

5. And the Throne will be established with Kindness, upon which he will sit with Truth, in the Tent of David, judging and seeking Judgment, and being ready in Justice.

6. We have heard of the Pride of Moab, that is very proud, of his Haughtiness, Pride, and Wrath; his false Devisings will not be so.

7. By reason of which Moab will lament for it self, every one of it will wail: for the Foundations of Kir-hareseth will you muse, they being surely bruised.

8. For the Fields of Heshbon are a languishing Place, the Vine of Sibmah, the Lords of the Nations beat down the choice Branches of it; they reach to Jazer, stray in the Wilderness; the Shoots of it are spread abroad, they pass over the Sea.

9. Therefore will I weep with the Weeping of Jazer, for the Vine of Sibmah; I will

Ver. 5. My Heart] as Moab might be a Place of Safety for the expelled People of Judah, Chap. xvi. 4.

Ib. cry] see Jer. xlviii. 34.

Ib. Barriers] The Heb. Word in other Places signifies a Bar or Bars, never fugitives; and as applied here to a Country, is very aptly Barriers, agreeable to Ver. 8. see Jun. and Trem. Annot.

Ib. as] which is to be supplied or understood to make Sense, as often in the Scripture; and the former is of Necessity required here, that Zoar may not be made a Heifer.

Ib. it will go up] viz. Moab, as Ver. 2. the Heb. Verb being singular. Whence the vulg. Lat. has Weeping will go up, which the great Grotius calls Egregia allusio, a choice allusion, and expounds it, if they should climb up the Mountains, Weeping would go up with them; but it might be rather from them, or according as they are said to stir or raise up a Cry, however the Original is misinterpreted, if only because it has with before Weeping.

Ver. 6. Grass] Upon the com. Transf. I would just remark, that it is well for Hay to be withered, or it must be so, but of its withering away I do not remember to have read elsewhere.

Ver. 7. Residue] see Buxt. Lex.

Ib. Valley of Willows] as Prideaux says the Words ought to be rendered, Connec. An. 570. Babylon standing in a low Place where Willows grew, Psa. cxxxvii. 1, 2.

Ver. 8. Beer-elim] The Conjecture of Grotius here is probable and ingenious, that this was the same Place with that in Num. xxi. 16. and thus called because the Princes dug it, Ver. 18. Beer-elim being the Well of the mighty ones.

Ver. 1. Country's Sheep] those that belonged to the Governor of Moab, according to which others understand and render it. But our Eng. Transf. orders the Lamb to be sent to two or three.

Ib. Sheep] The Moabites being made tributary to Da- vid, 2 Sam. viii. 2. and giving their Tribute in Sheep to the Kings of Israel after the Partition of the two Kingdoms, 2 King. iii. 4. which they had with-held, Ver. 5. are advised to send it to the King of Judah, David's legal Successor, to whom it belonged, that he might help them against the Affrians.

Ib. from] Collect the Tribute of Sheep from all Parts of Moab.

Ver. 3. like Night] to hide, as follows.

Ver. 4. expelled] Those who were so by the Troubles and Wars in Judah, at the latter Part of Ahaz's Reign, 2 Chron. xxviii. That Kingdom being oppressed by the Edomites on the South, the Philistines on the West, and the Affrians, if not the Israelites, on the North, 2 Chron. xxviii. 17, 18, 20. the Prophet very properly made this digressive Address to Moab, which was on the East.

Ib. for] as the present Affliction would soon be over, when Hezekiah reigned, of whom he accordingly speaks in the next Verse; see 2 King. xviii. 7, 8.

Ver. 5. ready] the proper Meaning of the Word, Ezr. vii. 6. Psa. xlv. 1. Prov. xxii. 29.

Ver. 6. false Devisings] Lowth says, rather Strength, from the Vulgar Latin. How little Deference is paid to the Original!

Ver. 7. bruised] So Jun. and Trem. contrita sunt, from the Root כָּאָח to bruise, without the Alteration of any Letter: whereas to make it stricken, it is supposed to come from נָחַ when instead of נָ being changed into כָּ as it is sometimes done, and may seem to have been thought the Case here; כָּ in this Word will be quite redundant, as appears by the Form of the Participle in Niphal, when the third Radical Letter is נָ and the first כָּ Buxt. Gram. Lib. 1. Cap. 34.

Ver. 8. Fields] Theodotion turned it ἀγροὶ θανάτου, Fields of Death, as though שָׂדֵה מוֹת had been for שָׂדֵה חַיִּים water thee with my Tears, O Heshbon and Elaleh: because the Acclamation for thy Summer-fruits and Harvest is fallen.

10. The Gladness and Rejoicing is also withdrawn from the arable Land, and there will be no Singing, nor Shouting in the Vineyards: the Treader shall not tread out Wine in the Wine-presses; I have caused the Acclamation to cease.

11. My Bowels shall therefore make a Noise like a Harp for Moab, and my inward Part for Kir-haresh.

12. And when it is seen that Moab is become weary upon the high Place, and comes to his Sanctuary to pray, he will not prevail.

13. This is the Matter which the Lord has spoken concerning Moab hitherto.

14. And now he speaks as follows, In three Years as the Years of one hired, the Glory of Moab shall be base, in all the great Multitude; and the Residue being very little, shall not be stout.

C H A P. XVII.

THE Burden of Damascus. Behold Damascus is taken away from being a City, and is become a Heap of Ruin.

2. The Cities of Aroer are forsaken: they shall be for Flocks, which shall lie down, and none make afraid.

3. Both the strong Hold shall be abolished from Ephraim, and the Kingdom of Damascus with the Residue of Syria; which shall be like the Glory of the Israelites, says the Lord of Armies.

4. At which Time the Glory of Jacob shall be impoverished, and the Fatness of his Flesh become lean.

5. And it shall be like a Reaper's gathering together the standing Corn, that he may reap the Ears with his Arm: it shall even be as one gathers the Ears in the Giants Vale.

6. But there shall be Gleaning-grapes left in it, as at the Brushing of an Olive-tree, two or three Berries in the Top of the uppermost Branch, four or five in the fruitful Branches of it, says the Lord God of Israel.

7. At that Time Man will have regard to his Maker, and his Eyes will look to the Holy One of Israel.

8. And he will not have regard to the Altars, the Work of his own Hands; nor look to that which his own Fingers have made, whether Groves or sun-burnt Images.

9. His strong Cities at that Time will be as a forsaken Bough and an uppermost Branch, which will be left, by reason of the Israelites; though there will be Desolation.

10. For thou hast forgot the God of thy Salvation, and not remembered the Rock of thy Strength: therefore thou having planted pleasant Plants, and set it with a strange Slip;

11. Making thy Plant grow in the Day, and causing thy Seed to flourish in the Morning; the Harvest will be a Heap, at the Time of Sickness and mortal Pain.

12. Wo be to the many noisy People, who make a Noise like that of the Seas; and to the tumultuous Nations, which are in a Tumult like that of strong Waters.

13. The Nations are in a Tumult like that of many Waters, but he will rebuke them, so that they shall flee far off; being pursued like the Chaff of the Mountains before the Wind, and like whirling Stuff before the Whirlwind.

14. At the Evening-time also there will be Trouble, before the Morning he will not be: this will be the Share of those who plunder us, and the Lot of them that prey upon us.

Ver. 14. three] from the Year in which Ahaz died, Ch. xiv. 28. at whose Death Hezekiah being in the first Year of his Reign, as by the Table of the Kings, consequently this seems accomplished upon Moab in his 4th Year, by the King of Affyria, before he began his War against Samaria, 2 King. xviii. 9.

Ib. as the Years] barely fulfilled, without any Overplus; but must be full Years for such, as Chap. xxi. 16. whereas Usher makes it but two.

Ver. 3. Damascus] whose Inhabitants being carried away, 2 King. xvi. 9. was probably peopled again from the Country.

Ib. Residue] that were left at the former Captivity, 2 King. xvi. 9.

Ver. 4. At which Time] whereby the Chronology of it is settled.

Ver. 5. Giants Vale] so Josh. xv. 8.

Ver. 8. whether] this being right, and either wrong, as English; which however he who can give a proper Distinction of, must have some Skill in our Language: I have attempted it in my Grammatical Questions and Observations, Part i. N^o 902. MS.

Ib. sun-burnt Images] Probably those on the Roofs of the Houses, so scorched by the Sun, and called thus by the Prophet in Derision.

Ver. 9. left] which the Affyrians will leave, as Jun. and Trem. translate.

Ib. by reason of] Through God's Favour remaining to his People, their strong Cities shall not be destroyed, 2 Chron. xxxii. 1.

Ver. 10. pleasant] In the vulg. Lat. faithful; neither suitable to the Context, nor true, y being mistaken for x but in the Gr. worse unfaithful, by imagining that was more suitable perhaps.

Ver. 11. Sickness] The Verb signifying to be sick, and not to grieve. Besides Sickness and such Pain hinder People from getting in their Harvest, so that it lies in Heaps, and is spoiled.

Ver. 12. noisy] being a Noun from the Verb that follows repeated.

Ver. 14. Morning] How exactly this came to pass on the Affyrian Army! Chap. xxxvii. 36.

WO be to the Country shady with Wings, which is on the side of the Rivers of Ethiopia;

2. That sends Ambassadors on the Sea, and in Vessels of Rushes atop of the Water, Go, O swift Messengers, to the Nation drawn out and made bare, to the People terrible not only where they are but further, the Nation measuring by a Line, and treading down, whose Country the Rivers have preyed upon.

3. All Inhabitants of the World, and Dwellers on the Earth, when the Standard is lifted up at the Mountains, see; and when the Trumpet is sounded, hear.

4. For thus said the Lord to me; I will be quiet and look in my Settlement, as the clear Heat in the Sun-shine, like a Cloud of Dew in the Heat of Harvest.

5. For before Harvest, while the Bud is whole, and the green Grape ripening with a Flower; he will both cut off the Suckers with Pruning-hooks, and remove, cut away the Sprouts.

6. They shall be left together for the Fowls of the Mountains, and for the Beasts of the Earth: insomuch that the Fowls shall summer upon them, and all the Beasts of the Earth winter upon them.

Ver. 1. Wings] large Mountains, according to Strabo's Description, Lib. ult. not the Sails of Ships, which did not make the Country shady.

Ib. on the side of] as Num. xxi. 1. 1 Sam. xiv. 4. for which see Grot. with Jun. and Trem. Annot. What Violence is done to the Text, by expounding the Country to be Egypt, undeserving a particular Confutation!

Ver. 2. That sends] or sending, it being a Participle to Country or Ethiopia: so not God sends, according to the Sense Lowth prefers; nor is it probable the Affyrians went against Ethiopia by Sea, but through Egypt. In Support of his Opinion, he interprets that Time, Ver. 7. not to mean the same Time.

Ib. sends] to Sennacherib King of Affyria, Chap. xxxvii. 9. Sevechus the 2d of the Ethiopian Line being then King of Egypt, with whom Sennacherib was at War, and besieging Pelusium, the Fear of Tirhakab King of Ethiopia drove him from thence, Josephus Antiq. Lib. x. 1.

Ib. Sea] the Red Sea, at the farther End of which from Ethiopia Pelusium lay.

Ib. drawn out] the Affyrian Army being come from Home, and also dispersed in several Places, Chap. xxxvi. 2. & xxxvii. 8.

Ib. made bare] either for want of Riches to carry on so much War, or by the Multitude of People taken out of their Country for that Purpose.

Ib. measuring] making new Provinces and Colonies; of which look Grotius's excellent Notes.

Ib. preyed] This seems to me as if the Affyrians under the Pretence that their Country was overflowed or streightened by the Tigris, &c. went to war with their Neighbours.

Ver. 3. when] at the Time the decisive Battle was to be fought between Sennacherib and Tirhakab, in which the latter was defeated, Ch. xx. 4.

Ver. 4. quiet] as though Providence would not much

7. At that Time a Present will be brought to the Lord of Armies, by the People drawn out and made bare, and from the People terrible not only where they are but further, the Nation measuring by a Line, and treading down, whose Country the Rivers have preyed upon; to the Place of the Name of the Lord of Armies, the Mountain of Zion.

THE Burden of Egypt. Behold the Lord will ride on a swift Cloud; and come to Egypt; at whose Presence the Idols of Egypt will be moved, and its Heart melt within it.

2. And I will mingle Egypt with it self, so that they shall fight each with his Brother, and each with his Neighbour, City with City, Kingdom with Kingdom.

3. For the Spirit of Egypt shall be emptied within it, and I will devour its Counsel: when they will seek to the Idols, the Charmers, those that have familiar Spirits, and the Sorcerers.

4. I will also shut up Egypt in the Power of hard Lords, and a fierce King shall rule over them, says the Sovereign Lord of Armies.

5. The Water too shall fail from the Sea, and the River waste away, and dry up.

interfere in it, the Ethiopians and Affyrians being both wicked, and should shortly be punished, as the latter were soon after, Chap. xxxvii. 36.

Ib. clear Heat] which is seen to sparkle in a hot Summer's Day, continuing in the same Place.

Ib. Sun-shine] Heb. Light frequently; and is not pretended to be Herbs that I know of elsewhere, though another Noun from the same Root is in Chap. xxvi. 19. 2 King. iv. 39.

Ib. Cloud] which in the still hot Weather scarce moves.

Ver. 5. before] Signifying hereby the Nearness of their Destruction.

Ver. 6. They] those who are slain of their Armies.

Ver. 7. a Present] of what was left by the great Slaughter of the Affyrians, 2 King. xix. 35.

Ver. 2. fight] After the Death of Setbo or Tirhakab, the Successor of Sevechus, in whose Reign Sennacherib invaded Egypt, Chap. xx. 1. the Country was two Years without any settled Government, in Confusion and Contention, Diodorus Siculus, Lib. 1.

Ver. 4. hard] Heb. as it were Lords each hard.

Ib. Lords] After the two Years of Anarchy, twelve Noblemen seized the Kingdom, and parted it between them 15 Years, Herodotus, Lib. 2. Diod. Sicul. ib.

Ib. King] Next reigned Psammitichus one of them whom the rest first expelled, but he returning with an Army of Robbers, Pirates, &c. overcame them all, and was King many Years, Herod. and Diod. Sic. ib.

Ver. 5. fail] by turning it out of the Nile at that Time, into the Lake Mareotis or Marea 100 Miles in Circumference, on the west Side of the River, before it reached the Levant or Mediterranean Sea, Herodotus in Euterpe; and thus all these Things might not be figurative, as Grotius says they are. In which View read to Ver. 11.

6. And

6. And the Rivers shall go off, the Streams of Fortification be drawn out, and waste away; the Reeds and the Flags shall wither.

7. The Paper-reeds at the Stream, at the Mouth of it, and every sown Thing of the Stream shall dry up, be driven away, and not be.

8. And the Fishermen shall sorrow, all that cast Hooks into the Stream mourn, and such as spread Casting-nets atop of the Waters languish.

9. Those likewise shall be ashamed who work the fine Threads of Flax, with them that knit the Nets.

10. And all who make the Lake, Ponds of Pleasure, shall be bruised in the Purposes of it.

11. Certainly the Princes of Zoan are Fools, the Counsel of Pharaoh's wise Counsellors is become senseless: how can you say of Pharaoh, I am the Son of the wise ones, the Son of the ancient Kings?

12. Where be they that are thy wise ones now? For let them tell thee, I pray, and make known, what Counsel the Lord of Armies has taken against Egypt.

13. The Princes of Zoan are become foolish, the Princes of Noph are deceived:

those make Egypt go astray, who are the Corner of its Tribes.

14. The Lord has mixed a Spirit of perverse Things within it; and they make Egypt go astray in every Work of it, as a Drunkard does in his Vomit.

15. So that Egypt will have no Work, which the Head or Tail, Branch or Rush can do.

16. At that Time Egypt will be like Women: as it will be afraid, and in dread; by reason of the Shaking of the Hand of the Lord of Armies, which he shakes against it.

17. And the Country of Judah will be a Staggering to Egypt, every one who brings it to his Remembrance will be in dread; by reason of the Counsel of the Lord of Armies, which he takes against it.

18. At the same Time there will be five Cities in the Country of Egypt, that speak the Language of Canaan, and swear to the Lord of Armies; one will be called The City of Destruction.

19. There will be an Altar to the Lord at that Time in the Middle of the Country of Egypt, and a Statue at the Border of it to the Lord.

Ver. 7. Paper-reeds] the Reeds of which Paper was first made growing at the Sides of the Nile, with a triangular Stalk about fifteen Feet high, and a Foot and a half in Compass, having several Rinds one within another, Pliny, Lib. xii. 13.

1b. Mouth] of the Nile at the Mediterranean Sea. Psammitichus retiring into the Fens by the Sea-side, as the History relates, might be a second Occasion to that mentioned on Ver. 5. of spoiling the Business done there, according to these Verses.

Ver. 10. the Lake] properly from the Heb. Root to shut up: a Place, as Buxtorf says in Lexic. wherein Water is shut up; see Ver. 5.

1b. Pleasure] for which that great Work was at least partly performed. Heb. the Soul or Desire, by which is not likely to be meant Fish. Thus Jun. and Trem. translate stagna voluptaria.

1b. bruised] as Ver. 4.

Ver. 11. of Pharaoh] that is by personating him, or introducing him to say so of himself, as used both in Discourse and Writing; and unto must needs be left, if at all proper.

1b. ancient Kings] the Line of whom should fail, Ver. 2, 4.

Ver. 12. now] This Word is very different from the first, of which see Hof. xiii. 10. and that [where are they] is not a Question by it self appears by the Accent Kadma, which is no Point of Division.

1b. I pray] which is very frequent.

Ver. 13. become foolish] a Verb, as that in Ver. 11. was a Noun.

Ver. 14. they] the perverse Things, which is plural in the Heb.

Ver. 17. Judah] which lying between Egypt and the King of Assyria's Dominions, was in the Time here prophesied of conquered by that King, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11. at which the Egyptians might well be afraid.

Ver. 18. Cities] by the fleeing thither, I suppose, of some of the Inhabitants of Judah, when the King of Assyria made that Conquest of it in the Reign of Manasseh:

thus it is properly joined with the foregoing Verse, and agrees with the 20th, which strongly hints this Meaning. Those People might not improbably be allowed five Cities in Egypt, as that was in Alliance with Judah, Ch. xxx. 6, 9. So David and his Men had Ziklag from Achish, 1 Sam. xxvii. 6.

1b. one] which the Assyrians might carry their Conquests so far as to destroy. The Assembly's Annotation seems notably absurd, each of them shall be called a City, saved from Destruction.

Ver. 19. Altar] Through Providence the better Sort might get thither, partly for the Idolatry at Home, 2 Chron. xxxiii. and that such might be saved; who then served God there. The Objection that they were blamed for going into Egypt, loses its Force, because it was on other different Occasions: at Sennacherib's Invasion, they sent some to Egypt for Help, Chap. xxxi. 1. when the Lord would wonderfully deliver them himself, and not be deprived of that Honour, and the good Effects of it, by the Egyptians; after the Captivity by Nebuchadnezzar, God would have preserved the Residue in their own Country, and Egypt was to be destroyed, Jer. xlii. those were cogent Reasons for their not going then, neither of all which operated, when Judah was conquered in the Reign of Manasseh. If the Prohibition to go into Egypt or live there was perpetual, this Prophecy must never be fulfilled; see Chap. xxvii. 12, 13. It may not be amiss to mention; that in the Time of the Maccabees one Onias being disappointed of the high Priesthood, went into Egypt where there was a considerable Number of the Jews, and getting into the King's Favour, built a Temple in the District of the City Heliopolis, became the high Priest of it himself, and Sacrifices were offered there as at Jerusalem, Josephus, Antiq. Lib. xiii. 6. & xx. 8. which continued till a little after the last Destruction of Jerusalem, when that too was destroyed by the same Emperor Vespasian, Josephus, De Bello Judaico, Lib. vii. 30. Onias persuaded the Jews there to join with him in it, by pretending it was here prophesied of; but at that Time shews it was fulfilled when the other Things before were.

20. And it will be for a Sign and a Witness to the Lord of Armies, in that Country: for when they cry to the Lord because of the Oppressors, he will send them a Saviour, and a great one, who will deliver them.

21. Thus the Lord will not be unknown to the Egyptians, who will know him at that Time, and serve with Sacrifice and Offering, as also make Vows to the Lord, and perform.

22. So the Lord will smite Egypt, and having smitten, heal; since they will return to the Lord, who will be intreated by them, as heal them.

23. At that Time there will be a Highway from Egypt to Assyria, so that the Assyrian will go into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; nay the Egyptians will serve with the Assyrians.

24. At the same Time will Israel be the third to Egypt and Assyria, a Blessing in the midst of the Country:

25. Whom the Lord of Armies will bless, saying, Blessed is Egypt my People, Assyria the Work of my Hands, and Israel my Possession.

C H A P. XX.

IN the Year of Thartan's coming to Ashdod, when Sargon King of Assyria sent him, and fighting against Ashdod, he took it;

2. At that Time the Lord spoke by the Ministry of Isaiah, the Son of Amoz, as follows, Go, and undo the Sackcloth from thy Loins, and pull off thy Shoe from thy Foot; and he did so, walking naked and barefooted.

3. According as my Servant Isaiah, continued the Lord, walks naked and bare-

Ver. 20. Witness] of the true Religion in that Heathen Country.

Ib. a Saviour] Eliakim, as Ch. xxii. 20 to 25. to whom it appears very agreeable, though overlooked by the Annotators.

Ver. 22. heal] Since the Egyptians not only permitted the true Service of God in their Country, but joined in it, and repented; he would heal their Troubles and Divisions, which they had while they were without a King: as he did by restoring Monarchical Government to them, a few Years after the Conquest of Judah, and as appears about the Time of the Settlement of that Kingdom under Eliakim's Administration.

Ver. 23. Assyria] which was also in Agreement with Judah, by Manasseh's returning from Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 13.

Ver. 25. Work] As some of the Assyrians might be converted to the true God in that Captivity, as well as the Egyptians, this will amply account for the whole. We find Eshar-haddon the King then reigning, sent a Priest to teach his Colony in Israel the Fear of the Lord, that they might be preserved from the Lions, 2 King. xvii. 27. which shews some Belief in the true God, and Acknowledgment of his Power; see Ch. lvi. 3, 6, 7, 8.

Ver. 1. Year] Prideaux expounds this to follow the coming of Sennacherib, here called Sargon, against Judah, in the 14th Year of Hezekiah's Reign, 2 King. xviii. 13. that he afterwards made war on Ashdod, next on Egypt and Ethiopia three Years, Connect. An. 713. and then came against Judah the second time, so that his Army was destroyed, and he went home in the 18th Year of Hezekiah, having twice besieged Lachish, Connect. An. 710. But to me it appears otherwise; namely that Sargon (which I take to be the Name of this King of Assyria while he reigned with his Father Shalmaneser, or till he began reigning at his Father's Death, which by the Times of the Kings of Assyria and Judah at the End of Dan. 23. was at the 12th, but according to Prideaux the 14th Year of Hezekiah, Isaiah himself calling him Sennacherib afterwards, Ch. xxxvi. 1. & xxxvii. 37.) did first send Tartan a principal Man, 2 King. xviii. 17. through the Country of Israel, then an Assyrian Province, to Ashdod in the Way to Egypt, which being taken, he went the first Year into Edom and Arabia, Psa. xxi. 11, 13, 16. next harassed Egypt and Ethiopia three Years, Ver. 3, 4. but that while he or his Army was there, the Egyptians rose up against him behind, and upon returning to subdue them, those Insurgents fortified themselves in Pelusion, at the easternmost Mouth of the Nile, which he besieged, but could not take, and retreated from thence for Fear of Tirbakah King of Ethiopia, who had raised an Army in the mean Time, and was coming against him, Josephus, Antiq. Lib. x. 1. that now he came up against the Cities of Judah, Chap. xxxvi. 1. intending to conquer them for himself, 2 Chron. xxxii. 1. and Lachish lying towards Egypt, he invested that; whither Hezekiah sent, and paid what Sennacherib appointed, 2 King. xviii. 14, 15, 16. who notwithstanding sent Rabshakeh with Part of his Army forward to Jerusalem, after he had got the Money, Chap. xxxvi. 2. 2 King. xviii. 17. 2 Chron. xxxii. 9. to have it delivered up to him, 2 King. xviii. 31. and to join with him, Ver. 23. or upon Hezekiah's Refusal (which seems to be meant by the Charge of his rebelling, 2 King. 18, 20. 2 Chron. xxxii. 10. together with his preparing for the Defence of the City, 2 Chron. xxxii. 2—6.) to besiege it with the Forces sent; which Sennacherib might think he could then spare, since he was gone out of the Egyptian Territories; but Tirbakah making use of the Advantage, with the others Flight before, pursued him; upon which he decamped from Lachish, 2 King. xix. 8. 9. that the Inhabitants might not issue out upon him in the Battle, and going to meet the Ethiopian Army, overthrew it, Chap. xviii. 6. after which Time his own Army before Jerusalem was destroyed, Chap. xxxvii. 36. & xviii. 7. finally that having defeated Tirbakah, he made great Havock in Edom, Ch. xxxiv. as being near, and against him; then laid siege to Libnah a City thereabouts, not belonging then to Judah, 2 King. xviii. 22. but when Rabshakeh returned to him with the News of his Loss, he went home, 2 King. xix. 8. 36. According to this Order the Sabbatical and Jubilee Years fall together as computed at the End of Dan. and those Days 2 King. xx. 1. referring to the last, must be in the 14th Year of Hezekiah, as shewn there.

Now as to the other, how unlikely it is that Sennacherib should go first to Lachish from Home, as that lay beyond Jerusalem from Assyria! but in the Way to it from Egypt. Nor is there any Intimation at the Beginning of 2 King. xviii. 17. that it was three or four Years after what is related in the foregoing Verse, as would seem necessary if it were so: on the contrary we find the King of Assyria at Lachish as he was before, 2 King. xviii. 14. Again, what Appearance or Probability is there of so much Space of Time between Ver. 1, and 2, of Isa. xxxvi? Bedford however more strangely puts the Siege of Libnah, and coming of Tirbakah against Sennacherib, when the latter was marching into Egypt, Scrip. Cbr. B. vi. 3. 14. with other Inconsistencies there and in Table 46.

Ib. Thartan's] the first Letter here being an Aspirate, not as in 2 King. xviii. 17.

footed;

footed; for a three Years Sign and Token, against Egypt and Ethiopia:

4. So shall the King of Assyria lead away the Captives of Egypt, and the Exiles of Ethiopia, young Men and old, naked and bare-footed; even with the Breech uncovered, the Nakedness of Egypt.

5. Daunted and ashamed at this, of Ethiopia their Expectation, and of Egypt their Glory;

6. The Inhabitants of this Isle will say at that Time, Behold such is our Expectation, whither we flee for Help, to be delivered from the Face of the King of Assyria; and how shall we escape?

CHAP. XXI.

THE Burden of the Wilderness of the Sea. Like Whirlwinds in the South passing through, it comes from the Wilderness, from a terrible Country.

2. There is a hard Vision declared to me: the treacherous one deals treacherously, and the Waster wastes (go up, Elam, besiege, O Media; all its Sighing I have caused to cease)

3. Therefore my Loins are full of Disease, Pains seize me like those of a Woman in Labour; I am distorted by hearing, troubled by seeing.

4. My Heart pants, Horror terrifies me: the Twilight that I desire is made fearful to me.

5. In providing the Table, keeping the Watch, eating, drinking; get ready, O Princes, anoint the Shield.

6. For thus said the Lord to me, Go, cause a Watchman to stand, who may tell what he sees.

7. And he saw a Chariot, a Couple of Horsemen, a Chariot with Asses, a Chariot with Camels; having hearkened diligently with much Attention.

8. Upon this he cried out like a Lion; While I have stood upon the Watch-tower, my Lord, continually by Day, and have been placed upon my Ward all Night;

Ver. 3. three Years Sign] Trem. and Jun. have tertiū anni signum, a Sign of the third Year. The Point Athnah for the main Partition of the Verse is at bare-footed. And with the Incredibility of Isaiab's going so three Years, the Affair being also foreign; it may be observed there was not three nor two Years Space for the Prophet to do it, before it was fulfilled: so that to denote the three Years, it might be done three Days or Times.

Ib. Token] rather than Wonder, as the Word signifies either; see Chap. viii. 18.

Ver. 6. this Isle] to which Isaiab himself belonged, Chap. xxxi. & xxxvii. 9. and seems to be spoken in respect to the People, rather than the Country, the Israelites being separated from the rest of the World: for would the Aphodites say, How shall we escape? when they were already taken.

Ver. 1. Wilderness] as what it would be.

Ib. Sea] Babylon which is here spoken of, Ver. 9. having much Water about it, Jer. li. 13.

Ib. Whirlwinds] which in the Deserts of Arabia and Lybia blow up the Sand terribly, so that People are suffocated and buried in it, in which Manner Cambyses the Son of Cyrus King of Persia lost an Army.

Ver. 2. hard] Lowth writes here in his Commentary; "The Words may be thus translated more agreeably both to Grammar and Sense: A grievous Vision: there is made known (or declared) to me an Oppressor of (or for) the Oppressor, and Spoiler for the Spoiler;" Pool also in his Annotations to the same Purpose, and before them Lightfoot, Harm. of Old Test. Whereas Lowth has altered the Pointing from the Heb. according to which the Colon should be after me, nor does the Word signify an Oppressor, besides the repeated Words for that Meaning should have h prefixed; and as to the Sense, let it be considered what was the Prophet so troubled at, Ver. iii. 4. but for the Hardships which he foresaw his own People would suffer by Babylon? Was it because Babylon should be wasted, and the Sighing of Judah cease?

Ib. Elam] See Jer. xlix. 34, 39.

Ib. its] Judah's; of which Kind see Instances in Psa. lxxxvii. 1. Jer. xxxiii. 2.

Ver. 4. Twilight] as the Word signifies, not Night, and very apt to Deut. xxviii. 67. Yet Pool, in the Manner of our Eng. Annotators, infers from night in the Transf. that this Vision was in the Night, and that it signified the Destruction of Babylon at that Time; and so Lightfoot.

Ver. 5. In providing] while the Table is providing with the different Courses of Dainties; the Completion of this see Dan. v. These four Verbs are infinitive, not imperative like the two next.

Ib. Princes] Several take it for the chief of the Enemies who should surprize the City, but by the Shield, a defensive Weapon, it was rather the Babylonians themselves.

Ver. 6. to stand] as if it were to watch for the Vision, Ver. 2.

Ver. 7. a Chariot with] Perhaps it might be truly rendered, but that I would not be too bold with the Original Scripture, thus, the Chariot (before mentioned) both with Asses and Camels; however literal as it is, it may be so understood; and will then agree, as it should, with the Relation of it in Ver. 9. from whence it appears Isaiab had the Account, since he did not see that Appearance himself; which may seem to be, one Chariot drawn with Asses and Camels, having Men in it, attended by two Horsemen. But several Interpreters would have it Horses instead of Horsemen, with which it is pretended the first Chariot was drawn, and for which Signification of the Word 1 Sam. viii. 11. 2 Sam. i. 6. are cited, to no Purpose, nor is such an invented, unknown, and unlikely Meaning of the Word to be allowed, which is the Way to endless Uncertainty, how much soever patronized by great Names. Supposing now there were three Chariots, what is the Meaning that one is described without Beasts, the other with nothing in them? It is evident the first and foremost was not standing still, and as for the other being Carriages, that is not very suitable to Chariots; and would not Foot-soldiers rather than such be mentioned, if an Army was to be represented?

Ib. Asses] as the two Horsemen might typify Darius and Cyrus, who conquered Babylon and its Empire, so might the two Kinds of Beasts the Medes and Persians.

Ver. 8. like a Lion] following herein the best Expositors: for the Particle of Comparison is frequently understood, and the Watchman to begin his Speech with, A Lion, seems very odd, and unsuitable to the rest.

Ib. all] he consequently saw all that came, and so his was a certain Account.

9. Behold this is come; a Chariot of Men, a Couple of Horsemen, who speak in this manner, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and he has broke down all the carved Images of her gods to the Ground.

10. This is what I have threshed, and the Product of my Floor: that which I hear from the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, I declare to you.

11. The Burden of Dumah. He calls to me from Seir, Watchman, what of the Night? Watchman, what of the Night?

12. The Watchman says, The Morning comes, as well as the Night: if you will enquire, do, turn back; come.

13. The Burden of Arabia. In the Wood of Arabia will you lodge, O travelling Companies of Dedanim.

14. Come with Water to meet the Thirsty, you Inhabitants of the Country of Teman, prevent him who flees with Bread for him.

15. For they flee by reason of the Swords, of the extended Sword, as also by reason of the bended Bow, and of the Weight of the Battle.

16. For thus said the Lord to me; within a Year, as the Years of one who is hired, all the Glory of Kedar shall fail.

17. And the Residue of the Number with the Bow, the powerful ones of the Race of Kedar shall be few: for the Lord God of Israel has spoken it.

Ver. 10. This is what] to wit this Vision or Matter; so this is understood Jer. xxiii. 26. &c.

Ib. have threshed] obtained by careful constant Watching according to Ver. 7, 8. as also with great Pain and Trouble, Ver. 3, 4. In the other Way, my Threshing is thought to mean the Babylonians; which is incoherent, because Isaiah did not declare it to them, as appears both by the Distance of Time and Place, as it is likewise to [my:] or otherwise the Israelites; but to them the Prophecy did not belong, and to either threshed ones in that Sense would seem more proper than Threshing.

Ib. Product] the Heb. being Son.

Ib. of my Floor] the same repeated in other Words, which seems unapplicable to People.

Ver. 11. from Seir] at a Distance as he is running away.

Ver. 12. as well as] q. d. Why dost thou ask so much of the Night? Stay till the Morning: but if thou wilt enquire, turn back, and come to hear what there is. Thus he seems to represent the Edomites so hasty in fleeing by Night, that they would enquire of Things at a Distance, and not stay for an Answer. Lowth says, "This Verse hath puzzled all the Commentators;" it was well he did not except himself, who expounds it nearly like others.

Ver. 14. Come] the two Verbs being imperative as here rendered.

Ver. 1. Valley] strictly I suppose the lower Part of Jerusalem, where it is probable Sennacherib's Army besieged it, Ver. 7. and where it was destroyed, Chap. xxx. 33. and from thence the City it self as compassed with Mountains, Psal. cxxv. 2.

Ib. Vision] particularly because this Vision belonged to it, and more generally as being the principal Place for divine Visions.

THE Burden of the Valley of Vision. What is the Matter with thee now, that thou art gone up all of thee to the Roofs?

2. Full of Acclamations! a noisy City! a triumphing Town! thy Slain are not slain with the Sword, nor dead by Battle.

3. All thy Leaders who fled together from the Bow are bound: all that are found of thee are bound together, who have run away far off.

4. Therefore I say, Turn away from me, that I may make bitter Weeping; be not urgent to comfort me, for the Wasting of the Daughter of my People.

5. For it is a Time of Vexation, treading down and Perplexity, by the Sovereign Lord of Armies, in the Valley of Vision; of destroying the Wall, and crying out to the Mountain.

6. Since Elam carries the Quiver with Chariots of Men, with Horsemen, and Kir makes bare the Shield.

7. So that the choicest of thy Vales are full of Chariots, and the Horsemen are fully put at the Gate.

8. He also uncovers the Covering of Judah, and thou lookest at the same Time to the Armour of the House of the Wood.

Ib. now] This seems to have been uttered or written in the very Time of the Assyrian Invasion, which Observation will give considerable Light to the whole: not before, because the Prophet complains of their Sin done at that Time, Ver. xi. 13. and Ver. 9, 10, 11. especially are not like a Prophecy; not after, because it is inconsistent with now here, nor is there any Mention of the remarkable Deliverance, which would have been the principal Thing to have aggravated their Sin, besides to what Purpose should such a Narrative as this to the 15th Verse be?

Ib. Roofs] to see what the Enemy was doing: for though some lamented there, yet not all, Chap. xv. 3. Jer. xlviii. 38.

Ver. 2. triumphing] He calls it as it had been, not was then; which latter in the Eng. Transl. is inconsistent with what follows.

Ib. by Battle] but by the Executioner, as it appears to me from the next Verse, as in Jer. lii. 10, 27. Lowth has it, are dead with Fear; but I think it is a Trope too much strained for those who are afraid to be called Slain; and is it not expressive in the Text, that they were such Slain as the Sword and Battle makes?

Ver. 3. fled together from the Bow are bound] which is not only quite literal, but the very Order of the original Words; concurring with the next Part, and Ch. xxi. 15. whereas bound by the Archers seems an odd Thing, if the Words would bear to be so rendered, which I think they will not.

Ib. all that] Lowth would have it rendered, all that are found in thee—have fled; not considering perhaps there would then be none left in the City.

Ib. far off] as Chap. xxiii. 7. & lvii. 9.

Ver. 6. Elam] See Jer. xlix. 34, 35.

Ver. 8. uncovers] dismantled the frontier Places.

9. And you see the Breaches of the City of David, as being many : and gather together the Water of the lower Fish-pond.

10. Nay you number the Houses of Jerusalem, and break down Houses to fortify the Wall.

11. And have made a Pool between the two Walls, for the Water of the old Fish-pond ; but do not look to the Maker of it, nor mind him who formed it long ago.

12. And the Sovereign Lord of Armies calls at the same Time to Weeping, Lamentation, Baldness, and girding with Sack-cloth.

13. When behold there is Joy and Gladness, killing Oxen and slaying Sheep, eating Flesh and drinking Wine ; with Let us eat and drink, though we die to Morrow.

14. But it was revealed in my Hearing by the Lord of Armies, This Iniquity shall not be purged away from you, till ye do die, says the Sovereign Lord of Armies.

15. Thus said the Sovereign Lord of Armies : Go, get thee in to this Treasurer Shebna, the Steward of the House, saying,

16. What hast thou here ? And whom hast thou here, that thou hast cut thee out here a Sepulchre ? like one cutting out his Sepulchre on high, carving him a Dwelling-place in the Rock.

17. Behold the Lord who covers thee with a Man's Covering, and throughly cloaths thee ;

18. Will roll thee along as a Ball rolls, to a Country of large Space : there thou shalt die, and there shall the Chariots of thy Glory be for the Baseness of thy Master's House.

19. So will I drive thee from thy Station, and he shall throw thee down from thy State.

20. Moreover at that Time I will call my Servant Eliakim, the Son of Hilkiah.

21. Whom I will cloath with thy Coat, strengthen with thy Belt, and give thy Government into his Hand : inasmuch that he shall be a Father both to the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the Family of Judah.

22. And I will put the Key of David's Family upon his Shoulder : so that he shall open, and none shut ; as likewise shut, and none open.

23. I will fix him a Pin too in a firm Place ; and he shall be a Throne of Glory to the Family of his Father.

24. Upon whom they shall hang all the Glory of his Father's Family, of the Offspring and Issue, all the little Vessels, from those of Bowls to all those of Pitchers.

25. At that Time, says the Lord of Armies, shall the Pin that is fixed in a firm Place be removed, cut down, and fall, nay the Weight which is upon it shall be cut off ; for the Lord has spoken it.

Ver. 9. Breaches] See 2 Chron. xxxii. 5.

Ver. 11. made] 2 Chron. xxxii. 3, 4.

Ver. 15. this Treasurer] With the Vulgate, him who dwells in the Tabernacle : by the Infrequency of Sochen, it is scarce to be doubted but the Author sought the Meaning of it in Shochen, and put the rest at Will.

Ver. 17. covers] or the Lord covering thee, the Heb. being a Participle כִּסְיוֹ by doubling the first radical Letter ס as ל the other is. Belonging thus to the Root כסל it has indisputably this Signification ; and so other Verbs of this Kind have Instances also of the first Letter repeated, as גלל Jer. li. 25. סרר Dan. viii. 7. & xi. 11. חרר Prov. xxvi. 21. קלל Eccles. x. 10. עזק xxii. 21. לחח Prov. xxvi. 18. כרר 2 Sam. vi. 14. which agrees well with the next Verb, and the whole, particularly Ver. 2. and is thus translated by Trem. and Jun.

Ib. Man's] as the Heb. is, by which may be meant one in high Station.

Ib. Covering] כִּסְיוֹ is a Noun from the same Root by Duplication of the first Letter as before ; which Manner of Words see in the Lexicon, from all the following similar Roots, בקר, גלל, גור, דרר, חל, חרר, קלל, קדר, צנן, צלל, צחח, סלל, כרר, כדר, חתח, תלל. But how little can be said for those two Words being derived from כסל ! which also signifies to cast or throw, instead of carry into Captivity.

Ver. 18. Country] whither he was carried with King Manasseh into Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11.

Ib. Baseness] being Matter of Reproach.

Ver. 20. that Time] when Manasseh was restored to his Kingdom, Eliakim being then, as it appears, prime Minister of State, if not also high Priest, Prideaux, Con- nect. Anno 677.

Ver. 23. a Pin] to hang Things on against a Wall, &c.

Ver. 24. of the] The Offspring and Issue being the Family, it was the Glory of them, and not they themselves, were to hang upon him. The whole Family should contribute to honour him, and derive their Honour from him. To avoid this, as it seems, which our Eng. Translators have taken to, others have rendered the Words out of their Meaning : thus Jerome, or he who passes for him, has turned both Words, vasorum diversa genera, several Sorts of Vessels ; Jun. and Trem. proventus ejus et redditus ejus, his Income and his Revenue ; the Septuagint more widely, including the next Words, ἀπὸ μικρῶν ἕως μεγάλων, from the small to the great. Both which Inconveniencies are shunned by putting those two Words in the Genitive Case, as governed of Glory, and not being the same with it, but with the Family.

Ib. Offspring and Issue] Kimbi in his Commentaries expounds it, הבני והבנות Sons and Daughters, so he does in his Book of Roots, with whom agrees Aben Ezra, as indeed the latter Word is fem. and herein Eliakim might be a Type of Christ, in whom Male and Female are one, Gal. iii. 28. But the Chald. Targum of Jonathan Ben Uzziel, which Sol. Farhi follows, has בְּנֵי וּבְנֵי בָנֵי Sons and Grandsons, and the male Sex were more likely to be concerned with a prime Minister. However as there appears no more Authority for either than the Opinion of its Votaries, both seem too particular ; and since the first Word is used with Seed or Posterity in a general Manner, Ch. xli. 3. & xlviii. 19. Job xxi. 8. it may be rather so here, and the latter Word for Issue of the like Meaning with that for Posterity in those Places.

C H A P. XXIII.

THE Burden of Tyre. Lament, O Ships of Tarshish, because it is wasted from having House, or Entrance; those that it is discovered to from the Country of Chittim.

2. Be silent, you Inhabitants of the Isle, which the Merchants of Zidon, who pass the Sea, have filled.

3. And the Seed of Shihor, the Harvest of the River at great Waters is her Crop; and she is the Market of the Nations.

4. Be ashamed, O Zidon; for the Sea speaks, the Fortrefs of the Sea thus, I am neither in Labour, nor bear, nor breed up young Men, advance Virgins.

5. As at the News concerning Egypt, they will be in Anguish at that of Tyre.

6. Pass to Tarshish, lament, you Inhabitants of the Isle.

7. Is this your triumphing one! whose Feet shall carry her away, from her old State of ancient Time, to sojourn far off?

8. Who has consulted this against crowning Tyre, whose Merchants are Princes, her Dealers the Honourable of the Earth?

9. The Lord of Armies has consulted it, to pollute the Pride of all the Glory, to make all the Honourable of the Earth base.

10. Pass through thy Country like a River, Daughter of Tarshish: there is no Girdle any more.

11. He has stretched out his Hand over the Sea, has moved the Kingdoms; the Lord has commanded concerning the Dealer, to destroy her Fortresses.

12. And he says, Thou shalt triumph no more: O oppressed Virgin, Daughter of Zidon, rise up, pass to Chittim; there also will be no Rest for thee.

13. Behold the Country of the Chaldeans, this being not a People, the Assyrian founded it for those of the desert Places: they having set up his Towers, raised up its Palaces, he made it a Ruin.

14. Lament, O Ships of Tarshish, because your Fortrefs is wasted.

Ver. 1. Chittim] It being called thus somewhere, or rather any where on the north Coast of the Mediterranean Sea, the News of the Siege of Tyre would go readily to the Ports there, and so be communicated to the Ships. Yet what a Pother Interpreters make about it!

Ver. 2. Isle] namely Tyre; Places at the Sea being called by the Name here used.

Ver. 3. of Shihor] viz. beyond it, that being the Boundary of Egypt towards Tyre; see Gen. xv. 18. Poole and Lowth plead for this River to be the Nile running through the Middle of Egypt, to whom Josh. xiii. 3. is sufficient Answer.

Ib. the River] Nile, by whose overflowing Egypt produced great Plenty of Corn.

Ver. 4. Fortress] Tyre it self, as Ver. 14. see the like Word Ver. 11.

Ver. 5. concerning Egypt] See Exod. xv. 14, 15, 16. Josh. ii. 9, 10. In the vulg. Lat. &c. it is translated to a different Meaning, but with such Impropriety both of the original and pretended Words, that instead of justifying it with Poole, I do not count it worth refuting.

Ver. 7. triumphing] Elulæus King of Tyre making war upon Gath, the Inhabitants called Shalmaneser King of Assyria to their Assistance, with whom several Ports of Phenicia joined, but the Tyrian Fleet of twelve Ships defeated the others of sixty; then the Assyrians besieging the City, it was freed five Years after by the Death of Shalmaneser, Josaphus from Menander, Antiq. Lib. ix. 14. and against Apion Lib. i. Now the latter falling out according to my Tables at the 12th Year of Hezekiah, it seems evident that this Prophecy against Tyre was made at, or soon after, the Time of triumphing for the Deliverance above mentioned; comp. Chap. xx. 1, 2.

Ib. ancient] See Josh. xix. 29. Strabo the Greek Geographer writes, Lib. xvi. that Tyre was the most ancient Phenician City next to Sidon; of which there is read Gen. x. 19.

Ib. far off] I refer this to the Time of Alexander's besieging Tyre, when many of its Inhabitants, before it was taken, went to Carthage in Africa, Justin, Lib. xi. 10. Quin. Curtius, Lib. iv. 3, 4. for their Removal at the Siege of Nebuchadnezzar was but about half a Mile, Ver. 10.

Ver. 10. River] a very apt Similitude: for the Tyrians invaded by Nebuchadnezzar, at last left their Country, and betook themselves to an Island in the Sea, as observed on Ezek. xxix. 17, 18.

Ib. Tarshish] Tyre having a deal of Merchandise from thence, Ver. 14. Grot. says it is in Heb. to the Daughter; but there is Nothing between River and Daughter.

Ib. Girdle] as this Word is rendered in the other Place where it is found, Psa. cix. 19. and here may signify the Fortresses, Ver. 11. or all that the Principality of Tyre had for Defence on its Frontiers; which being destroyed, it was advised to leave that Country, as the foregoing Expression is.

Ver. 12. Zidon] The Phenicians frightened by an Earthquake left their Country, and at length built Zidon; where being conquered after several Years by the Philistines of Askalon, divers of them escaped in their Ships, and built Tyre, Justin, Lib. xviii. 3. agreeable to Ver. 2. two hundred and forty Years before the building of Solomon's Temple, according to Josaphus, Antiq. Lib. viii. 2. but it was much longer by the Note on Ver. 7.

Ver. 13. Behold] what a greater known Ruin the Lord had wrought long ago, so might now well destroy Tyre.

Ib. the Assyrian] Nimrod who might be so called, because he first brought a Colony into Assyria, and built Cities there, Gen. x. 11, 12.

Ib. founded] As this must be the first Settlement of the Chaldeans in their Country, by building as the following Words shew, it necessarily leads us to the building of Babylon there, and the Kingdom which Nimrod had, Gen. x. 10. & xi. 2, 5. Marshall's Interpretation in Can. Chron. p. 478. that it was Nabonassar's late beginning a new Monarchy at Babylon, seems short of the Matter; as it does not appear that he built the Towers, &c. or that it was done for such People, the Kingdom of Babylon being a Part of the Assyrian Empire which was then divided into two; nor does the future referring the Ruin to the Conquest of Cyrus, suit with the Scope of enforcing the Prophecy against Tyre, by an Example of the Chaldeans.

Ib. desert] who travelled or wandered in Places yet uninhabited, Gen. xi. 2.

Ib. his—its] The Pronouns being different.

Ib. he] the Lord, as continued from Ver. 11, 12. see Gen. xi. 8. Easar-haddon King of Assyria obtaining the Kingdom of Babylon at a Time of Interregnum there, does not seem to answer well to Ruin, and appears to be divers Years after Isaiah's Death.

15. At

15. At which Time Tyre will be forgot seventy Years, as the Time of one King: at the End of the seventy Years Tyre will be like a Harlot who sings.

16. Take a Harp, go round about the City, O forgotten Harlot; play well, sing much, that thou mayest be remembered.

17. For at the End of the seventy Years the Lord will visit Tyre, and she will return to her Hire, and go a whoring with all the Kingdoms of the Earth, upon the Surface of the Ground.

18. Both her Merchandice and Hire will be holy to the Lord; it will not be treasured, nor stored up: for her Merchandice will be for those who dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable Covering.

CHAP. XXIV.

BEHOLD the Lord will empty the Earth, and make it void, as also turn its Surface upside-down, scattering the Inhabitants of it.

2. And it will be as with the People so with the Priest, as with the Servant so with his Master, as with the Maid so with her Mistress, as with the Buyer so with the Seller, as with the Lender so with the Borrower, as with the Usurer just so with the Giver of Usury to him.

3. The Country will be quite emptied, and thoroughly preyed upon: for the Lord has spoken this Thing.

4. The Earth mourns, it fades; the World languishes, it fades: the high People of the Earth languish.

5. And the Earth is polluted under the Inhabitants of it: for they transgress the Law, change the Ordinance, break the everlasting Covenant.

6. Therefore the Curse consumes the Earth, and the Inhabitants on it are desolate: therefore the Inhabitants of the Earth are burnt up, and few Men left.

7. The new Wine mourns, the Vine languishes, all who were of a glad Heart sigh.

8. The Joy of the Timbrels is ceased, the Noise of Triumphings is ended, the Joy of the Harp is ceased.

9. They do not drink Wine with Singing, strong Drink is bitter to those who drink it.

10. The empty Town is broke down, every House is shut up from Entrance.

11. There is a crying out for Wine in the Streets: all Gladness is obscured, the Joy of the Earth is removed away.

12. Desolation is left in the City, and the Gate is battered with Wasting:

13. When it is thus in the midst of the Earth, among the People; there will be as at the Brushing of an Olive-tree, like the Gleaning-grapes when the Vintage is finished.

14. They will raise up their Voice, will sing: through the Excellency of the Lord will they shout joyfully from the Sea.

15. Therefore honour the Lord in the Fires, the Name of the Lord God of Israel in the Isles of the Sea.

16. We hear Psalms from the Coast of the Earth, Glory to the Righteous One; but I say, I have Leanness, I have Leanness, woe is to me; the Treacherous deal treacherously, even treacherous ones deal perfidiously with Treachery.

17. Dread, a Pit, and a Snare are for thee, O Inhabitant of the Earth.

18. So that he who flees from the Sound of the Dread, will fall into the Pit; and he who gets up from within the Pit, will be taken in the Snare: for the Flood-gates will be opened from on high, and the Foundations of the Earth will shake.

19. The Earth will be thoroughly bruised, the Earth will be thoroughly broke, the Earth will be thoroughly moved;

20. The Earth will thoroughly stagger like one drunk, and be removed about like a Tent: nay its Transgression will be so heavy upon it, that it will fall, and not rise up again.

Ver. 15. forgot seventy] from the Beginning of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, till the Babylonians who kept it down were subdued by Cyrus. Though Tyre was not conquered at first, yet doubtless its Commerce, for which it was so noted, Ezek. xxvii. was spoiled by Nebuchadnezzar's subduing and plundering the neighbouring Countries, and besieging it self; so that Tyre, which was much minded for its Merchandice and Wares; was at that Time strictly forgot seventy Years; see Ezek. xxix. 17, 18.

Ib. the seventy] that is those seventy already mentioned.

Ver. 17. return to her Hire, &c.] Accordingly it appears that in the Time of the Persian Empire, Tyre had the Trade of the Red Sea from the south and east Countries, viz. Arabia, Africa, Persia, and the East Indies, through the Port of Elat on that Sea, and of Rhinocorura on the Mediterranean, which is dispersed to the west and north Countries, Strabo, Lib. xvi.

Ver. 18. holy] See Ezr. iii. 7. Others apply it to the Gospel, Act. xxi. 3, 4.

Ver. 1. Earth] Having before prophesied distinctly against particular Countries, he seems now to speak of the whole together: this appears not only by mentioning none particularly, but by the World, Ver. 4. People being plural in the Heb. Ver. 13. the Isles, Ver. 15. and the Kings, Ver. 21.

Ver. 2. as] because they would be destroyed, or stripped of all they had, according to the next Verse.

Ver. 5. Law] Rom. ii. 14, 15.

Ver. 5. everlasting Covenant] properly this was not confined to the Jews; see Heb. viii. 8. to the End, Chap. lix. 21.

Ver. 10. Town] The singular collectively for the plural Number is frequent, as Ver. 12, 17.

Ver. 11. for Wine] by reason of the People's fainting.

Ver. 15. Fires] Afflictions and Punishments.

Ver. 17. Dread] In Heb. pabud, pabath and pah, with a Similitude of Sound, as observed on Chap. v. 7.

21. At which Time the Lord will punish the Army of the high one on high, as well as the Kings of the Ground upon the Ground.

22. Who will be gathered as Prisoners are into a Pit, and shut up in a Prison; but will be visited a great while after.

23. And the Moon will blush, and the Sun be ashamed; when the Lord of Armies reigns on Mount Zion, in Jerusalem, and before his Elders with Glory.

CHAP. XXV.

O LORD, thou art my God, I will extol thee, will praise thy Name: for thou doest Wonders, the Counsels long ago were faithful and true.

2. For thou makest of a City a Heap, a fortified Town Ruin, of a City that will never be built up a Palace of Strangers.

3. Therefore will the strong People honour thee, the Town of the terrible Nations fear thee.

4. For thou art a Fortress to the Poor, a Fortress to the Needy in his Distress, a Shelter from the overflowing Storm, a Shadow from the Heat; when the Wind of the Terrible is as an overflowing Storm at the Wall.

5. Thou wilt bring down the Noise of the Strangers, as the Heat it self in a dry Place is by the Shadow of a thick Cloud: the Singing of the Terrible will be humbled.

6. And the Lord of Armies will make for all People, on this Mountain, an Entertainment of fat Things, an Entertainment of Wine from the Lees, of fat Things full of Marrow, of Wine from the Lees refined.

7. And he will devour on this Mountain the Sight of the Wrapping that is wrapt over all People, and the Covering that covers over all Nations.

8. He will devour Death eternally, and the Sovereign Lord will wipe off the Tears from all Faces, and take away the Reproach of his People from the whole Earth; for the Lord has spoken it.

9. At which Time it will be said, Behold this is our God, for whom we have waited, and he will save us: this is the Lord, for whom we have waited; we will rejoice, and be glad in his Salvation.

10. For the Hand of the Lord will rest on this Mountain, and Moab will be trod under him, as Straw is for the Dunghil.

11. And he will spread forth his Hands within it, as a Swimmer does to swim, humbling its Haughtiness along with the Flood-gates of his Hands.

Ver. 21. high one] the King of Babylon, Dan. v. 23. the Heb. Word being singular.

Ib. Kings] the inferior ones. Thus it notably accords with Jer. xxv. 26.

Ver. 22. after] when the Empire of Babylon should be dissolved.

Ver. 23. ashamed] of their inferior Light, Chap. lx. 19. Rev. xxi. 23. but especially that they had been worshipped, Deut. iv. 19. and xvii. 3. Job. xxxi. 26, 27.

Ib. when] after the Babylonian Captivity, when the Temple and Jerusalem were rebuilt.

Ib. his Elders] his ancient People the Israelites: first effected at the Restoration from the Babylonian Captivity, and afterwards in the Time of Christ.

Ver. 2. of a City] the same both times.

Ib. Palace] When a City was destroyed by Strangers, they might keep there a Sort of Palace or Manor-house, or the Word may be rendered Castle. The Eng. Bib. has a very remote Sense, if any.

Ver. 4. at the Wall] when the Affyrian Army was without the City of Jerusalem besieging it, Chap. xxxvi. 2, 3. to whose Invasion and Deliverance from it, this and the ten next Chapters seem to have Reference, with other Things annexed; see Chap. xxxii. 1.

Ver. 5. Singing] which is explicative of, or accords with, Noise; and the Word being used but once more in Scripture, is thus translated, Cant. ii. 12.

Ver. 6. this Mountain] Mount Zion; but spiritually, Christ, as Chap. ii. 2. & xi. 9.

Ib. Entertainment] such as was made after the Overthrow of Sennacherib's Army; in the Evangelical Sense the Blessings that are received from Christ.

Ver. 7. the Wrapping that is wrapt] Symmachus, the Ruler who rules; Jonathan the Targumist, the Prince, the Prince; Aquila, Darkness twice, and Theodotion once: the former might understand חֹשֶׁךְ by שָׁמַיִם being more used.

Ib. Wrapping—Covering] the Sorrow and Mourning for which they were covered; but as relating to the Gospel Ignorance, Act. xvii. 30. 2 Cor. iii. 14.

Ib. all] As the Affyrian Power and Conquests spread a general Consternation and Sorrow, their Destruction would be the means of removing it; however the Work of Christianity was more extensive.

Ver. 8. eternally] which is the obvious Meaning of the Word by other Places; Paul taking in Victory, 1 Cor. xv. 54. from the Septuagint, tho' differently express'd, of which see on Gen. xlvii. 31. Amama says this Heb. never signifies in Victory, and that the Greek signifies for ever or eternally there in Cor. Anti-barb. Bibl. in Prov. viii. 22. p. 580.

Ib. Reproach] I am at a Loss to know from whence re-buke came into our Eng. Translations, since neither from the Hebrew, Chaldee, Greek nor vulgar Latin.

Ver. 10. Moab] Look Chap. xvi. 14. which may settle the Time when this Prophecy was delivered, as early as the Beginning of Hazekiah's Reign, and to this Chap. xxviii. 1, 2, 3. is a Confirmation. I cannot be of the Belief, that Moab is put here for the Enemies of the Church in general; how general soever that Exposition is, especially as it agrees so aptly with that Country.

Ver. 11. Swimmer] God would afflict Moab, as one who swims dashes and strikes the Water about.

Ib. Haughtiness] Look how this agrees to Moab in particular, Ch. xvi. 6.

Ib. along with] depressing Moab's Pride, when he plunges down his Hands in swimming.

Ib. Flood-gates] which the Hands as spread in swimming resemble, and might also be so called as being represented to be in the Water: these might be mentioned, because with them a Person who swims beats the Water most forcibly; which may signify that God would powerfully punish Moab. See this Signification of its Kindred-noun, Chap. xxiv. 18. Gen. vii. 11. & viii. 2. 2 King. vii. 19. Mal. iii. 10. and it is rendered cataractis by Jun. and Trem. spoils is a mere invented Word of our last Translators.

12. The strong Hold, the high Place of thy Walls, will he also lay prostrate, humble, bring to the Ground, to the Dust.

CHAP. XXVI.

AT that Time this Poem will be sung in the Country of Judah: We have a strong City, Salvation is put for Walls and Forts.

2. Open the Gates that the virtuous Nation, observing faithful Things, may enter in.

3. Thou keepest the supported Mind in constant Peace, because it trusts in thee.

4. Trust in the Lord for evermore: for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting Strength.

5. For he will lay prostrate those who dwell on high, the exalted Town: he will humble it, humble it to the Ground, will bring it to the Dust.

6. The Foot shall tread it down, the Feet of the Afflicted, the Steps of the Poor.

7. The Path of the Righteous is Uprightness: O Upright One, thou dost make level the Road of the Righteous.

8. Even in the Path of thy Judgments, O Lord, we wait for thee; to thy Name and Remembrance, is the Desire of the Soul.

9. With my Soul I desire thee in the Night, even with my Spirit within me I seek thee early: for when thy Judgments are on the Earth, the Inhabitants of the World learn Righteousness.

10. Let Favour be shewn to the Wicked, he will not learn Righteousness; he will do unjustly in the Country of Equity, and not see the Excellency of the Lord.

11. O Lord, thy Hand being lifted up, they do not behold: let them behold, and be ashamed of the Envy at the People, nay let the Fire for thy Adversaries consume them.

12. O Lord, thou disposest Peace for us; since thou even performest for us all our Works.

13. O Lord our God, Masters besides thee having born rule over us, through thee alone we make mention of thy Name.

14. The Dead will not live, the Deceased will not rise up: therefore dost thou visit and destroy them, and causest the whole Remembrance of them to perish.

15. Thou addest to the Nation, O Lord, thou addest to the Nation, art honoured; who didst remove far off to all the Ends of the Earth.

16. O Lord, they visit thee in Distress; pour forth Prayer, thy Correction being upon them.

17. As a Woman that is pregnant, who draws near to bring forth, is in Anguish, cries out in her Pangs; so have we been at thy Presence, O Lord.

18. We have been pregnant, been in Anguish, as it were brought forth Wind: we made no Safety on the Earth, nor did the Inhabitants of the World fall.

19. Thy Dead will live, with my Corpse will they rise up: awake, and sing, ye who dwell in the Mould; for thy Dew is the Dew of Herbs, and the Earth shall cast out the Deceased.

Ver. 2. Open the Gates] after the Siege was over; though more largely respecting the Conversion under the Gospel.

Ver. 3. constant Peace] It is the same as Chap. lvii. 19. Jer. vi. 14. the Word for Peace being repeated; and had one of them been in the constructed Form to be Peace of Peace, it would have been nearer the pres. Transf. but now is rather thus; rendered by Jun. and Trem. continuum pacem.

Ver. 5. the exalted Town] Ninveh the Metropolis of the Assyrian Empire, Chap. xxxvii. 37.

Ver. 7. Uprightness] or very even, only it would not be proper to render the next Word in that Manner.

Ib. level] as the Beam or Scales are made in weighing, agreeable to Chap. xl. 4. and the former Part of this Verse; in which Sense see this Word Psa. lxxviii. 50.

Ver. 10. Wicked] A Complaint upon such as were among themselves, continued in the next Verse.

Ver. 11. let] which I cannot but prefer to shall.

Ver. 12. for us] both Times the same; and so the latter Part has such an Agreement with the former, as the connective for requires. I might add, all our Works are not in us.

Ib. Works] Those strictly-intended here, seem to be such as God did for his People, and upon that Account called theirs: for they could not be universal, since evil Works must be excluded.

Ver. 13. Masters] those recorded 2 Chron. xxviii. in the Time of Ahaz.

VOL. II.

Ib. make] Thou hast still preserved us a People to praise thee.

Ver. 14. The Dead] in particular those who were destroyed of Sennacherib's Army, Chap. xxxvii. 36.

Ib. therefore] thou destroyest them with the Intent, that they shall not live again.

Ver. 15. addest] by bringing home the Captives, and those that fled away for Fear.

Ver. 18. made] neither kept themselves safe, nor destroyed their Enemies. This Verse may be counted the Conclusion of the Poem begun Ver. 1.

Ib. Inhabitants of the World] the Enemies of Judah, perhaps called thus for their great Number, and being of divers Nations, 2 Chron. xxviii.

Ver. 19. Thy dead] the People of Judah or Jerusalem, who were appointed to Death by the Enemy: for the Condition which Rabshakeh offered was Captivity, if they went out to him, Chap. xxxvi. 16, 17. so that it may be supposed no less than Death was their Doom, as they kept the City against him.

Ib. my Corpse] Isaiah himself being one among them. Lowth's Commentary has it remarkably, he says it is God's Answer, and thy dead are the Church's dead, and my dead God's or Christ's dead, both being the same, which he applies to the last Resurrection: whereas that is to be both of the Just and Unjust, Act. xxiv. 15.

Ib. cast out] The Simile of dead Bodies being continued. This last Member of the Verse is indeed rendered in other very different Meanings, which I have considered, and prefer that in our Eng. Bible.

20. Go, my People, enter into thy Chambers, and shut thy Door upon thee: hide as it were a little Moment, till the Indignation is passed over.

21. For behold the Lord will come out of his Place, to punish the Inhabitants of the Earth for their Iniquity; and the Earth shall discover its Blood, and cover over the Slain of it no longer.

C H A P. XXVII.

AT that Time the Lord will punish, with his hard, great, and powerful Sword, Leviathan the stretching Serpent, even Leviathan the crooked Serpent; and will slay the Whale which is in the Sea.

2. At the same Time sing of it, There is a Vineyard of red Wine.

3. I the Lord will keep it, will water it every Instant: lest any should hurt it, I will keep it Night and Day.

4. I having no Wrath, who would put against me Briers and Brambles in Battle? which I would march through, burning them up together.

5. Otherwise by taking hold of my Strength, that he might make peace with me, he should make it.

6. He will cause those who come of Jacob to take root; Israel shall blossom, and bud forth: and they shall fill the Surface of the World with Fruit.

7. Does he smite it, as the Smiter of it is smitten? Is it slain according to the Slaughter of his slain ones?

8. When it shoots forth, thou wilt contend with it in Measure: he will take away with his hard Wind, at the Time of the East-wind.

9. Therefore by this will the Iniquity of Jacob be purged away, and this is all Fruit to put away his Sin: when he makes all the Stones of the Altar as Chalk-stones scattered about, the Groves and Sun-burnt Images will not stand up.

10. For the fortified City will be solitary, the Habitation removed, and it will be left like the Wilderness: there the Calf will feed, and there he will lie down, and consume the Branches of it.

11. When its Bough is withered, they will be broke off, the Women coming will light them: since they are a People of no Understanding, therefore he who made them will not have mercy upon them, nor he who formed them be gracious to them.

12. At which Time the Lord will beat off from the Flood of the River to the Stream of Egypt; and you will be gathered up one by one, O Israelites.

13. At the same Time the great Trumpet will be sounded, and they will come who

Ver. 20. Door] doors appears to be by misunderstanding the which as Buxt. says, and the Heb. Keri shews, is redundant.

Ib. Moment] the small Time of the Affyrian Invasion, or Siege of Jerusalem; but may be occasionally applied to many other Things, publick and private.

Ver. 21. punish] as it seems particularly by the Affyrian Conquests and Slaughters, which were very great for several Years after the Time this was prophesied, as Chap. xxv. 10. Those who consult the Commentators, may often observe how they trifle in general Meanings.

Ib. discover] through the Multitude of those who are slain, and the few left to bury them.

Ib. no longer] as dead Bodies used to be buried after Battles, &c.

Ver. 1. hard] I see no Reason why this Epithet alone should be turned out of its proper Meaning. The LXX have bely, as if with τ added.

Ib. Leviathan] Affyria, or Sennacherib its King, as flinted by at that Time: yet mystically it may denote Antichrist; not Satan, which Rev. xii. 9. & xx. 2. are cited to prove in the Assembly's Annotations; for he was cast out and bound, not slain.

Ib. stretching] straight like a Bar, according to the Etymology of the Word, as well as turning crooked, the two Properties of a Serpent here described. Buxt. extensus.

Ib. Whale] the same, as being at the great River Tigris, &c.

Ver. 2. sing of it] of Judab, an Antecedent understood, as in Psa. lxxxvii. 1.

Ib. red Wine] being the best Sort, Prov. xxiii. 31.

Ver. 7. Does he smite it] does God smite Judab.

Ib. the Smiter] the Affyrian Nation or King.

Ib. his] the Lord's, Chap. xxxvii. 36. which otherwise should be its; whereas him in the com. Transf. would rather belong to the latter he, and be the same him as the other, wrong.

Ver. 8. take away] some of the Leaves, &c. not blow the Tree down. stayeth in the pres. Transf. is without any Foundation in the Heb. and I believe in all other Versions whatever, the Preposition for with being also left out; yet Louth expounds by it, as the certain Sense.

Ver. 9. this is all Fruit] viz. all the fore-mentioned Chastisement, which the before Fruit spoils.

Ib. Chalk-stones] when the Stones of the idolatrous Altars of Manassah, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 3, 4, 5. or of that in particular which K. Abaz had made, 2 King. xvi. were scattered about (for the Verb does not signify beaten in sunder) like Chalk-stones, which lie neglected as unfit for building.

Ver. 10. For] consonant to the two foregoing Verses, and the proper Meaning of the Heb. Particle.

Ib. City] Jerusalem; which our Translators seem to have taken for some Heathen City, and so turned the foregoing Heb. Particle out of its proper Meaning for, into yet.

Ib. solitary] at the Captivity of Manassah, 2 King. xxi. 13. 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11.

Ib. removed] Heb. sent away.

Ver. 11. Bough] on which the Branches grow, being sing. and might mean the King. He describes the Desolation of the City under the Similitude of a Tree.

Ver. 12. beat off] as Fruit from the Tree where it hung, Ver. 11. & Ch. xvii. 6. not as Corn is threshed, by which some expound it; for that signified Punishment, and does not suit with being gathered up one by one.

Ib. the River] Euphrates at Affyria.

Ver. 13.] the same in Sense with the foregoing Verse, but express'd in another Manner, as also more plainly and fully. By this being joined in Time to that in the 10th Verse, as the Beginning of both these Verses shews, it are are perishing in the Country of Assyria, as also those who are driven away in that of Egypt; and will worship the Lord on the holy Mountain at Jerusalem.

C H A P. XXVIII.

WO be to the Crown of Pride, to the Drunkards of Ephraim, whose fine Glory will be a fading Flower; which is at the Head of the Valley of the fat ones, who are knocked down with Wine.

2. Behold a powerful and strong one of the Lord, like an overflowing Storm of Hail, a Tempest of Destruction, like an overflowing Storm of mighty Water that runs over, will lay to the Ground with the Hand.

3. The Crown of Pride, the Drunkards of Ephraim, will be trod down with the Feet.

4. And his fine Glory, which is at the Head of the Valley of the fat ones, will be a fading Flower; like the First-fruit before the Summer-fruit, which as he who sees is looking on, while it is yet in his Hand, he is devouring it.

5. At that Time will the Lord of Armies be for a Crown of Glory, and for a fine Diadem to the Residue of his People;

6. As also for a Spirit of Judgment to him that sits in Judgment, and for Power to them who turn back the Battle to the Gate.

7. Since these likewise err with Wine, and go astray with strong Drink; the Priest and Prophet err with strong Drink, are swallowed up by Wine, go astray by strong Drink; they err in seeing, stagger in judging.

8. For all Tables are full of Vomit, of Filthiness, without any Room.

9. Whom shall he teach Knowledge? And whom shall he cause to understand the Report? Such as are just weaned from the Milk, taken from the Breasts?

10. For there is Precept to Precept, Precept to Precept, Line to Line, Line to Line, here a little, there a little.

11. For with mimicking Lips, and with another Tongue he speaks to this People.

12. To whom he says, Make this a Rest for the tired one to rest, and this a Quietness; yet they will by no means hearken.

13. So the Lord's Commission will be to them, Precept to Precept, Precept to Precept, Line to Line, Line to Line, here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, as also be broke, ensnared and taken.

14. Therefore hear the Lord's Commission, O scornful Men, that rule this People who are in Jerusalem.

15. Because you declare, We have made a Covenant with Death, and made Provision against the Grave: though the overflowing Scourge passes on, it will not come to us; for we have put Lying for our Shelter, and hid our selves in Falschhood.

16. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will found a Stone in Zion, a proved Stone, a precious Corner of a Foundation laid: he who believes will not be in haste.

falls out, as well as agrees, with what is described at the End of Chap. xix. the Account of which may likewise serve for this.

Ver. 13. in the Country] Lat. Vulg. from the Country both times.

Ver. 1. Ephraim] This appears not to be another Discourse, only a Digression concerning the Country of Israel, to Ver. 5.

Ib. Head] Samaria, as being the Metropolis, and situate on a Hill, 1 King. xvi. 24.

Ib. Valley] the Heb. Word for which is sing. and that for fat ones plur. as this is also fem. and that masc.

Ver. 2. one] Salmanser King of Assyria, 2 King. xviii. 9, 10, 11.

Ib. a Tempest] De Dieu observes that according to the Point in the Heb. Word it signifies Gate, and by adding to it strains it to that Meaning; but in Buxtorf's Concordance the Pointing is for this.

Ver. 3. The Crown of Pride] The Verb being fem. and plur. Lewis de Dieu argues for it to be the Crown, the Pride, both which are also fem. in Heb. but it cannot be so, because Crown is there in the constructed Form for Crown of, as in Ver. 5. as well as Ver. 1. and the Verb might be put fem. as being nearer to Crown in the Heb. than to Drunkards, or for the neut. Gender.

Ver. 4. devouring] having a greedy Desire for it, as the Assyrians for Samaria.

Ver. 5. Residue] the other two Tribes, with whom the true Worship of God then was, 2 Chron. xxix. & xxx. & xxxi.

Ver. 6. Battle] 2 King. xviii. 7, 8.

Ib. to the Gate] beating, and driving the Enemies thither.

Ver. 9. weaned] Shall he teach those who are as silly as Children?

Ver. 11. mimicking] as Parents and Nurses speak, when they mimic the Child's Talk: whereas stammering is different both to the Meaning of the Word and Matter, since the next Verse and [For] in this shew it not to be a future punishing them by a strange People, as commonly interpreted.

Ver. 12. make] the Verb being imperative.

Ib. this a Rest] Harken to the present Instruction mentioned in the three preceding Verses, that there may be Rest from such Labour.

Ib. tired one] Isaiab, if not God himself, tired of instructing them so much to no Purpose.

Ver. 13. So] Since they would not hearken, it would be to their Condemnation.

Ver. 15. made] by the Agreement with Sennacherib, 2 King. xviii. 14, 15, 16. while others apply it to Nothing.

Ib. made Provision] as in Buxt. Lex. or acted with Sight or Foresight, from the Verb to see.

Ib. though] notwithstanding the Assyrians go on conquering.

Ib. Lying] Probably many of them did not intend to fulfil the Treaty with Sennacherib, only for the Present till he was gone, whatever Hezekiab did.

Ver. 16. Therefore] agreeable to Ch. vii. 14.

Ib. not be in haste] to see it done before the Time,

17. And

17. And I will put Judgment to the Line, and Righteousness to the Plummets; then shall the Hail remove away the Shelter of Lying, and the Waters overflow the Hiding-place.

18. Your Covenant too with Death shall be abolished, and your Provision against the Grave shall not stand: when the overflowing Scourge passes on, you shall be trod down by it.

19. At its passing on it shall take you; for Morning by Morning it shall pass on, both in the Day and Night; and it will be Nothing but Disturbance to understand the News.

20. For the Bed is too short for one to stretch himself out, and the Covering narrow when he crouches together.

21. For the Lord will rise up as at Mount Perazim, will be moved as at the Vale of Gibeon; to do his Deed, his strange Deed, and to work his Work, his unknown Work.

22. And now do not deride, lest your Bonds should become strong: for a Consuming, and that determined, have I heard from the Sovereign Lord of Armies upon the whole Country.

23. Give ear, and hear my Voice: hearken, and hear my Speech.

24. Does the Ploughman plough all Day to sow? Does he open and harrow his Ground?

25. Does he not, when he has made the Surface of it level, scatter the Coriander, sprinkle about the Cummin, put the principal Wheat, the remarkable Barley, and the Rye in its Bounds?

26. Since his God instructs him in what is right, he teaches him.

27. For the Coriander is not threshed with the Threshing-instrument, nor the Wheel of the Cart turned about upon the Cummin; but the Coriander is beat out with a Staff, and the Cummin with a Stick.

28. Bread-corn is bruised, though he will not thresh it perpetually; and he breaks with the Wheel of his Cart, what he does not bruise with his Horsemen.

29. This also comes forth from the Lord of Armies, who performs Counsel wonderfully, does great Matters.

C H A P. XXIX.

W O be to Ariel, to Ariel the Town where David encamped: add Year to Year, the Feasts shall be cut off.

2. And I will strengthen Ariel, so that there shall be Sorrow and Sorrowing; and it shall be as Ariel to me.

3. And I will encamp against thee with a Battalion, laying siege against thee with a Camp, and will raise up Forts against thee.

because he depends on the Truth of it. The Sept. taking π for or as I have asbamed, as quoted Rom. ix. 33. & x. 11. 1 Pet. ii. 6.

Ver. 18. abolished] for Sennacherib sent his Army through the Country to Jerusalem, for all the Treaty of Peace.

Ver. 20. Bed] signifying the Agreement with Sennacherib as before.

Ib. when] So this Prefix signifies, which does not make a comparative Degree.

Ib. crouches together] Heb. gathers himself together; not wrap himself, which it appears might be done when he was stretched out.

Ver. 21. Perazim] Look 2 Sam. v. 20. 1 Chron. xiv. 11.

Ib. Gibeon] See Josh. x. 10. & 1 Chron. xiv. 15, 16.

Ver. 22. Country] See the like Chap. x. 23. and that it is particular is confirmed by Ver. 14.

Ver. 24. Does] The Meaning intended appears to be, that God who teaches the Husbandman to do thus, Ver. 26. will not himself always correct, as this Verse may denote, but withal bestow Grace and Favour, according to the next; however their present Wickedness might cause it to be concealed from them by such a Similitude; see Mat. xiii. 13.

Ver. 25. Coriander] or Gith, a sort of Cockle, the Seed of which as Kimbi writes in the Book of Roots is black, and adds Ab. Ezra, less than Cummin. The Septuagint who might best know such a Word have it μαλάνθιον, and so Jun. and Trem. melanthium, in Eng. Coriander.

Ver. 27. beat out] in a milder Manner, as the Lord sometimes corrects his People.

Ver. 28. bruised] Though the Punishment of the Lord's People may upon other Occasions be sharp, it will not always continue like that of the Wicked. By the Husbandman's sowing those several Kinds, Ver. 25. as likewise by the farther Use made of them in this and the foregoing Verse, it appears that the Whole was to represent the Israelites.

Ib. and he breaks] This Member of the Sentence is affirmative, not negative.

Ib. does not] Though our Translators were to make no Comment, is there not one wanting to explain, Bread-corn is bruised, because he will not—bruise it?

Ver. 29. performs] both those Verbs are active.

Ib. does great Matters] Heb. makes Matter great.

Ver. 1. Ariel] which may be interpreted a strong Lion, denoting Jerusalem.

Ib. add] that is though you add, as Jer. xli. 11. The Festivals should be hindered or spoiled for more than a Year, as Chap. xxxii. 10.

Ib. Feasts] the common and obvious Meaning of the Word, which has also no Article for the Object or Accusative Case.

Ib. cut off] which is the allowed Signification of the Word; and not only the Targumist translates כִּדְמִיָּהּ יִכְרְעוּ when the Feasts shall cease, but Ab. Ezra expounds it in the same Manner, and in the Tigurin Version is festi dies evertentur, the feast days shall be overthrown, as there is in the vulg. Est, solentates evolutae sunt.

Ver. 2. Sorrow and Sorrowing] like the Heb. Words toaniyah and aniyah of the same Meaning, and Affinity in Sound.

Ib. as Ariel to me] by dealing with it roughly as with a strong Lion.

Ver. 3. encamp] by the Assyrian Army, according to Lowth and White, in their Commentaries; which God caused or permitted to come, to humble that City, Ver.

4. Others have understood it of the Chaldeans in Zedekiah's Reign, which is not only out of the Course of the Prophecy, but appears not to be meant, because here is

4. Thus

4. Thus shalt thou be brought down, mutter from the Ground, and thy Speech shall be whispering from the Dust: thy Voice shall be even from the Ground like one that has a familiar Spirit, and thy Speech chirp from the Dust.

5. Moreover the Multitude of thy Strangers shall be like small Dust, as shall the Multitude of the Terrible be like Chaff that passes away; nay it shall be at an Instant suddenly.

6. Thou shalt be visited from the Lord of Armies with Thunder, and with an Earthquake, and a great Noise, a Whirlwind, and Tempest, and the Flame of a consuming Fire.

7. And like a Dream, a Vision of the Night, will be the Multitude of all the Nations that come to war against Ariel, even all that are at war with it and its Fortification, and streighten it.

8. For it will be as when a hungry Man dreams plainly that he eats, but he awakes, and his Stomach is empty; and as when a thirsty Man dreams plainly that he drinks, but awakes, and behold he is faint, and his Stomach longing: so will be the Multitude of all the Nations that come to war against Mount Zion.

9. Stay, and be astonished; be amazed, and cry out: they are drunk, but not with Wine; they stagger, but not with strong Drink.

10. For the Lord has poured out the Spirit of sound Sleep upon you, and closed up your Eyes: the Prophets, and your chief ones, the Seers has he covered.

11. And the Vision of all is to you like the Words of a sealed Book, which some give to one that is a Scholar, saying, Do read this; and he answers, I cannot, because it is sealed:

12. On the other hand the Book being given to one who is not a Scholar, saying, Do read this; he answers, I am no Scholar.

13. The Lord having said, Because this People come nigh with their Mouth, and honour me with their Lips, but remove their Heart far from me, and their Fear to me is taught by the Commandment of Men:

14. Therefore behold I will proceed to do wonderfully to this People, what is wonderful and a Wonder; so that the Wisdom of their wise Men shall perish, and the Understanding of their learned ones be hid.

15. Wo be to those that get deep to hide Counsel from the Lord, whose Works are in Darkness; and they question, Who sees us? And who knows us?

16. Will not your turning upside down, be counted like the Potter's Clay, when the Work should say of him who made it, He did not make me; or the Thing formed say of him who formed it, He did not understand?

17. Shall not Lebanon within a very little while be turned into arable Land, and the arable Land be counted a Wood?

18. At which Time the Deaf will hear no Mention of the City being taken, which would scarce have been omitted for lesser Circumstances, nay the contrary is plain, Chap. xxx. 19. and if Particulars agree as well, nay better, to the former, there need be no Hesitation of applying it to that, as coming to pass also next after the Prediction; see Chap. xxx. 31. which the LXX by great Mistake have as David.

1b. Battalion] the Part of the main Army that was sent before, Chap. xxxvi. 2. It is not an Adverb, but a Noun, Bux. Lex.

1b. a Camp] as the like Nouns signify a Garrison, 1 Sam. xiv. 1, 12. this Jun. and Trem. accordingly render statiois.

Ver. 5. thy Strangers] the Ethiopian and Egyptian Army, Chap. xxxvii. 9. Josephus, Antiq. Lib. x. 1. This seems ill applied to the Affyrians, nor does it appear that their Overthrow is spoken of till the latter Part of the following Chapter.

Ver. 6. with] as with.

1b. Whirlwind] thus rendered Ch. v. 28. & xvii. 13. & xxi. 1. and commonly, in particular at Nab. i. 3. where what our Eng. Translators have turned here storm and tempest, is whirlwind and storm; the two Words Storm and Tempest denoting the same Thing.

Ver. 7. like a Dream] how the next Verse shews.

1b. a Vision] by Apposition, as Grammarians speak, not by Government.

1b. Multitude] not of Nations, but of the People of them.

1b. Nations] there being divers under the Affyrian Empire, as well as afterwards under the Babylonian or Chaldean.

Ver. 8. but] though they receive large Presents, as we read 2 King. xviii. 14, 15, 16. and seem to be satisfied like the Dreamer, yet they will be as craving as before; accordingly it was demanded afterwards that the Inhabitants of Jerusalem should yield themselves up to the King of Affyria, 2 King. xviii. 31, 32.

Ver. 9. be amazed] For Buxtorf puts the Meaning of ryw in Hithpabel, Stupere, Obstupefcere, as in Chap. xli. 10, 23. which seems to suit best with the Context, and the Verb has no such Signification as to cry out; cry out and cry being also so unrhethorical, as to be an Anticlimax.

Ver. 13. and their Fear to me is taught by the Commandment of Men] The Sept. translate after the Manner of Mat. xv. 9. which is cited from them; and this I confess appears to be in the Manner Hammond speaks of on Heb. viii. but not as he says, that the Heb. was otherwise read, when they so rendered it; it being in vain by taking for and taught may be teaching with different Vowels.

Ver. 14. to do wonderfully] which is an infinite Verb in Heb. and the like Words are here tripled after the Manner in Ver. 2.

Ver. 16. Will not] EN is used in asking a Question, as Jun. and Trem. here translate, though not negatively; which both the Sense requires, and the Particle has that Use frequently.

1b. when] Thus Jun. and Trem. turn it quum, the known Meaning; nor is there any Thing here to make it interrogative. And if we attend to the Sense, shall the Work say is as though it was the Work of Clay does not say; which makes it unlike what those People did, while it is compared to that.

the Words of the Book, and the Eyes of the Blind will see out of Dimness and Darkness.

19. The Meek will also increase Gladness through the Lord, and the Needy among Men rejoice through the Holy One of Israel.

20. For the Terrible shall have an End, the Derider fail, and all who watch for Iniquity be cut off;

21. Those that make a Man an Offender for a Word, lay a Snare for him who reproves at the Gate, and turn aside the Righteous with an empty Pretence.

22. Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the Family of Jacob, who redeemed Abraham; Jacob now shall not be ashamed, nor shall his Face be pale.

23. For when he sees his Children, the Work of my Hands within him, they will sacredly reverence my Name, as they will the Holy One of Jacob, and be in fear of the God of Israel.

24. Such too as err in Spirit will know Understanding, and the Murmurers learn Doctrine.

C H A P. XXX.

WO be to the Persons who are rebellious, says the Lord, to perform Counsel, but not from me, and to cover with a Covering, but not of my Spirit; that they may add Sin to Sin;

2. Who go to get down to Egypt, without asking of my Mouth, to be strengthened with the Strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the Shelter of Egypt.

3. So the Strength of Pharaoh shall become Shame to you, and the Trust in the Shelter of Egypt Confusion.

4. Though his Princes are at Zoan, and his Ambassadors come to Hanes:

5. Every one shall be ashamed of a People that do not profit them, that are neither Help, nor Profit; but Shame, and also Reproach.

6. The Burden of the Beasts of the South: Into a Country of Distress and Streightness, from whence are the stout Lion and the old one, the Viper and flying fiery Serpent, they carry their Wealth upon the Shoulders of Ass-colts, and their Treasures upon the Bunches of Camels, to a People that will not profit.

7. As the Egyptians will help in vain, and to no Purpose; therefore do I call concerning this, The Strength of them is to sit still.

8. Now come, write it upon a Table to them, and describe it in a Book, that it may be for the future Time, perpetually for evermore.

9. For it is a rebellious People, lying Persons, Persons that are not willing to hear the Law of the Lord:

10. Who intimate to the Lookers, Do not look; and to the Seers, Do not see right Things for us, speak to us Flatteries, see Delusions:

11. Depart from the Way, turn aside from the Path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from our Presence.

12. Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel; Because you despise this Word, and trust in Oppression and Frowardness, depending upon it:

13. This Iniquity shall therefore be to you like a falling Breach, swelling out in a high Wall: whose Breaking comes suddenly at an Instant.

14. And he will break it as a Potter's Pitcher is broke, beating in pieces without sparing; insomuch that there will not be found, when it is beat in pieces, a Sherd to take Fire from the Hearth, or to take Water out of the Lake.

15. For thus says the Sovereign Lord, the Holy One of Israel; In returning and Rest you shall be saved, in Quietness and Trust shall be your Power; but you will not.

16. On the contrary you vaunt, No, for we will flee upon Hories; for this cause you shall flee: and we will ride upon the Swift; for this cause those who pursue you shall be swift.

17. One thousand from before the Rebuke of one, from before the Rebuke of five shall you flee; till you are left like a Pole upon the Top of a Mountain, and like a Standard upon a Hill.

Ver. 20. Terrible] the three Sorts mentioned in this Verse seem to point out the Wicked among themselves, and this the higher Rank spoken of in the next Verse.

Ver. 21. who reproves] the Prophets especially.

Ib. at the Gate] where the great Men used to sit, to transact the publick Affairs.

Ver. 2. to Egypt] That this was in the Time of Hezekiah, not of Zedekiah as some expound it, the three last Verses shew, as also the next Chap. Ver. 1, 5, 8. See too Ch. xxxvi. 6, 9. and Grot. on Ver. 1.

Ver. 4. Though] which the Sentence that follows does shew.

Ver. 6. South] the Beasts which carried the Presents that Way to Egypt, according to the following Expressions.

Ib. Serpent] according as the Wilderness between Judea and Egypt is described, Deut. viii. 15.

Ver. 11. Holy One] The Prophet notwithstanding immediately delivers his Message in that Name.

Ver. 14. he will break it] God would break their high Wall or Defence; not break the Iniquity, as in Poole's and the Assembly's Annotations it is weakly interpreted.

Ver. 15. the Holy One] not in the Vulg. Lat.

Ver. 17. from before] as commonly rendered in the pres. Transf. especially with this Verb.

18. And

18. And therefore will the Lord wait to be gracious to you, and therefore will he be exalted to have mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of Judgment, all who wait for him are blessed.

19. For the People will abide at Zion in Jerusalem: thou wilt not weep at all, he will be exceeding gracious to thee at the Voice of thy Cry; as soon as he hears it, he will answer thee.

20. And though the Lord gives you the Bread of Distress, and the Water of Oppression; thy Teachers will fly away no more, but thy Eyes will see them.

21. And thy Ears will hear a Word following thee say, This is the Way, walk in it; when you are going either to the right Hand, or the left.

22. Then will you defile the Covering of the carved Images of Silver, and the Surplice of thy molten Image of Gold: thou wilt separate them like her who has the Infirmary; wilt say to it, Get thee out.

23. And he will give Rain for thy Seed, with which thou shalt sow the Ground, and Bread of the Crop of the Ground, that will be fat and gross: thy Cattle, at that Time, will feed on an enlarged Pasture.

24. Both the Oxen and the Ass-colls that till the Ground, shall eat grown Provender, which is winnowed with the Fan, and the Winnowing-instrument.

25. There will also be Streams, Rivers of Water upon every high Mountain, and upon every Hill that is raised up, at the Time of the great Slaughter, when the Towers fall.

26. Moreover the Light of the Moon will be like that of the Sun, and the Light of the Sun will be sevenfold, like that of seven Days, on the Day the Lord binds up the Breaking of his People, and heals the Stroke of their Wound.

27. Behold the Name of the Lord comes far off, burning with his Anger, and the Burden is heavy: his Lips are full of Indignation, and his Tongue is as a consuming Fire.

28. His Breath too like an overflowing Flood will be up to the middle of the Neck, to shake the Nations with the Shaking of Vanity; and there will be a Bridle upon the Jaws of the People, causing to go astray.

29. You will have a Poem as at the Night the Feast is sanctified, and Gladness of Heart as when one walks with a Pipe, to come to the Mountain of the Lord, to the Rock of Israel.

30. And the Lord will make the Majesty of his Voice be heard, and cause the coming down of his Arm to be seen, in the Wrath of Anger, and the Flame of consuming Fire; by scattering, with an overflowing Storm, and Hail-stones.

31. For by the Voice of the Lord will Assyria be broke in pieces, that smites with a Rod.

32. And every Passing of the founded Staff, which the Lord will cause to rest upon him, will be with Timbrels and Harps; and with Battles of Shaking will he fight against it.

33. For Tophthah was provided heretofore,

Ver. 18. therefore] because they would be in such Need of it.

Ib. Judgment] against their Enemies; for even in this he would be gracious and merciful to his People, by delivering them from their Enemies. What Shifts do the Annotators use, to make this Word suit with the Text!

Ver. 19. abide at Zion] not flee as from other Places, Ver. 16, 17.

Ib. at all] See Gen. iii. 4.

Ver. 20. Oppression] This is distinguished from Affliction, Deut. xxvi. 7. Job. xxxvi. 15. Psa. xlv. 24. and is suitable here, because of its being done by their Enemies the Assyrians.

Ib. fly away] This Verb being made from a Noun signifying a Wing; as if one should say, will wing it no more.

Ver. 21. following] continuing to warn, and direct; but how behind does not concern me to examine.

Ver. 22. Surplice] Heb. aphudab, like an Ephod, or another Name for it, as in Exod. xxviii. 8. & xxxix. 5. where there is the same Word.

Ib. her who has the Infirmary] See Lev. xii. 2. & xv. 19, 20.

Ver. 23. Rain for thy Seed] as shewn on Deut. xi. 14.

Ver. 24. grown] as Malt is when it is made, from the Root to be leavened; which it might be by soaking it in Water, to be eat so.

Ib. Fan] what the Heb. Words belonging to it shew.

Ver. 25. upon every high] hereby denoting an unusual Blessing, as also in the following Verse.

Ib. Towers] erected by the Assyrians to storm Jerusalem.

Ver. 28. Bridle] agreeable to 2 King. xix. 7, 28. Chap. xxxvii. 7, 29.

Ver. 28. causing to go astray] from the intended Way.

Ver. 29. as at the Night the Feast is sanctified] Vulg. Lat. as the Voice of the sanctified Solemnity, where vox, Voice, is to be supposed crept in for nox, Night.

Ib. Rock] according as the same Word is literally rendered in the like Sense, Deut. xxxii. 31.

Ver. 31. Assyria] as fulfilled, Chap. xxxvii. 36.

Ib. smites] as we read 2 King. xv. 19, 20, 29. 2 Chron. xxviii. 20. 2 King. xviii. 9, 10, 11, 13, &c.

Ver. 32. every Passing] by which I understand every Stroke.

Ib. founded] settled as a Foundation for this.

Ib. Timbrels] according to Ver. 29. and alluding to the Custom, when the Children were sacrificed to Molech at Tophthah, 2 King. xxiii. 10. of playing on toph, a Timbrel, to drown the Crying, from whence was the Name of the Place, Lib. Jalkut on Jer. vii.

Ib. Shaking] The Pestilence, with which, as Berosus says in Josephus, Ant. Lib. x. 2. the Assyrians were slain, 2 King. xix. 35. seizing Persons with violent Pains, Vomiting, Intermittions of Heat and Cold, &c. aptly denoted by Battles of Shaking.

Ver. 33. Tophthah] elsewhere called Tophthah, by Jerusalem, Jer. xix.

Ib. for the King] for the King of Assyria's Overthrow, that being the Place where, according to Josephus, he lost so many Men, Chap. xxxvii. 36.

even for the King was it prepared; he has made it deep and large; its Bon-fire is Fire and much Wood, the Breath of the Lord like a Flood of Brimstone kindles it.

C H A P. XXXI.

WO be to those who go down to Egypt for Help, depending upon Horses, and trusting upon Chariots, because they are many, as also upon Horsemen, because they are very numerous; and have no Regard to the Holy One of Israel, nor seek the Lord.

2. Whereas he being wise, will bring Adversity, and not put away his Words; but will rise up against the House of the Evil-doers; and against the Help of the Workers of Iniquity.

3. The Egyptians on the contrary are Men, and not God; as their Horses are Flesh, and not Spirit: and the Lord will stretch out his Hand, so that the Helper shall stumble, and he who is helped fall, all of them failing together.

4. For thus said the Lord to me; As a Lion roaring, even a young Lion for his Prey, against whom a Multitude of Shepherds is called, that is not daunted at their Voice, nor humbled at their Noise; so will the Lord of Armies come down to make war for the Mountain of Zion, and for the Hill of it.

5. As Birds flying, so will the Lord of Armies protect Jerusalem; protecting he will rescue, passing over will deliver.

6. Return to him, from whom the Israelites have made deep Apostacy.

7. For at that Time shall each one reject his silver Idols, and his golden ones, which your Hands have made you for Sin.

8. Then shall Assyria fall by the Sword of no Person, and the Sword of no Man shall consume him; but he shall flee from the Presence of the Sword, and his chosen ones be for Tribute.

9. So he shall pass on to his Rock for Dread, and his Princes shall be daunted at the Standard, says the Lord, whose Fire is at Zion, and his Oven at Jerusalem.

C H A P. XXXII.

BEHOLD the King will reign with Righteousness, and as for the Princes, they will rule with Judgment.

2. A Man will also be like a Hiding-place from the Wind, and a Covert from the overflowing Storm, like Streams of Water in a dry Place, as the Shadow of a huge Rock in a faint Country.

3. Then will the Eyes of the Seers not be dim, and the Ears of the Hearers will hearken.

4. The Heart too of the Hasty will understand Knowledge, and the Tongue of those who stammer soon speak plain Things.

5. The Vile will no more be called noble, nor the Niggard be said to be liberal.

6. For the Vile speaks Vileness, and his Heart commits Iniquity; to act Hypocrisy, and speak to the Lord erroneously, to make the Stomach of the Hungry empty, and the Drink of the Thirsty to be wanting.

7. And the Instruments of the Niggard

Ver. 1. the King] Hezekiah. From the Beginning of Chap. xxv. to the End of Chap. xxxv. appears to be one Prophecy, chiefly concerning Sennacherib's Expedition against Judah and Jerusalem, the Accomplishment of which immediately follows: only there is a Prediction of the Destruction of Edom, Chap. xxxiv. being made by Sennacherib at the same Time, and the Captivity and Return of Judah under Manassah, being soon after, in Ch. xxvii. as also Addresses to God and the People, with Gospel Prophecies intermix'd, according to the Manner of those Writings, Isaiah's especially, and a Digression concerning Israel in Chap. xxviii. and that at Ver. 15. It further appears that this was prophesied in Hezekiah's Reign, and at the Beginning of it by Chap. xxv. 10. because the People are blamed for seeking Help from Egypt, Ch. xxx. & xxxi. with which there might be an early Alliance, or the Speech prophetic; whereas in the Time of Abaz they applied for Aid to Assyria, 2 King. xvi. against which Hezekiah rebelled, 2 King. xviii. 7. and as the Heb. Word signifies either the (present) King, or a (future) King, and the like may be said of the Princes; I do not see Cause to think with any, that this Chapter was composed before the preceding ones, and in a former Reign.

10. Days above a Year will you be moved, O confident ones; for the Vintage will fail, the Gathering not come.

11. Tremble, you who are at ease, be moved, O confident ones, pulling off, and making naked, then girding Sackcloth upon the Loins.

12. They will be making Lamentation for the Teats, for the desirable Fields, for the fruitful Vine.

13. Upon the Ground of my People the Thorns, the Briers will come up; Burning will be upon all the joyful Houses of the triumphing Town.

14. For the Palace will be forsaken, the Tumult of the City left; the Ascent and Tower will be for Dens a long Time; the Joy of wild Asses, the Pasture of Flocks:

15. Till the Spirit is poured out upon us from on high, and the Wilderness becomes arable Land, and the arable Land is reckoned a Wood;

16. And Judgment dwells in the Wilderness, and Righteousness inhabits the arable Land;

17. And the Work of Righteousness is Peace, and the Service of Righteousness Quietness and Security, a long Time;

18. And my People dwell in a peaceable Habitation, in secure Dwellings, and in quiet Resting-places.

19. Though it hails coming down on the Wood, and the City is humbled with Humiliation;

20. You will be blessed who sow by all Waters, sending forth the Foot of the Ox and the Ass.

W O be to thee that wastest, and thou art not wasted; and that art treacherous, and People are not treacherous to thee: when thou finishest wasting, thou shalt be wasted; when thou makest an end of being treacherous, they will be treacherous to thee.

Ver. 8. consults] So excellently in the late noble Poem called Night-Thoughts, Night 2.

If nothing more than Purpose in thy Power,

Thy Purpose firm is equal to thy Deed:

Who does the best his Circumstance allows,

Does well, acts nobly; Angels could no more.

Ver. 9. Women] because they used to gather Grapes, as in the next Verse.

Ver. 10. Days above a Year] These being the literal Words, seem to be thus fulfilled: the 14th and 15th Years of Hezekiah, as computed in the Chronology at the End of Dan, were one a Sabbatical Year, and the other a Year of Jubilee, which began in Autumn, Lev. xxv. 9. when they were not to sow Corn, nor prune the Vines, but live on the old Stock, Lev. xxv. 4, 11, 21. and the King of Affyria came against Judah in the 14th Year, Chap. xxxvi. 1. which according to the usual Time of warlike Expeditions, was probably before the Season for Harvest and Vintage, which his Troops destroying in some Places, and hindering the People from gathering in at others, must make a Scarcity for the next whole Year, though the Affyrians did not stay so long; in which Manner those Words in the Text appear to be exactly accomplished.

Ver. 13. Ground] because the Affyrians hindered them from putting it in order, against the Years of Rest mentioned Ver. 10.

Ib. Burning] the same Word as in Chap. iii. 24. and so Jun. and Trem. render it: for were Thorns and Briers to grow upon all the Houses? Neither can it signify yea.

Ib. Town] which may be put indeterminately for Towns, and being a different Word from that for Cities, 2 King. xviii. 13. 2 Chron. xxxii. 1. both may indicate that Sennacherib took and burnt the Towns where his Army went, but did not stay long enough to take the fortified Cities, which could hold out a tedious Siege against him.

Ver. 14. Palace] which might be without the Metropolis, as it is usual for Kings to have.

Ib. Tumult] arising from the Business and Pleasures, which ceased in the Siege. It comes from a Verb signifying to be tumultuous, and there is the same Word so rendered in Chap. xxxiii. 3.

VOL. II.

Ib. the Ascent] into Jerusalem at the east Side, Neh. iii. 26. which was inclosed with a great Wall, 2 Chron. xxvii. 3.

Ib. Tower] of which see Neh. iii. 26, 27. Those Words in the Heb. are both singular.

Ib. a long Time] Those Places might be spoiled by the Affyrians, especially as they were by Tophet, where their chief Camp was, Chap. xxx. 33. and so lay waste till Manasseh's Return from Captivity, who rebuilt them, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 14. till shew it could not be for ever.

Ver. 15. Till] When could this and the three next Verses be better fulfilled, than in the latter good Part of Manasseh's Reign and the whole of Josiah's? The only happy Times the Kingdom of Judah enjoyed after Hezekiah, and doubtless the best that People have known ever since: in which Amon's two Years Reign, especially as he was young, could make no great Interruption.

Ver. 17. Quietness] The End, said Democritus in Diog. Laert. is a quiet Mind, not the same as Pleasure, but that by which the Soul is bless'd with Tranquillity and Constancy, not disturbed by Fear, Superstition, nor any other Passion.

Ver. 17. a long Time] viz. that Peace, &c. should be so.

Ver. 19. hails] Though it is bad Weather (as we say) and you hear a Storm coming, by the Hail rattling on the adjacent Wood where you are sowing; it will be well for you not to leave off, after such a Time of Scarcity: According to De Dieu, this Place is so very difficult, that he deserves to be praised, who endeavours to explain it.

Ib. humbled] by the Famine which the Affyrians made, so that they could less spare Corn for sowing.

Ver. 20. blessed] as doing well for the Nation.

Ib. by all Waters] in the Vales, which produce the best Crops.

Ib. Ox and] with which they ploughed their Ground, Deut. xxi. 10. Chap. xxx. 24.

Ib. Ass] Though Asses were not so frequently employed in this Work, it would be well to use them now, to sow the more Land.

Ver. 1. thee] the King of Affyria.

Ib. art treacherous] as we read, 2 King. xviii. 14, 17.

2. O Lord, be gracious to us, we wait for thee: be thou the Arm of these every Morning, our Safety also in the Time of Distress.

3. By the Sound of the Tumult the People flee, by thy being high the Nations are dispersed.

4. And your Spoil is gathered as the Caterpillar gathers: as Grasshoppers run to and fro, he does upon it,

5. The Lord is exalted, for he dwells on high; he fills Zion with Judgment and Righteousness.

6. And the Stedfastness of thy Time, the Strength of Safety, will be Wisdom and Knowledge; the Fear of the Lord that will be his Treasure.

7. Behold their mighty ones cry abroad, the Ambassadors of Peace weep bitterly.

8. The Highways are desolate, he who passed in the Path is ceased: he breaks the Covenant, despises the Cities, regards no Man.

9. The Country mourns, it languishes; Lebanon is ashamed, it withers; Sharon is like a Desert; Bashan also shakes off, and Carmel.

10. Now will I rise up, says the Lord, now will I make my self high, now will I be lifted up.

11. You conceive Litter, bring forth Stubble: your Breath is a Fire that consumes you.

12. And the People are like the Burnings of Lime, Thorns cut down that are burnt in the Fire.

13. Hear, you who are far off, what I do; and acknowledge my Power, you who are near.

14. The Sinners in Zion are afraid, Trembling seizes the Hypocrites: Which of us can lodge in consuming Fire? Which of us can lodge in everlasting Hearths?

15. He who goes on in righteous Matters, and speaks upright Things, who rejects the Gain of Oppressions, shakes his Hands from holding a Bribe, stops his Ear from hearing Blood, and closes up his Eyes from seeing Evil;

16. Such a one will dwell in the Heights, the Fortifications of the Rocks will be his high Place: his Victuals will be given, his Drink sure.

17. Thy Eyes will look on the King in his Beauty, they will see the Country in remote Places.

18. Thy Heart will meditate Terror: Where is the Secretary? Where is the Paymaster? Where is the Counter of the Towers?

19. Thou wilt not see a People who are strong, a People of too deep Things in Language for the Hearing, of a mimicking Tongue unintelligible to thee.

20. Look on Zion the Town of our solemn Assemblies; let thy Eyes see Jerusalem, a quiet Habitation, a Tent that will not be pulled down; none of its Pins will be removed perpetually, nor any of its Cords be broke asunder.

21. But there will the Lord be magnificent to us, a Place of Rivers, Streams of a very large Space; in which a Fleet with Oars cannot go, nor a stately Ship pass it.

22. For the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Law-giver, the Lord is our King, he will save us.

23. Thy Cords being stretched out, will not strengthen their Mast right, will not spread the Sail: then will the Plunder of the large Spoil be divided, the Lame will take what there is for Prey.

Ver. 3. Tumult] occasioned by the Death in the Affyrian Army.

Ver. 4. Spoil] of the Affyrian Army that died.

Ver. 6. thy] as Ver. 17, &c. not as some would Hezekiah's.

Ib. his] such a one's, as their Ver. 2.

Ver. 7. Ambassadors] Tartan, Rab-saris, and Rab-shakeb, 2 King. xviii. 17. to cry and weep being alike, the Annot. of the Assembly and Grot. seems inconsistent, that these were Hezekiah's Messengers, and the valiant ones Sennacherib's Captains.

Ib. Peace] which they offered, 2 King. xviii. 23, 31. but it being on such hard Conditions, this seems used ironically.

Ver. 8. he] Sennacherib, Ver. 1.

Ver. 9. withers] as Chap. xix. 6. the only Place where this Verb is found besides.

Ver. 12. People] of the Affyrian Army from several Countries, the Heb. Word being plural.

Ver. 14. seizes] surprised being rather astonished or amazed, and so at least doubtful; thus Jer. li. 41.

Ver. 15. rejects] as, without specifying Particulars, I have observed in general the Verb is to be understood, when constructed with as as it is here.

Ver. 17. King] Hezekiah.

Ib. they] the Eyes, it being fem. When thou art rid of the Affyrians, thou mayest travel any where in the Country.

Ver. 18. meditate Terror] be thinking of the Terror thou art delivered from.

Ib. Where] are the Affyrian Officers and Directors of the Siege, who struck such a Terror? They are now not to be seen, according to the following Verse.

Ib. Paymaster] of the Army: the Soldiers being animated by their great Pay. As the Word signifies to weigh (Silver as formerly) or pay, not receive.

Ver. 21. Rivers] which had been stopped up, 2 Chron. xxxii. 3, 4.

Ib. in which] their small Rivers being not navigable, they were in no Danger of the Enemy from thence.

Ver. 23. Thy] Having spoken of Ships, Ver. 21. he directs his Prophecy to Affyria under that Comparison.

Ib. Cords] So the Original undeniably signifies, agreeable to the Context, but never Tacklings that I know of.

Ib. stretched out] by becoming slack, and so weak; or else to do what follows, which they were insufficient for: the Word has this Meaning, but I think not that of loosed; which if they had been, they might easily have been tied again.

Ib. the Lame] as having but a little Way to go.

24. And

24. And the Inhabitant will not complain, I am ill: the Iniquity of the People who dwell in it will be forgiven.

C H A P. XXXIV.

COME near, you Nations, to hear; and hearken, O People: let the Earth hear, and what it is filled with; the World, and all its Offspring.

2. For the Fury of the Lord is against all the Nations, and Wrath against all their Army: he will utterly destroy them, deliver them to the Slaughter.

3. So that their Wounded shall be cast down, their Stink come up from their dead Bodies, and the Mountains be dissolved by their Blood.

4. As also the whole Army of the Heaven will waste away, the Heaven will be rolled up like a Book; and all its Army fall like a Leaf falling from the Vine, and as it does from the Fig-tree.

5. For my Sword shall be soaked in Heaven; behold it shall come down against Edom, and against the People of my Curse to Judgment.

6. The Sword of the Lord will be filled with Blood, fattened with Fat, with the Blood of Lambs and He-goats, with the Fat of the Kidneys of Rams: for there will be a Sacrifice of the Lord in Bozrah, and a great Slaughter in the Country of Edom.

7. Nay the Unicorns will come down with them, and the Bullocks with the Bulls; inso-much that their Country will be soaked with Blood, and their Mould fattened with Fat.

8. For it will be the Day of the Lord's

Vengeance, the Year of Recompences for the Contention of Zion.

9. The Brooks of it will also be turned into Pitch, the Mould of it into Brimstone, and its Land will be burning Pitch.

10. It will not be quenched by Night nor Day, the Smoak of it will go up for ever: it will be waste from Age to Age, none will pass through it to all Eternity.

11. But the Pelican and Bittern will inherit it, as likewise the Owl and Raven dwell therein: he will also stretch out upon it the Line of Emptiness, and the Stones of Vacancy.

12. They will call for the Nobles of it in the Kingdom, but none will be there; and all its Princes will be Nought.

13. Thorns too will come up in the Palaces of it, the Thistle and Bramble in its strong Holds; and it will be a Habitation of Dragons, a Court for young Ostriches.

14. And the wild Creatures of the Deserts will meet those of the Islands, and the Satyr call to his Companion; the Screech-owl will certainly be quiet there, and find Rest for her self.

15. There the great Owl will make a Nest, lay, hatch, and put together in her Shadow; the Kites will certainly be gathered there one to another.

16. Seek from the Book of the Lord, and read; there will not one of these be lacking, they will not want one another: for it is my Mouth commands, and it is his Spirit gathers them.

17. Moreover he casts the Lot for them, and his Hand divides it to them by Line: they will inherit it for ever, dwell in it to all Ages.

Ver. 24. the Iniquity] for which the Affyrians would be suffered to afflict Judah.

Ver. 2. all the Nations] those in general of that Part of the Earth, whom the Affyrians over-ran.

Ver. 4. Army] like that which was foretold of Babylon, Chap. xiii. 10. and of Egypt, Ezek. xxii. 7, 8. as this is of Edom, Ver. 5, 6.

Ver. 5. Edom] See the Note on Chap. xx. 1.

Ver. 6. Lambs] the People so called, because the Slaughter is termed a Sacrifice.

Ver. 8. Zion] to which the Edomites were Enemies, 2 Chron. xxviii. 17. Amos i. 11.

Ver. 9. turned] like Sodom and Gomorrab, as was also said of Babylon, Chap. xiii. 19.

Ver. 10. waste] Besides the Devastation which Edom suffered by War, through a Sedition that was among its own People, one Party left the Country, removing into the South-west of Judea, and the rest joined themselves to the Ismaelites, Strabo Lib. 16.

Ib. none will pass] as in a Road.

Ver. 11. Pelican] as Psa. cii. 6. Lev. xi. 18. Deut. xiv. 17. In the former of which it is distinguished from a Cormorant.

Ib. inherit] To the End of this Chapter, omitting the next Verse, it accords with what is expressed concerning Babylon at the Conclusion of Chap. xiii. and those Creatures remaining there does not suit to the future Destruction of the whole Earth, or End of the World; nor does the Verse after this.

Ib. Emptiness] for which see Gen. i. 2. In the com. Bib. it is rendered a thing of nought, Chap. xxix. 21. nothing, Job. vi. 18. in other Places usually vanity or vain.

Ver. 12. in the Kingdom] where none will be found, as there is local; so that in seems better supplied, as in the next Verse, than to, which should be Italick in the com. Transf. It is variously rendered.

Ver. 13.] Cowley from this and Ver. 11.

Then shall the Market and the Pleading-place, Be choak'd with Brambles, and o'ergrown with Grass.

The Serpents through thy Streets shall howl, And in thy lower Rooms the Wolves shall howl, And thy gilt Chambers lodge the Raven and the Owl.

Ib. Thistle] The plural Word is turned thorns, Prov. xxiv. 31. where it is distinguished from Nettles; see Bux. Lex.

Ib. young] Heb. Daughters of, omitted in the vulg. Transf.

Ib. Ostriches] See Chap. xiii. 21.

Ver. 16. Book] the Decree.

C H A P. XXXV.

THE Wilderness and dry Place will be joyful at them, nay the Desert will rejoice, and flourish like a Rose.

2. It will flourish exceedingly, and rejoice even with Joy and Singing; the Glory of Lebanon will be given to it, the Comeliness of Carmel and Sharon: they will see the Glory of the Lord, the Comeliness of our God.

3. Strengthen the weak Hands, and make the staggering Knees stout.

4. Say to those who are of a hasty Mind; Be strong, do not fear: behold your God will come with Vengeance, God with a Recompence; he will come, and save you.

5. Then will the Eyes of the Blind be opened, and so will the Ears of the Deaf.

6. Then the Lame will leap like a Stag, and the Tongue of the Dumb sing: for Waters will break out in the Wilderness, and Floods in the Desert.

7. The parched Place will likewise become a Pond, and the thirsty one Springs of Water: in the Habitation of Dragons, at the Place of lying down in it, there will be Grass, with Reeds and Rushes.

8. And a Road will be there; even a Way which will be called The holy Way; the Unclean will not pass along it, but it will be for those: such as walk in the Way, even the Simple, will not go astray.

9. No Lion will be there, nor Beast that breaks through go up it, they will not be found there; where the Ransomed will walk.

10. And the Redeemed of the Lord will return, and come to Zion with Singing, and lasting Gladness upon their Head: they will obtain Joy and Gladness, whereas Sorrow and Sighing will flee away.

C H A P. XXXVI.

AND it came to pass in the fourteenth Year of King Hezekiah, that Sennacherib King of Assyria came up against all the fortified Cities of Judah, that he might take them.

2. The King of Assyria also sent Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem, against King Hezekiah with a huge Army; and he stood at the Conduit of the uppermost Fish-pond, in the High-way of the Fuller's Field.

3. And there went out to him Eliakim the Son of Hilkiah, who was Steward of the House, Shebna the Scribe, and Joah the Son of Asaph the Recorder.

4. To whom Rabshakeh said: Tell now Hezekiah; thus says the great King, the King of Assyria; What Trust is it wherein thou trustest?

5. Is it, I say (but sayest in vain) There is Counsel and Power for War? Now upon whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6. Behold thou trustest upon the Staff of this bruised Reed Egypt; which a Man leaning upon, it will enter into his Hand, and pierce it: so will Pharaoh King of Egypt be to all that trust upon him.

7. And though thou sayest to me, We trust on the Lord our God; is it not he whose Chapels and Altars Hezekiah has taken away, and said to Judah and Jerusalem, You shall worship before this Altar.

8. Therefore now engage thy self, I pray,

Ver. 1. Wilderness] of Judah, adjacent to Edom, Psa. lxi. 1. whose Verdure was heretofore consumed by the Idumean Cattle.

Ver. 2.] On which Pope in his Poem intitled Messiah,
See Nature hastes her earliest Wreaths to bring,
With all the Incense of the breathing Spring:
See lofty Lebanon his Head advance,
See nodding Forests on the Mountains dance,
See spicy Clouds from lowly Sharon rise,
And Carmel's flow'ry Top perfume the Skies!

And farther on Ver. 1, 7.

The Swain in barren Deserts with Surprise
Sees Lillies spring, and sudden Verdure rise;
And starts; amidst the thirsty Wilds, to hear
New Falls of Water murm'ring in his Ear:
On rifted Rocks, the Dragon's late Abodes,
The green Reed trembles, and the Bulrush nods.

Ib. given] meaning it would be like Lebanon in Fruitfulness. Finely express'd!

Ib. see] as being frequented by the People of Judah, not of Edom.

Ver. 4. came] this being notably accomplished on Sennacherib's Army.

Ver. 5. will] metaphorically fulfilled then, Chap. xxxiii. 24. but ultimately under the Gospel, to the End of the Chapter.

Ib. and so will] the Verb being repeated.

Ver. 6. Waters] that were stopped, as Chap. xxxiii. 21.

Ver. 7. it] the Heb. having a sing. fem. Pronoun, answerable to Habitation; whereas the Word for Dragons is plur. and masc.

Ver. 8. holy] as leading to the holy City, or as Grotius says to the Temple.

Ib. pass] pass over is as if it were going across the Way, which does not appear to be the Meaning, and there is no Particle for over.

Ib. these] mentioned in Verse, 5, 6.

Ib. the Simple] it will be so plain, and easy to find.

Ver. 10. return] having been driven, or kept away by the Siege.

Ib. to Zion] to bring their Offerings, and worship God there.

Ver. 1. it came to pass] This is not in the same Narration beginning 2 King. xviii. 13. which is however mostly in the same Words, so far as the Matter is alike; whither I refer the Reader for Notes. This Piece of History is very properly inserted, not only to shew the fulfilling of the foregoing Prophecy, but to illustrate the obscure Passages, and is a Confirmation of the general Exposition given to the preceding Chapters.

Ver. 5. Is it] very aptly from the foregoing:

to my Master the King of Assyria; and I will give thee two thousand Horses, if thou art able to put thee Riders upon them.

9. How then wilt thou turn back the Face of one Captain, of the least of my Master's Servants; and put thy Trust upon Egypt, for Chariots and Horsemen?

10. And am I now come up without the Lord against this Country, to destroy it? The Lord said to me, Go up to this Country, and destroy it.

11. Then said Eliakim, Shebna and Joah, to Rabshakeh, Speak, we pray, to thy Servants in Syriack, for we understand it; and do not talk to us in the Jewish Language, in the Hearing of the People who are upon the Wall.

12. But Rabshakeh replied, Has my Master sent me to thee and thee, to speak these Words? Was it not to the Men who sit upon the Wall, to eat their Dung and drink their Piss with you?

13. So Rabshakeh stood, and called aloud in the Jewish Language as follows: Hear the Words of the great King, the King of Assyria.

14. Thus says the King, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he is not able to deliver you.

15. Nor let Hezekiah make you trust on the Lord by saying, The Lord will thoroughly deliver us, this City shall not be given into the Power of the King of Assyria.

16. Do not hearken to him: for thus says the King of Assyria; Make a Blessing for me, and come out to me; then eat each one of his own Vine, and each one of his own Fig-tree, as also drink each the Water of his Cistern:

17. Till I come, and fetch you away to a Country like your own, a Country of Corn and Wine, a Country of Bread and Vineyards:

18. Lest Hezekiah should persuade you thus, The Lord will deliver us. Have the gods of the Nations delivered their respective Lands, from the Power of the King of Assyria?

19. Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? For have they also delivered Samaria from my Power?

20. Which are they among all the gods of these Countries, who have delivered their Country from my Power, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem from it?

21. They however held their Peace, and did not answer him a Word: for this was the King's Commandment, Do not answer him.

22. Next Eliakim the Son of Hilkiah who was the Steward of the House, Shebna the Scribe, and Joah the Son of Asaph the Recorder, went to Hezekiah with the Cloaths torn; and told him the Words of Rabshakeh.

C H A P XXXVII.

WHICH when King Hezekiah heard, he tore his Cloaths, covered himself with Sackcloth, and went to the House of the Lord.

2. He also sent Eliakim who was the Steward of the House, Shebna the Scribe, and the Elders of the Priests, having covered themselves with Sackcloth, to Isaiah the Son of Amoz the Prophet.

3. To whom they said; Thus says Hezekiah, This Day is a Day of Distress, Rebuke and Contempt: for the Children are come to the Birth, and there is no Might to bring forth.

4. Perhaps the Lord thy God will hear the Words of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Assyria his Master has sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the Words which the Lord thy God has heard: therefore put up a Prayer for the Residue that is found.

5. Accordingly the Servants of King Hezekiah went to Isaiah.

6. And he said to them; So shall you tell your Master; Thus says the Lord, Be not afraid by reason of the Words that thou hast heard, with which the young-Men of the King of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7. Behold I will put such a Spirit into him, and he shall hear such News, that he shall return to his own Country: in which I will cause him to fall by the Sword.

8. And Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Assyria fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was marched from Lachish.

9. Who heard say concerning Tirhakah King of Ethiopia, He is come forth to fight with thee; and when he heard it, he sent Messengers to Hezekiah with Orders:

10. Thus shall you make a Speech to Hezekiah King of Judah; Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, by saying, Jerusalem shall not be given up into the Power of the King of Assyria.

11. Behold thou hast heard what the Kings of Assyria have done to all Countries, to destroy them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered?

12. Did the gods of the Nations deliver them whom my Fathers destroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the Edenites who were in Thelassar?

13. Where is the King of Hamath, the King of Arpad, and the King of the City of Sepharvaim, of Hena and Ivah?

A 4

14. And

14. And when Hezekiah had received the Letter from the Hands of the Messengers, and read it; he went up to the House of the Lord, and spread it before him.

15. To whom he prayed, saying:

16. O Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, who inhabitest the Cherubs, thou thyself art God, alone, of all the Kingdoms of the Earth: thou having made the Heaven, and the Earth.

17. Incline thy Ear, O Lord, and hear; open thy Eyes, O Lord, and see: even hear all the Words of Sennacherib, who has sent to reproach the living God.

18. Indeed, O Lord, the Kings of Assyria have laid waste all the Countries, and their Land;

19. And he put their gods into the Fire: for they were not gods, but the Work of Men's Hands, Wood and Stone; so they destroyed them.

20. Now therefore, O Lord our God, save us from his Power; for all the Kingdoms of the Earth to know, that thou art the Lord alone.

21. Then Isaiah the Son of Amoz sent Word to Hezekiah: Thus says the Lord God of Israel, of what thou hast prayed to me concerning Sennacherib King of Assyria;

22. This is the Matter that the Lord speaks against him; The Virgin, the Daughter of Zion despises thee, mocks thee, the Daughter of Jerusalem shakes the Head after thee.

23. Whom hast thou reproached, and blasphemed? And against whom hast thou raised the Voice, and looked up on high? At the Holy One of Israel?

24. Thou hast reproached the Lord by the Ministry of thy Servants, and said; I will go up to the Height of the Mountains, to the Sides of Lebanon, with the Multitude of my Chariots: where I will cut down his tall Cedars, the choicest of his Fir-trees; and come to the Height of his Border, to the Wood of his Carmel.

25. I have dug, and drunk Waters; and dried up all the Streams of the Siege with the Soles of my Feet.

26. Hast not thou heard long ago I made it? From Days of old Time that I formed it? Now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldst be to lay waste fortified Cities to ruinous Heaps.

27. Therefore were their Inhabitants short-handed, were daunted, and ashamed: they were like the Herb of the Field, and the tender Pot-herb, Grass of the Roofs, and a Field of Corn blasted before it is grown up.

28. And I know thy Dwelling, going out and coming in, as also thy being moved against me.

29. Because thy being moved against me, and thy Tumult is come up into my Ears, therefore will I put my Hook into thy Nose, and my Bridle into thy Lips, and make thee return in the Way wherein thou camest.

30. And this shall be a Sign to thee; the eating this Year that which grows of it self, and in the second Year what grows up again (then in the third Year sow you, and reap, and likewise plant Vineyards, and eat the Fruit of them)

31. That a Remnant escaped of the Family of Judah which is left, shall again take root below, and yield Fruit above.

32. For a Residue shall go forth from Jerusalem, and a Remnant escaped from Mount Zion: the Zeal of the Lord of Armies will do this.

33. Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the King of Assyria; He shall not come to this City, nor shoot an Arrow there, nor come before it with a Shield, nor make a Rampart against it.

34. In the same Way wherein he came, shall he return, and not come to this City, says the Lord.

35. But I will defend this City to save it, for my own sake, and for the sake of my Servant David.

36. And the Angel of the Lord went out, and slew a hundred eighty and five thousand in the Camp of Assyria; so that when they rose early in the Morning, behold all of them were dead Corpses.

37. So Sennacherib King of Assyria marched, and going back again, dwelt at Nineveh.

38. And as he was worshipping in the House of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his Sons slew him with the Sword; who escaped to the Country of Ararat: and Esar-haddon his Son reigned in his room.

Ver. 18. Countries] The Author of State of the Heb. p. 510. says, The true English is, which he puts in Capitals, ALL THE LANDS AND THEIR LAND, then asks, Can we doubt of a Mistake here? adding The other Copy in 2 King. xix. 17. reads Nations. From which who would not think it was Lands he takes offence at? But the Correction he proposes is Lands, as he rendered it before, instead of Land, to be the Lands and their Lands; but is not this worse instead of better?

Ver. 21, of what] it being a Relative in Heb. as it is also translated in the com. Bib. 2 King. xix. 20.

Ver. 27. a Field of Corn blasted] the Heb. Word, a little different from that in 2 King. xix. 26. thus signifying, Burst.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

IN those Days Hezekiah was sick likely to die, to whom Isaiah the Son of Amoz the Prophet came, and said unto him; Thus says the Lord, Make thy Will, for thou wilt die, and not live.

2. Upon this Hezekiah turned about his Face to the Wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3. And said, I beseech thee, O Lord, remember now, how I have walked continually before thee in Truth, and with a perfect Heart, and have done what thou wast pleased with; and Hezekiah wept a great deal.

4. Then Isaiah had the Lord's Commission as follows;

5. Go, and tell Hezekiah; Thus says the Lord God of thy Father David, I have heard thy Prayer, seen thy Tears; behold I will add to thy Time fifteen Years:

6. As also deliver thee and this City from the Power of the King of Assyria; and will defend this City.

7. And this shall be a Sign to thee from the Lord, that he will do this Thing which he has spoken.

8. Behold I will cause the Shadow of the Degrees, that is gone down upon those of Ahaz on the Sun-dial, to return backward ten Degrees. So the Sun returned ten Degrees, upon those which it was gone down.

9. The Writing of Hezekiah King of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered from his Sickneſs.

10. I said in the cutting off of my Days, I shall go to the Gates of the Grave, shall want the rest of my Years.

11. I said; I shall not see the Lord, the Lord in the Country of the Living; I shall behold Man no more with the Inhabitants of the World.

12. My Age is removed, and carried away from me, like a Shepherd's Tent: I cut off my Life like a Weaver, he cuts me from the Thrums: both Day and Night thou art making an end of me.

13. I propose that against the Morning, like a Lion, so he will break all my Bones: both Day and Night thou art making an end of me.

Ver. 9. The Writing] H. Dod, who made the Psalms into Verse, and seems to have been a Man of religious Experience, has in the Contents to this, "The worthiest of all the elect are subject to the greatest torments of this life, both in body and mynde."

Ver. 12. from the Thrums] whence a Piece of Cloth is cut off, when it is weaved. So Jun. and Trem. render a peniculis, and suitable to this the Word is translated Hair, Cant. vii. 5.

Ver. 15. said it] had engaged for Hezekiah's living longer, Ver. 5, 7, 8.

16. for] as the Heb. Particle divers times signifies:

14. Like a Crane, a Swallow, so I chirp; I make moan like a Dove: my Eyes are drawn out on high; O Lord, it oppresses me, engage for me.

15. What shall I say? He has both said it to me, and done: I shall go gently along all my Years, for the Bitterness of my Soul.

16. O Lord, in these Things People live; and among all in those is the Life of my Spirit: as thou hast made me recover, and kept me alive.

17. Behold for Peace I had continual Bitterness: but thou hadst a love for my Soul, to be out of the Ditch of Consumption; for thou didst cast all my Sins behind thy Back.

18. For the Grave will not give Thanks to thee, Death will not praise thee: those who go down to the Pit will not wait for thy Truth.

19. The living one himself will give thanks to thee, like me this Day: the Father to the Children will make known thy Truth.

20. There was the Lord to save me: therefore we will play on my striking Instruments all the Days of our Life, in the House of the Lord.

21. Isaiah had also said, Let them take a Bunch of Figs, and bruise upon the Boil, and he shall recover.

22. Hezekiah too said, What shall be the Sign that I shall go up to the House of the Lord?

C H A P. XXXIX.

AT that Time Merodach-baladan, the Son of Baladan, King of Babylon sent a Letter, and a Present to Hezekiah; because he heard that he had been sick, and was got well.

2. And Hezekiah was glad of them, shewing them the House of his Odour, the Silver, Gold, Spices, the good Oil, the whole House of his Vessels, and all that was found in his Treasures: there was Nothing, which he did not shew them, in his House, and in all his Dominion.

3. Afterwards Isaiah the Prophet came to King Hezekiah, and said to him, What did that is the Afflictions would make him humble, and keep him as it would others spiritually alive, according to the following Expressions: Grot. expounds it thus, toto vitat mea tempore cogitatio hujus amaritiei mihi recurrat, I shall remember this grievous Affliction as long as I live. The present Transf. is indefensible.

Ver. 16. hast] as Ver. 9. shews.

Ver. 17. continual] as the like is rendered Jer. xlviii. 5.

Ver. 18. by Wither,

*For nor the Grave nor Death can honour Thee;
Nor hope they for thy Truth that buried be.*

these Men say? And from whence did they come to thee? And he answered, They came to me from a Country far off, from Babylon.

4. And upon his enquiring, What did they see in thy House? Hezekiah acknowledged, They saw all that was in it; there was Nothing which I did not shew them, in my Treasures.

5. Then said Isaiah to him; Hear the Commission of the Lord of Armies,

6. Behold the Days are coming, when all that is in thy House, and what thy Fathers have treasured up to this Day, shall be carried away to Babylon; there shall be Nothing left, says the Lord.

7. Nay they shall take of thy Sons who shall proceed out from thee, whom thou shalt beget; and they shall be Officers in the Palace of the King of Babylon.

8. Whereupon Hezekiah said to him, The Lord's Commission that thou speakest is good: because, as he said, there will be Peace and Truth in my Days.

CHAP. XL.

COMFORT, comfort my People, says your God.

2. Speak kindly to Jerusalem, and cry to it, that its War is fulfilled, and its Iniquity is finished, that it has received double from the Hand of the Lord for all its Sins.

3. There is the Voice of one crying in the Wilderness, Prepare the Way of the Lord, make a straight Road in the Desert for our God.

4. Every Valley shall be raised up, and every Mountain and Hill be put down; the crooked shall become straight, and the uneven Places a Plain.

5. Since the Glory of the Lord will be revealed, and all Flesh will see it together: for the Mouth of the Lord has spoken it.

6. The Voice says, Cry; and he asks, What shall I cry? All Flesh is Grass, and all the Kindness of it like the Flower of the Field.

7. The Grass withers, the Flower fades, because the Wind of the Lord blows on it: surely the People are Grass.

8. The Grass withers, the Flower fades; but the Word of our God will stand for ever.

9. Get you up on the high Mountain, O Zion Preachers; elevate your Voice with Strength, O Jerusalem Preachers: elevate, do not fear; say to the Cities of Judah, Behold your God!

10. Lo the Sovereign Lord will come with Power, and his Arm will rule for him: behold his Reward will be with him, and his Work before him.

11. He will feed his Flock like a Shepherd, will gather together the Lambs in his Arm, and carry them in his Bosom; will lead those gently that are with Young.

12. Who is it measures the Waters by his Handful, computes the Heavens by a Span, contains the Dust of the Earth in a Cup, weighs the Mountains on a Balance, and the Hills in Scales?

13. Who disposes the Spirit of the Lord, or is a Man of his Counsel that informs him?

14. With whom is there counsel taken, that causes him to understand, instructs him in the Path of Judgment, teaches him Knowledge, and makes known to him the Way of Understanding?

15. Behold the Nations are as a Drop from the Bucket, and are counted like the small Dust of the Scales: lo he can take up the Isles as a little Thing.

Ver. 1. Comfort] The Babylonian Captivity being foretold in Ver. 6. of the foregoing Chapter, Isaiah goes on to speak of the Deliverance and Return from it, as we see very expressly, Chap. xliii. 14. & xlv. 28. & xlv. 1. nevertheless the Holy Spirit seems to intend it more largely of the Gospel, whatever the Prophet did, 1 Pet. i. 10, 11, 12.

Ver. 2. War] Malitia, malice, being erroneously got into the vulg. Lat.

[Ib. double] not double what they deserved, but what was or would have been the Punishment of others, because they had received far greater Knowledge and Blessings, Dan. ix. 12. Am. iii. 2.

Ver. 3. Way] This is incongruously expounded of the Return from Captivity, especially by those who are for referring such prophetic Passages to the Gospel Times, to be understood in some secondary Sense, as they apprehend, not in their primary one; since the Way is that of the Lord, and for God, i. e. Christ, as the Evangelists directly interpret it, Mat. iii. 3. Mark. i. 1, 2, 3. besides it is all Flesh that is spoken of, Ver. 5.

Ver. 3, 4. On these Pope as follows,

*Hark! a glad Voice the lonely Desert hears,
Prepare the Way; a God, a God appears:*

*A God, a God! the vocal Hills reply;
The Rocks proclaim th' approaching Deity.
Lo Earth receives him from the bending Skies;
Sink down ye Mountains, and ye Vallies rise:
With Heads declin'd, ye Cedars, Homage pay;
Be smooth ye Rocks, ye rapid Floods give way.*

Ver. 6. Kindness] So the Heb. not goodliness.

Ver. 9. Preachers] The original Word is singular and feminine to agree with the City; but that the Place it self is not meant, get up upon the Mountain shews. It agrees notably well with the first Preachers of the Gospel, who received their Commission there, Luk. xxiv. 49. Act. i. 8, 12. & ii. 4.

Ver. 11. carry in his Bosom] This fine Expression is dropped in the Gr. Sept. Vers. see also on Chap. li. 18.

Ver. 12. by his Handful] the Waters being all but one Handful of his, and so of the rest; whereby his containing the Dust in a Cup or Measure agrees with them, otherwise not.

Ver. 15. can take] rather than does do it. Hervey in his very late Meditations, Vol. ii. p. 130. speaks of a solid Correction of translating this Passage by Vitrina, the Isles are as some light thing which flies about; when the Verb does not signify to fly of any Kind, nor in any Lan-

16. And

16. And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor are the Beasts of it sufficient for a Burnt-sacrifice.

17. All Nations are as Nothing before him, they are counted with him to be of nought and Emptiness.

18. To whom therefore will you liken God? And what Likeness will you compare to him?

19. The Artificer covers the carved Image, and the Goldsmith spreads it over with Gold, and casts Chains of Silver.

20. He who is poor for Offering chooses a Tree that will not rot; he seeks him a skilful Artificer, to prepare a carved Image that shall not be moved.

21. Do not ye know? Do ye not hear? Has it not been told you from the Beginning? Have not ye understood from the Foundations of the Earth?

22. That he sits upon the Compass of the Earth, and the Inhabitants of it are as Grasshoppers; that he stretches out the Heavens like a Canopy, and extends them like a Tent to dwell in?

23. That he causes Princes to be Nothing, makes the Judges of the Earth as Emptiness?

24. They are also not planted, also not sown, their Stem also does not take root in the Earth: and he too blows on them, so that they wither, and the Tempest carries them away as Stubble.

25. To whom then will you liken me, and am I equal? says the Holy One.

26. Look up on high, and see who created these, that brings forth their Army by Number: he calls them all by Name; by the Abundance of Might and strong Power, there is not one lacking.

27. Why dost thou say, Jacob, and speak, Israel, My Way is hid from the Lord, and my Judgment passed from my God?

28. Dost not thou know? Dost thou not hear? that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the Ends of the Earth, is neither faint, nor weary? There is no searching out of his Understanding.

29. He gives Power to the Faint, and makes Strength abound to him that is of no Might.

30. The Youths will be both faint and weary, and the young Men will stumble down.

31. But those who wait for the Lord will renew Power, they will mount up with the Wing like Eagles, will run, and not be weary; will go, and not be faint.

CHAP. XLI.

BE silent to me, O Isles, and let the People renew Power: let them come nigh, then let them speak; let us draw near together to Judgment.

2. Who stirs up the righteous one from the East, will call him to his Foot, deliver up the Nations before him, and cause him to rule Kings; will make them as Dust by his Sword, as driven Stubble by his Bow?

3. He shall pursue them, shall pass peaceably, in the Way that he has not come with his Feet.

4. Who did work, and perform, calling the Generations from the Beginning? I the Lord, the first and last, it was I.

5. The Isles see, and fear; the Ends of the Earth are afraid, draw near, and come.

6. Each one helps his Neighbour, and says to his Brother, Be strong.

7. And the Artificer strengthens the Goldsmith, he that makes smooth with the Hammer him who smites on the Anvil: he says of the Joint, It is good; and strengthens it with Nails, that it may not be moved.

guage, neither has it any Relative which before it, nor is the Noun a light thing. And I am persuaded that Hervy himself, who writes so honourably of the Holy Scripture, would not have the Truth of it give way even to his own sublime Eloquence.

Ver. 17. to be of Nought] as the Heb. very well signifies; and all Nations cannot be counted less than nothing.

Ver. 19. covers] as carved or graven Things are cut, not melted: so Jun. tegit.

Ver. 21. from] Our Translators may seem to have mistaken the first Letter of the Heb. to Foundations for this, by not marking it Italic as an Addition to the Original.

Ver. 22. That] ¶

Ver. 29. Strength abound] making it to abound, where it did not so much as exist, Hervy, Ib. p. 150. but not properly increaseth.

Ver. 2. the righteous one] The Annotators are here put to it, to know whether this was Abraham or Cyrus: my Reasons for the latter are, 1. though the Heb. preterperfect Tense is frequently used in the Prophets for the Time to come, yet not the future Tense without a Conjunction for the Time past, and all the Verbs in this and the next Verse are future, excepting the first; 2. Abra- ham's Victory Gen. xiv. 15. is unlikely to be called ruling Kings; 3. this Speech is directed to the Isles, Ver. 1, 5. not to the Israelites. As for this agreeing to Cyrus, see Chap. xlv. 1, 13. & xlv. 11. & xlii. 3. and De Dieu, Animad.

Vol. II.

Ver. 3. shall pursue] Lowth writes in his Commentary, "The Preterperfect Tense is here put for the Future." What Preterperfect Tense? That of the com. Eng. Bible? For the Heb. Verbs are in the Future Tense. This Way of commenting I have complained of before. As for the Eng. Translators, they evidently put it so because they understood it of Abraham, as the marginal Note to Elizabeth's Bible expresses it.

Ver. 5. draw near] as the remote Nations towards Europe by the Seas, did to assist Neriglissar King of Babylon against Cyrus, and afterwards to help Cresus, the famous Auxiliary of Belshazzar the last King of Babylon, Xenoph. Cyroped.

Ver. 7. Joint] This Word occurs but twice besides, in the plur. Num. and is there rendered joyns, 1 King. xxii. 34. 2 Chr. xviii. 33.

Ib. good] as the Heb. is, and not ready.

8. But thou art Israel my Servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the Offspring of Abraham one who loved me :

9. Whom I took hold of from the Ends of the Earth, and called thee from the Nobles of it, saying to thee, Thou art my Servant, I have chosen thee, and not rejected thee.

10. Do not fear, for I am with thee ; be not amazed, for I am thy God : I will strengthen thee, also help thee, also uphold thee with the right Hand of my Righteousness.

11. Lo all who are incensed against thee shall be ashamed, and put to confusion : they shall be as Nothing, and the Men that strive with thee shall perish.

12. When thou seekest them, thou shalt not find those Men who contend with thee : the Men that are at war with thee shall be as Nought, even like Nothing at all.

13. For I the Lord thy God hold thy right Hand fast, saying to thee, Do not fear, I will help thee.

14. Do not fear, worm Jacob, O Men of Israel ; I will help thee, says the Lord, even thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.

15. Behold I will put thee for a Flail, a new Threshing-instrument that has Edges : thou shalt thresh the Mountains, beat small, and make the Hills like Chaff.

16. Thou shalt winnow them, and the Wind shall carry them away, and the Whirlwind scatter them : whereas thou shalt rejoice through the Lord, shalt glory through the Holy One of Israel.

17. The Afflicted and Needy seek for Water, and there is none, their Tongue fails with Thirst : I the Lord answer them, the God of Israel do not leave them.

18. I open Rivers upon the high Places, and Fountains within the Vales ; I make the Wilderness a Pond of Water, and a dry Country Springs of Water.

19. I put in the Wilderness the Cedar, the best Cedar, with the Myrtle, and the Tree of Oil ; I place in the Desert the Fir, Pine, and Box together ;

20. In order for them to see, know, apply and consider together ; that the Hand of the Lord has done this, and the Holy One of Israel created it.

21. Draw near with your Cause, says the Lord : bring nigh your strong Matters, says the King of Jacob.

22. Let them bring nigh, and declare to us what Things will come to pass : let them declare of the former Things what they are ; that we may apply our Mind, and know their End ; or let them publish to us the Things that will come.

23. Declare the Things which will arrive hereafter ; for us to know that you are gods : do both Good and Hurt ; that we may be amazed and see together.

24. Lo you are of nothing, and your Work is of the Viper : he that chooses you is abominable.

25. I have stirred up one from the North, who shall arrive, from the Rising of the Sun shall he call on my Name ; and he shall come to the Rulers as to Mortar, as the Potter treads the Clay.

26. Who has declared from the Beginning, that we may know ? And aforetime, that we may say, He is righteous ? Even none declares, even none causes to hear, even none hears your Sayings.

27. I the first say to Zion, Behold, behold them ; and I give a Preacher to Jerusalem.

28. Well I see that there is no Man, and of these that there is no Counsellor, when I ask them, who does return Word.

29. Lo all of them are Vanity, their Deeds nought ; their molten Images are Wind and Emptiness.

Ver. 9. Ends of the Earth] from Egypt, as I think Jun. and Trem. with Grot. best explain it ; rather than the future bringing them from Captivity, or Abraham from Chaldea, as others interpret it ; which seems doing Violence to the Context.

Ver. 15. a Flail] this being the general Name, and the other particular, as Bux. says under פָּרֶסֶת and is turned threshing-instruments in the other Places, 2 Sam. xxiv. 22. 1 Chr. xxi. 23. having no Meaning at all of sharp.

Ib. Threshing-instrument] Varro describes one, fit a tabula lapidibus aut ferro exasperata; quam imposito auriga; aut pondere grandi, trahitur jumentis junctis, ut discutiat e spica grana; made of a Board studded with Stones or Iron, which is drawn by Cattle harnessed together, with either the Driver himself or some great Weight on it, that it may shake the Corn out of the Ear, De Re Rust. Lib. i. 52. agreeing with Buxtorf's Account from the Jews at this Word : and what Smith says of the Turks illustrates this and the next Ver. well, viz. They tread out their Corn with Oxen, drawing a square Plank-board, about a Foot and half or two Feet over, studded with Flints; and winnow it upon their Threshing-floors in the open Air, the Wind blowing away the Chaff, Ray's Collect. of Trav. Tom. 2.

Ver. 20. apply] or put, as Ver. 22.

Ver. 21. nigh] not forth by the Heb.

Ver. 22. come to pass] which I prefer before happen.

Ib. former Things] which though done, are yet unknown.

Ib. our Mind] not them, which our Translators add, and shorten the other.

Ver. 24. Viper] the like Word being so, Chap. xxx. 6. & lix. 5. Jab xx. 16. in which Places only they are found. Thus Jun. and Trem. render it viperæ, and Grot. viperina.

Ver. 25. one] Cyrus.

Ib. Rising] Media lying northward, and Persia eastward.

Ib. call on] See Exr. i. 2, 3.

Ver. 27. I the first] as Ver. 4. and agreeable to the next Verb. So Cast. and the Tig. Bib. have, and Munsl. with Grot. expound it.

Ib. say] or declare, from the foregoing Verse.

Ib. behold them] God shews those Things to his People, which the Idols cannot.

C H A P. XLII.

LO my Servant whom I uphold, my chosen one that my Soul is pleased with; I have put my Spirit upon him, he shall bring forth Judgment to the Nations.

2. He shall neither cry out, raise up, nor make his Voice be heard in the Street.

3. A shaken Reed shall he not break, nor quench the dim Flax, he shall bring forth Judgment to Truth.

4. He shall not be dim, nor shake, till he has put Judgment on the Earth; and the Isles shall wait for his Law.

5. Thus says God the Lord, who created the Heaven, and stretched it out, spread forth the Earth and its Offspring, gave Breath to the People upon it, and Spirit to them that go thereon;

6. I the Lord call thee in Righteousness, take hold of thy Hand, keep thee, and make thee the Covenant of the People, the Light of the Nations:

7. To open the Eyes of the Blind, to bring the Prisoner out of the Prison, those who sit in Darkness out of the House of Restraint.

8. I am the Lord, that is my Name; and I will not give my Glory to another, nor my Praise to carved Images.

9. The former Things behold they are come, and I declare new ones; before they spring forth, I publish them to you.

10. Sing a new Poem to the Lord, his Praise from the End of the Earth, you who go down to the Sea, and what it is filled with, the Isles and their Inhabitants.

11. Let the Wilderness and the Cities of it chant up, the Villages which Kedar inhabits: let the Inhabitants of the Rock sing aloud, let them cry out from the Top of the Mountains.

12. Let them render Glory to the Lord, and declare his Praise in the Islands.

13. The Lord will go forth as a strong one, will stir up Zeal like a Warrior: he will shout, nay cry; will strengthen himself against his Enemies, saying:

14. I have held my Peace long ago, have been silent, restrained my self: like a Woman in labour I will cry out, I will make desolate and swallow up together.

15. I will cause the Mountains and Hills to be waste, and dry up all their Grass; as also make the Rivers Isles, and dry up the Ponds.

16. And I will make the Blind go in a Way they know not, will cause them to tread in Paths they are ignorant of; I will make Darkness Light before them, and crooked Things straight: these Things will I do for them, and not leave them.

17. They shall be turned back, be confounded with Shame, that trust in a carved Image, who say to a molten Image, You are our gods.

18. O Deaf, hear; and you Blind, look that you may see.

19. Who is blind unless my Servant is; and so deaf as my Messenger that I send? Who is so blind as the Perfect; and so blind as the Servant of the Lord?

20. Seeing many Things, yet thou dost not observe: he opens the Ears, but does not hear.

21. The Lord is delighted by reason of his Righteousness: he will make the Law great, and magnificent.

22. Whereas this is a People preyed upon, and plundered, the chosen ones all of them being ensnared, and hid in Houses of Restraint: they are a Prey, and none delivers; for Plundering, and none says, Restore.

23. Who among you will give ear to this; will hearken, and hear what is behind?

24. Who gave Jacob for Plundering, and Israel to those that take the Prey? Did not the Lord? It is he whom we have sinned against; and they were not willing to go in his Ways, nor hearkened to his Law.

25. So he poured out the Wrath of his Anger upon him, and the Strength of War: and it set him on fire round about, yet he did not understand; and burnt him, but he did not lay it to Heart.

Ver. 1. my Servant] Jesus Christ, Mat. xii. 17, 18, &c. as doing the Will and Work of God, Joh. iv. 34. & vi. 38. & xvii. 4. see Chap. lli. 13. & llii 11. Zech. iii. 8.

Ver. 3. dim] an Adjective from the Verb in the next Verse; smoking being made from the Sept. Transf. and not from the Original.

Ver. 4. be dim] id est, ignorantia fallitur, that is, be mistaken through Ignorance, Grot. thus rendered Gen. xxvii. 1. Deut. xxxiv. 7. (as it should Joh xvii. 5.) and darkened, Zech. xi. 17.

Ver. 5. Heaven] being represented as one Thing by stretching, and the View of it; which its being only plural in the Heb. is not to make so here.

Ver. 11. chant up] according to that both before and after; and if active, the Poem of Praise, Ver. 10.

Ib. Kedar] See Chap. lx. 7.

Ver. 19. unless my Servant is] which is evidently the Meaning; and but not right, as Noldius observes on it in his Concord. Since there were others blind; as indeed the latter Part of the Verse shews, which this must not contradict. By my Servant understand Israel as a People.

Ver. 22. People] a Description of them as they would be in the Time of the Babylonian Captivity.

Ib. the chosen ones] The Heb. Word bahurim signifies either this or young men, and is rendered the latter in the com. Lat. and Tig. Bibles, as also by Jun. and Trem. but the other seems more suitable. In holes is with the Heb. baburim.

C H A P. XLIII.

HOWEVER now thus says the Lord thy Creator, O Jacob, and the Former of thee, O Israel; Do not fear, for I have redeemed thee, have called thee by Name, thou art mine.

2. Though thou passest through the Waters, I will be with thee; and through the Rivers, they shall not overflow thee: though thou goest through the Fire, thou shalt not be scorched, nor shall the Flame burn thee.

3. For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I give Egypt for thy Ransom, Cush and Seba instead of thee;

4. Than whom thou art more precious in my Sight, art honourable, and I love thee: so I give Men instead of thee, and People instead of thy Life.

5. Do not fear, for I will be with thee: I will bring thy Offspring from the East, and gather thee from the West.

6. I will say to the North, Deliver up; and to the South, Do not restrain; bring my Sons from far off, and my Daughters from the End of the Earth:

7. Every one that is called by my Name, and whom I have created for my Glory, whom I have formed, even whom I have made.

8. Bring forth the blind People that has Eyes, and the deaf ones to whom are Ears;

9. All the Nations being gathered together, and the People assembled; who among them shall declare this, and publish to us former Things? Let them produce their Witnesses, that they may be justified; or let them hear, and say, It is Truth.

10. You are my Witnesses, says the Lord, and my Servant whom I have chosen; that you know, and believe me, and understand that I am he: there was no God formed before me, nor shall there be after me.

11. I my self am the Lord, and there is no Saviour besides me.

12. I declared, saved, and caused to hear, when there was no strange one among you; and you are my Witnesses, says the Lord, that I was God.

13. From that Time also I am he, and none delivers from my Power: I work, and who shall turn it back?

14. Thus says the Lord your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; For your sake I send to Babylon, and bring down the Bars all of them, with the Chaldeans, their Noise in the Ships.

15. I am the Lord your Holy One, the Creator of Israel your King.

16. Thus says the Lord, who made a Way in the Sea, a Path in the strong Waters;

17. Who brought forth the Chariot and Horse, the Force and Strength: they lay down together, did not rise up; were extinguished, were quenched like Flax:

18. Do not remember former Things, nor consider old Times.

19. Behold I will do a new Thing; now it shall spring forth, shall you not know it? I will even make a Way in the Wilderness, Rivers in the Desert.

20. The Beast of the Field shall honour me, the Dragons and young Ostriches; because I give Waters in the Wilderness, Rivers in the Desert, to make my People, my Chosen drink.

21. I have formed this People for my self, they shall declare my Praise.

Ver. 3. give Egypt] The latter Part of the following Verse evidently means the same, therefore both are to be considered together. Next Seba is known or allowed to be in Arabia, where we are to look for the other Country as adjacent, of which see Gen. ii. 13. By the Agreement of those very Names, and the Matter spoken of, this appears to be the same with that in Chap. xlv. 14, which was plainly by the foregoing Verse there about the Time of the Return from the Babylonian Captivity; consequently this was too; nay do not the 5, 6, & 14 Verses of this Chapter confirm it? Others interpret it of Sennacherib's invading those Countries, and Judah's escaping by that means: but I imagine they did not consider the last-mentioned Particulars, as pointing out a more coherent Sense; besides there is no Mention of that King's Wars with Cush and Seba, nor did his other Wars hinder him from going against Judah, which was also delivered in another Manner.

Ver. 4. Than] Since seems made to justify another Interpretation of the foregoing Ver.

Ver. 8. People] the Idols.

Ib. that has] This being sing. in the Heb. and the Difference of Expression very fine.

Ver. 9. former] See Chap. xli. 22.

Ver. 10. Servant] as I think Cyrus.

Ver. 13. From] the same as in Ver. 5, 6. not signifying before.

Ver. 14. Noise] It signifies rather Singing than Crying, from the Root to sing, and may denote the Greatness of their Business and Jollity there. Peole interprets it by outcries as they flee away from the Persians in Ships; whereas Cyrus turned the Water out of the River at Babylon, and got into the City at the Channel, as shewn on Jer. li. 36. so that he might have seized the Ships first if there had been Occasion. The Assembly in their Annotations, being aware that the River was turned away, represent the Cry to be while they seek to flee away by shipping; but as they certainly would not get into the Ships for that Purpose, when they saw the Water gone, their Cry would be out of them. Such as this comes of commenting upon a Translation, instead of the Original.

Ver. 16. a Way in the Sea] By there being no Sea at Babylon, nor Chariots and Horses brought forth when it was taken, this appears not to be then; but a Commemoration of what God did at the Red Sea, which it particularly suits, as also with Ver. 18, 19. following: so is not, with the next or intermediate Verse, to be rendered in the present and future Tense.

Ver. 19. a Way in the Wilderness] instead of that before in the Sea, Ver. 16.

Ver. 21. this People] the Christians.

22. Whereas

22. Whereas thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; for thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.

23. Thou hast not brought me the small Cattle of thy Burnt-offerings, nor honoured me with thy Sacrifices: I have not caused thee to serve with a Present, nor made thee weary with Frankincense.

24. Thou hast not bought me sweet Cane with Money, nor filled me abundantly with the Fat of thy Sacrifices; but hast caused me to serve with thy Sins, hast made me weary with thy Iniquities,

25. I my self am he who will blot out thy Transgressions for my own sake, and not remember thy Sins.

26. Cause me to remember, let us come together to Judgment: do thou declare, that thou mayest be justified.

27. Thy first Father sinned, and thy Interpreters transgressed against me.

28. So I profaned the Princes of the holy Place, and made Jacob a Curse, and Israel Revilings.

C H A P. XLIV.

BUT now hear, Jacob my Servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.

2. Thus says the Lord thy Maker, and the Former of thee from the Womb, who will help thee: Do not fear, my Servant Jacob, and Jesurun whom I have chosen.

3. For I will pour forth Waters upon the Thirsty, and Brooks upon the dry Ground: I will pour forth my Spirit upon thy Posterity, and my Blessing upon thy Offspring.

4. And they shall spring forth amongst the Grass, as Willows by the Rivers of Water.

5. One shall say, I am the Lord's, another call himself by the Name of Jacob, and another shall write with his Hand, The Lord's, and surname himself by the Name of Israel.

6. Thus says the Lord the King of Israel, and his Redeemer the Lord of Armies; I am the first, and I am the last, and there is no God besides me.

7. Moreover who, like me, can call, declare, and set in order to me, since I placed the ancient People? And let those declare to them the Things that approach, and such as shall come.

8. Be you not in dread, nor afraid; have not I published to thee, and declared from that Time? And you are my Witnesses: is there a God besides me? There is even no Rock, I know none.

9. The Formers of a carved Image are all of them Emptiness, and their desirable Things do not profit: nay they are their own Witnesses, that they do not see, nor know, that they may be ashamed.

10. Whoever forms a god, and covers a carved Image, it is profitable for Nought.

11. Lo all his Companions shall be ashamed, and the Artificers themselves more than other Men: all of them shall gather themselves, stand up, be in dread, be ashamed together.

12. The Smith for the Ax, both works with the Coal, and forms it with the Hammers; as also works it with his strong Arm, being even hungry, and of no Strength, drinking no Liquor, and being faint:

13. (The Carpenter stretches forth the Line, marks it out by the Rule, makes it with the Chisels, marks it out with the Compasses; and makes it like the Shape of a Person, according to the Comeliness of Man, to abide in the House)

14. That he may cut him down Cedars; and he takes the Cypress and Oak, and fortifies himself with the Trees of the Wood: he plants an Ash, and the Rain makes it grow up.

15. Then it is for Men to burn, and he takes some of them, and is warm; he even kindles it, and bakes Bread: he also makes a god, and bows down to it; makes it a carved Image, and worships them.

16. Half of it he burns in the Fire, upon half of it he eats Flesh; he roasts Meat, and is satisfied; he is also warm, and says, Ha, I am warm, I see the Fire.

Ver. 27. first Father] Adam.

Ver. 7. People] the Israelites, not Mankind at the Creation, the Heb. Word being singular, whereas it is frequently plural for People in general; and you are my Witnesses from that Time in the next Verse confirms it: yet Psalm and Leviticus both have it doubtful which is meant; and the Assembly expound them to be the Elect, as if they were more ancient than others.

Ib. these] the pretended gods.

Ver. 8. Rock] no other god that is so.

Ver. 10. Whoever] or Who indefinite, which must appear preferable to Who interrogative, the Heb. signifying either.

Ib. covers] as Chap. xl. 19.

Ver. 11. more than] thus Jun. and Trem. render magis quam, and Grot. pro ceteris, more than others.

Ver. 12. Ax] according to Pagn. Mont. Munst. and Grot. nay as in Jer. x. iii. where this Word only is besides; and the Image here described a wooden one.

Ver. 13. Line] which may be stretched out, rather than a Rule; see also Grot. So this Word is translated in the com. Bibl. Chap. xxviii. 10, 13, 17. & xxxiv. 11, 17. and joined with the same Verb, Job xxxviii. 5, Lam. ii. 8. Zeck. i. 16. nor is it turned rule any where else. The other Word is found but this once.

Ver. 14. That he may cut] or to cut; for so the Heb. is, and thus agrees with Ax in Ver. 12.

17. And the Residue of it he makes a god, his carved Image: he worships it, bows down to it, prays to it, and says, Deliver me, for thou art my god.

18. They do not know, nor understand: for it covers over their Eyes from seeing, their Hearts from considering.

19. And he does not recall to Mind, neither is there Knowledge, nor Understanding to say, Half of it have I burnt in the Fire, and have also baked Bread upon the Coals of it, I have roasted Flesh, and eat; and I make the rest of it an Abomination, worship the Growth of a Tree.

20. He feeds on Ashes, a deluded Heart turns him aside; so that he does not deliver his Soul, nor say, Is there not Falseness in my right Hand?

21. Remember these Things, O Jacob and Israel, for thou art my Servant: I have formed thee, thou art a Servant to me, O Israel, thou shalt not be forgot by me.

22. I abolish thy Transgressions as a thick Cloud, and thy Sins like a common one: return to me, for I redeem thee.

23. Sing, O Heavens, for the Lord does it; shout you lower Places of the Earth; break out, O Mountains, into Singing, the Wood and every Tree in it: for the Lord redeems Jacob, and glorifies himself in Israel.

24. Thus says the Lord thy Redeemer, and the Former of thee from the Womb; I am the Lord, who made all Things, stretched out the Heaven alone, spread forth the Earth of my self;

25. He who frustrates the Signs of the false Devisers, and makes the Diviners mad, turns the Wise back, and causes their Knowledge to be foolish;

26. Who makes the Word of his Servant stand, and will perform the Counsel of his Messengers; who says to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the Cities of Judah, You shall be built up, and I will raise up the waste Places of it;

27. Who says to the Depth, Be wasted away, and I will dry up thy Rivers;

28. Who says of Cyrus, He is my Shepherd, and shall perform all my Will; even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built up; and to the Temple, Thou shalt be founded.

CHAP. XLV.

THUS says the Lord to his anointed one, namely Cyrus, whose right Hand I take hold of, to subdue the Nations before him, and that I may let loose the Loins of Kings; to open the Doors before him, and that the Gates may not be shut up:

2. I will go before thee, and make the crooked Places straight; will break the Doors of Brass, and cut off the Bars of Iron.

3. So will I give thee the Treasures of Darkness, and the Things laid up in hidden Places; in order for thee to know that I the Lord, who call thee by Name, am the God of Israel.

4. For the sake of my Servant Jacob, and Israel my chosen one, I even call thee by thy Name, I surname thee, though thou dost not know me;

5. I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God excepting my self: I will gird thee, though thou dost not know me;

6. In order that they may know from the Rising of the Sun, and from the West, that there is none besides me: I am the Lord, and there is none else.

7. The Former of Light, and Creator of Darkness, the Maker of Peace, and Creator of Harm; I the Lord am the Doer of all these.

8. Distil, O Heavens, from above, and let the Skies flow down with Righteousness; let the Earth open, and let them be fruitful with Salvation, and let Righteousness spring forth together: I the Lord have created it.

9. Wo be to him that contends with the Former of himself; let an earthen Vessel with the earthen Vessels of the Ground: shall the Clay say to the Former of it, What dost thou make? or thy Work, He has no Hands.

10. Wo be to him that says to a Father, What hast thou begot? Or to the Woman, What hast thou brought forth?

11. Thus says the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, and his Former; Ask of me Things

Ver. 17. a god] It is related that one Phidias having made a Statue or Image of Minerva, Stilpo the Philosopher asked whether Minerva the Daughter of Jupiter was a goddess? And being told Yes; made Reply, But that is not the Daughter of Jupiter, but of Phidias, therefore no goddess, Diog. Laert. in his Life. A noble Testimony for a Heathen, against the Religion of his own Country!

Ver. 18. it] Idolatry as before described; not [he] is wit God, as our Trans. render, and Poole expounds it.

Ver. 22. Transgressions] greater than common Sins, Psa. xix. 13. & xxxii. 1. & lix. 3. xxxvi. 1.

Ib. as a thick Cloud] which, notwithstanding its Appearance, soon evaporates away; but does not suit well with blotted out. This I prefer of the several Interpretations put on it.

Ver. 26. his Servant] Isaiah himself.

Ver. 27. dry up] See Jer. li. 36.

Ver. 1. let loose the Loins of Kings] disrobes them; the Apparel of those Times and Countries being fastened on with Girdles, Lev. viii. 7. Job. xii. 18.

Ver. 2. Brass] the City of Babylon having a hundred such Gates; see the Note on Dan. iv. 30.

Ver. 3. Treasures] 34000 Pound-weight of Gold, besides other Things, as Pliny relates, Nat. Hist. xxxiii. 3.

Ver. 7. Harm] Punishment for Sin.

to come, concerning my Children and the Work of my Hands command me.

12. I made the Earth, and created Man upon it: I, even my Hands, stretched out the Heaven, and I commanded all that belonged to it.

13. I will stir one up in Righteousness, and make all his Ways right: he shall build up my City, and send away my Captives, not for Price nor Gift, says the Lord of Armies.

14. Thus says the Lord; The Labour of Egypt, and Merchandise of Cush and the Sebaïtes, huge Persons, shall pass to thee; and they shall be thine, shall go after thee, shall pass in Chains: nay they shall bow down to thee, make supplication to thee, saying, Certainly God is in thee, and there is none else, no other God.

15. Surely thou wast a God who hiddest thy self, O God of Israel, the Saviour.

16. They will be ashamed, and also put to confusion all of them: the Artificers of the painful Idols will go to confusion together.

17. Israel will be saved through the Lord, with the Salvation of Ages: they will not be ashamed, nor put to confusion for eternal Ages.

18. For thus says the Lord, the Creator of the Heaven, God himself the Former of the Earth and Maker of it, he who established it, did not create it in vain, formed it to be inhabited; I am the Lord, and there is none else.

19. I have not spoken in Secret, in a dark Place of the Earth, have not said to the Offspring of Jacob in vain, Seek me: I the Lord speak Righteousness, declare upright Things.

20. Gather, and come, and get your selves nigh together, you who are escaped of the Nations: those do not know who lift up the Wood of their carved Image, and pray to a god that cannot save.

21. Declare, and bring nigh, let them also take counsel together: who has published this from old Time, has declared it from then? Have not I the Lord? And there is no God besides me, a righteous God, and a Saviour, there is none excepting my self.

22. Look to me, and be saved, all you

Limits of the Earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23. I have sworn by my self, the Word is gone out of my Mouth in Righteousness, and shall not come back; that to me every Knee shall bow, every Tongue swear.

24. Certainly through the Lord, shall it be asserted, have I Righteousness and Strength: to him shall there be coming; and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

25. Through the Lord shall the whole Offspring of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

C H A P. XLVI.

BELL bends, Nebo stoops; their Images are on the Beasts and Cattle: your Things that are carried, are loaded up, are a Burden to the tired one.

2. They stoop, they bend together, they cannot deliver the Burden; but go themselves into Captivity.

3. Harken to me, O Family of Jacob, and all the Residue of the Family of Israel, that are loaded up from the Belly, carried from the Womb.

4. To old Age also I am he, and to grey Hairs I bear: I make, and I carry, as likewise I bear and deliver.

5. To whom will you liken me, make equal, and compare me, that we may be alike?

6. They squander Gold out of the Bag, and weigh Silver on the Balance: they hire a Goldsmith, and he makes it a god: they worship, even bow down.

7. They carry him upon the Shoulder, bear him, and cause him to rest in his Seat; and he stands, without removing from his Place: each of them also cries to him, but he does not answer, saves him not from his Distress.

8. Remember this, and shew your selves Men; bring it again to Mind, O Transgressors.

9. Remember the former Things long ago: for I am God, and there is none else; the God, and there is none like me:

10. Who declare the End from the Be-

Ver. 13. one] that is Cyrus, Ver. 1.

Ver. 14. The Labour of Egypt] the Product of the Egyptians Labour. As the preceding Verse shews to what Period of Time this belongs, those Places and People were within a few Years of it conquered by the Persians, who freed the Jews from Captivity; and the latter perhaps not only assisted the Persians in the Conquest of those Countries, but had a Superiority over them afterwards, as also a Tribute from thence according to Ezr. i. 4. & vi. 8, 9. & vii. 21, 22. and some might be proselyted to the Belief of the true God and Religion; all which might contribute to the fulfilling of this Verse. Yet it may be allowed a final Accomplishment by the Gospel Conversion.

1b. thee] which being each of them feminine in Heb. cannot belong to Cyrus, but to the City of Jerusalem, or Country of Judah.

Ver. 15. wast] as being the Speech continued from the End of the foregoing Verse.

Ver. 19. Seek me] in vain is before this, and manifestly not a Part with it; which is quite absurd.

Ver. 1. bends—stoops] by being taken down from where they stood, to be carried away.

Ver. 3. loaded up] put up for a Load to be carried; the same Verb as in Ver. 1.

ginning, and the Things which are not done from old Time; who say, My Counsel shall stand, and I will do all my Will;

11. Who call a Bird from the East, the Man of my Counsel from a Country far off: I have both spoken, and will bring it to pass; I have formed, I will also do it.

12. Harken to me, you Stout-hearted, who are far off from Righteousness.

13. I have brought my Righteousness near, it shall not be far off, nor shall my Salvation stay; and I will put Salvation in Zion, for Israel my Glory.

C H A P. XLVII.

COME down, and sit in the Dust, O Virgin Daughter of Babylon, sit on the Ground; there is no Throne, O Daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more have People call thee tender and delicate.

2. Take the Mill, and grind Meal; uncover thy Locks, make the Path bare, uncover the Leg, pass through the Rivers.

3. Thy Nakedness shall be uncovered, thy Reproach also be seen: I will take vengeance, and not meet like Man;

4. Even our Redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of Armies, the Holy One of Israel.

5. Sit silent, and enter into Darkness, O Daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more have People call thee the Mistress of Kingdoms.

6. I was in a Wrath against my People, made profane my Possession, and delivered them into thy Power; who didst shew no compassions to them, madest thy Yoke very heavy upon the Ancient.

7. Nay thou hast boasted, I shall be Mistress for ever; while thou didst not lay these Things to thy Heart, didst not remember the End of it.

8. Now therefore hear this, that art she who dwells securely with Pleasure, who says in her Heart, I am, and there is none else but me; I shall not sit a Widow, nor know Loss of Children.

9. Whereas these two Things shall come to thee at an Instant in one Day, Loss of Children and Widowhood: according to their Perfection shall they come upon thee, for the Multitude of thy Witchcrafts, for the Strength of thy Enchantments so much.

10. For thou hast trusted in thy Wickedness, hast fancied none sees thee; thy Wisdom and Knowledge it self turned thee away; and thou hast said in thy Heart, I am, and there is none else but I.

11. Therefore shall Evil come upon thee, which thou knowest not the Rise of; and Calamity fall upon thee, which thou canst not pacify; nay Wasting shall come upon thee suddenly, that thou knowest not of.

12. Stand up now in thy Enchantments, and in the Multitude of thy Witchcrafts, wherein thou hast laboured from thy Youth; if perhaps thou canst profit, if perhaps thou shalt be terrible.

13. Thou art wearied in the Multitude of thy Counsels: let the Observers of the Heaven, the Lookers on the Stars, those that make known concerning the Months stand up now, and save thee from the Things which shall come upon thee.

14. Behold they shall be like Stubble, the Fire shall burn them, they shall not deliver themselves from the Power of the Flame: there shall not be a Coal to warm, a Fire to sit before it.

15. So shall they be to thee with whom thou hast laboured: thy Merchants from thy Youth shall stray to their several Passages, none shall save thee.

C H A P. XLVIII.

HEAR this, O Family of Jacob, who are called by the Name of Israel, and came forth from the Waters of Judah; who swear by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, neither in Truth nor Righteousness:

2. Though they are called those of the holy City, and lean upon the God of Israel; whose Name is the Lord of Armies.

Ver. 11. a Bird] Cyrus, who should come swiftly and easily; and ravenous does not seem a proper Epithet to add. Pope Sixtus in his Bibles has, the just one, but arbitrarily.

3. I declared the former Things at that Time, they came out of my Mouth, and I published them; I did them suddenly, and they came to pass:

4. By reason I know that thou wast stubborn, thy Neck being like a Sinew of Iron, and thy Forehead Brafs.

5. So I declared to thee at that Time, published to thee before it came; lest thou shouldest pretend, My idol did them, and my carved and molten Image commanded them.

6. Thou hast heard, look on all of it; and will you not declare it? I publish to thee at present Things new and kept, which thou hast not known.

7. They are created now, and not at that Time, or before this Day, and thou hast not heard them; lest thou shouldest say, Behold I knew them.

8. Thou hast even not heard, even not known, even thy Ear was not opened at that Time: for I know that thou art thoroughly treacherous, and hast been called a Transgressor from the Womb.

9. For the sake of my Name I will delay my Anger, and for my Praise will I close up towards thee; without cutting thee off.

10. I try thee indeed, but not with Silver: I choose thee in the Furnace of Affliction.

11. For my own sake, my very own sake I do it; for how should it be profaned? And I will not give my Glory to another.

12. Hearken to me, O Jacob, and Israel my called one; I am he, I am the first, I also am the last.

13. My Hand too founded the Earth, and my right Hand palmed the Heaven: I calling to them, they stood up together.

14. Be gathered together, all of you, and hear; who among them has declared these Things? The Lord loves one that shall do his Will on Babylon, and his Arm will be on the Chaldeans.

15. I myself speak, do also call him, bring him, and he shall make his Way prosperous.

16. Come near to me, hear this; I have not spoken in Secret from the Beginning, I have been there from the Time that it was:

and now the Sovereign Lord and his Spirit sends me.

17. Thus says the Lord thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; I the Lord thy God make thee learn to profit, cause thee to go in the Way thou shouldest walk.

18. Oh that thou wouldest hearken to my Commandments! then should thy Peace be like a River, and thy Righteousness like the Waves of the Sea:

19. Nay thy Posterity should be like the Sand, and the Offspring of thy Bowels like the Gravel of it; its Name should not be cut off, nor destroyed from before me.

20. Go out of Babylon, flee from the Chaldeans with the Voice of Singing; declare, publish this, make it go forth to the End of the Earth: say, The Lord has redeemed his Servant Jacob.

21. And they were not thirsty in the waste Places in which he caused them to walk, he made the Water flow to them from the Rock; cleaving the Rock, so that the Water gushed out.

22. The Wicked, says the Lord, have no Peace.

CHAP. XLIX.

HEARKEN to me, O Isles, and listen, O People far off; the Lord called me from the Womb, made mention of my Name from my Mother's Bowels.

2. And he made my Mouth like a sharp Sword, he hid me in the Shelter of his Hand; and made me a bright Arrow, concealed me in his Quiver.

3. Moreover he said to me, Thou art my Servant, an Israelite by whom I will be glorified.

4. To which I answered, I having laboured in vain, consumed my Might for Emptiness and Vanity; surely my Judgment is with the Lord, and my Work with my God.

5. And now says the Lord, who formed me from the Womb for a Servant of his, to bring back Jacob to him, and Israel that is not gathered; so shall I be honoured in the Sight of the Lord, and my God will be my Strength;

Ver. 3. that Time] Heb. then; the same as in Ver. 8. and different from that in Ver. 16.

Ver. 6. will you not] Grotius following the vulg. Lat. which has [not] left out, and putting can instead of will, ascribes it to the Idolaters; in which Manner any Thing may be made to have a quite contrary Meaning: as here the Power of performing the Deed, is ascribed to the People (if not other People) as Idolaters; when it should be the Will or Deed it self, to them as Israelites, Ver. 1.

Ver. 14. one] Cyrus, as Chap. xlv. 13.

Ver. 16. I] namely, the Lord, as Ver. 3, 5. Ch. xlv. 19.

Ver. 19. its] thy Posterity's.

Ver. 1. me] Jesus Christ, whom Isaiah personates.

Ver. 3. an Israelite] for it is evident not to be spoken to the People Israel, Ver. 5, 6.

Ver. 5. and Israel] as the Connection is between Jacob and this in the next Verse; and which the great Heb. Partition being at gathered, and not at him, favours: thus Castal. renders, et Israelitas ei allegendor; and to gather the Israelites to him; and De Dieu I find since just as I do, et Israellem qui non colligitur.

6. He even says, It is too light for thee to be a Servant to me, to raise up the Tribes of Jacob, and bring back the preserved of Israel; so I will put thee for the Light of the Nations, and to be my Salvation to the End of the Earth.

7. Thus says the Lord the Redeemer of Israel, the Holy One of it, to him whom Persons despise, the Nation abhors, a Servant of Governors; Kings shall see, and rise up, Princes, and shall bow down; by reason of the Lord that is faithful, the Holy One of Israel, who will choose thee.

8. Thus says the Lord; I answer thee in the Time of Favour, and help thee on the Day of Salvation: nay I will keep thee, and put thee for the Covenant of the People, to establish the Earth, to cause to possess the desolate Possessions;

9. To say to the Prisoners, Come forth; to those who are in Darkness, Discover your selves: they shall feed on the Ways, and their Pasture shall be in all high Places.

10. They shall not be hungry nor thirsty, neither shall the Heat nor Sun smite them: for he who has compassion upon them will guide them, and lead them gently by the Springs of Water.

11. Besides I will make all my Mountains a Way, and my High-ways shall be exalted.

12. Behold some shall come from far, behold some from the North and the Sea, and others from the Country of the Sinites.

13. Sing, O Heaven, rejoice, O Earth, and break out, you Mountains, in singing; because the Lord has comforted his People, and had compassion upon his afflicted ones.

14. Notwithstanding Zion says, The Lord has forsaken me, and my Lord forgot me:

15. Does a Woman forget her Babe, not to have compassion upon the Child of her Womb? Even forget as these may, I will not forget thee.

16. Lo I have engraved thee upon the Palms of my Hands; thy Walls are before me continually.

17. Thy Children shall make haste; those who destroy thee, and cause thee to be waste, shall go out of thee.

18. Look up round about, and see; all of them are gathered together, they are coming to thee: By my living, says the Lord, thou shalt put them all on like an Ornament, and tie them on as a Bride does.

19. Though there have been thy waste and desolate Places, and the Country of thy Destruction; yet now thou shalt be too narrow for the Inhabitants, and they shall be far off who devoured thee.

20. The Children when thou hast been destitute, shall yet say in thy Hearing, The Place is narrow for me, make me Room that I may inhabit.

21. And thou shalt say in thy Heart, Who begot me these, I being deprived of Children, and solitary? I was a Captive, and one gone away, who then bred up these? Lo I being left alone, these where were they?

22. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will lift up my Hand to the Nations, and raise my Standard to the People: at which they shall bring thy Sons in the Arms, and thy Daughters shall be lifted up on the Shoulders.

23. Nay Kings shall be thy Nourishers, and their Princesses thy Nurses; they shall bow down to thee with the Face to the Ground, and lick up the Dust of thy Feet: thus shalt thou know that I am the Lord; for whom they that wait shall not be ashamed.

24. May the Prey be taken from the Powerful? Or will the just Captivity be delivered?

25. Yet thus says the Lord; Even the Captivity of the Powerful shall be taken, and the Prey of the Violent be delivered: for I will contend with him who contends with thee, and will save thy Children.

26. Making thy Oppressors eat their own Flesh, and they shall be drunk with their own Blood as with new Wine: so all Flesh shall know that I am the Lord thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Strong One of Jacob.

C H A P. L.

THUS says the Lord; Where is the Writing of your Mother's Divorce, whom I have sent away; Or which of my Creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Lo ye were sold by your own Iniquities, and your Mother was sent away by your own Transgressions.

Ver. 6. too—far] which is here signifies.

Ver. 7. to him] Christ Jesus.

Ib. a Servant] to wit a Subject, instead of being a Governor himself; which Expression De Dieu seemed to think did not agree to Christ.

Ver. 15. Does] for Can signifies she cannot, contrary to may which follows.

Ver. 20. yet] rather than again, as Poole observes.

Ib. narrow] as too was left out Ver. 6. so it is here put in wrongly in the vulg. Transl.

Ver. 23. for whom] for which see L. de Dieu's Animad. and certainly it should not be turned for, the casual Conjunction.

Ver. 24. May] Can such great Deliverance be wrought?

2. Why when I came, was there no Man? When I called, did none answer? Is my Hand at all diminished from redeeming? And is there not Strength in me to deliver? Behold with my Rebuke I dry up the Sea, I make the Rivers a Wilderness; their Fish stinks, and dies with Thirst, because there is no Water.

3. I cloath the Heaven with Gloominess, and make Sackcloth its Covering.

4. The Sovereign Lord gives me the Tongue of Scholars, to know how to speak a Word seasonably to the Faint: he awakes Morning by Morning, awakes my Ear to hear like Scholars.

5. The Sovereign Lord opens my Ear, and I do not rebel; am not turned back.

6. I give my Body to those who smite, and my Cheeks to such as pluck off the Hair: I do not hide my Face from Confusion, and Spitting.

7. However the Sovereign Lord helps me, therefore I am not put to confusion; therefore I set my Face like a Flint, and know that I shall not be ashamed.

8. He that justifies me is near; Who will contend with me? Let us stand up together: Who has a Trial with me? Let him approach to me.

9. Behold the Sovereign Lord helps me; who is it shall condemn me? Lo all of them will decay like a Garment, the Moth will eat them.

10. Whoever among you fears the Lord, hearkens to what his Servant says; who walks in Darkness, and to whom there is no Shining: let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and depend on his God.

11. Lo all of you who light a Fire, who surround the Sparks; Go by the Burning of your Fire, and by the Sparks ye kindle: from my Ministry here is this for you, that ye shall lie down with Grief.

CHAP. LI.

HEARKEN to me, you who follow Righteousness, who seek the Lord; look to the Rock you were cut from, and to the Cavity of the Pit you were dug out of.

2. Look to Abraham your Father, and to Sarah who bore you: for I called him alone, blessed him, and multiplied him.

3. For the Lord will comfort Zion, will comfort all its waste Places, and make its Wilderness like Eden, and its Desert like the Garden of the Lord: Joy and Gladness shall be found in it, Thanksgiving and the Voice of a Psalm.

4. Attend to me, my People; and, my Nation, give ear to me: for a Law shall go forth from me, and I will cause my Judgment to rest for the Light of the People.

5. My Righteousness is near, my Salvation goes forth, and my Arms shall judge the People: the Isles shall wait for me, and hope for my Arm.

6. Look up to the Heaven, and behold on the Earth that is under; though the Heaven shall vanish away like Smoak, the Earth decay like a Garment, and those who inhabit it die even so; yet my Salvation shall be for ever, and my Righteousness not be broken.

7. Harken to me, you that know Righteousness, the People in whose Heart is my Law: do not fear the Reproach of Man, nor be daunted by their Revilings.

8. For the Moth shall eat them like a Garment, as shall the Worm like Wool; whereas my Righteousness shall be for ever, and my Salvation to the latest Age.

9. Awake, awake, put on Strength, O Arm of the Lord: awake as in Days of old Time, the Ages long ago: art not thou the same that cut Rahab, that made the Dragon in Anguish?

10. Art not thou the same that dried up the Sea, the Waters of the great Gulf? That made the Depths of the Sea a Way for the Ransomed to pass?

11. So the Redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with Singing, and everlasting Gladness upon their Head: they shall obtain Joy and Gladness, Sorrow and Sighing shall flee away.

12. I myself am he who will comfort you: who art thou, that thou shouldest be in fear of Man who shall die, and of the Son of Man who shall be made like Grass;

13. And shouldest forget the Lord thy Maker, the Stretcher out of the Heaven, and Founder of the Earth; and be in dread continually every Day by reason of the Wrath of him that streightens, according as he is prepared to destroy? And where is the Wrath of him that streightens?

14. The Ranger makes haste to be released, that he may not die in the Pit, nor want his Bread.

15. But I am the Lord thy God, who cleaved the Sea, when the Waves of it were

Ver. 7. However] For being improper here, as well as less signified by the Heb. Conjunction.

Ver. 11. surround the Sparks] for People use to get round a Fire, and not have a Fire round them.

Ver. 9. Awake, awake] So we repeat the Imperative, as Come, come, &c.

Ver. 13. to destroy?] being a single Question, by Jun. and Trem. to look no further, with who art, &c. in the foregoing Verse, which may vindicate itself.

tumultuous; whose Name is the Lord of Armies.

16. And I will put my Words into thy Mouth, and cover thee in the Shelter of my Hand; to plant the Heaven, and found the Earth, and say to Zion, Thou art my People.

17. Awake thy self, awake thy self, rise up, O Jerusalem, who drinkest from the Hand of the Lord the Cup of his Wrath, that drinkest the Dregs of the Cup of Horror, wringing them out.

18. There is no Leader for her of all the Sons whom she bore, and none who takes hold of her Hand of all the Sons that she bred up.

19. Those two Things are befallen thee; who bemoans thee? Wasting and Breaking, even Famine and Sword; By whom shall I comfort thee?

20. Thy Sons are fainted, they lie in the Top of all the Streets, like a wild Bull in a Net: they are filled with the Wrath of the Lord, the Rebuke of thy God.

21. Therefore now hear this, O afflicted, and drunken one, but not with Wine.

22. Thus says thy Sovereign Lord, and thy God, who contends for his People; Behold I will take the Cup of Horror out of thy Hand, the Dregs of the Cup of my Wrath, thou shalt drink it again no more.

23. And I will put it into the Hand of those that make thee sorrowful, who say to thee thy self, Bow down, that we may go over; then thou layest thy Body as the Ground, and like the Street to them who pass over.

C H A P. LII.

AWAKE, awake, put on thy Strength, O Zion; put on the Garments of thy Glory, O Jerusalem the holy City: for the Uncircumcised and Unclean shall come into thee again no more.

Ver. 17. Awake thy self] as the Heb. is here.

Ver. 18. Leader] By the Septuag. Symmachus, and Targum, Comforter, wrong interpreting לְרֹאשׁ by מְרִיץ as the former of the three also do, in Chap. xl. 11. Exod. xv. 13.

Ver. 19. even] being wasted by Famine, and destroyed by the Sword, the two Things here mentioned; whereas in the com. Transf. there are four. And thus I since find Grotius expounding it, viz. Hæc duo sunt fames & cædes; sed utrumque bis nominat: idem enim sunt vastitas & fames; item contritio & gladius. These two Things are Famine and Slaughter; but he names each of them twice: for Wasting and Famine are the same, as also Destruction and the Sword. But Jun. and Trem. put them transversely. Instead of even, Pagn. has few, or; and Munst. hoc est, that is.

Ver. 20. Net] made probably, to catch such wild Beasts as would not gnaw it asunder, of Ropes; as now of Twine for Rabbits in Warrens.

Ver. 23. self] as undoubtedly the Meaning is; and how does fool sort with body, may be the same?

2. Shake thy self from the Dust, arise, sit up, O Jerusalem: release thy self from the Bonds of thy Neck, O captive Daughter of Zion.

3. For thus says the Lord, You are sold for Nothing, and you shall be redeemed without Money.

4. For thus says the Sovereign Lord, My People went down to Egypt, formerly to sojourn there, and Assyria has oppressed them, for Nought.

5. And now what have I here? says the Lord, for my People are taken for Nothing: their Governors cause to lament, says the Lord, and continually every Day is my Name contemned.

6. Therefore my People shall know my Name, even at the same Time that I am he who speak, behold I my self.

7. How beautiful upon the Mountains will be the Feet of him who preaches, who publishes Peace, preaches Good, publishes Salvation, who says to Zion, Thy God reigns!

8. Thy Watchmen will raise up the Voice, with the Voice will sing together: for they will see Eye to Eye, when the Lord brings back Zion.

9. Break out, sing together, you waste Places of Jerusalem: for the Lord will comfort his People, will redeem Jerusalem.

10. The Lord will make bare his holy Arm, in the Sight of all the Nations; and all the Limits of the Earth shall see the Salvation of our God.

11. Depart, depart, go forth from thence, do not touch the Unclean: go forth from within it, be pure, you who carry the Lord's Things.

12. For you shall not go forth in Haste, nor go in Flight; since the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel be your Rear-guard.

13. Behold my Servant shall prosper: he shall be exalted, advanced, and be very high.

Ver. 2. sit up] from lying in the Dust; and concordant with arise.

Ver. 4. Nought] God had or got Nothing of either of those Nations for this. Thus the Heb. signifies, and is rendered by Pagn. with Jun. and Trem. pro nihilo; which the latter expound sine pretio, without Price.

Ver. 5. here] He had no more of the Chaldeans for his People, than he had of the others, even Nothing at all, and besides was contemned by them; therefore he would bring them back from Captivity, Ver. 6, 8. The [therefore] and [that] in the com. Transf. of this Verse, seem each of them to spoil the Sense.

Ver. 10. make bare] as the right Arm was for War or other Business, by turning up the Vest, according to the Figure of Heroes in the ancient Medals and Statues.

Ver. 12. in Haste] as they did from Egypt, Exod. xii. 33, 39.

Ver. 13. my Servant] Jesus Christ.

Ib. advanced] extolled, being praised or celebrated, this Heb. Word, though very much used, I presume never signifies.

14. As many are astonished at thee, so disfigured is his Appearance more than a Man, and his Form more than Mankind;

15. So shall he sprinkle many Nations, the Kings shall shut up their Mouth at him: for that which has not been told them they shall see, and what they have not heard shall they understand.

C H A P. LIII.

WH O believes our Report? And to whom is the Arm of the Lord revealed?

2. For he grows up before him as a Sprout, and like a Root out of dry Ground; he has neither Shape nor Comeliness: and when we see him, there is no Appearance that we should desire him.

3. He is one despised and shunned of Men, a Man of Griefs, and who knows Illness; and as it were hiding of the Face by us, being despised, and we not esteeming him.

4. Surely he carries our Illness, and bears our very Griefs; yet we esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5. Whereas he is pierced for our Transgressions, bruised for our Iniquities: the Correction of our Peace is upon him, and by his Sore are we healed.

6. All of us have strayed like Sheep, we have turned each one to his own Way; and the Lord causes the Iniquity of us all to meet on him.

7. Exacted upon, and afflicted as he is, he does not open his Mouth: like a Lamb is he brought to the Slaughter, and is dumb as a Sheep before her Shearers, without opening his Mouth.

8. He is taken from Restraint and Judgment; yet who can tell his Generation, though he is cut off from the Country of the Living, being stricken for the Transgression of my People?

9. Moreover he makes his Grave with the Wicked, and with the Rich at his Death:

for no Wrong that he does, nor Deceit being in his Mouth.

10. But the Lord is pleased to bruise him, he causes him to be ill: though thou makest his Life a Sacrifice for Guilt, he will see an Offspring, will have the Time long, and the Pleasure of the Lord will prosper in his Hand.

11. From the Labour of his Soul that he sees he will be satisfied: my righteous Servant will make many righteous by his Knowledge; as he will bear their Iniquities.

12. Therefore will I divide to him for many, and he shall divide the Spoil with the Strong; forasmuch as he pours out his Soul to Death, and is numbered with Transgressors: for he carries the Sin of many, and intercedes for the Transgressors.

C H A P. LIV.

SING, O barren one, who dost not bear; break out in Singing and shout joyfully, thou that dost not bring forth: for the Children of the Desolate shall be more than those of the married one, says the Lord.

2. Enlarge the Place of thy Tent, and let them stretch out the Curtains of thy Tabernacles, do not withhold: lengthen thy Cords, and make thy Pins strong.

3. For thou shalt break out at the right Hand and the left; thy Offspring inheriting the Nations, and they shall make the desolate Cities be inhabited.

4. Do not fear, since thou shalt not be ashamed; and be not confounded, since thou shalt not blush: for thou shalt forget the Shame of thy Youth, and remember the Reproach of thy Widowhood no more.

5. For thy Maker is thy Husband, whose Name is the Lord of Armies; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel, who is styled the God of the whole Earth.

6. For the Lord calls thee, as a Wife left and grieved in Spirit, and a Wife of Youth who hast been rejected, says thy God.

Ver. 3. Illness] Affliction of Body or Mind, Mat. iv. 1, 2. & viii. 20. Joh. xi. 33, 35. Mat. xxvi. 38. Luk. xxii. 44. Mat. xxvii. 46. the Heb. Word more strictly denotes Sickness or Disease.

Ver. 3, 4. esteem] This Word here nicely answers to the Heb. one in the double Meaning of value or regard, and think or count.

Ver. 4. be] See the fulfilling of this, Mat. viii. 16, 17.

Ver. 8. Restraint] while he was had to Annas, Caia-phas, Pilate, Herod, and back to Pilate again, who sentenced him to Death, Joh. xviii. 13, 24, 28, 29. Luk. xxiii. 7, 11, 24.

Ib. Generation] his innumerable Posterity of Christians, and his own eternal Age, according to Ver. 10.

Ib. though] for being unsuitable.

VOL. II.

Ver. 9. Wicked] near the Malefactors, Joh. xix. 41, 42. Ib. Rich] Joseph of Arimathea, Mat. xxvii. 57, 60. Accordingly the Heb. Word for Rich is singular, as that for Wicked is plural.

Ib. Death] The Original is Deaths; Jesus being both crucified, and pierced to the Heart with a Spear, from whence the Water came, Joh. xix. 18, 34.

Ib. for me] agreeable with the same Conjunction of those Hebrew Particles, Joh. xvi. 17. and in divers other Places for signifies for, but not because, which also spoils the Sense. What Confusion and Impertinence have been made of these two Verses!

Ver. 12. for many] The Heb. Preposition here rendered for is different from that which follows with; on the other hand many is the same here as further in the Verse: so Jun. and Trem. translate pro multis.

7. I left thee for a little Moment, but will gather thee with great Compassions.

8. In an Instant of Wrath I hid my Face a Moment from thee; but with everlasting Kindness will I have compassion upon thee, says the Lord thy Redeemer.

9. For this is as the Waters of Noah to me, who sware those Waters should pass over the Earth no more: so have I sworn I would not be in a Wrath against thee, nor rebuke thee.

10. Though the Mountains should depart, and the Hills be removed; yet my Kindness shall not depart from thee, nor the Covenant of my Peace be removed, says the Lord who has compassion upon thee.

11. O afflicted one, driven tempestuously, not comforted; behold I will cause thy Stones to lie with Paint, and will lay thy Foundation with Sapphires.

12. I will also make thy Casements of Pyropus, thy Gates of Carbuncle Stones, and all thy Bounds with Stones of Delight.

13. Nay all thy Children shall be taught by the Lord, and their Peace shall be much.

14. Thou shalt be established in Righteousness: shalt be far from Oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from Calamity, for it shall not come near thee.

15. Behold none shall come together at all from me; whoever comes together against thee, shall fall for thy sake.

16. Lo I created the Smith who blows the Coal in the Fire, and brings forth the Instrument for his Work; and I created the Destroyer to spoil.

17. Every Instrument which is formed against thee shall have no Success, and thou shalt condemn every Tongue that rises up against thee to Judgment: this shall be the Possession of the Servants of the Lord, and their Righteousness shall be from me, says the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

HO every one that is thirsty, come you to the Waters, and he who has no Money; come, buy, and eat; even come, buy Wine and Milk, without either Money or Price.

2. Why do you spend Money for what is not Bread, and your Labour for what does not satisfy? Harken attentively to me, and eat that which is good, and let your Soul delight it self in Fatness.

3. Incline your Ear, and come to me; hear, and your Soul shall live: and I will make with you an everlasting Covenant, the sure Favours of David.

4. Behold I give him for a Witness to the People, a Ruler and Commander to them.

5. Lo thou shalt call a Nation thou didst not know, and a Nation that did not know thee shall run to thee; for the sake of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel, because he makes thee glorious.

6. Seek the Lord when he is to be found, call upon him when he is near.

7. Let the Wicked leave his Way, and the Man of Iniquity his Thoughts: and let him return to the Lord, who will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

8. For your Thoughts are not mine, nor my Ways yours, says the Lord.

9. Since as the Heaven is high above the Earth; so are my Ways high above yours, and my Thoughts above yours.

10. For according as the Rain comes down, and the Snow from the Heaven, and does not return thither, but waters the Earth, makes it bear, and causes it to spring forth; yielding Seed to the Sower, and Bread to the Eater:

11. So shall my Word be which goes out of my Mouth, it shall not return to me empty; but shall do what I desire, and have Success in that for which I send it.

12. For you shall go out with Gladness, and be had forth with Peace: the Mountains and Hills shall break out into Singing before you, and all the Trees of the Field clap Hands.

13. The Fir-tree shall come up in the room of the Thorn, the Myrtle-tree shall in that of the Bramble; and it shall be to

Ver. 8. but] To this Purpose is that excellent Sentence in the famous Persian Book, entituled Giavidan Khird, The Wisdom of all Times, exhibited in the Univer. Hist. B. i. Ib. because] Lat. quia; but Sixtus dropping the a, has qui, who. Chap. liii. &c.

Ver. 9. my Thoughts above yours] This Manner of Expression is so natural to our Language, that I heard a very ignorant Man reading this in the com. Bible, after repeating Ways uncouthly, say yours for your Thoughts; and if yours as here were to be turned into Hab. the Way to do it would be as it is now in the Original.

the Lord for a Name, for an everlasting Sign which shall not be cut off.

C H A P. LVI.

THUS says the Lord; Keep Judgment, and do Righteousness: for my Salvation is near to come, and my Righteousness to be revealed.

2. The Man is blessed who does this, and the Son of Man who takes hold of it; that keeps the Sabbath from profaning it, and keeps his Hand from doing any Evil.

3. And let not the Son of a Stranger who is joined to the Lord speak thus, The Lord has quite put me apart from his People; nor let the Eunuch say, Lo I am a dry Tree.

4. For thus says the Lord concerning the Eunuchs who keep my Sabbaths, choose that which I desire, and take hold of my Covenant;

5. Even to them will I give in my House, and within my Walls a Space, and a Name better than of Sons or Daughters: I will give each of them an everlasting Name, which shall not be cut off.

6. And the Sons of a Stranger who are joined to the Lord, to minister to him, and to love the Name of the Lord, to be Servants to him; every one that keeps the Sabbath from profaning it, and those who take hold of my Covenant;

7. Even them will I bring to my holy Mountain, and make them glad in the House of my Prayer; their Burnt-offerings and Sacrifices shall be with Favour upon my Altar: for my House shall be called the House of Prayer for all People.

8. Says the Sovereign Lord who gathers those that are driven away of Israel, I will yet gather to him, with such as are his gathered ones.

9. Every Beast of the Field, come to eat, every Beast in the Wood.

10. His Watchmen are blind, all of them ignorant, all dumb Dogs, they cannot bark: they snore, lie down, they love to slumber.

11. Nay Dogs of a strong Appetite that know not when there is enough, and Shepherds are they unknowing how to understand: all of them look to their own Way, each one to his Gain from his very Border.

12. Come, say they, I will fetch Wine, and let us swallow the Liquor; and there will be to Morrow as there is this Day, a very great deal.

C H A P. LVII.

THE Righteous perishes, and no Man regards: and pious Men are taken away, none understanding that the Righteous is taken away by reason of the Evil.

2. Going in his Uprightness, he comes to Peace, they rest upon their Beds.

3. But draw near hither, you Sons of the Soothsayers, the Offspring of the Adulterer and her that commits Fornication.

4. At whom do you delight your selves? At whom do you enlarge the Mouth, thrust out the Tongue? Are not you Children of Transgression, an Offspring of Falsehood?

5. That were inflamed among the Oaks, under every green Tree; that killed the Children in the Vallies, under the Craggs of the Rocks?

6. Thy Part was among the smooth Stones of the Valley, they, they were thy Lot; to them likewise didst thou pour out the Offering, offer up Oblation: shall I have Comfort in these Things?

7. Thou didst put thy Bed upon a Mountain, high and raised up; thither also thou wentest up to offer Sacrifice.

8. And didst put thy Remembrance behind the Door, and the Post: for thou discoveredst thy self away from me, and wentest up; didst enlarge thy Bed, and cut it out for thee by reason of them; thou lovedst their Bed, beheldest the Space.

9. Moreover thou didst observe the King with Oil, multiply thy Ointments, send thy Ambassadors even far off, and humble thy self to Hell.

Ver. 10. His] Israel's, Ver. 8.

Ver. 4. The Lord speaking by Isaiab, in the latter Part of Hezekiah's Reign, to the ungodly Scoffers, some of whom were gross Idolaters in the Time of Ahaz, and now profane, or hypocritical as in the next Chapter, others the wicked Offspring of that idolatrous Generation, Ver. 3. rehearses up their former Crimes as follow, Ver. 12. upon Occasion of their present Scoffing, as in this Verse, and their disregarding him, by reason of his long Silence from reproofing them, Ver. 11. This may be as a Key for the whole, to the Middle of the 13th Verse; for want of which, there has been but a superficial Knowledge of it exhibited by several Expositors.

Ver. 6. didst] This and the following are past Tenses in the Heb.

Ver. 8. cut] So the Verb signifies, and accordingly Ment. renders it excidisti, Jun. and Trem. cadens; and in Peale's Annot. it is said, 'The Verb here used being thus put by it self never signifies to make a Covenant.'

Ver. 9. observe] for it is not pretended the Verb רָאָה ever signifies wentest or to go, nor yet any of its similar Verbs.

Ib. the King] of Assyria.

Ib. humble] as in 2 King. xvi. 7.

10. Being weary in the Greatness of thy Way, thou didst not say, It is past Hope: thou foundest the Life of thy Hand, therefore thou wast not sick.

11. And for whom art thou troubled, and dost fear; that thou lyeest, and dost not remember me, regardest not? Have not I held my peace, even long ago, so that thou dost not fear me?

12. I will declare thy Righteousness, and Deeds; which shall not profit thee.

13. When thou criest, let thy Companions deliver thee; but all of them the Wind shall carry away, Vanity shall take; whereas he who trusts in me shall possess the Country, and inherit my holy Mountain.

14. And he shall say, Cast up, Cast up, make the Way ready: take up the Stumbling-block out of the Way of my People.

15. For thus says he who is high and raised up, dwelling in Eternity, whose Name is holy; I dwell in the high and holy Place, and with him that is of a mortified and humble Spirit, to revive the Spirit of the Humble, and to revive the Heart of the mortified ones.

16. For I will not contend for ever, nor be in a Wrath eternally; since the Spirit would be overwhelmed from before me, and the Souls I have made.

17. For the Iniquity of his Gain I was in a Wrath, and smote him; hiding while I was in a Wrath: as he went away deserting, in the Way of his own Heart.

18. I see his Ways, yet I will heal him; nay will lead him, and render Comforts to him and his Mourners:

19. Creating the Fruit of the Lips; he that is far off and he who is near shall have constant Peace, says the Lord, and I will heal him.

20. But the Wicked are like the Sea driven out, when it cannot be still, and its Waters drive out Mire and Dirt.

21. There is no Peace, says my God, to the Wicked.

C H A P. LVIII.

CALL with the Throat, do not restrain, elevate thy Voice like a Trumpet; declaring to my People their Transgression, and to the Family of Jacob their Sin:

2. Notwithstanding they seek me Day by Day, and delight to know my Ways; like a Nation that does Righteousness, and forsakes not the Judgment of its God: they ask of me righteous Judgments, delight in coming near to God.

3. Why when we fast, say they, dost not thou see; when we afflict our Soul, dost not thou know? Behold you find Delight on the Day of your Fast, and exact all your Labours.

4. Lo you fast for Strife and Contention, and to strike with a wicked Fist: you should not fast as at present, to make your Voice be heard on high.

5. Is it a Fast like this which I choose, for Man to afflict his Soul a Day? Is it to bow down his Head like a Rush, and spread Sackcloth and Ashes? Dost thou call this a Fast, and a Day of the Lord's Favour?

6. Is not this the Fast which I choose, to let loose the Bonds of Wickedness, to undo the Packs of the Yoke; as also to let the Oppressed go free, and that you should break every Yoke asunder.

7. Is it not to divide thy Bread to the Hungry, and that thou shouldest bring the afflicted, the lamenting ones home? When thou seest the Naked that thou shouldest co-

Ver. 10. the Life of thy Hand] the Delight of thy Endeavour: which by the foregoing Verses and the 13th appears to be foreign Favour and Alliance, accompanied with Idolatry; a Complaint of the same Kind as that in Chap. ii. 6, 8.

Ver. 15. with him] The last of Demophilus's Sentences is, Ψυχὴς ἀνθρώπου τόπον διανοήσας ἐν γῆς ἢ ἐν οὐρανῷ, ὁ θεὸς οὐκ ἔστι, ὅπου ἔστιν ἡ καθαρή ψυχή. God has no Place on the Earth where he dwells more, than in a pure Mind. And Young in his famed Night-Thoughts writes, N. 8.

*Th' Almighty from his Throne, on Earth surveys
Nought Greater, than an Honest, Humble Heart;
An Humble Heart, His Residence! pronounc'd
His second Seat; and Rival to the Skies.*

Ver. 19. constant] See Chap. xxvi. 3.

Ver. 20. cannot be still] Hipparchus writes in his Book Concerning Quietness of Mind, Πάντα τὰ κατὰ τὸν βίον ἀδίκημα, κακὰ, παρανομία, καὶ ἀσέβηματα, ἐκ τῶν κατὰ τὴν ψυχὴν παθιμάτων ἐστὶ. All the Mischief, Wickedness, Crimes, and Profaneness of human Life, are from the Passions of the Mind.

Ver. 3. exact all your Labours] their oppressive ones from their Servants, Ver. 6.

Ver. 4. to strike with a wicked Fist] Sept. you strike the Poor with the Fists, whose Copy therefore, it is said in Crit. Notes, p. 75. had פך instead of פס but were that to be granted as probable, it is to be granted as more probable that their Copy was erroneous, since an Omission is much likelier than an Addition.

Ib. Voice] in Prayer.

Ver. 5. Rush] The Author of Crit. Notes, p. 76. calls this similitude of a bulrush improper, adding, it is notorious enough, that it is the least apt to bow down its head of any plant, and therefore from some old Transf. would have it circle; not satisfied so, he is for changing a Letter to make as be in. But if he himself mistook a Rush for a Reed, and if no such Meaning of the Heb. Word can be proved as circle, I fancy these two Things will not be potent enough to require the third, a Change of the Original.

Ver. 6. the Fast] So the Angel to Hermas mentioned Rom. xvi. 14. Book 3. Simil. 5.

Ib. Packs of the Yoke] as being drawn by the Yoke.

Ver. 7. lamenting ones] for which see Buxt. Diss. at פך rendered in the com. Transf. by misery, Lam. i. 7. & iii. 19. where it only is besides.

ver them, and not hide thy self from thy own Flesh?

8. Then shall thy Light break out like the Morning, and thy Health spring forth speedily; thy Righteousness too shall go before thee, the Glory of the Lord shall be thy Rear-guard.

9. Then shalt thou call, and the Lord will answer; thou shalt cry out, and he will say, Here am I: if thou wilt put away from within thee the Yoke, the putting out of the Finger, and speaking Vanity;

10. And wilt let forth thy Affection to the Hungry, and satisfy the afflicted Soul: thus shall thy Light rise in Darkness, and thy Dimness be like Noon.

11. Nay the Lord will lead thee continually, satisfy thy soul in Droughts, and deliver thy Bones; so that thou wilt be like a watered Garden, and like a Spring of Water whose Water does not fail.

12. And those of thee shall build up the ancient waste Places, thou shalt raise up the Foundations of several Generations; and shalt be called the Fencer up of the Breach, the Restorer of Paths to abide in.

13. If thou wilt turn back thy Foot from the Sabbath, the doing thy own Delight on my holy Day; and wilt call the Sabbath delicate, to be holy to the Lord, honourable; and wilt honour him from doing thy own Ways, from finding thy Delight, and talking of such a Thing:

14. Then shalt thou be delicate with the Lord, and I will make thee ride upon the high Places of the Earth, and cause thee to eat of the Possession of thy Father Jacob: for the Mouth of the Lord has spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

BEHOLD the Hand of the Lord is not diminished from saving, nor his Ear heavy from hearing.

2. But your Iniquities do make separation between you and your God; and your Sins hide his Face from hearing you.

3. For your Hands are polluted with Blood, and your Fingers with Iniquity: your Lips tell Lyes, your Tongue discourses what is unjust.

4. None calls for Righteousness, nor yet comes to Judgment with Truth: trusting upon Emptiness, and speaking vain Things; conceiving Trouble, and bringing forth Vanity.

5. They break open Cockatrices Eggs, and weave Spiders Webs: he who eats of their Eggs dies, and that which is squeezed breaks open with a Viper.

6. Their Webs will not become a Garment, nor will they cover themselves with their Deeds: their Deeds are vain ones, and the Work of Violence is in their Hands.

7. Their Feet run to Evil, and they make haste to shed innocent Blood: their Thoughts are vain ones, Wasting and Breaking are in their High-ways.

8. They are unacquainted with the Way of Peace, and there is no Judgment in their Roads: they pervert their Paths for themselves, none who treads therein knows Peace.

9. Therefore Judgment is far from us, and Righteousness does not reach us: waiting for Light, there is Darkness; for Shining, we walk in Dimness.

10. We feel for the Wall like the Blind, grope about as it were without Eyes: we stumble at Noon as at the Twilight, are in desolate Places like the Dead.

11. We make a Noise like Bears all of us, make moan sadly like Doves: we wait for Judgment, but none is; for Salvation, which is far from us.

12. For our Transgressions are become many before thee, and our Sins testify against us; because they are with us, and we are sensible of our Iniquities!

13. Transgressing, and lying against the Lord, as also turning back from after our God; speaking Oppression and Apostacy, conceiving and discoursing Words of Falsehood from the Heart.

14. Inasmuch that Judgment is turned backward; and Righteousness stands far off: for Truth stumbles in the Street, and Uprightness cannot enter in.

15. Nay Truth is lacking; and he who departs from Evil makes himself a Spoil: which the Lord sees, and it displeases him, because there is no Judgment.

16. And as he sees that there is no Man, and is astonished that there is no Intercessor; his own Arm works Salvation for him, and his Righteousness that upholds him.

17. He even wears Righteousness as a Breast-plate, and a Helmet of Salvation on his Head: he wears likewise the Garments of Vengeance for Cloathing, and puts on Zeal as a Cloak.

1b. thy own Flesh] the Needy being of the same Flesh with thy self.

Ver. 9. putting out] to point at in Derision.

Ver. 11. deliver] Nothing of make fat.

Ver. 13. turn back thy Foot from the Sabbath] not go about on that Day, in Business or Pleasure.

Ver. 14. Then] at that Time, as the Heb. Particle denotes, and not as after other Isi in the pres. Eng. Bib.

VOL. II.

1b. ride] See Dent. xxxii. 13.

Ver. 4. Vanity] the same Word rendered thus in the like Expression, Jeb xv. 35.

Ver. 9. from us] the Prophet here personating the People he before spoke of; yet the Vulg. Lat. is from you, but not all Copies.

Ver. 15. sees] to agree with the foregoing, as also better with the future Tense, Ver. 18.

18. Just according as the Recompences should be will he render Wrath to his Adversaries, Recompence to his Enemies: to the Isles will he render Recompence.

19. Thus will they fear the Name of the Lord from the West, and his Glory from the Rising of the Sun: when the Adversary comes as a Flood, the Spirit of the Lord will set up a Standard against him.

20. And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, even to those who return from Transgression in Jacob, says the Lord.

21. As for me, this shall be my Covenant with them, says the Lord, my Spirit that is upon thee, and my Words which I put in thy Mouth, shall not depart out of it, nor out of the Mouth of thy Offspring, nor out of that of their Offspring, says the Lord, henceforth even for ever.

CHAP. LX.

GET ready, shine; for thy Light is come, and the Glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2. Though behold Darkness covers the Earth, and Dimness the People; yet upon thee will the Lord rise, and his Glory appear upon thee,

3. So that the Nations will go to thy Light, and the Kings to the Brightness of thy Rising.

4. Look up, round about, and see; all of them will be gathered together, will come to thee: thy Sons will come from far, and thy Daughters be nursed at the Side.

5. Then wilt thou see, and assemble together; nay thy Heart will fear, and be enlarged: for the Multitude of the Sea will be turned to thee, the Forces of the Nations come to thee.

6. Abundance of Camels will cover thee, the Dromedaries of Midian and Ephah, all of them coming from Sheba: they will carry Gold and Frankincense, and declare the Praises of the Lord.

7. All the Sheep of Kedar shall be gathered together to thee, the Rams of Nebajoth minister to thee: they shall ascend my Altar in Favour, and I will adorn the House of my Comeliness.

8. Who are these that fly like a Cloud, and as Doves to their Windows?

9. For the Isles shall wait for me, and the Ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy Sons from far, their Silver and Gold with them, to the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy One of Israel, because he adorns thee.

10. The Sons of the Stranger shall also build up thy Walls, and their Kings minister to thee: though I smote thee in my Wrath, yet I have compassion upon thee in my Favour.

11. And thy Gates shall be open continually, they shall not be shut Day or Night; to bring the Forces of the Nations to thee, and that their Kings may be introduced.

12. For the Nation and Kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish, and the Nations shall be quite wasted.

13. The Glory of Lebanon shall come to thee, the Fir, Pine, and Box together; to adorn the Place of my Sanctuary, and that I may glorify the Place of my Feet.

14. Nay the Sons of them who afflict thee shall go to thee bowing, and all that condemn thee shall bow down at the Soles of thy Feet; and shall call thee, The City of the Lord, the Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15. Instead of thy being forsaken and hated, and none passing through; I will make thee an everlasting Excellency, the Joy of all Ages.

16. And thou shalt suck the Milk of the Nations, as thou shalt even the Breast of Kings: so thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer the Strong One of Jacob.

17. Instead of Brass I will bring Gold, as I will instead of Iron Silver, instead of Wood Brass, and instead of Stones Iron; besides I will make thy Officers peaceable, and thy Exacters righteous.

Ver. 1. shine] by being illuminated with the Glory of the Lord, not by arising as the Sun, which the Heb. Verb shews; but the Lord and his Glory should rise so. This being the principal Chapter from whence Alexander Pope Esq. extracted his fine Poem the Messiah, hear him once more:

Rise, crown'd with Light, imperial Salem rise! Ver. 1.

Exalt thy tow'ry Head, and lift thy Eyes!

See a long Race thy spacious Courts adorn; Ver. 4.

See future Sons and Daughters yet unborn,

In crowding Ranks on ev'ry Side arise,

Demanding Life, impatient for the Skies!

See barbarous Nations at thy Gates attend, Ver. 3.

Walk in thy Light, and in thy Temple bend!

See thy bright Altars throng'd with prostrate Kings,

And heap'd with Products of Sabea Springs! Ver. 6.

For thee Idume's spicy Forests blow,

And Seeds of Gold in Ophyr's Mountains glow.

See Heav'n its sparkling Portals wide display,

And break upon thee in a Flood of Day!

No more the rising Sun shall gild the Morn, Ver. 19, 20.

Nor Evening Cynthia fill her silver Horn;

But lost, dissolv'd in thy superior Rays,

One Tide of Glory, one unclouded Blaze

O'erflow thy Courts: The Light himself shall shine

Reveal'd, and God's eternal Day be thine.

Ver. 4. be nursed at the Side] Jerome in his Commentary suck Milk; but how, unless he took ead, the Side, for shad, the Breast? And the Vulg. rise from the Side, how but by surgent, rise, being a Corruption from sugent, suck?

Ver. 9. For] the Heb. rational Conjunction.

Ver. 15. Instead of] the same as Ver. 17.

18. Violence

18. Violence shall be heard no more in thy Country, Wasting or Breaking in thy Bounds; on the contrary thou shalt call thy Walls Safety, and thy Gates Praise.

19. The Sun shall be for a Light to thee no more by Day, nor for Brightness the Moon give thee light; but the Lord will be for an everlasting Light to thee, and thy God for thy Adorning.

20. Thy Sun shall set no more, nor thy Moon withdraw: for the Lord will be for an everlasting Light to thee, and the Days of thy Mourning shall be finished.

21. And thy People shall all of them be righteous, for ever shall they inherit the Country: the Shoot of his Plants shall be the Work of my Hands, to adorn my self.

22. A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a numerous Nation: I the Lord will hasten it at its Time.

CHAP. LXI.

THE Spirit of the Sovereign Lord is upon me, because the Lord has anointed me to preach to the Meek; has sent me to bind up those who are of a broken Heart, to proclaim Liberty to the Captives, and the opening of the Prison to such as are bound;

2. To proclaim the Year of Favour with the Lord, and the Day of Vengeance with our God, to comfort all the Mourners;

3. To put for the Mourners of Zion, to give them Adorning instead of Ashes, the Oil of Joy instead of Mourning, the Raiment of Praise instead of a melancholy Mind: and they shall be called Oaks of Righteousness, the Plant of the Lord, to adorn himself.

4. And they shall build up the ancient waste Places, shall raise up the former Desolations; repairing the waste Cities, the Desolations of several Ages.

5. Even the Strangers shall stand, and feed your Sheep; and the Sons of the Foreigner be your Husbandmen and Vine-dressers.

6. And you shall be called the Priests of the Lord, they shall say of you, The Ministers of our God; you shall eat the Wealth of the Nations, and boast your selves in their Glory.

7. Instead of your double Shame and Confusion, they shall sing with their Part; therefore shall they inherit double in their Country; they shall have everlasting Gladness.

8. For I the Lord love Judgment, hate Spoil for Burnt-sacrifice; and I will make their Work be in Truth, and confirm with them a lasting Covenant.

9. Their Posterity shall also be known in the Nations, and their Offspring among the People: all who see them shall acknowledge that they are the Posterity whom the Lord has blessed.

10. I will be exceeding joyful through the Lord, my Soul shall rejoice through my God: for he has clothed me with the Garments of Salvation, has put on me the Robe of Righteousness; as a Bridegroom becomes like a Priest with Adorning, as a Bride decks her self with her Things.

11. For as the Earth brings out its Sprout, and as a Garden causes its sown Seed to sprout forth; so will the Sovereign Lord cause Righteousness and Praise, to sprout forth before all Nations.

CHAP. LXII.

FOR the sake of Zion I will not hold my peace, nor for Jerusalem's sake be still; till its Righteousness go forth as Brightness, and the Salvation of it like a Lamp that burns.

2. Then will the Nations see thy Righteousness, and all the Kings thy Glory; and thou wilt be called by a new Name, which the Mouth of the Lord will fix upon.

Ver. 21. his Plants] after the Heb. Text, which Munst. and L. Jud. follow, and both Græc. and De Dieu prefer; my being marginal. And the Verse in the Original is parted as here, not as in the com. English.

Ver. 1. Sovereign Lord] The Author of the State of Pr. Heb. all alert, writes, We have here a Confirmation, of what he had before suppos'd (only suppos'd it seems before, which may be Answer enough to that) that Adonai was sometimes inserted before Jehovah, to prevent the pronunciation of the latter. For, adds he, will any one say, that these words were both originally in this verse? Why not? Because St. Luke tells us, ch. iv. 18. Jesus found the Place where it was written the Lord, with which agree the Gr. &c. p. 510. If it was the Gr. Transf. then which Jesus had, as appears by all understanding it, Ver. 22. this only proves it was the Lord there, because it was the Lord there; nay were it the Heb. we are to suppose Luke made this Quotation, like others, from that Transf.

Ver. 3. put for] namely the Adorning &c. following.

Ver. 7. double Shame] as De Dieu would, and Jun. and Trem. with Cast. and the vulg. Lat. have it; which the Heb. having Nothing for you shall have and for, is a Plea in the behalf of; and therefore that follows another, since it has now its proper Force, but with the Addition in the com. Transf. is in a manner made insignificant; and the like might be said of double.

Ver. 10. becomes like a Priest] which is strictly to the Heb. and not decketh.

Ver. 1. I] Isaiah, as that which follows does manifest, but especially Ver. 10. of the last Chap. and therefore not God, after the Interpretation of Grotius.

Ver. 2. wilt be] Vulg. Lat. hast been, by the Change only of a homogeneous Letter b for v in Lat.

lb. a new Name] expressed, Ver. 4.

3. Thou wilt also be a fine Crown in the Lord's Hand, and a royal Diadem in the Hand of thy God.

4. Thou wilt no more be termed Forsaken, nor will thy Country any more be styled Desolate: for thou wilt be called My Delight in it, and thy Country Married; because the Lord will delight in thee, and thy Country will be married.

5. For as a young Man marries a Virgin, thy Sons will marry for thee; and with the Joy of the Bridegroom because of the Bride, will thy God be joyful by reason of thee.

6. I have appointed Keepers upon thy Walls, O Jerusalem, who shall not hold their peace all Day and all Night continually: you that make mention of the Lord have no Silence;

7. And give him no Silence, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem Praise on the Earth.

8. The Lord has sworn by his right Hand, and by his strong Arm, I will no more give thy Corn for Food to thy Enemies, nor shall the Sons of the Foreigner drink thy Wine, for which thou hast laboured.

9. But those who gather it up shall eat it, and praise the Lord: and such as gather it together shall drink it in my holy Courts.

10. Pass through, pass through the Gates, make ready the Way of the People: cast up, cast up a High-way, make clear from Stones, lift up a Standard for the People.

11. Behold the Lord publishes to the End of the Earth; Say to the Daughter of Zion, Behold thy Salvation is coming; lo his Reward is with him, and his Work before him.

12. And they will be called The holy People, The Redeemed of the Lord; as thou wilt be Sought for, A City not forsaken.

CHAP. LXIII.

WHO is this comes from Edom, with Garments dyed from Bozrah; this who is glorious in his Cloathing, ranging in the Greatness of his Might? I who speak in Righteousness, great to save.

2. Why art thou red with thy Cloathing, and thy Garments like one who treads at the Wine-press?

3. I have trod the Press alone, and there was no Man of the People with me; I even trod them in my Anger, and trampled them in my Wrath: so that the Strength of them was sprinkled upon my Garments, and I stained all my Cloaths.

4. For the Day of Vengeance is in my Heart, and the Year of my Redeemed is come.

5. And I beheld that there was no Helper, and was astonished that there was no Upholder; so my own Arm wrought Salvation for me, and my Wrath that upheld me.

6. Thus have I trod down the People in my Anger, and made them drunk in my Wrath; bringing down their Strength to the Ground.

7. I will make mention of the Lord's Favours, the Praises of the Lord, according to all which he himself bestows on us; and the great Good to the Family of Israel, which he bestows on them, according both to his Compassions, and the Multitude of his Favours.

8. And he says, Certainly they are my People, Sons that will not act falsely; so he is a Saviour to them.

9. In all their Distress was not he distressed? And the Angel of his Presence saved them, in his Love and Compassion he redeemed them; nay he took them up, and carried them at all Times long ago.

10. Yet they rebelled, and grieved his Holy Spirit; upon which being turned to be an Enemy towards them, he fought against them.

11. Nevertheless he remembers the ancient Times of Moses, of his People: Where is he who brought them up out of the Sea, with the Shepherd of his Flock? Where is he who put his Holy Spirit within him?

12. Who being at the right Hand of Moses, caused them to go with his glorious Arm?

Ver. 5. for thee] So Trem. and Jun. tibi, as likewise Leo Jud. it being improbable, as Poole writes, that the Spirit of God should carry on so sacred a Prophecy by a Similitude so abhorrent to Nature, the Sons should marry the Mother.

Ver. 1. from Edom] from the Slaughter the Lord made there, as described Chap. xxxiv. 5, 6. which is a clear unforced Solution of the great Difficulty Expositors have found in it.

Ver. 3. Strength] and not blood from the Heb. being indeed the same Word as in Ver. 6. and here including Brains, with all the Juices of the Body.

Ver. 6. made them drunk in my Wrath] That is, according to Kimbi, כוס חמתי עד שישכרו I will make them drink the Cup of my Wrath, till they are drunk. The Sept. leave out this Part; and the Chald.

has tread down here, and for that before kill: for those old Translators were often very inaccurate; though we are obliged to accept of their Help sometimes for Want of better. As for the preterite Tense which I use here and in Ver. 3. I not only follow Jun. and Trem. the very best and most accurate Translators, with the ingenious Cast. and the Tig. Verf. but to me it appears indicated by the antecedent Verbs; which according to Elias Lev. in Habbacur, Orat. i. Sect. 5. are to direct the Time, whether past or future, of the subsequent ones.

Ver. 9. was not he] The textual Reading being not as in Chap. ix. 3. & xlix. 5. where our Translators follow it, but theirs here is marginal.

Ver. 12. being at] thus with Tre. and Jun. is ad existens; the Heb. Prefix much rather denoting at than by; see also De Dien.

Who

Who cleaved the Water from their Face, to make himself an everlasting Name?

13. Who caused them to go through the Depths, like a Horse through the Wilderness, they not stumbling?

14. As a Beast that goes down into the Valley, the Spirit of the Lord caused him to rest: so didst thou guide thy People, to make thy self a glorious Name.

15. Behold from Heaven, and see from thy holy and glorious Dwelling: Where is thy Zeal and Power, the Yearning of thy Bowels, and thy Compassions to me, that are restrained?

16. For thou art our Father, though Abraham does not know us, nor Israel acknowledge us; thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer, thy Name is from everlasting.

17. Why dost thou let us stray from thy Ways, O Lord, letting our Heart be hardened from thy Fear? Return for the sake of thy Servants, the Tribes of thy Possession.

18. The People of thy Holiness having inherited for a little while; our Adversaries tread down thy Sanctuary.

19. It is us, thou didst never rule over them, they have not been called by thy Name.

CHAP. LXIV.

OH that rending the Heaven, thou wouldest descend, that the Mountains would flow down at thy Presence;

2. As the Fire burns the Things that are melted, the Fire causes the Water to bubble up; to make thy Name known to thy Adversaries, that the Nations may be moved at thy Presence:

3. When thou shalt do terrible Things which we do not expect, shalt descend, the Mountains flowing down at thy Presence.

4. They have even never heard, have not perceived by the Ear; the Eye has not seen, O God, besides thee, what he does for him who waits for him.

5. Thou meetest him that is joyful in doing Righteousness, those who remember thee in thy Ways: lo thou art in a Wrath when we sin; being in them for ever, we are saved.

6. But we are all of us as an unclean Thing, and all our own Righteousness is as a Garment cast away; nay we all wither like a Leaf, and our Iniquities carry us away like the Wind.

7. There being none who calls on thy Name, who stirs up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hidest thy Face from us, and dissolvest us by means of our Iniquities.

8. Yet now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the Clay, and thou art our Potter; and all of us are the Work of thy Hand.

9. Be not in a Wrath, O Lord, very much, nor remember Iniquity for evermore: behold look, we beseech thee, all of us are thy People.

10. Thy holy Cities are a Wilderness: Zion is a Wilderness, Jerusalem desolate.

11. Our holy and glorious House, in which our Fathers praised thee, is burnt with Fire; and all our desirable Things are become waste.

12. Wilt thou in these Things restrain thy self, O Lord, hold thy peace, and afflict us very much?

CHAP. LXV.

I AM sought out by those that did not enquire, and found by them who did not ask for me: I say, Here, here am I, to a Nation not called by my Name.

2. I spread forth my Hands every Day to a rebellious People, who go in a Way that is not good, after their own Thoughts:

3. A People who provoke me to my Face continually; who sacrifice in Gardens, and burn incense upon Bricks.

4. Who sit among the Graves, and stay all Night among those that are kept; who eat the Flesh of the Hog, and the Piece of Abominations from their Vessels;

Ver. 13. like a Horse] easily and safely like him.

Ver. 14. into the Valley] to rest there in the Shadow by the Water.

Ib. so] for the People to go on easily, as a Beast does down a Descent.

Ver. 17. let] For a Proof of this way of rendering it, if required, see the Note on Exod. vii. 3. and Lowth's Commentary here. So Jun. and Trem. translate it, Quare sineres aberrare nos.

Ver. 2. the Things that are melted] the Heb. being plural, and not an Adject. or Particip. to Fire. The Septuag. have translated, As Wax is melted by the Presence of the Fire, and the Fire will burn the Adversaries; the Targumist more widely and wildly, When thou didst send thy Anger like Fire in the Days of Elijah, the Sea was dissolved, alluding to 1 King. viii. 38.

Ver. 4. never] Heb. from ever not.

VOL. II.

Ver. 5. is joyful in doing] or joyfully does; as the Verb for return means, and is translated, again.

Ib. being] for is makes void the Sense; consult the best Translators, and Noldius under 160.

Ib. in them] in thy Ways.

Ver. 7. by means] as translated Jer. v. 3. Heb. by the Hand, and so cannot mean because. The Targ. deliverest us into the Hand.

Ver. 2. every Day] the same is frequent in the Psalms.

Ib. is not good] was unsuitably.

Ver. 4. among those that are kept] which is literal whatever it signifies. Jun. and Trem. rendering custodita, things kept, explain it thus in their Comment, nempe Idola; quæ per contemptum vocantur, propterea quod ipsa non custodiunt Cultores suos, sed Custodibus habent opus: that is they were Idols, and called so in Contempt, because they could

5. Who say, Approach to thy own, come not nigh me, for I am holier than thou: these are a Smoak in my Nose, a Fire burning every Day.

6. Lo it is written before me, I will not hold my peace: but will reward, even reward into their own Bosom,

7. Your Iniquities and those of your Fathers together, says the Lord, who burn incense upon the Mountains, and reproach me upon the Hills: so I will measure their former Work into their own Bosom.

8. Thus says the Lord; As the new Wine is found in a Bunch of Grapes, and one says, Do not destroy it, because there is a Blessing in it: so will I do for the sake of my Servants, not to destroy them all.

9. For I will bring an Offspring out of Jacob, and an Inheritor of my Mountains out of Judah; this which my chosen ones shall inherit, and my Servants dwell there.

10. Then shall Sharon be for a Fold of Flocks, and the Vale of Achor for the Herds to lie down, for my People who seek me.

11. Whereas you are Forsakers of the Lord, forgetting my holy Mountain, providing the Table for the Troop, and filling the Mixture for the Number.

12. So I will number you to the Sword, and all of you shall bow down to the Slaughter; because I have called, and you would not answer, have spoken, and you would not hearken: but you have done what I was displeased with, and chosen that in which I did not delight.

13. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord: Behold my Servants shall eat, but you shall be hungry; behold my Servants shall drink, but you shall be thirsty; behold my Servants shall be glad, but you shall be ashamed;

14. Behold my Servants shall sing for Chearfulness of Heart; but you shall cry for Grief of it, and lament for the Breaking of Spirit.

15. And you shall leave your Name for a

Curse to my chosen ones, and the Sovereign Lord will cause thee to die; and will call his Servants by another Name.

16. He who blesses himself on the Earth, shall do it by the God of Truth; and he who swears on the Earth, shall do that by the same God; because the former Distresses shall be forgot, and because they shall be hid from my Eyes.

17. For behold I will create new Heavens, and a new Earth; and the former shall not be remembred, nor come into Mind.

18. But be you joyful, and rejoice for evermore, in that which I create: for behold I will create Jerusalem a Rejoicing, and his People a Joy.

19. Nay I will rejoice for Jerusalem, and be joyful for my People; and there shall no more be heard in it the Voice of Weeping, or that of Crying.

20. There shall thenceforth be no more either a Babe in Age, or an old Man who has not filled his Days, but the Child shall die in his hundredth Year; yet the Sinner being so old shall be cursed.

21. They shall also build Houses, and inhabit; as likewise plant Vineyards, and eat the Fruit of them.

22. They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant and another eat: for the Days of my People shall be like those of a Tree, and my chosen ones shall become old in the Work of their Hands.

23. They shall not labour for Vanity, nor bring forth for Trouble: for they are the Posterity of the Blessed of the Lord, and their Offspring with them.

24. Moreover before they call, I will answer; while they are speaking, I will hear.

25. The Wolf and Lamb shall feed as one, and the Lion eat Straw like the Ox; as for the Serpent, Dust shall be his Meat: they shall do no Hurt, nor destroy on all my holy Mountain, says the Lord.

not keep those who worshipped them, but must be kept themselves. But perhaps it was rather the dead Bodies of such as were deified, or else kept for Necromancy or some Superstition, and this is more coherent with the Expression just before.

Ver. 20. not filled] There must needs be both infants and old men before their time was filled, but they should not die such.

Ver. 24. before they call] Some pious Reader may possibly allow me the Liberty, without thinking it impertinent, of just mentioning as an Instance; that a few Days before penning this, after waiting and longing for the Accomplishment of the Work here exhibited, my Soul was drawn into deep Supplication for it to the Lord; while the unknown Letter, to crown my Hopes, was written, and coming.

C. H. A. P. LXVI.

THUS says the Lord: Heaven is my Throne, and the Earth my Footstool; Where is this House which you build for me? And where is this Place of my Rest?

2. For my Hand made all these, whereby all these have been, says the Lord: but to him will I look that is afflicted, and smitten in Spirit, and trembles at my Word.

3. Killing an Ox is like slaying a Man, sacrificing a Lamb like cutting off a Dog's Head, offering up an Oblation like the Blood of a Hog, perfuming with Frankincense like blessing an Idol: they even choose their own Ways, and their Soul delights in their Abominations.

4. I will also choose their Mockings, and bring their Fears to them; because I called, and none answered, spoke, and they did not hearken: but they did what I was displeased with, and chose that which I did not delight in.

5. Hear the Word of the Lord, you who tremble at his Word; Your Brethren that hated you, that drove you far off for my Name's sake said, Let the Lord be glorified; whereas he will appear to your Gladness, and they will be ashamed.

6. There is a Voice of Tumult from the City, a Voice from the Temple; the Voice of the Lord who renders a Recompence to his Enemies.

7. Before she is in labour, she brings forth: before the Pangs come on her, she is even delivered of a Male.

8. Who has heard the Like of this? Who has seen the Like of these Things? Is the Earth made to be in labour in one Day? Is a Nation brought forth at one Time? For so Zion is in labour, moreover brings forth her Sons.

9. Shall I break open, and not cause to bring forth? says the Lord: Shall I cause to bring forth, and yet shut up? says the Lord.

10. Be glad with Jerusalem, and rejoice with her, all who love her; be joyful with her in Joy, all who mourn for her:

11. That you may suck, and be satisfied with the Breast of her Comforts; that you may squeeze out, and delight your selves by the Splendor of her Glory.

12. For thus says the Lord; Behold I will extend Peace to her like a River, and the Glory of the Nations like an overflowing Flood, and you shall suck; you shall be carried at the Side, and be delighted upon the Knees.

13. As one whom his Mother comforts, so will I comfort you, and you shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14. Which seeing, your Heart shall be joyful, and your Bones flourish like an Herb; since the Hand of the Lord will be known with his Servants, and Indignation with his Enemies.

15. For behold the Lord will come with Fire, and his Chariots like a Whirlwind; to render his Anger in Wrath, and his Rebuke in Flames of Fire.

16. For by Fire will the Lord come to Judgment, and by his Sword, with all Flesh; and the Slain of the Lord will be many.

17. Those who consecrate and cleanse themselves at the Gardens, behind one within, eating the Flesh of the Hog, that which is abominable, and the Mouse, shall be consumed together, says the Lord.

18. And it shall come about for me, by their Doings and Thoughts, to gather together those of all Nations and Tongues; that they may come, and see my Glory.

19. Among whom I put a Sign, and send such as escape of them, to the Nations of Tarshish, Pul and Lud that draw the Bow, Tubal and Greece; to the Isles far off, which have not heard my Fame, nor seen my Glory: and they shall declare my Glory in the Nations.

20. Besides they shall bring all your Brethren from all the Nations, for a Present to the Lord, on Horses, in Chariots, in tilted Wagons, on Mules and swift Beasts, to my holy Mountain Jerusalem, says the Lord; as the Israelites bring a present in a clean Vessel to the Lord's House.

Ver. 2. whereby] as I had translated before I saw the frivolous Objection in Crit. Notes, p. 76. of a flat tautology, chargeable only on Translation, not on the Original; which notwithstanding the Author would have removed by altering the Heb. וְהָיָה into וְהָיָה לִי to make and all these things are mine. 'Tis only the insertion of one letter, he says, a little Matter with our modern Antihæbræoli; but it is also parting one Word into two.

Ib. afflicted] rather than poor, both in regard to the Heb. Word, and the Context.

Ver. 8. the Earth] the Women of the whole Earth.

Ib. moreover] So the Heb. Particle standing here signifies, and not as soon as; which also spoils the sense, because travailed and brought forth are the same.

Ver. 17. one] the Idol placed there I suppose, as more likely than a tree.

Ver. 18. to gather] to receive the Gentiles, by reason of the Sins of the Jews.

21. And I will take of them also for Priests, for Levites, says the Lord.

22. For as the new Heaven and new Earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, says the Lord; so shall your Offspring and Name remain.

23. And from one New-moon to the other, as also from one Sabbath to the other, all Flesh shall come to worship before me, says the Lord.

24. Moreover they shall go forth, and see the dead Bodies of those Men who have transgressed against me: for their Worm shall not die, nor their Fire be quenched; but they shall be loathsome to all Flesh.

NOTES upon the BOOK of JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Words of Jeremiah the Son of Hilkiash, one of the Priests that were at Anathoth in the Country of Benjamin.

2. Who had the Lord's Commission in the Time of Josiah the Son of Amon King of Judah, in the thirteenth Year of his Reign;

3. As also in the Time of Jehoiakim, till the ending of the eleventh Year of Zedekiah, the Sons of Josiah, Kings of Judah, till those of Jerusalem were carried away in the fifth Month.

4. First I had the Lord's Commission as follows,

5. I knew thee before I formed thee in the Belly, and before thou camest out of the Womb I consecrated thee, making thee a Prophet to the Nations.

6. But I said, Alas, Sovereign Lord I behold I know not how to speak: for I am a Child.

7. Upon this the Lord replied to me; Do not say, I am a Child: for thou shalt go to all whom I send thee to, and speak all that I command thee.

8. Be not afraid of their Presence: for I will be with thee, to deliver thee, says the Lord.

9. Besides the Lord put forth his Hand, and touched my Mouth, saying to me himself; Behold I put my Words in thy Mouth.

10. See, I set thee this Day over Nations and Kingdoms; to root up, break down, destroy and demolish, to build and to plant.

11. I had further the Lord's Commission thus, What dost thou see, Jeremiah? And upon my saying, I saw a Stick of an Almond-tree;

12. Thou seest well, replied the Lord to me, as I am hastening about my Commission to do it.

13. Having the Lord's Commission again as follows, What dost thou see? I answered, that it was a Pot to which the Fire was blown, with its Mouth from the north Part.

14. The Lord then said to me: Adversity shall be opened from the North against all the Inhabitants of the Country.

15. For behold I will call all the Families of the northern Kingdoms, says the Lord, who shall come, and put their several Thrones at the Entrance of the Gates of Jerusalem, and at all the Walls of it on every Side, as likewise at all the Cities of Judah.

16. Thus will I pronounce my Judgments to them for all their Wickedness; who have forsaken me, burnt incense to other gods, and bowed down to the Works of their own Hands.

17. Do thou therefore gird thy Loins, get ready, and speak to them all that I command thee: be not daunted at their Presence, lest I should daunt thee in it.

18. And lo I put thee to Day for a fortified City, an iron Pillar, and brazen Walls against the whole Country; to the Kings of Judah, its Princes, Priests, and the People of the Country:

19. Who though they fight against thee, shall not prevail over thee; since I will be with thee, says the Lord, to deliver thee.

CHAP. II.

IHAD then the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Go and proclaim in the Hearing of those of Jerusalem, that the Lord says thus; I remember thee, the Kindness of thy Youth, the Love of thy Espousals, at thy going after me in the Wilderness, in a Country that was not sown;

3. Israel being holy to the Lord, the First-fruits of his Increase: all who offending would consume him, Adversity came on them, says the Lord.

4. Hear the Lord's Commission, you House of Jacob, even all the Families of the House of Israel,

5. Who says thus; What Injustice did your Fathers find in me, that they got far

Ver. 4. I had the Lord's Commission as follows] to be a little moderniz'd to the Genius of our Language, as the Heb. Verb too does not signify came. The Expression is to be understood, says Caryl, that the Lord did secretly reveal himself to the Spirits of his Prophets, and not by any external audible Voice: it was an inward, not an outward Word, Exposit. on Job. Vol. I. Ch. i. p. 86.

Ver. 6. know not how] Heb.

VOL. II.

Ver. 13. from] as if coming from the North with open Mouth southward, Ver. 14. to take in Flesh, as the Babylonians did against Judah; and it certainly signifies from, not towards; see likewise Gell's Essay, p. 513.

Ver. 3. came] in the Preterperfect Tense, according to the Sense of the Place, and Lowth in his Commentary, with Grot. Leo Jud. Jun. and Trem.

from me, and went after Vanity, becoming vain?

6. And did not say, Where is the Lord who brought us up from the Country of Egypt, conducting us through the Wilderness, through a desert Country with Pits, through a dry Country of the Shadow of Death, through a Country where no Man passed, nor Men dwelt there?

7. Besides I brought you into a Country of arable Ground, to eat the Fruit and Goodness of it; yet being come in, you have defiled my Country, and made my Possession abominable.

8. The Priests do not enquire, Where is the Lord? But those who handle the Law are ignorant of me, even the Shepherds transgress against me, and the Prophets prophesy by Baal, going after Things which do not profit.

9. Therefore will I still contend with you, says the Lord, and even with your Children's Children.

10. For pass to the Isles of Chittim, and see, send also to Kedar, and understand thoroughly, even see whether there is such a Thing as this:

11. Whether a Nation has changed gods, though they are not gods? Yet my People have changed their Glory, for that which does not profit.

12. Be astonished, O Heavens, at this, nay be horribly afraid, and very waste, says the Lord.

13. Because my People have done two bad Things: forsaken me the Fountain of spring Water, to hew them out Cisterns, broken ones which will hold no Water.

14. Is Israel a Servant? Was he born a Slave? Wherefore is he become a Prey?

15. The young Lions have roared at him, uttering their Voice, and made his Country desolate: his Cities are burnt down, being without Inhabitant.

16. Even the Race of Noph and Tahananes have fed on thee at the Crown of the Head.

17. Hast not thou done this to thy self, by thy forsaking the Lord thy God, at the Time when he conducted thee in the Way?

18. And now what Business hast thou in the Way to Egypt, to drink the Water of Shihor? Or what Business hast thou in the Way to Assyria, to drink the Water of that River?

19. Thy own Wickedness corrects thee, and thy Turnings away reprove thee: know therefore and see, that thy forsaking the Lord thy God is an evil and bitter Thing; not having my Fear, says the sovereign Lord of Armies.

20. Though long ago I broke thy Yoke, burst thy Bonds, and thou saidst, I will not transgress; when upon every high Hill, and under every green Tree thou art ranging about, committing Whoredom.

21. Whereas I planted thee a choice Vine, all of it true Seed; how then art thou turned into the straggling Branches of a strange Vine to me?

22. For if thou shouldest wash thy self with Nitre, and have much Soap, thy Iniquity is marked before me, says the Sovereign Lord.

23. How canst thou plead, I am not defiled, I have not gone after Baalim? See thy Way in the Valley, know what thou hast done; like a swift Dromedary traversing her Ways:

24. Like a wild Ass used to a Wilderness, that snuffs up the Wind at her own Desire; at her Occasion who can turn her back? Any who seek her need not be tired, in her Month they may find her.

25. With-hold thy Foot from being bare, and thy Throat from Thirst; but thou sayest, It is past Hope, it cannot be; for I love Strangers, and shall go after them.

26. As a Thief is ashamed when he is found, so are the Family of Israel themselves ashamed, their Kings, Princes, and Priests, and Prophets;

27. Who say to the Wood, Thou art my Father; and to the Stone, Thou hast brought me forth; for they turn to me the Back, and not the Face: yet in the Time of their Adversity they will say; O rise up, and save us.

28. Then where will be thy gods that thou hast made thee? Let them rise up, if they can save thee in the Time of thy Adversity: for thou hast as many gods as thou hast Cities, Judah.

29. What would you plead with me for? Who have all rebelled against me, says the Lord.

30. I have stricken your Posterity in vain.

Ver. 13. spring Water] or Water of Life; but tho' that is the Meaning, Life or living does not agree with the rest of the Simile, and we might in the same Manner put the Meaning of Fountain, Water, &c.

Ver. 17. done this to thy self] So in one Line of Pythagoras's Golden Verses, Ἦσαν δ' ἀνδρώνας αἰδαίοντα νικῶντα ἑχοῦντα.

Thou mayest know that Men have Destruction of their own Accord.

Ver. 22. much Soap] For this, it seems, was plentiful there; being the only Commodity now that Country affords, several Ship-loads of which are yearly exported into Turky and Egypt, and is made of the Ashes of certain fat Turf, Cortan's Trav. in 1738.

Ver. 25. from being bare] by wearing out the Shoes, in going after Idols and Idolaters.

they would not receive Correction: your own Sword has consumed your Prophets, like a destroying Lion.

31. You Generation, see the Lord's Commission: have I been a Wilderness to Israel? a Country of divine Darkeness? Wherefore do my People say, We govern, we will come to thee no more.

32. Does a Virgin forget her Ornaments, a Bride her Ribbands? Whereas my People have forgot me Days out of Number.

33. Why dost thou make thy Way in seeking Love good? For which Reason thou also teachest the evil ones thy Ways.

34. In thy Skirts is further found the Blood of the Lives of the needy innocent ones: I have not found it by digging, for it is upon all these.

35. Nevertheless thou sayest, Because I am innocent, certainly his Anger will turn away from me: behold I will come to judgment with thee for saying, I have not sinned.

36. Why dost thou go away so much to alter thy Way? Thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt too, as thou hast been of Assyria.

37. Thou shalt also come out of it with thy Hands upon thy Head: for the Lord rejects thy Securities, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

C H A P. III.

TO proceed; Behold should a Man send away his Wife, and when she is gone from him she should become another Man's, might he return to her any more? Would not that Country be quite polluted? Yet committed Whoredom as thou hast with many Neighbours, do thou return to me, says the Lord.

2. Look up to the high Places, and see where thou hast not been lain with: thou hast sate for them in the Ways, like an Arabian in the Wilderness, and polluted the Country with thy Whoredoms and Wickedness.

3. Therefore have the Showers been withheld; and there has been no latter Rain; yet hast thou the Forehead of a Woman that is a Whore, thou refusest to be ashamed.

4. Wilt not thou henceforth call to me; My Father, thou art the Guide of my Youth?

Ver. 31. divine Darkeness] Heb. Darkeness of Jab or the Lord.

Ver. 33. make—good] that is justify it to be right, as Nollius expounds it in his Concordantia Particularum Hebraeorum, p. 507. This is literal from the Heb. Text.

1b. teachest the evil ones thy Ways] viz. to justify themselves in Wickedness.

Ver. 34. these] which I rather ascribe to the innocent ones, than with some to the Skirts or Idols.

Ver. 36. to alter] This locomotive Disposition in Reli-

5. Will he retain Anger for ever? Will he keep it perpetually? Though indeed thou hast spoken and done as evil Things as thou couldest.

6. The Lord also said to me in the Time of King Josiah: Hast thou seen that which deserting Israel did? She went upon every high Mountain, and under every green Tree, and there committed Whoredom.

7. Yet I said after she had done all these Things, Return to me; but she would not: and her treacherous Sister Judah saw it.

8. However I saw, when by reason of all in which deserting Israel had committed Adultery, I sent her away, and gave her a Writing of Divorce; that treacherous Judah her Sister did not fear, but went, and committed Whoredom likewise her self.

9. And through the Lightness of her Whoredom she polluted the Country, committing Adultery with Stone and Wood.

10. Nay for all this too her treacherous Sister Judah has not returned to me with her whole Heart, but falsely, says the Lord.

11. Therefore continued the Lord to me: Deserting Israel having justified her self more than treacherous Judah.

12. Go, and proclaim these following Words northward; Return, deserting Israel, says the Lord, I will not make my Countenance lour against you: for I am kind, adds he, I will not retain Anger for ever.

13. Only acknowledge thy Iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the Lord thy God; dispersing thy Ways to Strangers under every green Tree, and you have not hearkened to what I said, says the Lord.

14. Return, deserting Posterity, says he, for I am married to you; whom I will take one of a City, and two of a Family, bringing you to Zion.

15. And will give you Shepherds according to my own Heart, who shall feed you with Knowledge and Understanding.

16. In those Days also when you are increased, and become fruitful in the Country, says the Lord, it will no more be said, The Ark of the Lord's Covenant; nor will it come into the Mind: they will neither remember it, nor count, which will be done no more.

17. At that Time Jerusalem shall be called gion, the Opposite of Bigotry, as in Chap. xlviii. 11. is, if not equally, to be shunned.

18. The Family of Judah shall go with that of Israel in those Days, and they shall come out of the north Country, to this which I made your Forefathers possess.

19. When I say; How shall I put thee among the Sons, and give thee the desirable Country, the glorious Possession of the Armies of the Nations? I say withal; Thou shalt call me, My Father, and not turn away from following me.

20. Surely as a Wife is treacherous to her Companion, so have you been treacherous against me, O Family of Israel, says the Lord.

21. There was a Voice of Weeping heard upon the high Places, the Supplications of the Israelites: for they had made their Way crooked, they had forgot the Lord their God.

22. Return, deserting Posterity, I will heal your Turnings away: say, Behold we are come to thee, because thou art the Lord our God.

23. Surely in vain from the Hills, the Multitude of Mountains, surely by the Lord our God is the Salvation of Israel.

24. Shame having consumed the Labour of our Fathers from our Youth, their Flocks and Herds, Sons and Daughters.

25. We lie down in our Shame, and our Confusion covers us; because we our selves have sinned against the Lord our God, as well as our Fathers, from our Youth to this Time, and not hearkened to what he said.

CHAP. IV.

IF thou wilt return, O Israel, says the Lord, thou mayest return to me: and if thou wilt take away thy Abominations from my Face, thou shalt not remove.

2. But shalt swear, By the Lord's living; truly, justly and righteously: through whom the Gentiles shall be blessed, and glory through him.

3. For thus says the Lord to the Men of Judah and Jerusalem: Break up for your selves the fallow Ground, and do not sow in the Thorns.

4. Be circumcised to the Lord, taking away the Foreskins of your Hearts, O Men of Judah, and Inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my Wrath should come forth like Fire, and burn, so that none can quench it, by reason of the Wickedness of your Deeds.

5. Declare in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, saying; Sound the Trumpet in the Country, proclaim fully as follows, Get together, and let us go into the fortified Cities.

6. Lift up the Standard towards Zion, gather together, do not stay: for I will bring Adversity from the North, and a great Breach.

7. The Lion comes up from his Thicket, and the Destroyer of the Nations marches on, coming out of his Place; to make thy Country desolate, that thy Cities may be waste, having no Inhabitant.

8. For this gird your selves with Sackcloth, cry, and lament; because the Lord's fervent Anger is not turned back from us.

9. On that Day, says the Lord, shall the Courage of the King perish, as also that of the Princes, the Priests too shall be astonished, and the Prophets wonder.

10. Upon this I said; Alas, Sovereign Lord, surely thou hast quite deceived this People, and Jerusalem, in saying, You shall have Peace, whereas the Sword reaches to the very Life.

11. At that Time it shall be said to this People, and Jerusalem; There is a clear Wind of the high Places in the Wilderness, at the Way to the Daughter of my People, neither to winnow, nor to purify.

12. A full Wind from those Places shall come for me: even now I pronounce the Judgments to them.

13. Behold he will come up like the Clouds, and his Chariots will be like a Whirlwind, his Horses swifter than Eagles: wo is to us, for we are wasted.

14. Wash thy Heart from Wickedness, Jerusalem, that thou mayest be saved; how long shall thy vain Thoughts lodge within thee?

15. For a Voice declares from Dan, and publishes the Vanity from Mount Ephraim.

16. Make mention to the Nations, to publish concerning Jerusalem, that Keepers are coming from a far Country, who utter their Voice against the Cities of Judah.

vity, when the Ark never returned to Jerusalem, nor the Country of Judah, but was probably destroyed, visit seems not the Meaning; so Jun. and Trem. render by recesses.

Ib. Armies] the Chaldeans, &c. to whom the Country belonged in the Time of Captivity.

Ver. 5. fully] Heb. fulfil, not gather together; and the Heb. Verbs do sometimes thus serve for Adverbs.

Ver. 6. gather] as rendered every where else by our Translators, viz. Ch. vi. 1. Exod. ix. 19. Isa. x. 31.

Ver. 11. Wind] See Chap. li. 1.

Ver. 15. from Dan] as Chap. viii. 16.

Ib. the Vanity] vain Security, it being the same Noun as in the foregoing Verse.

Ver. 16. Keepers] to keep in Custody as they do Prisoners: for this in the Chald. is, an Army of People plundering as Grape-gatherers; notzerim being rendered as botzerim, and the rest added in.

17. Like

17. Like those who look after a Field are they against her on every Side, because she has rebelled against me, says the Lord.

18. Thy own Way and Deeds have caused these Things to thee: this is of thy own Wickedness, that it is bitter, that it reaches to thy Heart.

19. O my Bowels, my Bowels, I am in Anguish at the Sides of my Heart, which is disturbed in me, I cannot be silent; because thou hearest, my Soul, the Sound of the Trumpet, the Noise of War.

20. Breach upon Breach is to be proclaimed, as the whole Country is to be wasted: my Tents are wasted presently, my Curtains in an Instant.

21. How long shall I see the Standard, shall I hear the Sound of the Trumpet?

22. For my People are foolish, not knowing me, they are silly Children, and they do not understand: they are wise to do ill, but know not how to do well.

23. I saw the Earth, and behold it was vacant and void; as also the Heaven, and it had no Light.

24. I saw the Mountains, and behold they shook; as likewise all the Hills, which were moved swiftly.

25. I saw that behold there were no Men, and all the Fowls of the Air were fled.

26. I saw that behold the arable Ground was a Wilderness, and all its Cities were destroyed by reason of the Lord, that is of his fervent Anger.

27. For thus says the Lord: All the Country shall be desolate, though I will not make an entire End.

28. The Earth will mourn for this, and the Heaven above be gloomy; because I have spoken, I have purposed, and will not repent, nor turn back from it.

29. At the Sound of the Horsemen and Archers shall the whole City flee, they shall go into the Thickets, and get up on the Rocks: every City shall be forsaken, and no Person dwell in them.

30. When thou art wasted, what wilt thou do? Though thou art cloathed with Scarlet, though thou art decked with Ornaments of Gold, though thou tearest thy Eyes with Paint, in vain dost thou make thy self handsome: the Doters despise thee, they will seek thy Life.

31. For I have heard a Voice like a Woman's in labour, Anguish like hers who first brings forth, the Voice of the Daughter of Zion panting, spreading out her Hands; Wo is to me now, because my Life is tired with Slayers.

C H A P V.

GO about in the Streets of Jerusalem, look now, know, and seek in the broad Ways of it; if you can find a Person, if there is one who executes Judgment, seeks the Truth, I will pardon it.

2. Therefore they swear falsely, even though they say, By the Lord's living.

3. O Lord, are not thy Eyes on the Truth? Thou hast smitten them, yet they did not grieve; having consumed them, the rest refused to receive Correction: they made their Faces harder than a Rock, refusing to return.

4. Upon which I said; Certainly those are poor, they are foolish, because they do not know the Way of the Lord, the Judgment of their God;

5. I will get me to the great ones, and speak to them, since these know the Way of the Lord, the Judgment of their God: whereas the latter broke the Yoke together, burst the Bonds.

6. The Lion therefore from the Wood will slay them, the evening Wolf will waste them, the Leopard watch over their Cities, out of which every one who goes will be torn in pieces; because their Transgressions are multiplied, their Turnings away become numerous.

7. Where shall I pardon thee at this Place? Thy Sons have forsaken me, and swear by those that are not gods: though I have filled them, yet they commit Adultery, and go together by Troops at the Harlot's House.

8. They are like Horses that are fed early, neighing each one for his Neighbour's Wife.

9. Shall not I punish for these Things? says the Lord; and shall not my Soul be revenged on such a Nation as this?

10. Get up on its Walls, and destroy, but do not make an entire End: take away its Breastworks, because they are not the Lord's.

11. For the Family of Israel, and that of Judah, are quite treacherous against me, says the Lord.

12. They lye against the Lord, in this manner; It will not be, for Adversity will not come upon us, we shall see neither Sword nor Famine.

Ver. 18. that it] viz. this is the Effect of thy Wickedness; made improper and obscure by because.

Ver. 30. Eyes] not face. Stibium, or Antimony pulverized, is said to have been used by the Ancients to make the Eyes and Eyebrows look black and large.

Ver. 2. By the Lord's living] This being the Form of swearing, Hof. iv. 15. see Gen. xlii. 15, 16.

Ver. 4. those] the common People of the City, Ver. 1.

Ver. 7. Where] as the Heb. signifies, not How. It may shew the Wickedness was too great to be pardoned, in all Parts of the City, as Ver. 1. see Ysa. lxi.

13. But the Prophets will become Wind, and there is no Commission in them; it will be done thus to themselves.

14. Therefore thus says the Lord God of Armies: Because you speak this Thing, behold I will make my Words in thy Mouth Fire, and this People Wood, and the former shall consume the latter.

15. Behold I will bring against you a Nation from a Place far off, O Family of Israel, says the Lord; which is a strong Nation, one that was of old Time, a Nation whose Language thou dost not know, nor understand what they speak.

16. Their Quiver is like an open Grave, all of them are stout Men.

17. And they will eat thy Harvest and Bread, which thy Sons and Daughters should eat, as they will also thy Flocks and Herds, they will eat of thy Vines and Fig-trees; they will impoverish thy fortified Cities, in which thou dost trust, with the Sword.

18. But yet in those Days, says the Lord, I will not make an intire End of you.

19. And when you say, What does the Lord our God do all these Things to us for? thou shalt answer them, according as you have forsaken me, and served strange gods, in your own Country, so shall you serve Strangers in a Country that is not yours.

20. Declare this which follows in the Family of Jacob, and publish it in Judah:

21. Hear this now, you silly People, with no Sense; who have Eyes, but do not see, who have Ears, but do not hear:

22. Will not you fear me? says the Lord; will you not be afraid of my Presence? who have put the Sand the Bounds to the Sea, by an everlasting Statute, which it cannot pass: and though its Waves are moved, yet they cannot prevail; nor pass it, though they are boisterous.

23. But this People have an unruly and rebellious Heart: they are departed, and gone away.

24. Nor do they say in their Heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, who gives the Rain, both the first and latter Rain in their Season; he keeps for us the appointed Weeks of Harvest.

25. Your Iniquities have turned away these Things, and your Sins with-held that which is good from you.

26. For there are found among my People wicked Men, who observe as the Fowlers set Snares, they set a destroying Thing, catch Persons.

27. As a Cage is full of Birds, so are their Houses full of Deceit; by reason of which they are become great, and rich.

28. They are fat, are bright, they even surpass the evil Things: the Cause which is of the Fatherless they do not plead, yet prosper, nor do they judge the Right of the needy ones.

29. Shall not I punish for these Things? says the Lord? shall not my Soul be revenged on such a Nation as this?

30. An astonishing, and horrible Thing, is brought to pass in the Country:

31. The Prophets prophesy falsely, and the Priests rule by their means, my People loving it should be so; but what will you do at the End of it?

CHAP. VI.

GATHER together, you Benjaminites, from within Jerusalem, sound the Trumpet in Tekoa, and put up the Token at Beth-hackerem: for Adversity appears from the North, and a great Breach.

2. To a Pasture, and delicate Place, do I compare the Daughter of Zion.

3. To which Shepherds come with their Flocks, pitch Tents by it round about, feed in their several Places, saying;

4. Prepare War against it; arise, and let us go up at Noon: wo is to us, for the Day is turned about, and the Shadows of the Evening are stretched forth.

5. Arise, let us go up then by Night, and destroy its Palaces.

6. For thus says the Lord of Armies; Cut down Wood, and make a Rampart against Jerusalem; that is the City to be visited, all that is within it being Oppression.

7. As a Spring sends out its Water, so does that its Wickedness: Violence and Wasting are heard in it, before me there is continually Sickness and Wounds.

8. Be instructed, Jerusalem, lest my Soul should hang loose from thee, lest I should make thee desolate, a Country uninhabited.

Ver. 17. eat of] I presume not eat up.

Ver. 26. Fowlers] which the Heb. Noun signifies, not snares, the Verb signifying to set snares.

Ver. 1. together] to flee added in the Eng.

Ver. 2. Pasture] The Heb. Word has properly this Meaning, which the next Verse abundantly confirms; whereas to signify comely there must be supposed a Change of the Letter א into י besides the Inconsistency it produces; see Lewth's Commentary, with Grot.

Ver. 3. saying] several times added thus in the com. Transf. as Ver. 17.

Ver. 8. hang loose] strictly to the Meaning of the Heb. Word, and in an Idiom of our own.

9. Thus adds the Lord of Armies, They shall thoroughly glean the Remainder of Israel as a Vine: put thou back thy Hand like a Grape-gatherer into the Baskets.

10. To whom shall I speak, and testify, that they may hear? Behold their Ear is uncircumcised, so that they cannot hearken: behold the Lord's Commission is a Reproach to them, they are not pleased with it.

11. I am therefore filled with the Lord's Wrath, am weary of containing; I will pour it out upon the Children in the Street, and upon the young Men consulting together: for both the Husbands with the Wives will be taken, and the Old with such as are full of Days.

12. Their Houses will also be turned to others, the Fields and Women together: for I will stretch forth my Hand against all the Inhabitants of the Country, says the Lord.

13. Because from the least of them to the very greatest, every one is covetous; and from the Prophet even to the Priest, every one deals falsely.

14. And they heal the Breach of my People lightly, saying, Constant Peace; when there is none.

15. Are they ashamed, because they do Abomination? They are even not at all ashamed, nor do they know how to blush: therefore shall they fall among those who fall, at the Time that I visit them they shall stumble, says the Lord.

16. Who expressed himself thus; Stand by the Ways, and look, and ask for the ancient Paths, where the good Way is, and go in it; so shall you find rest for your Souls; but they said, We will not go there.

17. I further set up Watchmen over them, saying, Harken to the Sound of the Trumpet; but they said, We will not.

18. Therefore hear, you Nations, and know, you Assembly, what shall be upon them.

19. Hear, O Earth, behold I will bring Adversity on this People, the Fruit of their own Thoughts; because they have not hearkened to my Words, nor my Law, but rejected it.

20. Wherefore is Frankincense brought to me from Sheba, and the best sweet Cane from a Country far off? Your Burnt-offerings are not acceptable, nor your Sacrifices sweet to me.

21. For which Reason the Lord says thus: Behold I will put Stumbling-blocks to this People, and the Fathers and Sons shall stumble on them together, the Inhabitant and his Neighbour perish.

22. Lo, continues the Lord, a People shall come from the north Country, and a great Nation shall be stirred up from the Sides of the Earth.

23. Who will take hold of Bow and Spear, they are cruel, and have no compassion, their Voice makes a Noise like the Sea, and they ride upon Horses, each set in order like a Warrior against thee, O Daughter of Zion.

24. We having heard the News of it, our Hands are slack, Distress has taken hold of us, Anguish as of a Woman in labour.

25. Go not forth into the Field, nor walk in the Way: for the Sword of the Enemy, Dread is round about.

26. O Daughter of my People, gird thee with Sackcloth, and roll thy self in Ashes, make thee Mourning as for an only Child, very bitter Lamentation; since the Waster will suddenly come against us.

27. I have made thee a Tower, a Fortress among my People; that thou mayest know, and try their Way.

28. All of them are most unruly, they go about backbiting, are like Brass and Iron: they are all of them Corrupters.

29. The Bellows are burnt, the Lead is consumed by the Fire, one still casts in vain, the Wicked being not pulled away.

30. Rejected Silver they shall call them, because the Lord has rejected them.

C H A P. VII.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows:

2. Stand at the Gate of the Lord's House, and proclaim there this following Commission: Hear the Commission of the Lord, all Judah, who come in at these Gates to worship him.

3. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Let your Ways and Deeds be good, and I will cause you to dwell in this Place.

4. Trust ye not on false Things, saying

Ver. 9. put thou back thy Hand] to take out what is left.

Ver. 10. I] Jeremiah himself.

Ver. 14. of my People] of the daughter seems added unsuitably, as the People are spoken of plurally both before and after.

Ver. 24. We] spoken by the Prophet in the Name of his People.

Ver. 27. I] says God, to be understood.

Ver. 29. the Lead] used in casting.

1b. still] it being not a Noun, but the Verb repeated.

Ver. 4. false Things] so Castal. has falsis rebus, as Jun. and Trem. have rebus falsis; and by comparing the same Ver. 8. with Ver. 10. it appears that the coming and standing before God there, were those Things which would be false to trust on by such as were wicked People; see the latter Word thus rendered Ver. 23.

1b. they are of] to make it Sense, and agreeable to Ver. 10. as Jun. and Trem. likewise translate.

they are of the Lord's Temple, over and over again.

5. But let your Ways and Deeds be thoroughly good : if you thoroughly do Justice between one and another,

6. If you do not oppress the Stranger, Fatherless or Widow, neither shed innocent Blood in this Place, nor go after other gods to your own Hurt ;

7. Then will I cause you to dwell in this Place, in the Country which I gave to your Forefathers from Age to Age.

8. Behold you trust upon false Things, which do not profit.

9. Will you steal, murder, commit Adultery, swear falsely, burn incense to Baal, and go after other gods whom you do not know ;

10. Then come, and stand before me in this House which is called by my Name, and say, We are delivered, in order to do all these Abominations ?

11. Is this House, which is called by my Name, become a Cave of Robbers in your Sight ? Even I indeed see it, says the Lord.

12. But go now to my Place which was at Shilo, where I made my Name remain at first, and see what I did to it by reason of the Wickedness of my People Israel.

13. And now because ye have done all these Works, says the Lord, when I spoke to you, and that early, but ye would not hearken, and called you, but ye would not answer ;

14. I will therefore do to the House that is called by my Name, on which you trust, and to the Place which I gave you and your Forefathers, according as I did to Shilo.

15. And I will cast you from before me, as I have cast all your Brethren, the whole Offspring of Ephraim.

16. So do not thou pray for this People, neither put up Cry or Prayer for them, nor interceed with me : for I will not hearken to thee.

17. Dost not thou see what they do, both in the Cities of Judah, and Streets of Jerusalem ?

18. The Sons pick up Wood, the Fathers make a Fire, and the Women knead Dough ; to make Cakes for the Work of Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to other gods, that they may provoke me.

19. Do they provoke me ? says the Lord : Is it not themselves, by reason of the Shame of their own Faces ?

20. Therefore thus says the Sovereign

Lord : Behold my Anger and Wrath shall be poured forth at this Place, upon Men, Beasts, the Trees of the Field, and the Fruit of the Ground ; which shall burn, and not be quenched.

21. Add your own Burnt-offerings to your Sacrifices, as the Lord of Armies the God of Israel says, and eat Flesh.

22. For I did not speak to your Forefathers, nor command them at the Time that I brought them out of the Country of Egypt, concerning the Things of Burnt-offering or Sacrifice.

23. But this is the Thing I commanded them, Harken to what I say, so will I be a God to you, as you shall a People to me ; and you must go in every Way which I command you, that it may be well for you.

24. Nevertheless they would not hearken, nor incline their Ear ; but went in the Counsels, in the Imagination of their own evil Heart, so were backwarder, and not forwarder.

25. Even from the Time when your Forefathers came out of the Country of Egypt to this Time, I have sent you all my Servants the Prophets, and that daily rising early.

26. Yet they would not hearken to me, nor incline their Ear ; but made their Neck stiff, doing worse than their Fathers.

27. So thou shalt speak all these Words to them, though they will not hearken to thee ; and call to them, though they will not answer thee.

28. Upon which thou shalt say to them, This is a Nation that will not hearken to what the Lord its God says, nor receive Correction : the Truth being perished, and cut off from their Mouth.

29. Shave thy Hair off, and throw it away, as also take up a Lamentation upon the high Places ; because the Lord has rejected, and forsaken the Generation of his Wrath.

30. For the Posterity of Judah have done what I was displeased with, says the Lord, having put their detestable Things in the House which is called by my Name, to defile it ;

31. And have built the Chapels of Topheth, which are in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to burn their Sons and Daughters in the Fire ; which I did not command, nor did it come into my Mind.

32. Therefore behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when it shall no more be called Topheth, or the Valley of the Son of Ver. 18. Work] See Chap. xlv. 17.

Ver. 22. at the Time] as Chap. xi. 4. the Levitical Offerings being appointed afterwards, and not immediately from God, but by Moses ; as neither essential, nor moral.

Ver. 24. were] the Verb-substantive.

Ver. 31. Chapels] different from those in Ver. 29. and here plural ; see Num. xxxiii. 52.

Ib. Topheth] See Isa. xxx. 33.

Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, till there is no Room.

33. And the dead Bodies of this People shall become Food, both to the Fowls of the Air, and the Beasts of the Earth, none frightening away.

34. Thus will I cause to cease, as well from the Cities of Judah as the Streets of Jerusalem, the Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride; since the Country shall become waste.

C H A P. VIII.

AT that Time, says the Lord, they shall bring the Bones of the Kings of Judah, with those of its Princes, as likewise of the Priests, Prophets, and Inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their Graves.

2. And they shall spread them to the Sun, Moon, and all the Army of Heaven that they loved, and served, after which they went, which they sought and bowed down to: they shall not be gathered up, nor buried, they shall become Dung upon the Surface of the Ground.

3. Death shall also be chosen rather than Life, by the whole Residue who are left of this wicked Family, and that in all Places whither I have expelled them, says the Lord of Armies.

4. Besides thou shalt tell them, the Lord says thus: Do Men fall, and not get up? Does a Man turn away, and not return?

5. Why is this People of Jerusalem turned away, with a perpetual Turning away? They hold fast Deceit, they refuse to return.

6. I hearken, and hear, that they do not speak right; no Man repents for his Wickedness, saying, What have I done? Every one of them returns to their own Course, as a Horse rushes into the Battle.

7. Even the Stork in the Air knows its appointed Time, as also the Turtle-dove, the Crane and Swallow, observe the Time of their coming; whereas my People do not know the Judgment of the Lord.

8. How can you say, We are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with us? Lo surely he made it in vain, the Pen of the Scribes was vain.

9. Those wise ones are ashamed, daunted, and taken: behold they reject the Lord's Commission, and what Wisdom have they?

10. Therefore I will give their Wives to others, their Fields to those who shall have possession: for from the least to the very greatest, every one is covetous, from the Prophet even to the Priest, every one deals falsely.

11. And they heal the Breach of the Daughter of my People lightly, saying, Constant Peace; when there is none.

12. Are they ashamed, because they do Abomination? They are even not at all ashamed, nor do they know how to blush: therefore shall they fall among those who fall, at the Time of their Visitation they shall stumble, says the Lord.

13. I will quite take them away, adds he: there shall be no Grapes on the Vine, nor yet Figs on the Fig-tree, even the Leaf shall wither, and the Things which I have given them pass from them.

14. What do we sit still for? Gather together, and let us go into the fortified Cities, and be silent there; since the Lord our God has made us silent, and given us Water of Gall to drink, because we sinned against the Lord.

15. We wait for Peace, but there is no Good; for a Time of Healing, but lo it is Disturbance.

16. The Snorting of his Horses is heard from Dan, at the Sound of the Neighings of his strong ones the whole Country shakes: as they are come, and consume the Country with what it is full of, the City and those who dwell therein.

17. For behold I will send Serpents, Cockatrices among you, which will have no Charming; and they shall bite you, says the Lord.

18. I would get refreshment against Sorrow, my Heart languishing in me.

19. Lo the Voice of the Cry from the Daughter of my People, is by reason of the remote Places of the Earth; Is not the Lord in Zion? Is not its King in it, saying, Why do they provoke me by their carved Images, by the Vanities of Strangers?

20. The Harvest is past, the Summer ended, yet we are not saved.

21. For the Breach of the Daughter of my People am I broken; I am gloomy, Astonishment takes hold of me.

22. Is there no Balsam in Gilead, no Physician there? For why is not the Health of the Daughter of my People recovered?

Ver. 4. Do Men] Heb. Verbs do so comprehend this Subject, like Adjectives the same Substantive in Lat. and sometimes Eng. as the righteous, wicked, &c. see Chap. xvi. 6.

1b. Does a Man] as before; thus the Sense is clear.

Ver. 8. in vain] The Lord made his Law in vain for them, since they did not practise it, though they had it.

Ver. 13. quite take them away] This being parallel to that in Zeph. i. 2. may be referred thither; where it is thoroughly discussed.

CHAP. IX.

OH that my Head was Water, and my Eyes were a Fountain of Tears; that I might weep Day and Night, for the Slain of the Daughter of my People!

2. Oh that I had in the Wilderness a Lodging-place of Travellers, that I might leave my People, and go from them! for they are all Adulterers, treacherous on the solemn Day.

3. And they bend their Tongue like their Bow with Falsehood, but are not strong for the Truth on the Earth: for they go forth from one Wickedness to another, and do not know me, says the Lord.

4. Take heed each of his Neighbour, and do not trust on any Brother; because every Brother thoroughly defrauds, and every Neighbour goes about backbiting.

5. They also delude their respective Neighbours, and do not speak truly: they teach their Tongue to tell Lyes, they are tired by doing perversely.

6. Thy Dwelling is in the midst of Deceit; through Deceit they refuse to know me, says the Lord.

7. Therefore thus says the Lord of Armies: Behold I will try, and prove them; for how shall I do by reason of the Daughter of my People?

8. Their Tongue is like an Arrow hammered out, it speaks Deceit: when one speaks peaceably to his Neighbour with his Mouth, in his Mind he appoints his lying in wait.

9. Shall not I punish them for these Things? says the Lord; shall not my Soul be revenged on such a Nation as this?

10. I will take up Weeping and Mourning for the Mountains, and a Lamentation for the Pastures of the Wilderness, because they are burnt up, without a Man passing through, nor can they hear the Voice of Cattle: both the Fowls of the Air, and the Beasts are fled, gone away.

11. And I will make Jerusalem Heaps, a Habitation of Dragons; as also cause the Cities of Judah to be desolate, without Inhabitant.

12. Who is a wise Man, that he may understand this; and to whom the Mouth of the Lord has spoken, that he may declare it? For what does the Country perish, being burnt up like a Wilderness, without any passing through?

13. For their forsaking my Law, says the Lord, which I put before them, and not hearkening to what I said, nor walking in it;

14. But going after the Imagination of their own Heart, and after Baalim, what their Fathers taught them.

15. Thus therefore says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel: Lo I will make this very People eat Wormwood, and give them Water of Gall to drink.

16. I will disperse them too among the Gentiles, whom neither they nor their Fathers knew; and will send the Sword after them, till they are consumed.

17. Consider, as the Sovereign Lord adds, and call for lamenting Women to come, and send for wise ones to come.

18. Let them also make haste, and take up Mourning for us: let our own Eyes also cause the Tears to run down, and our Eyelids the Water to flow.

19. For a Voice of Mourning is heard from Zion; How we are wasted! we are exceedingly ashamed, because we have left the Country, because our Dwellings have cast us out.

20. For hear the Lord's Commission, you Women, and let your Ear receive that of his Mouth; that you should teach your Daughters Mourning, and one another Lamentation.

21. Because Death is come up into our Windows, is entered into our Palaces; to cut off the Children from being abroad, the young Men from the Streets.

22. Pronounce; Thus says the Lord, Even Men's dead Bodies shall fall like Dung out in the Field, and like the Handfuls behind a Reaper, none gathering up.

23. Let not the wise Man, as the Lord says, glory in his Wisdom, nor the strong in his Strength, let not the rich one glory in his Riches.

24. But let him who glories, do it in this; that he understands, and knows me; that I am the Lord doing Kindness, Justice and Righteousness on the Earth: for I delight in these Things, says the Lord.

25. Behold the Days are coming, continues he, when I will punish every one who is circumcised with the uncircumcised;

Ver. 2. solemn Day] The Word signifying thus, as has been noted elsewhere: fun. and Trem. accordingly translate, interdicti die perfide agunt, they act treacherously on the holy Day.

Ver. 6. Thy] Jeremiah's.

Ver. 7. try] either in the Furnace, or otherwise; in the former Sense it would mean refine, which melt does not, much less the other, and so neither of them.

Ver. 8. hammered out] according as in 1 King. x. 16. 2 Chron. ix. 15, 16. the other Places of it.

Ver. 12. without] that in the com. Eng. being not a Relative, as it may seem to be, but standing for so that.

Ver. 20. For] the same as the preceding Verse begins with; and Yet is as distant from the Sense of the Matter, as from the Signification of the Particle.

26. Egypt, Judah, Edom, the Ammonites, Moab, and all that are separated at a Corner, dwelling in the Wilderness: for as all other Nations are uncircumcised, the whole Family of Israel are in Heart.

C H A P. X.

HEAR the Commission which the Lord speaks for you, O Family of Israel;

2. Who says thus: Do not learn the Way of the Gentiles, nor be daunted at the Signs of the Heaven, though the Gentiles are daunted at them.

3. For the Ordinances of those People are Vanity it self: because one cuts down a Tree at the Wood, the Work of an Artificer's Hands, with an Ax;

4. Which he makes beautiful with Silver and Gold, they fasten the Parts with Nails and Hammers, that it may not stir.

5. They are solid like a Palm-tree, and cannot speak; are carried entirely, because they cannot go: be not afraid of them; for they can do no hurt, and on the contrary there is Nothing in them to do good:

6. By reason that there is none like thee, O Lord; who art great, as is also thy Name, in Power.

7. Who would not fear thee, O King of Nations? For it is suitable to thee; since among all the wise Men of the Nations, and in all their Kingdoms, there is none like thee.

8. Whereas those are senseless, and ignorant together: that Wood is very vain Instruction.

9. Silver beat out is brought from Tarshish, and Gold from Uphaz, the Work of an Artificer, and of a Founder's Hands: their Cloathing is blue and purple, they are all the Work of skilful Men.

10. But the Lord is the true God, he is a living God, and an everlasting King: at his Wrath the Earth shakes, and the Nations cannot bear his Indignation.

11. You may reason with them after this manner, The gods who did not make the Heaven and the Earth, will perish both from the Ground and under this Heaven.

12. When he, who made the Earth by his Power, established the World by his Wisdom, and by his Understanding stretched out the Heaven,

13. Utters his Voice, there is Abundance of Water in the Heaven, he causing the Vapours to ascend from the Border of the Earth; he makes the Lightnings with the Rain, and brings the Wind out of his Treasuries.

14. Every Man is too senseless to know, every Founder is ashamed through the carved Image: for his molten Image is Falsehood, and there is no Breath in them.

15. They are Vanity, the Work of Errors; in the Time of their Visitation they will perish.

16. The Share of Jacob is not like these; for he is the Former of all Things, and Israel is the Tribe of his Possession; his Name being the Lord of Armies.

17. Gather up thy Commodity out of the Country, thou who abidest in the Fortification.

18. For thus says the Lord, Behold I will sling away the Inhabitants of the Country at this Time, and distress them, that they may find it.

19. Wo is to me through my Ruin, my Blow being grievous; yet I say, Certainly though this is a Disease, I must bear it.

20. My Tent is wasted, and all my Cords are broke asunder: my Children are gone out of me, and are not; there is none to stretch out my Tent any more, or put up my Curtains.

21. For the Shepherds are become senseless, and do not seek the Lord: therefore they will not prosper, and all that are grazing of them will be dispersed.

22. The Noise of the Report behold is come, even of a great Stirring out of the north Country, to make the Cities of Judah desolate, a Habitation of Dragons.

Ver. 26. Edom] See Ezek. xxv. 13.

Ib. Ammonites] See Ezek. xxv. 3.

Ib. other] It is clear that all these Nations were not uncircumcised, as in the com. Transf. if it were only because Judah was not; whereas it is well known the Egyptians were circumcised (see on Gen. xvii. 26.) under whom the Ethiopians might be here comprehended, &c. the Moabites, says the Universal History, used Circumcision, Book I. iv. 1. and the Ammonites were circumcised, Id. I. iv. 2. which can scarcely be doubted of the Edomites, being Descendants of Abraham. Besides the Hebrew has divers times Nothing for either, it being to be understood by the Sense, as in Exod. iv. 7. & xxxvi. 10. & xxvi. 3. & xxxix. 20. Lev. xi. 23. & xx. 24, 26. Numb. v. 19, 20. & x.

21. & xxxvi. 3. Judg. vii. 7. & xvi. 17. 2 Chron. xxix.

34. Thus the whole Passage will be plain and correct.

Ver. 4. be] not they.

Ib. the Parts] Heb. them.

Ver. 5. solid] rendered in the com. Transf. beaten work, Exod. xxv. 18, 31, 36, &c. coming from the Verb to be hard, without any Meaning of upright in either. The Idols had no Capacity of Speech or Motion, according to the following Words, but were like a solid inanimate Tree: Jun. and Trem. explain it, ut stipites rigent, they are as stiff as stakes.

Ver. 11. This Verse, as a Direction to the People when in Captivity, is in the Chaldee Tongue.

Ver. 14. too] D

23. I am sensible, O Lord, that Man's Way is not of himself, it is not of the Person who goes to order his own Steps.

24. Correct me, O Lord, but in Judgment; not in thy Anger, lest thou shouldest make me little.

25. Pour out thy Wrath upon the Gentiles who do not know thee, and upon the Families that call not on thy Name; because they have been consuming Jacob, and that so as to make an end of him, and have made his Habitation desolate.

C H A P. XI.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows:

2. Hear you the Words of this Covenant, and speak to the Men of Judah, with the Inhabitants of Jerusalem.

3. To whom thou shalt declare, that the Lord God of Israel says thus; The Man is cursed who will not hearken to the Words of this Covenant,

4. Which I commanded your Forefathers at the Time I brought them out of the Country of Egypt, from the iron Furnace, as follow, Harken to what I say, and do them, entirely as I command you; so shall you be a People to me, as I will a God to you.

5. That I may confirm the Oath which I swore to your Forefathers, to give them a Country flowing with Milk and Honey; as it is this Day. To which I made answer, So let it be, O Lord.

6. Proclaim all these following Words, added the Lord to me, both in the Cities of Judah, and the Streets of Jerusalem; Hear you the Words of this Covenant, and do them.

7. For I have fully testified to your Fathers, at the Time I brought them up from the Country of Egypt, and till this Time, and that early, that they should hearken to what I say.

8. Nevertheless they would not hearken, nor incline their Ear, but went each in the Imagination of their own evil Heart: I will therefore bring upon them all the Words of this Covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they would not.

9. The Lord said to me further; There is a Conspiracy found among the Men of Judah; and the Inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10. They are turned back to the Iniquities of their former Fathers, who refused to hearken to my Words, and went themselves after other gods to serve them: the Family of Israel, and that of Judah, have broke my Covenant which I made with their Forefathers.

11. Therefore, as the Lord says, behold I will bring Adversity on them, which they shall not be able to get out of; and though they cry to me, yet I will not hearken to them.

12. The Cities of Judah and the Inhabitants of Jerusalem may then go, and cry to the gods to whom they burn incense; but they shall not save them at all in the Time of their Adversity.

13. For thou hast as many gods as thou hast Cities, Judah; and you have made us many Altars to the Shame, those to burn incense to Baal, as there are Streets in Jerusalem.

14. So do not thou pray for this People, nor put up Cry or Prayer for them; because I will not hearken at the Time they call to me for their Adversity.

15. What has my Beloved to do in my House, she having done very heinously with many, and the holy Flesh being gone from thee? When thou hast Wickedness, then thou rejoicest.

16. The Lord called thy Name a green fair Olive-tree, with handsome Fruit, upon which he has kindled a Fire with the Sound of a great Noise, and they have broke the Sprouts of it.

17. And the Lord of Armies who planted thee, has pronounced Evil against thee, by reason of the Evil of the Family of Israel, and that of Judah, which they did of themselves, to provoke me by burning incense to Baal.

18. Which the Lord let me know, and I did: thou then shewedst me their Deeds.

Ver. 25. Pour &c.] from Psa. lxxix. 6, 7.

Ib. that so] The same Verb being repeated, to set it forth strongly, as elsewhere, and in the same Tense; tho' the Author of State of the Pr. Heb. saying, it makes the Sentence absurd, turns it future, that it may be so; and adds, We may conclude it occasion'd by the Verb sing. just before, and to be inserted by a Transcriber, who, resolving to have the true reading, inserted both, p. 505. whereas the Verb before is not sing. but plur. like this; whither is the Zeal without Judgment then, that he reflects with, to be returned? Nor is this all of it, for he counts this Verb a various Reading of the next after it, and that a true and original Word, yet says, neither of them are necessary to the Sense, and perhaps both added by Transcribers.

Ver. 2. you] Jeremiah and the other Prophets.

Ver. 12. may] In Peole's Annotations it is said, 'Shall' (in the com. Transf.) here signifieth Will, and might as 'well have been so translated;' but that may is better than either will easily appear, on comparing each with the Matter of the Context.

Ver. 15. This Verse being what the Lord said, like the foregoing, my Beloved will be his People, as Chap. xii. 7. and the next Verse begins the Prophet's Words.

Ib. holy Flesh being gone] The Flesh of their Sacrifices being not holy, as it had been, by reason of the People's Wickedness.

Ver. 18. then] deficient in the Lat. Vulg.

19. But

19. But I was like a Sheep or an Ox brought to the Slaughter, not knowing that they devised Devices thus against me, Let us destroy the Tree with the Food of it, even cut him off from the Country of the Living, and let his Name be remembered no more.

20. So, O Lord of Armies, who judgest righteously, trying the Reins and Heart, let me see thy Vengeance on them; for I discover my Cause to thee.

21. Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the Men of Anathoth who seek thy Life, saying, Do not prophesy in the Name of the Lord, that thou mayest not die by our Hands;

22. Even the Lord of Armies says thus; Behold I will punish them, the young Men shall die by the Sword, their Sons and Daughters shall die by Famine;

23. And there shall be no Remainder of them: for I will bring Adversity on the Men of Anathoth, the Year of their Visitation.

C H A P. XII.

THOU art righteous, O Lord, though I should plead with thee, yet let me speak of the Judgments to thee: Why does the Way of the Wicked prosper? All those are quiet who deal treacherously.

2. Thou hast planted them, they have also taken root; they grow, nay they yield Fruit; in whose Mouth thou art near, but far from their Reins.

3. However thou knowest me, O Lord, seekest me, and triest my Heart to thee: pull them out like Sheep for the Slaughter, and prepare them for the Day of slaying.

4. How long shall the Country mourn, and the Grass of every Field wither? By reason of the Wickedness of those who dwell in it, the Beasts and Fowls are destroyed, though they say, He will not see our End.

5. If thou runnest with Footmen, and they tire thee, how wilt thou be amongst Horses? And that in a peaceable Country on which thou trustest, how wilt thou do in the Height of Jordan?

6. For thy very Brothers, and thy Father's Family, themselves have been treacherous to thee, even they have called a Multitude after thee: do not believe them, though they speak good Things to thee.

7. I have forsaken my House, have left my Possession, delivered the Beloved of my Soul into the Power of her Enemies.

8. My Possession is to me like a Lion in the Wood, it utters its Voice against me; for which reason I hate it.

9. As a ravenous Bird of a different Colour is my Possession to me, which the others round about are against: come, gather together, all you wild Beasts, approach to devour.

10. Many Shepherds destroy my Vineyard, tread down my Plat, cause my desirable Plat to be a desolate Wilderness.

11. Each is making it desolate, it mourns being desolate to me: the whole Country is become so, because no Man regards.

12. The Waters are come upon all the high Places in the Wilderness, for the Sword of the Lord consumes from one End of the Country to the other: there is no Peace to any Flesh.

13. They have sown Wheat, but reap Thorns, they are become sick without profiting, and are ashamed of your Crops, by reason of the Lord's fervent Anger.

14. Thus says the Lord however concerning all my evil Neighbours, who meddle with the Possession which I made my People Israel possess; Behold I will pluck them from their Country, as I will also the Family of Judah from among them.

15. And after I have plucked them out, I will return, and have compassion upon them, bringing them again to their several Possessions, and to their own Country.

16. If they will then at all learn the Ways of my People, to swear by my Name, By the Lord's living, according as they taught my People to swear by Baal, they shall be built up amongst my People.

17. But if they will not hearken, I will pluck out that Nation, by plucking out and destroying, says the Lord.

C H A P. XIII.

THE Lord said thus to me, Go, and get thee a linen Girdle, and put it upon thy Loins, without letting it come into Water.

2. So I got a Girdle according to the Lord's Commission, and put upon my Loins.

3. And I had the Lord's Commission again as follows,

4. Take the Girdle which thou hast got, that is upon thy Loins, and getting ready, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a Hole of the Rock.

5. Accordingly I went, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lord commanded me.

6. And a great while after the Lord said to me, Get ready, go to Euphrates, and take the Girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7. With that I went to Euphrates, and digging, took the Girdle out of the Place where I had hid it; and behold the Girdle was spoiled, it was not fit for any Thing.

8. Then I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

9. Thus says the Lord, After this Manner will I spoil the Pride of Judah, and the great Pride of Jerusalem.

10. This wicked People who refuse to hearken to my Words, that walk in the Imagination of their own Heart, and go after other gods, to serve and worship them, shall be like this Girdle, which is not fit for any Thing.

11. For as a Girdle is close to a Man's Loins, so have I caused the whole Family of Israel and that of Judah to be close to me, says the Lord; that they might be to me a People, Renown, Praise, and an Ornament: but they would not hearken.

12. Thou shalt therefore declare this Expression to them; Thus says the Lord God of Israel; Every Bottle shall be filled with Wine; and when they answer thee, Do not we certainly know that it shall?

13. Thou shalt reply to them, Thus says the Lord, Behold I will fill all the Inhabitants of this Country, the Kings who sit for David upon his Throne, the Priests, Prophets, and all the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, with Drunkenness.

14. And I will disperse them one with another, even the Fathers and Sons together, says the Lord: I will neither pity, spare, nor have compassion, not to destroy them.

15. Hearken, and give ear, be not haughty: for it is the Lord who speaks.

16. Render Glory to the Lord your God, before he makes it dark, and before your Feet stumble upon the obscure Mountains; and when you wait for Light he causes it to be the Shadow of Death, makes it Darkness.

17. But if you will not hearken to this, my Soul shall weep in secret Places by reason of the Pride; my Eye shall also thoroughly shed Tears, and cause them to run down, because the Flock of the Lord is taken captive.

18. Say both to the King and Queen; Humble your selves, sit down: for your Principalities, your fine Crown, shall come down.

19. The southern Cities shall be shut up, none opening: Judah shall all of it be taken captive, the very happy Place shall.

20. Look up, and see those who come from the North: where is the Flock that is given to thee, thy fine Sheep?

21. What wilt thou say when he punishes thee; since thou hast taught those Leaders to be the chief against thy self? Will not Pains seize thee as of a Woman in labour?

22. And when thou sayest in thy Heart, Why are these Things befallen me? It will be for the Abundance of thy Iniquity that thy Skirts are uncovered, thy Heels injured.

23. Can an Ethiopian change his Skin, or a Leopard his Spots? Are you likewise able to do well, who are used to do ill?

24. So I will disperse them as the Stubble which passes away, by the Wind of the Wilderness.

25. This is thy Lot, the Share of thy Measures from me, says the Lord; who hast forgot me, and trusted in Falsehood.

26. Whom I will also make bare with thy Skirts over thy Face, so that thy Vileness shall be seen.

Ver. 4. go to Euphrates] near to which he might then be on some other Occasion; which I suppose, as more likely than that he went so far as that River was from Judah twice on Purpose only, or that being so far it was but done in a Vision.

Ib. not so] according to the Heb. which is not a Conjunction, or but.

Ver. 22. injured] which might be galled or bruised with Stones, &c. by going into Captivity, Ver. 19. for the Heb. Verb does not signify made bare.

Ver. 23. Ethiopian] an African Blackmoor.

Ver. 26. Whom] which not only a Conjunction denotes in Heb. from some foregoing Pronoun, but here especially from who in the preceding Verse, while the con. Transf. is poor Sense, if any.

Ib. make bare] Turn back to Psa. xxix. 9.

27. Thy Adulteries and Neighings, the Lewdness of thy Fornication, are upon the Hills, in the Field; I see thy Abominations: wo is to thee, Jerusalem; wilt not thou be clean? How long hence shall it be?

C H A P. XIV.

THE Lord's Commission which Jeremiah had upon the Account of the Scarcity of Things.

2. Judah mourns, and the Gates of it languish, they are sad on the Earth; and the Cry of Jerusalem goes up.

3. When their Nobles send their little ones for Water, they come to the Pits, finding none; they return with their Vessels empty, are ashamed, put to confusion, and cover their Heads.

4. By reason that the Ground is chapt, because there is no Rain on the Earth, the Husbandmen are ashamed, they cover their Heads.

5. For even the Hind when it brings forth in the Field forsakes, because there is not fresh Grass.

6. The wild Asses standing upon the high Places, snuff up the Wind like Dragons: their Eyes fail, because there is no Grass.

7. Though our Iniquities testify against us, O Lord, act for thy Name's sake: for our Turnings away are many, we have sinned against thee.

8. O Hope of Israel, the Saviour of it in Time of Distress, why art thou like a Stranger in the Country, and like a Traveller who turns aside to lodge?

9. Why art thou like a Man tired, as a stout one not able to save? Since thou art amongst us, O Lord, and we are called by thy Name, do not leave us.

10. Thus says the Lord concerning this People, So they love to wander, they do not restrain their Feet; therefore the Lord being not pleased with them, will now remember their Iniquity, and visit their Sins.

11. The Lord also said to me; Do not pray for this People for what is good:

12. When they fast, I will not hearken to their Cry; and when they offer up Burnt-offering and Oblation, I will not be pleased with them; but I will consume them by the Sword, Famine and Pestilence.

13. And I answered; Alas, O Sovereign Lord, behold the Prophets say to them, You will not see the Sword, nor have Famine, but I will give you true Peace in this Place.

14. Upon which the Lord replied to me; The Prophets prophesy falsely in my Name, I did not send them, nor command them, neither speak to them: they prophesy to you a false Vision, a Divination, a Thing of Nought, and the Deceit of their own Heart.

15. Therefore thus says the Lord; Concerning the Prophets that prophesy in my Name, though I did not send them, and who say, There will not be Sword and Famine in this Country; by the Sword and Famine those Prophets shall be consumed.

16. The People likewise, to whom they prophesy, shall be thrown into the Streets of Jerusalem, by reason of the Famine and Sword, none burying them themselves, their Wives, Sons nor Daughters: so will I pour out their Wickedness upon them.

17. Besides thou shalt express these Words to them: Let my Eyes cause Tears to run down Night and Day without ceasing; because the Virgin, the Daughter of my People, is broke with a great Breach, with a very grievous Blow.

18. If I go out into the Field, there are the Slain with the Sword: and if I go into the City, there are the Diseased with the Famine: for both Prophet and Priest go about to a Country that they do not know.

19. Hast thou quite rejected Judah? Does thy Soul loath Zion? Why hast thou smitten us, so that there is no Healing for us? We wait for Peace, but there is no Good; and for a Time of Healing, but lo it is Disturbance.

20. We acknowledge our Wickedness, O Lord, the Iniquity of our Fathers: for we have sinned against thee.

21. Do not contemn, for thy Name's sake, do not make the Throne of thy Glory vile; remember, not to break thy Covenant with us.

22. Are there any of the Vanities of the Gentiles that can make it rain? Or can the Heaven it self give Showers? Is it not thou, O Lord our God? We will therefore wait for thee, since thou doest all these Things.

Ver. 2. sad] metaphorical like languish, or the Gates so for the People; either Way it seems better than black, as the Word signifies both.

Ib. on the Earth] lying down where they were thrown.

C H A P. XV.

THE Lord said to me further: If Moses and Samuel stood before me, my Soul should not be towards this People: send them from my Presence, and let them go forth.

2. And when they ask thee, Whither shall we go forth? Thou shalt answer them, Thus says the Lord, Those who are for Death to Death, those who are for the Sword to the Sword, those who are for the Famine to the Famine, and those who are for Captivity to Captivity.

3. I will also set over them four Kinds of Things, says the Lord, the Sword to slay, and the Dogs to tear, as likewise the Fowls of the Air and the Beasts of the Earth, to devour and destroy.

4. Moreover I will deliver them to Disturbance in all the Kingdoms of the Earth, by reason of Manasseh the Son of Hezekiah King of Judah, for what he did in Jerusalem.

5. For who will pity thee, Jerusalem? Or who will bemoan thee? Or who will turn aside to enquire how thou doest?

6. Thou hast forsaken me, says the Lord, art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my Hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary of being sorry.

7. And I will fan them with a Fan at the Gates of the Country, I will deprive them of their Children, will destroy my People, who do not return from their Ways.

8. Their Widows are more numerous to me than the Sand of the Seas, I have brought to them a Spoiler at Noon against the Mother of the young Men, have made him fall upon her, the City, suddenly, together with Terrors.

9. She who bore seven languishes, her Soul expires, her Sun is gone down while it is yet Day, she is ashamed, and blushes; I will also deliver the Residue of them to the Sword before their Enemies, says the Lord.

10. Wo is to me, my Mother, that thou hast born me a Man of Strife, and a Man of Contention to the whole Earth: I neither lending, nor they lending to me, every one of them reviles me.

11. The Lord said; Shall it not be well with the Residue of thee? Shall not I intercede for thee at the Time of Adversity, and that of Distress, with the Enemy?

12. Will Iron break the northern Iron and Steel?

13. Thy Wealth and Treasures will I give to be a Prey without Price; even for all thy Sins, and in all thy Borders.

14. And I will make thee pass with thy Enemies into a Country thou dost not know: for the Fire lighted in my Anger shall burn against you.

15. Thou knowest, O Lord, remember and visit me, as also take vengeance for me on my Persecutors, in the Forbearance of thy Anger do not take me away: know how I bear Reproach for thy sake.

16. When thy Words are found, I eat them, and a Word of thine is to me the Joy and Gladness of my Heart: for I am called by thy Name, O Lord God of Armies.

17. I do not sit in the Counsel of those who laugh, nor do I triumph: by reason of thy Hand I sit alone, for thou hast filled me with Indignation.

18. Why is my Grief perpetual, and my Blow mortal, refusing to be healed; thou being wholly to me as a failing Thing, Water that is unstedfast?

19. Therefore thus says the Lord; If thou wilt return, I will bring thee back, thou shalt stand before me; and if thou wilt take out the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my Mouth: let them return to thee, but do not thou return to them.

20. And I will make thee to this People as a fortified brazen Wall, so that though they fight against thee, they shall not prevail over thee: for I am with thee, to save and deliver thee, says the Lord.

21. Nay I will deliver thee from the Power of the Wicked, and redeem thee from that of the violent ones.

Ver. 10. lending] that being a great Occasion of Contention.

Ver. 11. Shall not] Heb. making a Question, and here being [not] both times; so Jun. and Trem.

Ib. intercede for thee] there being a Preposition for the for in Heb. and thus Jun. and Trem. translate. But what Sense is it for the enemy to entreat him well, if the Heb. Verb ever signifies entreat, as it does intercede? Or if entreat was used by our Translators for treat, that is far from any Meaning of the Original.

Ver. 12. northern] which shews it to be meant of Nebuchadnezzar and the Chaldeans, according to Munster, and consequently that the first Iron was the People of Judah; not this they, and the former Jeremiah, or the contrary, as some expound: so the two next Verses belong to the People, called you at last, and not to the Prophet.

3. For the Lord says concerning the Sons and Daughters who are born in this Place, as also concerning the Mothers who bear them, and the Fathers who beget them in this Country;

4. That they shall die with grievous Deaths, being neither lamented, nor buried; shall become Dung upon the Surface of the Ground: as they shall be consumed by the Sword, and Famine; their dead Bodies becoming Food for the Fowls of the Air, and the Beasts of the Earth.

5. Do not go, as the Lord says, into the House of the Funeral-banquet, neither go to lament, nor bemoan them; because I have taken away my Peace from this People, says the Lord, Kindness and Compassions.

6. Both great and small shall die in this Country, without being buried; neither shall Men lament for them, nor a Man cut himself, nor be made bald for them.

7. And they shall not divide for them in Mourning, to comfort any one for the dead, nor make them drink the Cup of Comforts, whether for his Father or Mother.

8. Nor shalt thou go into the House of Feasting, to sit with them; to eat, and drink.

9. For thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, Behold I will cause to cease from this Place in your Sight, and in your Days, the Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride.

10. And when thou declarest to this People all these Words, and they say to thee, For what does the Lord speak all this great Evil against us? And what is our Iniquity? Or what is our Sin which we have committed against the Lord our God?

11. Then thou shalt answer them; It is because your Fathers forsook me, says the Lord, and went after other gods, whom they served and bowed down to, not only forsaking me, but not observing my Law:

12. And ye your selves do evil, even worse than your Fathers; for behold you go each after the Imagination of his own evil Heart, not hearkening to me.

13. So I will cast you from this Country into one which neither you nor your Fathers have known, where you may serve other gods Day and Night, as I will grant you no Favour.

14. Therefore behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when it shall no more be sworn, By the Lord's living, who brought up the Israelites from the Country of Egypt;

15. But, By the Lord's living, who brought up the Israelites from the north Country, and from all the Countries whither he had driven them: for I will bring them back into their own Country, which I gave to their Forefathers.

16. Lo I will send for many Fishermen, says the Lord, who shall fish for them; and after that I will send for many Huntsmen, who shall hunt them from every Mountain, from every Hill, and out of the Holes of the Rocks.

17. For my Eyes are upon all their Ways, they are not concealed from my Face, nor is their Iniquity hid at a distance from my Eyes.

18. And at first I will doubly recompense their Iniquity and Sin, for their profaning my Country; they having filled my Possession with the Carcases of their detestable and abominable Things.

19. O Lord, my Strength, my Fortrefs, and my Refuge at the Time of Distress, let the Gentiles come to thee from the Limits of the Earth, and say, Certainly our Fathers possessed Falsehood, Vanity, and Things in which there was no Profit.

20. Shall Man make gods for himself, even such as are not gods?

21. Therefore behold I will cause them to know at this Time, I will make them sensible of my Hand and Power; so they shall know that my Name is the Lord.

THE Sin of Judah is written with an iron Pen, with a diamond Pencil; it is engraved upon the Table of their Heart, as well as on the Horns of your Altars:

2. While their Children remember their Altars and Groves, by the green Trees, upon the high Hills.

3. O my Mountain in the Field, I will give thy Wealth, all thy Treasures to be a Prey, thy Chapels for Sin in all thy Borders.

4. For thou hast made an intermission, even for thy self, from my Possession which I gave thee, and I will cause thee to serve thy Enemies in a Country that thou dost not know; since you have lighted a Fire in my Anger, which shall burn for ever.

5. Thus says the Lord: The Person is cursed that trusts in Man, makes Flesh his Arm, and his Heart departs from the Lord.

6. Who shall be like a Shrub in the Desert, which does not perceive when Good comes, but remains at the parched Places in the Wilderness, a salt Country, and not inhabited.

7. The Person is blessed that trusts in the Lord, and the Lord is his Trust.

8. Who shall be like a Tree planted by the Water, and shooting forth its Roots by the River, and not perceiving when Heat comes, but its Leaf is green; and it is not troubled in a Year of Scarcity, nor leaves off yielding Fruit.

9. The Heart is the most deceitful of all Things, as it is mortal; who knows it?

10. I the Lord search the Heart, try the Reins; even to give each one according to his Ways, the Fruit of his Deeds.

11. As a Partridge puts together, and does not hatch; he that gets Riches, and not by Right, will leave them in the midst of his Days, and at his End be vile.

12. The Place of our Sanctuary has been a high Throne of Glory from the Beginning.

13. O Lord, the Hope of Israel, let all who forsake thee be ashamed: let my Corrections be written in the Country, because they have forsaken the Lord, the Fountain of Spring-water.

14. Heal me, O Lord, that I may be healed; save me, that I may be saved: for thou art my Praise.

15. Behold they say to me, Where is the Lord's Commission? Let it come now.

16. Whereas I am not urgent more than a Shepherd after thee, nor desire the mortal Time thou knowest: what comes out of my Lips is before thy Face.

17. Be not a Calamity to me, who art my Refuge in the Time of Adversity.

18. Let my Persecutors be ashamed, but not me; let them be daunted, but not my self: bring upon them a Time of Adversity, and break them with a double Breaking.

19. The Lord said thus to me: Go, and stand at the Gate of those of the People, through which the Kings of Judah go in and out, and at all the Gates of Jerusalem,

20. Saying to them; Hear the Lord's Commission, you Kings of Judah, all Judah it self, and all the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, who enter in at these Gates.

21. Thus says the Lord; Take heed of your own selves, and do not carry a Burden on the Sabbath-day, or bring in at the Gates of Jerusalem.

22. Neither shall you bring a Burden out of your Houses on the Sabbath-day, nor do any Business; but sanctify that Day, as I commanded your Fathers:

23. Who would not hearken, nor incline their Ear; but made their Neck stiff, not to hearken, nor receive Instruction.

24. However if you will at all hearken to me, says the Lord, not to bring in a Burden at the Gates of this City on the Sabbath-day, and will sanctify that Day by doing no Business on it;

25. There shall enter in at the Gates of this City, Kings and Princes who sit upon David's

27. But if you will not hearken to me, to sanctify the Sabbath-day; and not to carry a Burden, and enter in at the Gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath-day; I will kindle a Fire at the Gates of it, which shall consume the Palaces of Jerusalem, and not be quenched.

C H A P. XVIII.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows,

2. Get ready, and go down to the Potter's House, where I will let thee hear my Words.

3. So I went down to the Potter's House, and behold he was making a Thing upon the Wheels.

4. But the Vessel which he made, as one of Clay, being spoiled in the Potter's Hand, he made it again another Vessel, according as he pleased to do.

5. Then I had the Lord's Commission thus:

6. Cannot I do to you like this Potter, O Family of Israel? says the Lord: behold as the Clay is in the Potter's Hand, so are you in mine, O Family of Israel.

7. In the Instant I speak against a Nation or Kingdom, that I will pluck up, break down, and destroy;

8. If that Nation against which I speak returns from its Evil, I shall be sorry for the Harm which I intended to do to it.

9. And in the Instant I speak against a Nation or Kingdom, that I will build, and plant;

10. If it does that which displeases me, not hearkening to what I say, I shall be sorry for the Good with which I said I would do well for it.

11. Now therefore do tell the Men of Judah, and the Inhabitants of Jerusalem as follows; Thus says the Lord, behold I am forming Harm against you, and contriving a Device against you: do you return each from his evil Way, and make your Ways and Deeds good.

12. But they answer, It is past Hope: for we will go after our own Devices, and do each the Imagination of his evil Heart.

13. Therefore thus says the Lord; Ask now in the Nations, who has heard such Things as these? The Virgin of Israel has done a very horrible Thing.

14. Shall one forsake the Snow of Lebanon from the Rock of the Field? Will the strange cold running Water be left?

15. For my People have forgot me, they have burnt incense to Vanity; and have made others stumble in their Ways from the everlasting Paths, to go in By-paths, a Way not cast up;

16. To make their Country desolate, an everlasting Hissing: every one who passes by it shall be astonished, and shake his Head.

17. I will disperse them as with an East-wind before the Enemy; will shew them the Back, and not the Face, at the Time of their Calamity.

18. Besides they say, Come, and let us contrive Devices against Jeremiah, for the Law will not perish from the Priest, or Counsel from the Wise, or the Commission from the Prophet: come, and let us smite him with the Tongue, and not hearken to any of his Words.

19. Hearken to me, O Lord, and hear the Voice of those who contend with me.

20. Shall Evil be recompensed for Good? Because they have dug a Pit for my Life: remember I have stood before thee, to speak well for them, to avert thy Wrath from them.

21. Therefore deliver their Children to the Famine, make them flow out by means of the Sword, let their Wives be deprived of Children, and be Widows; let their Men be slain dead, their young Men be killed with the Sword in War.

22. Let a Cry be heard from their Houses, when thou bringest a Troop against them suddenly: for they have dug a Pit to take me, and hid Gins for my Feet.

CHAP. XIX.

THUS says the Lord: Go, and get a Potter's earthen Pot, with some of the Elders both of the People and Priests,

2. And going forth to the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, which is at the Entrance of the Sun-gate, proclaim there the Words that I tell thee,

3. As follows: Hear the Lord's Commission, O Kings of Judah, and Inhabitants of Jerusalem, thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Behold I will bring Adversity upon this Place, at which the Ears of every one that hears it shall tingle:

4. Because they have forsaken me, and made this Place strange, burning incense in it to other gods, whom neither they, their Fathers, nor the Kings of Judah knew; and have filled this Place with the Blood of Innocents,

5. Having built up the Chapels of Baal, to burn their Children in the Fire for Burnt-offerings to him, which I did not command, nor speak, neither did it come into my Mind.

6. Therefore behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when this Place shall no more be called Topheth, or the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter.

7. For I will make the Counsel of Judah and Jerusalem void in this Place, I will cause them to fall by the Sword before their Enemies, and by the Hands of those who seek their Lives, and will give their dead Bodies for Food to the Fowls of the Air, and the Beasts of the Earth.

8. I will also make this City desolate, and a Hissing: every one who passes by it shall be astonished, and hiss for all its Plagues.

9. Nay I will cause them to eat the Flesh of their Sons, and that of their Daughters, they shall eat the Flesh too of their several Neighbours, in the Siege, and in the Streightness, with which their Enemies, and those who seek their Lives, shall streighten them.

10. Then shalt thou break the Pot in the Sight of the Men who go with thee,

11. And say to them: Thus says the Lord of Armies; After this Manner will I break this People and City, as one does a Potter's Vessel, which can no more be mended; and they shall bury in Topheth, till there is no Place to bury.

12. So will I do to this Place, says the Lord, and to its Inhabitants, even to make this City like Topheth.

13. And the Houses of Jerusalem, with those of the Kings of Judah, shall be defiled like the Place of Topheth; by reason of all the Houses upon whose Roofs they burn incense to the whole Army of the Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to other gods.

14. And Jeremiah coming from Topheth, whither the Lord sent him to prophesy, stood in the Court of the Lord's House, and said to all the People;

15. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, Lo I will bring on this City, and upon all its Cities, all the Adversity which I have spoken of against it; because they have made their Neck stiff, not hearkening to my Words.

CHAP. XX.

BUT when Pashur the Son of Immer the Priest, who was the chief Officer in the House of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these Things;

2. He beat the Prophet Jeremiah, and put him in the Stocks that were at the uppermost Gate of Benjamin, which was at the House of the Lord.

3. However the next Day when Pashur took him out of the Stocks, Jeremiah said to him: The Lord does not call thy Name Pashur, but Dread on every Side.

4. For thus says the Lord; Behold I will make thee a Dread to thy self, and to all that love thee, who shall fall by the Sword of their Enemies, which thy Eyes shall see; I will likewise deliver all Judah into the Power of the King of Babylon, who shall carry them away into Babylon, and slay them with the Sword.

5. Nay I will deliver all the Strength of this City, all its Business, and all the precious Things of it, even all the Treasures of the Kings of Judah will I deliver, into their Enemies Power, who shall plunder them, take them, and carry them into Babylon.

6. And thou Pashur, with all who dwell in thy House, shall go into Captivity, and thou shalt come to Babylon, where thou thalt die, and be buried there, thy self and all that love thee, to whom thou hast prophesied falsely.

7. Thou didst persuade me, O Lord, and I was persuaded; thou wast too strong for me, and didst prevail: I am become Sport every Day; every one of them scoff at me.

8. For since I spoke, I have cried out, Violence and Wasting have I called out: for the Lord's Commission has been a Reproach to me, and a Mocking every Day.

9. And I said I would not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his Name; but there was in my Heart like a burning Fire shut up in my Bones, insomuch that I was weary of containing, and could not.

10. Though I heard the ill Report of many thus, Dread being on every Side, Tell, that we may tell it; all the Men who were at peace with me watched for my Halting, saying, Perhaps he will be persuaded, that we may prevail against him, and take our Vengeance on him.

11. But the Lord is with me as a powerful terrible one, therefore my Persecutors will stumble, and not prevail: they will be exceedingly ashamed, because they have no Success, the everlasting Confusion will not be forgotten.

12. And, O Lord of Armies, who triest the righteous one, seest the Reins and Heart; let me see thy Vengeance on them, for I discover my Cause to thee.

13. Sing to the Lord, praise the Lord: for he delivers the Soul of the needy one from the Power of Evil-doers.

14. Let the Day be cursed on which I was born, the Day when my Mother bore me not be blessed.

15. Let the Man be cursed who declared thus to my Father, There is a Male-child born to thee, making him exceeding glad.

16. And let that Man be like the Cities which the Lord overthrew, without repenting; let him even hear the Cry in the Morning, and the Shouting at the Time of Noon:

17. Because he did not put me to death at the Womb, or let my Mother be my Grave, and her Womb be always with Child.

18. Why did I come out of it, to see Labour and Sorrow, and that my Days should be consumed in Shame?

C H A P. XXI.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashur the Son of Malchijah, and Zephaniah the Son of Maaseiah the Priest, to say,

2. Do enquire for us of the Lord, because Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon fights against us: perhaps the Lord will deal with us according to all his Wonders, that he may go up from us.

3. Upon this Jeremiah told them, that they should say to Zedekiah:

4. Thus says the Lord God of Israel; Behold I will turn aside the Weapons of War that are in your Hands, with which you fight the King of Babylon, and the Chaldeans who lay siege against you without the Wall, and will bring them together into the midst of this City.

5. Nay I my self will fight you, by a Hand stretched out, and a strong Arm, even in Anger, Wrath, and great Fury.

6. For I will smite the Inhabitants of this City, both Men and Beasts; they shall die with a great Pestilence.

7. And after that, says the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah King of Judah, his Servants, and the People, even those who are left in this City from the Pestilence, Sword and Famine, into the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and into that of their Enemies, and of such as seek their Life; and he shall put them to the Sword, he shall neither spare them, pity, nor have compassion.

8. However thou shalt tell this People, that the Lord says; Behold I put before you the Way of Life, and the Way of Death:

9. He who abides in this City shall die by the Sword, Famine or Pestilence; and he who goes out, and falls to the Chaldeans, who lay siege against you, shall live, and have his Life for Spoil.

10. For I have put my Face against this City for Hurt, and not for Good, says the

Ver. 7. persuade] to prophesy, which as the Heb. Word signifies, is certainly fitter than deceived; and is the same with that better rendered enticed, Ver. 10.

Ver. 8. for] the same as at the Beginning of the Verse, having respect to the End of the foregoing: for though I do not think with De Dieu, and as in the Geneva marginal Note, that the Violence and Wasting here mentioned was what would be done to the People of Judah by their Enemies; so neither to be what the People of Judah did, or endeavoured to do to Jeremiah, after Jun. and Trem. with Kimbi; since Reproach and Mocking was not Wasting, and therefore because must be wrong: but I look upon this Violence and Wasting to be that which those People did to one another, being the Wickedness they were to be punished for, as may plainly appear by Chap. vi. 7. where the same Words are used, and for which the Prophet cried out against them, and they scoffed at him for it.

Ver. 10. Though] as manifestly better than For, which thwarts the Sense.

11. And to the King of Judah's Family, hear the Lord's Commission :

12. O Family of David, thus says the Lord ; Administer Judgment betimes, and deliver him who is spoiled from the Power of the Oppressor ; lest my Wrath should come forth like Fire, and burn, so that none can quench, by reason of the Evil of your Deeds.

13. Lo I am against thee, that inhabitest the Vale, the Rock of the Plain, says the Lord ; you that vaunt, Who can come down against us ? And who can enter into our Habitations ?

14. But I will punish you according to the Fruit of your Deeds, says the Lord ; and will kindle a Fire in its Wood, which shall consume all Things round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

THE Lord said thus : Go down to the King of Judah's House, and speak there this following Commission :

2. Hear the Lord's Commission, O King of Judah, thou who sittest upon David's Throne, with thy Servants and People that come in at these Gates.

3. Thus says the Lord ; Execute Judgment and Righteousness, and deliver him who is spoiled from the Power of the Oppressor, neither wrong the Stranger, Fatherless or Widow, do no violence, nor shed innocent Blood in this Place.

4. For if you at all perform this Commission, there shall come in at the Gates of this House Kings who sit for David upon his Throne, riding in Chariots, and on Horses, each with his Servants and People.

5. But if you will not hearken to these Words, I swear by my self, says the Lord, that this House shall become waste ;

6. Though, as the Lord says to the House of the King of Judah, thou wast Gilead to me, the Top of Lebanon, that I would make thee a Wilderness, like Cities uninhabited ;

7. And would prepare Destroyers against thee, each with his Weapons, who should cut down thy choicest Cedars, and cast them into the Fire.

8. Then shall many Gentiles pass by this City, and say one to another, Why did the Lord do after this Manner to this great City ?

9. And the others shall answer, Because they forsook the Covenant of the Lord their God, bowed down to other gods, and served them.

10. Do not weep for the Dead, nor bemoan him : weep grievously for him who goes away, because he will no more return, or see his native Country.

11. For thus says the Lord concerning Shallum the Son of Josiah King of Judah, who reigning in the room of his Father Josiah, went out of this Place ; He shall return thither no more,

12. But shall die in the Place whither they have carried him away, and see this Country no more.

13. Wo is to him who builds his House with that which is not just, and his Chambers with what is not right ; that makes his Neighbour serve for Nothing, and will not give him his Reward :

14. Who says, I will build me a large House, and spacious Chambers ; as also cuts him out Windows, and it is cieled with Cedar, and painted with Vermilion.

15. Shalt thou reign because thou art within Cedar ? Did not thy Father eat and drink, and doing that which was right and just, it was then well with him ?

16. He administered Judgment to the Afflicted and Needy ; then it was well : Was not this Knowledge with me ? says the Lord.

17. Because thy Eyes and Heart are upon Nothing but thy Gain, upon shedding innocent Blood, and upon executing both Oppression and Trouble :

18. Therefore thus says the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah ; They shall not lament for him, Ah my Brother ! or, Ah Sister ! they shall not lament for him, Ah Lord ! or, Ah his Dignity !

19. He shall be buried with the Burial of an Ass, being drawn and cast beyond the Gates of Jerusalem.

20. Go up Lebanon, and cry, as also utter thy Voice on Bashan, and cry from the Passages, because all who love thee are broken.

Ver. 13. Vale] of Jerusalem, as in Psa. cxxv. 2.

Ver. 3. wrong the Stranger] Stranger, &c. being before the Verb wrong in Heb.

Ver. 6. that] It is plain by the Heb. this belongs to the Oath, being in the Manner of Swearing then used.

Ver. 10. the Dead] King Josiah, 2 Chron. xxxv. 25.

Ver. 11. Shallum] who was Josiah's 4th Son, 1 Chr. iii. 15. and probably took the Name of Jehoabaz on his being made King, 2 King. xxiii. 31. 2 Chr. xxxvi. 1.

Ver. 12. die] as was fulfilled, 2 King. xxiii. 34.

Ver. 14. its Wood] i. e. the Wood of thee the Inhabitant, Ver. 13. for Family, Ver. 12. as the fem. Gender shews.

Ver. 16. Knowledge] as the Heb. is, not to know : so also Jam. and Trem. have it.

Ver. 18. Therefore] Jehoiakim being spoken of and to, from the Beginning of the 13th Ver. and not as Grotius supposes, that it begins here,

Ver. 19. Jerusalem] See the Note on 2 Chron. xxxvi. 6.

21. I speaking to thee in thy Quietness, thou saidest, I will not hearken: this has been thy Way from thy Youth, because thou wouldest not hearken to what I said.

22. The Wind shall feed on all thy Shepherds, and those who love thee shall go into Captivity: for then thou wilt be ashamed, and put to confusion for all thy Wickedness.

23. Thou that dwellest on Lebanon, who hast a Nest made on the Cedars, how canst thou be pitied, when Pains come to thee, the Anguish as of a Woman in labour?

24. By my living, says the Lord, though Coniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah were even a Seal upon my right Hand, I would pluck thee from thence.

25. And I will deliver thee into the Power of such as seek thy Life, and into the Power of those whose Face thou art afraid of, even into the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon; and that of the Chaldeans.

26. I will also cast thee out, and thy Mother who bore thee, into another Country, where you were not born, and you shall die there.

27. But into the Country whither they put up their Desire to return, they shall not return thither.

28. Is this Man Coniah a despised scattered Idol? Is he an Instrument in which there is no Delight? Why else are he and his Offspring cast out, and thrown into a Country which they do not know?

29. O Country, Country, Country, hear the Lord's Commission,

30. Who says thus, Write down this Person without an Heir, a Man that shall not prosper in his Days: for no Person of his Offspring shall prosper, sitting upon the Throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

C H A P. XXIII.

WO be to the Shepherds who destroy, and disperse the Flock of my Pasture, says the Lord.

2. Therefore thus says the Lord God of Israel, concerning the Shepherds who feed my People: You having dispersed my Flock, driven them away, and not visited them; behold I will visit you for the Wickedness of your Deeds, says the Lord.

3. And I will gather together the Residue of my Flock from all Countries whither I have driven them, bringing them again into their Folds, and they shall be fruitful, and multiply.

4. I will also set up Shepherds over them, who shall feed them; and they shall no more fear, nor be daunted, neither shall they be lacking, says the Lord.

5. Behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when I will raise up to David a righteous Sprout, even a King shall reign, and have Success, executing Judgment and Righteousness on the Earth.

6. In his Days Judah shall be saved, and Israel dwell securely: and this is his Name, by which he shall be called, The Lord our Righteousness.

7. Therefore behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when they shall no more swear, By the Lord's living, who brought up the Israelites from the Country of Egypt;

8. But, By the Lord's living, who brought up, and who caused the Offspring of the Family of Israel to come, from the north Country, and from all the Countries whither I had driven them: for they shall dwell in their own Country.

9. My Heart within me is broke for the Prophets, all my Bones shake, I am like a drunken Person, even like a Man who is overtaken by Wine; by reason of the Lord, and by reason of his holy Words.

10. For the Country is full of Adulterers, and by reason of Swearing the Country mourns, the Pastures of the Wilderness are dried up; their Course being evil, and their Power not right.

11. For both Prophet and Priest are profane, even in my House have I found their Wickedness, says the Lord.

12. Their Way shall therefore be to them as slippery ones in Darkness; they shall be driven on, and fall in it: for I will bring what is bad upon them, the Year of their Visitation, says the Lord.

13. I saw Impertinency indeed in the Prophets of Samaria, they prophesied by Baal, and made my People Israel err:

Ver. 23. be pitied] passive.

Ver. 28. else] which clears up the Sense, otherwise obscure, and may well be supposed understood in the Heb. with the Particle for suby, as not to be express'd otherwise.

Ver. 30. without an Heir] to inherit the Kingdom, as the rest of this Verse shews: for Zedekiah was set up by the King of Babylon, being not the proper Heir to it, 2 King. xiv. 17. and that Jeconiah was not childless, appears not only by 1 Chr. iii. 17. & Mat. i. 12. but by Ver. 28. of this Chap.

Ver. 2. concerning] as Ver. 15.

Ver. 4. be lacking] Chald. quake, as if taking the Signification of קד which is diverse, from קד Vulg. there shall be none to be sought of the Number.

Ver. 13. indeed] for which see Grot. as also Jun. and Trem. translate, and our English the same truly, Ecd. xi. 7.

14. But I see a horrible Thing in the Prophets of Jerusalem; they commit Adultery, and go in Falsehood, as also strengthen the Hands of Evil-doers, not to return each from his Evil: they are all of them to me like those of Sodom, and its Inhabitants like those of Gomorrah.

15. Therefore thus says the Lord of Armies concerning the Prophets; Behold I will make them eat Wormwood, and drink the Water of Gall: for Profaneness is gone forth from the Prophets of Jerusalem into the whole Country.

16. Do not hearken, continues the Lord of Armies, to the Words of the Prophets who prophesy to you; they make you vain, preaching a Vision of their own Heart, not from the Mouth of the Lord.

17. They say still to such as condemn me; The Lord declares, You shall have Peace; and to every one that goes in the Imagination of his own Heart they say, No Harm will come upon you.

18. For who stands in the Counsel of the Lord, and sees, and hears his Commission? Who hearkens to his Commission, and hears?

19. Lo the Lord's Whirlwind goes forth with Rage, even a remaining Whirlwind; which shall remain upon the Head of the Wicked.

20. The Anger of the Lord shall not return, till he has performed, and till he has established the Thoughts of his Heart: in the latter Days you will understand it fully.

21. I have not sent those Prophets, though they run: I have not spoken to them, though they prophesy.

22. Whereas if they stood in my Counsel, they would cause my People to hear my Words, that they might turn them back from their evil Way, and from the Evil of their Deeds.

23. Am I a God near, says the Lord, and not a God far off?

24. Can a Person then hide in secret Places, so that I shall not see him? says the Lord: Do not I fill Heaven and Earth? says the Lord.

25. I hear what the Prophets say, who prophesy Falsehood thus in my Name; I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26. How long will this be in the Heart of the Prophets who prophesy Falsehood, and are Prophets of the Deceit of their own Heart;

27. Who think to make my People forget my Name, by their Dreams which they tell one to another, as their Fathers forgot my Name for Baal?

28. The Prophet indeed who has a Dream, let him tell the Dream; and he who has my Commission, let him speak my Commission truly: but what has the Chaff to do with the Wheat? says the Lord.

29. Is not my Commission thus like a Fire, says the Lord, and like a Hammer that breaks the Rock in pieces?

30. Therefore behold I am against the Prophets, says the Lord, who steal my Words one from another.

31. Behold I am against the Prophets, says the Lord, who bring their Tongue, and declare, He says.

32. Behold I am against those who prophesy false Dreams, says the Lord, and telling them, make my People err by their Lyes and Unsteadfastness; and since I neither sent them, nor commanded them, they will not profit this People at all, says the Lord.

33. And when this People, or a Prophet, or Priest thus asks thee, What is the Burden of the Lord? Say to them, What Burden? Since I will forsake you, says the Lord.

34. As for the Prophet, Priest and People, who says, The Burden of the Lord, I will punish that Man and his Family.

35. Thus shall you say each to his Neighbour, and each to his Brother, What has the Lord answered? or, What has the Lord spoken?

36. And you shall mention the Burden of the Lord no more: for the Burden to each shall be his own Word, as you alter the Words of the Living God, the Lord of Armies our God.

37. Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet,

Ver. 18. sees] he who does; may see as follows, Ver. 19, 20. which Exposition I count better than supposing the false Prophets spoke this.

Ver. 19. remaining] agreeable to the following Verse: so Jun. and Trem. have permanens.

Ver. 22. they would] The principal Partition of the Verse is at Counsel, which determines this to be the Sense, as it is also more agreeable.

Ib. might] not should; for the true Prophets did not.

Ver. 23. Am I] Since they own me to be a God near, by their pretending I send them, and speak to them; how then do they dare to cloak themselves with Lyes in my Presence, who not only hear but know their Lyes?

Ver. 27. Dreams] That the Jews were much addicted to this, may appear by Juvenal, Sat. vi. l. 546. who says, Qualiacumque voles Judæi Somnia vendunt, The Jews sell what Dreams soever one would have.

Ver. 29. thus] when truly delivered, Ver. 28.

Ver. 32. not profit this People] But according as in Pierce Plowmans Vision,

I found there seven, all the four orders.

Preached to the people, for profit of themselves.

Ver. 33. What Burden] Instead of What here the Gr. having Tou are, it appears the Translator took or mistook אשר אמר for אשר אמר putting a final Mem instead of the other, besides his double Dislocation.

Ver. 33. Since I will forsake you] q. d. What then have you to do with my Burden?

What

What has the Lord answered thee? or, What has the Lord spoken?

38. But since ye say, The Burden of the Lord, therefore the Lord declares thus; Because ye express this Word, The Burden of the Lord, when I have sent to you, that ye should not say so:

39. For this reason to I, even my self, will still forget you; as also forsake you, and the City which I gave to you and your Fathers, to be away from before me.

40. And I will put everlasting Reproach upon you, with everlasting Confusion which shall not be forgotten.

C H A P. XXIV.

THE Lord shewed me plainly, that there were two Baskets of Figs placed before the Temple of the Lord, after Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon had carried away Jechoniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, and the Princes of Judah, with the Carpenters and Smiths, from Jerusalem, and brought them to Babylon:

2. One Basket with very good Figs, like those that are first ripe; and the other Basket with very bad ones, which could not be eat for the Badness.

3. Then the Lord said to me, What dost thou see, Jeremiah? And I answered, Figs, the good Figs very good, and the bad ones very bad, which cannot be eat for the Badness.

4. Whereupon I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

5. Thus says the Lord God of Israel; Like these good Figs, so will I acknowledge them of the Captivity of Judah, whom I have sent from this Place to the Country of the Chaldeans for Good.

6. And putting my Eyes upon them for Good, I will bring them back into this Country, and build them up without throwing down, and plant them without plucking up.

7. I will also give them a Heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be a People to me, as I will a God to them; when they return to me with their whole Heart.

8. On the contrary like the bad Figs, which cannot be eat for the Badness (for the Lord says thus) so will I deliver Zedekiah King of Judah, and his Princes, with the Residue of Jerusalem that are left in this Country, as likewise those who dwell in the Country of Egypt;

9. I will even deliver them to Disturbance, to Harm in all the Kingdoms of the Earth, to be a Reproach and a Proverb, a Taunt and a Curse, in all Places whither I shall drive them.

10. And I will send against them the Sword, Famine and Pestilence, till they are consumed from the Country, which I gave to them and their Fathers.

C H A P. XXV.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had concerning all the People of Judah, in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah, that was the first Year of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon,

2. Which the Prophet Jeremiah spoke to all the People of Judah, as well as all the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, was as follows:

3. From the thirteenth Year of Josiah Son of Amon King of Judah, to this very Time, being the twenty third Year, I have had the Lord's Commission, and spoken to you, and that early, but ye would not hearken.

4. Nay the Lord has sent to you all his Servants the Prophets, and that early, (though ye would not hearken, nor incline your Ear to hearken)

5. Saying; Return now each from his evil Way, and from the Evil of his Deeds, so dwell in the Country which the Lord gave to you and your Fathers, from Age to Age.

6. And do not go after other gods, to serve them, and bow down to them, nor provoke me with the Doing of your Hands, that I may not do you hurt.

7. Yet ye would not hearken to me, says the Lord; to the end that ye might prove me with the Doing of your Hands, to your own Hurt.

8. Therefore thus says the Lord of Armies: Because ye will not hearken to my Words,

Ver. 6. back] Though the fulfilling of this is not recorded in Scripture, yet as Jehoiachin surrendered himself up, Nebuchadrezzar might send back those whom he then took away.

Ver. 7. when] so Jun. and Trem. translate it cum, and Cast. quum differently spell'd; Gret. postquam, after; others quia, because.

Ver. 8. Egypt] whither the last Remainder of the People went, Chap. xliii. as may be here intimated they would.

Ver. 3. twenty third] reckoning the three Months of Vol. II.

Jehoahaz, 2 King. xxiii. 31. and what Josiah reigned over 31 Years, 2 King. xxii. 1. for one of them; for else it would not have been so many from &c. tho' Lightfoot having said, that some Years passed between the Death of Josiah, and the Reign of Jehoiakim, retracts it (as he oddly terms it) with saying, The three Months Reign of Jehoahaz is to be reckoned in the last Year of Josiah; as Jeremy makes the Account plain, Jer. xxv. 3. Harm. of old Test. yet not so plain, but that he might have retracted again. A farther Use of this see on 2 King. xxiii. 36.

9. Behold, I will send, and fetch all the Families of the North, says the Lord, with Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon my Servant, and will bring them against this Country, and against its Inhabitants, as well as against all these Nations round about; and will utterly destroy them, making them a Desolation, Hissing, and everlasting Wastings.

10. Thus will I cause to perish from them the Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride, the Sound of the Mill, and the Light of the Candle.

11. Even this whole Country shall be waste and desolate, and these Nations shall serve the King of Babylon seventy Years.

12. But when seventy Years are fulfilled, I will punish the King of Babylon, and that Nation, says the Lord, for their Iniquity, as also the Country of the Chaldeans, and will make it everlasting Desolations.

13. And I will bring upon that Country all my Words which I have spoken against it, all that is written in this Book, which Jeremiah has prophesied against all the Nations.

14. For many Nations and great Kings shall also make them serve; and I will recompense them according to their Work, and according to the Doing of their Hands.

15. For thus said the Lord God of Israel to me; Take the Cup of the Wine of this Wrath from my Hand, and make all the Nations to which I send thee drink it.

16. That they may drink, be moved, and mad, by reason of the Sword which I will send among them.

17. Accordingly I took the Cup from the Lord's Hand, and made all the Nations drink, to which the Lord sent me:

18. Jerusalem, and the Cities of Judah, with its Kings and Princes, to make them a Wasting, Desolation, Hissing, and a Curse, as at present;

19. Pharaoh King of Egypt, with his Servants, his Princes, and all his People,

20. And all the mixed People, all the Kings of the Country of Uz, all the Kings of the Country of the Philistines, Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the Residue of Ashdod,

21. Edom, Moab, and the Ammonites,

22. As likewise all the Kings of Tyre, all those of Zidon, and the Kings of the Region which is at the Side of the Sea,

23. Dedan, Tema, Buz, and all that are separated at a Corner,

24. With all the Kings of Arabia, and all those of the mingled People who dwell in the Wilderness,

25. All the Kings too of Zimri, all those of Elam, all those of the Medes,

26. And all the Kings of the North, near and far off one with another, nay all the Kingdoms of the Earth that are upon the Surface of the Ground; and the King of Sheshach shall drink after them.

27. Moreover thou shalt tell them: Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Drink, be drunk, vomit, fall, and do not rise, by reason of the Sword which I will send among you.

28. And if they refuse to take the Cup from thy Hand to drink, thou shalt declare to them: Thus says the Lord of Armies; You shall thoroughly drink.

29. For lo I am beginning to make it ill to the City which is called by my Name; and shall you be at all quit? You shall not; since I will call for the Sword against all the Inhabitants of the Earth, says the Lord of Armies.

30. So do thou prophesy to them all these following Words; The Lord will roar from on high, and utter his Voice from his holy Habitation, he will roar aloud in his Dwelling, will testify with Acclamation like the Grape-treaders against all the Inhabitants of the Earth.

31. The Noise is come to the End of the Earth, because the Lord has a Contention with the Nations, he is come to judgment with all Flesh, delivering those who are wicked to the Sword, says the Lord.

32. Thus says the Lord of Armies; Behold Affliction shall go forth from one Nation to another, and a great Whirlwind shall be stirred up from the Sides of the Earth.

33. And the Slain of the Lord shall be at that Time from one End of the Earth to the other of it: they shall neither be lamented, gathered up, nor buried, they shall become Dung atop of the Ground.

34. Lament, O Shepherds, and cry, and roll your selves in Ashes, ye stately ones of the Flock, because your Days are fulfilled to be slaughtered; as also your Dispersings, and ye shall fall like a desirable Vessel.

35. And Flight shall perish from the Shepherds, and Escaping from the stately ones of the Flock.

36. There shall be the Voice of the Shepherd's Cry, and the Lamentation of the stately ones of the Flock, because the Lord has wasted their Pasture.

37. And the peaceable Dwellings are cut off, by reason of the Lord's fervent Anger.

38. He has forsaken as a Lion his Den: for their Country is become desolate, by reason of the Fury of the Oppressor, and by reason of his fervent Anger.

C H A P. XXVI.

IN the Beginning of the Reign of Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah, there was this following Commission from the Lord:

2. Thus says the Lord; Stand in the Court of the Lord's House, and speak to those of all the Cities of Judah who come to worship at the Lord's House, all the Words which I command thee to speak to them: do not diminish a Word.

3. Perhaps they will hearken, and return each from his evil Way, that I may be sorry for the Harm which I intended to do to them, by reason of the Evil of their Deeds.

4. And thou shalt tell them: Thus says the Lord; If you will not hearken to me, to go in my Law which I have put before you,

5. By hearkening to the Words of my Servants the Prophets whom I send to you, and that early, though you would not hearken;

6. Then will I make this House like Shiloh, and make this City a Curse to all the Nations of the Earth.

7. Accordingly the Priests, Prophets, and all the People, heard Jeremiah speak these Words at the House of the Lord.

8. But when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all which the Lord commanded that he should speak to all the People, the Priests, Prophets, and all the People took him, and said; Thou shalt quite die:

9. Why dost thou prophesy in the Lord's Name, that this House shall be like Shiloh, and this City be waste without Inhabitant? And all the People were gathered against Jeremiah at the House of the Lord.

10. And when the Princes of Judah heard these Things, they came up from the King's House to that of the Lord, and sitting down at the Entrance of the Lord's new Gate,

11. The Priests and Prophets said thus to the Princes, and all the People, This Man should be condemned to die, because he has prophesied against this City, as ye have heard with your own Ears.

12. With that Jeremiah said to all the Princes, and People as follows; The Lord sent me to prophesy both against this House and City, all the Words which ye have heard.

13. Now therefore let your Ways and Deeds be good, and hearken to what the Lord your God says, that the Lord may be sorry for the Harm which he has spoken against you.

14. As for me, behold I am in your Power: do to me as you please, and approve of.

15. But know certainly that if you kill me, you will put innocent Blood upon yourselves, both on this City and its Inhabitants: for truly the Lord sent me to you, to speak all these Words in your Hearing.

16. At this the Princes and all the People, said to the Priests and Prophets, This Man should not be condemned to die, since he has spoken to us in the Name of the Lord our God.

17. Besides some of the Elders of the Country rose up, and said thus to the whole Congregation of the People:

18. Micah the Morastite prophesied in the Time of Hezekiah King of Judah, and spoke to all the People of Judah as follows; Thus says the Lord God of Armies, Zion shall be ploughed a Field, Jerusalem shall become Heaps, and the Mountain of the House the high Places of a Wood.

19. Did Hezekiah King of Judah, and all Judah, do any Thing to kill him? Did not he fear the Lord, and making supplication before him, the Lord was sorry for the Harm which he had spoken against them? We shall therefore do great Evil against our selves.

20. But there is an Instance too of Urijah the Son of Shemaiah of Kirjath-jearim, who prophesied in the Name of the Lord, and that both against this City and Country, according to all the Words of Jeremiah.

21. And when King Jehoiakim, with all his mighty Men, and all his Princes heard his Words, the King endeavoured to kill him; which Urijah hearing, he was afraid, and fled, going into Egypt.

22. Whither King Jehoiakim sent Elnathan the Son of Achbor, and other Men with him;

23. Who fetched Urijah out of Egypt, and bringing him to King Jehoiakim, he

Ver. 2. to those] for it could not be the Cities themselves,

Ver. 7. at] as in Ver. 2. and see on 2 Chron. xxiii. 12: Ver. 18. as follows] Mic. iii. 12:

slew him with a Sword, and cast his dead Body into the Graves of those of the People.

24. However the Power of Ahikam the Son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, not to deliver him into the Power of the People, to kill him.

CHAP. XXVII.

AT the Beginning of the Reign of Jehoiakim's Brother, Son of Josiah King of Judah, Jeremiah had this following Commission from the Lord :

2. Thus said the Lord to me : Make thee Bonds and Yokes, and put them upon thy Neck.

3. Then send them to the Kings of Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, Tyre and Zidon, by the Hands of the Ambassadors who come to Jerusalem, to Zedekiah King of Judah.

4. And command them as follows concerning their Masters : Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, You shall say thus to your Masters ;

5. I made the Earth, the Men and Beasts that are upon the Surface of it, by my great Power, and Arm stretched out ; so I give it to whom I please.

6. Now therefore I give all these Countries into the Power of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon my Servant, and I also give him the Beasts of the Field to serve him.

7. Even all Nations shall serve him, his Son, and Son's Son, till the very Time also of his own Country comes, when many Nations and great Kings shall make him serve.

8. In the mean while I will punish that very Nation and Kingdom, which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, nor put its Neck in his Yoke, with the Sword, Famine and Pestilence, says the Lord, till I have consumed them by his Power.

9. Do ye not hearken therefore to your Prophets, Diviners, Dreamers, Astrologers, or Wizards, those who tell you that ye shall not serve the King of Babylon.

10. For they prophesy Falsehood to you ; that they may remove you far off from your own Country, and that I may drive you away, and ye may perish.

11. As for the Nation which will bring its Neck into the King of Babylon's Yoke, and serve him, I will let it remain in its own Country, says the Lord, which it shall till, and dwell in.

12. I spoke likewise to Zedekiah King of Judah, according to all these following Words ; Bring your Necks into the King of Babylon's Yoke, and by serving him, and his People, live.

13. Why will thou and thy People die, by the Sword, Famine and Pestilence, as the Lord has spoken concerning the Nation that will not serve the King of Babylon ?

14. So do not hearken to the Words of the Prophets who tell you, that ye shall not serve the King of Babylon : for they prophesy Falsehood to you.

15. Though I have not sent them, says the Lord, yet they prophesy in my Name falsely ; that I may drive you away, and ye your selves may perish, with the Prophets who prophesy to you.

16. I also spoke as follows to the Priests, and to all this People : Thus says the Lord ; Do not hearken to the Words of your Prophets who prophesy to you, that behold the Instruments of the Lord's House shall now quickly be brought back from Babylon : for they prophesy Falsehood to you.

17. Do not hearken to them, serve the King of Babylon, and live : why should this City become waste ?

18. But if they are Prophets, and if the Lord's Commission is with them, let them vouchsafe to intercede with the Lord of Armies, that the Instruments which are left in the House of the Lord, and that of the King of Judah, and in Jerusalem, may not go to Babylon.

19. For thus says the Lord of Armies touching the Pillars, and concerning the Sea, the Bases, and the rest of the Instruments that are left in this City,

20. Which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon did not take, when he carried away Jechoniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, with all the Nobles of Judah and Jerusalem;

21. Even the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel says thus, concerning the Instruments that are left at the House of the Lord, and that of the King of Judah, and at Jerusalem,

22. They shall be carried to Babylon, and be there, till the Time that I visit them, says the Lord; when I will bring them up, and restore them to this Place.

C H A P. XXVIII.

AND at the Beginning of the Reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, in that fourth Year, in the fifth Month, Hananiah the Son of Azur the Prophet, who was of Gibeon, said to me as follows at the House of the Lord, in the Presence of the Priests and all the People:

2. Thus speaks the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, saying; I have broke the Yoke of the King of Babylon,

3. Within the Space of two Years, I will bring back to this Place all the Instruments of the Lord's House, which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon took from hence, and carried them to Babylon.

4. I will likewise bring back to this Place, Jechoniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, and all those of the Captivity of Judah who went into Babylon, says the Lord: for I will break the Yoke of the King of Babylon.

5. Upon this the Prophet Jeremiah himself said to the Prophet Hananiah in the Presence of the Priests, and that of all the People who stood at the Lord's House,

6. As follows; So let it be, the Lord do so: the Lord confirm thy Words which thou hast prophesied, that the Instruments of the Lord's House, and all that are carried away, shall be brought back from Babylon to this Place.

7. But hear now this Matter which I speak in thy Hearing, and in that of all the People;

8. The Prophets who were before both me and thee of old Time, have prophesied against many Countries, as well as great Kingdoms, of War, Harm and Pestilence.

9. The Prophet who prophesies of Peace, when the Prophet's Word comes to pass, he will be known to be the Prophet whom the Lord has truly sent.

10. Nevertheless the Prophet Hananiah took off the Yoke from the Prophet Jeremiah's Neck, and broke it.

11. Hananiah also said in the Presence of all the People as follows; Thus says the Lord, After this Manner will I break the Yoke of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, within the Space of two Years, from the Neck of all the Nations. So the Prophet Jeremiah went his Way.

12. However Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission as follows, after the Prophet Hananiah had broke the Yoke from his Neck;

13. Go, and tell Hananiah, that the Lord says thus, Though thou hast broke the wooden Yokes, thou hast made iron ones in their room.

14. For thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, I have put an iron Yoke upon the Neck of all these Nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, which they shall do; and I have also given him the Beasts of the Field.

15. The Prophet Jeremiah said to him further, Hear now, Hananiah, the Lord has not sent thee, but thou makest this People trust upon Falschhood.

16. Therefore thus says the Lord, Behold I will cast thee from the Surface of the Ground: thou shalt die this Year, because thou hast spoken Apostacy against the Lord.

17. Accordingly the Prophet Hananiah died that Year, in the seventh Month.

C H A P. XXIX.

AND these are the Words of the Epistle which the Prophet Jeremiah sent from Jerusalem, to the rest of the Elders that were carried away, to the Priests, Prophets, and all the People, whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away from Jerusalem to Babylon;

2. After King Jechoniah, with the Queen and Eunuchs, the Princes of Judah and Jerusalem, as also the Carpenters and Smiths, were gone out of Jerusalem;

3. By the Hand of Elasah the Son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the Son of Hilkiyah, whom Zedekiah King of Judah sent to Babylon, to Nebuchadnezzar King of it, as follow:

4. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, to all that are carried away, whom I caused to be carried away from Jerusalem to Babylon:

Ver. 13. hast made] caused to be made, which Meaning thou shalt make destroys; and that the Yokes were already made the next Ver. shews, nay this Verb here is in the Preterite Tense.

5. Build Houses, and dwell; as likewise plant Gardens, and eat their Fruit.

6. Take Wives, and beget Sons and Daughters; take Wives also for your Sons, and give your Daughters to Husbands, that they may bear Sons and Daughters; thus increase there, and be not lessened.

7. Moreover endeavour for the Prosperity of the City, whither I have caused you to be carried away, and pray for it to the Lord; because in the Prosperity of that you shall have it.

8. For thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Let not your Prophets who are amongst you, and your Diviners deceive you; nor do ye hearken to your Dreams which ye cause to be dreamed:

9. Because they prophesy falsely to you in my Name; I have not sent them, says the Lord.

10. But when seventy Years are fulfilled at Babylon, as the Lord says, I will visit you, and confirm my good Word concerning you, by bringing you back to this Place.

11. For I know the Thoughts which I think concerning you, says the Lord; Thoughts of Prosperity, and not of Harm, to give you an End, and what is hoped for.

12. Then shall you call on me, and when you go, and pray to me, I will hearken to you.

13. And enquiring for me, you shall find, when you seek me with your whole Heart.

14. I will even be found by you, says the Lord, I will turn back your Captivity, and gather you from all the Nations and Places whither I have driven you, says the Lord; and will bring you back to the Place, from whence I have caused you to be carried away.

15. Though you say, The Lord has raised up Prophets for us at Babylon;

16. Yet thus says the Lord of Armies himself, concerning the King that sits on the Throne of David, and all the People that dwell in this City, your Brethren who are not gone out with you into Captivity;

17. Behold I will send against them the Sword, Famine and Pestilence, and make them like horrible Figs, which cannot be eat for the Badness.

18. And I will not only pursue after them with the Sword, Famine and Pestilence, but will deliver them to Disturbance in all the Kingdoms of the Earth, to be a Curse, an Astonishment, a Hissing and Reproach, in all Nations whither I shall drive them;

19. Forasmuch as they have not hearkened to my Words, says the Lord, which I sent to them by my Servants the Prophets, and that early, though you would not hearken, says the Lord.

20. Hear you therefore the Lord's Commission, all that are of the Captivity, whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon.

21. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the Son of Kolaiah, and Zedekiah the Son of Maaseiah, who prophesy Falsehood to you in my Name; Behold I will deliver them into the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and he shall slay them in your Sight:

22. And the following Curse shall be taken from them, by all those of the Captivity of Judah, who are at Babylon, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the King of Babylon roasted in the Fire.

23. Because they have done Vileness in Israel, having committed Adultery with their Neighbours Wives, and spoken a false Commission in my Name, which I did not command them; I both know, and am a Witness, says the Lord.

24. And to Shemaiah the Nehelamite thou shalt say as follows:

25. Thus speaks the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, saying; Because thou hast sent Letters in thy own Name to all the People who are at Jerusalem, as well as to Zephaniah the Son of Maaseiah the Priest, and all the Priests, as follow:

26. The Lord has made thee Priest in the room of Jehoiada the Priest, for you to be Officers of the Lord's House, that when any Man is mad, and makes himself a Prophet, thou mayest put him in the Stocks, or in the Pillory.

27. Now therefore why dost not thou rebuke Jeremiah the Anathothite, who makes himself a Prophet to you?

28. By reason that he has sent Word to us at Babylon, It will be long; build Houses, and dwell; as likewise plant Gardens, and eat their Fruit.

29. And Zephaniah the Priest read this Letter in the Hearing of the Prophet Jeremiah;

30. Upon which Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission as follows:

31. Send Word to all that are of the Captivity; Thus says the Lord concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because Shemaiah has prophefied to you, though I did not fend him, and made you trust upon Falſhood ;

32. Therefore thus ſays the Lord, Behold I will puniſh Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his Offspring : he ſhall have no Man dwelling among this People, nor ſhall he ſee the Good which I will do for my People, ſays the Lord, becauſe he has ſpoken Apoſtacy againſt the Lord.

C H A P. XXX.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows :

2. Thus ſpeaks the Lord God of Iſrael, ſaying : Write thee all the Words which I ſpeak to thee in a Book.

3. For behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will bring back the Captivity of my People Iſrael and Judah, continues he, and will cauſe them to return to the Country which I gave their Forefathers, and they ſhall inherit it.

4. Theſe being the Words which the Lord ſpeaks concerning Iſrael and Judah :

5. For thus ſays the Lord ; We hear a Voice of Trembling, Dread, and not of Peace.

6. Ask now, and ſee whether a Man is in labour ! Why do I ſee every Man with his Hands upon his Loins like a Woman in labour, and all Faces changed into Paleneſs ?

7. Alas, for that Day is great, unparalleled by any ; it being a Time of Diſtreſs to Jacob, yet he ſhall be ſaved out of it.

8. And on that Day, ſays the Lord of Armies, I will break off the Yoke of it from thy Neck, and burſt thy Bonds ; inſomuch that Strangers ſhall make him ſerve no more.

9. But they ſhall ſerve the Lord their God, and David their King, whom I will raiſe up to them.

10. So do not thou fear, my Servant Jacob, ſays the Lord, nor be daunted, O Iſrael : for lo I will ſave thee from far off, and thy Offspring from the Country of their Captivity ; ſo that Jacob ſhall return, and reſt, and be quiet, none making afraid.

11. For I am with thee, ſays the Lord, to ſave thee : though I will make an entire End of all the Nations whither I diſperſe thee, yet I will not make an entire End of thee ; but will correct thee regularly, and not let thee be at all quit.

12. For thus ſays the Lord ; Thy Breach is mortal, thy Wound grievous.

13. There is none to plead thy Cauſe to be cured, thou haſt no Medicines of healing up.

14. All who loved thee have forgot thee, they do not ſeek thee ; becauſe I have ſmit-ten thee with the Wound of an Enemy, the Correction of a cruel one, for the Abundance of thy Iniquity, thy Sins being numerous.

15. Why doſt thou cry for thy Breach ? Thy Grief is mortal : for the Abundance of thy Iniquity, thy Sins being numerous, I have done theſe Things to thee.

16. Therefore all who conſume thee ſhall be conſumed, all thy Adverſaries ſhall every one of them go into Captivity, all who plunder thee ſhall become Plunder, and all who prey upon thee will I deliver for Prey.

17. For I will recover Health to thee, and heal thee of thy Wounds, ſays the Lord, though they call thee one driven away, that Zion whom none ſeeks for.

18. Thus ſays the Lord ; Lo I will bring back the Captivity of Jacob's Tents, and have compaſſion upon his Dwelling-places, the City too ſhall be built upon its own Heap, and the Palace abide in its own Manner.

19. And there ſhall come out of them Thankſgiving, and the Voice of thoſe who make themſelves merry : I will alſo multiply them, and they ſhall not be few ; as like- wiſe honour them, and they ſhall not be ſmall.

20. Beſides his Children ſhall be as in old Time, and his Aſſembly ſhall be eſtabliſhed before me ; who will puniſh all that oppreſs him.

21. Nay his noble one ſhall be of himſelf, and his Governor come out from within him ; whom I will bring near, and he ſhall approach to me : for who is it that has engaged his Heart to approach me ? ſays the Lord.

22. And you ſhall be a People to me, as I will a God to you.

23. Behold the raging Whirlwind of the Lord ſhall go forth, a continuing one ; it ſhall remain grievouſly upon the Head of the Wicked.

24. The fervent Anger of the Lord ſhall not return, till he has done it, and till he has confirmed the Thoughts of his Heart : in the latter Days you will conſider it.

Ver. 2. I ſpeak] particularly now ; as all the Annotators I have by me, who expound it, refer it to the following Words.

Ver. 8. of it] of the Day ; for whither can his be referred ?

Ver. 21. noble one] ſing, in Heb.

C H A P. XXXI.

AT that Time, says the Lord I will be a God to all the Families of Israel, as they shall a People to me.

2. Thus says the Lord, The People that remained from the Sword found Favour in the Wilderness, at my going to make Israel it self rest.

3. The Lord appeared to me from far, saying; I have even loved thee with an everlasting Love, therefore have I drawn thee with Kindness.

4. I will yet build thee, so that thou shalt be built up, O Virgin of Israel: thou shalt yet be decked with thy Timbrels, and go forth in the Dance of those who make themselves merry.

5. Thou shalt yet plant Vines on the Mountains of Samaria; the Planters shall not only plant, but make them common.

6. For there shall be a Day when the Keepers shall proclaim on Mount Ephraim, Arise, and let us go up Zion, to the Lord our God.

7. For thus says the Lord; Sing with Gladness for Jacob, shout joyfully in the chief of the Nations, publish, praise, and say, O Lord, save thy People, the Residue of Israel.

8. Behold I will cause them to come from the north Country, and gather them from the Sides of the Earth, the Blind and the Lame, she who is with Child, and she who is in labour being together among them: a great Company shall return hither.

9. They shall come with Weeping, and with Supplications will I bring them, I will make them go by Brooks of Water, in a straight Way wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a Father to Israel, and Ephraim he is my First-born.

10. Hear the Lord's Commission, O Nations, and declare in the Isles far off, and say, He who scatters Israel will gather him, and keep him as a Shepherd his Flock.

11. For the Lord redeems Jacob, and ransoms him from the Power of such as are too strong for him.

12. So shall they come, and sing on the Height of Zion, and assemble together to the Goodness of the Lord, for Wheat, Wine, Oil, and the young ones of the Flock and Herd; and their Soul shall be like a watered Garden, nay they shall sorrow again no more.

13. Then shall the Virgin be glad in the Dance, with young Men and old together; and I will turn their Mourning into Joy, I will comfort them, and make them glad from their Sorrow.

14. I will also water the Soul of the Priests with Fatness, and my People shall be satisfied with my Goodness, says the Lord.

15. Thus says the Lord, A Voice is heard at Ramah, Lamentation, very bitter Weeping, Rachel weeping for her Children; refusing to be comforted concerning them, because they are not.

16. Thus says the Lord, With-hold thy Voice from weeping, and thy Eyes from Tears: for there shall be a Reward to thy Work, says the Lord, and they shall return from the Country of the Enemy.

17. So there is Hope at thy End, says the Lord, that thy Children will return to their own Border.

18. I thoroughly hear Ephraim bemoaning himself; Thou hast chastised me, and I have been chastised like a Heifer untaught: bring me back, that I may be brought back, since thou art the Lord my God.

19. For after I was brought back, I repented; and after I was informed, I struck upon my Thigh: I was ashamed, and even in confusion, because I bore the Reproach of my Youth.

20. Is Ephraim a precious Son to me? Is he a Child of Delights? For since I spoke against him, I thoroughly remember him still: therefore my Bowels yern for him, I will thoroughly have compassion upon him, says the Lord.

21. Set thee up Monuments, make thee Spires, put thy Mind to the Road, the Way thou wentest: return, O Virgin of Israel, return to these thy Cities.

22. How long wilt thou withdraw thy self, O deserting Daughter? For the Lord creates a new Thing on the Earth, a Woman shall compass a Man.

23. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; They shall yet utter this Expression in the Country of Judah, and in the Cities of it, when I bring back their Captivity, The Lord bless thee, O righteous Habitation, O holy Mountain.

24. And there shall dwell in Judah it self, and all the Cities of it together, Husbandmen, and such as march with a Herd.

25. For I water the tired Soul, and fill every sorrowful Soul.

26. Whereupon I awaked, and looked, my Sleep having been sweet to me.

27. Lo the Days are coming, says the Lord, when I will sow the Family of Israel and that of Judah, with the Seed both of Man and Beast.

28. And according as I have watched over them, to pluck up, break down, demolish, destroy, and hurt; so will I watch over them, to build up, and plant, says the Lord.

29. In those Days they shall no more say, The Fathers did eat Grapes which were not ripe, and the Children's Teeth are set on edge:

30. But each shall die for his own Iniquity: every Man's own Teeth, who eats Grapes which are not ripe, shall be set on edge.

31. Lo the Days are coming, says the Lord, when I will make a new Covenant with the Family of Israel, and that of Judah;

32. Not like the Covenant which I made with their Forefathers, at the Time I took hold of their Hand, to bring them out of the Country of Egypt (which Covenant of mine they broke, though I was married to them, says the Lord:)

33. But this shall be the Covenant which I will make with the Family of Israel after those Days, says the Lord; I will put my Law in their inward Part, and write it upon their Heart, and will be a God to them, as they shall a People to me.

34. And they shall teach no more each one his Neighbour, or each his Brother, that they should know the Lord: for they shall all know me, even from the least to the greatest of them, says the Lord; since I will forgive their Iniquity, and remember their Sin no more.

35. Thus says the Lord, who has made the Sun for a Light by Day, the Ordinances of the Moon and Stars for Light at Night, who breaks the Sea when the Waves of it are boisterous, whose Name is the Lord of Armies;

36. If these Ordinances depart from before me, says the Lord, the Offspring of Israel shall also cease from being a Nation before me at all Times.

37. Thus says the Lord, If the Heaven above can be measured, and the Foundations of the Earth below searched out, I will also reject the whole Offspring of Israel for all that they have done, says the Lord.

38. Lo the Days are coming, says the Lord, when the City shall be built to the Lord, from the Tower of Hananeel to the Corner-gate.

39. And a Measuring-line shall yet go forth before it upon the Hill Gareb, and turn about to Goath.

40. To conclude, all the Vale of the Carcases and Ashes, and all the Fields to the Brook Kidron, to the Corner of the Horse-gate eastward, shall be holy to the Lord: it shall not be plucked up, nor demolished any more for ever.

C H A P. XXXII.

A COMMISSION that Jeremiah had from the Lord in the tenth Year of Zedekiah King of Judah, which was the eighteenth Year of Nebuchadrezzar.

2. At which time the King of Babylon's Army laid siege against Jerusalem, and the Prophet Jeremiah was shut up in the Court of the Prison, which was at the King of Judah's House.

3. Whom Zedekiah King of Judah had shut up, saying; Why dost thou prophesy, that the Lord says thus? Behold I will deliver this City into the Power of the King of Babylon, who shall take it;

4. And Zedekiah King of Judah shall not escape out of the Power of the Chaldeans, but shall wholly be given into that of the King of Babylon, whose Mouth his Mouth shall speak with, and whose Eyes his Eyes shall see;

5. He shall also carry Zedekiah to Babylon, where he shall be till I visit him, says the Lord: though you fight with the Chaldeans, you shall not prosper.

6. And Jeremiah said: I had the Lord's Commission as follows;

7. Behold Hanameel the Son of Shallum thy Uncle will come to thee, saying, Buy thee my Field which is at Anathoth, for the Right of Redemption is thine to buy it.

8. So Hanameel my Uncle's Son came to me into the Court of the Prison, according to the Lord's Commission, and said to me, Do buy my Field that is at Anathoth, which is in the Country of Benjamin: for both the Right of Inheritance, and the Redemption are thine; buy it for thy self. Then I knew that it was the Lord's Commission.

Ver. 32. though I was married to them] At a loss, I don't doubt, for the Meaning of the Heb. here, as being various, and but seldom used, the Gr. Translator rendered and I neglected them, which the Apostle quoted Heb. viii. 9. putting perhaps that Sense to בני from בני rather than בני less known, though Grotius would have the last be the true original Word.

Ver. 33. after] which belongs to the foregoing, and Vol. II.

not to the following; as may be seen both by the Heb. Pointing, and by the Quotation of it in Heb. viii. 10.

Ver. 40. Fields] Com. Lat. Country of Death, by the Author's following the marginal Reading, and interpreting the Word as two.

Ver. 5. visit him] probably by Death; see Chap. xxxiv. 5. & lii. 11.

9. Accordingly I bought the Field which was at Anathoth, of Hanameel my Uncle's Son, and weighed the Money to him, seventeen Shekels of Silver.

10. I further signed and sealed the Writing, and had Witnesses to testify, when I weighed the Money in the Scales.

11. Next I took the Writing of the Purchase, that which was sealed by the Commandment and Statutes, and that which was published.

12. And I delivered the Writing of the Purchase to Baruch, the Son of Neriah, the Son of Mahseiah, both in the Sight of Hanameel my Uncle's Son, and of the Witnesses that signed the Writing of the Purchase, in the Sight of all the Jews who sat in the Court of the Prison.

13. And I commanded Baruch in their Sight as follows:

14. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Take these Writings, both this Writing of the Purchase that is sealed, and this other which is published, and put them in an earthen Vessel, that they may remain many Days.

15. For thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, Houses, Fields and Vineyards, shall yet be purchased in this Country.

16. And I prayed to the Lord, after I had delivered the Writing of the Purchase to Baruch the Son of Neriah, as follows:

17. Ah Sovereign Lord, behold thou hast made the Heaven and Earth by thy great Power, and thy Arm stretched out; there is not any Thing too wonderful for thee:

18. Shewing Kindness to Thousands, and recompensing the Iniquity of the Fathers into the Bosom of their Children after them; the Great Powerful God, his Name being the Lord of Armies.

19. Great in Counsel, and grand in Action, whose Eyes are open on all the Ways of Mankind, to give to each according to his own Ways, and the Fruit of his Deeds.

20. Who has put Signs and Miracles in the Country of Egypt till this Time, in Israel, and among Men; so that thou hast made thee such a Name, as there is at present.

21. And thou broughtest thy People Israel out of the Country of Egypt, with Signs, Miracles, a strong Hand, an Arm stretched out, and great Fear.

22. Thou also gavest them this Country, which thou hadst sworn to their Forefathers that thou wouldest give them, a Country flowing with Milk and Honey.

23. But when they were entered in; and inherited it, they did not hearken to what thou saidst, nor go in thy Law, they have not done whatever thou didst command them to do: therefore hast thou made all this Adversity befall them.

24. Lo there are Ramparts, they are come to the City to take it, nay the City is delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans who fight against it, by reason of the Sword, Famine and Pestilence: so that what thou hast spoken is come to pass, and behold thou seest it.

25. Yet thou hast said to me, O Sovereign Lord, Buy thee the Field with Money, and have Witnesses to testify; when the City is delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans.

26. Upon this Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission as follows:

27. Behold I am the Lord, the God of all Flesh; is any Thing too wonderful for me?

28. Therefore thus says the Lord; Behold I will deliver this City into the Power of the Chaldeans, and into that of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, so that he shall take it.

29. And the Chaldeans who fight against this City shall come, and set this City on fire, burning it, with the Houses upon whose Roofs they offer incense to Baal, and pour out Drink-offerings to other gods, that they may provoke me:

30. Because the Israelites, and People of Judah, have done only what I was displeased with from their Youth; because the Israelites have only provoked me with the Work of their Hands, says the Lord:

31. Because this City has been to me for my Anger and Wrath, even from the Time that they built it to this Time, that I might put it away from before me;

32. For all the Evil of the Israelites and the People of Judah, which they themselves have done to provoke me, their Kings, Princes, Priests and Prophets, with the Men of Judah, and Inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33. And they have turned to me the Back, and not the Face; nay though I taught them, and that early, they did not hearken to receive Instruction.

34. But have put their Abominations in the House which is called by my Name, to defile it.

35. Besides they have built the Chapels of Baal, which are in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to make their Sons and Daughters pass through the Fire to Molech, which I did not command them, nor did it come into my Mind, that they should do this Abomination, in order to make Judah sin.

36. And now therefore thus says the Lord God of Israel, concerning the City of which you say, It will be delivered into the Power of the King of Babylon, by the Sword, Famine and Pestilence;

37. Behold I will gather them from all Countries, whither I drive them in my Anger, my Wrath, and in great Fury; and will bring them back to this Place, making them dwell securely.

38. And they shall be a People to me, as I will a God to them.

39. Moreover I will give them one Heart, and one Way, to fear me at all Times, for their own Good, and their Children's after them.

40. And I will make an everlasting Covenant with them, that I will not turn back from following them to do them good; but will put my Fear in their Heart, that they may not depart from me.

41. Nay I will be joyful for them to do them good, and will truly plant them in this Country, with my whole Heart and Soul.

42. For thus says the Lord; According as I have brought all this great Harm on this People, so will I bring upon them all the Good which I speak concerning them.

43. And Fields shall be bought in this Country, of which you say, It is desolate without Man or Beast, is delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans.

44. They shall buy Fields for Money, sign and seal Writings, and have Witnesses to testify in the Country of Benjamin, the Places round about Jerusalem, and the Cities of Judah, with those of the Mountains, of the Vales, and of the South: for I will bring back their Captivity, says the Lord.

C H A P. XXXIII.

AND Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission again, while he was yet shut up in the Court of the Prison, as follows:

2. Thus says the Lord the Maker of it, the Lord that formed it to establish it, whose Name is the Lord,

3. Call to me, and I will answer thee, and tell thee great and reserved Things, which thou dost not know.

4. For thus says the Lord God of Israel, concerning the Houses of this City and those of the Kings of Judah, that are broke down by the Ramparts and the Sword;

5. Though coming to fight with the Chaldeans, is but to fill them with the dead Bodies of Men, whom I slay in my Anger and Wrath, and for all whose Wickedness I hid my Face from this City.

6. Behold I will bring on it Health and Healing, and will heal them, as also reveal to them Plenty of Prosperity and Truth.

7. For I will bring back the Captivity of Judah and that of Israel, and will build them up as at first.

8. And I will cleanse them from all their Iniquity by which they sin against me, as well as forgive all their Iniquities by which they have both sinned and transgressed against me.

9. Which shall be for me a Name of Joy, a Praise, and Glory to all the Nations of the Earth; that shall hear all the Good which I do to them, nay shall be afraid and tremble, for all the Good and Prosperity which I perform for them.

10. Thus says the Lord; There shall yet be heard in this Place (of which you say, It is waste, without Man or even Beast) both in the Cities of Judah and the Streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate without either Man, Inhabitant or Beast;

11. The Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride, the Voice of those who say, Praise the Lord of Armies, because the Lord is good, since his Kindness is for ever; of such as bring Thank-offerings to the House of the Lord: for I will bring back the Captivity of the Country as at first, says the Lord.

12. Thus says the Lord of Armies; There shall be yet in this Place that is waste, both without Man and Beast, and at all the Cities of it, a Habitation of Shepherds who make the Flocks lie down.

13. At the Cities of the Mountains, those of the Vales and of the South, as also in the Country of Benjamin, the Places round about Jerusalem, and at the Cities of Judah, shall the Flocks yet pass by the Hands of him that numbers them, says the Lord.

14. Behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when I will confirm the good Matter which I speak, to the Family of Israel and that of Judah.

15. In those Days, and at that Time I will make a righteous Sprout grow to David, who shall do Judgment and Righteousness in the Country.

16. In those Days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem dwell securely; and this is what it shall be called by, The Lord is our Righteousness.

17. For thus says the Lord; There shall not fail to David a Man sitting upon the Throne of the Family of Israel.

18. Nor shall there fail to the Priests, the Levites, a Man from before me, offering up Burnt-offerings, burning Meat-offerings, and performing Sacrifices at all Times.

19. Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission further as follows:

20. Thus says the Lord; If you can make void my Covenant of Day, and that of Night, so that there shall not be Day and Night in their Time;

21. My Covenant may also be made void with my Servant David, for him not to have a Son reigning upon his Throne, and with the Levites, the Priests, my Ministers.

22. As the Army of Heaven cannot be counted, nor the Sand of the Sea measured; so will I multiply the Offspring of my Servant David, and the Levites who minister to me.

23. Moreover Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission as follows:

24. Dost not thou mind what this People speaks, namely, The two Families which the Lord chose, even them does he reject? so they condemn my People from being any more a Nation before them.

25. Thus says the Lord; If my Covenant is not for Day and Night, if I did not appoint the Ordinances of Heaven and Earth;

26. Then will I reject the Offspring of Jacob and David my Servant, not to take Governors of his Offspring, for the Offspring of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob: for I will bring back their Captivity, and have compassion upon them.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord, when Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, with all the People of his whole Army, and all the Kingdoms of the Earth in the Dominion of his Hand, fought against Jerusalem and all its Cities, was as follows:

2. Thus says the Lord God of Israel; Go, and speak to Zedekiah King of Judah, telling him the Lord says thus; Behold I will deliver this City into the Power of the King of Babylon, who shall burn it with Fire.

3. And thou shalt not escape from his Power, but shalt be actually taken, and delivered into it; so that thy Eyes shall see the King of Babylon's Eyes, his Mouth shall speak with thy Mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon.

4. Yet hear the Lord's Commission, O Zedekiah King of Judah, concerning whom the Lord says thus; Thou shalt not die by the Sword.

5. Thou shalt die in Peace, and with the Burnings of thy Fathers, the former Kings who were before thee; so shall they burn for thee, and lament for thee, Ah Lord: for I speak the Word, says the Lord.

6. Accordingly the Prophet Jeremiah spoke to Zedekiah King of Judah, all these Words in Jerusalem;

7. When the King of Babylon's Army fought against Jerusalem, and all the Cities of Judah that were left, even Lachish and Azekah: for those fortified Cities remained of the Cities of Judah.

8. A Commission which Jeremiah had from the Lord, after King Zedekiah made a Covenant with all the People who were at Jerusalem, to proclaim Liberty to them,

9. That each Person should let his Servant-man and Maid, being a Hebrew Man and Woman, go away free, that no Person should make those serve who were Jews his Brethren.

10. For when all the Princes and People who entered into the Covenant, heard that each Person should let his Servant-man and Maid go away free, that no Person should make them serve any more, they obeyed, and let them go away.

11. But after that they made the Servant-men and Maids, whom they had let go away free, return again, and brought them into subjection for Servant-men and Maids.

Ver. 16. The Lord is] For a Place could not be the Lord.

Ver. 24. this People] which I understand to be the Gentiles, as at Ver. 9.

Laert. in Vit.*

12. Upon which Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission from him as follows :

13. Thus says the Lord God of Israel ; I made the following Covenant with your Forefathers, at the Time I brought them out of the Country of Egypt, out of the Place of being Servants ;

14. At the Term of seven Years, you shall each let his Brother being a Hebrew, who has been sold to thee, go away, even when he has served thee six Years shalt thou let him go away free from thee ; but your Forefathers did not hearken to me, nor incline their Ear.

15. And whereas you were returned now, and did what I approved of, in proclaiming Liberty each to his Neighbour, and made a Covenant before me in the House which is called by my Name ;

16. You are turned back, and have profaned my Name, for you have each Person made his Servant-man and Maid, whom you had let go away free according to their Desire, return again, and have brought them into Subjection, to become Servant-men and Maids to you.

17. Therefore thus says the Lord ; As you do not hearken to me, in proclaiming Liberty each Person to his Brother and Neighbour, behold I proclaim Liberty to you, says the Lord, to the Sword, Pestilence and Famine, and will deliver you to Disturbance in all the Kingdoms of the Earth.

18. And I will deliver the Men that have transgressed my Covenant, who have not confirmed the Words of the Covenant which they made before me, by the Calf that they cut in two, and passed between the Pieces of it ;

19. Even the Princes of Judah and those of Jerusalem, the Eunuchs, Priests, and all the People of the Country, who passed between the Pieces of the Calf,

20. Will I deliver into the Power of their Enemies, and into the Power of such as seek their Life : so that their dead Bodies shall become Food for the Fowls of the Air, and the Beasts of the Earth.

21. And Zedekiah King of Judah, with his Princes, will I deliver into the Power of their Enemies, and into the Power of such as seek their Life, even into that of the King of Babylon's Army who are gone up from you.

22. Behold I will command, says the Lord, and make them return to this City, which they shall not only fight against, but take, and burn with Fire ; the Cities of Judah will I also make desolate without an Inhabitant.

C H A P. XXXV.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord, in the Time of Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah, was as follows,

2. Go to the Family of the Rechabites, and speak to them, and bringing them to the House of the Lord into one of the Rooms, give them Wine to drink.

3. Accordingly I took Jaazaniah, the Son of Jeremiah, the Son of Habaziniab, together with his Brethren, all his Sons, and the whole Family of the Rechabites.

4. Whom I brought to the House of the Lord, into the Room of the Sons of Hanan, the Son of Igdaiah, a Man of God ; which was by the Room of the Princes, that was above the Room of Maaseiah, the Son of Shallum, the Keeper of the Door.

5. And I put before the Sons of the Family of the Rechabites Pots full of Wine, and Cups, bidding them drink Wine.

6. But they said : We will not drink Wine, for Jonadab the Son of Rechab our Father commanded us thus ; You shall not drink Wine, your selves nor your Children for ever ;

7. Neither shall you build House, sow Seed, plant Vineyard, nor have it ; but shall dwell in Tents all your Days, that you may live many Days upon the Surface of the Ground where you are Strangers.

8. And we have hearkened to what Jehonadab the Son of Rechab our Father said, in all that he commanded us ; not drinking Wine in all our Days, our selves, our Wives, Sons or Daughters ;

9. Nor building Houses for us to dwell in, nor having Vineyard, Field or Seed ;

10. And have dwelt in Tents, hearkening and doing according to all that Jonadab our Father commanded us.

11. But when Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon came up into the Country, we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem, by reason of the Army of the Chaldeans, and of that of the Syrians : so we dwell in Jerusalem.

12. Then had Jeremiah the Lord's Commission as follows ;

Ver. 14. Term] See Exod. xxi. 2. Dent. xv. 12. Perhaps it was any Time in the 7th Year, as they let their Land then lie still, and had Little for the Servants to do.

Ver. 4. 10] for which the Heb. has Nothing but the Verb, as in Gen. x. 11. but in for into following.

VOL. II.

Ver. 8. Jehonadab] as it is in the Heb. here, &c.

Ib. not drinking Wine] From the Beginning of the Reign of Jehu, when we read of this Jehonadab, 2 King. x. 15. to the Beginning of Jehoiakim's Reign, is by the Chron. Tab. 283 Years.

13. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the Men of Judah, and the Inhabitants of Jerusalem; Will you not receive Instruction, by hearkening to my Words? says the Lord.

14. The Words of Jehonadab the Son of Rechab, with which he commanded his Children not to drink Wine, are confirmed; since they do not drink it to this Day, but hearken to their Father's Commandment: whereas I have spoken to you, and that early, yet ye have not hearkened to me;

15. And have sent to you all my Servants the Prophets, and that early, to say, Return now each from his evil Way, let your Deeds be good, and go not after other gods to serve them, so shall ye dwell in the Country which I gave you and your Fathers; nevertheless ye have not inclined your Ear, nor hearkened to me.

16. Since the Children of Jehonadab the Son of Rechab have confirmed their Father's Commandment which he enjoined them, and this People has not hearkened to me;

17. Therefore thus says the Lord God of Armies, the God of Israel; Behold I will bring on Judah, and all the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, the whole Adversity which I have spoken against them; because I have spoken to them, and they would not hearken, as likewise called to them, and they would not answer.

18. Besides Jeremiah said to the Family of the Rechabites; Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, Because ye have hearkened to the Commandment of your Father Jehonadab, observed all his Precepts, and done entirely as he commanded you;

19. Therefore thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, There shall not fail to Jonadab the Son of Rechab, a Man standing before me at all Times.

AND in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah, Jeremiah had this following Commission from the Lord;

2. Take thee a Volume of a Book, and write in it all the Things which I have spoken to thee, against Israel, Judah and all Nations, from the Time I spoke to thee in the Days of Josiah to this Time.

3. Perhaps the Family of Judah will regard all the Ill which I intend to do to them, that they may return each from his evil Way, and I may forgive their Iniquity and Sin.

4. Then Jeremiah called Baruch the Son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote from Jeremiah's Mouth all the Words which the Lord had spoken to him, in the Volume of the Book.

5. And Jeremiah commanded Baruch thus; I am shut up, I cannot go to the House of the Lord.

6. So go thou, and read in the Volume which thou hast written from my Mouth, the Words of the Lord in the Hearing of the People, at the Lord's House, on the Day of Fasting; and thou shalt also read them in the Hearing of all Judah, who come from their Cities.

7. Perhaps they will fall down with their Supplication before the Lord, and return from their respective evil Ways: for great is the Anger and Wrath, with which the Lord speaks concerning this People.

8. And Baruch the Son of Neriah did according to all that the Prophet Jeremiah commanded him, by reading the Words of the Lord in the Book at the Lord's House.

9. For in the fifth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah, in the ninth Month, they proclaiming a Fast before the Lord for

Ver. 17. would not hearken] But if they had not heard, as in the vulg. Transf. would not they have been excusable?

Ver. 4. Baruch wrote] See with this Chap. xlv.

Ver. 5. I am shut up] Forbid to go from home by the King, Grot. to which Jun. and Trem. add the Excommunication of the Priests, and the Command of God; and to the last may be subjoin'd, as Paul, Act. xx. 22.

Ver. 9. For] Usher and Prideaux hold that Baruch read those Words twice in the Temple: the first time as is pleaded in the 4th Year of Jehoiakim, Ver. 1. but the Text only informs us that the Lord then communicated the Matter to Jeremiah, after which there must be some Time for writing the whole, next it was not to be read till the Fast-day; so that there was Time enough for the Day of the King's Inauguration to the Throne to come between, which would make it be in two different Years. The other Reason given is, that Jeremiah was shut up the former Time, Ver. 5. and at Liberty to hide the latter, Ver. 26. whereas the first might well be before the Fast, when Jeremiah said so of himself, and the last at it; but the Shutting up does not appear to be Imprisonment, but rather a Prohibition to go to the Temple. On the other hand Baruch's reading it in the 5th Year, on the Fast as he was ordered at first, the Improbability of its being suffered to be so publicly read a second time, and the Novelty of it to all the Princes in the ninth Month of the fifth Year, Ver. 12, 16, 22. with no Command for reading it twice, are Circumstances for its being but once read, which I presume will not be so easily answered. Trem. and Jun. also translate enim, for; and tho' Lightfoot supposes it was done twice, yet not above two Months asunder, by the Year beginning between.

1b. ninth] Since there was no other constant Fast ordered by the Law, but that on the tenth of the seventh Month, Lev. xxiii. 4, 27. nor appears to have been kept before the Captivity; consequently they were religious, or hypocritical, enough to make this Fast: notwithstanding in the Universal History, B. I. Chap. vii. 7. by consulting Ver. 22. and not this, it is supposed to be the Fast first mentioned, and Something framed to make up the intermediate Time of about two Months, from the Book being read at the Temple and to the King; which latter seems to have been done the next Day.

all the People in Jerusalem, and all those who came from the Cities of Judah thither ;

10. Baruch read in the Book, the Words of Jeremiah at the Lord's House, in the Room of Gemariah the Son of Shaphan the Scribe, in the uppermost Court, at the Entrance of the new Gate of the Lord's House, in the Hearing of all the People.

11. But when Michaiah the Son of Gemariah, the Son of Shaphan, had heard all the Words of the Lord from the Book ;

12. He went down to the King's House into the Scribe's Room, and behold all the Princes were sitting there, Elishama the Scribe, Delaiah the Son of Shemaiah, Elnathan the Son of Achbor, Gemariah the Son of Shaphan, Zedekiah the Son of Hananiah, and all the Princes ;

13. And Michaiah told them all the Things which he had heard, when Baruch read in the Book in the Hearing of the People.

14. Upon this all the Princes sent Jehudi, the Son of Nethaniah, the Son of Shelemiah, the Son of Cushi, to Baruch, that he should take in his Hand the Volume wherein he had read in the Hearing of the People, and come to them ; which Baruch the Son of Neriah did accordingly.

15. Then they said to him, Sit down now, and read it in our Hearing ; so Baruch did.

16. And when they heard all the Things, they were afraid one with another, and said to Baruch, We will thoroughly tell the King all these Things.

17. Besides they asked Baruch thus, Tell us now, how didst thou write all these Words from his Mouth ?

18. He pronounced, said Baruch to them, all these Words out of his Mouth to me, and I wrote them in the Book with Ink.

19. At which the Princes replied to Baruch, Go, thou and Jeremiah hide, and let no Man know where you are.

20. And they went into the Court to the King, having laid up the Volume in the Room of Elishama the Scribe, and told all the Things in the King's Hearing.

21. Who sent Jehudi to fetch the Volume, and when he had fetched it out of the Room of Elishama the Scribe, Jehudi read it in the Hearing of the King, and of all the Princes who stood beside him.

22. Now the King was sitting in the Winter-house in the ninth Month, and there being a Fire burning on the Hearth before him ;

23. As soon as Jehudi had read three or four Leaves, he mangled it with a Scribe's Pen-knife, and threw it into the Fire which was on the Hearth, till the whole Volume was consumed in the same.

24. Neither was the King, or any of his Servants, who heard all these Words afraid, nor tore their Garments.

25. And Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah did also interceed with the King, not to burn the Volume, yet he would not hearken to them.

26. On the contrary the King commanded Jerahmeel the Son of Hammelech, Seraiah the Son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Jeremiah the Prophet ; but the Lord hid them.

27. Nevertheless Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission, after the King had burnt the Volume, with the Words which Baruch wrote from his Mouth, as follows :

28. Take thee again another Volume, and write in it all the former Words that were in the first Volume, which Jehoiakim King of Judah has burnt.

29. Concerning whom thou shalt declare ; Thou hast burnt, as the Lord says, this Volume, saying, Why didst thou write in it, that the King of Babylon will actually come, destroy this Country, and make Man and Beast cease from it ?

30. Therefore thus says the Lord concerning Jehoiakim King of Judah ; He shall have none sitting upon the Throne of David, his dead Body shall also be cast to the Heat in the Day, and to the Frost in the Night.

31. I will not only punish him, but his Offspring and Servants for their Iniquity, and will bring upon them, the Inhabitants of Jerusalem and Men of Judah, all the Ill which I have spoken to them, and they would not hearken.

32. Jeremiah accordingly took another Volume, and gave it to Baruch the Son of Neriah the Scribe, who wrote in it from Jeremiah's Mouth, all the Words of the Book which Jehoiakim King of Judah had burnt in the Fire ; and there were yet added to them many such Words as those.

Ver. 18. Ink] Once for all I would just mention what Consideration is to be had in using some Concordances, by reason of the uncertain Spelling ; as this even in the Cambridge one is ynk under y, and in Bibles of the *pres. C H A P. XXXVII.

AND when King Zedekiah the Son of Josiah, whom Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon made King in the Country of Judah, reigned in the room of Coniah the Son of Jehoiakim,

2. Neither he, his Servants, nor the People of the Country hearkened to the Words of the Lord, which he spoke by the Ministry of the Prophet Jeremiah.

3. However King Zedekiah sent Jehucal the Son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the Son of Maaseiah the Priest, to the Prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now for us to the Lord our God;

4. While Jeremiah went in and out among the People, they having not put him into the Prison-house.

5. When Pharaoh's Army was come out of Egypt, and the Chaldeans who laid siege to Jerusalem, hearing the News of them, went up from Jerusalem.

6. Whereupon the Prophet Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission as follows:

7. Thus, as the Lord God of Israel says, shall ye tell the King of Judah, who has sent you to me to enquire of me; Behold Pharaoh's Army that is come out for your Help, will return to Egypt its own Country.

8. And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fighting against this City, shall take it, and burn it with Fire.

9. Thus says the Lord; Do not deceive your selves, saying, The Chaldeans are quite gone from us; because they are not gone.

10. Nay if ye had smitten all the Army of the Chaldeans who fought with you, so that there remained but wounded Men among them, they should rise up in their several Tents, and burn this City with Fire.

11. Moreover when the Army of the Chaldeans went up from Jerusalem, by reason of Pharaoh's Army;

12. Jeremiah was going out of Jerusalem, to go to the Country of Benjamin, that he might part himself from being there among the People.

13. But when he was at the Gate of Benjamin, a chief Officer was there, whose Name was Irijah, the Son of Shelemiah, the Son of Hananiah, and he took the Prophet Jeremiah, saying, Thou art deserting to the Chaldeans.

14. And though Jeremiah said, It is false, I am not; he would not hearken to him: but Irijah took him, and brought him to the Princes.

15. Enraged therefore at Jeremiah, they beat him, and put him into the House of Confinement, that of Jehonathan the Scribe, for they made that the Prison-house.

16. When Jeremiah was come into the Dungeon-house, and into the Cells, and had abode there many Days;

17. King Zedekiah sent, and fetching him, the King asked him privately in his House, whether there was any Commission from the Lord? And Jeremiah answered, Yes, adding, Thou wilt be delivered into the Power of the King of Babylon.

18. Besides Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah; How have I offended thee, thy Servants, or this People, that you have put me into the Prison-house?

19. And where are your Prophets who prophesied to you, that the King of Babylon would not come against you, nor this Country?

20. Now therefore hear, I pray, my Lord O King, let me fall down, I pray, with Supplication before thee, and do not make me return to the House of Jehonathan the Scribe, lest I should die there.

21. So King Zedekiah commanded, that they should commit Jeremiah to the Court of the Prison, and give him a Piece of Bread daily out of the Bakers Street, till all the Bread was consumed out of the City. Thus Jeremiah abode in the Court of the Prison.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

AND Shephatiah the Son of Mattan, Gedaliah the Son of Pashur, Jucal the Son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the Son of Malchiah heard the following Words which Jeremiah had spoken to all the People;

2. Thus says the Lord, He that abides in this City shall die by the Sword, Famine or Pestilence; but he who goes forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and shall have his Life for Spoil, that he may live.

3. Thus says the Lord, This City shall be wholly delivered into the Power of the King of Babylon's Army, which shall take it.

4. Therefore the Princes said to the King, Let this Man, we pray, be put to death; for by reason of this he makes the Hands of the Warriors who are left in this City slack, and the Hands of all the People, by speaking these Words to them: for this Man does not endeavour for the Prosperity of this People, but the Adversity.

Ver. 7. will return] not shall, because they were blamed and punished for it, Ezek. xxix. 6, 7, 8.

Ver. 10. Nay] so Nold. in Heb. Part. For having Nothing to do here.

5. And King Zedekiah said, Behold he is in your Power, for there is no King can be capable of any thing with you.

6. So they took Jeremiah, and cast him into the Dungeon of Malchiah the Son of Hammelech, which was in the Court of the Prison, letting him down with Cords; and there being no Water in the Dungeon but Mire, Jeremiah sunk in the Mire.

7. But when Ebed-melech a Cushite Man, an Eunuch who was in the King's House, heard that they had put Jeremiah into the Dungeon, the King sitting at the Gate of Benjamin;

8. Ebed-melech went out of the King's House, and spoke thus to him;

9. My Lord O King, these Men have done ill, in all that they have done to the Prophet Jeremiah, whom they have cast into the Dungeon, and he will die where he is for Hunger, since there is no more Bread in the City.

10. At this the King ordered Ebed-melech the Cushite, that he should take along with him from thence thirty Men, and get up the Prophet Jeremiah out of the Dungeon, before he was dead.

11. Accordingly he took the Men along with him, and going into the King's House under the Treasury, took from thence old Rags and old Things worn out, and let them down with Cords to Jeremiah, into the Dungeon.

12. To whom this Ebed-melech said, Put now the old Rags and Things worn out, under thy Arm-pits with the Cords; and Jeremiah did so.

13. Thus they drew Jeremiah with Cords, and got him up out of the Dungeon, and he abode in the Court of the Prison.

14. Then King Zedekiah sent, and fetched the Prophet Jeremiah to him, into the third Entry which was at the House of the Lord; and the King said to him, I will ask thee a Matter, do not conceal it from me.

15. Who saying to Zedekiah, When I tell thee, wilt not thou quite put me to death? And when I counsel thee, thou wilt not hearken to me;

16. King Zedekiah swore secretly to him thus, By the Lord's living, who made us this Soul, I will not put thee to death, nor deliver thee into the Power of these Men who seek thy Life.

17. Upon which Jeremiah said to him; Thus says the Lord God of Armies, the God of Israel; If thou wilt at all go out to the King of Babylon's Princes, thy Life shall be saved, and this City shall not be burnt with Fire; so both thou and thy Family will live.

18. But if thou wilt not go out to them, this City will be delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans, who will burn it with Fire, and thou wilt not escape from their Power.

19. And King Zedekiah answered Jeremiah, I am anxious about the Jews who are deserted to the Chaldeans, lest they should deliver me into their Power, and they should mock me.

20. They will not deliver thee, replied Jeremiah, hearken to what the Lord says, I pray, which I speak to thee; that it may be well with thee, and thy Life may be saved.

21. Whereas if thou refusest to go forth, this is the Matter which the Lord has shewn me;

22. That behold all the Women who are left in the King of Judah's House, shall be had out to the Princes of the King of Babylon, and they will say, The Men that were at peace with thee persuading thee, and prevailing over thee, thy Feet are sunk in the Dirt, they are turned backward.

23. They will not only have out all thy Wives and thy Children to the Chaldeans, but thou thyself wilt not escape from their Power: for thou wilt be taken by the Power of the King of Babylon, and wilt cause this City to be burnt with Fire.

24. Zedekiah however said to him: Let no Man know of these Things, and thou shalt not die.

25. And though the Princes should hear that I have talked with thee, and should come to thee, saying to thee, Tell us now what thou hast spoken to the King, conceal it not from us, and we will not put thee to death, as also what the King spoke to thee;

26. Do thou answer them, I prostrated my self with Supplication before the King, that he would not make me return to the House of Jehonathan to die there.

27. And all the Princes coming to Jeremiah, and asking him, he told them according to all these Words which the King had commanded: so they held their Peace to him, for the Matter was not understood.

28. Jeremiah afterwards abode in the Court of the Prison, till the Time that Jerusalem was taken, where he was when Jerusalem was taken.

C H A P. XXXIX.

IN the ninth Year of Zedekiah King of Judah, in the tenth Month, came Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon with all his Army to Jerusalem, and they laid siege against it.

2. In the eleventh Year of Zedekiah, on the Ninth of the fourth Month, the City was broke open.

3. And all the King of Babylon's Princes came in, and sate at the middle Gate, Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarfechim, Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the Residue of the Princes of the King of Babylon.

4. And as soon as Zedekiah King of Judah and all the Warriors saw them, they fled, and went out of the City by Night, the Way of the King's Garden, at the Gate between the two Walls, going out the Way of the Plain.

5. But the Army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the Plains of Jericho: whom having taken, they brought up to Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, at Riblah in the Country of Hamath, and he pronounced the Judgments on him.

6. Then the King of Babylon killed Zedekiah's Sons at Riblah in his Sight, he also killed all the Nobles of Judah.

7. Next he put out Zedekiah's Eyes, and bound him with Chains to carry him to Babylon.

8. Besides the Chaldeans burnt the King's House, and those of the People with Fire, and broke down the Walls of Jerusalem.

9. The rest of the People too that were left in the City and elsewhere, with the Deserters who had deserted to him, did Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard carry away to Babylon.

10. However some of the poor People, who had Nothing, he left in the Country of Judah, and gave them Vineyards and Fields at the same Time.

11. But Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon gave command concerning Jeremiah, by the Service of Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard, thus,

12. Take him, and put thy Eyes on him, that thou mayest do Nothing ill to him; but as he speaks to thee, so do with him.

13. Accordingly he himself, in conjunction with Nebushasban, Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezar, Rab-mag, and all the King of Babylon's Captains,

14. Sent, and took Jeremiah out of the Court of the Prison, and delivered him to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, that he might carry him out home: so he dwelt among the People.

15. Now Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission, while he was shut up in the Court of the Prison, as follows:

16. Go, and tell Ebed-melech the Cuthite, that the Lord of Armies the God of Israel says thus; Behold my Words shall come to pass on this City for Ill, and not for Good, and they shall be before thee at that Time.

17. But at the same Time I will rescue thee, says the Lord, and thou shalt not be given into the Power of the Men of whose Face thou art afraid.

18. For I will thoroughly deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the Sword, but shalt have thy Life for Spoil, because thou hast trusted in me, says the Lord.

C H A P. XL.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord, after Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard let him go from Ramah, follows; who, when he had taken him, and he was bound in Fetters among all those of the Captivity of Jerusalem and Judah, that were carried away to Babylon,

2. Fetched Jeremiah, and said to him; The Lord thy God spoke this Adversity to this Place;

3. And the Lord has brought it, and done according as he spoke: because ye sinned against the Lord, and did not hearken to what he said, therefore this Thing is come to pass on you.

4. And now behold I release thee to Day from the Fetters which have been upon thy Hand; if thou likest to go with me to Babylon, do, and I will look to thee; but if thou dislikest to go with me to Babylon, refrain: see the whole Country is before thee; go whither thou likest, and approvest of, to go.

5. Who being not yet returned, he said, Return then to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, whom the King of Babylon has set over the Cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the People, or go where-ever thou pleasest to go. So the Captain of the Guard gave him Provision and a Present, and let him go.

6. Jeremiah accordingly went to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam at Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the People that were left in the Country.

7. All the Princes themselves likewise of the Forces who were in the Field, and their Men, hearing that the King of Babylon had set Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam over the Country, and that he had committed to him the Men, Women and Children, and those of the Poor of the Country, who were not carried away to Babylon;

8. Came to Gedaliah at Mizpah, namely Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the Sons of Kareah, Seraiah the Son of Tanhumeth, the Sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the Son of a Maachathite, with their Men.

9. To whom Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, swore thus; Be not afraid of serving the Chaldeans, dwell in the Country, and serve the King of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

10. As for me, behold I will dwell at Mizpah, to attend before the Chaldeans who will come to us: as for you, gather Wine, Summer-fruit and Oil, and put into your Vessels, dwelling in your Cities which you have taken.

11. And when all the Jews too who were in Moab, among the Ammonites, in Edom, and those who were in any of the Countries, heard that the King of Babylon had placed in Judah such as were left, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan;

12. They all returned from all the Places whither they were driven, and came into the Country of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, gathering Wine and Summer-fruit very much.

13. And Johanan the Son of Kareah, with all the Princes of the Forces who were in the Field, came to Gedaliah at Mizpah,

14. Saying to him, Dost thou know at all, that Baalis King of the Ammonites has sent Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah, to take away thy Life? But Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam would not believe them.

15. And Johanan the Son of Kareah saying thus to Gedaliah at Mizpah secretly, Do let me go and slay Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah, and no Man shall know it: why should he take away thy Life, that all the Jews who are gathered to thee may be dispersed, and the Residue of Judah perish?

16. Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam said to him, Thou shalt not do this Thing, for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

C H A P. XLI.

HOWEVER in the seventh Month, Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah, the Son of Elishama, one of the royal Family, having with him ten of the King's chief Men, came to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam at Mizpah; where as they were eating Victuals together,

2. He and they rose up, and smote Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan with the Sword, and killed him, whom the King of Babylon had set over the Country.

3. All the Jews likewise that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, the Warriors did Ishmael slay.

4. Moreover the second Day of his killing Gedaliah, when no Man knew it,

5. There came fourscore Men from Shechem, Shilo and Samaria, with the Beard shaved, the Garments torn, having cut themselves, with an Offering and Frankincense in their Hand, to bring to the House of the Lord.

6. And Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah went out of Mizpah to meet them, going along weeping as he went, and when he met them, he said to them, Come to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam.

7. But when they were come within the City, he himself, and the Men that were with him, killed them, throwing them into the midst of a Pit.

8. Nevertheless ten Men being found among them, who said to Ishmael, Do not kill us, because we have Treasures in the Field of Wheat, Barley, Oil and Honey; he refrained, and did not kill them among their Brethren.

9. And the Pit wherein Ishmael threw all the dead Bodies of the Men, whom he slew at the Side of Gedaliah, was the same that King Asa made by reason of Baasha King of Israel, which Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah filled with the Slain.

10. Then Ishmael took all the Residue of the People Prisoners that were at Mizpah, the King's Daughters, as well as all the People that were left there, whom Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard had committed to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam; those Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah having taken Prisoners, went to pass to the Ammonites.

11. But Johanan the Son of Kareah, and all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, hearing of all the Evil that he had done;

12. Took all the Men, and went to fight with Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah, whom they found at the great Water which is in Gibeon.

13. And when all the People that were with Ishmael saw Johanan the Son of Kareah, and all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, they were glad.

14. So all the People that Ishmael had taken Prisoners from Mizpah turned about, and went back again to Johanan the Son of Kareah.

15. Ishmael himself however escaped with eight Men from the Face of Johanan, and went to the Ammonites.

16. Afterwards Johanan the Son of Kareah, and all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, took from Mizpah all the Residue of the People that he had recovered from Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah, after he had slain Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Men that were Warriors, with the Women, Children and Eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon.

17. And they went, and abode at the Lodging-place of Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, that they might go to enter into Egypt;

18. By reason of the Chaldeans, since they were afraid by reason of them, because Ishmael the Son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, whom the King of Babylon had set over the Country.

C H A P. XLII.

AND there came nigh all the Princes of the Forces, with Johanan the Son of Kareah, Jezaniah the Son of Hoshaiah, and all the People from the least to the greatest,

2. Saying to the Prophet Jeremiah; Let us fall now with Supplication before thee, and pray for us to the Lord thy God, for all this Residue, since we are left a few out of many, as thy Eyes see us:

3. That the Lord thy God may tell us the Way in which we should go, and the Thing which we should do.

4. To whom the Prophet Jeremiah said, I hear, behold I will pray to the Lord your God according to your Words; and what thing soever the Lord answers you, I will tell you, and with-hold nothing from you.

5. And they replied to Jeremiah; The Lord be a true and faithful Witness with us, whether we do not act entirely so as the Matter is, with which the Lord thy God sends thee to us.

6. Whether it be good or ill, we will hearken to what the Lord our God says, to whom we send thee; in order that it may be well with us, when we do thus.

7. And at the End of ten Days Jeremiah having the Lord's Commission,

8. Called to Johanan the Son of Kareah, to all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, and all the People from the least to the greatest,

9. And said to them: Thus says the Lord God of Israel, to whom you sent me to prostrate my self with your Supplication before him;

10. If you will at all abide in this Country, I will build you up, and not pull down, as also plant you, and not pluck up; since I am sorry for the Ill which I have done to you.

11. Be not afraid by reason of the King of Babylon, because of whom you are afraid; be not afraid of him; says the Lord; for I am with you to save you, and deliver you from his Power:

12. And I will grant you Compassions, so that he shall have compassion on you, and let you return to your own Country.

13. But if you say, We will not abide in this Country; not hearkening to what the Lord your God speaks:

14. Saying, No, for we will go into the Country of Egypt, in which we shall not see War, nor hear the Sound of the Trumpet, nor have a Famine of Bread, and there we will abide;

15. Now therefore hear the Lord's Commission, O Residue of Judah: Thus says the

Ver. 2. Let us fall—with Supplication] in the Heb. Let our Supplication fall; not be accepted, as may be seen by the rendering of the like Expression in the com. Transf. Chap. xxxvi. 7. & xxxviii. 26. and even in the 9th Ver. of this Chap.

Ver. 10. at all] The Signification of still being when the Words are transposed.

Ver. 11. by reason of—because of] not merely of, as aliter.

Ver. 13. not hearkening] The Matter the same with the foregoing, and no Conjunction between; besides that these are not the Words of the People, since they pretended they would hearken to the Lord in this particular Matter, Ver. 6. agreeable to Chap. xliii. 2. as also the next Ver. to this beginning with their Saying, shews they were not supposed to say these Words: so that neither is both wrong and improper.

Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; If you at all put your Faces to go into Egypt, and do go in to sojourn there;

16. The Sword which you are afraid of shall overtake you there in the Country of Egypt, and the Famine which you are anxious about shall follow close after you there at Egypt, insomuch that you shall die there.

17. Thus shall it be with all the Persons who put their Faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there, they shall die by the Sword, Famine and Pestilence; and shall have no Remainder or Remnant, by reason of the Adversity which I will bring upon them.

18. For thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, As my Anger and Wrath has been poured forth upon the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my Wrath be poured forth upon you when you go into Egypt; so that you shall become an Execration, Astonishment, Curse and Reproach, and shall see this Place no more.

19. The Lord has spoken concerning you, O Residue of Judah; Do not go into Egypt; know certainly that I charge you this Day.

20. For you erred in your Minds when you sent me to the Lord your God, saying, Pray to the Lord our God for us, and entirely as he says, so tell us, and we will do it.

21. And I having told you this Day, ye do not hearken to what the Lord your God says, nor to any Thing with which he has sent me to you.

22. Now therefore know fully, that you shall die by the Sword, Famine and Pestilence, in the Place whither you delight to go, to sojourn.

C H A P. XLIII.

NEVERTHELESS when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking to all the People, all the Words of the Lord their God already mentioned, with which he sent him to them;

2. Azariah the Son of Hoshaiah, Johanan the Son of Kareah, and all the proud Men, said thus to Jeremiah; Thou speakest falsely, the Lord our God has not sent thee to say, Do not go into Egypt to sojourn there.

3. But Baruch the Son of Neriah persuades thee against us, in order to deliver us into the Power of the Chaldeans, that they may kill us, and carry us away to Babylon.

4. So Johanan the Son of Kareah, all the Princes of the Forces, and all the People would not hearken to what the Lord said, to abide in the Country of Judah.

5. On the contrary that Johanan, and all those Princes, took all the Residue of Judah, who were returned from all the Nations whither they had been driven, to sojourn in the Country of Judah,

6. Men, Women and Children, with the King's Daughters, and every Person that Nebuzaradan Captain of the Guard had left with Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, as also Jeremiah the Prophet, and Baruch the Son of Neriah;

7. And went into the Country of Egypt, for they would not hearken to what the Lord said, going to Tahpanhes.

8. However Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission at Tahpanhes as follows:

9. Take great Stones in thy Hand, and hide them among the Clay in the Brick-kiln, which is at the Entrance of Pharaoh's House at Tahpanhes, in the Sight of the Men of Judah;

10. And tell them: Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Behold I will send, and fetch Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon my Servant, whose Throne I will put above these Stones which I have hid, and he shall pitch his Pavilion over them.

11. Nay he shall come, and smite the Country of Egypt, those who are for Death with Death, those who are for Captivity with Captivity, and those who are for the Sword with the Sword.

12. And I will set the Houses of the gods of Egypt on fire, whom he shall burn and carry captive; and being cloathed with the Country of Egypt, as a Shepherd is with his Garment, he shall go out from thence in Peace.

13. He shall also break the Statues of Beth-shemesh in pieces, which are in the Country of Egypt, as well as burn the Houses of the gods of Egypt with Fire.

C H A P. XLIV.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had to all the Jews who dwelt in the Country of Egypt, namely at Migdol, Tahpanhes and Noph, in the Country of Pathros, was as follows:

Ver. 21. do not] These four last Verses might be spoken after the People's Refusal.

Ver. 12. Shepherd] who wears more Cloaths than ordinary, to secure himself against the Weather to which he is so much exposed; and especially puts on his upper Garment, a Cloak or great Coat, when he is about to return home, which makes the Comparison very good.

Ver. 1. to] It being spoken to those Jews in the second Person.

2. Thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel: You have seen all the Adversity which I have brought upon Jerusalem, and all the Cities of Judah, so that behold they are waste at this Time, and none dwells in them;

3. By reason of their Wickedness which they did to provoke me, by going to burn incense, to serve other gods, whom neither they, you, nor your Fathers knew.

4. Notwithstanding I had sent to you all my Servants the Prophets, and that early, saying, Oh, do not this abominable Thing which I hate!

5. But they did not hearken, nor incline their Ear, to return from their Wickedness, not to burn incense to other gods.

6. My Wrath and Anger therefore was poured out, and kindled in the Cities of Judah and Streets of Jerusalem, so that they became waste and desolate, as at present.

7. And now thus says the Lord God of Armies, the God of Israel; Why do ye commit a great Evil against your selves, to cut off from you Man and Woman, Child and sucking Babe, from within Judah, to leave you no Remainder;

8. By provoking me with the Works of your Hands, by burning incense to other gods in the Country of Egypt, whither you are gone to sojourn; that you may be cut off, and that you may become a Curse and Reproach in all the Nations of the Earth?

9. Have you forgot the Wickedness of your Fathers, with that of the Kings of Judah and of their Wives, as also your own and your Wives Wickedness, which they have committed in the Country of Judah and the Streets of Jerusalem?

10. They are not mortified to this Day, neither have they feared, nor gone in my Law and Ordinances, which I did put both before you and your Fathers.

11. Therefore thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Behold I will put my Face against you for Ill, even to cut off all Judah.

12. For I will take the Residue of Judah who have put their Faces to go into the Country of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed, shall fall in that Country, being consumed by the Sword and Famine, with which they shall die from the least to the greatest; and become an Execution, Astonishment, a Curse and Reproach.

13. Thus will I punish those who dwell in the Country of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, with the Sword, Famine and Pestilence.

14. So that the Residue of Judah who are gone to sojourn there in the Country of Egypt, shall have no Remnant or Remainder; that they may return to the Country of Judah, whither they lift up their Mind to return to dwell: for none shall return but those who escape.

15. Nevertheless all the Men who knew that their Wives burnt incense to other gods, and all the Women that stood by, a great Company, even all the People who dwelt in the Country of Egypt at Pathros, made Jeremiah the following Answer;

16. In the Thing which thou hast spoken to us in the Name of the Lord, we will not hearken to thee.

17. But will actually do every Thing that comes out of our own Mouth, to burn incense to the Work of Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to it, as we, our Fathers, Kings, and Princes have done, in the Cities of Judah and Streets of Jerusalem, when we were satisfied with Bread, were well, and saw no Ill.

18. Whereas ever since we left off burning incense to the Work of Heaven, and pouring out Drink-offerings to it, we have wanted every Thing, and have been consumed by the Sword and Famine.

19. And when we burnt incense to the Work of Heaven, and poured out Drink-offerings to it, did we make Cakes for it, to make images to it, or pour out Drink-offerings to it, without our Husbands?

20. Then Jeremiah replied to all the People, both Men and Women, even all the People who answered him in that Manner, as follows;

21. Did not the Lord remember the Incense which you burnt in the Cities of Judah, and the Streets of Jerusalem, your selves, and your Fathers, Kings and Princes, with the People of the Country, and that come into his Mind?

22. And the Lord being no longer able to bear, by reason of the Evil of your

Ver. 10. They] the Wives especially, Ver. 9. according to Ver. 15. 19. and whom this Word denotes just before in they have committed; without such passing from one Person to another, and back again, as Grotius speaks of.

Ver. 17. Work] accordingly called Army, Chap. viii. 2. & xix. 13. 2 Chr. xxxiii. 3, 5. Isa. xl. 26. compared with Gen. ii. 1, 2. rendered by Jun. and Trem. rebus, Things; by Munst. & L. Jud. machinae, Fabrick; and Pagnine in his great Heb. Lexicon puts it operi, Work; as likewise Mercer in the Additions to the same, says the simple Meaning is, machinae, operi, or artificia; see also Buxt. Lex. under לָאָץ & Amam. Anti. B. in Cap. vii. 18.

Ver. 19. make images] as עָצָב seems here properly to signify from the Noun עֲצָבִים, Images, and being in the Conjugation Hiphil intimating to make; and Kimhi in the Book of Roots expounds exactly as here עָצָבִים לֹא עָצָבִים Which Abomination of theirs, as it is called, Ver. 22. has a notable Resemblance to Popery.

Deeds, because of the Abominations which you did, your Country became waste, desolate, and a Curse, without Inhabitant, as at present.

23. By reason that you burnt incense, and sinned against the Lord, not hearkening to what the Lord said, nor going in his Law, Ordinances and Testimonies, therefore this Adversity befel you, as at present.

24. Besides Jeremiah said to all the People, including all the Women: Hear the Lord's Commission, all Judah who are in the Country of Egypt;

25. Thus it is the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel, says; You and your Wives have not only spoken with your Mouths, but fulfilled with your Hand, what follows, We will actually perform our Vows which we have made, to burn incense to the Work of Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to it: you thoroughly confirm your Vows, and actually perform them.

26. Therefore hear the Lord's Commission, all Judah who dwell in the Country of Egypt; Behold I swear by my great Name, says the Lord, that my Name shall no more be pronounced in the Mouth of any Man of Judah, in the whole Country of Egypt, saying, The Sovereign Lord lives.

27. Behold I will watch over them for Ill, and not for Good; insomuch that all the Men of Judah who are in the Country of Egypt, shall be consumed by the Sword and Famine, till they are finished.

28. Only a few Persons who escape the Sword, shall return from the Country of Egypt to that of Judah: thus all the Relidue of Judah that are gone into the Country of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose Word shall be confirmed, mine or theirs.

29. And this shall be a Sign to you, says the Lord, that I will punish you in this Place, in order for you to know that my Words shall be thoroughly confirmed against you for Ill.

30. Thus says the Lord, Lo I will deliver Pharaoh-hophra King of Egypt into the Power of his Enemies, and into the Power of those who seek his Life, as I did Zedekiah King of Judah into that of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon his Enemy, and he who fought his Life.

C H A P. XLV.

A COMMISSION which the Prophet Jeremiah spoke to Baruch the Son of Neriah, when he wrote the foregoing Words in a Book from Jeremiah's Mouth, in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah, was as follows:

2. Thus says the Lord God of Israel to thee, O Baruch;

3. Thou hast said, Wo now is to me, for the Lord adds Sorrow to my Grief: weary as I am of my Sighing, I find no Rest.

4. Tell him thus, as what the Lord says; Behold that which I have built up I will pull down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even this whole Country.

5. And wouldest thou seek great Things for thy self? Do not: for lo when I bring Adversity upon all Flesh, says the Lord, I will give thee thy Life for Spoil in all Places whither thou goest.

C H A P. XLVI.

A COMMISSION which the Prophet Jeremiah had against the Gentiles;

2. Namely Egypt, the Army of Pharaoh-necho King of it that was by the River Euphrates at Carchemish, which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon defeated in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Josiah King of Judah:

3. Put in order the Shield and Buckler, and approach to the Battle.

4. Harness the Horses, and get up, you Horsemen, as also stand in the Helmets, scour the Spears, put on the Corsets.

5. Why do I see them daunted, turned backward, and their stout Men either beat down, or quite fled without turning about? There shall be Dread on every Side, says the Lord.

6. Let not the Swift flee, nor the Stout escape: they stumble and fall, northward by the Side of the River Euphrates.

7. Who is this comes up like a Stream, whose Waters are moved like the Rivers?

8. Egypt comes up like a Stream, and the Waters are moved like the Rivers, and he says, I will go up, will cover the Country, destroy the City and the Inhabitants in it.

Nebuchadnezzar had left King of Egypt, was strangled in his Palace at Sais, Herodot. Lib. II. Diod. Sicul. Lib. I. Pt. 2. Accordingly observe it is not said, the Lord would deliver him into the Power of the King of Babylon, though he conquered Egypt, and though it is said so of Zedekiah.

9. Come up, O Horses, and glory, you Chariots, let the stout Men also come forth, the Ethiopians and Libyans who handle the Shield, and the Ludites who handle, bend the Bow.

10. That being a Day for the Sovereign Lord of Armies, a Day of Vengeance to be revenged on his Adversaries, when the Sword shall consume, and be satisfied, nay be drunk with their Blood: for the Sovereign Lord of Armies has a Sacrifice in the north Country, at the River Euphrates.

11. Go up to Gilead, and take Balsam, O Virgin, Daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou have many Medicines, thou shalt have no healing up.

12. The Nations hear of thy Vileness, and thy Cry fills the Country: for the Stout have stumbled against the Stout, both of them are fallen together.

13. A Commission which the Lord spoke to the Prophet Jeremiah, that Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon should come to smite the Country of Egypt:

14. Declare you in Egypt, publish at Migdol, as likewise at Noph and Tahpanhes, say, Place and make thy self ready; for the Sword will consume round about thee.

15. Why are thy strong ones swept away? They could not stand, because the Lord drove them away.

16. He made many stumble, they even fell one on another, and said, Rise up, and let us return to our own People and our native Country, by reason of the oppressing Sword.

17. They call out there, Pharaoh King of Egypt is a Noise, he has passed the appointed Time.

18. By my living, says the King, whose Name is the Lord of Armies, as Tabor is among the Mountains, and Carmel at the Sea, he shall come.

19. Make thee Instruments of Captivity, O Daughter, who dwellest in Egypt: for Noph shall become desolate, and waste without Inhabitant.

20. Egypt being like a very handsome Heifer, Slaughter comes, from the North it comes.

21. Her hired Men too within her are like

Heifers of the Stall, for they also are turned about, fled away together without standing; because the Day of their Calamity is come upon them, the Time of their Visitation.

22. Her Voice goes along like a Serpent; because they march with an Army, and come to her with Axes as Fellers of Wood.

23. They cut down her Coppice, says the Lord, though it cannot be searched out: for they are more than the Locusts, and even out of Number.

24. The Daughter of Egypt is ashamed, being delivered into the Power of the People of the North.

25. The Lord of Armies, the God of Israel says; Behold I will punish the Multitude from No, even Pharaoh and Egypt, with its gods and Kings, and not only Pharaoh, but those who trust in him.

26. And will deliver them into the Power of such as seek their Lives, and into that of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and of his Servants: yet after that it shall be inhabited as in old Time, says the Lord.

27. But do not thou fear, my Servant Jacob, nor be daunted, O Israel: for lo I will save thee from far off, and thy Offspring from the Country of their Captivity; so that Jacob shall return, and rest, and be quiet, none making afraid.

28. Do not thou fear, my Servant Jacob, says the Lord, since I am with thee: though I will make an entire End of all the Nations whither I drive thee, I will however not make an entire End of thee, but will correct thee regularly, and not let thee at all be quit.

C H A P. XLVII.

THE Lord's Commission which the Prophet Jeremiah had concerning the Philistines, before Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2. Thus says the Lord: Behold Waters come up from the North, which are an overflowing Flood, and overflow the Country with what it is full of, the City and those who dwell in it; so that the Men cry, and every Inhabitant of the Country laments.

5. Baldness is come on Gaza, Ashkelon is perished, the Residue of their Vale : how long wilt thou cut thy self ?

6. Alas, O Sword of the Lord, how long wilt thou not be quiet ? Withdraw into thy Sheath, be quiet, and still.

7. How can it rest, when the Lord has given it a Command ? To Ashkelon and the Harbour of the Sea, there has he appointed it.

C H A P. XLVIII.

CONCERNING Moab, thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel : Wo is to Nebo, because it is wasted, Kiriathaim is ashamed, being taken, the high Place is ashamed, and daunted.

2. There is no Praise of Moab any more, at Heshbon they contrive Harm against it, Come, and let us cut it off from being a Nation : thou shalt also be cut down, O Madmen, the Sword shall go after thee.

3. There is a Voice of Crying from Horonaim, of Wasting and great Ruin.

4. Moab is ruined, its little ones cause a Cry to be heard.

5. For at the Ascent of Luhith it goes up with continual Weeping, and in the Descent of Horonaim the Adversaries hear a Cry of Ruin.

6. Flee, escape with your Lives, and be like a Shrub in the Wilderness.

7. For since thou dost trust in thy own Works and Treasures, thou shalt also be taken ; and Chemosh shall go forth into Captivity, his Priests and Princes together.

8. And the Waster shall come to every City, so that no City shall escape, the Vale too shall perish, and the Plain be destroyed, which the Lord says.

9. Give Moab Wings, that it may fly quite away ; since its Cities will be desolate, without an Inhabitant in them.

10. Cursed be he who does the Lord's Work deceitfully, and cursed be he who with-holds his Sword from Blood.

11. Moab has been quiet from his Youth, and he has been at rest on his Lees, for he has not been emptied from one Vessel to another, nor gone into Captivity ; consequently his Taste remains in him, and his Smell is not changed.

12. Therefore behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when I will send to him Rangers, who shall make him range about, empty his Vessels, and disperse the Bottles belonging to them.

13. And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the Family of Israel were of Beth-el their Trust.

14. How can you say, We are stout, and Men of Ability for War ?

15. Moab is wasted, and gone up from its Cities, and the choicest of his chosen ones shall go down to the Slaughter, says the King, whose Name is the Lord of Armies.

16. The Calamity of Moab is near to come, and his Adversity hastens exceedingly.

17. Bemoan him, all you who are round about him, and all that know his Name, say, How the strong Staff is broke, the fine Stick !

18. Come down from the Glory, and sit with Thirst, O Daughter who dwellest in Dibon : for the Waster of Moab is come up against thee, destroying thy Fortifications.

19. Stand at the Way, and watch, O Inhabitant of Aroer, ask him who flees, and her that is escaped thus, What is come to pass ;

20. Moab being ashamed because it is expect the Description would have shewn it ; but instead of this the Affliction of Gaza is afterwards mixed with that of the rest, plainly denoting it to be the same Overthrow of their Country, and consequently by the Egyptians. The Army also coming from the North is so far from being an Inconsistency, that it fixes the Time and Manner at least to me, as follow : Pharaoh-necho King of Egypt going to war against the King of Assyria, was interrupted in his March by Josiah, whom he defeated and slew, 2 King. xxiii. 29. 2 Chron. xxxv. 20. and it seems as if he had met with a like Interruption at Gaza, that Country being brought under Assyria before, Isa. xx. 1. and so took the City, as it lay in his Way, on the Side towards Egypt. He afterwards gaining the Victory by the River Euphrates, Josephus, Antiq. Lib. x. 6. and bringing the Kingdom of Judah into Subjection as he came back, 2 King. xxiii. 33. 34. how agreeable it is to suppose he now also did to the Philistines, Ver. 6. Withdraw] put up thy self being a strange Action for a Sword.

daunted,

daunted, lament, and cry : tell in Arnon, that Moab is wasted.

21. For Judgment is come on the Country of the Plain ; on Holon, and on Jahzah, and upon Mephaath,

22. And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim,

23. And upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon,

24. And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, nay upon all the Cities of the Country of Moab, far off and near.

25. The Horn of Moab is cut off, and his Arm is broke, says the Lord.

26. Make him drunk, because he magnifies himself against the Lord ; that Moab may clap Hands in his Vomit, and he himself likewise become Derision.

27. For was not Israel Derision to thee ? Was he found among Thieves ? Because by thy Words against him, thou art moved.

28. Forsake the Cities, and dwell in the Rock, O Inhabitants of Moab, and be like a Dove that makes a Nest in the Sides of the Pit's Mouth.

29. We have heard of the Pride of Moab, who is very proud, his Loftiness, Pride, Haughtiness, and the Ambition of his Heart.

30. I know his Wrath, says the Lord, but it is not so, his false Devices do not so accomplish.

31. Therefore I shall lament for Moab, and cry for Moab all of it, one shall bemoan the Men of Kir-heres.

32. O Vine of Sibmah, I shall weep for thee with the Weeping of Jazer, thy Sprouts being gone over the Sea, as far as that of Jazer : the Waster is fallen both upon thy Summer-fruit and Vintage.

33. Thus is Gladness and Rejoicing taken away from the arable Land, even from the Country of Moab ; and I have made the Wine cease from the Wine-presses, none shall tread with Acclamation, that which is shall not be Acclamation.

34. From the Cry of Heshbon they utter their Voice to Elaleh, to Jahaz, from Zoar to Horonaim, as a Heifer of the third Year :

for the Waters of Nimrim also shall become desolate.

35. I will cause to cease likewise in Moab, says the Lord, him who offers up at the Chapel, and him who burns incense to his gods.

36. Therefore shall my Heart make a Noise for Moab like Pipes, as it shall also for the Men of Kir-heres : therefore the rest which he does will perish.

37. For every Head will be bald, and every Beard diminished : upon all Hands will there be Cuttings, and upon the Loins Sackcloth.

38. Upon all the Roofs of Moab, and in all its Streets there shall be wholly Lamentation : for I have broke Moab as a Vessel in which is no Delight, says the Lord.

39. They lament, How it is daunted ! How Moab has turned about the Back with Shame ! So Moab is become Derision and Daunting, to all who are round about him.

40. For thus says the Lord ; Behold he shall fly as an Eagle, and spread forth his Wings to Moab.

41. Kerioth is taken, and the Fortifications are seized ; the Heart of the powerful ones of Moab at that Time shall be as the Heart of a Woman in Pains.

42. And Moab shall be destroyed from being a People, because he has magnified himself against the Lord.

43. Dread, the Pit, and the Snare are for thee, O Inhabitant of Moab, says the Lord.

44. He that flees from the Presence of the Dread shall fall into the Pit, and he who gets up out of the Pit shall be taken in the Snare : for I will bring on Moab it self the Year of their Visitation, says the Lord.

45. Those who flee from the Power stand in the Shadow of Heshbon ; but the Fire shall come out of Heshbon, and the Flame from within Sihon, which shall consume the Corner of Moab, and the Crown of the Head of the tumultuous Race.

46. Wo is to thee, Moab, the People of Chemosh are perished : for thy Sons and Daughters are both taken captive.

47. Yet I will bring back the Captivity

C H A P. XLIX.

CONCERNING the Ammonites, thus says the Lord: Has Israel no Sons? Has he no Heir? Why does their King inherit Gad, and his People dwell in its Cities?

2. Therefore behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when I will make a Noise of War be heard at Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall become a desolate Heap, and its Daughters shall be burnt with Fire; then shall Israel be Heir to those who are Heirs to him, says the Lord.

3. Lament, O Heshbon, because Ai is wasted; cry, O Daughters of Rabbah, gird your selves with Sackcloth, cry, and run about into the Hedges, for their King shall go into Captivity, his Priests and Princes together.

4. Why dost thou boast of thy Vales, thy flowing Vale, O deserting Daughter? She that trusts in her Treasures, saying, Who shall come to me?

5. Behold I will bring Dread upon thee, says the Sovereign Lord of Armies, from all that are round about thee: and you shall be driven away each one straight forward, none gathering him who wanders.

6. Yet after that I will bring back the Captivity of the Ammonites, says the Lord.

7. Concerning Edom, thus says the Lord of Armies: Is Wisdom no more in Teman, Counsel perished from the understanding ones, their Wisdom become superfluous?

8. Flee, be turned about, dwell deep, O Inhabitants of Dedan: for I will bring the Calamity of Esau upon him, the Time when I will visit him.

9. If those who gather Grapes came to thee, would they not leave Gleaning-grapes? If Thieves by Night, they would spoil but what was sufficient for them.

10. But I have made Esau bare, discovered his secret Places, and he shall not be able to hide: his Offspring is wasted, with his Brethren and Neighbours, and there is none to say,

11. Leave thy Orphans, I will save them alive, and let thy Widows trust upon me.

12. For thus says the Lord; Behold they whose Judgment was not to drink of the Cup do thoroughly drink, and shalt thou thyself be wholly quit? Thou shalt not be quit, but shalt thoroughly drink.

13. For I swear by my self, says the Lord, that Bozrah shall become a Desolation, Reproach, Wasting and a Curse; and all its Cities shall become perpetual Waites.

14. I have heard a Report from the Lord, and an Ambassador is sent into the Nations, Gather your selves together, come against it, and rise up to War.

15. For behold I make thee small among the Nations, despised among Mankind.

16. Thy Terribleness deceives thee, the Pride of thy Heart, thou that dwellest in the Clefts of the Rock, who holdest the Height of the Hill: though thou makest thy Nest as high as an Eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, says the Lord.

17. And Edom shall become desolate, every one who passes by it shall be astonished, and hiss for all its Plagues.

18. As at the Overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, with its Neighbours, says the Lord, no Person shall inhabit there, nor Son of Man sojourn in it.

19. Behold like a Lion he shall come up from the Height of Jordan, against the Habitation of the Strong, for I will make him run off from it in an Instant; and who is the chosen one that I shall set over it? For who is like my self? And who shall appoint for me? And who is that Shepherd that can stand before me?

Chap. xlix. 5. nor does the Verb. signify repeating a thing in the same manner. According to his Exposition the Israelites would rejoice when they were carried into Captivity again, Psa. xiv. 7. The returning of those People to their own Country is not a Matter likely to be recorded among the few Scraps we have of their History, and they might go back but a few at a time, it is sufficient that they were there again, Exr. ix. 1. 22. Behold like an Eagle he shall come up, and fly, spreading forth his Wings over Bozrah; and the Heart of the powerful ones of Edom at that Time shall be as the Heart of a Woman in Pains.

23. Concerning Damascus; Hamath is ashamed, and Arpad; for having heard ill News, they are quite discouraged: there is Trouble at the Sea, it cannot be quiet.

26. Therefore shall its young Men fall in the Streets of it, and all the Warriors be cut off at that Time, says the Lord of Armies.

27. And I will kindle a Fire in the Wall of Damascus, which shall consume the Palaces of Ben-hadad.

28. Concerning Kedar, and concerning the Kingdoms of Habor, which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon shall conquer, thus says the Lord: Arise, go up to Kedar, and waste the Sons of the East.

29. Their Tents and Flocks shall they take away, their Curtains, all their Instruments and their Camels they shall take for themselves, and proclaim against them Dread on every Side.

30. Flee, remove very far, dwell deep, O Inhabitants of Habor, says the Lord: for Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon has taken Counsel against you, and intends Something against you.

31. Arise, go up to the quiet Nation that dwells securely, says the Lord, which has neither Gates nor Bars, dwelling alone.

32. For their Camels shall become Prey, and the Multitude of their Cattle Spoil, and I will scatter in every Wind those who are separated at a Corner, as also bring their Calamity from all Sides of it, says the Lord.

33. And Habor shall become a Habitation of Serpents, a Desolation for ever; no Person shall dwell there, nor Son of Man sojourn in it.

34. The Lord's Commission which the Prophet Jeremiah had concerning Elam, in the Beginning of the Reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, was as follows:

35. Thus says the Lord of Armies; Behold I will break the Bow of Elam, the chief of their Power.

36. And will bring to Elam the four Winds from the four Borders of the Heaven, and will scatter them in all these Winds; inasmuch that there shall be no Nation whither the Elamites who are driven away shall not come.

37. So the Elamites shall be daunted before their Enemies, and before those who seek their Life, and I will bring Adversity upon them, even my fervent Anger, says the Lord; nay will send the Sword after them, till I have consumed them.

38. I will also put my Throne in Elam, and cause the King and Princes to perish from thence, says the Lord.

39. However in the latter Days I will bring back the Captivity of Elam, says the Lord.

Ver. 20. that] or shall not interrogative.

Ver. 21. their] plural.

Ver. 30. you] At the End is by the Heb. them: for tho' Munster's Bible has you, yet he altered Words in that Manner, conformable to the Translations; and tho' Buxtorf's great Basil Bible has you a marginal Reading, I don't find it authentically so, &c. And why may it not be them, applicable to Inhabitants, according to such Changes of Expression which are frequent in the Heb. Scripture, and agreeing with their in Ver. 32?

Ver. 31. quiet] nothing of wealthy.

Ver. 34. Elam] afterwards Part of Persia, lying on the East of the River Tigris, Dan. viii. 2. which Xenophon relates was conquered by Nebuchadnezzar, Cyropæd. Lib. V, & VI.

2. Declare in the Nations, and publish, nay setting up a Standard, to publish without concealing, proclaim, Babylon is taken, Bel ashamed, Merodach daunted, its Images are ashamed, its filthy Idols daunted.

3. For there comes up a Nation against it from the North, which shall make its Country so desolate, that there shall be no Inhabitant in it: both Man and Beast shall remove, go away.

4. In those Days, and at that Time, says the Lord, will the Israelites themselves and the Men of Judah come together, going along weeping as they go, and seeking the Lord their God.

5. They will ask the Way to Zion with their Faces thither, saying, Come, and let us be joined to the Lord by an everlasting Covenant that shall not be forgot.

6. My People are lost Sheep, their Shepherds have made them go astray, turned them back on the Mountains: they have gone from Mountain to Hill, have forgot their Resting-place.

7. All who found them have consumed them, and their Adversaries said, We are in no fault, soasmuch as they have sinned against the Lord, the Habitation of Righteousness, even the Lord on whom their Forefathers hoped.

8. Remove from within Babylon, and go out of the Country of the Chaldeans, and be like the He-goats before the Flock.

9. For lo I will rouse, and bring up against Babylon, a Company of great Nations from the north Country; who setting themselves in order against it, from thence it shall be taken: their Arrows shall be as of a powerful depriving one, none shall return void.

10. And Chaldea shall become Spoil, all who spoil it shall be satisfied, says the Lord.

11. Though you are glad, though you triumph, who plunder my Possession, though you are full as a Heifer at Grass, and bellow as Bulls;

12. Your Mother shall be exceedingly ashamed, even she who bore you shall be confounded: behold it shall be the last of the Nations, a dry Wilderness, and a Desert.

13. By reason of the Lord's Wrath it shall not be inhabited, but be desolate all of it: every one who passes by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss for all its Plagues.

14. Set your selves in order against Babylon round about, all who bend the Bow, shoot at it, do not spare Arrows; because it has sinned against the Lord.

15. Shout against it round about, that has given its Hand; the Foundations of it are fallen, its Walls demolished: for it being the Lord's Vengeance, be revenged on it; as that has done, do to it.

16. Cut off the Sower from Babylon, and him who holds the Sickle at Harvest-time: by reason of the oppressing Sword they shall turn about each to his own People, and flee to their several Countries.

17. Israel is like a scattered Sheep that a Lion has driven away: first the King of Assyria consumed him, and lastly this Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon has broke his Bones.

18. Therefore thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel; Behold I will punish the King of Babylon and his Country, as I did the King of Assyria.

19. And will bring back Israel to his Habitation, so that he shall feed at Carmel and Bashan, and his Mind shall be satisfied on Mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20. In those Days, and at that Time, says the Lord, when the Iniquity of Israel is sought, there shall be none, and when the Sins of Judah, they shall not be found: for I will pardon those whom I cause to remain.

21. Go up against the very Country of Rebellions, and to the Inhabitants of Pekod: waste, and utterly destroy after them, says the Lord, doing entirely as I command thee.

22. There is a Noise of War in the Country, and of great Ruin.

23. How the Hammer of the whole Earth is cut off, and broke! How Babylon is become desolate among the Nations!

See Ezek. xvii. 18. Lam. v. 6. Louth and other Eng. Annotators very improbably expound it by submitting to the Conqueror: for as Cyrus took Babylon by the Sword, and had subdued all the rest of the Empire before, what Agreement was there to be made?

1b. Walls] About 20 Years after the first taking of Babylon by Cyrus, upon its rebelling, Darius Hystaspis took it again, by means of Zopyrus one of his Generals, who having mangled himself, fled thither as a Deserter, under Pretence that Darius had done it; upon which being made General there, he delivered up the City to him: and he it was that flung down the Walls of Babylon, to a quarter Part of the Height they were before, Herodot. Lib. iii. Justin, Lib. i. 10.

24. I have laid a Snare for thee, and thou art also taken, Babylon, when thou wast not aware: thou art found; and also caught, because thou hast made war against the Lord.

25. The Lord has opened his Treasury, and brought out the Weapons of his Indignation: for it is the Work of the Sovereign Lord of Armies in the Country of the Chaldeans.

26. Come against it from the Border, open its Magazines, cast it up like Heaps, and utterly destroy it: let there be Nothing of it left.

27. Waste all its Bullocks, let them go down to the Slaughter: wo is upon them, because their Day is come, the Time of their Visitation.

28. There is the Voice of those who flee, and escape from the Country of Babylon, to tell in Zion the Vengeance of the Lord our God, the Vengeance of his Temple.

29. Call the Shooters together against Babylon, all who bend the Bow, encamp against it round about, let none of it escape, recompense it according to its Work; according to all that it has done, do to it; because it has behaved proudly towards the Lord, towards the Holy One of Israel.

30. Therefore shall its young Men fall in the Streets of it, and all its Warriors be cut off at that Time, says the Lord.

31. Behold I am against thee, O proud one, says the Sovereign Lord of Armies: for thy Day is come, the Time when I will visit thee.

32. So the Proud shall stumble and fall, and none raise him up; and I will kindle a Fire in his Cities, which shall consume all that are round about him.

33. Thus says the Lord of Armies; The Israelites and Men of Judah are oppressed together, and all who have taken them Prisoners hold them fast, refuse to let them go.

34. Their Redeemer is strong, whose Name is the Lord of Armies, he will thoroughly plead their Cause; that he may make the Country quiet, and disturb the Inhabitants of Babylon.

35. The Sword is upon the Chaldeans, says the Lord, as likewise on the Inhabitants of Babylon, its Princes and wise Men.

36. The Sword is on the false Devisers, and they shall be foolish: the Sword is on its stout ones, and they shall be daunted.

37. The Sword is both on its Horses and Chariots, and on all the mixed People who are within it, and they shall be as Women: the Sword is on its Treasures, and they shall be plundered.

38. There is a Drought on its Waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is a Country of carved Images, and they glory in the dreadful Idols.

39. Therefore shall the wild Creatures of the Deserts with those of the Islands inhabit, and the young Ostriches dwell in it; and it shall no more be inhabited perpetually, nor dwelt in to all Ages.

40. As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, with its Neighbours, says the Lord, no Person shall inhabit there, nor Son of Man sojourn in it.

41. Behold a People shall come from the North, and a great Nation with many Kings be stirred up from the Sides of the Earth.

42. Who will hold the Bow and Spear, they are cruel, and will have no compassion, their Voice will make a Noise like the Sea, and they will ride upon Horses; each being set in order as a Man for War against thee, O Daughter of Babylon.

43. The King of Babylon hears the News of them, and his Hands are slack; Distress takes hold of him, Anguish as of a Woman in labour.

44. Behold like a Lion he shall come up from the Height of Jordan, against the Habitation of the Strong, for I will make them run off from it in an Instant; and who is the chosen one that I shall set over it? For who is like my self? And who shall appoint for me? And who is that Shepherd that can stand before me?

45. Therefore hear the Counsel of the Lord which he has taken concerning Babylon, and what he intends concerning the Country of the Chaldeans; that the little ones of the Flock shall draw them, that the Pasture shall be made desolate for them.

46. The Earth is moved at the Noise of the taking of Babylon, and the Cry is heard in the Nations.

C H A P. LI.

THUS says the Lord: Behold I will stir up against Babylon, and those who dwell in the midst of them that rise up against me, a destroying Wind.

2. And will send Winnowers to Babylon, who shall winnow it, and make its Country empty: for they shall be against it on every Side in the Time of Adversity.

3. At him that bends let the Bender bend his Bow, and at him who lifts himself up in his Corset; and do not spare its young Men, utterly destroy its whole Army.

4. That the Slain may fall in the Country of the Chaldeans, and those who are pierced through in the Streets of it.

5. For Israel is not become a Widow, nor is Judah so from his God, from the Lord of Armies; though their Country was full of Guilt, contrary to the Holy One of Israel.

6. Flee from within Babylon, and deliver each his own Life, be not cut off in its Iniquity: for it is the Time of the Lord's Vengeance, he is rendering a Recompence to it.

7. Babylon has been a Cup of Gold in the Lord's Hand, that has made all the Earth drunk: the Nations drank of its Wine, therefore they are mad.

8. Suddenly is Babylon fallen, and ruined: lament for it, take Balm for its Grievance, perhaps it may be healed.

9. When we would have healed Babylon, it would not be healed; forsake it, and let us go to our respective Countries: for the Judgment of it reaches to the Heaven, and is got up to the Skies.

10. The Lord having brought forth our Righteousness, come, and let us rehearse in Zion the Work of the Lord our God.

11. Scour the Arrows, compleat the Shield, the Lord having stirred up the Spirit of the Kings of the Medes, because his Intent is against Babylon to destroy it; for it is the Vengeance of the Lord, the Vengeance of his Temple.

12. Lift up the Standard on the Walls of Babylon, make the Watch strong, set up the Watchmen, prepare the Ambuscades: for the Lord is both intending and doing, what he has spoken concerning the Inhabitants of Babylon.

13. Thou who dwellest by many Waters, with Plenty of Treasures, thy End is come, the Extent of thy Gain.

14. The Lord of Armies swears by his own self, I will fill thee with Men as Canker-worms, and they shall cry out against thee with Acclamation.

15. When he, who made the Earth by his Power, established the World by his Wisdom, and by his Understanding stretched out the Heaven,

16. Utters his Voice, there is Abundance of Water in the Heaven, he causing the Vapours to ascend from the Border of the Earth; he makes the Lightnings with the Rain, and brings the Wind out of his Treasuries.

18. They are Vanity, the Work of Errors; in the Time of their Visitation they will perish.

19. The Share of Jacob is not like these; for he is the Former of all Things, and Israel is the Tribe of his Possession: his Name being the Lord of Armies.

20. Thou art a Club to me, Weapons of War; and by thee I disperse Nations, and by thee destroy Kingdoms,

21. By thee I also disperse the Horse and his Rider, and by thee disperse the Chariot and him who rides in it,

22. And by thee I disperse Man and Woman, and by thee disperse the old Man and the Boy, and by thee disperse the young Man and the Virgin,

23. As likewise by thee disperse the Shepherd and his Flock, and by thee disperse the Husbandman and his Yoke of Oxen, and by thee disperse Captains and Rulers.

24. But I will recompense to Babylon, and to all the Inhabitants of Chaldea, all the Harm which they have done to Zion, in your Sight, says the Lord.

25. Lo I am, against thee, O destroying Mountain, says the Lord, that destroyest the whole Earth, and I will stretch out my Hand upon thee, will roll thee down from the Rocks, and make thee a burnt Mountain:

26. Inasmuch that People shall neither take of thee a Stone for a Corner, nor a Stone for Foundations, since thou shalt be perpetual Desolations, says the Lord.

27. Set up the Standard in the Country, found the Trumpet in the Nations, prepare the Nations against it, call together against it the Kingdoms of Ararat, Minni and Ashchenaz, appoint a Commander against it, bring up the Horses as the rough Cankerworms.

28. Prepare against it the Nations with the Kings of the Medes, its Captains, and all the Rulers of it, nay the whole Country of its Dominion.

29. So the Country shall be moved, and tremble : for the Lord's Intents will be confirmed against Babylon, to make the Country of it desolate without Inhabitant.

30. The powerful ones of Babylon leave off fighting, they remain in the Fortifications, their Power fails, they are as Women, they burn its Habitations, the Bars of it are broken.

31. One Post shall run to meet another, and one Messenger to meet another, to tell the King of Babylon that his City is taken at the Outside,

32. And that the Passages are seized, the Rushes burnt with Fire, and the Warriors troubled.

33. For thus says the Lord of Armies, the God of Israel ; The Daughter of Babylon is like a Floor, it is Time to thresh her, within a little while her Harvest-time will come.

34. Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon has consumed me, routed me, placed me as an empty Vessel, devoured me like a Dragon, filled his Paunch with my Dainties, has driven me away.

35. The Violence to me, and my Flesh be upon Babylon, she who inhabits Zion says ; and my Blood be on the Inhabitants of Chaldea, does Jerusalem say.

36. Therefore thus says the Lord : Behold I will plead thy Cause, and take vengeance for thee, making its Sea dry, and drying up its Fountain.

37. And Babylon shall become Heaps, a Habitation of Dragons, an Astonishment and Hissing, without Inhabitant.

38. They shall roar together like young Lions, yell like Lions Whelps.

39. I will make Entertainments for them when they are hot, and make them drunk, so that when they have triumphed, they shall sleep a perpetual Sleep, and not awake, says the Lord.

40. I will bring them down like Sheep for Slaughter, like Rams with He-goats.

41. How Sheshach is taken ! And how the Praise of the whole Earth is seized ! How Babylon is become desolate among the Nations !

42. The Sea is come up over Babylon, she is covered with the Multitude of its Waves.

43. Her Cities are become desolate, a dry Country, and a Desert, a Country wherein no Person dwells, nor Son of Man passes through it.

44. I will punish Bel too in Babylon, and make what he has swallowed come out of his Mouth, and the Nations shall no more assemble together to him ; the Wall of Babylon also shall fall.

45. Come out from within it, my People, and escape each with his own Life, from the fervent Anger of the Lord :

46. Lest your Heart likewise should be discouraged, and you should be afraid at the News which will be heard in the Country ; when News will come one Year, and there will be News the Year after it, that there is Violence in the Country, Governor against Governor.

47. Therefore behold the Days are coming, when I will bring a Visitation upon the carved Images of Babylon, and its whole Country shall be ashamed, and all its Slain fall within it.

48. Then will the Heaven and Earth, with all that is in them, sing for Babylon, because Wasters will come to it from the North, says the Lord.

49. Not only the Slain of Israel are to fall by Babylon, but also of Babylon it self shall fall the Slain of the whole Country.

50. You who are escaped from the Sword, get away, do not stand still ; remember the Lord far off, and let Jerusalem come into your Mind.

51. We are ashamed, because we hear Reproach, Confusion covers our Faces : for Strangers are entered into the Sanctuary of the Lord's House.

52. Therefore behold the Days are coming,

Ver. 36. dry] Babylon being exceeding strong, of which see Dan. iv. 30. Cyrus besieged it almost two Years in vain. says the Lord, when I will bring a visitation upon its carved Images, and the Wounded shall cry throughout the whole Country.

53. Though Babylon should get up to the Heaven, and though it should fortify the Height of its Strength, Waters should come to it from me, says the Lord.

54. There is the Sound of a Cry from Babylon, and of a great Ruin from the Country of the Chaldeans ;

55. Because the Lord has wasted Babylon, and destroyed the great Sound out of it, though their Waves make a noise like many Waters, and the Noise of their Sound be uttered ;

56. Because a Waster is come against Babylon it self, and the stout ones of it are taken, each of their Bows is broke : for the Lord God of Recompences will thoroughly reward.

57. And I will make its Princes, wise Men, Captains, Rulers, and stout ones drunk, when they shall sleep a perpetual Sleep, and not awake, says the King, whose Name is the Lord of Armies.

58. Thus says the Lord of Armies, The broad Walls of Babylon shall become quite bare, and its high Gates be burnt with Fire ; so that the People shall labour for what is vain, and the Nations for the Fire, and shall be tired.

59. This was the Commission which the Prophet Jeremiah gave Seraiah, the Son of Neriah, the Son of Maaseiah, in charge ; when he went for Zedekiah King of Judah to Babylon, in the fourth Year of his Reign, Seraiah being a quiet Prince.

60. For Jeremiah wrote the whole Adversity which would come on Babylon in a Book, all these Words written concerning Babylon.

61. And Jeremiah said to Seraiah ; As soon as thou art arrived at Babylon, see that thou readeſt all these Words ;

62. And say withal, O Lord, it is thou hast spoken concerning this Place, that it shall be cut off, that none shall dwell in it, whether Man or Beast, but it shall be perpetual Desolations.

63. And when thou hast made an end of reading this Book, thou shalt tie a Stone to it, and throw it into the middle of Euphrates,

64. Saying, Thus shall Babylon sink, and not rise, by reason of the Adversity which I will bring upon it, so that they shall be tired. Hitherto are the Words of Jeremiah.

C H A P. LII.

ZEDEKIAH was in his twenty first Year when he began reigning, and reigned eleven Years in Jerusalem ; whose Mother's Name was Hamutal, the Daugliter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2. And he did what the Lord was displeased with, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3. For it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, that Zedekiah rebelled against the King of Babylon, by the Anger of the Lord, till he had cast them from before him.

4. And in the ninth Year of his Reign, on the tenth of the tenth Month, came Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, with all his Army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it, building Forts against it round about.

5. So the City came to be in a Siege, till the eleventh Year of King Zedekiah.

6. When on the ninth of the fourth Month the Famine became so grievous in the City, that there was no Food for the People of the Country.

7. Thus the City was broke into, and all the Warriors fled, going out of the City by Night the Way of the Gate between the two Walls, which was by the King's Garden, the Chaldeans being against the City round about ; and they went the Way of the Plain.

8. But

8. But the Army of the Chaldeans pursued after the King, and overtook Zedekiah on the Plains of Jericho, all his Army being dispersed from him.

9. And taking the King, they carried him up to the King of Babylon at Riblah, in the Country of Hamath; and he pronounced the Judgments on him.

10. Next the King of Babylon killed the Sons of Zedekiah before his Eyes, as he did likewise all the Princes of Judah at Riblah.

11. He also put out Zedekiah's Eyes, and the King of Babylon binding him with Chains, carried him to Babylon, and put him into a House of close Confinement to the Day of his Death.

12. Moreover on the tenth of the fifth Month, which was in the nineteenth Year of King Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard, who attended before the King of Babylon, came into Jerusalem,

13. And burnt the House of the Lord, with that of the King: all the Houses likewise of Jerusalem, especially every great one did he burn with Fire.

14. And all the Walls of Jerusalem round about, did the whole Army of the Chaldeans, who were with him, break down.

15. Some also of the poor People, and the rest of the People that were left in the City, and the Deserters who deserted to the King of Babylon, with the rest of the Multitude, Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard carried away.

16. Yet he left some of the Poor of the Country, for Vine-dressers and Husbandmen.

17. And the Pillars of Brass which were at the Lord's House, as also the Bases, and the brasen Sea that was there, the Chaldeans broke; and took away all the Brass of them to Babylon.

18. The Pots too, the Shovels, musical Instruments, Bowls, Spoons, and all the brasen Things with which they ministered, those took:

19. As did the Captain of the Guard the Basons, Censers, Bowls, Pots, Candlesticks, Spoons and Cups, what was Gold in Gold, and what was Silver in Silver;

20. With the two Pillars, one Sea, and the twelve brasen Oxen that were under the Bases, which King Solomon made for the House of the Lord, the Brass of all these Things being without Weight.

21. As for the Pillars, the Height of one was eighteen Cubits, and a Line of twelve Cubits inclosed it, the Thickness of which was four Fingers, being hollow.

22. And the Chapter upon it was Brass, the Height of one being five Cubits with the Infolding, and the Pomegranates upon the Chapter round about were all Brass; the other Pillar too had like these, along with the Pomegranates.

23. And there were ninety six Pomegranates sideways, all the Pomegranates upon the Infolding round about being a hundred.

24. Besides the Captain of the Guard took Seraiah the principal Priest, Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three Door-keepers.

25. And out of the City he took one Officer, who was General over the Warriors, and seven Men of those that were intimate with the King who were found in the City, as also the chief Scribe of the Army that mustered the People of the Country, and sixty Men of the same People who were found within the City:

26. Even them did Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard take, and carried them to the King of Babylon at Riblah;

27. Who smote them, and killed them there in the Country of Hamath. Thus was Judah carried away from their own Country.

28. These were the People whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away: in the seventh Year three thousand twenty three Jews.

Jehoiachin King of Judah, bringing him out of the Prison-house.

32. To whom he spoke well, and put his Seat above those of the Kings who were with him at Babylon.

33. And changing his Prison-garments, he did eat Victuals continually before him, all the Days of his Life.

34. For his Provision was a continual one given him from the King of Babylon, each Day's Allowance the very same Day, till that of his Death, all the Days of his Life.

Ver. 29. eighteenth] when Nebuchadnezzar went from Jerusalem against the Egyptian Army, Chap. xxxvii. 5.

Ver. 34. till that of his Death] The Author of the State of Pr. Heb. Text, p. 481, 482. reckons the Inser- tion of these Words a Corruption, as being a most unnecessary Tautology, and as being not in 2 King. xxv. 30. whereas each of these Things shews the Unlikelihood of this being put in after the first.

NOTES upon the LAMENTATIONS of JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

HOW the City sits solitary, that had many People, being like a Widow! She that was great among the Nations, a Princess among the Provinces, is become tributary.

2. ^a She weeps sadly in the Night, and her Tears are on her Checks, she has no Comforter of all her Lovers: all her Friends are treacherous to her, they are become her Enemies.

3. ^a Judah is carried away captive, by the Affliction and great Servitude, she dwells among the Gentiles, she finds no Rest: all who pursued her overtook her between the Streights.

4. ^a The Ways of Zion mourn, because none come to the solemn Assembly, all her Gates are desolate, her Priests sigh, her Virgins are sorrowful, and she has Bitterness,

5. ^a Her Adversaries are become the chief, her Enemies are in Quietness, since the Lord has made her sorrowful for the Multitude of her Trespases; her Children are gone into Captivity before the Adversary.

6. ^a And all her Beauty is gone out of the Daughter of Zion: her Princes are like Deer that find no Pasture, and go without Strength before the Pursuer.

7. ^a Jerusalem remembers in the Days of her Affliction and Lamentings, all her desirable Things which there were in former Times; when her People fell into the Power of the Adversary, and none helped her, the Adversaries seeing her, laughed at her Resting-days.

8. ^a Jerusalem has sinned exceedingly, therefore she is become separate: all who honoured her vilify her, because they have seen her Nakedness; she also sighs and turns backward.

9. ^a Her Uncleaness is in her Skirts, she did not remember her End; upon which she came down wonderfully, none comforting her. See my Affliction, O Lord, for the Enemy has made himself great.

10. ^a The Adversary has spread out his Hand upon all her desirable Things: for she has seen the Gentiles enter into her Sanctuary, whom thou didst command they should not come into thy Congregation.

11. ^a All her People sigh, they seek for Bread, having given their desirable Things for Food to restore Life. See, O Lord, and consider, for I am become vile.

12. ^a All that pass this Way to whom it does not belong, behold and see, if there is any Grief like mine that is done to me, with which the Lord has made sorrowful at the Time of his fervent Anger.

13. ^a He has sent Fire from on high into my Bones, which has power over them: he has spread a Net for my Feet, turned me backward, made me desolate all Day, and languishing.

14. ^a The Yoke of my Trespases is tied on by his Hand, they being plaited together, and coming upon my Neck, he makes my Strength decay: the Lord has delivered me into the Power of those I cannot rise up from.

15. ^a The Lord has trod down all my stout ones in the midst of me, he has called a Company together against me to break my young Men: the Lord has trod the Winepress to the Virgin, the Daughter of Judah.

16. ^a For these Things I weep, my Eye, my Eye runs down with Water, because the Comforter that would restore my Life is far off from me: my Children are desolate, because the Enemy has prevailed.

17. ^a Zion spreading forth her Hands, has no Comforter: the Lord has commanded concerning Jacob, his Adversaries should be round about him; among whom Jerusalem is become separated.

Lamentations] Those who made Titles to the Books of Scripture, might as well have put this singular as Revelation, nay better.

It is not likely, not tho' Usher says it, Annal. Mun. 3394. that these are the Lamentations mentioned 2 Chron. xxxv. 25. of which see there; but were made by Jeremiah after, and upon Account of, the Babylonish Captivity; as appears by several Passages, particularly Ver. 3, 5, 10, 18. of this Chap. & Chap. ii. 6, 7, 9, 15, 17, 20. & iii. 45, 47. & iv. 1, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 12, 15, 17, 18, 20, 22. & v. 2, 6, 10, 18. They are very Alphabetical, the Verses of this Chapter begin regularly with the 22 Heb. Letters; as likewise those of the 2d and 4th, only the 16th and 17th Letters there are transposed; and the 3d Chap. has three Verses beginning on each Letter, with the like Transposition.

Ver. 3. ly] as Grotius observes it should be.

Ver. 9. End] See Isa. xlvii. 7.

Ver. 12. to whom it does not belong] The Heb. has Nothing to make it a Question. The Vulg. has O you, Chald. I adjure you, Gr. To you; all by mistaking the Original.

lb. with which the Lord has made sorrowful] The vulgar Lat. Translator has turned it, as the Lord has spoken; being mistaken by the Likeness of לִּי which is made from לָא to the Root לָא.

18. * The Lord he is righteous, for I have rebelled against his Command: hear, I pray, all People, and see my Grief; my Virgins and young Men are gone into Captivity.

19. p I called for my Lovers, who deceived me: my Priests and Elders expired in the City, when they were seeking Food for themselves to restore their Lives.

20. 7 See, O Lord, since I am in Distress; my Bowels are disturbed, my Heart is turned within me, because I have exceedingly rebelled: the Sword deprives of Children abroad, there is as it were Death at home.

21. w They hear that I sigh, having no Comforter; all my Enemies hear of my Harm, rejoicing that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the Time thou hast proclaimed, that they shall be like me.

22. n Let all their Evil come before thee, and do to them as thou hast done to me for all my Trespases: for my Sighs are many, and my Heart is faint.

C H A P. II.

* HOW the Lord makes it cloudy to the Daughter of Zion in his Anger! he has thrown the Ornament of Israel from Heaven to the Earth, and not remembered his Footstool in the Day of his Anger.

2. 2 The Lord has devoured all the Habitations of Jacob without sparing, has demolished in his Wrath the fortified Places of the Daughter of Judah, beating them down to the Ground: he has made the Kingdom and its Princes profane.

3. 2 In the Heat of his Anger has he cut off the whole Horn of Israel, he has drawn back his right Hand from the Face of the Enemy, and burnt against Jacob as a flaming Fire that consumes round about.

4. 7 He bent his Bow like an Enemy, stood with his right Hand like an Adversary, and killed all who were desirable to the Eye: he has poured out his Rage as Fire in the Tent of the Daughter of Zion.

5. n The Lord is like an Enemy, he has devoured Israel, devoured all her Palaces, has destroyed his fortified Places, and multiplied on the Daughter of Judah Sorrow and Sadness.

6. 1 And he has done Violence to his Tabernacle, as if it were one in a Garden, has destroyed his solemn Assembly: the Lord has made that and the Sabbath to be forgot in Zion, and contemned in the Indignation of his Anger the King and the Priest.

7. 1 The Lord has cast off his Altar, detested his Sanctuary, delivered up the Walls of her Palaces into the Power of the Enemy: they have made a Noise in the House of the Lord, as on a Day of the solemn Assembly.

8. n The Lord intended to destroy the Wall of the Daughter of Zion, he stretched out the Measuring-line, did not draw back his Hand from devouring; so that he made the Fort and Wall mourn, they languished together.

9. 2 Her Gates are sunk down into the Ground, he has destroyed and broke her Bars: her King and Princes are among the Gentiles, there is no Law, nor do her Prophets find Vision from the Lord.

10. 1 The Elders of the Daughter of Zion sit on the Ground, being silent, having put Dust upon their Heads, and being girded with Sackcloth: the Virgins of Jerusalem put down their Heads to the Earth.

11. 2 My Eyes fail with Tears, my Bowels are disturbed, my Liver is poured out on the Ground, for the Ruin of the Daughter of my People, by the Children and sucking Babes fainting in the Streets of the Town.

12. 5 They say to their Mothers, Where is there Corn and Wine? when they are fainting away, as one wounded in the Streets of the City, when they are pouring forth their Lives into their Mothers Bosoms.

13. 2 What shall I cause to testify for thee? What shall I liken to thee, O Daughter of Jerusalem? What shall I make equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O Virgin, Daughter of Zion? For thy Ruin is great like the Sea; who can heal thee?

14. 2 Thy Prophets have seen for thee vain and impertinent Things, and not discovered thy Iniquity, to turn back thy Captivity: they have also seen for thee vain Burdens, and Expellings.

15. 2 All who pass that Way clap Hands at thee, they hiss, and shake their Heads at the Daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the City which they say was perfect in Beauty, the Joy of the whole Earth?

16. 2 All thy Enemies open their Mouths against thee, they hiss, and gnash the Teeth, saying, We have devoured her; certainly this

Ver. 20. my Bowels are disturbed] Both in Tyndal's and Cranmer's Bibles, my wombe is disquieted; and with the latter after me in a small Letter and Parenthesis, denoting what is more in the vulg. Lat. and I am full of heavynesse, which in Tyndal's of 1549. is in the full Letter without a Parenthesis, and the following omitted, because I rebelled stubbornly.

Ver. 3. his right Hand] God's, as Ver. 4, 8.

Ver. 9. sunk down into the Ground] being thrown down, and covered with Rubbish.

Ver. 14. vain Burdens] idolatrous and superstitious Service, the Effect of which follows.

is the Day which we waiting for, have found, and seen.

17. ⁹ The Lord has done what he purposed, has accomplished his Saying which he commanded in old Time, having demolished without sparing, and made the Enemy glad over thee, exalting the Horn of thy Adversaries.

18. ⁸ Their Heart cries to the Lord: O Wall of the Daughter of Zion, let Tears run down as a River Day and Night, give thy self no Rest, let not the Apples of thy Eyes be still.

19. ⁸ Get up, cry out in the Night, at the Beginning of the Watches pour forth thy Heart as Water before the Face of the Lord, lift up thy Hands to him, for the Life of thy Children, who are fainting for Hunger at the Top of all the Streets.

20. ⁷ See, O Lord, and behold to whom thou doest thus: shall the Women eat the Fruit of themselves, Children that are swaddled? Shall the Priest and Prophet be killed in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21. ⁸ The Youths and the Elders lie on the Ground in the Streets, my Virgins and young Men are fallen by the Sword: thou hast slain at the Time of thy Anger, hast killed without sparing.

22. ⁷ Thou hast called as on a Day of the solemn Assembly my Fears round about, and there has been no Remnant nor Remainder at the Time of the Lord's Anger: those whom I swaddled and brought up, my Enemy has consumed.

C H A P. III.

¹ I AM the Man who has seen Affliction by the Rod of his Wrath.

2. ⁸ He has led and made me go into Darkness, and not Light.

3. ⁸ Certainly he is turned back against me, he turns his Hand all Day.

4. ² He has made my Flesh and Skin decay, has broke my Bones.

5. ² He has built up against me, and surrounded with Gall and Trouble.

6. ² In dark Places he makes me dwell, as those dead long ago.

7. ² He has made a Fence about me, so that I cannot get out, he has made my Chain heavy.

8. ² Moreover when I cry, and that aloud, he stops up my Prayer.

9. ² He has fenced up my Ways with hewn Stone, made my Paths crooked.

10. ⁷ As a Bear lying in wait is he to me, a Lion in secret Places.

11. ⁷ My Ways has he turned aside, and pulled me in pieces, he has made me desolate.

12. ⁷ He has bent his Bow, and set me as a Mark for the Arrow;

13. ⁷ Making the Brood of his Quiver come into my Reins.

14. ⁷ I am Sport for all my People, their Musick all Day,

15. ⁷ He has filled me with bitter Things, made me drunk with Wormwood.

16. ¹ And has broke my Teeth with Gravel, covered me over with Ashes.

17. ¹ Thou hast also cast away my Life from Peace, I have forgot Prosperity:

18. ¹ So that I said, My Strength and Hope are perished from the Lord;

19. ¹ Remembering my Affliction and Lamenting, the Wormwood and Gall;

20. ¹ Which my Soul thoroughly remembers, and is bowed down in me.

21. ¹ This I bring again to my Mind, therefore I wait;

22. ⁷ It is the Kindness of the Lord that we are not consumed, because his Compassions do not fail.

23. ⁷ They are new every Morning, thy Faithfulness is great.

24. ⁷ The Lord is my Part, says my Soul, therefore I wait for him.

25. ⁸ The Lord is good to such as are waiting for him, to the Soul that seeks him.

26. ⁸ It is good that one should wait, and be silent for the Salvation of the Lord.

27. ⁸ It is good for a Man that he should bear the Yoke in his Youth:

28. ¹ Who sits alone, and is silent, because he has put it upon him;

29. ¹ Who puts his Mouth into the Dust, there being perhaps Hope;

30. ¹ Who puts his Cheek to him that strikes him, who is filled with Reproach.

31. ² For the Lord will not cast away for ever.

32. ² For if he makes sorrowful, yet he has compassion, according to the Multitude of his Favours.

Ver. 20. swaddled] agreeing with the Verb of the same, Ver. 22.

Ver. 22. as on a Day] when the People were called together.

Ver. 1. I am the Man] It seems to me, that Jeremiah speaking in the first Person singular means himself, as proper; see besides this Ver. 14, 24, 48, 51, 53, 57, 59.

Ver. 21. This] which follows in Ver. 22. not the foregoing; therefore the Section is placed wrong in the com. Translation.

Ib. wait] which the Heb. Word properly signifies, and especially here, that it may not disagree with Ver. 18.

Ver. 27. Yoke] Diog. Laertius tells us that Aristotle had to say, three Things were necessary for Youth, phronesis, audacious, honourous, Wit, Exercise and Learning, in ejus Vit.

33. ² Because he does not from his Heart afflict, nor cause Mankind to be sorrowful.

34. ³ To crush under his Feet all the Prisoners of the Earth,

35. ⁴ To turn aside the Judgment of a Man before the Face of the Supreme Being,

36. ⁵ To deal perversely with a Person in his Cause, the Lord will not see.

37. ⁶ Who is it says, and it comes to pass, the Lord not commanding?

38. ⁷ Does not Ill as well as Good proceed from the Mouth of the Supreme Being?

39. ⁸ Why does a living Person bewail himself, a Man for his Sin?

40. ⁹ Let us search and trace out our Ways, and return to the Lord.

41. ¹⁰ Let us lift up our Heart with the Hands, to God in Heaven.

42. ¹¹ We having revolted, and rebelled, thou dost not pardon.

43. ¹² Thou coverest with Anger, and pursuest us, thou slayest without sparing.

44. ¹³ Thou coverest thy self with a Cloud, so that Prayer cannot pass through.

45. ¹⁴ As that which is scraped off and rejected, hast thou made us among the People.

46. ¹⁵ All our Enemies open their Mouths against us.

47. ¹⁶ Fear and a Pit are for us, Wasting and Ruin.

48. ¹⁷ With Streams of Water does my Eye run down, for the Ruin of the Daughter of my People.

49. ¹⁸ My Eye flows out, and is not still, having no Rest;

50. ¹⁹ Till the Lord looks, and sees from Heaven.

51. ²⁰ My Eye affects my Mind, by reason of all the Daughters of my City.

52. ²¹ Eagerly have my Enemies hunted me as a Bird, without cause.

53. ²² They have cut off my Life in the Dungeon, throwing a Stone on me.

54. ²³ The Water flowing over my Head, I said, I am cut off.

55. ²⁴ I called on thy Name, O Lord, out of the lowest Dungeon.

56. ²⁵ Thou didst hear my Voice, saying,

Hide not thy Ear at my Breathing, at my Cry.

57. ²⁶ Thou camest near in the Day I called on thee, thou saidst, Do not fear.

58. ²⁷ Thou, Lord, didst plead the Causes of my Soul, didst vindicate my Life.

59. ²⁸ O Lord, thou seest my Wrong; execute Judgment for me.

60. ²⁹ Thou seest all their Vengeance, all their Devices towards me;

61. ³⁰ Thou hearest their Reproach, O Lord, all their Devices against me;

62. ³¹ The Lips of them who rise up against me, and their Study against me all Day.

63. ³² Look on their sitting down or rising up, I am their Melody.

64. ³³ Render to them a Recompence, O Lord, according to the Work of their Hands.

65. ³⁴ Give them Overwhelming of Heart, thy Curse to them.

66. ³⁵ Pursue and destroy them in Anger, from under the Heaven of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

* HOW the Gold is obscured! The best famous Gold is changed; the Stones of the Holy Place are poured forth at the Top of all the Streets.

2. ¹ The precious Sons of Zion, to be esteemed with pure Gold, how they are counted for earthen Pitchers, the Work of the Potter's Hands!

3. ² Even Dragons draw forth the Breast, they give their young ones suck; but the Daughter of my People is become cruel, like the Ostriches in the Wilderness.

4. ³ The Tongue of the sucking Babe cleaves to the Roof of his Mouth for Thirst: the Children ask for Bread, none dividing to them.

5. ⁴ They that did eat with Delights, are desolate in the Streets: those who were bred up in Scarlet, embrace Dunghills.

6. ⁵ For the Punishment of the Iniquity of the Daughter of my People is greater than that of the Sin of Sodom, which was overthrown in a Moment, and no Hands remained in her.

Ver. 38. Does not Ill] according to Jeb ii. 10. Am. iii. 6. In the com. Translation it is worded as if it was an Assertion, that evil and good proceedeth not out of the mouth of the most High, as I have known it taken to be, and I suppose is commonly, by not minding the Note of Interrogation; and so understanding evil, as indeed most properly, in a moral, not a physical Sense.

Ver. 39. Sin] The Original has not here any other Word for the punishment of.

Ver. 65. thy Curse to them] For this the old Lat. has only, thy Labour, but the Chald. let thy Fatigue fatigue them, and the LXX joining it to Heart before have, the Labour of my Heart; so that too much Stress should not be laid on those ancient Persons: they seem to have derived taalah, Curse, from laah instead of alah, or to have taken it for telaah.

Ver. 6. no Hands remained in her] to help her; the Heb. being thus.

7. † Her Nazarites who were more pure than Snow, whiter than Milk, more red in Body than Carbuncles, whose Trimming was like Sapphire;

8. † Their Visage is darker than Black, they are not known in the Streets; their Skin sticks to their Bones, it is withered, it is like a Stick.

9. † Those are better who are slain with the Sword, than they that are with the Famine; because the latter languish away, being pierced through, for the Fruits of the Field.

10. † The Hands of compassionate Women boiled their own Children, who became Meat for them in the Ruin of the Daughter of my People.

11. † The Lord has accomplished his Wrath, has poured out his fervent Anger, and kindled a Fire in Zion, which has consumed the Foundations of it.

12. † The Kings of the Earth, and all the Inhabitants of the World did not believe, that the Adversary and Enemy would have entered in at the Gates of Jerusalem.

13. † By the Sins of her Prophets, the Iniquities of her Priests, who have shed the Blood of the Righteous within her;

14. † They wandered as the Blind in the Streets, were polluted with Blood, so that their Garments could not be touched.

15. † Get away, it is unclean, they called concerning them, get away, get away, do not touch; when they fled away, as well as wandered: they said among the Gentiles, They shall sojourn no more.

16. † The Face of the Lord has parted them, he will no more look on them; who did not respect the Faces of the Priests, nor favour the Elders.

17. † As for us yet, our Eyes fail for our vain Help: we have watched with our Watching, for a Nation that could not save.

18. † They hunt our Steps from going in our Streets: our End has been approaching, our Days are fulfilled, for our End is come.

19. † Those who pursue us are swifter than the Eagles of the Air; they follow us upon the Mountains, they lie in wait for us in the Wilderness.

20. † The Breath of our Nostrils, the Lord's anointed one, was taken in their Pits; of whom we said, We shall live in his Shadow among the Gentiles.

21. † Be joyful and glad, O Daughter of Edom, who dwellest in the Country of Uz; however the Cup will pass to thee, thou wilt be drunk, and become naked.

22. † Thy Iniquity is accomplished, O Daughter of Zion, he will no more carry thee away captive: he will visit thy Iniquity, Daughter of Edom, will carry thee away captive for thy Sins.

C H A P. V.

REMEMBER, O Lord, how it is with us, look on, and see our Reproach.

2. Our Possession is turned to Strangers, our Houses to Foreigners.

3. We are Orphans without a Father, our Mothers as Widows.

4. Our Water we drink for Money, our Wood comes at a Price.

5. We are persecuted on our Necks, are tired without having Rest.

6. We have put Hands to the Egyptians, to Assyria, to be satisfied with Bread.

7. Our Forefathers have sinned, those who are not, and we bear their Iniquities.

8. Servants have dominion over us, none rescuing from their Power.

9. We did fetch our Bread in Danger of our Lives, by reason of the Sword in the Wilderness.

10. Our Skins were black like an Oven, because of the Tempests of Famine.

11. They humbled the Women in Zion, the Virgins in the Cities of Judah.

12. The Princes were hanged up by their Hand, the Faces of the Elders were not honoured.

13. They took the young Men to grind, and the Boys fell down with the Wood.

Ver. 9. languish away] on which Sandys,
For they in ling'ring Torments pine away;
And find not Death so cruel as Delay.

Ver. 15. They shall sojourn no more] vulg. Lat. He will dwell among them no more, but not after the Heb.

Ver. 16. The Face of the Lord has parted them] by turning from them; and this also answers to Faces after, not signifying anger.

Ver. 20. Breath] Zedekiah, as late Interpreters seem to agree.

Ver. 22. will carry thee away captive] the same Verb as before in this Verse, and is rendered to this Sense in the Passive of the same Conjugation, Nab. ii. 7. besides that by for follows it, which is left out in the common Version, and thus Jun. and Trem. translate the two Words, deportabit propter.

Ver. 12. Hand] By the Hand of their Enemies, Lowth; but their is left out of the com. Lat. which denotes it to be their own Hand, so that this is a dangerous Manner of translating.

14. The Elders are ceased from the Gate, the young Men from their Musick.

15. The Joy of our Heart is ceased, our Dancing is turned to Mourning.

16. The Crown of our Head is fallen off:
wo to us now, because we have sinned.

17. For this our Heart is languishing, for these Things are our Eyes darkened:

18. For Mount Zion that is desolate, on which the Foxes go.

19. Thou, O Lord, abidest for ever, thy Throne to Generation and Generation.

20. Why dost thou forget us eternally, leave us for a long while?

21. Bring us back to thee, O Lord, that we may be brought back, renew our Days as in old Time.

22. But thou dost utterly reject us, thou art very much in Wrath against us.

NOTES upon the BOOK of EZEKIEL.

CHAP. I.

NOW in the thirtieth Year, on the fifth of the fourth Month, as I was among the Captives at the River Chebar, Heaven was opened, and I saw Visions of God.

2. On which Day, it being the fifth Year of King Joiachin's Captivity,

3. Ezekiel the Son of Buzi, the Priest, had the Lord's Commission expressly, in the Country of the Chaldeans, at the River Chebar, where the Hand of the Lord was upon him.

4. I saw that behold there was a Whirlwind came out of the North, a great Cloud, and Fire flashing, with Brightness to it round about; and at the midst of it, within the Fire, was like the Colour of a live Coal.

5. At the midst of it was also the Likeness of four living Creatures: and this was their Appearance, they had the Likeness of a Man.

6. And each of them had four Faces, and each four Wings.

7. Their Feet were straight ones, and the Soles of them like those of a Calf's Foot, which sparkled as the Colour of polished Brass.

8. Nay there were Man's Hands under their Wings on their four Parts, and they four had their Faces and Wings.

9. Their Wings were joined one to another; they did not turn about when they went, each one going straight forward.

10. And the Likeness of their Faces was, those four had the Face both of a Man and a Lion on the right Side, the same four had the Face of an Ox on the left, as they had also of an Eagle:

11. Thus were their Faces. And their Wings were spread upward; each one had two joined together, and two covered their Bodies.

12. And they went each one straight forward, going whither the Spirit was to go, not turning about when they went.

13. As for the Likeness of the living Creatures, their Appearance was as burning Coals of Fire, as the Appearance of Lamps, that went about between the living Creatures; and the Fire was bright, out of which came Lightning.

14. And the living Creatures ran, and returned, as the Appearance of Lightning.

15. As I was looking at them, behold there was a Wheel on the Earth by each of them, with its four Outfides.

16. The Appearance of the Wheels, and their Work, was like the Colour of a Beryl, and those four had the same Likeness; their Appearance also, and their Work, was as it were one Wheel within another.

17. When they went it was upon their four Parts, and that without turning about.

18. By their Felloes, and the Height that was to them, they were dreadful; those four having also their Felloes full of Eyes round about.

19. Moreover when the living Creatures went, the Wheels went by them; and when the former were lifted up from the Earth, the latter were.

20. Whither the Spirit was to go, they went, the Spirit being to go thither; and the Wheels were lifted up over against them, for the Spirit of the living Creature was in the Wheels.

21. When those went, they went; and when those stood still, they did; and when those were lifted up from the Earth, the Wheels were lifted up over against them, as the Spirit of the living Creature was in the Wheels.

22. Besides the Likeness of the Firmament over the Heads of the living Creature was as the Colour of terrible Ice, stretched out over their Heads above.

Ver. 1. thirtieth] from the Reformation and great Passover in Josiah's Reign, as shewn in the Chronology at the End of Dan.

Ver. 15. each of them] there being four Wheels, as there were living Creatures, Ver. 5, 16, 18. Chap. x. 9.

Ib. Outfides] the same as the Parts, Ver. 17. Each of those Wheels being one Wheel within another, Ver. 16. viz. across each other, would be composed of four Semicircles on the Outside; and so might go either forward or sideways, without turning about, Ver. 17. Ch. x. 11. Levith would have this translated so that it might be the four Faces of each living Creature, but seems not to have minded that the Gender of the Pronoun agrees with the Heb. Word for Wheel, not with that for living Creature, which would also make a mere Tautology.

23. And under the Firmament their Wings were straight one to another; each on one Side having two which covered their Bodies, and each on the other having two that did.

24. I further heard the Sound of their Wings like that of great Waters, as the Voice of the Almighty, when they went, the Sound of the Noise being like that of an Army: when they stood still, they let down their Wings;

25. And having done so, there was a Voice from the Firmament that was over their Heads.

26. Above which was the Likeness of a Throne, as the Appearance of Sapphire Stone; and over the Likeness of the Throne, there was a Likeness as the Appearance of a Man upon it above.

27. I saw too as the Colour of a live Coal, as the Appearance of Fire at the Inside of it round about, from the Appearance of his Loins upward; and from that of his Loins downward I saw as the Appearance of Fire, with Brightness to it round about.

28. Like the Appearance of the Bow that is in a Cloud on a showery Day, so was that of the Brightness round about. This was the Appearance of the Lord's Glory; which I seeing, fell upon my Face, and heard the Voice of one that spoke.

C H A P. II.

WHO said to me, Man, stand upon thy Feet, and I will speak to thee.

2. And the Spirit came into me, as he spoke to me, and made me stand upon my Feet, that I might hear him who spoke to me.

3. Then he said to me: Man, I send thee to the Israelites, to rebellious Gentiles who have rebelled against me; they and their Fathers have revolted from me, to this very Day.

4. Nay they are Persons of an impudent Face, and stubborn Heart, to whom I send thee, and thou shalt declare to them, Thus says the Sovereign Lord.

5. And they, whether they will hearken or forbear, for they are a rebellious Family, shall however know that there has been a Prophet among them.

6. And thou Man, be not afraid of them, nor yet of their Words, though there are froward Things and Briers with thee, and thou dwellest with Scorpions: be not afraid of their Words, nor daunted at their Looks, though they be a rebellious Family.

7. Thou shalt speak my Words to them, whether they will hearken or forbear, for they are rebellious.

8. But thou Man, hear what I speak to thee, Be not thou rebellious as that Family is; open thy Mouth, and eat what I give thee.

9. Upon this I looked, and behold there was a Hand reached out to me, and lo a Volume of a Book was in it.

10. Which he spread before me, and it was written both on the Foreside and Backside; and there were written on it Lamentations, mournful Discourse, and Wo.

C H A P. III.

AND he said to me, Eat, Man, what thou findest, namely this Volume; and go, speak to the Family of Israel.

2. So I opened my Mouth, and he made me eat it;

3. Saying to me, Man, let thy Belly consume, and fill thy Bowels with this Volume which I give thee: and as I eat, it was sweet in my Mouth like Honey.

4. Again he said to me: Man, go, get thee to the Family of Israel, and speak to them with my Words.

5. For thou art not sent to a People of deep Speech and hard Language, but to the Family of Israel:

6. Not to many People of deep Speech and hard Language, whose Words thou dost not understand; to whom if I had sent thee, they would have hearkened to thee.

7. But the Family of Israel will not, for they will not hearken to me; because they are all of a stubborn Forehead, and impudent Heart.

Ver. 27. upward] Lowth takes notice of the Stops being placed wrong in this Verse; which makes it differ both from the Heb. Pointing, and Chap. viii. 2. nor has the Printer, I suppose, put it right in Lowth's Amendment.

Ver. 1. Man] The Heb. which is literally Son of Adam or Adamite, on a strict Examination appears to mean no more nor other than Man; accordingly the judicious Castellio renders it only Homos, as Beza, Rev. xiv. 14. While some would have it signify a mean Person, others an eminent one, they both play or trifle with Words; see Don. vii. 13. & Anania, Anti-barb. Bib. in Psa. cii. 21.

Ver. 3. Gentiles] called so for their odious Wickedness, the Word being plural; which the English Translators changing into singular, quite spoil the Sense.

Ver. 6. froward Things] from the Chald. not occurring elsewhere in the Heb. Scripture, tho' frequent in the Targum.

Ver. 7. rebellious] the very same only as in the foregoing Ver. without any Thing for most.

Ver. 7. stubborn] The Expression of Chap. ii. 4. is changed, that being applied here to the Face, which was there to the Heart, and the contrary.

8. Behold I make thy Face strong over against their Faces, and thy Forehead over against theirs;

9. As a Diamond stronger than a Rock I make thy Forehead: do not fear them, nor be daunted at their Looks, though they be a rebellious Family.

10. He said to me further; Man, all my Words which I shall speak to thee, receive in thy Heart, as well as hear with thy Ears.

11. And go, get thee to those of the Captivity, to the Posterity of thy People, and speak to them in this manner, Thus says the Sovereign Lord, whether they will hearken or forbear.

12. Then the Spirit had me away, and I heard a Voice behind me with great Stirring, which said, Blessed be the Glory of the Lord from its Place:

13. The Noise of the living Creatures Wings, that touched one another, and the Noise of the Wheels over against them, being a Noise of great Stirring.

14. Thus the Spirit having me, and taking me away, I went with Bitterness in the Vehemency of my Spirit, but the Hand of the Lord was strong upon me.

15. And I came to those of the Captivity at Tel-abib, who abode at the River Chebar; and I abode where they did, astonished there among them seven Days.

16. At the End of which I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

17. Man, I have made thee a Watchman to the Family of Israel, that thou mayest hear the Matter from my Mouth, and warn them from me.

18. When I say to the Wicked, Thou shalt quite die; and thou dost not warn him, nor speak to warn the Wicked from his wicked Way to keep him alive; such a one's Blood, who dies for his Iniquity, will I require of thee.

19. Nevertheless when thou warnest the Wicked, and he does not return from his Wickedness, and his wicked way; he shall die for his Iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy Soul.

20. Moreover when the Righteous returns from his Righteousness, and does Iniquity, and I put a Thing to stumble at before him, he shall die; and that in his Sin, when thou dost not warn him, and his Righteousness which he has done shall not be remembered, and I will require his Blood of thee.

21. But when thou warnest the Righteous, that he may not sin, and he does not; he shall thoroughly live when he is warned, and thou hast delivered thy Soul.

22. And the Hand of the Lord was upon me there, and he said to me, Rise up, go forth to the Vale, where I will speak to thee.

23. Which I did accordingly, and behold the Glory of the Lord stood there, like the Glory which I saw at the River Chebar; then I fell upon my Face.

24. But the Spirit came into me, and made me stand upon my Feet; and he spoke with me, saying to me: Go, shut up thy self within thy House.

25. For behold thou, Man, shalt have Cords put upon thee by them, with which they will bind thee, so that thou shalt not go out among them.

26. I will also make thy Tongue cleave to the Roof of thy Mouth, that being dumb, thou mayest not be a Person who reproves them: for they are a rebellious Family.

27. However when I speak to thee, I will open thy Mouth, and thou shalt declare to them; Thus says the Sovereign Lord, He who will hearken, let him; and he that will forbear, let him: for they are a rebellious Family.

CHAP. IV.

AND do thou, Man, take thee a Brick, and putting it before thee, engrave upon it the City Jerusalem.

2. Against which lay Siege, build a Fort, make a Rampart, put a Camp, and set Captains round about.

3. Do thou also take thee an iron Pan, and put it for an iron Wall between thee and the City; towards which thou shalt set thy Face, that there may be a Siege, and shalt assault it: which shall be a Sign to the Family of Israel.

4. Besides lie thou on thy left Side, and put the Iniquity of the Family of Israel upon it; whose Iniquity thou shalt bear the Number of the Days which thou liest so.

5. For I give thee the Years of their Iniquity, according to the Number of the Days, namely three hundred and ninety: thus shalt thou bear the Iniquity of the Family of Israel.

6. When thou hast finished these, thou shalt

Ver. 24. he spoke] the Lord, not the Spirit, as the Alteration of the Gender in the Verbs shews; see Chap. ii. 2.

Ver. 2. Captains] translated so 2 King. xi, 4, 19. in our present Bible, and here by Jun. and Trem. accordingly primores; as likewise by Kimbi in the Book of Ruth expounded to be שרי חזקיות Captains of an Army.

lie next on thy right Side, and bear the Iniquity of the Family of Judah forty Days : I appoint thee each Day for a Year.

7. And thou shalt set thy Face towards the Siege of Jerusalem, and with thy Arm made naked, shalt prophesy against it.

8. And behold I will put Cords upon thee, so that thou shalt not turn from one of thy Sides to the other, till thou hast finished the Days of thy Siege.

9. Moreover do thou take thee Wheat, Barley, Beans, Lentiles, Millet and Rye, which thou shalt put into one Vessel, and make Bread of them for thee; this thou shalt eat the Number of the Days that thou liest on thy Side, even three hundred and ninety.

10. And thy Meat which thou eatest shall be by Weight, twenty Shekels a Day; and that from Time to Time.

11. Thou shalt likewise drink Water by Measure, the sixth Part of a Hin; from one Time also to another.

12. And thou shalt eat it as a barley Cake, baking it with the Ordure, the Excrements of Man in their Sight.

13. For thus, said the Lord, shall the Israelites eat their defiled Bread among the Nations, whither I will drive them.

14. At this I said, Alas! O Sovereign Lord, behold my Soul is not defiled; I having not eat of a Carcase, or that which is torn, from my Youth till now, neither has abominable Flesh come into my Mouth.

15. Then he replied to me, See, I give thee the Dung of Oxen instead of human Ordure; upon which thou shalt make thy Bread ready:

16. Saying to me; Man, behold I will break the Staff of Bread in Jerusalem; so that they shall eat Bread by Weight and with Trouble, as also drink Water by Measure and with Desolation:

17. That they may want Bread and Water, be desolate one with another, and be wasted away in their Iniquity.

C H A P V.

DO thou, Man, take thee further a sharp Sword, a Barber's Razor take thee that, and shave thy Head and Beard; then take thee weighing Scales, and divide the Hairs.

2. One third Part thou shalt burn in the Fire within the City, when the Days of the Siege are fulfilled; thou shalt take another, striking round about it with the Sword; and the other shalt thou scatter in the Wind, and I will draw forth a Sword after them.

3. Besides thou shalt take of them a few in Number, and tie them up in thy Skirts.

4. Next shalt thou take some of them again, and cast them into the midst of the Fire, and burn them in it; from which there shall come out a Fire to the whole Family of Israel.

5. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; This is Jerusalem, which I have put in the midst of the Nations, the Countries being round about her.

6. But she has rebelled against my Rules wickedly more than the Nations, and against my Ordinances more than the Countries that are round about her; though they have rejected my Rules, and as for my Ordinances they have not gone in them.

7. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord: Because you have done it more abundantly than the Nations which are round about you, have not gone in my Ordinances, nor performed my Rules; neither have you done according to the Rules of those Nations:

8. For which cause, continues he, behold I myself am against thee, and will execute Judgments within thee in the Sight of the Nations.

Pt. II. Ch. x.* and Gorten tells, he saw in several Places, Bread baked with Fire of the Dung of Oxen and Camels, not for Scarcity of Wood, but because it was better, burning, when quite dried by the Sun, like Charcoal. And their baking Bread is like our making Pancakes, being done on a Copper Plate fixed up between Bricks, and the Fire made in the Hollow under; with the Bread in Cakes, about the Size of a common Plate, and about an Inch thick, *Compend. 9. Nay I will do in thee what I have not done, nor will do like it any more, by reason of all thy Abominations.

10. Therefore the Fathers shall eat the Sons within thee, and the Sons their Fathers; and I will not only execute Judgments in thee, but scatter all the Residue of thee to every Wind.

11. By my living therefore, says the Sovereign Lord, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary, with all thy detestable and abominable Things, I will even diminish, and my Eye shall have no compassion, nor will I also spare.

12. One third Part of thee shall die with the Pestilence, and be consumed with Famine within thee; another shall fall by the Sword round about thee; and I will scatter the other to every Wind, and draw forth a Sword after them.

13. Thus shall my Anger be accomplished, and I will make my Wrath rest on them, that I may comfort my self; and they shall know that I the Lord speak in my Zeal, when I have accomplished my Wrath on them.

14. And I will make thee a Wasting and Reproach among the Nations which are round about thee, in the Sight of every one who passes along.

15. So that it shall be a Reproach, Reviling, Instruction, and Astonishment to the Nations which are round about thee; when I execute Judgments in thee, with Anger, Wrath, and wrathful Rebukes; I the Lord speak it.

16. When I send the ill Arrows of Famine among them, that are for Destruction, which I will send to destroy you, and increase the Famine upon you, breaking your Staff of Bread.

17. Not only Famine will I send upon you, but ill Beasts, that shall make thee destitute, nay Pestilence and Blood shall pass through thee, I will also bring the Sword upon thee: I the Lord speak it.

C H A P. VI.

AND I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards the Mountains of Israel; and prophesy to them,

3. Saying: O Mountains of Israel, hear the Sovereign Lord's Commission, who says thus to the Mountains, Hills, Channels and Vallies; Behold I my self will bring a Sword against you, and destroy your Chapels.

4. Your Altars also shall be desolate, your sun-burnt Images broke down; and I will make your Slain fall before your filthy Idols.

5. Nay I will put the Carcases of the Israelites before their filthy Idols, and scatter your Bones round about your Altars.

6. In all your Habitations the Cities shall be laid waste, and the Chapels be desolate; that your Altars may be laid waste, and be desolate, your filthy Idols may be broke, and cease, your sun-burnt Images be cut down, and your Works abolished.

7. The slain one shall fall too in the midst of you, and you shall know that I am the Lord.

8. Yet I will leave some that you shall have who escape the Sword among the Nations, when you shall be scattered in the Countries.

9. And those who escape of you shall remember me among the Nations, whither they shall be carried captive, who am grieved with their whoring Heart which is departed from me, and with their Eyes that go a whoring after their filthy Idols; and they shall be loathsome to themselves, for the Evils which they have done, in all their Abominations.

10. And they shall know that I am the Lord, who do not speak in vain of doing this ill to them.

11. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Strike with thy Hand, stamp with thy Foot, and exclaim, Alas! for all the heinous Abominations of the Family of Israel, by which they shall fall with the Sword, Famine and Pestilence.

12. He that is far off shall die with the Pestilence, and he that is near shall fall with the Sword, as also he who remains and is besieged shall die with the Famine: thus will I accomplish my Wrath on them.

13. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when their Slain are among their filthy Idols round about their Altars, at every high Hill, on all the Tops of the Mountains, under every green Tree, and under every thick Oak, the Places where they gave a pleasant Smell to all their filthy Idols.

14. For I will stretch out my Hand against them, and make the Country desolate, and that more than the Wilderness at Diblah, in all their Habitations: so shall they know that I am the Lord.

C H A P. VII.

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

Ver. 7. slain one] being singular here.
Ver. 9. who] the Heb. Relative.

Ib. grieved] more-befitting God than broken.

2. And thou Man, thus says the Sovereign Lord to the Country of Israel: The End is come, the very End, upon the four Borders of the Country.

3. Now is the End upon thee, and I will send my Anger on thee, judge thee according to thy Ways, and render upon thee all thy Abominations.

4. My Eye shall have no compassion upon thee, nor will I spare; but will render thy Ways upon thee, and thy Abominations shall be within thee; and you shall know that I am the Lord.

5. Thus says the Sovereign Lord: One Evil, Evil it self behold is come.

6. The End is come, the very End is, it awakes for thee: behold it is come.

7. The Morning is come to thee, O Inhabitant of the Country: the Time is come, the Day of Vexation is near, and not the Echoing of the Mountains.

8. Now will I soon pour out my Wrath upon thee, accomplish my Anger on thee, judge thee according to thy Ways, and render upon thee all thy Abominations.

9. And my Eye shall have no compassion, nor will I spare; I will render upon thee according to thy Ways, and thy Abominations which are within thee, and you shall know that I am the Lord who strike.

10. Behold the Day, lo it is come, the Morning is come forth, the Rod is blossomed, Pride is budded out.

11. Violence is risen up to a Rod of Wickedness: there shall be none of them, nor of their Multitude, nor of any of them, neither shall there be lamenting for them.

12. The Time is come, the Day is approached; let him who buys not be glad, nor him that sells mourn: because there is Rage for the whole Multitude of it.

13. For he who sells shall not return to that which is sold, though he is yet living their Life: because the Vision is for the whole Multitude of it not to return, nor shall any one strengthen himself in the Iniquity of his Life.

14. They have sounded the Trumpet, that all might prepare, but none goes to the Battle: because there is my Rage for the whole Multitude of it.

15. The Sword shall be without, the Pestilence and Famine within: he that is in the Field shall die by the Sword, and as for him who is in the City, the Famine or Pestilence shall consume him.

16. But they that are to escape of them shall escape, and be at the Mountains as Doves of the Vallies, all of them making a Noise, each one for his Iniquity.

17. All Hands shall be slack, and all Knees become as Water.

18. And they shall gird themselves with Sackcloth, Horror shall cover them, there shall be Shame in all Faces, and Baldness on all their Heads.

19. They shall throw their Silver into the Streets, and their Gold shall be separate, their Silver and Gold shall not be able to deliver them at the Time of the Lord's Wrath; they shall neither satisfy their Minds, nor fill their Bellies: because they are the Stumbling-block of their Iniquity.

20. As for the Beauty of his Ornament, he made it excellent; but they made in it the Images of their abominable, their detestable Things: therefore I put it separate from them.

21. And I will give it into the Hands of Strangers for a Prey, and to the Wicked of the Earth for a Spoil, who shall profane it.

22. I will also turn about my Face from them, when they profane my secret Place; into which Robbers shall enter, and profane it.

23. Make a Chain: for the Country is filled with Trials of Blood, and the City with Violence.

24. Therefore I will bring the worst of the Gentiles, and they shall possess their Houses; I will also make the Excellency of the strong ones cease, and their holy Places shall be profaned.

25. Destruction is coming, and though they seek for Peace, there shall be none.

26. One Calamity shall come upon another, and there shall be one Report after another; and they shall seek for a Vision from the Prophet, but the Law shall perish from the Priest, and Counsel from the Elders.

27. The King shall mourn, the Prince be clothed with Desolation, and the People of the Country shall be troubled in their Business: I will do to them after their Way, and judge them with their own Judgments, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ver. 7. Echoing] such as in Isa. xvi. 9, 10. where is the same Heb. Word; yet, how poorly has this been expounded!

Ver. 13. return] at the Year of Jubile.

Ver. 27. in their Business] This was so hard to understand, that even Castalio, with his great Liberty in giving the Sense, has it like our Eng. as likewise the very industrious Jun. and Trem. without any Exposition; though it was their Minds that were to be troubled, concurrent with the foregoing.

C H A P. VIII.

AND in the sixth Year, on the fifth of the sixth Month, I was sitting in my House, and the Elders of Judah sat before me, where the Hand of the Sovereign Lord fell upon me.

2. And I saw plainly that there was a Likeness as the Appearance of Fire, from the Appearance of his Loins downward Fire; and from his Loins upward as the Appearance of Shining, like the Colour of a live Coal.

3. And he reached out the Shape of a Hand, and taking me by a Lock of my Head, the Spirit lifted me up between the Earth and Heaven, and brought me to Jerusalem in the Visions of God, to the Door of the inner Gate that looks northward, where there was the Seat of the Image of Jealousy which makes jealous.

4. Behold also the Glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the Appearance which I saw in the Vale.

5. Then he said to me, Man, look up now the Way that is northward; which I did accordingly, and behold on the North at the Gate of the Altar, there was this Image of Jealousy in the Entry.

6. He further said to me, Dost thou see, Man, what they do, the great Abominations which the Family of Israel do here, that I may be far off from my Sanctuary? But turn yet again, thou shalt see greater Abominations.

7. So he brought me to the Door of the Court, and I saw plainly that there was a Hole in the Wall.

8. Upon this he said to me, Man, dig now in the Wall; which I did accordingly, and behold there was a Door.

9. When he said to me, Go in, and see the wicked Abominations which they do here.

10. And going in, I saw plainly that there were all Shapes of creeping Things and detestable Beasts, with all the filthy Idols of the Family of Israel, drawn upon the Wall round about every where.

11. Before which stood seventy Men of the Elders of the Family of Israel, and Jaazaniah the Son of Shaphan in the midst of them, each with his Censer in his Hand; and there went up a plentiful Cloud of Incense.

12. Whereupon he said to me, Dost thou see, Man, what the Elders of the Family of Israel do in the Dark, each in the Chambers of his Pictures? For they say, The Lord does not see us, the Lord has forsaken the Earth.

13. He likewise said to me, Turn yet again, thou shalt see greater Abominations which they do.

14. And bringing me to the Door of the Gate of the Lord's House, which was towards the North, behold Women sat there weeping for Tammuz.

15. Dost thou see, said he to me, Man? Turn yet again, thou shalt see greater Abominations than these.

16. Next he brought me into the inner Court of the Lord's House, and behold at the Door of the Temple of the Lord, between the Porch and Altar, were about five and twenty Men, with their Backsides to the Temple of the Lord, and their Faces eastward, towards which they bowed down to the Sun.

Ver. 1. sixth Year] as in Chap. i. 2.

Ver. 2. saw] It is evident the Account of this Vision continues to Chap. xi. 25. and by the Manner of relating it Interpreters have concurred, that Ezekiel saw it while the Elders were present, in an Extasy of Mind. But Lewth in his Commentary mentions with Approbation one of great Character, who by the Preface seems to be the Bishop of Coventry and Litchfield, that thinks the Prophet saw it in the fourth Month before called Tammuz, by reason of what he beheld, Ver. 14. and that now he only told it to those who were sitting with him. According to this the first Verse of this Chap. and the last Verse of the 11th have properly an immediate Connection, and all between them is as if it were in a Parenthesis, which is very particular: if it had been so, there were two Ways proper to represent it, either by putting the Matter of this first Verse forward to that last, or placing that last Verse backward to this; but if the Intent was to shew that the Appearance was when the Elders were there, the Method now used is the proper one to describe it, which we may therefore conclude to be the Reality of the Matter. Besides the Hand of the Lord being upon him was an Introduction to the former Vision, Chap. i. 3., and would scarce have been mentioned, especially at such a Distance, for the mere telling of the Narration. The Pretence concerning Tammuz, even if such a Conjecture is allowed, that the only Time of weeping for him was in the 4th Month, would be of little or indeed no Weight; since the Vision was to shew Ezekiel what Abominations were done at Jerusalem, which was unnecessary to be at the very

Time they were performed, nor is it likely that the several Things were really done successively, as the Prophet beheld them in the Vision.

Ver. 3. lifted] As strange as it may seem, Lewth pretends there was a Local Translation of the Prophet from Chaldaea to Jerusalem, to help out the foregoing Notion, I suppose: according to which Ezekiel must have dug in the Wall, and gone in, Ver. viii. 10. but that surely would not have been suffered by the 70 Men, much less would they have performed that idolatrous Service, which they were so careful to conceal in a dark secure Room after he was got in; and absurd must it be for them to say, The Lord does not see us, Ver. 12. when they saw the Prophet looking on; nay if all was actually done, one of the six Men must mark those mentioned, Ch. ix. 4. and the other five slay the rest, Ver. 5, 6, 7, 8. whereas they are afterwards represented alive in the 11th Chap. being what might consist in a Vision.

1b. inner Gate] of the inner Court.

1b. Sun] as was the Manner of the Magian Idolaters

17. And

17. And he said to me; Dost thou see, Man? Is any Thing lighter to the Family of Judah, than to act the Abominations which they do here? For they have filled the Country with Violence, and turned back to provoke me, behold they also put forth the Branch to their Nose.

18. Therefore I will likewise act in Wrath, my Eye shall have no compassion, nor will I spare; nay call in my Hearing, as they may with a loud Voice, I will not hearken to them.

C H A P. IX.

HE called in my Hearing too with a loud Voice as follows, Let those who have the Visitation of the City approach, each with his destroying Weapon in his Hand.

2. And behold there came six Men from the Way of the uppermost Gate, which looks northward, each with his dispersing Weapon in his Hand, among whom was one Man clothed with Linen, having a Writer's Inkhorn on his Loins; and they went in, and stood by the brasen Altar.

3. The Glory of the God of Israel was also lifted up from the Cherub which it was upon, to the Threshold of the House; and he called to the Man clothed with Linen, who had the Writer's Inkhorn on his Loins.

4. To whom the Lord said, Pass through the midst of the City, namely Jerusalem; and make a Mark upon the Foreheads of the Men who sigh and cry, for all the Abominations which are done within it.

5. And to the others he said in my Hearing; Pass through the City after him, and slay; let your Eye have no compassion, nor do ye spare.

6. Kill till they are destroyed old and young, with Virgins, Children and Women, but do not go nigh any Man upon whom there is the Mark, and begin at my Sanctuary. So they began with the old Men who were before the House.

7. Defile the House, added he to them, and fill the Courts with Slain, go forth. Accordingly they went forth, and slew in the City.

8. Now as they were slaying them, and I was left, I fell upon my Face, and cried out, saying, Alas! O Sovereign Lord, wilt thou destroy the whole Residue of Israel, in thy pouring out thy Wrath upon Jerusalem?

9. At which he answered me; The Iniquity of the Family of Israel and Judah is inexpressibly great, the Country being full of Blood, and the City of turning aside: for they say, The Lord has forsaken the Earth, and the Lord does not see.

10. As for me also, my Eye shall have no compassion, nor will I spare; I will render their Way on their own Head.

11. And behold the Man clothed with Linen, on whose Loins was the Inkhorn, brought back Word thus, I have done, as thou didst command me.

C H A P. X.

I FURTHER saw plainly that in the Firmament which was over the Head of the Cherubs, there appeared above them like a Sapphire Stone, as the Appearance of the Likeness of a Throne.

2. And he said thus to the Man clothed with Linen, Go in between the Wheels, under the Cherub, and fill both thy Hands with Coals of Fire from between the Cherubs, and sprinkle over the City. And he went in my Sight.

3. Now the Cherubs stood on the right Side of the House, when the Man went in, and a Cloud filled the inner Court:

4. But then the Glory of the Lord went up from the Cherub, over the Threshold of the House; so that the House was filled with the Cloud, and the Court with the Brightness of the Lord's Glory.

5. And the Sound of the Wings of the Cherubs was heard to the outer Court, like the Voice of God Almighty when he speaks.

6. And when he had commanded the Man clothed with Linen, that he should take Fire from between the Wheels, betwixt the Cherubs, and he was gone in, and stood by the Wheels; of those Times, whose Priests by a Conspiracy about 70 Years after, promoting one of themselves to the Persian Empire, on the Death of Cambyfes the Son of Cyrus, and the Faction being overturned, that Sort of Idolatry fell to decay, but was afterwards revived by Zoroastres, Hyde's Religio veterum Persarum.

Ver. 17. Branch] probably of some particular Wood idolatrously consecrated to the Sun; see 2 Mac. vi. 7.

ib. Nose] to smell to it.

Ver. 2. each with] with being wanting in the com. Eng. Bib. as an Ablative Sign of the Manner; where also his from the Heb. 1 is left out.

Ver. 3. lifted up] The Heb. Verb being passive, the Eng. should indeed be the same; but then it should be such a Verb as may be made passive, which go up being a Neuter Verb cannot: so that the putting was to go up in the com. Transf. does not make it passive like the Heb. but instead of that, which it seems was designed, only throws it into a wrong Tense.

Ver. 9. inexpressibly] as at Exod. i. 7.

Ver. 2. both thy Hands] being the dual, not sing. Number, and as in Ver. 7.

Ver. 4. went up] as already related, Chap. ix. 3. which afterwards resumed its Place over the Cherubs, Ver. 18.

7. A Cherub reached out his Hand from between the rest, to the Fire which was between them, of which he took up, and put into both the Hands of him that was clothed with Linen; who received it, and went out.

8. Besides there appeared at the Cherubs the Shape of a Man's Hand under their Wings.

9. And I saw plainly that there were four Wheels by the Cherubs, one Wheel by one Cherub, and another Wheel by another; and the Appearance of the Wheels was like the Colour of a Beryl Stone.

10. As for their Appearances, those four had the same Likeness, as it were of one Wheel within another.

11. When they went, it was on their four Parts, and that without turning about: for they went to the Place that the Head looked, following it, not turned about in their going along.

12. And their whole Body, with their Backs, Hands and Wings, as also the Wheels, namely those which they four had, were full of Eyes round about.

13. As for the Wheels, it was called to them in my Hearing, O Wheel.

14. And each had four Faces: the first Face was that of a Cherub, the second Face that of a Man, the third that of a Lion, and the fourth that of an Eagle.

15. So the Cherubs were lifted up: that being the living Creature which I saw at the River Chebar.

16. Moreover when the Cherubs went, the Wheels went by them; and when the former took up their Wings to go up from the Earth, the latter also did not turn about from them.

17. When those stood still, they did; and when those were lifted up, they were lifted up with them: for the Spirit of the living Creature was in them.

18. Then the Glory of the Lord went out from the Threshold of the House, and stood over the Cherubs.

19. Who took up their Wings, and were lifted up from the Earth in my Sight, having the Wheels over against them when they went out; and this stood at the Door of the east Gate of the Lord's House, with the Glory of the God of Israel over them above.

20. That was the living Creature which I saw under the God of Israel, at the River Chebar; and I knew that they were Cherubs.

21. Each had four Faces apiece, and each four Wings; and there was the Likeness of a Man's Hands under their Wings.

22. As to the Likeness of their Faces, they were the same which I saw at the River Chebar, the Appearances of them, and themselves; each one going straight forward.

C H A P. XI.

AND the Spirit took me up, and brought me to the east Gate of the Lord's House, which looks eastward, and behold at the Door of the Gate were five and twenty Men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the Son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the Son of Benaiah, Princes of the People.

2. Upon this he said to me; Man, these are the Persons that devise Iniquity, and give evil Counsel in this City:

3. Who persuade, not nearly to build Houses; that is the Pot, and we are the Flesh.

4. Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, Man.

5. And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and he said to me: Declare, thus says the Lord, you have said so, O Family of Israel; for I know what Things come up in your Mind.

6. You have multiplied your Slain in this City, and filled the Streets of it with them.

7. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; Your Slain whom you have made within it, they are the Flesh, and that is the Pot; but I will bring you out from within it.

8. You have been afraid of the Sword, and I will bring the Sword upon you, says the Sovereign Lord.

9. And I will not only bring you out from within it, but will deliver you into the Power of Strangers, and execute Judgments on you.

Ver. 14. Cherub] which by Chap. i. 10. appears to be like that of an Ox; and cherab with the same Letters in Chaldees signifies to plough, the proper Work of Oxen in those Times. The Appearance however might be something different as Ezekiel saw it, direct and sideways.

Ib. second] In the former Vision as they were coming towards him, Chap. i. 4. Ezekiel begins mentioning the Faces on the right Side, first the Man's, next the Lion's, then tells those on the left in the same Manner: whereas here he begins with the Cherub's Face, which might now be next to him, or because it was the proper Face, and counts them as they were placed round after each other.

Ver. 17. with them] either mistaken by our Translators for themselves, or left out, more likely the former.

Ver. 3. nearly] or in a near Place, according to the Heb. which is more than near; and by the Pointing belongs to what follows, as the Verb is also infinitive, not imperative. They being afraid the City should be besieged by Nebuchadnezzar, Ver. 8. 2 Chr. xxxvi. 13. as it was about three Years after, Ch. viii. 1. 2 King. xxv. 1. might properly advise not to build Houses near the City, because they would be an Advantage to the Besiegers; see Trem. and Jun.

Ib. Pot] to hold the Flesh; which the Lord nevertheless declares the City should not them, Ver. 7, 9, 11.

Ver. 5. he said] See Chap. iii. 24.

10. You

10. You shall fall by the Sword, I will judge you at the Border of Israel, and you shall know that I am the Lord.

11. That shall not be a Pot to you, nor shall you be Flesh within it: I will judge you at the Border of Israel.

12. And you shall know that I am the Lord, who have not gone in my Ordinances, nor done my Rules, but have done according to the Rules of the Nations that are round about you.

13. When I prophesied, Pelatiah the Son of Benaiah also dying, I fell upon my Face, and cried aloud thus, Alas, O Sovereign Lord, wilt thou make the Residue of Israel be consumed?

14. Again I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

15. Man, thy own Brethren, thy Kinsmen, and all the whole Family of Israel, are they to whom the Inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get you far off from the Lord, this Country is given to us for an Inheritance.

16. Therefore declare, Thus says the Sovereign Lord, Removed them as I have far off among the Nations, and scattered them as I have in the Countries; yet will I be a little Sanctuary to them in the Countries whither they are come.

17. For which reason declare; Thus says the Sovereign Lord, I will also bring you together from the People, and gather you from the Countries into which you are scattered, and will give you the Land of Israel.

18. Thither shall they come, and take away all its detestable and abominable Things from it.

19. And I will give them one Heart, and put a new Spirit within you: I will even take away the stoney Heart out of their Body, and give them a Heart of Flesh:

20. That they may go in my Ordinances, observe my Rules, and do them; so may be a People to me, and I be a God to them.

21. But I will render their Way on their Heads, whose Mind goes according to the Mind of their detestable and abominable Things, says the Sovereign Lord.

22. Then the Cherubs took up their Wings, having the Wheels over against them; over whom was the Glory of the God of Israel above.

23. And the Glory of the Lord went up from the midst of the City, and stood upon the Mountain which was at the east Side of it.

24. Afterwards the Spirit took me up, and brought me into Chaldea to them of the Captivity, in the Vision by the Spirit of God: so the Vision which I saw went up from me.

25. And I spoke to them of the Captivity all the Lord's Matters, which he shewed me.

C H A P. XII.

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commission thus:

2. Man, thou dwellest among a rebellious Family; who having Eyes to see, do not see, and Ears to hear, do not hear, because they are a rebellious Family.

3. Therefore thou Man, prepare thee Goods to be carried away, and carry away by Day in their Sight, and that from thy own to another Place: perhaps they will consider, though they be a rebellious Family.

4. When thou hast brought out thy Goods by Day in their Sight, as Goods to be carried away; thou shalt come forth thy self at Evening in their Sight, as those who are carried away do.

5. Dig for thy self in their Sight through the Wall, and bring out through it.

6. Thou shalt carry upon the Shoulder in their Sight, bringing out in the Twilight, covering thy Face, that thou mayest not see the Ground: for I make thee a Token to the Family of Israel.

7. And I did so as I was commanded: I brought out my Goods by Day, as Goods to be carried away, and at Evening I dug for my self through the Wall with my own Hand; I brought out in the Twilight, carrying upon the Shoulder in their Sight.

8. In the Morning I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

9. Man, did not the Family of Israel, the rebellious Family, ask thee, What art thou doing?

10. Tell them, that the Sovereign Lord says, This Burden is for the Prince in Jerusalem, and the whole Family of Israel, amongst whom they are.

11. Say; I am your Token: as I have done, so shall it be done to them, they shall come into Captivity among those that are carried away.

Ver. 12. who] the Heb. Relative.

Ver. 24. brought] viz. back again, Ch. viii. 3.

Ver. 10. amongst whom they are] which the Heb. verbatim whom they are amongst them must certainly signify, this being the very Heb. Manner of expressing it, or the like; and they appears to mean those belonging to the Prince, Ver. 14. as the same is used Ver. 12. not to interpret with others, among them to be among themselves.

Ver. 11. among those that are carried away] or in the Captivity, as the same Noun is rendered Ver. 4.

12. For the Prince who is amongst them shall carry on the Shoulder in the Twilight, and come forth; they shall dig through the Wall to bring out through it: he shall cover his Face, to the intent that he may not see the Ground with the Eye.

13. And I will spread my Net over him, so that he shall be taken in my Hunting-net: nay I will bring him to Babylon, the Country of the Chaldeans; yet he shall not see it, though he shall die there.

14. All who are round about him being his Helpers, and all his Troops will I scatter in every Wind, and draw forth a Sword after them.

15. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I disperse them in the Nations, and scatter them in the Countries.

16. I will notwithstanding leave of them a few Persons, from the Sword, Famine and Pestilence; that they may tell all their abominable Things in the Nations whither they come, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

17. Moreover I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

18. Man, thou shalt eat thy Victuals with Quaking, and drink thy Liquor with Disturbance and Trouble.

19. And thou shalt pronounce to the People of the Country; Thus says the Sovereign Lord, about the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, concerning the Land of Israel; They shall eat their Victuals with Trouble, and drink their Liquor with Desolation; that her Country may be desolate from what it is filled with, by reason of the Violence of all who dwell in it.

20. The Cities which are inhabited shall be laid waste, the Country shall become desolate, and you shall know that I am the Lord:

21. I had also the Lord's Commission thus:

22. What Proverb, Man, is this of yours concerning the Land of Israel, that the Time is prolonged, and every Vision perishes?

23. Therefore declare to them, that the Sovereign Lord says; I will make this Proverb cease, and they shall no more use it for a Proverb in Israel; but tell them, The Time is near, and the Matter of every Vision.

24. For there shall be no more any vain Vision, or flattering Divination, within the Family of Israel.

25. Since I am the Lord, who will speak the Matter which I have to speak, and it shall be done, without any longer Delay: for I will not only speak the Matter, O rebellious Family, but do it in your Days, says the Sovereign Lord.

26. The Lord's Commission I had further as follows;

27. Man, behold the Family of Israel say, The Vision which he sees is for many Days, and he prophesies of Times far off.

28. Therefore tell them; Thus says the Sovereign Lord, None of my Words shall be delayed any more, the Matter which I speak shall also be done, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XIII.

AND I had the Lord's Commission thus:

2. Prophecy, Man, to the Prophets of Israel that prophecy, and say to them who are Prophets of their own Minds: Hear the Lord's Commission;

3. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Wo be to the vile Prophets, who go after their own Spirit, and have seen Nothing.

4. Thy Prophets, O Israel, are like the Foxes in the waste Places.

5. You do not go up into the Breaches, and make up the Fence for the Family of Israel, that they may stand in the Battle on the Day of the Lord.

6. They see Falsehood and lying Divination, saying, The Lord says, when the Lord has not sent them; and they make others wait for the Matter to be confirmed.

7. Do not you see a false Vision, and tell a lying Divination, when you declare, The Lord says, and I have not spoken?

8. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord: Because you speak Vanity, and see Lying: therefore behold I am against you, says the Sovereign Lord.

9. And my Hand shall be against the Pro-

Ib. the Time is prolonged] So the Jews have soothed themselves up since the Coming of Christ; there being great Expectation among them, as well as Proof, that it would be about the Time it was, of which see in short Grotius's Truth of the Christian Religion, Lib. v. 14. wherein he mentions, that the Hebrew Master Nehumias, who was 50 Years before, said then openly, that the Time of the Messiah signified by Daniel, could not be prolonged beyond those fifty Years: however Le Clerc in a Note thereon, says it would have been right for Grotius to have told whence he had it, and supposes it was only from some Jew; but Patrick in his Eng. Transl. of that notable Book, shews otherwise in the Pref.

phets who see Vanity, and divine Lying; they shall not be in the Counsel of my People, neither shall they be written in the Writing of the Family of Israel; nor come into the Land of Israel; and you shall know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

10. Forasmuch as they make my People err, by saying, Peace, when there is none; as also one builds a mud Wall, and behold others plaister it with untempered Mortar.

11. Say to those who plaister with untempered Mortar, that it shall fall: there is an overflowing Shower, and you, O great Hailstones, shall fall, and a very tempestuous Wind shall cleave asunder.

12. When behold the Wall is fallen, will it not be said to you, Where is the Plaistering which you plaistered?

13. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; I will even cleave asunder with a very tempestuous Wind in my Wrath, and there shall be an overflowing Shower in my Anger, with great Hailstones in Wrath to consume.

14. So will I demolish the Wall which you plaister with untempered Mortar, and throw it down to the Ground, so that its Foundation shall be discovered; and when it falls, you shall be consumed within it, and shall know that I am the Lord.

15. Thus I will accomplish my Wrath on the Wall, and on those that plaister it with untempered Mortar; and will say to you, There is no Wall, nor any who plaistered it;

16. Namely the Prophets of Israel, who prophesy for Jerusalem, and see Visions of Peace for her, when there is no Peace, says the Sovereign Lord.

17. Thou Man likewise, put thy Face towards the Daughters of thy People, who prophesy out of their own Hearts, and prophesy against them,

18. Saying: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Wo be to the Women that sew Cushions for all Arm-pits, and make Bolsters for the Head of every Height, to hunt Souls. Shall you hunt the Souls of my People, and keep alive the Souls that you have;

19. As also make me profane to my People, for Handfuls of Barley, and Pieces of Bread, to make the Souls die that should not die, and to keep the Souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my People who hear it?

20. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am against your Cushions, whither you hunt Souls to the flourishing Women, and will tear them from your Arms; and I will let the very Souls go that you hunt to the flourishing Women.

21. I will likewise tear your Bolsters, and deliver my People out of your Power, where they shall be no more to be hunted; and you shall know that I am the Lord.

22. Because you grieve the Heart of the Righteous by Falsehood, when I have not made it grieve, and strengthen the Hands of the Wicked, that he may not return from his evil Way, to be restored to Life:

23. Therefore you shall not see Vanity, nor use Divination any more; but I will deliver my People out of your Power, and you shall know that I am the Lord.

C H A P. XIV.

SOME of the Elders of Israel also came to me, and sitting before me,

2. I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

3. Man, these Men bring up their filthy Idols in their Heart, and put the Stumbling-block of their Iniquity before their Face; shall I be at all enquired of by them?

4. Therefore speak to them, and tell them; Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Each Man of the Family of Israel who brings up his filthy Idols into his Heart, and sets the Stumbling-block of his Iniquity before his Face, then comes to a Prophet: I the Lord will have him that comes be answered concerning the Multitude of his filthy Idols:

5. That I may take the Family of Israel in their own Mind, who are all of them alienated from me by their filthy Idols.

6. Declare therefore to the Family of Is-

Ver. 20. the flourishing Women] spoken of in the Verses before, this being the pref. fem. and plur. Participle, from the Verb of that Signification, and which never signifies to flie elsewhere. The Root פרח might be mistaken for פרח to flie, and these English Words being confounded together, the former might be put for the latter, were not the vulg. Lat. volo; yet who knows whether that might not be affected in some Instance, as here, by the old Saxon, which had likewise fleayan and flean? It seems however more likely, that there being a Noun from this Verb which signifies the Young of Birds, as another does a Flower, both from their flourishing, fly was made at Random from thence. But is not hunting Things to make them flie, contrary to Sense, when they are hunted to be caught? The Eng. Marg. or in a garden, is a strange Imagination, perhaps because Things flourish or bud there, which however destroys the other Meaning. The Gr. Translator evidently did not understand it; as he the first time confounds it with the Verb for hunt; rendering both συνέπρετε, you gather together, and the latter contrarily διασποράν, Dispersion.

tack:

rael: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Return, and turn your selves back from your filthy Idols, and from all your Abominations turn back your Face.

7. For each Man of the Family of Israel, or of the Strangers that sojourn in Israel, who is separated from following me, and brings up his filthy Idols into his Heart, and sets the Stumbling-block of his Iniquity before his Face; then comes to a Prophet to enquire of him concerning me, I the Lord will have him be answered concerning me;

8. That I will put my Face against that Man, will make him be set for a Sign and for Proverbs, and will cause him to be cut off from among my People; so you shall know that I am the Lord.

9. As for a Prophet when he is enticed, and speaks a Matter, I the Lord let that Prophet be enticed; but I will stretch out my Hand against him, and destroy him from among my People Israel.

10. And they shall suffer for their Iniquity; the Iniquity of the Prophet being even as that of the Enquirer;

11. That the Family of Israel may no more go astray from following me, nor defile themselves any more with all their Revoltings; but may be a People to me, and I be a God to them, says the Sovereign Lord.

12. Again I had the Lord's Commission thus:

13. Man, when the Country sins against me, by committing a Fault, and I stretch out my Hand against it, and break its Staff of Bread, sending Famine into it, and cut off from it Man and Beast;

14. And there should be these three Men within it, Noah, Daniel and Job, they should deliver but their own Souls by their Righteousness, says the Sovereign Lord.

15. If I cause ill Beasts to pass through the Country, which make it destitute; so that it becomes desolate, without any one passing through, by reason of the Beasts;

16. These three Men being within it, by my living, says the Sovereign Lord, they should deliver neither Sons nor Daughters; they alone should be delivered, but the Country should become desolate.

17. Or should I bring the Sword upon that Country, and say, Sword, pass through the Country, and I should cut off from it Man and Beast;

18. Though these three Men were within it, by my living, says the Sovereign Lord, they should not deliver Sons or Daughters; but themselves alone should be delivered.

19. Or should I send the Pestilence into that Country, and pour out my Wrath upon it with Blood, to cut off Man and Beast from it;

20. Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were within it, by my living, says the Sovereign Lord, they should not deliver Son nor Daughter; they should deliver but their own Souls by their Righteousness:

21. Much less, says the Sovereign Lord, when I send my four grievous Judgments to Jerusalem, the Sword, Famine, ill Beasts and Pestilence, to cut off from it Man and Beast.

22. Yet behold there shall be left in it a Remnant escaped, that shall be brought out, Sons and Daughters, who behold will come forth to you, and ye shall consider their Way and Deeds; and shall be comforted for the Ill which I have brought upon Jerusalem, all that I have brought upon it.

23. They shall even comfort you, when ye consider their Way and Deeds; and ye shall know that I have not done all which I have done in it for nothing, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XV.

THE Lord's Commission I had too as follows:

2. Man, what is the Vine-tree more than any other, or a Branch which is among the Trees of the Wood?

3. Is there Wood taken of it to be made up for Work? Do they take a Pin of it to hang any Thing upon it?

4. Behold it is put into the Fire to be consumed; the Fire consumes both Ends of it, and the Middle of it is burnt up; is it fit for Work?

5. Lo when it is whole, it is not made up for Work; much less when the Fire has consumed it, and is burnt up, shall it be made up for Work any more.

6. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; According as the Vine-tree is among the Trees of the Wood, which I give to the Fire to be consumed; so will I give the Inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7. Against whom I will put my Face; though they get out of one Fire, another shall consume them: thus you shall know that I am the Lord, when I set my Face against them.

Ver. 7. concerning me] both times the same in Heb.
Ver. 8. That I will] according to Jun. and Trem. and the apparent Meaning.

Ver. 9. let] See Exod. vii. 3.
Ver. 3. made up] Nothing of meet;

8. And I will make the Country desolate, because they have committed a Crime, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XVI.

MOREOVER I had the Lord's Commission as follows :

2. Man, let Jerusalem know her Abominations.

3. Thou shalt declare : Thus says the Sovereign Lord to Jerusalem ; Thy Traffick and Birth are from the Country of the Canaanites, thy Father being an Amorite, and thy Mother a Hittite.

4. And as for thy Birth, on the Day thou wast born thy Navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed with Water at my Sight of thee, nor salted at all, nor yet swathed at all.

5. No Eye had compassion upon thee, to do one of these Things to thee, by taking pity on thee ; but thou wast cast out in the Field, with the Loathing of thy Person, on the Day thou wast born.

6. And I passing by thee, saw thee lying to be trod on in thy Blood, and said to thee, Live in thy Blood, which I repeated to thee.

7. I made thee ten thousand like the Sprout of the Field, and thou didst increase, become great, and camest to be in the chief Ornament ; the Breasts were put in order, and thy Hair grew, whereas thou hadst been naked and bare.

8. Thus when I passed by thee, and saw thee, behold thy Time was the Time of Love, for I spread my Skirt over thee, and covered thy Nakedness ; nay I sware to thee, and entered into a Covenant with thee, says the Sovereign Lord, and thou becamest mine.

9. I also washed thee with Water, rinsing thy Blood from thee, and anointed thee with Oil.

10. Besides I clothed thee with Embroidery, shod thee with Badgers Skin, girded thee about with fine Linen, and covered thee with Silk.

11. And I decked thee with an Ornament, put Bracelets upon thy Hands, and a Chain upon thy Neck.

12. I likewise put a Jewel upon thy Brow, Ear-rings upon thy Ears, and a fine Crown on thy Head.

13. Thou wast not only decked with Gold and Silver, having thy Cloaths of fine Linen, Silk and Embroidery, but didst eat fine Flour, Honey and Oil ; nay inexpressibly beautiful wast thou, and withal didst prosper to a Kingdom.

14. So that thou hadst a Name went forth among the Nations for thy Beauty ; as being perfect through my Comeliness which I put upon thee, says the Sovereign Lord.

15. But thou didst trust in thy own Beauty, and commit Whoredom with thy Name, pouring out thy Fornications on every one that passed by, who would have it.

16. And thou tookest off thy Garments, and making thee speckled Chapels, didst commit Whoredom upon them : Things which should not come, nor should it be.

17. Thou tookest thy fine Things too of my Gold and Silver, which I gave thee, and madest thee Male-images, with whom thou didst commit Whoredom.

18. And taking thy embroidered Garments, thou coveredst them ; and didst put my Oil and Incense before them.

19. My Bread also which I gave thee, the fine Flour, Oil and Honey, that I caused thee to eat, thou didst put before them for a pleasant Smell, as it was, says the Sovereign Lord.

20. Nay thou tookest thy Sons and Daughters, whom thou borest to me, and didst sacrifice them to those to be consumed : is that a little Matter from thy Fornications ?

21. Thou hast even killed my Children, and delivered them, that they might be made pass through the Fire to those.

22. And with all thy Abominations and Whoredoms, thou didst not remember the Days of thy Youth, when thou wast naked and bare, wast lying to be trod on in thy Blood.

23. Now

23. Now after all thy Wickedness, wo, wo be to thee, says the Sovereign Lord;

24. That thou hast built thee a Brow, and made thee a high Place in every broad Way.

25. At every Head of the Way hast thou built thy high Place, so that thou hast made thy Beauty to be abhorred, having put open thy Feet to every one who passed by, and multiplied thy Fornications.

26. Thou hast further committed Whoredom with the Egyptians thy Neighbours, of great Flesh; and multiplied thy Fornication, to provoke me.

27. Therefore behold I stretched out my Hand against thee, and diminished thy Allowance, and delivered thee to the Desire of those that hate thee, the Daughters of the Philistines, who are ashamed of thy lewd Way.

28. With the Assyrians hast thou likewise committed Whoredom, because thou wast dissatisfied; and when thou hadst done it, thou wast also not satisfied.

29. So thou hast multiplied thy Fornication at the Country of Canaan and to Chaldea, and yet thou art not satisfied with this.

30. How faint thy Heart is, says the Sovereign Lord, by thy doing all these Things, the Work of a domineering whorish Woman!

31. By thy building thy Brow in the Head of every Way, and making thy high Place in every broad Way! and thou hast not been like a Harlot, for scorning Hire;

32. But a Woman that commits Adultery, who receives Strangers instead of her Husband.

33. To all Harlots they give a Price, but thou givest thy Prices to all thy Lovers, and bribest them to come to thee on every Side, for thy Fornications.

34. So in thee it is different from other Women, in thy Fornications; since Whoredom is not committed by following thee, as also by thy giving Hire, and none being given thee, so that thou art become different.

35. For this reason, O Harlot, hear the Lord's Commission:

36. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Because thy Filthiness has been poured out, and thy Nakedness discovered, by thy Fornications with thy Lovers, and with all the filthy Idols of thy Abominations, and according to the Blood of thy Children whom thou hast given to them;

37. Therefore behold I will gather together all thy Lovers, with whom thou hast been sweet, even all that thou hast loved, with all that thou hast hated; and when I have gathered them together against thee on every Side, I will discover thy Nakedness to them, so that they shall see all of it.

38. And I will judge thee with the Judgments of Women who commit Adultery, and shed Blood, giving thee the Blood of Wrath and Jealousy.

39. I will also deliver thee into their Power, and they shall demolish thy Brow, break down thy high Places, strip thee of thy Garments, and take thy fine Things, leaving thee naked and bare.

40. They shall moreover bring up a Company against thee, and stone thee with Stones, and stab thee with their Swords.

41. Thy Houses they shall burn with Fire, and execute Judgments on thee in the Sight of many Women: thus I will make thee cease from committing Whoredom, nor shalt thou give Hire any more.

42. Then will I cause my Wrath against thee to rest, my Jealousy shall depart from thee; I will be still, and be displeased no more.

43. Because thou didst not remember the Days of thy Youth, but wast moved against me in all these Things; so I will also render thy Way on thy Head, says the Sovereign Lord, that thou mayest not do this Lewdness over and above all thy Abominations.

44. Behold every one who uses Proverbs, shall do it thus concerning thee, The Daughter is like her Mother.

45. Thou art thy Mother's own Daughter, who loathed her Husband and Children; and the Sister of thy Sisters, that did loath theirs: your Mother being a Hittite, and your Father an Amorite;

46. Thy elder Sister was Samaria, who with her Daughters dwelt on thy left Side, and thy Sister that was younger than thou, who dwelt at thy right Side, was Sodom and her Daughters.

47. Nevertheless thou dost not go in their Ways, and do according to their Abominations; which is such a little contemptible Matter, that thou art more corrupt than they in all thy Ways.

48. By my living, says the Sovereign Lord, Sodom thy Sister and her Daughters did not do, as thou dost with thine.

49. Lo this was the Iniquity of thy Sister Sodom, she and her Daughters had Exaltation, Fulness of Victuals, and undisturbed

Ver. 26. Fornication] not plural here; our Translators, it seems, mistaking 1 for 1

Quietness, yet she did not strengthen the Hand of the Afflicted and Needy.

50. And as they were haughty, and committed Abomination before me, I took them away, according to what I saw.

51. Nor did Samaria sin according to half thy Sins; who hast multiplied thy Abominations more than they, and justified thy Sisters by all thy Abominations which thou hast done.

52. Do thou also, who didst judge thy Sisters, bear thy own Shame, for thy Sins which thou hast done more abominable than they, who are justified more than thou: nay be thou confounded too, and bear thy Shame, for thy justifying thy Sisters.

53. And when I bring back their Captivity, namely that of Sodom and her Daughters, as also of Samaria and hers, the Captivity of thy Captives shall be amongst them:

54. That thou mayest bear thy Shame, and be ashamed for all which thou hast done, in thy comforting them.

55. And when thy Sisters, Sodom with her Daughters return to their former State, and Samaria with her Daughters do to theirs, thou and thine shall return to your former State.

56. For thy Sister Sodom was not to be heard in thy Mouth, on the Day of thy Exaltations;

57. Before thy Wickedness was discovered, as it was at the Time of the Reproach of the Daughters of Syria, and all that were round about her, the Daughters of the Philistines, who disdained thee on every Side.

58. Thy Lewdness and thy Abominations are what thou bearest, says the Lord.

59. And I will do to thee (for thus the Sovereign Lord says) as thou hast done, who hast despised the Oath, by breaking the Covenant.

60. However I remember my Covenant with thee in the Days of thy Youth, and will confirm to thee a lasting Covenant.

61. And thou shalt remember thy Ways, and be ashamed, when thou receivest thy Sisters, both elder and younger than thy self; whom I will give thee for Daughters, though not by thy Covenant.

62. I will even confirm my Covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord:

63. That thou mayest remember, be confounded, and have thy Mouth open no more, by reason of thy Shame; when I am pacified towards thee for all that which thou hast done, says the Sovereign Lord.

CH A P. XVII.

I HAD also the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man, utter a hidden Speech, and use the following Parable to the Family of Israel:

3. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; There was a great Eagle with great Wings, long-winged, full of Feathers, who had divers Colours, went to Lebanon, and took the highest Branch of a Cedar.

4. He plucked off the Top of its young Twigs, and brought it into a Country of Dealers, placed it in a City of Merchants.

5. He likewise took some of the Seed of the Country, and put it in a Field that was for Seed; setched it to great Waters, placing it carefully.

6. So it grew, and became an abounding Vine of low Stature, turning its Sprouts to him, and its Roots were under him: thus it became a Vine, yielded Limbs, and shot forth Branches.

7. There was another great Eagle too with great Wings, and many Feathers; and behold this Vine gathered its Roots towards him, shot forth its Sprouts to him, that he might water it from the Beds of its Plantation.

8. It was planted in a good Field at great Waters, to yield Boughs, and bear Fruit, that it might become a stately Vine.

9. Declare; Thus says the Sovereign Lord, Shall it prosper? Shall he not pull up the Roots of it, and cut off its Fruit, that it may wither, even in all the Leaves of its Shoots, and not by a great Arm, and by many People, to take it up by its Roots?

10. Behold though it is planted, shall it prosper? Shall it not still wither when the

Ver. 53. when] that is never, as it certainly must be of Sodom, and so most Interpreters that I have consulted understand it. But Louth expounds it of the Gentiles coming into the Church, to be yet fulfilled: whereas he is speaking against Jerusalem to the 60th Verse, besides the Discourse is of the real Cities, Jerusalem, Samaria and Sodom.

Ib. thy Captives] all them whose Metropolis Jerusalem once was, together with its Kings and Grandeur as heretofore, or its former State, Ver. 55. to which Jerusalem has never been restored since.

Ver. 61. Sisters] He uses the like Metaphor as before, but does not call them here Sodom and Samaria; for doubtless these were the Gentiles who should be received into the Church.

Ver. 5. carefully] from the Verb נִשְׁמַר to watch, as in Buxtorf's Lexic. and Castellus in his famous Lexicon, col. 3222. says some have it a Willow-tree, fatis inepte, foolishly enough; adding, quid salici cum vite? What has a Willow to do with the Vine?

Ver. 10. Still] as Hebricians know.

East-wind touches it, even on the Beds of its Shoots?

11. Besides I had the Lord's Commission thus:

12. Ask now the rebellious Family; Do not you know what these Things are? Say; Lo the King of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the King and Princes of it, and brought them with him to Babylon.

13. He also took one of the royal Offspring, made a Covenant with him, and brought him into an Oath, as likewise took the mighty ones of the Country:

14. That the Kingdom might be low, without lifting it self up, that it might stand by keeping his Covenant.

15. But it has rebelled against him, by sending its Ambassadors to Egypt, to give it Horses and many People. Shall it prosper? Shall it escape that does these Things? And be delivered, when it has broke the Covenant?

16. By my living, says the Sovereign Lord, he shall die in the King's Place, in the midst of Babylon with him, who made him King, whose Oath he has despised, and whose Covenant he has broke.

17. Nor shall Pharaoh with great Force, and much Company, avail him in the War; by making a Rampart, and building a Fort, to cut off many Persons.

18. Since he has despised the Oath by breaking the Covenant, when behold he had given his Hand, and has done all these Things, he shall not escape.

19. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; By my living, my Oath which he has despised, and my Covenant which he has broke, is what I will render on his Head.

20. And I will spread my Net over him, so that he shall be taken in my Hunting-net; and will bring him to Babylon, where I will come to Judgment with him, for his Fault which he has committed against me.

21. All that flee of him in all his Troops shall fall by the Sword, and those who are left will I spread abroad in every Wind; and you shall know that I the Lord have spoken it;

22. Thus says the Sovereign Lord, I will also take the highest Branch of the high Cedar, and set it; from the Top of its young Twigs will I pluck off a tender one, and I will plant it upon a Mountain high and heaped up.

23. On a Mountain of the Height of Israel will I plant it, and it shall bear Boughs, yield Fruit, and become a magnificent Cedar; and under that shall dwell all Fowl of every Wing, which they shall do in the Shadow of its Sprouts:

24. And all the Trees of the Field shall know that I the Lord have made the high Tree low, the low one high; have caused the green Tree to wither, and the withered one to flourish: I the Lord speak, and will do it.

C H A P. XVIII.

MOREOVER I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. What is the Matter with you, who use this Proverb concerning the Country of Israel, that the Fathers did eat Grapes which were not ripe, and the Children's Teeth are set on edge?

3. By my living, says the Sovereign Lord, you shall no more have to use this Proverb in Israel.

4. Lo all Souls are mine, the Son's Soul the same as the Father's: the Soul which sins, that shall die.

5. For when a Man is virtuous, doing Justice and Virtue;

6. Does not eat on the Mountains, look up to the filthy Idols of the Family of Israel, defile his Neighbour's Wife, approach a separate Woman,

7. Nor oppresses any, gives back his Pawn to the Debtor, takes not away a Thing by force, gives his Bread to the Hungry, and covers the Naked with a Garment,

8. Neither lends for Usury, nor takes Interest, turns back his Hand from Iniquity, does true Justice between one and another,

9. Goes in my Ordinances, and observes my Rules, to do what is right; such a one being virtuous, shall thoroughly live, says the Sovereign Lord.

10. But should he beget a Son who is a Robber, one who sheds Blood, or that does to his Brother some one of the foregoing Things,

11. Or who omits doing any other of them; as being one that eats on the Mountains, defiles his Neighbour's Wife,

Ver. 13. one of] Zedekiah, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 10, 13.

Ver. 24. speak] According to the Hebrew, Time is divided only into past and future, as if the present was but an Instant, or infinitely short, the future beginning where the past ends; which is no absurd Notion; for in the Instance before us, the very last foregoing Words must be spoken in the past Time; and that Language having no present Tense, has the Verb here in the past

Form, though the same be intended which we should signify by the present.

Ib. and will do] Here is the converive \dagger denoting the Future; Buxt. Thef. Gram. Lib. ii. 21. so that Lowth comments but on the Eng. Transf. by saying here, 'The Prophets often speak of future Events as if they were already accomplished.'

Ver. 10. Brother] the same, Ver. 18.

12. Oppresses the Afflicted or Needy, takes away a Thing by force, does not give back the Pawn, looks up to the filthy Idols, does what is abominable,

13. Lends for Usury, or takes Interest; shall he then live? He shall not, he who does any of these Abominations shall quite die, bearing the Blame of his own Blood.

14. Behold on the contrary, should one beget a Son, who considers all his Father's Sins which he has done, and upon that will not do the like;

15. Neither eat upon the Mountains, look up to the filthy Idols of the Family of Israel, defile his Neighbour's Wife,

16. Oppress any, keep what is pawned, nor take away a Thing by force, will give his Bread to the Hungry, cover the Naked with a Garment,

17. Draw back his Hand from hurting the Afflicted, not take Usury or Interest, do my Rules, go in my Ordinances; he will not die for his Father's Iniquity, he shall thoroughly live.

18. His Father indeed, because he used Oppression, took away a Thing forcibly from his Brother, and did what was not good among his People, shall die for his own Iniquity.

19. Yet you say, How is it that the Son does not suffer for the Father's Iniquity? though the Son who does Justice and Virtue, observes all my Ordinances, and does them, thoroughly lives.

20. The Soul which sins, that shall die: the Son shall not suffer for the Father's Iniquity, nor the Father for the Son's; the Virtuous shall have the Benefit of his own Virtue, and the Wicked bear the Blame of his own Wickedness.

21. When the Wicked notwithstanding returns from all his Sins which he has done, and observes all my Ordinances, doing Justice and Virtue; he shall thoroughly live, not die.

22. None of his Transgressions which he has done shall be mentioned to him, by his Virtue that he does shall he live.

23. Do I at all delight that the Wicked should die, says the Sovereign Lord; and not when he returns from his Ways, that he should live?

24. On the other hand when the Virtuous turns back from his Virtue, and does Iniquity, doing according to all the Abominations which the Wicked does, shall he then live? None of his Virtue that he has done shall be mentioned; for his Vice which he commits, and his Sin which he sins, shall he die.

25. Nevertheless you say, The Lord's Way is not equal. Hear now, O Family of Israel, Is not mine equal? Are not your Ways unequal?

26. When the Virtuous turns back from his Virtue, doing Iniquity, and dies in those Things, he dies for his Iniquity which he does.

27. So when the Wicked returns from his Wickedness that he has done, and does Justice and Virtue, he shall save his Soul alive.

28. Since he considers, and returns from all his Transgressions which he has done; he shall thoroughly live, not die.

29. And yet the Family of Israel say, The Lord's Way is not equal. Are not my Ways equal, you Israelitish Family? Are not your own unequal?

30. Therefore I will judge you, every one according to his own Ways, O Family of Israel, says the Sovereign Lord. Return, and turn back from all your Transgressions, that you may have no Stumbling-block of Iniquity.

31. Cast from you all your Transgressions by which you transgress, and get you a new Heart and Spirit: for why would you die, O Family of Israel?

32. For I do not delight in the Death of him who dies, says the Sovereign Lord: so turn back, and live.

C H A P. XIX.

AND do thou take up the following Lamentation for the Princes of Israel:

2. What was thy Mother? A stout Lioness, that lay down between the Lions, and bred up her Whelps among the young ones.

3. And she brought up one of them, which became a young Lion, and having learned to tear the Prey, did eat Men.

4. Upon the Nations hearing of him, he was caught in their Pit, and they brought him with Hooks into the Country of Egypt.

Ver. 18. for] as the same is rendered Ver. 17, 26. in the com. Transf. and accordingly by Pagn. with fun. and Trém. here propter, as likewise by Grot. ob. so Ver. 24. note also that in Ver. 26. is from another Heb. Preposition.

Ver. 19. How] Of what Use or Sense is Why? in our com. Bib. and though why be sometimes in a vulgar Manner used expletively, at the Beginning of a Sentence in an Answer, yet not an Interrogative; nor does it appear to be so either way by the Heb.

Ver. 20. for] There is a Preposition in the Heb. answering to for.

Ver. 1. And] with Son of Man in the Bib. of Pope Sixtus V.

Ver. 2. thy] the Nobility's, singular for Princes, Ver. 1. lb. Mother] the Nation of Judah.

Ver. 4. Hooks] So Chap. xxxviii. 4. & xxix. 4. not signifying chains.

lb. Egypt] Look to 2 King. xxiii. 33, 34.

5. Thus she seeing, when she had waited, that her Hope was perished, took another of her Whelps, which she made a young Lion.

6. Who went about among the Lions, being a young one himself, and having learned to tear the Prey, did eat Men.

7. Nay he knew their destitute Places, and laid their Cities waste; so that the Country was desolate, with what it was full of, by the Noise of his Roaring.

8. Then the Nations set against him round about from the Provinces, and spreading their Net over him, he was caught in their Pit.

9. And they put him into Prison with Hooks, bringing him to the King of Babylon: they brought him into Forts, that his Noise might be heard no more on the Mountains of Israel.

10. Thy Mother was as a Vine in thy Likeness, planted by the Water; being fruitful, and full of Boughs, by reason of much Water.

11. Which had strong Sticks for the Scepters of Rulers, whose Stature was high above the thick Trees that it was between, and it appeared in its Height with the Multitude of its Sprouts.

12. But it was plucked up in Wrath, thrown down to the Ground, and the East-wind withered its Fruit; the Sprouts were broke off and withered, as for her strong Stick, that the Fire consumed.

13. And now it is planted in the Wilderness, in a dry and thirsty Country.

14. Fire also came out of a Stick of its Limbs, which consumed the Fruit of it; so that there is no strong Stick on it for a Scepter to rule. This is the Lamentation, and shall be so.

C H A P. XX.

IN the seventh Year, on the tenth of the fifth Month, there came some of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, who sitting before me,

2. I had his Commission as follows:

3. Man, speak to those Elders in this manner: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Are you come to enquire of me? By my living, I will not be enquired of by you, says the Sovereign Lord.

4. Wilt thou judge them? Wilt thou,

Man? Then let them know their Fathers Abominations,

5. In the following manner: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; At the Time when I chose Israel, and lifted up my Hand to the Offspring of Jacob's Family (to whom I was known in the Country of Egypt) affirming by it, I was the Lord their God;

6. As also thereby to bring them out of the Country of Egypt, into that which I had found out for them, flowing with Milk and Honey, which was the Glory of all Countries;

7. Then I ordered them, as being the Lord their God, that every one should cast away the detestable Things which he saw, and not defile themselves with the filthy Idols of Egypt.

8. But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken to me, neither casting away the detestable Things which they saw, nor leaving the filthy Idols of Egypt; at which I spoke of pouring out my Wrath upon them, to accomplish my Anger on them within the Egyptian Country.

9. However I acted for the sake of my own Name, that it might not be profaned in the Sight of the Nations, among whom they were to be, who would see that I was known to them, by bringing them out of the Country of Egypt.

10. So I brought them out from thence, bringing them into the Wilderness.

11. Moreover I gave them my Ordinances, and let them know my Rules; which let a Man do, and he shall live by them.

12. And I likewise gave them my Sabbaths, to be a Sign between me and them, to know that I the Lord sanctify them.

13. For all that the Family of Israel rebelled against me in the Wilderness, they did not go in my Ordinances, but despised my Rules (which let a Man have done, and he should have lived by them) nay they profaned my Sabbaths exceedingly; at this I spoke of pouring out my Wrath upon them in the Wilderness, to consume them.

14. I acted however for the sake of my own Name, that it might not be profaned in the Sight of the Nations, who saw me bring them out.

15. Yet I also lifted up my Hand to them in the Wilderness, that I would not bring

Ver. 7. Places] seeming more suitable than palaces, which the Word does not signify.

Ver. 10. Likeness] as the Jewish Writers, Buxtorf, and Castellus have it, and so Pagn. similitudinem; Blood as Jam. and Trem. observe, being difficult and violent to be suited to the Matter.

Ver. 11. strong Sticks &c.] viz. Princes, as Ver. 1. meaning Kings.

Ib. that it was between] omitted in the com. Transf.

Ver. 12. her strong Stick] singular as Ver. 14. by which King Jehoiakim seems intended.

Ver. 14. Fire came out of] Jehoiakim's Rebellion against Nebuchadnezzar, 2 King. xxiv. 1, 2.

those into the Country which I had given, flowing with Milk and Honey, which was the Glory of all Countries:

16. Because they despised my Rules, did not go in my Ordinances, but profaned my Sabbaths; for their Heart went after their filthy Idols.

17. Nevertheless my Eye spared them from being destroyed, so that I did not cause them to be consumed in the Wilderness.

18. But I said to their Children there; Do not go in the Ordinances of your Fathers, neither observe their Rules, nor defile yourselves with their filthy Idols.

19. I am the Lord your God; go in my Ordinances, observe my Rules, and do them.

20. Sanctify my Sabbaths too, and they shall be a Sign between me and you, to know that I am the Lord your God.

21. The Children notwithstanding rebelled against me, they went not in my Ordinances, nor observed my Rules to do them (which if any had done, they should have lived by them) they profaned my Sabbaths; at which I spoke of pouring out my Wrath upon them, to accomplish my Anger on them in the Wilderness.

22. However I drew back my Hand, and acted for the sake of my own Name, that it might not be profaned in the Sight of the Nations, who saw me bring them out.

23. Yet I lifted up my Hand to them in the Wilderness, that I would disperse them in the Nations, and scatter them in the Countries:

24. Because they did not do my Rules, but despised my Ordinances, and profaned my Sabbaths, their Eyes being after the filthy Idols of their Fathers.

25. And I also let them have Ordinances not good; and Rules by which they should not live.

26. Nay I let them be defiled by their own Gifts, in making every one who came first out of the Womb pass through the Fire; that I might make them desolate, in order for them to know that I was the Lord.

27. Therefore tell the Family of Israel, Man, that the Sovereign Lord says thus; Your Forefathers blasphemed me further in this, by committing a Crime against me;

28. When I had brought them into the Country, which I lifted up my Hand to give them, upon seeing any high Hill, or any thick Tree, there it was they offered their Sacrifices, put the Indignation of their Offering, placed their pleasant Smells, and poured out their Drink-offerings.

29. And I saying to them, What is the Chapel whither you go? the Name of it is called a Chapel to this Day.

30. Declare therefore to the Family of Israel: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Will you be defiled in the Way of your Fathers, and go a whoring after their detestable Things?

31. For when you offer up your Gifts, when you make your Children pass through the Fire, you are defiled with all your filthy Idols till now; and shall I be enquired of by you, O Family of Israel? By my living, says the Sovereign Lord, I will not.

32. Nor shall that which comes up in your Mind be at all, which you say, We will be like the Gentiles, like the Families of the Countries, serving Wood and Stone.

33. By my living, continues he, I will with a strong Hand, with an Arm stretched out, and Wrath poured forth, reign over you.

34. And will bring you out from the People, and gather you from the Countries in which you are dispersed, with a strong Hand, with an Arm stretched out, and Wrath poured forth.

35. And having brought you into the Wilderness of the People, I will come to Judgment with you there Face to Face.

36. As I came to Judgment with your Fathers in the Wilderness of the Country of Egypt, so will I with you, says the Sovereign Lord.

37. Whom I will make pass under the Rod, and bring into what is delivered of the Covenant.

38. I will also purge out from you them that rebel and trespass against me, whom I will bring out of the Country of their Sojournings, but they shall not come into the Country of Israel; and you shall know that I am the Lord.

39. As for you, O Family of Israel, thus

Ver. 25. not good] By that in Ver. 39. mentioned like this before the Gifts, it appears to be the idolatrous Service of the Idols, according to Deut. iv. 28. & xxviii. 36. Jer. xvi. 13. which must needs be more suitable to this Epithet than any of God's Laws, which are also described Ver. 11. directly contrary to what these are here; and in the foregoing Ver. 24. the Ordinances in general, and Sabbaths in particular are mentioned, which these must needs be different from, if not contrary to, which Wherefore especially being put at the Beginning of this Ver. requires. Stillingsfleet in Origines Sacra, Lib. ii. 7.

would have the cruel Impositions of their Enemies meant; but those cannot, I think, suit with the following Expression, of not living by them.

Ver. 26. let] concerning which see the Note on Exod. vii. 3. and of the pres. Trans. Cross in Taghm. Art. published with the Patronage of the Archb. of Canterbury, p. 107. writes thus, 'It were horrid to say, That when they committed Idolatry, God was the Author of the Pollution. And secondly, yet more to say, He did it that he might destroy them.'

Ver. 36. Sovereign Lord] only Lord in the Vulg. Bib. says says the Sovereign Lord; Go, serve, every one his filthy Idols, even hereafter, if you will not hearken to me; but profane my holy Name no more, with your Gifts and filthy Idols.

40. For on my holy Mountain, the high one of Israel, adds he, there the whole Family of Israel entirely that is in the Country shall serve me; there will I accept them, and there will I require your Lifted-offerings, and the First-fruits of what you offer up, with all your holy Things.

41. I will accept you with a pleasant Smell, when I bring you out from the People, and gather you from the Countries in which you are dispersed; and will be sanctified among you in the Sight of the Nations.

42. And you will know that I am the Lord, when I bring you into the Country of Israel, into the Country which I lifted up my Hand to give to your Forefathers.

43. Where you will remember your Ways, and all your Deeds by which you have been defiled, and will be loathsome to your selves, for all the Evils that you have done.

44. You will know too that I am the Lord, when I deal with you for the sake of my own Name, not according to your evil Ways and corrupt Deeds, O Family of Israel, says the Sovereign Lord.

45. Besides I had the Lord's Commission in this manner:

46. Man, put thy Face the Way to the South, and mention southward, towards the Wood of the South-field;

47. Bidding it hear the Lord's Commission, the Lord God declaring thus; Behold I will kindle a Fire in thee, which shall consume every green Tree and every withered one in thee: the blazing Flame shall not be quenched, but all Faces shall be burnt in it, from the South to the North.

48. And all Flesh shall see that I the Lord have lighted it, which shall not be quenched.

49. But I said, Alas, O Sovereign Lord, they say of me, Does he not speak Parables?

AND I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards Jerusalem, and mention towards the holy Places, the Country of Israel,

3. Declaring to it: Thus says the Lord; Behold I am against thee, and will bring my Sword out of its Sheath, and cut off from thee both the Righteous and Wicked.

4. To the intent that I may cut thee off so, my Sword shall come out of its Sheath against all Flesh, from the South to the North.

5. And all Flesh shall know that I the Lord have brought it out, which shall return no more.

6. Therefore sigh, thou Man, with the Breaking of the Loins, and with Bitterness, even in their Sight.

7. And when they ask thee, what thou sighest for? thou shalt answer, For the News, because it is come, that every Heart shall faint, all Hands be slack, every Mind dull, and all Knees become as Water; behold it is coming, and shall be, says the Sovereign Lord.

8. I had the Lord's Commission again as follows:

9. Prophecy, Man, that the Lord bids thee say thus: The Sword it self is sharpened, and also scoured:

10. That it may kill the Slaughter it is sharpened, that it may be glittering it is scoured; despising every Tree, or else we might make my Son's Stick joyful.

11. For he gave it to be scoured, that it might be held in the Hand: the Sword is sharpened and scoured, to give it into the Hand of the Slayer.

12. Cry, and lament, Man; for it shall be on my People, on all the Princes of Israel, who shall be thrust to the Sword with my People; therefore strike on the Thigh.

13. Because it will be a Trial; and what if also despising the Stick, that should not be? says the Sovereign Lord.

Ver. 46. mention] This is rendered in our com. Trans. prophecy, Mic. ii. 11. and in Ver. 6. thrice, which Meaning passes current among the Expositors; though these Verbs are so plainly distinguished in Amos vii. 16. and to prophecy was to speak in a solemn express Manner, not like dropping, which Johns. in his great Dict. expounds there, to utter slightly or casually; and this mention perhaps best signifies of any English Word.

Ver. 10. despising] It is a Participle, and feminine like Sword in Heb.

Ib. every Tree] or all Wood, by which may be understood the great Nations.

Ib. or else] It is not a Particle of Interrogation, but a Disjunctive as here rendered.

Ib. might] If it were not so, he and the rest of the Prophets might deliver what was pleasing and comfortable.

Ib. make] The Verb being in the Conjugation Hiphil, shews it does not terminate in it self, but has an Object or Noun following, which it affects in this Manner; whereas make mirth is no more than be joyful in the simple Conjugation Kal.

Ib. Stick] with regard to Tree, the Country of Judea being so much smaller than several others, but it also signifies Tribe. Interpreters taking it to be a Rod for Correction, or a Scepter, have bewildered themselves.

Ver. 12. who shall be thrust to the Sword with] Jun. and Trem. have it destruxi in gladium erunt cum, they shall be thrust on the Sword with; of which see Buxt. Lexic. in בחר and the Preposition is properly to, rather than by reason of, as the Article is with more properly than upon; besides that he had done speaking of the People, and was now speaking of the Princes.

Ver. 13. despising] the same Heb. Word as in Ver. 10. whose Subject is the Sword.

Ib. Stick] Israel, as Ver. 10. The Sentence is disjointed from what it is in the Original; by putting the Note of Interrogation at red in the com. Bible.

14. So do thou, Man, prophesy, and clap Hands: for the Sword shall be doubled the third time, the Sword of the Slain, namely that of the great ones, who shall be slain by it in their Chambers.

15. That the Heart may be quite discouraged, and the Things to stumble at many, I have put the Point of the Sword against all their Gates: alas, it is made glittering, it is whetted for the Slaughter.

16. Be all one going to the right Hand, put it going to the left, whithersoever thy Face is placed.

17. And I will also clap my Hands, and make my Wrath rest: I the Lord speak it.

18. Moreover I had the Lord's Commission thus:

19. And do thou, Man, put thee two Ways for the Sword of the King of Babylon to come, let them both come out of one Country; and choose a Place, let it be at the Head of the Way to the City.

20. Thou shalt put a Way for the Sword to come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, or to Judah into fortified Jerusalem.

21. For the King of Babylon will stand at the Beginning of the Way, in the Head of the two Ways, to use Divination; he will polish the Arrows, enquire of the Teraphs, look on the Liver.

22. The Divination will be on his right Hand, for Jerusalem, to put Captains, to open the Mouth in slaying, to exalt the Voice in shouting, to put Captains against the Gates, to make a Rampart, to build a Fort.

23. And it will be to those as if Falschhood were divined in their Sight, who have sworn Oaths to them; but he will remember the Iniquity, that it may be taken.

24. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; Because you make your Iniquity to be remembered, by your Transgressions being discovered, to make your Sins appear in all your Deeds; because you are remembered, you shall be taken with the Hand.

25. And thou profane wicked Prince of Israel, whose Day is come, the End for the Time of Iniquity;

26. As the Sovereign Lord says, put away the Diadem, and take off the Crown; this shall not be what it is, let the low one be high, and the high one low.

27. I will make it be overthrown, again and again; even this shall not be, till he comes whose Right it is, and I will give it to him.

28. Do thou, Man, also prophesy as follows: Thus says the Sovereign Lord, concerning the Ammonites, and their Reproach; The Sword it self is drawn out, it is scoured for the Slaughter, to consume, that it may glitter.

29. By Falschhood being seen and a Lie divined for thee, to put thee on the Necks of them that are slain of the Wicked, whose Day is come, the End for the Time of Iniquity;

30. Shall it be brought back into its Sheath? In the Place where thou wast created, in the Country of thy Traffick will I judge thee.

31. And I will pour out my Indignation upon thee, blow upon thee in the Fire of my Fury, and deliver thee into the Power of fierce Men, Artists in Destruction.

32. Thou shalt be for the Fire, to be consumed; thy Blood shall be within the Country, without thy being remembered: for I the Lord speak it.

C H A P. XXII.

I HAD the Lord's Commission too as follows:

2. Wilt thou, Man, judge, wilt thou judge the bloody City? Well, let it know all its Abominations.

3. Thou shalt therefore declare: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; The City sheds Blood within it self, that its Time may come; and makes filthy Idols against it self, to defile it.

4. By thy Blood which thou sheddest art thou guilty, and by thy filthy Idols which thou makest art thou defiled, so that thou

Ib. in their Chambers] The Heb. Word babodereth being no where else, Jonath. has taken the Meaning of it from babredeth, translating in the Chald. which makes them tremble.

Ver. 21. polish] that the Names of the Cities might be put on them, to draw them out of the Quiver as Lots; in which Manner Jerome writes in his Commentary here, that Divination was performed: but according to Dav.

Kimbi in Com. it was to look on them when they shined, as on the Liver; see also Salé's Prelim. Disc. to the Koran, p. 126, 127. The same Word signifies whet, Eccles. x. 10. and another like it polished, Chap. i. 7. Dan. x. 6. so not mingle here as some pretend.

Ver. 29. Iniquity] Here is no their unless taken from Day.

bringest thy Days near, and comest to thy Years: therefore I will make thee a Reproach to the Nations, and a Scorn to all Countries.

5. Those who are near, and those who are far from thee, shall scorn thee, defiled by Name, much vexed.

6. Behold the Princes of Israel are for shedding Blood in thee, each according to his Power.

7. They slight Father and Mother in thee, do wrongfully to the Stranger within thee, oppress the Orphan and Widow in thee.

8. Thou despisest my holy Things, and profanest my Sabbaths.

9. There are Backbiters in thee to shed Blood, and they eat on the Mountains in thee, do Lewdness within thee.

10. The Father's Nakedness is uncovered in thee, they humble her who is defiled and separate in thee.

11. One Man does Abomination with his Neighbour's Wife, another lewdly defiles his Daughter-in-law, and another humbles his Sister, his Father's Daughter in thee.

12. They take a Bribe in thee to shed Blood, thou takest Usury and Interest, gaineest of thy Neighbours wrongfully, and forgettest me, says the Sovereign Lord.

13. Lo therefore I strike my Hand at thy Gain which thou makest, and for thy Blood that is within thee.

14. Will thy Heart stand, it, will thy Hands be strong, at the Days when I shall deal with thee? I the Lord speak, and will perform.

15. And I will disperse thee in the Nations, scatter thee in the Countries, and consume thy Uncleanness from thee.

16. For thou wilt be profane to thy self in the Sight of the Nations, and shalt know that I am the Lord.

17. Besides I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

18. Man, the Family of Israel are become Dross to me: all of them are like Brass, Tin, Iron, and Lead within the Furnace, like the Dross of Silver.

19. For this reason the Sovereign Lord says: Because all of you are become Dross, therefore behold I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

20. As Silver, Brass, Iron, Lead, and Tin are gathered into the midst of the Furnace, to blow the Fire upon them, to melt them; so will I gather you in my Anger and Wrath, put, and melt you.

21. I will even bring you together, and blow upon you in the Fire of my Fury, and you shall be melted within her.

22. As Silver is melted within the Furnace, so shall you be melted within her; and shall know that I the Lord pour out my Wrath upon you.

23. I had further the Lord's Commission thus:

24. Man, say to her; Thou art the Country which was not cleansed, nor rained, at the Time of Indignation.

25. There was a Conspiracy of her Prophets within her, as a roaring Lion tearing the Prey: they consumed the Life, took the Store and precious Things, multiplied her Widows within her.

26. Her Priests violated my Law, and profaned my holy Things: they did not separate the holy from the profane, nor make known the unclean from the clean; and hid their Eyes from my Sabbaths, so that I was profaned among them.

27. Her Princes in the midst of her were like Wolves tearing the Prey, to shed Blood, to destroy Lives, that they might get Gain.

28. And her Prophets plaistered them with untempered Mortar, seeing Falsehood, and divining Lyes to them, saying, Thus says the Sovereign Lord, when the Lord had not spoken.

29. The People of the Country used Wrong, took away a Thing by force, oppressed the Afflicted and Needy, and wronged the Stranger without Judgment.

30. And though I sought for a Man of them who would make up the Fence, or stand in the Breach before me for the Country, that I might not destroy it, yet I found none.

31. So I poured out my Indignation upon them, consumed them in the Fire of my Fury, rendering their own Way on their Heads, says the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

THE Lord's Commission I also had as follows:

2. Man, there were two Women, the Daughters of one Mother:

Ver. 8. Thou] Vulg. Lat. You.

Ver. 16. profane] which, as Lowth observes, expresses the Sense much better, than that in the com. Bib. as also Jun. and Trem. translate: it being the Verb 5:17 as Ver. 26. in the passive Conj. Niphal, by Buxt. Thes. Lib. i.

Cap. 19. where it is expressly mentioned and shewn; as likewise Grot. observes.

Ver. 18. Dross of Silver] not only Dross, but of the worse Sort.

Ver. 21. her] Jerusalem, Ver. 19. not the Furnace, Ver. 20.

3. Who

3. Who committed Whoredom in Egypt, even in their Youth : there their Breasts were pressed, and there they dealt with the Teats of their Virginity.

4. The Names of them were, the elder Aholah, and her Sister Aholibah, who were mine, and bore Sons and Daughters : as to their Names, Samaria was Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5. Now as Aholah committed Whoredom, having others instead of me ; she doted upon her Lovers the Assyrians that were near,

6. Captains and Rulers with blue Cloaths, all of them desirable young Men, Horsemen riding Horses,

7. Upon these she bestowed her Fornications, all of whom were the choicest of the Assyrians ; and by all that she doted on, by all their filthy Idols was she defiled,

8. Thus she did not leave the Fornications she had from Egypt : for they lay with her in her Youth, they dealt with the Teats of her Virginity, and poured out their Fornication upon her.

9. Therefore I delivered her into the Power of her Lovers, into that of the Assyrians upon whom she doted.

10. They discovered her Nakedness, took her Sons and Daughters, and slew her with the Sword ; inasmuch that she had a Name among Women, when they executed Judgments on her.

11. Nevertheless her Sister Aholibah seeing it, was more corrupt in her Doting than she, and with her own Fornications more than her Sister's.

12. She doted on the Assyrians, Captains and Rulers that were near, with compleat Cloaths, Horsemen riding Horses, all of them desirable young Men.

13. So I saw that she was defiled, both of them having one Way.

14. Nay she increased her Fornications, when she saw Men drawn upon the Wall, the Images of the Chaldeans drawn with Vermilion,

15. Girded with Girdles on their Loins, abounding with dyed Things on their Heads, all of them Dukes in Appearance ; like the Babylonians of Chaldea, their native Country.

16. Whom she doted upon at the Sight of her Eyes, and sent Messengers to them at Chaldea.

17. Whereupon the Babylonians came to her into the Bed of Love, and defiled her with their Fornication ; by whom being defiled, her Mind hung loose from them.

18. Thus she discovering both her Fornications and her Nakedness, my Mind hung loose from her, as it had been from her Sister.

19. Yet she multiplied her Fornications, by remembering the Days of her Youth, wherein she committed Whoredom in the Country of Egypt.

20. And has doted upon their Gallants, whose Flesh is like that of Asses, and their Flux like that of Horses.

21. So thou hast visited the Lewdness of thy Youth, when thy Teats were dealt with by the Egyptians, by reason of the Breasts of thy Youth.

22. Therefore, Aholibah, thus says the Sovereign Lord : Behold I will stir up thy Lovers against thee, from whom thy Mind is loosened, and will bring them against thee on every Side ;

23. The Babylonians, all the Chaldeans, Pekod, Shoa, Koa ; and all the Assyrians with them ; desirable young Men, Captains and Rulers all of them, Dukes and famous Men, all riding Horses.

24. Who shall come against thee with Wagons, Chariots, Carriages, and by a Company of People with Bucklers, Shields and Helmets, which they shall set against thee round about ; and I will put Judgment before them, and they shall judge thee with their own Judgments.

25. I will also put my Jealousy against thee, and they shall deal with thee in Wrath ; they shall take away thy Nose and Ears, and the Remainder of thee shall fall by the Sword : they shall take thy Sons and Daughters, and the Remainder of thee shall be consumed by the Fire.

26. Moreover they shall strip thee of thy Garments, and take off thy fine Things.

27. Thus will I make thy Lewdness cease from thee, and the Fornication thou hadst from the Country of Egypt ; so that thou shalt not look up to them, nor remember Egypt any more.

Ver. 3. dealt] as the Word signifies, and is rendered Ver. 25, 29.

Ver. 4. Aholah] signifying Her own Tabernacle, her Religion being of her own contriving, 1 King. xii. 28. to the End.

1b. Aholibah] that is My Tabernacle in her, for which the Reason is obvious.

Ver. 5. instead] See the Like with the same Word, Num. v. 19, 20. So Fun. and Trem.

Ver. 17, 18. hung loose] the same as at Jer. vi. 8. and see 2 King. xxiv. 1, 20. 2 Chron. xxxvi. 13.

Ver. 20. doted] It appears by Chap. xvii. 15. see Jer. xxxvii. 5, 7. that Zedekiah made an Alliance with the Egyptians, by which the Things are here spoken of in proper Order as transacted, and this also agrees with the Time of delivering it, Chap. xx. 1. & xxiv. 1.

28. For thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will deliver thee into the Power of those whom thou hatest, into the Power of those from whom thy Mind is loosened.

29. And they shall deal with thee in Hatred, take all thy Labour, leave thee naked and bare; when the Nakedness of thy Whoredoms shall be discovered, and thy Lewdness with thy Fornications.

30. These Things are to be done to thee, for thy going a whoring after the Gentiles, because thou art defiled by their filthy Idols.

31. Since thou hast gone in thy Sister's Way, I will put her Cup into thy Hand.

32. Thou shalt drink, as the Sovereign Lord says, of thy Sister's Cup deeply and largely; shalt become Sport and Derision, it shall contain so much.

33. With Drunkenness and Sorrow shalt thou be filled, with a Cup of Astonishment and Desolation, with the Cup of thy Sister Samaria.

34. Which thou shalt drink, squeeze out, and break the Sherds of it, nay pluck off thy own Breasts: for I speak it, says the Sovereign Lord.

35. Who consequently adds thus, Because thou hast forgot me, and cast me behind thy Back, do thou also suffer for thy Lewdness and Fornications.

36. Man, said the Lord to me again, Wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? Well, tell them their Abominations;

37. That they have committed Adultery, and there is Blood in their Hands, nay have committed Adultery with their Idols, and even made their Children whom they bore me pass through the Fire to them, to be consumed;

38. Doing this to me further, have defiled my Sanctuary the same Day, and profaned my Sabbaths

39. (For when they killed their Children for their Idols, they came the same Day into my Sanctuary to profane it; behold they have done thus within my House;)

40. And moreover that they sent for Men to come far off, to whom the Messenger being sent, lo those came; for whom thou didst wash thy self, paint thy Eyes, and deck thee with Ornaments,

41. Sitting upon a stately Bed, with a

Table set in order before it, upon which thou didst put my Incense and Oil.

42. And there was the Noise of an undisturbed Multitude by her, and with Persons of the Rabble of Mankind were brought Sabeans from the Wilderness, who put Bracelets on their Hands, and a fine Crown upon their Heads.

43. And I said of her who was old in Adulteries, Will they and she now commit Fornications together?

44. They notwithstanding went in to her, as they do to a Woman that is a Harlot; so did they go in to Aholah and Aholibah the lewd Women.

45. The righteous Men shall therefore judgethem, with the Judgment of Adulteresses, and with that of Women who shed Blood; because they are Adulteresses, and there is Blood in their Hands.

46. For thus says the Sovereign Lord; A Company shall be brought up against them, and they shall be delivered to Disturbance, and for a Prey.

47. Which Company shall stone them with Stones, cut them down with their Swords, slay their Sons and Daughters, and burn their Houses with Fire.

48. So will I make Lewdness cease from the Country; that all Women may be taught, and not do according to your Lewdness:

49. Forasmuch as they shall render your Lewdness upon you, and you shall suffer for the Sins of your Idols, and know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XXIV.

AFTER this I had the Lord's Commission, in the ninth Year, on the tenth of the tenth Month as follows:

2. Man, write for thy self the Name of the Day, even this very Day, on which the King of Babylon lays siege to Jerusalem;

3. And speak a Parable to the rebellious Family in this manner: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Put on a Pot, not only so, but also pour Water into it.

4. Gather its Pieces into it, every good Piece, the Leg and Shoulder; fill it with the choicest of the Bones.

Ver. 40. they sent] The Heb. Verb being either of the 2d or 3d Person, this accords best with the Context before, and the other not with the following thou. So Pagn. Mont. and Munst. with the Vulg. and Tig. Translations have miserunt, Cast. accersiverunt, nay even the Bish. and Gen. they. But this Verb having the com. Sign of the 2d Pers. it may seem that K. James's Translators did not know it was also the 3d; and the very same Word they have rendered wrong in the other two Places where with this it only is, n. Judg. v. 26. Obad. xiii.

Ib. paint thy Eyes] Rauwolff says, They have still a strange Custom in these Countries, viz. They make a thin Paste of Galls and calcined Copperas, with which they make a black Ring round about their Eyes, such as our Ring-doves have about their Necks.

Ver. 42. their] those Women's, the Pronouns being feminine.

5. Take the choicest of the Flock, as also make a Bon-fire with the Bones under it; boil what it has to be boiled, and even its very Bones within it.

6. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; Wo be to the bloody City, the Pot in which the Scum of it is, its Scum being not come out of it: bring out its Pieces one after another, let no Lot fall for it.

7. For her Blood is within her, she has placed it as upon the clear Place of a Rock; she has not poured it forth upon the Ground, to cover it over with Earth.

8. That it might bring up Wrath to take Vengeance, I have likewise put her Blood as upon the clear Place of a Rock, that it may not be covered.

9. For which reason, as the Sovereign Lord says, wo be to the bloody City; even I will make the Bon-fire great,

10. Multiplying the Wood, kindling the Fire, consuming the Flesh, and making the Ointment, nay the very Bones shall be burnt up;

11. Causing her to stand empty also upon her Coals, in order that her Rust may not only be hot, but burnt up, and her Unclean-ness melted within her, the Scum of her consumed.

12. She having tired her self with Iniquities, and her great Scum being not come out of her, the Scum of her shall be in the Fire.

13. There is Lewdness in thy Unclean-ness: because I would have cleansed thee, and thou wouldest not be cleansed, thou shalt be cleansed from thy Unclean-ness no more, till I make my Wrath rest on thee.

14. I the Lord speak it, it shall come, and I will do it; I will not withdraw, nor spare, nor repent: according to thy own Ways and Deeds shall they judge thee, says the Sovereign Lord.

15. And I had the Lord's Commission thus;

16. Man, behold I will take from thee the Desire of thy Eyes with a Stroke; yet thou shalt not lament, nor weep, neither shall thy Tears come.

17. Be silent from Crying, make no Mourning for the Dead, tie thy Tire upon thee, and put thy Shoes on thy Feet; and cover not over the Lip, nor eat the Bread of Men.

18. So I spoke to the People in the Morn-ing, and my Wife died in the Evening; then I did the next Morning as I was com-manded.

19. Upon which the People said to me; Wilt not thou tell us what these Things are to us, since thou dost them?

20. I answered them, that thus I had the Lord's Commission:

21. Say to the Family of Israel, as the Sovereign Lord expresses it; Behold I will profane my Sanctuary, the Excellency of your Strength, the Desire of your Eyes, and what your Soul pities; your Sons and Daughters also whom you will forsake, shall fall by the Sword.

22. And you shall do as I do; not cover over the Lip, nor eat the Bread of Men;

23. Your Tires shall be upon your Heads, and your Shoes on your Feet: you shall not lament nor weep; but shall waste away in your Iniquities, and groan one to another.

24. Thus is Ezekiel become a Token to you, who shall do entirely as he does: when it comes, you shall know that I am the So-vereign Lord.

25. As for thee, Man, at the Time that I take from them their Strength, the Joy of their Glory, the Desire of their Eyes, and what their Soul is lifted up to, their Sons and Daughters;

26. Will not he who escapes at that Time come to thee, to let thee hear it with thy own Ears?

27. At which Time thy Mouth shall be opened to such as are escaped, thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: so thou shalt become a Token to them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ver. 6. fall for it] for any to escape.

Ver. 10. kindling] This and the two following Verbs are particularly mentioned in this Ver. for the infinitive, not imperative Mood: so Jun. and Trem. have accen-dendo, &c.

Ver. 12. Iniquities] the Heb. having a general Signifi-cation, not lies only in particular.

Ib. shall] Grot. writes it is in Heb. non exiit repeated, not come out, when there is no such Thing; so that the Learning and round Assertions of that great Man, should not give him too much Authority.

Ver. 17. the Lip] the upper Lip, or Whiskers, as the Manner was in Mourning.

Ib. Bread of Men] The Heb. Word signifies mortal Men; which may help us to understand the Bread, to be such as was eat when a Person was dead, or at the Burial.

Ver. 18. spoke] told them what is in the two foregoing Verses. Lowth says this was the next Morning, but without any Shew of Reason: not only the two Morn-ings are mentioned, with what he did distinctly in each, but the Death of his Wife is related the Evening between; which being also told before it was, would add Credit to his whole Prophecy; so Poole's and Grot. Annotations.

Ver. 19, 20. the People—to me, Wilt not thou tell us what these Things are to us, since thou dost them? I an-swered] So much not in the Bib. published and authorised by Pope Clement, as Tho. James remarks in his Bellum Papale. A great Fault indeed of the Scribe or Printer, when the rest is not Sense without it!

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards the Ammonites, and prophesy against them,

3. Saying to the Ammonites: Hear the Sovereign Lord's Commission, who declares thus; Because thou sayest, Ha, concerning my Sanctuary, when it is profaned, and concerning the Country of Israel, when it is become desolate, and concerning the Family of Judah, when they are gone into Captivity:

4. Therefore behold I will give thee up to the Men of the East for an Inheritance, who shall place their Palaces, and put their Dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy Fruit, and they shall drink thy Milk.

5. I will also make Rabbah a Stable for Camels, and with the Ammonites a Place for Flocks to lie down in; and you shall know that I am the Lord,

6. For thus says the Sovereign Lord; Since thou strikest the Hand, and stampest with the Foot, and art glad with all thy Disdain in the Mind, at the Country of Israel:

7. Behold therefore I will stretch out my Hand against thee, deliver thee for a Prey to the Gentiles, cut thee off from the People, and make thee perish from the Countries; I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8. Thus declares the Sovereign Lord;

Because Moab and Seir say, Behold the Family of Judah is like all the Gentiles:

9. Lo I will therefore open the Side of Moab at the Cities, namely his Cities on his Border, the Glory of the Country, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon and Kirjathaim,

10. To the Men of the East; with the Ammonites, whom I give for an Inheritance, that the latter may not be remembered among the Nations.

11. And I will execute Judgments on Moab, so they shall know that I am the Lord.

12. Because Edom, as the Sovereign Lord says, acts against the Family of Judah by taking Vengeance, do greatly offend, and are revenged on them:

13. Therefore continues he; I will also stretch out my Hand against Edom, will cut off from it Man and Beast, make it a waste Place from Teman, and at Dedan they shall fall by the Sword.

14. Nay I will put my Vengeance on Edom by the Hand of my People Israel, who shall do in Edom according to my Anger and Wrath; and they shall be sensible of my Vengeance, says the Sovereign Lord.

15. Who proceeds thus; Because the Philistines have acted with Revenge, and taken Vengeance with Disdain in the Mind, to destroy with perpetual Enmity:

16. For this reason adds the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will stretch out my Hand against the Philistines, cut off the Chere-

Ver. 2. towards] not the same as follows.

Ver. 3. Ammonites] That this Prophecy was after the Destruction of Jerusalem, the Words here shew, as well as in other Places of this Chapter, and so the fulfilling of it must be after that; for which reason I refer the same Prediction of those People in other Places hither. Verse 10. shews that the Moabites and Ammonites were conquered together, and by the Time of the Prophecy and what follows concerning Tyre, Chap. xxvi. 1, 7. it appears to be done by Nebuchadnezzar soon after his Conquest of Judah; see too Jer. ix. 26. & xxv. 21. & xxvii. 3, 6. & xlviii. & xlix. Zeph. ii. 9. And as the King of Babylon consulted whether he should go against Ammon or Judah first, and the Divination was to Judah, Chap. xxi. 20, 21, 22. no Doubt but he went against Ammon quickly after, especially as he had fresh Displeasure against it for the Murder of Gedaliah, Jer. xl. 14. & xli. 10. which the Prophecy that follows seems also to indicate, Ch. xxi. 28, to the End.

C H A P. XXVI.

MOREOVER in the eleventh Year, on the first of the Month, I had the Lord's Commission thus :

2. Man, because Tyre says against Jerusalem, Ha, she is broke that was the Gates of the People, she is turned about to me; I shall be filled, she being laid waste :

3. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am against thee, O Tyre, and will bring up many Nations against thee, as the Sea does its Waves.

4. And they shall destroy the Walls of Tyre, and throw down her Towers; I will also scrape off her Earth from her, and make her the clear Place of a Rock.

5. She shall be a Place to spread Nets on within the Sea, for I speak it, says the Sovereign Lord; and she shall become a Prey to the Nations.

6. Her Daughters too who are in the Field shall be slain with the Sword; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7. For thus says the Sovereign Lord: Behold I will bring to Tyre Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon from the North, a King of Kings, with Horses, Chariots, Horsemen, and a Company, even many People;

8. Who shall slay thy Daughters in the Field with the Sword, put against thee a Fort, both make a Rampart, and lift up the Buckler against thee.

9. He shall also put his Battering-ram against thy Walls, and break down thy Towers with his Pick-axes.

10. Their Dust shall cover thee by the Abundance of his Horses; thy Walls shall shake at the Sound of the Horsemen, Carriages and Chariots, when he enters in at thy Gates, as they enter a City that is broke open.

11. He shall trample all thy Streets with the Hoofs of his Horses, shall slay thy People with the Sword, and thy strong Garrisons shall come down to the Ground.

12. And they shall take thy Wealth for Spoil, make a Prey of thy Merchandise, throw down thy Walls, break down thy desirable Houses; as also put thy Stones, Timber, and Rubbish into the midst of the Water.

13. Besides I will make the Noise of thy Songs cease, and the Sound of thy Harps shall no more be heard.

14. And I will make thee the clear Place of a Rock, thou shalt be a Place to spread Nets on, shalt no more be built: for I the Lord speak it, says the Sovereign Lord.

15. Who says thus to Tyre: Will not the Isles shake at the Sound of thy Fall, when the Wounded cry, when the Slaughter is made within thee?

16. Nay all the Princes of the Sea will come down from their Thrones, put away their Robes, and pull off their embroidered Garments; they will put on Trembling, sit upon the Ground, nay tremble every Moment, and be astonished at thee.

17. And they shall take up a Lamentation for thee, saying to thee, How thou art perished, that wast inhabited from the Seas! The City that was praised, which was strong in the Sea, with her Inhabitants, who gave their Terror to all that would inhabit her.

18. Now shall the Islands tremble at the

Ver. 1. eleventh] The Siege of Tyre was begun about two Years after; see Chap. xxix. 17.

1b. Month] This appears to be the fifth, as the fourth is understood, 2 King. xxv. 3. for Jerusalem was taken the same Year in the foregoing Month, Jer. lii. 5, 6, 7. this being 22 Days after, in which Time they might have rejoiced for it at Tyre, as in the following Verse, where the Tyrians say of Jerusalem, it is broken and laid waste, and as this is eight Days in the Month sooner than the taking of the City, we are justly prevented from counting it any former Month. There is however to be considered what is urged by others for its being the first Month: that the first is not to be understood more than any other Numeral, even when it is the first Day of that Month, appears by its Insertion, Chap. xxix. 17. & xlv. 18. Gen. viii. 13. Exod. xl. 2. 17. 2 Chron. xxix. 17. Ezr. vii. 9. & x. 17. As for its being left out in Chap. xl. 1. of this Book, it would be there unnecessary, because the Beginning of the Year shews it without; consequently that does not affect this, as being no parallel Place, even though this were the first Month. The Instance which Lowth produces in 2 King. xxv. 27. is more beside the Purpose; since the Heb. cannot be restricted literally to the Year of his reigning (it being not Reign) but to the Year of his beginning to reign, according to the frequent Meaning of the Verb in the Books of Kings and Chronicles. Usher's Plea in his Annals ad A. M. 3416. is also wrong, that the fifth Month belonged to the twelfth Year of Jehoiachin's Captivity, or Zedekiah's Reign, which began at the same Time: for nine Days of the fifth Month after this were in the 19th Year of Nebuchadnezzar, Jer. lii. 12. which was coincident with the 11th here, Jer. xxxii. 1. but more particularly, as this 11th Year began and ended about the Time of the common Year, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 10. and as the 4th Month was in it, Jer. lii. 5, 6. the fifth Month must too. Nay there are Instances, as may be seen in the Chronology, where the Year of a Thing being done, was in the Overplus of it.

Ver. 5. Place] As Maundrell relates it now is, in his Journey from Aleppo to Jerusalem, p. 48. its Inhabitants being a few Fishermen, and not a whole House left.

Ver. 12. break down] as the Verb is rendered, Ver. 9.

Ver. 14. Place] See Chap. xxix. 17, 18.

Ver. 17. would inhabit] being the same as twice before in this Verse, and would inhabit may signify by Conquest.

Time of thy Fall, even the Isles which are in the Sea shall be troubled at thy going out.

19. When I, as the Sovereign Lord says, make thee a City that is wasted, like those which are not inhabited; when I bring up the Depth over thee, and great Waters cover thee;

20. And I bring thee down with such as are descended to the Pit, to the People of old Time, and make thee remain in the lower Places of the Earth, in the waste Places of old Time, along with those who are gone down to the Pit, that thou mayest not be inhabited, and I may put Glory in the Country of the Living:

21. I will make thee a Terror, and thou shalt not be; even though thou art sought, thou shalt no more be found for ever, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XXVII.

I HAD the Lord's Commission further as follows:

2. So thou Man, take up a Lamentation concerning Tyre;

3. To which thou shalt say: Thou that art situate at the Entrances of the Sea, a Merchant of the People at many Isles, as the Sovereign Lord says; O Tyre, which sayest, I am perfect in Beauty;

4. Thy Borders are in the Heart of the Seas, thy Builders have made thy Beauty perfect.

5. They have built all the Boards for thee with Fir-trees from Senir, have fetched Cedars from Lebanon to make Masts for thee;

6. Have made thy Oars with Oaks from Bashan, as also thy Planks to step on with Ivory from the Isles of Chittim.

7. Fine Linen with Embroidery from Egypt, is what thou hast spread to be Sails for thee; blue and purple Cloth from the Isles of Elishah is thy Covering.

8. The Inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad are Rowers for thee; thy own wise Men, (1) Tyre, who are in thee, are thy Pilots.

9. The Elders of Gebal and the wise Men of it are in thee for thy Stoppers of Leaks; all the Ships of the Sea, and their Sailors are in thee, to deal in thy Traffick.

10. They of Persia, Lud, and Libya are in thy Army, thy Warriors; who hang up the Buckler and Helmet in thee, they make thy Comeliness;

11. The Arvadites and thy own Army are upon thy Walls round about, and the Gammadites are in the Towers; who hang up their Shields upon the Walls round about; they make thy Beauty perfect.

12. Tarshish is thy Trader, by reason of the Abundance of all Wealth; which furnishes thy Fairs with Silver, Iron, Tin and Lead.

13. Greece, Tubal and Meshech, they are thy Merchants; which furnish thy Traffick with Men's Persons; and brasen Ware.

14. Those of the Family of Togarmah furnish thy Fairs with Horses, Horsemen and Mules;

15. The Dedanites are thy Merchants, the Trade of thy Hand being at many Isles; they render thy Present, Horns of Ivory and Ebony.

16. Syria is thy Trader, by reason of the Abundance of thy Works; which furnishes thy Fairs with Chrysoprasus, purple Cloth, Embroidery, Lawn, Corals and Pyropus.

17. Judah, and the Country of Israel, they are thy Merchants; which furnish thy Traffick with Wheat of Minnith and Pannag, as also Honey, Oil and Balsam.

18. Damascus is thy Trader in the Abundance of thy Works, by reason of the Abundance of all Wealth, with Wine of Helbon, and fine Wool.

19. Both Dan and Greece that go about, furnish thy Fairs; bright Iron, Cassia, and sweet Cane being among thy Traffick.

20. Dedan is thy Merchant, with noble Cloaths for Chariots.

Ver. 20. Glory] by the Restoration of other Places, especially Judea, from the Babylonian Subjection.

Ver. 21. for ever] The ancient Tyre which Nebuchadnezzar destroyed was never built again, as Ver. 14.

Ver. 4. Seas] where the Borders of Tyre might well be said to be, by reason of its Ships and Trade there; and was certainly a Description of the City then present, not of that which was long after erected on an Island, as Lowth pretends the Words in a strict Sense are.

Ver. 5. Boards] Vulg. Translator, Boards of the Sea, which might be by taking the plural Termination ם for Sea, those Letters making either, and perhaps being not written so close to the other as they should be, were taken for another Word; he has also before it, built thee with, as if the Article ה had been a Preposition, and what is worse neglecting for; the Sept. have translated yet more strangely, Ships of the Boards, having Ships for לִשְׁפָתַי to which no Heb. Name of it has any Likeness; and the Targumist has instead of Boards, thy Bridges.

Ver. 6. to step on] Heb. the Daughter of Steps, not the company of the Ashurites.

Ver. 7. purple] The Sea-coasts of Elis, situated on the west Side of Peloponnesus in Greece, being famous for a Shell-fish used in dying a fine purple Colour, Pausanias in Laconia. and others with Bochart, Phaleg. Lib. iii. 4.

1b. Elishah] from the Grandson of Japheth, Gen. x. 4.

Ver. 8. Rowers] so Ver. 26.

Ver. 9. Stoppers of Leaks] I have hesitated pretty much in translating thus, tho' so fitly to the Sense, as being sensible it will sound oddly to Shipmen; but better so than be unintelligible to a hundred times as many more; and if hard technical Terms are to be avoided, surely calkers, as such, which Millions that use the English Language neither know the Meaning of, nor how to pronounce.

Ver. 16. Fairs] Secrates when he saw the Multitude of Things that were to be sold at such Places, used to say, Πόσων τῶν πραγμάτων ἐστὶν ἔξω, How many Things are there that I have no need of! Diag. Laert. in Vit.

21. Arabia.

21. Arabia, and all the Princes of Kedar; they are the Traders of thy Hand; being thy Traders with Lambs, Rams and Goats;

22. The Merchants of Sheba and Rahmah, they are thy Merchants; who furnish thy Fairs with the chief of all Spice, as likewise all precious Stones, and Gold;

23. Haran, Canneh, Eden, the Merchants of Sheba, Assyria, and Chilmad are thy Merchants;

24. Which they are with compleat Things, with blue Gowns, Embroidery, and Stores of fine Cloaths, tied up with Cords, and cedar Chests among thy Merchandice.

25. The Ships of Tarshish sing of thee in thy Traffick; and thou art filled, and become very glorious in the Heart of the Seas.

26. The Rowers that were with thee having brought thee into great Waters, the east Wind breaks thee in the Heart of the Seas.

27. Thy Wealth, and Fairs, thy Traffick, Sailors, Pilots, thy Stoppers of Leaks, and the Dealers in thy Traffick, with all thy Warriors who are in thee, and thy whole Company that is within thee, shall fall in the Heart of the Sea, on the Day of thy Fall.

28. The Suburbs shall shake at the Noise of thy Pilots Cry.

29. And all who take hold of the Oar, the Sailors, with all the Pilots of the Sea, shall come down from their Ships, standing on the Land.

30. Who shall make their Voice be heard concerning thee, crying bitterly, and put Dust upon their Heads, roll themselves in Ashes;

31. Shall make themselves quite bald for thee, gird them with Sackcloth, and weep for thee with Bitterness of Soul, with bitter Wailing,

32. And shall take up a Lamentation for thee in their Bemoaning, and lament thus concerning thee; Who is like Tyre? Like her that is cut off within the Sea?

33. By the Things of thy Fairs coming out of the Seas, thou didst satisfy many People: by the Abundance of thy Riches and Wares, thou didst enrich the Kings of the Earth.

34. At the Time thou wast broke at the Seas, in the Depths of the Water, thy Traffick and all thy Company within thee fell.

35. All the Inhabitants of the Isles are astonished at thee, and their Kings very horribly afraid, they are out of Countenance.

36. The Traders among the People hiss at thee; who art a Terror, and wilt not be for ever.

C H A P. XXVIII.

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man, say to the Ruler of Tyre: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Because thy Heart is so haughty, that thou dost boast, I am God, I sit in the Seat of God, in the Heart of the Seas; though thou art Man, and not God, notwithstanding thou makest thy own Heart like God's:

3. Forsooth thou art wiser than Daniel, they can hide no Secret from thee.

4. By thy Wisdom and Understanding thou hast got thee Wealth, having got Gold and Silver into thy Treasures.

5. By the Abundance of thy Wisdom in thy Merchandice thou hast increased thy Wealth, by which thy Heart is haughty:

6. For this reason the Sovereign Lord says thus; Because thou makest thy own Heart like God's;

7. Lo I will therefore bring Strangers against thee, the terrible ones of the Gentiles; who shall draw forth their Swords against the Beauty of thy Wisdom, and profane thy Splendor.

8. They shall bring thee down to the Pit, and thou shalt die the Deaths of the Slain in the Heart of the Seas.

9. Wilt thou still say, I am God, before him that kills thee? But thou wilt be Man, and not God, in the Hand of him who slays thee.

10. Thou shalt die the Deaths of the uncircumcised ones, by the Hands of Strangers: for I speak it, says the Sovereign Lord.

Curtius, Lib. iv. 2, 3, 4. Plutarch in Alexander, Diod. Siculus, Lib. xvii. 4. Justin, Lib. xi. 10.

11. I had the Lord's Commission too as follows :

12. Man, take up a Lamentation concerning the King of Tyre, and declare to him : Thus says the Sovereign Lord ; Thou sealest up the Sum, being full of Wisdom, and perfect in Beauty.

13. In Eden the Garden of God wast thou, every precious Stone being thy Covering, the Ruby, Emerald and Adamant, the Beryl, Onyx and Jasper, the Sapphire, Chrysoprasus, and Carbuncle, and Gold ; the Work of thy Timbrels and Flutes was prepared in thee, at the Time thou wast created.

14. Thou wast an anointed covering Cherub ; when I put thee, thou wast on God's holy Mountain, walking about amongst the Stones of Fire.

15. Perfect wast thou in thy Ways, from the Day thou wast created, till Iniquity was found in thee.

16. By the Abundance of thy Merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with Injury, whereby thou hast sinned ; so that I will slay thee from God's Mountain, and make thee perish, O covering Cherub, from the midst of the Stones of Fire.

17. Thy Heart being haughty through thy Beauty, thy Wisdom corrupted by thy Splendor, I will cast thee down upon the Ground, put thee before Kings, that they may look on thee.

18. With the Multitude of thy Iniquities, by the Injustice of thy Merchandise, thou profanest thy Sanctuaries ; so I will bring out a Fire from within thee, which shall consume thee, and I will make thee Ashes upon the Ground ; in the Sight of all who see thee.

19. All that know thee among the People shall be astonished at thee ; thou shalt become a Terror, and not be for ever.

20. Again I had the Lord's Commission in this manner :

21. Put thy Face, Man, towards Zidon, and prophesy against it,

22. That the Sovereign Lord says thus ; Behold I am against thee, O Zidon, and will be glorified within thee ; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I execute Judgments on her, and am sanctified in her.

23. For I will send into her the Pestilence, and Blood into her Streets, and the Wounded shall be judged within her by the Sword against her on every Side ; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24. So there shall no more be a fretting Brier to the Family of Israel, nor a grieving Thorn of any who disdain them round about ; and they shall know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

25. Who says thus ; When I gather the Family of Israel from the People among whom they are dispersed, and am sanctified in them in the Sight of the Gentiles, they shall dwell in their Country which I gave to my Servant Jacob.

26. They shall even dwell securely in it, shall build Houses, and plant Vineyards, while they dwell so ; when I execute Judgments on all who disdain them on every Side : and shall know that I am the Lord their God.

C H A P. XXIX.

IN the tenth Year, on the twelfth of the tenth Month, I had the Lord's Commission thus :

2. Man, put thy Face against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and Egypt all of it,

3. Speaking as follows : Thus says the Sovereign Lord ; Behold I am against thee, O Pharaoh King of Egypt, the great Whale that lies within his Rivers, who vaunts, My River is my own, and I made it for my self.

4. For I will put Hooks in thy Jaws, and make the Fish of thy Rivers stick to thy Scales, bringing thee up from within thy Rivers, while all the Fish of them stick there.

5. And I will leave thee thy self at the Wilderness, with all the Fish of thy Rivers ; thou shalt fall out in the Field, shalt not be gathered, nor brought together : I having given thee to the Beasts of the Earth, and the Fowls of the Air, to be devoured.

thousand Tyrians (after a Slaughter of above seven thousand) which was a Heathen, and not a Jewish Manner of Death ; see on Ch. xxvii. 26. The Interpretation of Grot. is violently strained, that of signifies by the uncircumcised, most especially since by follows ; as is that of Jun. and Trem. for it to denote both present and eternal Death, which latter could not be done by the Hand of Strangers.

Ver. 12. being full] as belonging to Thou ; and early Editions of the pres. Transf. with some latter, have no Point at sum.

Ver. 16. slay] So this Word signifies, as also rendered Ver. 9. or simply to profane, which seems improper with from or out of, and the Expression to be rather synonymous to that which follows.

Ver. 22. Judgments] Besides what was done against Zidon by Nebuchadnezzar during the Siege of Tyre, it suffered a grievous Destruction by means of the Persians in the Reign of Artaxerxes Ochus, Diod. Siculus, Lib. xvi. 8.

Ver. 3. Pharaoh] called by profane Authors Aprius, and represented blasphemously proud by Herodotus, Lib. ii. p. 68. the same as mentioned, Jer. xxxvii. 5, 7. & xliv. 30.

Ver. 5. Wilderness] particularly the Wilds of Libya in Africa, as on Ver. 12.

6. And all the Inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they have been a Staff of Reed to the Family of Israel.

7. When they take hold of thee by thy Hand, thou wilt be shattered, and tear off all their Shoulder; and when they lean upon thee, thou wilt be broke, and make their whole Loins at a stand.

8. Therefore the Sovereign Lord says thus; Behold I will bring the Sword against thee, and cut off from thee Man and Beast.

9. So that the Country of Egypt shall become desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord; because he says, The River is mine, and I made it.

10. Lo I am therefore against both thee and thy Rivers, and will make the Country of Egypt utterly waste, and desolate, from the Tower of Sevensh even to the Border of Cush.

11. The Foot of Man shall not pass through it, nor shall the Foot of Beast: for it shall not be inhabited forty Years.

12. And I will make the Country of Egypt desolate, among the Countries that are become so, and her Cities among those which are laid waste shall be desolate forty Years; as I will disperse the Egyptians in the Nations, and scatter them in the Countries.

13. However at the End of the forty Years, as the Sovereign Lord says, I will gather the Egyptians from the People whither they are dispersed.

14. Then will I bring back the Egyptian

Captives, and make them return to the Country of Pathros, into that of their Traffick; where they shall be a low Kingdom.

15. It shall be lower than other Kingdoms, and shall lift up it self above the Nations no more: for I will make them little, that they may not rule over the Nations.

16. Thus it shall be no more the Trust of the Family of Israel, bringing Iniquity to remembrance, by their turning after them; and they shall know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

17. And in the twenty seventh Year, on the first of the first Month, had I the Lord's Commission as follows:

18. Man, Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon made his Army do a great Service against Tyre, every Head being made bald, and every Shoulder bare; yet he and his Army had no Reward from Tyre, for the Service which he did against it:

19. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I give Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon the Country of Egypt, who shall take her Multitude, as also her Effects for Spoil, and what she has for Plunder, which shall be a Reward for his Army.

20. For his Work which he did against it I give him the Country of Egypt, because they wrought for me, says the Sovereign Lord.

21. At that Time I will make the Horn sprout forth to the Family of Israel, and cause thee to open the Mouth among them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ver. 6. Reed] as in Isa. xxxvi. 6. and according to Jer. xxxvii. 7.

Ver. 7. at a stand] as having nothing else to lean on:

Ver. 10. Cush] lying on the east Side of the Red Sea, Gen. ii. 13. and Sevensh at the South of Egypt by the Nile; see Bechart, Phaleg. Pref. so that as the Country of Egypt, being on the West of the Red Sea, extended from Sevensh to Cush no where but at the North of Egypt, beyond the End of the Red Sea, this comprehended the whole Country. But as Ethiopia lay on the South of Egypt, by Sevensh (the Heb. Name, or Syene as others call it) the Reader may see what Sense he can make of the present Translation.

Ver. 11. not pass] as heretofore.

CHAP. XXX.

I HAD the Lord's Commission further as follows :

2. Man, prophesy, saying : Thus says the Sovereign Lord ; Lament, ah for the Day !

3. Because the Day is near, even that of the Lord ; it shall be a cloudy one, the Time of the Gentiles.

4. The Sword shall come into Egypt, and there shall be sore Anguish on Ethiopia, by the falling of the Slain in Egypt ; whose Multitude they shall take away, and her Foundations shall be destroyed.

5. Ethiopia, Libya, Lud, all the mixed ones, Chub, and the People of the Country who are in League, shall fall with them by the Sword.

6. Thus says the Lord ; Those shall also fall who uphold Egypt, and the Excellency of her Strength shall come down : from the Tower of Seveneh shall they fall in her by the Sword, says the Sovereign Lord.

7. So that they shall be desolate among the Countries that are become so, and her Cities shall be among those which are wasted.

8. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I put a Fire in Egypt, and all her Helpers are broke.

9. At that Time Messengers shall go out from before me in Ships, to make secure Ethiopia afraid ; on whom there shall be sore Anguish, as at Egypt's Time, for behold it is coming.

10. Thus says the Sovereign Lord ; I will even make the Multitude of Egypt cease, by the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon.

11. He himself along with his People, the terrible ones of the Gentiles, shall be brought to destroy the Country ; and drawing forth their Swords against Egypt, shall fill the Country with the Slain.

12. And I will make the Rivers dry, will sell the Country into the Hands of evil Men ; and cause it to be desolate, with what it is full of, by the Hands of Strangers : I the Lord speak it.

13. Who will likewise, as the Sovereign Lord says, make the Idols perish, and the Things of Nought cease from Noph, and there shall be no Prince of the Country of Egypt any more, for I will put Fear in it.

14. I will moreover make Pathros desolate, will put Fire in Zoan, and execute Judgments on No.

15. My Wrath likewise will I pour out, upon Sin, the Strength of Egypt, and cut off the Multitude of No.

16. And putting Fire in Egypt, Sin shall be sorely in Anguish, No be torn asunder, and Noph have Distresses daily.

17. The young Men of Aven and Phibeseth shall fall by the Sword, and the Females go into Captivity.

18. In Tehaphnehes too the Day shall be dark, when I break the Egyptian Yokes there, and the Excellency of her Strength shall cease in her : as to her self, a Cloud shall cover her, and her Daughters shall go into Captivity.

19. So will I execute Judgments on Egypt, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20. In the eleventh Year, on the seventh of the first Month, I had the Lord's Commission as follows :

21. Man, I will break the Arm of Pharaoh King of Egypt ; and behold it shall not be bound up, by applying Medicines, by putting a Swathe to bind it up, to strengthen it, that it may take hold of the Sword.

22. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord ; Behold I am against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and will break his Arms, the strong and the broken one, and make the Sword fall out of his Hand.

23. I will also disperse the Egyptians in the Nations, and scatter them in the Countries.

Ver. 2. ah for] worth here in the pres. Eng. denoting be to, is so old and scarce, that Johnson, in his great Dictionary of the English Language, has only a Quotation for it from F. Q. (Francis Quarles) made from this, though he ransacked old Shakspeare and Spenser for Words. How much better was the Gen. IVoe be unto before !

Ver. 5. Lud] the same as in Ch. xxvii. 10. Isa. lxvi. 19. and Lydia lay in a distant Part of the World.

Ver. 6. fram] that is as far as, that Place being on the Border of Ethiopia, the farther Side of Egypt. Prideaux in Connell. Anno 573. and others would have migdol, the Tower, be the proper Name of a Place in the North of Egypt, and the Translation to be, from Migdol to Syene. But besides the Original having no to, Migdol was plainly the Tower of that Place by Chap. xxix. 10. where to is applied to another Place.

Ver. 9. whom] the Messengers by the Original.

Ver. 13. Idols] The only Conquest of Egypt when I find this done, was at that by Ochus, as in the next Note.

1b. no Prince of] no King of their own, with such Sovereignty as before : for though above a hundred Years after Egypt was conquered by Cambyfes, Chap. xxix. 13. there got up a short and weak Race of Egyptian Kings, that continued about 60 Years, it was extinct through a fresh Conquest by Artaxerxes Ochus, Diod. Siculus, Lib. 16. and the Line of the Ptolemys that began reigning some Years after that, and continued till Egypt was made a Roman Province, was of foreign Extraction ; as Egypt was before Part of the Macedonian Empire under Alexander ; and divided among the rest to Ptolemy one of his Commanders, 2. Curtius, Lib. x. Justin, Lib. xiii. 4.

Ver. 17. Females] agreeable to the next Verse : so Jun. and Trem. have puellæ ; Pagn. uxores, IVives.

24. On the contrary I will strengthen the King of Babylon's Arms, and put my Sword into his Hand; as well as break the Arms of Pharaoh, who shall groan with the Groans of the Wounded before him.

25. I will both strengthen the King of Babylon's Arms, and those of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I put my Sword into the Hand of the King of Babylon, and he stretches it out against the Country of Egypt.

26. Thus will I disperse the Egyptians in the Nations, and scatter them in the Countries; whereby they shall know that I am the Lord.

C H A P. XXXI.

IN the eleventh Year, on the first of the third Month, I had the Lord's Commission thus:

2. Man, say to Pharaoh King of Egypt, and his Multitude: Whom art thou like in thy Greatness?

3. Behold Assyria was as a Cedar on Lebanon, with handsome Boughs, a shadowing Shroud, and a high Stature, whose Top was between the thick Boughs.

4. The Waters made him great, the Depth high, with its Floods running round about his Plants, and sent forth its Trenches to all the Trees of the Field.

5. By reason of which his Stature was the highest of all the Trees of the Field, his Sprigs were multiplied, and his Branches became long by many Waters, when he shot forth.

6. All the Fowls of the Air made Nests in his Twigs, and all the Beasts of the Field brought forth under his Branches; nay all the great Nations dwelt in his Shadow.

7. Thus was he handsome by his Greatness, by the Length of his Sprouts; because his Root was at great Waters.

8. The Cedars in the Garden of God could not hide him, the Fir-trees were not like his Twigs, nor were the Chestnut-trees as his Branches: there was no Tree in the Garden of God like him for his Beauty.

9. I made him so fair by the Multitude of his Sprouts, that all the Trees of Eden which were in the Garden of God envied him.

10. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord; By reason that thou wast high in Stature, and he put his Top even between the thick Boughs, and his Heart was lifted up by his Height;

11. I delivered him into the Power of the strong one of the Nations, who dealt thoroughly with him, I drove him away for his Wickedness.

12. And Strangers, the terrible ones of the Gentiles, cut him off, and left him; on the Mountains, and in all the Vallies his Sprouts are fallen down, and his Branches are broke in all the Channels of the Country, nay all the People of the Earth are come down from his Shadow, and have left him.

13. All the Fowls of the Air dwell upon his Fall, and all the Beasts of the Field are on his Branches.

14. To the end that none of the Trees at the Waters may be high in their Stature, nor put their Top even between the thick Boughs, and that none of their Oaks which drink in Water may stand in their Height: for all of them are delivered to Death, to the lower Place of the Earth, amongst Mankind, to them who are gone down to the Pit.

15. Thus says the Sovereign Lord: On the Day that he went down to the Grave, I caused them to mourn, covered the Deep for him, and with-held its Floods, so that the great Waters were stopped; I also made Lebanon gloomy for him, and all the Trees of the Field fainted for him.

16. At the Sound of his Fall I made the Nations shake, when I brought him down to the Grave, with them who were gone down to the Pit; and all the Trees of Eden, the choicest and best of Lebanon, all that drank in Water, were comforted in the lower Place of the Earth.

17. They likewise went down to the Grave with him, to them who were slain with the Sword; as also his Arm, those that dwelt in his Shadow amongst the Nations.

18. Which art thou thus like, in Glory and Greatness, among the Trees of Eden? Therefore thou shalt be brought down with them to the lower Place of the Earth, shalt lie amongst the uncircumcised ones, with them who are slain with the Sword; even Pharaoh himself and all his Multitude, says the Sovereign Lord.

Ver. 3. Assyria] The Time and Manner of the Overthrow of that great and ancient Empire, see on Zeph. ii. 13. and Nab. i. 1. This seems ill rendered the Assyrian, Saracus being an obscure King, having but Part of the Empire, and Chyniladanus effeminate and contemptible; not agreeable to the following Description.

Ver. 10. thou] Assyria, Ver. 3. which is then turned into the 3d Person.

Ver. 17. They] the Nations, Ver. 16.

C H A P. XXXII.

IN the twelfth Year, on the first of the twelfth Month, I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man take up a Lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, by way of Address to him thus: 'Thou art become like a young Lion to the Nations (yet thou art as a Whale in the Seas, coming forth in thy own Rivers) who disturbest the Waters with thy Feet, and tramplest in their Rivers.'

3. But I, as the Sovereign Lord says, will spread my Net over thee, by a Company of many People, who shall bring thee up in it.

4. And I will leave thee on the Land, throwing thee out in the Field, and make all the Fowls of the Air remain upon thee, as also satisfy the Beasts of the whole Earth with thee.

5. Moreover thy Flesh will I put upon the Mountains, and in the Vallies so high as to fill them up.

6. I will also water the flowing Country with thy Blood, to the very Mountains, and the Channels shall be filled with thee.

7. And when I quench thee, I will cover the Heaven, and make the Stars of it dark; I will cover the Sun himself with a Cloud, and the Moon shall not give its Light.

8. Thus darkening all the shining Lights in the Heaven over thee, I will put Darkness upon thy Country, says the Sovereign Lord.

9. So shall I provoke the Minds of many People, when I bring thy Ruin among the Nations, to Countries which thou art unacquainted with.

10. Nay I shall make them astonished at thee, and their Kings will be so horribly afraid upon thy Account, when I brandish my Sword before them, that they will tremble every Moment, each for his own Life, at the Time of thy Fall.

11. For, as the Sovereign Lord says, the King of Babylon's Sword shall enter into thee,

12. By the Swords of the Powerful will I make thy Multitude fall, all of them the terrible ones of the Nations; who shall waste the Excellency of Egypt, when its whole Multitude is destroyed.

13. I will likewise cause all its Beasts to perish from the many Waters; so that as the Foot of Man shall disturb them no more, neither shall the Hoofs of Beasts.

14. Then will I make their Waters settle down, and their Rivers run like Oil, says the Sovereign Lord.

15. When I make the Egyptian Country desolate, even as to its Plenty, and slay all who dwell in it, they will know that I am the Lord.

16. This is the Lamentation that the heathen Women shall make, when they lament it; as being those who shall lament for Egypt, and all its Multitude, says the Sovereign Lord.

17. The same Year, on the fifteenth of that Month, I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

18. Man, make moan for the Multitude of Egypt, whom thou shalt bring down, along with the stately heathen Women, to the lower Place of the Earth, with them that go down to the Pit.

19. More pleasant than who art thou? Get thee down, and be laid with those that are uncircumcised.

20. They shall fall among them who are slain with the Sword; to which she being given up, draw her, and all her Multitudes.

21. Those that are the strongest of the powerful ones shall say of it, and its Helpers, from within the Grave, They are come down, they lie uncircumcised, slain with the Sword.

22. Assyria is there, and all her Company, the Sepulchres of which will be round about it: all of them being slain, fallen by the Sword.

23. Whose Sepulchres are made in the Sides of the Pit, and her Company is round about her own: all of them being slain, fallen by the Sword; who did put Terror in the Country of the Living.

24. Elam is there, and her whole Multitude round about her Sepulchre: all of them being slain, fallen by the Sword, who are gone down uncircumcised to the lower Place of the Earth; that did put their Terror in the Country of the Living, yet bore their Shame with them that went down to the Pit.

25. They made a Bed for her, with her whole Multitude, among the Slain, whose Sepulchres will be round about it: all of them being uncircumcised, slain with the Sword; though their Terror was put among those who lived on the Earth, yet they bore their Shame with them that went down to the Pit, being put among the Slain.

26. Meshech, Tubal, and her whole Multitude are there, whose Sepulchres will be round about it: all of them being uncircumcised, slain with the Sword; though they did put their Terror among those who lived on the Earth.

Ver. 2. (yet) Without taking this so in a Parenthesis, the Sense is confounded, since a Whale has not Feet, &c.

Ver. 6. flowing Country] or Country overflowed, viz. Egypt, which was so annually.

Ver. 10. Account] There is annexed to this in the Bib. of Pope Sixtus, for all the Iniquities which thou hast wrought; but wants the Authority even of the com. Lat. which at the End of the Ver. has his too for thy.

Ver. 20. draw] into the Grave, Grot.

27. However they do not lie with the powerful ones that are slain of the Uncircumcised : who are gone down to the Grave with their Weapons of War, and did put their Swords under their Heads, but their Iniquity was in their Bones ; though they were the Terror of the Powerful among those who lived on the Earth.

28. Thou shalt be broke too amongst the uncircumcised ones, and lie along with them that are slain with the Sword.

29. Edom, her Kings, and all her Princes are there, who are put, with their Power, along with them that are slain with the Sword : they lie with the uncircumcised ones, and with such as are gone down to the Pit.

30. The Governors of the North all of them are there, particularly all the Zidonians ; who are gone down with their slain ones, being ashamed of their Power, with their Terror, and lie uncircumcised along with them that are slain with the Sword, and bear their Shame with such as are gone down to the Pit.

31. Pharaoh shall see them, that he may be comforted for all the Multitude of Egypt, himself and his whole Army slain with the Sword, says the Sovereign Lord.

32. For as I have put my Terror in the Country of the Living, he shall be laid amongst the uncircumcised ones, along with them that are slain with the Sword, himself and his Multitude, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XXXIII.

AND I had the Lord's Commission as follows :

2. Man, pronounce the ensuing Speech to those of thy People : When I bring the Sword against any Country, and the People of it take a certain Man at their Borders, and make him a Watchman to them,

3. Who seeing the Sword coming against the Country, sounds the Trumpet, and gives the People warning ;

4. Then whoever hears the Sound of it, and does not take warning, whom the Sword when it comes takes away, his Blood will be upon his own Head.

5. He that hears the Sound of the Trumpet, and does not take warning, shall bear the Blame of his own Blood ; and he who takes warning, shall escape with his Life.

6. But when the Watchman seeing the Sword coming, does not sound the Trumpet, so that the People are not warned, and the Sword comes, and takes a Person of them away ; he is taken for his Iniquity, and I will demand his Blood of the Watchman.

7. Now thou Man, I have made thee a Watchman to the Family of Israel, that thou mayest hear the Matter from my Mouth, and warn them from me.

8. When I say to the Wicked, O wicked one, thou shalt quite die ; and thou dost not speak to warn him from his Way, such a one's Blood who dies for his Iniquity, will I require of thee.

9. Nevertheless when thou warnest the Wicked to return from his Way, and he does not, he shall die for his Iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy Soul.

10. Say to the Family of Israel, thou Man, further ; You speak in the following manner, When our Transgressions and Sins are upon us, so that we waste away by them, how shall we live ?

11. Answer them, By my living, says the Sovereign Lord, I do not delight in the Death of the Wicked, but in his turning back from his Way, that he may live : return, return from your ill Courses ; for why would you die, O Family of Israel ?

12. And thou Man, tell those of thy People : The virtuous one's Virtue shall not deliver him at the Time that he transgresses, nor shall the Wicked fall by his Wickedness when he returns from it, any more than the Virtuous can live by the other when he sins.

13. When I say to the Virtuous, that he shall thoroughly live, and he trusts on his own Virtue, and does Iniquity, none of the former shall be mentioned, but for the latter which he does shall he die.

14. On the other hand, when I say to the Wicked, Thou shalt quite die ; and he returns from his Sin, doing Justice and Virtue,

15. Gives back the Pawn, restores a Thing taken by force, and goes in the Ordinances of Life without doing Iniquity ; he shall thoroughly live, not die.

16. None of his Sins which he has committed shall be mentioned to him ; doing Justice and Virtue, he shall thoroughly live.

17. Yet those of thy People say, The Lord's Way is not equal ; when it is their Way is not equal.

18. When the Virtuous returns from his Virtue, and does Iniquity, he shall die for the same.

19. And when the Wicked returns from

31. of Egypt] Heb. her Multitude, from the 18th Ver. not his.

Ver. 11. return, return] but once in the vulg. Lat.

his Wickedness, doing Justice and Virtue, he shall live through them.

20. Since you say, 'The Lord's Way is not equal; I will judge you every one according to his own Ways, O Family of Israel.

21. In the twelfth Year of our Captivity, on the fifth of the tenth Month, there came to me one who escaped from Jerusalem with Advice, that the City was conquered.

22. Now the Hand of the Lord was on me the Evening before his Coming, and opened my Mouth against he came to me in the Morning; which was done, so that I could be dumb no longer.

23. With the Lord's Commission as follows:

24. Man, they that inhabit those waste Places in the Country of Israel have to say, Abraham being but one inherited the Country, whereas it is given for an Inheritance to us who are many.

25. Therefore tell them, that the Sovereign Lord says thus; Shall you that eat with the Blood, and look up to your filthy Idols, nay shed Blood, inherit the Country?

26. Shall you that stand by your Swords, doing what is abominable, and defile every one his Neighbour's Wife, inherit the Country?

27. To whom add that the Sovereign Lord says thus; By my living, they who are in the waste Places shall fall by the Sword, and I will deliver him that is out in the Field to the Beasts to be devoured, as also those who are in the Forts and Caves shall die with the Pestilence.

28. So will I make the Country utterly desolate, and the Excellency of its Strength shall cease; even the Mountains of Israel shall be desolate without a Passenger.

29. And they will know that I am the Lord, when I make the Country utterly desolate, for all the Abominations which they have done.

30. As to thy self, Man, those of thy own People are talking of thee, by the Walls, and at the Doors of the Houses; and speak thus one Man to another, Come, I pray, and hear what Commission comes out from the Lord.

31. Then they come to thee as People use to do, sit before thee for mine, and hear what thou sayest, but will not do it: for though they shew much Love with their Mouth, their Heart goes after their Gain.

32. And lo thou art to them as a very lovely Song with a fine Voice, or one who plays well; yet they hear what thou sayest, without doing it.

33. But when that comes, as behold it will, they will know that there has been a Prophet among them.

C H A P. XXXIV.

I H A D the Lord's Commission too as follows:

2. Prophecy, Man, against the Shepherds of Israel, telling them, that the Sovereign Lord says thus to them; Wo be to the Shepherds of Israel who are feeding themselves; should not Shepherds feed the Flock?

3. You eat the Fat, and wear the Wool, killing that which is fat; you feed not the Flock.

4. You neither strengthen such as are sick, heal the Diseased, bind up what is broke of any, bring back that which is driven away, nor seek for the Lost; but rule them with Force, and Rigour:

5. Inasmuch that they are dispersed without a Feeder; and being dispersed, are become Meat for all the wild Beasts.

6. My Flock wander on all the Mountains, and over every high Hill; nay they are dispersed over the whole Surface of the Earth, none enquiring, nor seeking for them.

7. Therefore, you Shepherds, hear the Lord's Commission:

8. By my living, says the Sovereign Lord, because my Flock are become a Prey, being Meat for all the wild Beasts, having no Feeder, and my Shepherds do not enquire for my Flock, but they feed themselves, and not that;

9. For these reasons (hearken, O Shepherds, to the Lord's Commission)

10. Behold, as the Sovereign Lord says, I will be against the Shepherds, and will require my Flock of them, as well as make them give over feeding it, nor shall the Shepherds feed themselves any more: for I will deliver my Flock out of their Mouths, that they may not be Meat for them.

11. Since I my self indeed, as the Sovereign Lord declares, will both seek for my Flock, and enquire them out.

12. Like a Shepherd's enquiring out a Drove of his, on the Day when he is among his Flocks that are spread about, so will I enquire out my Flock; and deliver them from all the Places whither they were dispersed, at the cloudy and dark Time.

13. Having brought them out from the People, and gathered them from the Countries, I will bring them to their own Land,

Ver. 20. Since] which, as may be seen, makes fine Sense, far unlike Yet.

Ver. 22. against] see Cant. iv. 6.

and feed them on the Mountains of Israel, by the Streams, and in all the Habitations of the Country.

14. In good Pasture will I feed them, and their Fold shall be upon the high Mountains of Israel: there they shall lie down in a good Fold, and feed on fat Pasture at the Israelitish Hills.

15. I will feed my Flock my self, and make them lie down my self, says the Sovereign Lord.

16. I will seek for the Lost, will bring back that which is driven away, bind up what is broke of any, and strengthen the Diseased; but will destroy the Fat and Strong, feeding them with Judgment.

17. And you my Flock, as the Sovereign Lord says, lo I will judge between Cattle and Cattle, namely the Rams and the He-goats.

18. Is it too little for you to eat up the good Pasture, that you tread down the rest of your Pastures with your Feet; and to drink up the settled Water, that you trample with your Feet in what is left?

19. So that my Flock eat what you have trod down with your Feet, and drink what you have trampled in with them.

20. To those the Sovereign Lord therefore says thus: Behold I my own self will judge between the fat Cattle, and the lean ones.

21. Because you thrust away with the Side and Shoulder, and push with your Horns, all the Sick, till you have dispersed them abroad;

22. I will save my Flock, and they shall become a Prey no more, when I judge betwixt Cattle and Cattle.

23. And will raise up a certain Shepherd for them, that he may feed them, that is my Servant David: who shall himself feed them, and be their Shepherd.

24. Nay I the Lord, who speak it, will be their God, and my Servant David shall be a Prince among them.

25. Besides I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, and cause ill Beasts to cease from the Country; insomuch that they shall dwell securely in the Wilderness, and sleep in the Woods.

26. And I will make them, with the Places round about my Hill, blessed; causing the Rain to descend in its Season, which shall be blessed Showers.

27. The Trees of the Field shall both yield their Fruit, and the Ground its Increase, and they shall be secure in their own Country; who shall know that I am the Lord, when I break the Beams of their Yoke, and deliver them from the Power of those who make them serve.

28. And they shall be a Prey to the Gentiles no more, nor shall the Beasts of the Country devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none make afraid.

29. I will also raise them up a famous Plant; and they shall no more be either taken away by Famine in the Country, or bear the Shame of the Gentiles.

30. Thus shall they know that I the Lord their God am with them, and that the Family of Israel themselves are my People, says the Sovereign Lord.

31. For you my Flock, that of my Pasture, are Men your selves, I am your God, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XXXV.

MOREOVER I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards Mount Scir, and prophesy against it,

3. In this manner: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am against thee, Mount Scir, and will stretch out my Hand over thee, making thee utterly desolate.

4. Thy Cities I will lay waste, that thou mayest be desolate, who shalt know that I am the Lord.

5. Because thou hast had continual Enmity, and didst make the Blood of the Israelites flow by the Power of the Sword, in the Time of their Calamity, when their Iniquity was at an end;

6. Therefore by my living, says the Sovereign Lord, I will make thee ready for Blood, which shall pursue thee: since thou dost not hate Blood, even Blood shall pursue thee.

7. So will I make Mount Scir utterly desolate, cutting off from it both such as pass and return.

8. And I will fill the Mountains of it with its Slain: at thy Hills, Vallies, and all thy Brooks, shall those who are slain with the Sword fall.

9. I will make thee perpetually desolate, so that thy Cities shall not be restored; and you shall know that I am the Lord.

10. Because thou hast said, The two Nations; and the two Countries shall be mine, which we will inherit, though the Lord was there;

Ver. 16. destroy] The Gr. and vulg. Lat. having keep, by Mistake of the Letter γ for η Græc. expounds it to be; Servabo in bona Valetudine, preserve in good Health; but this is a Point of great Reproach to Commentators, and wherein they are little to be trusted, viz. the following wrong Translations.

Ver. 23. raise up] as Ver. 29.

Ver. 9. desolate] See Chap. xxv. 13, 14; Obad. 18.

11. There-

11. Therefore by my living, says the Sovereign Lord, I will act according to thy own Anger and Envy, with which thou hast acted, by thy Hatred against them; and will be known among them, when I judge thee.

12. Thou shalt know too that I am the Lord, who have heard all thy Contempts, which thou hast uttered against the Mountains of Israel, that they are desolate, and given to you to be consumed.

13. Nay you have magnified your selves against me with your Mouth, and abundantly uttered Words against me, which I heard.

14. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; As the whole Earth shall be glad, I will make thee desolate.

15. As thou hast been glad at the Family of Israel's Possession, because it was desolate, so will I cause thee to be desolate, O Mount Seir, and all Edom entirely; which shall know that I am the Lord.

C H A P. XXXVI.

ON the contrary prophesy, thou Man, to the Mountains of Israel, bidding them hear the Lord's Commission,

2. Who expresses himself thus: Because the Enemy has said concerning you, Ha, even the ancient high Places are become our Inheritance!

3. For this reason prophesy as follows: Inasmuch as you are desolate, and swallowed up on every Side, as the Sovereign Lord says, that you may be an Inheritance to the Gentiles who are left, and are brought up in the Language that they speak, being the ill Report of the People;

4. Therefore, you Mountains of Israel, hear the Sovereign Lord's Commission, who says thus to the Mountains and Hills, to the Brooks and Vallies, to the waste Places that are desolate, and the Cities that are forsaken, which are become a Prey, and a Scoff to the Gentiles, who are left on every Side;

5. (And affirms, that he speaks thus in the Fire of his Zeal, against the Gentiles who are left, in particular all Edom, that have bestowed his Country on themselves for an Inheritance, with Gladness of the whole Heart, and Disdain of Mind, that it may be put out for a Prey)

6. Which consequently thou must prophesy concerning the Country of Israel, and declare to the Mountains and Hills, to the Brooks and Vallies, as being what the Sovereign Lord says: Behold I speak in my Zeal and Wrath, because you bear the Shame of the Gentiles;

7. For which reason I lift up my Hand, continues he, that the Gentiles themselves who are on every Side of you shall bear their Shame.

8. Whereas you, O Mountains of Israel, shall yield your Boughs, and bear your Fruit for my People Israel; because their Coming draws near.

9. In order to which lo I am for you, and will turn to you; which shall be manured, and sown.

10. I will also multiply Men upon you, even the whole Family of Israel entirely; so that the Cities shall be inhabited, and the waste Places built in.

11. Nay I will multiply upon you both Men and Beasts, who shall increase, and be fruitful; and will cause you to dwell after your former States, making it better than your Original, and you shall know that I am the Lord.

12. In short I will make Men walk on you, namely my People Israel; that shall inherit thee, whose Possession thou shalt be; and shalt henceforth deprive them no more.

13. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Because they tell you, Thou art the Consumer of Men, and Depriver of thy Nations;

14. Therefore, affirms he, thou shalt no more consume Men, nor yet make thy Nations fall.

15. And I will not let the Shame of the Gentiles be heard concerning thee, neither shalt thou bear the Reproach of People, as well as not make the Nations fall, any more, says the Sovereign Lord.

16. I had the Lord's Commission further as follows:

17. Man, when the Family of Israel dwelt in their own Country, they defiled it by their Way and Deeds, their Way being before me as the Uncleaness of a separate Woman.

18. So I shed my Wrath upon them, for the Blood which they shed in the Country, and for their filthy Idols that they defiled it with.

19. I even dispersed them in the Nations, and they were scattered in the Countries: I judged them according to their own Way and Deeds.

20. Yet when they were come to the Nations whither they went, they profaned my holy Name, when those said to them, These are the Lord's People, and are come out of his Country.

21. How—

21. However I spared them for my holy Name, which the Family of Israel profaned in the Nations whither they went.

22. To whom do thou say therefore, that the Sovereign Lord speaks thus: I did not do it for your sakes, O Family of Israel, but for my own holy Name, which you profaned in the Nations whither you went.

23. And I will sanctify my great Name, that has been profaned there by you amongst them: and the Gentiles shall know that I am the Lord, says he who is the Sovereign One, when I am sanctified among you in their Sight;

24. And shall fetch you from the Nations, gather you from all the Countries, and bring you to your own Land.

25. Then will I sprinkle clean Water upon you, that you may be clean; cleansing you from all your Pollutions, and filthy Idols.

26. I will give you also a new Heart, put a new Spirit within you, and taking away the stoney Heart out of your Body, will give you one of Flesh.

27. Nay I will put my own Spirit within you, that I may make you such as will go in my Ordinances, observe and do my Rules:

28. And you shall dwell in the Country which I gave to your Forefathers; and be a People to me, as I will a God to you.

29. Whom I will preserve from all the Pollutions that you had; and calling for Corn, will increase it, and put no Famine upon you.

30. I will likewise increase the Fruit of the Tree, and the Crop of the Field; to the end that you may no more receive the Reproach of Famine among the Gentiles.

31. You will then remember your ill Courses, and your Doings which were not good; so that you will be loathsome to yourselves, for your Vices and Abominations.

32. Let it be known by you, that I do it not for your sakes, says the Sovereign Lord: be you ashamed, and put to confusion, by reason of your own Ways, O Family of Israel.

33. At the Time that I shall cleanse you from all your Vices, as the Sovereign Lord says, I will also make you inhabit the Cities, the waste Places shall be built in;

34. And the desolate Country manured, forasmuch as it is desolate in every one's Sight who passes by:

35. Insomuch that they shall say, This very Country which was desolate, is become like the Garden of Eden, and the Cities that were waste, desolate and demolished, are fortified and inhabited.

36. So will the Gentiles who are left round about you know, that it was I the Lord built up the demolished Places, planted that which was desolate: who speak, and will do it.

37. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; I will yet be enquired of by the Family of Israel, to do this for them; whom I will multiply with Men like a Flock.

38. As the holy Flock, as the Flock of Jerusalem at its Solemnities; so shall the waste Cities be filled with Flocks of Men, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

C H A P. XXXVII.

THE Hand of the Lord being upon me, he took me out by his Spirit, and having set me within a Valley which was full of Bones,

2. He made me pass by them all round about; and lo there were very many out in the Vale, as behold they were also very dry.

3. After he had said to me, Man, can these Bones become alive? Upon my answering, Thou, O Sovereign Lord, knowest;

4. Prophecy, replies he to me, over these Bones, saying to them; You dry Bones, hear the Lord's Commission,

5. To whom he himself speaks thus; Behold I will make Breath enter into you, that you may become alive.

6. I will likewise put Sinews on you, will cause Flesh to come upon you, and cover you over with Skin, as well as put Breath in you, so that you shall be alive, and know that I am the Lord.

7. And I prophesied as I was commanded, which as I was doing, there was a Noise, and indeed a Stirring, till the Bones came to their Fellows.

8. Then I saw plainly that there came Sinews and Flesh upon them, and Skin covered them over above, but there was no Breath in them.

9. In the next place he said to me: Prophecy to the Breath, prophecy, Man, and declare to it; Thus says the Sovereign Lord, Come from the four Winds, O Breath, and blow into these who are slain, that they may live.

10. Again I prophesied as he commanded me; and the Breath entered into them, so that they became alive, and stood up on their Feet, being a very exceeding great Army.

11. He said to me further; Man, these Bones are the whole Family of Israel: lo

they

they say, Our Bones are dried up, and our Hope perished, we our selves are cut off.

12. Therefore prophesy, and tell them the Sovereign Lord says thus; Behold I will open your Graves, and bring you up out of them, my People, as also bring you into the Country of Israel.

13. Who will know that I am the Lord, when I open your Graves, and bring you up out of them, my People;

14. And put my Spirit in you, so that you shall be alive, and set you in your own Country; nay you will know that I the Lord, says he himself, have spoken, and done it.

15. Besides I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

16. Thou Man, take thee also one Stick, and write upon it, For Judah and the Israelites his Companions; then take another Stick, and write upon that, For Joseph, the Stick of Ephraim, and the whole Family of Israel his Companions.

17. Next put them one to the other, to be one Stick for thee, that they may both be one in thy Hand.

18. And when those of thy People ask thee, whether thou wilt not tell them what thou hast these Things for?

19. Declare to them; Thus says the Sovereign Lord, Lo I will take the Stick of Joseph which was in Ephraim's Hand, with the Rods of Israel its Fellows, and place them upon the other, namely the Stick of Judah, making them one Stick, which they shall be in my Hand.

20. In the mean time the Sticks which thou hast written upon, shall be in thy Hand before their Eyes.

21. Who shalt tell them, the Sovereign Lord says thus: Lo I will take the Israelites from among the Nations whither they are gone, and gathering them on every Side, will bring them into their own Country.

22. And I will make them one Nation in the Country, on the Mountains of Israel, and one King shall be King to all of them; so that they shall be two Nations no more, nor be parted into two Kingdoms any more at all.

23. Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their filthy Idols, detestable Things, or any of their Crimes; but I will preserve them from all their Habitations in which they have sinned, as likewise cleanse them, and they shall be a People to me, as I will a God to them.

24. My Servant David too shall be King over them, and they shall all have the same Shepherd; they shall also go in my Rules, observe my Ordinances; and do them.

25. Thus shall they dwell in the Country which I gave to my Servant Jacob, wherein your Fathers dwelt, and not only they themselves, but their Children and Grandchildren for ever, during which Time David my Servant shall be a Prince to them.

26. Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, which shall be a lasting one, whom I will place, multiply, and put my Sanctuary among them for ever.

27. Even my Tabernacle shall be with them, and I will be a God to them, as they shall a People to me.

28. And the Gentiles will know that I the Lord sanctify Israel, when my Sanctuary is among them for ever.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

THE Lord's Commission I had also as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards Gog, the Country of Magog, the chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3. Declaring: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am against thee, Gog, the chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4. Whom I will turn back, putting Hooks in thy Jaws; and will bring thee out, as also thy whole Army, Horses, and Horsemen all of them with compleat Cloaths, a large Company with Buckler and Shield, handling the Sword all of them;

5. Those of Persia, Ethiopia and Libya, all of them with Shield and Helmet;

6. Gomer and all his Troops, the Family of Togarmah at the north Parts and all its Troops, many People along with thee.

7. Be prepared, [and prepare thy self, with all thy Company that are assembled to thee; and be thou a Guard to them.

8. After many Days thou shalt be visited, when in the latter Years thou wilt come into the Country of those that are returned from the Sword, and brought together from many People, even against the Mountains of Israel

9. And thou wilt come up as Wasting comes, wilt be as a Cloud to cover the Country, thy self and all thy Troops, and many People with thee.

10. At which Time, as the Sovereign Lord says, Matters will come up in thy Mind, and thou wilt think an evil Thought;

11. And say, that thou wilt go up into the Country of Towns, go to them who are at rest, that dwell securely; all of whom dwell without Walls, and who have no Bars nor Gates:

12. To take the Effects for Spoil, and what there is for Plunder, to turn back thy Hand against the waste Places which are inhabited, and to the People that are gathered from the Nations, who get Cattle and Substance dwelling in the middle of the Country.

13. Sheba, Dedan, and the Traders of Tarshish, especially all its young Lions will say to thee, Art thou come to take the Effects for Spoil? Hast thou assembled thy Company to take what there is for Plunder, to carry away Silver and Gold, to fetch Cattle and Substance, to take great Effects for Spoil?

14. Therefore prophesy, Man, and declare to Gog: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Wilt not thou know that Time when my People Israel dwell securely?

15. Then wilt thou come from thy Place out of the north Parts, accompanied with many People, riding on Horses all of them, a great Company and large Army;

16. And wilt come up against my People Israel, as a Cloud to cover the Country: which shall be in the latter Times, when I bring thee against my Country, to the end that the Nations may know me, by my being sanctified in thee, Gog, before their Eyes.

17. Art thou he, continues the Sovereign Lord, whom I spoke of in former Times by the Ministry of my Servants the Prophets of Israel, who prophesied for Years in those Times, that I would bring thee against them?

18. At the very same Time that Gog comes against the Country of Israel, says the Sovereign Lord, shall my Wrath come up in my Face.

19. Who affirm in my Zeal, in the Fire of my Indignation, that at the same Time there shall be a great Shaking in the Country of Israel.

20. For the Fish of the Sea, the Fowls of the Air, the Beasts of the Field, all the creeping Things that creep on the Ground, and all Mankind who are upon the Surface of the Land shall shake at my Presence; nay the Mountains shall be thrown down, the steep Places fall, as shall also every Wall to the Earth.

21. And I will call the Sword against him to all my Mountains, says the Sovereign Lord, their Swords shall be against one another.

22. Moreover I will come to Judgment with him by Pestilence and Blood; an overflowing Shower too and great Hailstones, Fire and Brimstone, will I rain down upon him, his Troops, and the many People who are with him.

23. Thus will I both magnify and sanctify my self, that I may be known in the Sight of many Nations, which shall know that I am the Lord.

C H A P. XXXIX.

NOW, thou Man, prophesy against Gog saying: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am against thee, Gog, the chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2. Whom I will turn back, hooking thee,

Ver. 9. And thou wilt come up as Wasting comes] This being the Order of the Heb. Words justifies the translating so, especially since the Removal of [and] as in the com. Eng. is quite unjustifiable, and the Accent likewise shews that Wasting belongs to comes; while the Verb. in the 2d Pers. masc. and 3d. fem. is the same: comes also agreeing with מַשִּׁיחַ Wasting, which, though Buxtorf's Lexic has it masc. appears to be fem. not only by the feminine Termination חַ, and by the Accent in the last Syllable called Milrah, Buxt. Thes. Lib. i. Cap. 8. but also by מַשִּׁיחַ a similar Noun from the same Root being fem. nay by this very Noun being so, Psa. xxxv. 8. Prov. iii. 25. Isa. x. 3. & xlvi. 11. where it is joined with the same Verb and Form of it in the 3d Pers. and from whence the Gender only besides here is to be known. In Pool's Annot. it is said, 'The Heb. might be read 'thus, Thou shalt ascend as a Storm, thou shalt come as a Cloud;' but that the Heb. Point does not allow of. As for rendering the Word Storm, it can scarce be pretended to signify so.

and bring thee up from the north Parts, till I have brought thee upon the Mountains of Israel.

3. Where after having struck thy Bow out of thy left Hand, and made thy Arrows fall out of thy right;

4. Thou shalt fall, as likewise all thy Troops, and the People who are with thee: to the ravenous Birds of every Sort, and the wild Beasts, will I deliver thee to be devoured.

5. Out in the Field shalt thou fall: for I speak it, says the Sovereign Lord.

6. Besides I will send Fire on Magog, and those who dwell in the Isles securely; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7. So will I make my holy Name be known among my People Israel, nor let it be profaned any more; and the Gentiles shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel.

8. Behold it is coming, and shall be, says the Sovereign Lord, that Time of which I speak;

9. When they who dwell in the Cities of Israel shall go out, and burn up, setting on fire the Armour, both Shield and Buckler, Bow and Arrows, with Hand-staff and Spear; which they shall make fire with seven Years:

10. Inasmuch that they shall neither carry Wood out of the Field, nor cut it down at the Coppices, because they shall make fire with the Armour; as also spoil those that spoiled them, and plunder those that plundered them, says the Sovereign Lord.

11. At which Time I will give Gog a Burying-place there in Israel, the Valley of Passengers on the east Side of the Sea, whose Noses it shall stop up; where they shall bury Gog and all its Multitude, calling it, The Valley of Gog's Multitude.

12. And the Family of Israel shall be burying them, in order to cleanse the Country, seven Months.

13. Even all the People of the Country shall bury them, for they will have Renown by it; being the Time that I shall be honoured, says the Sovereign Lord.

14. Nay they shall set apart Men that shall pass continually through the Country, burying with the Passengers such as are left on the Surface of the Ground, to cleanse it; who shall search at the End of seven Months.

15. And when any one of the Passengers that go through the Country sees a Man's Bone, he shall erect a Monument by it, till the Buryers have buried it at The Valley of Gog's Multitude.

16. In like manner the Name of the City shall be The Multitude. So shall they cleanse the Country.

17. Moreover, thou Man, thus says the Sovereign Lord: Declare both to the Birds of every Sort, and all the wild Beasts; Get together, and come, gather on every Side to my Sacrifice which I will kill for you, being a great one upon the Mountains of Israel; that you may eat Flesh, and drink Blood.

18. Which shall be the Flesh of stout Men, and the Blood of the Princes of the Earth; like Rams, Lambs and Goats, or Bullocks, all of them the fat ones of Bashan.

19. You shall also eat Fat till you are glutted, and drink Blood till you are drunk, out of my Sacrifice which I have killed for you.

20. Thus shall you be filled at my Table with Horses and those of Chariots, stout Men and all the Warriors, says the Sovereign Lord.

21. I will put my Glory too among the Gentiles; who shall all see my Judgment which I execute, and my Hand which I lay on them.

22. And the Family of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God, from that Time forward.

23. The Gentiles shall likewise know that the Family of Israel were carried away for their Iniquity, because they did amiss against me, so that I hid my Face from them; and delivering them into the Power of their Adversaries, all of them fell by the Sword.

24. Whom I dealt with according to their Uncleaness and Transgressions, when I hid my Face from them.

25. Therefore the Sovereign Lord says thus; I will now bring back the Captives of Jacob, will have mercy on the whole Family of Israel, and be zealous for my holy Name.

28. They will know that I am the Lord their God, by my carrying them away to the Nations, and gathering them to their own Country : none of whom I will leave there any longer.

29. Nor will I hide my Face any longer from them, who am pouring out my Spirit upon the Family of Israel, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XL.

IN the twenty fifth Year of our Captivity, in the Beginning of the Year, on the tenth of the Month, in the fourteenth Year after the City was smitten, on that very Day was the Hand of the Lord upon me, and he brought me thither.

2. In the Visions of God he brought me into the Country of Israel, and placed me on a very high Mountain, by which was as the Frame of a City on the South.

3. Whither having brought me, behold there was a Person whose Appearance was like that of Brass, with a Line of Flax in his Hand, and a measuring Cane ; and he stood at the Gate.

4. The Person also said to me, Man, see with thy Eyes, hear with thy Ears, and take notice of all that I shew thee ; for thou art brought hither in order for me to shew thee : declare all which thou seest to the Family of Israel.

5. And behold there was a Wall at the Outside of the House all round about : in the Person's Hand too was a measuring Cane of six Cubits, by the Cubit and Hands-breadth ; and he measured the Breadth of the Building one Cane, and the Height so much.

6. Next he came to the Gate whose Front was the Way towards the East, and going upon the Stairs of it, he measured the Threshold of the Gate one Cane broad, and the other Threshold the same.

7. A Chamber was likewise one Cane long, and so much broad, and it was five Cubits between the Chambers ; as was the Threshold of the Gate, by the Porch of the Gate at the Inside, one Cane :

8. Moreover he measured the Porch of the Gate at the Inside one Cane.

9. As he did the Porch of the Gate eight Cubits, and the Lintels of it two Cubits ; the Porch of the Gate being on the Inside.

10. And the Chambers of the Gate the Way to the East, were three on one Side, and so many on the other, three of them having one Measure ; the Lintels likewise had one Measure, both on one Side and the other.

11. He further measured the Entrance of the Gate ten, its Length thirteen Cubits.

12. The Bounds also before the Chambers were one Cubit, and the Bounds on one Side the same ; the Chambers too were six Cubits on one, and so many on the other Side.

13. Then he measured the Gate, from the Roof of a Chamber to the Roof of that, twenty five Cubits broad, there being one Door before another.

14. Besides he made Lintels of sixty Cubits, even to the Lintel of the Court all round about the Gate.

15. And before the Gate of the Entry, opposite to the Front of the Porch of the inner Gate, it was fifty Cubits.

16. And there were Windows shut to the Chambers, and to their Lintels, within the Gate all round about, and so to the Porches ; there being Windows all round about within, and on the Lintel Palm-trees.

17. In the next place he brought me to the outer Court, and behold there were Rooms and a Pavement, made to the Court all round about, thirty Rooms on the Pavement.

18. And the Pavement at the Side of the Gates, over against the Length of them, was the lower one.

Ver. 5. six Cubits] each of these being a Cubit and a Hands-breadth long, as the following is to be understood according to Chap. xliii. 13. & xli. 8. and a Cubit being 21,888 inches, as on Gen. vi. 15. with a Hands-breadth, 3,648 by the Authors cited there, this Cane would be 12,768 or 12 Feet and three quarters long.

19. He likewise measured the Breadth from before the lower Gate, to before the inner Court without, a hundred Cubits, eastward and northward.

20. As for the Gate whose Front was the Way to the North, at the outer Court, he measured both the Length and Breadth of it.

21. The Chambers of which were three on one Side and three on the other, and its Lintels and Porches were according to the Measure of the first Gate; the Length of it fifty, and the Breadth twenty five Cubits.

22. Its Windows, Porches and Palm-trees, were also according to the Measure of the Gate whose Front was the Way to the East; and they went up on it by seven Stairs, the Porches of it being before them.

23. The Gate moreover of the inner Court was before this, towards the North and East; and he measured from one Gate to the other a hundred Cubits.

24. Afterwards he took me the Way to the South, which Way behold there was a Gate; and he measured the Lintels and Porches of it, according to those Measures.

25. And there were Windows to it, and to the Porches of it all round about, like those Windows: fifty Cubits was the Length, and the Breadth twenty five.

26. The Ascent of it was also seven Stairs, and the Porches of it were before them; and it had Palm-trees one at one Side, and another at the other, on the Lintels of it.

27. There was besides a Gate to the inner Court the Way to the South; and he measured from one Gate to the other, the Way to the South, a hundred Cubits.

28. He after brought me to the inner Court at the south Gate, and measured that Gate according to those Measures;

29. As likewise its Chambers, Lintels and Porches, according to the same, and there were Windows to it, and to the Porches of it all round about: fifty Cubits was the Length, and the Breadth twenty five.

30. Moreover the Porches all round about, were twenty five Cubits long, and five broad.

31. And the Porches of it were towards the outer Court, there being Palm-trees on its Lintels; and the Ascent of it was eight Stairs.

32. Besides he brought me to the inner Court, the Way to the East, and measured the Gate according to those Measures;

33. As likewise its Chambers, Lintels and Porches, according to the same; and there were Windows to it, and to the Porches of it all round about: the Length was fifty, and the Breadth twenty five Cubits.

34. And the Porches of it were towards the outer Court, there being Palm-trees on its Lintels on both Sides; and the Ascent of it was eight Stairs.

35. Then he brought me to the north Gate, and measured according to those Measures,

36. Its Chambers, Lintels and Porches, with the Windows belonging to it all round about: the Length was fifty, and the Breadth twenty five Cubits.

37. And the Lintels of it were towards the outer Court, there being Palm-trees on its Lintels on both Sides; and the Ascent of it was eight Stairs.

38. There was also a Room, with the Entrance of it, at the Lintels of the Gates; where they washed the Burnt-offering.

39. And in the Porch of the Gate were two Tables on one, and two on the other Side; that the Burnt-offering, Sin-offering, and Trespass-offering might be killed on them.

40. And at the Side without, going up to the Entrance of the north Gate, were two Tables; as there were also at the other Side, which was at the Porch of the Gate.

41. Four Tables were on one, and four on the other Side, at the Side of the Gate: on those eight Tables they killed.

42. And the four Tables for the Burnt-offering were hewn Stones, one Cubit and a half long, so much broad, and one Cubit high: and on those they placed the Instruments, with which they killed the Burnt-offering and Sacrifice.

43. In the House moreover all round about, were Stones of the Hearth of a Hands-breadth put in order; and on the Tables was the Flesh of the Offering.

44. Without the inner Gate too were the Rooms of the Singers, in the inner Court which was at the Side of the north Gate, their Front being the Way to the South; one at the Side of the east Gate, with the Front the Way to the North.

45. And he said to me; This Room whose Front is the Way to the South, is for the Priests that keep the Charge of the House;

46. As is the Room whose Front is the Way to the North, for the Priests that keep the Charge of the Altar: they being the Posterity of Zadok, who come near to the Lord, of the Posterity of Levi, to minister to him.

47. He also measured the Court, a hundred

Ver. 43. Stones of the Hearth] the same as in Psa. lxxviii. 13. and has likely the same Meaning; so Jun. and Trem. with Buxt. Lex. and Concord. have lapides facarii; and Pagn. in his Lexic. expounds it from Dav. Kimbi both in The Book of Rites and Comment. sustentacula ollarum ad ignem in foco, Things to hold up the Pots at the Fire in the Hearth; and the Word denoting two, as being in the dual Number, favours this Interpretation: I suppose the Use might be to boil or parboil some of the Flesh of the Sacrifices. It is rendered in the com. Transl. so widely, as pots in Psa. and here books; but why should there be two of either, especially these?

Cubits long, and so many broad, being square; with the Altar before the House.

48. And bringing me to the Porch of the House, he measured the Lintel of the Porch, five Cubits on one Side, and so many on the other; the Breadth of the Gate being three Cubits on one Side, and as many on the other.

49. The Length of the Porch was twenty, and the Breadth eleven Cubits, even at the Stairs by which they went up to it; and there were Pillars at the Linteis, on one Side, and another on the other.

C H A P XLI.

AFTER that he brought me to the Temple, and measured the Lintels six Cubits broad on one Side, and so many broad on the other, the Breadth of the Tent.

2. And the Breadth of the Door was ten Cubits, as also the Sides of the Door five Cubits on one, and so many on the other Side; he likewise measured the Length of it forty, and the Breadth twenty Cubits.

3. Then he went in, and measured the Lintel of the Door two, the Door six, and the Breadth of it seven Cubits.

4. And having measured its Length twenty Cubits, and the Breadth so many before the Temple, he said to me, This is the very holy Place.

5. Next he measured the Wall of the House six, and the Breadth of the Side-room four Cubits, all round about the House on every Side.

6. Now the Side-rooms one on another were three, being thirty Feet, and went into a Wall which was at the House, for the Side-rooms all round about to be held; yet they were not held in the Wall of the House.

7. There was also an enlarging, and turning about still upward, to the Side-rooms; for it was made round the House still upward, all round about it; therefore the Breadth to the House was upward: and so the lowest went up against the highest at the middle.

8. I saw moreover at the House the Height all round about: the Foundations of the Side-rooms were a full Cane of six Cubits to the Wing.

9. The Breadth of the Wall which belonged to the Side-room without was five Cubits, and what was left was the Place of the Side-rooms which were at the House.

10. And between the Rooms was the Breadth of twenty Cubits, on every Side of the House all round about.

11. The Door of a Side-room being at what was left, one Door the Way to the North, and another Door to the South; and the Breadth of the Place that was left was five Cubits all round about.

12. And the Building which was before the Partition, at the Side in the Way to the West, was seventy Cubits broad, the Wall of the Building five Cubits thick all round about, and the Length of it ninety Cubits.

13. He further measured the House, a hundred Cubits long, with the Partition; and the Building, with the Walls of it, so many long;

14. As likewise the Breadth of the Front of the House, with the Partition towards the East, a hundred Cubits.

15. And he measured the Length of the Building, before the Partition which was behind it, with its Galleries on both Sides, a hundred Cubits; as also the inner Temple, and the Porches of the Court;

16. The Thresholds, the Windows that were shut, and the Galleries round about at their three Stories, before the Threshold which was cieled with Wood all round about; nay the

It may be fit to mention somewhere, how the Authors who finished Peale's Annotations (which he himself carried on no farther than Isaiah) speak of Things to little or no Purpose and Satisfaction, and with wretched Pedantry; since that Work is such a frequent Resource for English Readers to understand the Scripture: of which let two Notes on this Verse be Instances, viz. The learned Men dispute the Position of the Length, whether from East to West, or from North to South, express Word determines the Dimensions of this Length and Breadth; and on the Word steps there is, Eight say some, others eleven, and some say ten, others say twelve, but most say eight.

Ver. 1. Temple] The following Dimensions of this are thought by Villalpandus, Grotius, and others to agree with the former Temple that Solomon built, and particularly applied to it by Sir Isaac Newton, Chron. of ant. King. am. Chap. v. but strongly opposed in the Universal History, Book I. Chap. vii. Sect. 7. under Pretence that the Measures did not agree; of which though the pretended Proof may be set aside, as on Chap. xlii. 16. yet as the Temple built on the Return from the Captivity was different from Solomon's, Ezr. iii. 12. so might the Buildings and Courts made afterwards, which seem to be here especially described. Thus it might be Matter of Comfort to the Jews in Captivity, and help to preserve them from Idolatry, to understand such a Temple should be built, according to Chap. xliii. 7. 11. and that it was future also see Ch. xliii. 18. & xlv. 1, 2, &c.

Ground

Ground to the Windows, and the Windows that were covered ;

17. To above the Door, as far as the inner House and abroad, and to the whole Wall all round about, within and without by Measure.

18. And it was made with Cherubs, and Palm-trees ; so that a Palm-tree was between one Cherub and another, a Cherub having two Faces.

19. Thus there was the Face of a Man towards a Palm-tree on one Side, and the Face of a young Lion towards a Palm-tree on the other Side ; made on the whole House all round about.

20. From the Ground to above the Door, were Cherubs and Palm-trees made, and on the Wall of the Temple.

21. The Temple was with square Posts, and the Front of the holy Place with an Appearance like that.

22. The wooden Altar was three Cubits high, and the Length of it two Cubits ; its Corners that it had, its Length and Walls, were also Wood : and he said to me, This is the Table which is before the Lord.

23. Both the Temple and holy Place had two Doors,

24. And the Doors had two Leaves, such as were turned about, one Door had two, and the other two Leaves.

25. On which Doors of the Temple were made Cherubs and Palm-trees, as were made on the Walls ; and there was a wooden Beam on the Front of the Porch without.

26. There were also Windows that were shut, and Palm-trees, on both Sides, at the Sides of the Porch, the Side-rooms of the House, and the Beams.

CHAP. XLII.

THEN he took me forth to the outer Court, the Way which is that to the North, and brought me to the Room which was both before the Partition, and the Building towards the North.

2. At the Front a hundred Cubits long was the north Door, the Breadth being fifty Cubits.

3. Before the twenty which were for the inner Court, and before the Pavement which was for the outer Court, there was one Gallery at the Front of another in three Stories.

4. And before the Rooms was a Walk ten

Cubits broad inward, a Way one Cubit ; with their Gates to the North.

5. But the uppermost Rooms were the shortest : for the Galleries were higher than those that were the lowest, and the middlemost of the Building.

6. For they were three Stories, but they had not Pillars like those of the Courts ; therefore it was narrower than the lowest, and the middlemost from the Ground.

7. As for the Fence which was without over against the Rooms, the Way to the outer Court, at the Front of the Rooms, the Length of it was fifty Cubits.

8. For the Length of the Rooms which were at the outer Court was fifty Cubits, and before the Temple it was a hundred Cubits.

9. Now from under these Rooms was the Entrance on the East, going into them from the outer Court.

10. In the Thickness of the Fence of the Court the Way to the East, at the Front of the Partition, and at the Front of the Building, were the Rooms.

11. And the Way before them was like the Appearance of the Rooms, which were the Way to the North, according to their Length, and so to their Breadth ; nay all their goings out were both according to their Manners and Doors.

12. According to the Doors likewise of the Rooms which were the Way to the South, there was a Door at the Top of the Way, that which was directly in the Front of the Fence, the Way to the East at the going into them.

13. And he said to me ; The north and south Rooms which are at the Front of the Partition, they are holy Rooms, where the Priests who go near to the Lord shall eat the very holy Things : there shall they lay up the very holy Things, the Meat-offering, Sin-offering and Trespass-offering ; for Place is holy.

14. When the Priests go into them, they shall not come out of the holy Place to the outer Court, but shall lay up their Garments there which they minister with, because they are holy ; and shall put on other Garments, and go near to what belongs to the People.

15. Thus having finished the Measures of the inner House, he had me forth the Way to the Gate whose Front was the Way to the East, and measured it all round about.

16. He measured the east Quarter with a measuring Cane, five hundred Cubits by the

Ver. 16. Cubits] being the same as in Chap. xlv. 2. as likewise agreeable to Chap. xl. 23, 27. & xli. 13, 14, 15. & xlvii. 3, 4, 5. and thus translated by Cass. with Jun. and Trem. as also thus explained by Camp. Vitrings in his Dutch Treatise Den Tempel Ezekiels. To make them Reeds, and suppose with Villalpandus, that the Measure counted to each Side was quite round, and the same measured four times over, beginning at the several Sides, is an Absurdity too incredible ; and yet better than to imagine with the Universal Historians, and others, that the the Canes, with the measuring Cane round about.

17. He measured the north Quarter, five hundred by the Canes, with the measuring Cane round about.

18. The south Quarter he measured, five hundred by the Canes, with the measuring Cane.

19. Turning about to the west Quarter, he measured five hundred by the Canes, with the same.

20. At the four Quarters he measured it, there being a Wall to it all round about, five hundred long and so many broad; to make a separation between the holy and common Place.

C H A P. XLIII.

AFTERWARDS he took me to the Gate, that which looked the Way to the East.

2. And behold the Glory of the God of Israel came from the Way of the East; the Noise of whom was like that of much Water, and the Earth shined by his Glory.

3. And there was like the Appearance of the Vision which I saw, like the Appearance which I saw when I came to destroy the City; even the Appearances were like that which I saw at the River Chebar: with this I fell on my Face.

4. Then the Glory of the Lord came into the House, the Way of the Gate whose Front was the Way to the East.

5. The Spirit also taking me up, brought me to the inner Court, and behold the Glory of the Lord filled the House.

6. Moreover I heard him speak to me out of the House, as the Man was standing by me.

7. And he said to me: Man, this is the Place of my Throne, and the Place of the Soles of my Feet, where I will dwell among the Israelites for ever, and the Family of Israel, or their Kings, shall no more defile my holy Name by their Whoredom, or by the Corpses of their Kings at their Chapels,

8. By their putting their Threshold with mine, their Post by mine, and a Wall between me and them; and as they defiled my holy Name by their Abominations which they did, I consumed them in my Anger.

9. Now let them remove their Whoredom, and the Corpses of their Kings far from me; and I will dwell among them for ever.

10. Thou Man, tell the Family of Israel concerning the House, that they may be ashamed of their Iniquities; and let them measure the Shape.

11. And if they are ashamed of all which they have done, let them know the Form of the House, its Order, goings out and comings in, nay all its Forms, and all the Ordinances of it, as well as all its Forms, with all the Laws of it, and write them in their Sight; then let them observe the whole Form, with all the Ordinances of it, and do them.

12. This is the Law of the House: upon the Top of the Mountain the whole Bounds of it all round about shall be very holy; behold this is the Law of the House.

13. And these are the Measures of the Altar by Cubits, each a Cubit and a Hands-breadth: the Step being a Cubit, and the Breadth a Cubit, as also its Border at the Edge of it round about one Span; and this is the Brow of the Altar.

14. Besides from the Step at the Ground to the lower Water-table is two Cubits, and the Breadth one; and from the lesser Water-table to the greater is four, and the Breadth a Cubit.

15. So Harel is four Cubits, and from Ariel upwards are four Horns.

16. Ariel likewise is twelve long, so many broad; square at the four Quarters of it.

17. And the Water-table is fourteen long, so many broad, at the four Quarters of it; with the Border round about it half a Cubit, and a Step to it a Cubit round about, the Stairs of it looking to the East.

18. He said to me further: Man, thus says the Sovereign Lord; These shall be the Ordinances of the Altar on the Day it is made, to offer up Burnt-offerings upon it, and sprinkle Blood upon it.

19. And thou shalt give to the Priests the such a Temple never existed but in the Revelation made to Ezekiel; since as Lightfoot owns, the Temple was so bigger than all Jerusalem, and the City (by that Measure of Reeds) bigger than all the Land of Canaan, Harm of Old Test.

1b. round about] this shews as if the Wall was not straight or square, Ver. 20.

Ver. 11. as well as] which may account for the Repetition of Forms.

Ver. 14. Water-table] which stands out further than the rest of the Wall, and thus called in Architecture; whereas a settle is a Seat to sit in.

Ver. 15. Ariel] as Isa. xxix. 1, 2, 7. and it is plain this and Harel (as the Heb. Names are) were different Parts of the Altar, one four the other twelve Cubits, Ver. 16. as Castellus observes in his Lexicon: thus Munst. with Jun. and Trem. have the Words in their Translations; as Mont. has their Significations, viz. of Harel, the Mount of God, of Ariel, the Lion of God. The first of which appears to be the Side of the Altar between the two Water-tables, Ver. 14. and the latter the flat Top of the Altar where the Sacrifices lay to be burnt; the first might be so called from its Ascent, or Resemblance to Mount Zion, and the other from its devouring the Offerings.

Levites, those who are of the Offspring of Zadok, that come near to me, says the Sovereign Lord, to minister to me, a young Bullock of the Herd for a Sin-offering.

20. Some of whose Blood thou shalt take, and put upon the four Horns of it, as likewise on the four Corners of the Water-table, and on the Border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and purge it.

21. Thou shalt also take the Bullock of the Sin-offering, and burn it in the appointed Place of the House, without the Sanctuary.

22. And on the second Day thou shalt bring near a perfect Kid of the Goats, for a Sin-offering; and they shall cleanse the Altar, as they cleansed with the Bullock.

23. When thou hast made an end of cleansing, thou shalt bring near a perfect young Bullock of the Herd, and a perfect Ram from the Flock.

24. Which thou having brought near before the Lord, the Priests shall throw Salt upon them, and offer them up a Burnt-offering to the Lord.

25. Seven Days shalt thou make ready a Kid for a Sin-offering each Day; a young Bullock of the Herd and a Ram from the Flock that are perfect, they shall likewise make ready.

26. Seven Days shalt thou purge the Altar, and make it clean; as also fill their Hands.

27. And when they have finished the Days, on the eighth Day and forward, the Priests shall make your Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings upon the Altar, and I will accept you, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XLIV.

NEXT he took me back the Way to the Gate of the outer Sanctuary, that looks to the East, and it was shut.

2. And the Lord said to me; This Gate shall be shut, not open, and no Man shall go in at it, because the Lord God of Israel has gone in at it; so it shall be shut.

3. It is for the Prince, he himself shall sit at it, to eat Bread before the Lord: he shall go in by the Way of the Porch of the Gate, and go out by the Way of it.

4. He also brought me the Way to the north Gate, at the Front of the House; and as I looked, behold the Glory of the Lord filled the Lord's House: at which I fell on my Face.

5. Then the Lord said to me: Man, take notice, see with thy Eyes, and hear with thy Ears all that I speak to thee, concerning all the Ordinances of the Lord's House, and all the Laws of it: and take notice of the Entrance of the House, among all the goings out of the Sanctuary.

6. And thou shalt declare to the rebellious Family of Israel: Thus says the Sovereign Lord; Let it be enough for you of all your Abominations, O Family of Israel;

7. By your bringing the Sons of Strangers, both of uncircumcised Heart and Flesh, to be in my Sanctuary, to profane my House itself; by your bringing near my Bread, the Fat and Blood, so that they have broke my Covenant with all your Abominations.

8. Whereas you have not kept the Charge of my holy Things; but put Keepers of my Charge, in my Sanctuary, for your selves.

9. Thus says the Sovereign Lord: There shall not any Son of a Stranger, both of uncircumcised Heart and Flesh, come into my Sanctuary, even any Son of a Stranger who is among the Israelites.

10. But the Levites who went far off from me, when Israel went astray, which they did from me after their filthy Idols, shall suffer for their Iniquity.

11. Yet they shall minister in my Sanctuary, be appointed for the Gates of the House, and minister at it, they shall kill the Burnt-offering and Sacrifice for the People, before whom they shall stand to minister for them.

12. Because they ministered for them before their filthy Idols, and were a Stumbling-block of Iniquity to the Family of Israel; therefore I have lifted up my Hand against them, says the Sovereign Lord, and they shall suffer for their Iniquity.

13. And they shall not come nigh me, to execute the Priesthood to me, or to come nigh any of my holy Things belonging to the very holy Places; but shall suffer for their Shame and Abominations, which they have done.

14. However I will make them Keepers of the Charge of the House, for all the Service of it, and for all that shall be done in it.

15. As for the Priests the Levites, the Posterity of Zadok, who kept the Charge of my Sanctuary, when the Israelites went astray from me, they shall come near me, to minister to me; and shall stand before me, to bring near to me the Fat and Blood, says the Sovereign Lord.

16. They shall enter into my Sanctuary, and they shall come near my Table, to minister to me; as also keep my Charge.

Ver. 15. bring near] the same Verb as here rendered come near in another Conjugation, which makes such a Difference. The like in other Places.

17. And when they go in at the Gates of the inner Court, they shall put on linen Garments; and no Wool shall come upon them, when they minister by the Gates of the inner Court, and at the House.

18. There shall be linen Tires upon their Heads, as there shall linen Drawers upon their Loins; they shall not be girded to have Sweat.

19. When they go forth also to the outer Court, to the People there, they shall pull off their Garments in which they ministered, and lay them up in the holy Rooms; putting on other Garments, and shall not consecrate the People in their Garments.

20. They shall neither shave their Heads, nor let the Hair grow long; they shall only cut the Hair of their Heads.

21. Nor shall any Priest drink Wine, when they go into the inner Court.

22. Nor shall they take them for Wives, a Widow, or one divorced; but shall take Virgins of the Offspring of the Family of Israel, or a Widow who is the Widow of a Priest.

23. And they shall teach my People the Difference of holy and common, as likewise let them know the Difference of unclean and clean.

24. In Controversy too they shall stand for Judgment, judging it by my Judgments; and shall keep my Laws and Ordinances in all my solemn Assemblies, and consecrate my Sabbaths.

25. And they shall not come to a dead Person to be unclean; but for a Father, or Mother, or Son, or Daughter, for a Brother, or a Sister who has not had a Husband, they may be unclean.

26. Moreover after he is cleansed, they shall count seven Days for him.

27. Besides on the Day he goes into the holy Place, into the inner Court, to minister in the holy Place, he shall bring near his Sin-offering, says the Sovereign Lord.

28. And they shall have for a Possession me their Possession; so you shall give them no Inheritance in Israel, I being their Inheritance.

29. The Meat-offering, Sin-offering and Trespas-offering, shall they eat; and every devoted Thing in Israel shall be theirs.

30. The first also of all the First-fruits of every Thing, and every Offering, any of all your Offerings, shall be for the Priests; nay you shall give the Priest the first of your Dough, to make a Blessing rest at thy House.

31. The Priests shall not eat any Carcase, or what is torn, whether of Fowl or Beast.

C H A P. XLV.

AND when you part the Land by lot for Possession, you shall offer up a holy Offering of the Land to the Lord, the Length twenty five thousand Cubits long, and the Breadth ten thousand; which shall be holy in the whole Bounds of it round about.

2. Of this there shall be for the holy Place five hundred, by five hundred square round about; and fifty Cubits the Suburb to it round about.

3. And of this Measure shalt thou measure the Length twenty five thousand, and Breadth ten thousand; within which shall be the Sanctuary, the very holy Place.

4. The holy Part of the Land shall be for the Priests, the Ministers of the Sanctuary, who come near to minister to the Lord; being a Place to them for Houses, and a holy Place for a Sanctuary.

5. Twenty five thousand long and ten thousand broad, shall likewise be for the Levites themselves, the Ministers of the House, for an Inheritance to twenty Rooms.

6. You shall also put the Inheritance of the City five thousand broad, and twenty five thousand long, over against the holy Offering: it shall be for the whole Family of Israel.

7. And it shall be for the Prince on both Sides of the holy Offering, and of the Inheritance of the City, at the Front both of the holy Offering and the Inheritance of the City, on the west Side westward, and on the east Side eastward; the Length being over against one of the Parts; from the west Border to the east Border,

8. It shall be his Inheritance of Land in Israel; and my Princes shall no more oppress my People, but give the Land to the Family of Israel according to their Tribes.

9. Thus says the Sovereign Lord, Let it be enough for you, O Princes of Israel, put

Ver. 1. a holy Offering of the Land] as Chap. xlviii. 8, 9, 10, 12, 20. the Heb. has not portion, any more than in Ver. 4, 6, 7.

away Injury and Wasting, as also execute Judgment and Justice; take off your drivings out from my People, says the Sovereign Lord.

10. You shall have just Ballances, a just Ephah, and a just Bath.

11. The Ephah and Bath shall be the same Quantity, for the Bath to hold the tenth Part of a Homer; and the Ephah the tenth of a Homer, the Form of it being according to a Homer.

12. And the Shekel shall be twenty Gerahs; twenty Shekels, twenty five Shekels, fifteen Shekels shall be the Maneh for you.

13. This is the Offering which you shall offer up; the sixth Part of an Ephah out of a Homer of Wheat, as you shall likewise the sixth Part of an Ephah out of a Homer of Barley.

14. And the Ordinance for Oil, for a Bath of it; shall be the tenth Part of a Bath out of a Cor, being a Homer of ten Baths: for ten Baths are a Homer.

15. There shall further be one Sheep out of the Flock, of two hundred, out of a watered Place of Israel, for a Meat-offering, Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings: to make atonement for them, says the Sovereign Lord.

16. All the People of the Country shall belong to this Offering, with the Prince in Israel.

17. And upon the Prince shall be the Burnt-offerings, Meat-offering and Drink-offering, on the Feasts, New-moons, and Sabbaths, on all the appointed Times of the Family of Israel; he shall prepare the Sin-offering, Meat-offering, Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings, to make atonement for the Family of Israel.

18. Thus says the Sovereign Lord: On the first of the first Month, thou shalt take a perfect young Bullock of the Herd, and cleanse the Sanctuary.

19. For the Priest shall take some of the Blood of the Sin-offering, and put on the Posts of the House, on the four Corners of the Water-table belonging to the Altar, and upon the Posts of the Gate of the inner Court.

20. Thou shalt do so moreover on the seventh of the Month, by reason of a Person who errs, or has been silly: thus shall you purge the House.

21. On the fourteenth Day of the first Month you shall have the Passover, a Feast of seven Days, eating unleavened Cakes.

22. And on that Day the Prince shall prepare for himself, and for all the People of the Country, a Bullock for a Sin-offering.

23. Nay on the seven Days of the Feast he shall prepare a Burnt-offering to the Lord, seven Bulls and so many Rams that are perfect, daily the seven Days; as also a Sin-offering, a Kid of the Goats daily.

24. Besides he shall prepare a Meat-offering of an Ephah to a Bullock, and an Ephah to a Ram, with a Hin of Oil to an Ephah.

25. On the fifteenth Day of the seventh Month, in the Feast, shall he prepare such as these seven Days; according to the Sin-offering, Burnt-offering, and Meat-offering, with the Oil.

C H A P. XLVI.

THUS says the Sovereign Lord: The Gate of the inner Court that looks eastward, shall be shut the six working Days; but on the Sabbath-day it shall be open, as it shall on the Day of the New-moon.

2. And the Prince shall enter in the Way of the Porch at the Gate without, and standing by the Post of the Gate, the Priests shall prepare his Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings, when having worshipped by the Threshold of the Gate, he shall go forth; but the Gate shall not be shut till the Evening.

3. The People of the Country shall likewise worship at the Entrance of that Gate, on the Sabbaths and New-moons, before the Lord.

4. Now the Burnt-offering which the Prince shall bring near to the Lord on the Sabbath-day, shall be six perfect Lambs, and a perfect Ram.

5. There shall also be a Meat-offering of an Ephah to the Ram, and to the Lambs a Meat-offering, the Gift of his Hand; with a Hin of Oil to the Ephah.

6. On the Day of the New-moon too, it shall be a perfect young Bullock of the Herd of those that are perfect, with six Lambs and a Ram that are perfect.

7. He shall besides prepare a Meat-offering, an Ephah to the Bullock, an Ephah to the Ram, and to the Lambs according as he can get; with a Hin of Oil to an Ephah.

8. And when the Prince enters, he shall go in the Way of the Porch at the Gate, as likewise go forth by the Way of it.

9. Whereas when the People of the

Ver. 16. with the Prince] Thus Trem. and Jun. translate, and Lowth expounds.

Country enter before the Lord, on the appointed Times, he who goes in the Way of the north Gate to worship, shall go out the Way of the south Gate, and he who goes in the Way of the south Gate, shall go out the Way of the north Gate: he shall not return the Way of the Gate by which he goes in, but go forth over against it.

10. Moreover the Prince shall go in among them, when they do; and go forth, when they do.

11. And on the Feasts and appointed Times, there shall be a Meat-offering of an Ephah to a Bullock, an Ephah to a Ram, and to the Lambs the Gift of his Hand; with a Hin of Oil to the Ephah.

12. And when the Prince shall prepare a free Burnt-offering, or Peace-offerings freely to the Lord, the Gate that looks eastward shall be opened for him, who shall prepare his Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings, as he did on the Sabbath-day; then shall he go forth, and after he is gone out, the Gate shall be shut.

13. Thou shalt prepare a Burnt-offering to the Lord daily, a perfect Lamb in his first Year; doing it Morning by Morning.

14. For which thou shalt prepare a Meat-offering Morning by Morning, the sixth Part of an Ephah; and the third Part of a Hin of Oil, to sprinkle on the fine Flour: a continual Meat-offering to the Lord by lasting Ordinances.

15. So shall they prepare the Lamb, the Meat-offering and Oil, Morning by Morning, a continual Burnt-offering.

16. Thus says the Sovereign Lord; When the Prince gives a Gift to any of his Sons, the Possession of it his Sons shall have, their Inheritance by Possession.

17. On the contrary when he gives a Gift of his Possession to one of his Servants, it shall be his to the Year of Liberty, when it shall return to the Prince; but his Possession for his Sons they shall have.

18. And the Prince shall not take any of the People's Possession, to put them by Oppression out of their Inheritance, he shall give his Sons possession out of his own Inheritance; to the end that my People may not be dispersed from their respective Inheritances.

19. He after that brought me through the Entry which was at the Side of the Gate, into the holy Rooms belonging to the Priests, that looked northward; and behold a Place was there on the two Sides westward.

20. Then he said to me, This is the Place where the Priests shall boil the Trespass-offering, and Sin-offering; in which they shall bake the Meat-offering, that they may not carry it out to the outer Court, to consecrate the People.

21. Next he took me forth to the outer Court, and made me pass by the four Corners of it; and behold there was a Court in each Corner of the Court.

22. In the four Corners of the Court were Courts with Chimnies, forty Cubits long, and thirty broad; these four Angles having the same Measure.

23. And there was a Row round about in them, round about the four of them; with Boiling-places made under the Rows round about.

24. He said to me further, These are a House for them who boil, where the Ministers of the House shall boil the Sacrifice of the People.

C H A P. XLVII.

AFTER this he took me back to the Door of the House, and behold Water came out from under the Threshold of the House eastward, for the Front of the House was eastward; and the Water ran down from under the right Side of the House, from the South-side of the Altar.

2. In the next place he took me out the Way to the north Gate, and round about the Way without, to the outer Gate the Way that looks eastward; and behold there flowed Water from the right Side.

3. When the Man in whose Hand the Line was went forth eastward, he also measured a thousand Cubits, and made me go into the Water, which was to the Ancles.

4. Again he measured a thousand, and made me go into the Water, which was to the Knees; then he measured a thousand, and made me go into the Water to the Loins.

5. Lastly measuring a thousand, it was a River that I could not go in: for the Water was high, which must be swum in, a River that might not be passed.

6. And having said to me, Dost thou see, Man? he took me back again to the Bank of the River.

Ver. 16. a Gift] Lat. donum, but in the Bible of Pope Sixtus V. donum, a House.

Ver. 22. with Chimnies] So Jun. and Trem. have caminata; the Tig. Vers. and Cast. fumosa, smoky; the Verb it comes from signifying to burn incense; and this also appears by the following Account: for to what Purpose is it that the same Verb denotes sometimes in Chald. to bind or tie, since it cannot have that Meaning here, and to be joynted is a different one.

7. When I was returned, behold at the Bank of the River were also very many Trees on both Sides.

8. And he told me; This Water goes out to the east Border, and down to the Desert; so it enters the Sea, at which it goes forth, and the Water is healed.

9. Nay every living Creature that moves, whithersoever both the Rivers come, will live, and there will be very many Fish: because the Water comes thither, they will not only be healed, but every Thing will live whither the River comes.

10. And there will stand Fishers upon it, from En-gedi to En-eglaim, being Places to spread Nets; whose Fish will be of each Kind, like the Fish of the great Sea very many.

11. The mirey Places of it, and its Lakes, will however not be healed, they will be given to Salt.

12. And by the River will come up, on the Bank of it at both Sides, all Trees of Food, whose Leaf will not wither, nor the Fruit of it be consumed, bearing First-fruits according to their Months; because the very Water of it comes out from the Sanctuary: nay the Fruit of it will not only be for Food, but its Leaf for Medicine.

13. Thus says the Sovereign Lord: This is the Bounds by which you shall possess the Country according to the twelve Tribes of Israel, Joseph two Parcels;

14. Which you shall possess one Person as well as another, for which I lifted up my Hand to give it to your Forefathers; as this Country shall fall to you for a Possession:

15. Even this is the Bounds of the Country; at the north Side from the great Sea, the Way to Hethlon, going to Zedad;

16. Hamath, Berothah, Sibram, which is between the Bounds of Damascus and that of Hamath; Hazer-hatticon, which is at the Bounds of Hauran.

17. And the Bounds from the Sea shall be Hazar-enon, the Bounds of Damascus, even on the North northward, and the Bounds of Hamath; being the north Side.

18. On the east Side also you shall measure from between Hauran, Damascus, Gilead, and the Country of Israel at Jordan, from the Bounds at the east Sea; being the east Side.

19. And the south Side southward shall be from Tamar to the Water of Meriboth at Kadesh, to the River at the great Sea; being the southern Side southwards.

20. Moreover the west Side shall be the great Sea, from the Bounds to over against the going in to Hamath: this shall be the west Side.

21. So shall ye divide this Country to you, according to the Tribes of Israel.

22. Ye shall part it too by lot for Possession to you, and the Strangers that sojourn among you, who beget Children among you; and they shall be to you as Natives of the Israelites, they shall cast lots for Possession with you among the Tribes of Israel.

23. And in the Tribe wherein a Stranger sojourns, there shall ye give his Possession, says the Sovereign Lord.

C H A P. XLVIII.

NOW these are the Names of the Tribes: from the north End to the Border the Way to Hethlon, going to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the Bounds of Damascus northward to the Border of Hamath, being the Sides to it east and west, there shall be one of Dan;

2. And by the Bounds of Dan, from the east Side to the west Side, another of Asher;

3. As also by the Bounds of Asher, from the east Side even to the west Side, another of Naphtali;

4. By the Bounds likewise of Naphtali, from the east Side to the west Side, another of Manasseh;

5. And by the Bounds of Manasseh, from the east Side to the west Side, another of Ephraim;

6. Moreover by the Bounds of Ephraim, from the east Side even to the west Side, another of Reuben;

7. By the Bounds too of Reuben, from the east Side to the west Side, another of Judah;

8. And by the Bounds of Judah, from the east Side to the west Side, shall be the Offering which you shall offer up, of twenty-five thousand Cubits broad, and as long as one of the Parts, from the east Side to the west Side, and the Sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9. The Offering which you shall offer up to the Lord, shall be twenty-five thousand long, and ten thousand broad.

10. And those who are Priests shall have the holy Offering, northward twenty-five thousand, westward ten thousand broad, eastward ten thousand broad; southward twenty five thousand long; and the Sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst of it.

11. It shall be for the Priests, that are consecrated of the Posterity of Zadok, who have kept my Charge, who have not gone astray when the Israelites did, as the Levites went astray.

12. And what is offered up of the Offering of the Land shall be very holy to them, at the Bounds of the Levites.

13. Over against the Bounds of the Priests, shall the Levites also have twenty five thousand long, and ten thousand broad: the whole Length shall be twenty five thousand, and the Breadth ten thousand.

14. They shall neither any sell of it, change, nor transfer the First-fruits of the Land: for it is holy to the Lord.

15. And the five thousand that are left of the Breadth, before the twenty five thousand, shall be common for the City, for Dwelling and Suburbs; and the City shall be in the midst of it.

16. The Measures of which shall be these, the north Side four thousand and five hundred, the south Side four thousand and five hundred, on the east Side four thousand and five hundred, and the west Side four thousand and five hundred.

17. Besides the Suburbs to the City shall be northward two hundred and fifty, southward two hundred and fifty, eastward two hundred and fifty, and westward two hundred and fifty.

18. And what is left of the Length over against the holy Offering, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward, which being over against the holy Offering, the Crop of it shall be for Bread to those who serve the City.

19. Such moreover as serve the City, shall do it out of all the Tribes of Israel.

20. The whole Offering shall be twenty five thousand by twenty five thousand: you shall offer up the holy Offering square, at the Inheritance of the City.

21. What is left too shall be for the Prince, on both Sides the holy Offering, and the Inheritance of the City, at the Front of the twenty five thousand of the Offering to the east Bounds, and westward before the twenty five thousand by the west Bounds, over against the Parts for the Prince; which shall be a holy Offering, and the Sanctuary of the House shall be in the midst of it.

22. Nay from the Inheritance of the Levites, and that of the City, in the midst of what belongs to the Prince, between the Bounds of Judah and that of Benjamin, it shall be for the Prince.

23. As for the rest of the Tribes, from the east Side to the west Side; there shall be one of Benjamin;

24. And by the Bounds of Benjamin, from the east Side to the west Side; another of Simeon;

25. As also by the Bounds of Simeon, from the east Side to the west Side; another of Issachar;

26. By the Bounds likewise of Issachar, from the east Side to the west Side, another of Zebulun;

27. Moreover by the Bounds of Zebulun, from the east Side to the west Side; another of Gad;

28. And by the Bounds of Gad; at the south Side southward, the Bounds shall also be from Tamar, to the Water of Meribah at Kadesh, to the River by the great Sea.

29. This is the Country which you shall part by lot out of the Possession for the Tribes of Israel, and these are their Partitions, says the Sovereign Lord.

30. These are further the goings out of the City: on the north Side shall the Measure be four thousand and five hundred Cubits.

31. And the Gates of the City shall be by the Names of the Tribes of Israel, three Gates northward; one Gate of Reuben; another of Judah; the other of Levi.

32. At the east Side too shall be four thousand and five hundred; with three Gates; namely one Gate of Joseph, another of Benjamin, the other of Dan.

33. And the Measure of the south Side shall be four thousand and five hundred, with three Gates; one Gate of Simeon, another of Issachar, the other of Zebulun:

34. Of the west Side four thousand and five hundred; their Gates three: one Gate of Gad, another of Asher, the other of Naphtali.

35. Round about it shall be eighteen thousand; and the Name of the City from that Time shall be The Lord is there.

NOTES upon the BOOK of DANIEL.

CHAP. I.

IN the third Year of the Reign of Jehoiakim King of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and laid siege against it.

2. Into whose Power the Lord delivered Jehoiakim King of Judah, and Part of the Instruments of God's House; which Instruments he brought to the Country of Shinar, into the House of his own god, even into the Treasury there.

3. And the King ordered Ashpenaz the Master of the Eunuchs to bring some of the Israelites, both of the royal Family and of the Nobility;

4. Youths in whom there was no Blemish at all, but were of a good Countenance, expert in all Wisdom, acquainted with Knowledge, understanding Science, and in whom was Ability to attend in the King's Palace; that they might be taught as well the Learning as Language of the Chaldeans.

5. For those the King appointed each Day's Allowance the very same Day, of a Piece of his own Meat, and of the Wine which he drank, that they might be bred up three Years; at the Conclusion of which they should attend in the King's Presence.

6. And there were among them, of the Posterity of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Misrael and Azariah.

7. On whom the Prince of the Eunuchs put Names: on Daniel, Belteshazzar; on Hananiah, Shadrach; on Misrael, Meshach; and on Azariah, Abed-nego.

8. But Daniel being resolved in his Mind, that he would not pollute himself with the Piece of the King's Meat, and the Wine which he drank, requested of the Prince of the Eunuchs that he might not;

9. Before whom God had caused Daniel to have Kindness and Compassion.

10. And the Prince of the Eunuchs said to him, I am afraid of my Lord the King, who has appointed your Food and Drink; because why should he see your Faces worse than the Youths who are in the like Condition with your selves, and you make me forfeit my Head to the King?

11. Upon this Daniel said to Melzar, whom the Prince of the Eunuchs had set over himself, Hananiah, Misrael and Azariah,

12. Deign to try thy Servants ten Days; and let them give us some Pulse to eat, and Water to drink.

13. Then let our Countenances be looked on before thee, with those of the Youths who eat the Piece of the King's Meat, and deal with thy Servants according to what thou seest.

14. And he hearkened to them for this Matter, trying them ten Days.

15. At the Conclusion of which their Countenances looked better, and fatter in Flesh, than any of the Youths who eat the Piece of the King's Meat.

16. So Melzar took away their Piece of Meat, and the Wine which they were to drink, and gave them Pulse.

17. As for these four Youths, God gave them Knowledge, and Skill in all Learning and Wisdom; besides Daniel had Understanding in all Visions and Dreams.

18. Now at the Conclusion of the Days when the King had commanded to bring them in, the Prince of the Eunuchs brought them in accordingly before Nebuchadnezzar.

19. Who talking with them, there was none of them found like Daniel, Hananiah, Misrael and Azariah; so they attended in the King's Presence.

20. Nay whatever Matter of Wisdom or Understanding the King enquired of them, he found them tenfold above all the Magicians and Astrologers, who were in his whole Kingdom.

21. And Daniel continued till the first Year of King Cyrus.

CHAP. II.

AND in the second Year of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, he himself dreamed Dreams, so that his Mind was disturbed, and his Sleep was over with him.

Tit. Daniel] Our last Translators have here The Book of, but not to the following Prophets, for no Reason that I know of, but because they are less; and the Prophet to the foregoing, as being bigger: if such are any Reasons.

Ver. 4. Chaldeans] Of the Chaldeans Diodorus relates, Lib. ii. 3. that they employ their whole Time in Philosophy and Divination, to which they are trained up from their Childhood.

Ver. 1. was ever] as translated accomplished in the com. Bib. Pro. xiii. 19. and being the Passive of was; with no Signification of brake, nor the Preposit. from.

2. The King therefore commanded to call the Magicians, Astrologers, Wizards and Chaldeans, to tell him his Dreams : who being come, and standing before the King,

3. He said to them, I have dreamed a Dream, which my Mind has been disturbed to know.

4. To whom the Chaldeans spoke in Syriack, O King, live for ever ; declare the Dream to thy Servants, and we will tell the Meaning.

5. But the King made this Answer to the Chaldeans ; The Matter is gone from me : if ye do not make known to me the Dream and the Meaning of it, ye shall be cut into Pieces, and your Houses made a Dunghil ;

6. And if you tell them both, you shall receive from me Gifts, Rewards, and great Honour : therefore tell me the Dream and its Meaning.

7. They answered again, that the King should declare the Dream to his Servants, and they would tell the Meaning of it.

8. I know of a Certainty, replied the King, that you would gain Time, forasmuch as you see that the Matter is gone from me ;

9. Because if you do not make known the Dream to me, there will be the same Decree ; so you prepare false and corrupt Speech to repeat before me, till the Time is altered : therefore declare the Dream to me, whereby I may know that you can tell the Meaning of it.

10. The Chaldeans gave the following Answer before the King ; There is not a Man upon the Earth that is able to tell the King's Matter : for which reason no King, Nobleman, nor Governor does ask such a Thing as this, of any Magician, Astrologer or Chaldean.

11. For the Matter which the King asks is so valuable, that there is no other who can tell it before him, excepting the gods whose Habitation is not with Flesh.

12. By reason of this the King was angry and enraged so exceedingly, that he commanded to destroy all the wise Men of Babylon.

13. Accordingly there went forth a Decree, that the wise Men should be slain ; and they sought for Daniel and his Companions to be slain.

14. Upon which Daniel returned answer, with Counsel and Sense, to Arioch the Captain of the King's Guard, and a Governor of his, who was come forth to slay the wise Men of Babylon ;

15. Asking him, why the Decree was so hasty from the King ? To whom Arioch then made the Matter known.

16. And Daniel going in, requested of the King, that he would give him Time, and he would tell the King the Meaning.

17. Then he went home, and made the Matter known to Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah, his Companions ;

18. And that they should request Compassion of the God of Heaven for this Secret, that he himself and his Companions might not perish with the rest of the wise Men of Babylon.

19. The Secret was then revealed to Daniel in a Vision at Night : then he blessed the God of Heaven,

20. Saying in this manner ; Blessed be the Name of God from everlasting to everlasting ; of whom both Wisdom and Power are :

21. Who alters Times and Seasons ; puts away Kings, and sets Kings up ; gives Wisdom to the Wise, and Knowledge to those that know Understanding ;

22. He reveals deep and hidden Things, knows what is in the Darkness, the Light dwelling with him.

23. I thank and praise thee, O God of my Fathers, who hast given me Wisdom and Power, and now made known to me what we requested of thee, since thou hast let us know the King's Matter.

24. By reason of this Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the King had appointed to destroy the wise Men of Babylon, and being come, said thus to him, Do not destroy the wise Men of Babylon, introduce me before the King, and I will tell him the Meaning.

25. Then Arioch had Daniel in before the King in haste, and told him thus ; that he had found a Man of the Captives of Judah, who would make known the Meaning to the King.

26. The King answered, speaking to Daniel, whose Name was Belteshazzar, Canst thou make known to me the Dream which I have seen, and the Meaning of it ?

27. Daniel made answer before the King as follows : Notwithstanding the wise Men the Astrologers, the Magicians, the Soothsayers, are not able to tell the King the Secret which he has asked ;

28. There is a God in Heaven that reveals Secrets, who has been making known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter Days. Thy Dream, or the Visions of thy Head upon thy Bed, was this :

29. Thou O King, being on thy Bed, hadst

Ver. 4. O King] This begins the Chaldee, which continues to the eighth Chap.

Ver. 13. See v. 29.

Thoughts came up what would be hereafter, and he who reveals Secrets making known to thee what will be ;

30. (As for me, this Secret is not revealed to me, for the Wisdom which is in me the most of any that live ; but for the sake of them who will make known the Meaning to the King, and that thou mayest know the Thoughts of thy Heart)

31. Thou O King, sawest plainly that there was a certain great Image ; this large Image, whose Countenance was excellent, stood up before thee, and the Appearance of it was terrible.

32. The Head of which Image was of the best Gold, his Breast and Arms of Silver, his Belly and Thighs of Brass,

33. His Legs of Iron, his Feet on one Side of Iron, and on the other of Clay.

34. Thou didst look till there was a Stone cut out without Hands, which struck the Image upon his Feet that were Iron and Clay, and broke them in pieces.

35. Whereupon the Iron, Clay, Brass, Silver, and Gold being broke in pieces together, became as the Chaff from the Threshing-floors at Summer, so that the Wind carried them away, and there was no Place found for them ; but the Stone which struck the Image became such a large Mountain, that it filled the whole Earth.

36. This is the Dream, which we will declare the Meaning of before the King.

37. Thou O King, art a King of Kings ; because the God of Heaven has given thee a Kingdom, Strength, and Authority, and Honour ;

38. Nay where-ever mortal Men dwell, he has given into thy Power the Beasts of the Field, and the Fowl of the Air, and let thee have dominion over them all ; who art that Head of Gold.

39. And after thee will rise up another Kingdom, lower than thou ; as also another third Kingdom of Brass, which will have dominion over the whole Earth.

40. The fourth Kingdom too will be as strong as Iron : by reason that Iron breaks in pieces, as well as weakens all ; and as it breaks all these, this will break, and even in pieces.

41. And whereas thou sawest the Feet and Toes, on one Side Potters Clay, and on the other Iron ; the Kingdom will be divided, but there will be in it some Firmness of Iron ; by reason that thou sawest the Iron mixed with mirey Clay.

42. The Toes of the Feet being on one Side Iron, and on the other Clay ; the Kingdom will be strong at one End, and at the other will be broken.

43. Whereas also thou sawest the Iron mixed with the mirey Clay, they will mingle themselves with the Offspring of Man ; but will not cleave one to another, as Iron indeed will not be mixed with Clay.

44. Now in the Times of those Kings the God of Heaven will raise up a Kingdom, which will never be destroyed, nor shall it be left to other People ; it will break in pieces and consume all the foregoing Kingdoms, and will it self stand up for ever.

45. Forasmuch as thou sawest that the Stone was cut out of a Mountain without Hands, and broke in pieces the Iron, Brass, Clay, Silver and Gold ; the great God has made known to the King what will be hereafter : and the Dream is certain, as likewise the Meaning of it sure.

46. With this King Nebuchadnezzar fell

Ver. 39. Kingdom] which being more illustrated in Chap. vii. 5, 6. look for the Explanation there.

Ver. 40. fourth] As there are several Prophecies in Daniel of the same Things, the Difficulties of which lie in the latter Parts of them, it may be proper to observe that every one of those successive Prophecies adds to the Circumstances of the foregoing, and so makes the last the plainest ; which should therefore be well considered first, that it may give light to the preceding one, and thus we shall come to this fourth Kingdom at last, which seems too bare of Circumstances as here described, to judge of it from hence only. According to this let the eleventh and twelfth Chapters be first examined, where is a much more full and circumstantial Account than was delivered before ; then either taking or leaving the latter Part of Chap. ix. as it treats of other Matters, come back to the viiith, next to the viiith, and so to this. For the fourth and lower Part of the Image in this Chap. evidently answers to the fourth Beast in the viiith, or in express Words the fourth Kingdom in this Verse is the same with the fourth Kingdom, Chap. vii. 23. as well as the other three correspond together. And the second and third Beasts in Chap. vii. represented what those two did in Chap. viii. consequently the four Wings and Heads of the Leopard, Chap. vii. 6. signify the same as the four Horns of the He-goat, Chap. viii. 8. In like Manner we may conclude that the taking away the continual Offering, Ch. viii. 11. & xi. 31. & xii. 12. was one Thing, &c. Having therefore seen that the fourth Empire in Chap. vii. was that of the Romans, we may determine this is likewise.

upon his Face, and worshipped Daniel, as also commanded to pour out an Offering and pleasant Things to him.

47. To whom the King said as follows, It is of a Truth, that your God himself is the God of gods, the Lord of Kings, and Revealer of Secrets; since thou wast able to reveal this Secret.

48. Then the King made Daniel great, giving him many great Gifts, and letting him have dominion over the whole Province of Babylon; he was also the chief of the Rulers over all the wise Men of Babylon.

49. Besides Daniel requested of the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego, over the Business of the Province of Babylon; but he himself was at the King's Gate.

C H A P. III.

THE same King made an Image of Gold, sixty Cubits high and six broad; which he set up in the Vale of Dura, in the Province of Babylon.

2. And he sent to gather together the Lieutenants, Peers, Captains, Judges, Treasurers, Counsellors, Officers, and all the Governors of the Provinces, to come to the Dedication of the Image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

3. Whereupon those several Persons above-mentioned were gathered together, to the Dedication of the Image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up, and standing before it,

4. The Herald proclaimed aloud; It is declared to you, O People of each Nation and Language,

5. That at the Time when you hear the Sound of the Cornet, Flute, Timbrel, Dulcimer, Psaltery, and a Concert with all Kinds of Musick, you must fall down, and worship the Image of Gold which King Nebuchadnezzar has set up.

6. And whoever does not fall down and worship, shall the same Hour be thrown into the middle of an Oven of burning Fire.

7. For this reason at the same Time as the People heard the Sound of the Cornet, Flute, Timbrel, Dulcimer, Psaltery, and all Kinds of Musick, they all fell down of each Nation and Language, worshipping the fore-mentioned Image.

8. By reason of this some Chaldeans went near at that Time, and accused the Jews as Criminals,

9. Saying as follows to King Nebuchadnezzar; O King, live for ever:

10. Thou O King, didst give Order that every Man who heard the Sound of the Cornet, Flute, Timbrel, Dulcimer, Psaltery, and a Concert with all Kinds of Musick, should fall down, and worship the Image of Gold;

11. And that whoever did not do so, should be thrown into the middle of an Oven of burning Fire:

12. There are some Jews whom thou hast set over the Business of the Province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego; which Men will not perform the Order for thee, O King, they will not serve thy god, nor worship the Image of Gold which thou hast set up.

13. At which Nebuchadnezzar in Anger and Rage commanded to bring them; whereupon those Men were brought before the King.

14. To whom he said thus; Is it designedly, Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego, you do not serve my god, and worship the Image of Gold which I have set up?

15. Or are you ready now, so that at the Time when you hear the Sound of all the Musick again as before, you will fall down, and worship the Image which I have made? For if you do not worship, you shall the same Hour be thrown into the middle of an Oven of burning Fire: and what God is he who can deliver you out of my Power?

16. Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the King as follows; Nebuchadnezzar, we are in no Need of returning thee answer in this Matter.

17. If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from that Oven, and he will deliver out of thy Power, O King.

18. But if not, let it be known to thee, O King, that we will not serve thy god, nor worship the Image of Gold which thou hast set up.

19. Nebuchadnezzar upon this being so full of Rage, that the Resemblance of his Face was altered at them, gave command to heat the Oven sevenfold above what it had been seen to be heated;

20. And ordered some very stout Men who were in his Army, to bind Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego, to throw them into the Oven of burning Fire.

21. With that they bound these Persons in their Coats, Stockings, Caps, and other Cloaths, and threw them into the middle of it.

22. For these reasons, because the King's Word was hasty, and the Oven heated exceedingly; the Flame of the Fire slew those Men, who took up Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego.

23. Which three Persons fell down bound into the middle of the Oven of burning Fire.

24. Then was King Nebuchadnezzar frightened, and got up in haste, saying thus to his Rulers, Did not we throw three Men bound into the middle of the Fire? To whom they made answer, That is certain, O King.

25. He replied as follows, Lo I see four Men loose, walking in the middle of the Fire, and there is no Hurt on them; the Appearance of the fourth is also like the Son of God.

26. Hereupon Nebuchadnezzar approaching the Mouth of the above-mentioned Oven, said thus, Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego, Servants of the Supreme God, come out hither; at this they came out of the middle of the Fire.

27. And the King's Lieutenants, Peers, Captains, and Rulers were gathered together, looking at those Men, over whose Bodies the Fire had no Power, neither was the Hair of their Heads singed, nor their Coats altered; nay the Smell of Fire had not passed on them.

28. Nebuchadnezzar added as follows; Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego, who has sent his Angel, and delivered his Servants that trusted on him; so that they have altered the King's Word, as they gave up their Bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, excepting their own God.

29. I therefore give order that the People of every Nation and Language, who speak amiss against their God, shall be cut in pieces, and their Houses made as a Dunghil; by reason that there is no other God, who is able to rescue after this Manner.

30. Upon which the King made Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego prosperous, in the Province of Babylon.

KING Nebuchadnezzar to the People of all Nations and Languages, who dwell on the whole Earth. Your Peace be increased:

2. The Signs and Wonders which the Supreme God has done with me, it is agreeable to me to tell.

3. How great his Signs are! and how powerful his Wonders! His Kingdom is an everlasting one, and his Dominion in all Ages.

4. I Nebuchadnezzar being quiet in my House, and flourishing in my Palace;

5. Saw a Dream which terrified me, and Thoughts upon my Bed, as well as the Visions of my Head, troubled me.

6. So I gave order to bring in before me all the wise Men of Babylon, that they might make known the Meaning of the Dream to me.

7. With that there came the Magicians, Astrologers, Chaldeans and Soothsayers, before whom I declared the Dream, but they could not make known to me the Meaning of it.

8. However at last Daniel came in before me, whose Name is Belteshazzar according to the Name of my god, and in whom there is the Spirit of the holy gods; and before him I declared the Dream:

9. Belteshazzar, Master of the Magicians, since I know that the Spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no Secret presses thee, declare the Meaning of the Things which I have seen in my Dream.

10. Now the Visions of my Head upon my Bed were; I saw apparently that there was a Tree in the middle of the Earth, whose Height was great.

11. The Tree grew, and became strong; so that the Height of it reached to the Heaven, and the Sight of it to the-End of the whole Earth.

12. Its Branches were comely, its Fruit was large, and there was Food for all on it; the Beasts of the Field had shadow under it, the Fowls of the Air dwelt in the Boughs of it, and all Flesh was nourished by it.

13. I saw plainly in the same Visions, that a Watcher who was holy, coming down from Heaven,

14. Called aloud, and said thus; Hew down the Tree, and cut off its Boughs, make its Branches fall off, and scatter its Fruit: let the Beasts remove from under it, and the Fowls from its Boughs.

15. Nevertheless leave the Stump of its Roots in the Ground, even with a Bond of Iron and Brass among the Herbs of the Field; and let it be wet with the Dew of Heaven, and its Part be along with the Beasts among the Grass of the Earth.

16. Let his Heart be altered from a Man's, and the Heart of a Beast be given him; and let seven Times pass over him.

17. The Matter is by the Decree of the Watchers, and the Petition by the Speech of the holy ones; to the end that they who live may know, that the Supreme One is Governor over the Kingdom of Men, and bestows it on whomsoever he will, setting up the lowest of Men over it.

18. This Dream I King Nebuchadnezzar have seen: do thou therefore Belteshazzar, declare its Meaning, by reason that all the wise Men of my Kingdom are not able to make known the Meaning to me; but thou canst, because the Spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19. Then Daniel, whose Name was Belteshazzar, was astonished about an Hour, and his Thoughts troubled him; the King saying, Belteshazzar, let neither the Dream nor the Meaning of it trouble thee; who made answer: My Lord, let the Dream be for those who hate thee, and the Meaning of it for thy Adversaries.

20. The Tree that thou sawest, which grew, and became strong, so that the Height of it reached to the Heaven, and the Sight of it to the whole Earth;

21. Whose Branches were comely, its Fruit large, and on which there was Food for all; under which the Beasts of the Field dwelt, and in whose Boughs the Fowls of the Air remained:

22. That is thou, O King, who art grown, and become strong; nay thy Greatness is grown, so that it reaches to the Heaven, and thy Dominion to the End of the Earth.

23. And whereas the King saw a Watcher who was holy, coming down from Heaven, and saying, Hew down the Tree, and spoil it: nevertheless leave the Stump of its Roots in the Ground, even with a Bond of Iron and Brass among the Herbs of the Field; and let it be wet with the Dew of Heaven, and its Part be along with the Beasts of the Field, till seven Times pass over him:

24. This is the Meaning, O King, and that is the Decree of the Supreme One, which will come upon my Lord the King;

25. That they will expel thee from Men, and thy Habitation will be along with the Beasts of the Field, where they will make thee taste the Grass like Oxen, as also wet thee with the Dew of Heaven, and seven Times will pass over thee; till thou knowest that the Supreme One is Governor over the Kingdom of Men, and bestows it on whomsoever he will.

26. Whereas also they ordered to leave the Stump of the Tree's Roots; thy Kingdom will be firm to thee, after thou knowest that Heaven governs.

27. Therefore, O King, let my Counsel be agreeable to thee; that is break off thy Sins by Righteousness, and thy Iniquities by shewing favour to the Afflicted: if it may be a prolonging of thy Quietness.

28. All which came upon King Nebuchadnezzar:

29. Who twelve Months after, as he was walking in the royal Palace of Babylon,

30. Expressed himself thus, Is not this that great Babylon which I built for the royal House, by the Authority of my Strength, and for the Honour of my Dignity?

31. While the Words were in the King's Mouth, there fell a Voice from Heaven; It is declared to thee, King Nebuchadnezzar, that the Kingdom is passed from thee.

32. Nay they shall expel thee from Men, and thy Habitation shall be along with the Beasts of the Field, they shall make thee taste the Grass like Oxen, and seven Times shall pass over thee; till thou knowest that the Supreme One is Governor over the King-

Ver. 30. great Babylon] The State which Nebuchadnezzar brought it to, according to the following Authors, briefly was: it was sixty Eng. Miles in Circuit, being square, and the Walls of that Length were 29 Yards thick, as also four times so high and two feet more, having a vast Moat of Water without; 25 Streets equally distant and straight went quite across the City one Way, and the same the other, cutting it into Squares for Buildings; at each End of which Streets was a brazen Gate, the whole amounting to 100, and between the Gates were Towers round about 10 Feet higher than the Wall, Herodotus, Lib. 1, & 3. Diodorus Siculus, Lib. 2. Philostratus, Lib. 1. Pliny, Lib. vi. 26. *Quint. dom of Men, and bestows it on whomsoever he will.

33. The Thing was accomplished the same Hour upon Nebuchadnezzar: he being expelled from Men, did eat the Grass like Oxen, and his Body was wet with the Dew of Heaven; till his Hair grew like Eagles Feathers, and his Nails like Birds Claws.

34. But at the End of the Time I Nebuchadnezzar looked up to Heaven, and my Knowledge returned to me; upon which I blessed the Supreme One, and praised and honoured him that lives for ever: whose Dominion is an everlasting one, and his Kingdom in all Ages.

35. As for all the Inhabitants of the Earth, they are counted as Nothing, and he does as he will among the Army of Heaven, and the Inhabitants of the Earth; nor can any stop his Hand, or say to him, What art thou doing?

36. At the same Time that my Knowledge returned to me, my Dignity and Countenance did also, for the Honour of my Kingdom; my Rulers and Noblemen seeking for me: insomuch that I was settled in my Kingdom, and excellent Greatness was added to me.

37. Now I Nebuchadnezzar do praise, extol, and honour the King of Heaven, all whose Doings are true, and his Ways right; and those who walk in Pride he is able to humble.

C H A P. V.

KING Belshazzar making a great Feast for a thousand of his Nobility, that he might drink Wine in their Presence;

2. Ordered, when he had tasted the Wine, to bring the Vessels of Gold and Silver, that his Father Nebuchadnezzar took out of the Temple which was in Jerusalem; that he himself, with his Nobility, Wives and Concubines, might drink in them.

3. Upon this they brought the Vessels of Gold, that were taken out of the Temple of God's House which was in Jerusalem; and the King, with his Nobility, Wives and Concubines, drank in them.

4. As they were drinking the Wine, they praised the gods of Gold and Silver, Brass, Iron, Wood and Stone.

5. The same Hour there came forth Fingers of a Man's Hand, and wrote over against the Candlestick, upon the Plastering of the Wall of the King's Palace; so that the King saw the Part of the Hand which wrote.

6. Then were the King's Looks altered, and his Thoughts troubled him; insomuch that the Joints of his Loins were loose, and his Knees struck one against another.

7. The King called aloud to bring in the Astrologers, Chaldeans and Soothsayers, he declaring it should be said to the wise Men of Babylon, What Man soever shall read this Writing, and tell me the Meaning of it: shall be clothed in Purple, with a Chain of Gold about his Neck, and have dominion the third in the Kingdom.

8. Then all the King's wise Men went in, but they could neither read the Writing, nor make the Meaning of it known to him.

9. King Belshazzar was then exceedingly troubled, and his very Looks were altered; his Nobility too were perplexed.

10. The Queen by means of the Words of the King and his Nobility, went into the Banqueting-house, saying thus; O King, live for ever, let not thy Thoughts trouble thee, nor thy Looks be altered.

11. There is a Man in thy Kingdom, in whom is the Spirit of the holy gods, and in the Time of thy Father such Light, Skill and Wisdom, like the Wisdom of the gods was found in him, that King Nebuchadnezzar himself thy Father raised him up to be Master of the Magicians, Astrologers, Chaldeans and Soothsayers:

12. By reason that an excellent Spirit, Knowledge, and Skill of interpreting Dreams, telling obscure Words, and undoing knotty Things was found in that Daniel, whose Name the King put Belshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will tell the Meaning.

13. Whereupon he was fetched in before the King, who after asking him, whether he was the same Daniel that was one of the Captives of Judah, whom the King his Father brought from thence?

14. I have heard concerning thee, said the King, that the Spirit of the gods is in thee, and that Light, Skill, and exquisite Wisdom is found in thee.

15. Whereas the wise Men, and Astrologers, who have been brought in before me already, that they might read this Writing, and make known its Meaning to me; could not tell the Meaning of the Matter.

16. Since I have heard concerning thee, that thou art able to interpret Meanings, and undo knotty Things: if thou canst now read the Writing, and make known to me the Meaning of it; thou shalt be clothed in Scarlet, with a Chain of Gold about thy Neck, and have dominion the third in the Kingdom.

17. Daniel upon this made answer before the King: Let thy Gifts be for thy self, and give thy Rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the Writing to the King, and make known to him the Meaning.

18. Thou King, the Supreme God gave thy Father Nebuchadnezzar the Kingdom, Greatness, Honour and Dignity.

19. And by reason of the Greatness which he gave him, the People of all Nations and Languages trembled, and feared at his Presence: he either slew or saved alive, and either exalted or humbled, those whom he would himself.

20. But when his Heart was exalted, and his Mind became strong in behaving proudly; he was put down from his royal Throne, and they took away his Honour from him.

21. Nay he was expelled from Mankind, his Heart became as the Beasts, and his Habitation was along with the wild Asses, they made him taste the Grass like Oxen, and his Body was wet with the Dew of Heaven; till he knew that the Supreme God was Governor in the Kingdom of Men, and set up over it whomsoever he would.

22. Yet thou, Belshazzar his Son, hast not humbled thy Heart, although thou knewest all this.

23. But hast exalted thy self against the Lord of Heaven, so that they have brought the Vessels of his House before thee, wherein thou and thy Nobility, thy Wives and Concubines, have drunk Wine; and thou hast praised the gods of Silver and Gold, Brass, Iron, Wood and Stone, which neither see, hear, nor know: whereas thou hast not honoured the God in whose Power thy Breath is, and to whom all thy Ways belong.

24. (Upon which the Part of the Island was taken away from before him, whereby this Writing was written)

25. And this is the Writing that is written: It is counted, counted, weighed, and they are parted.

26. The Meaning of the Matter is this; It is counted, God has counted thy Kingdom, and finished it.

27. It is weighed, thou art weighed in the Scales, and found deficient.

28. It is parted; thy Kingdom is parted, and given to the Medes and Persians.

29. Hereupon Belshazzar ordered that they should cloath Daniel in Scarlet, with a Chain of Gold about his Neck, and proclaim concerning him that he was the third Governor in the Kingdom.

30. The same Night Belshazzar King of the Chaldeans was slain.

31. And Darius the Mede took the Kingdom, being about the sixty second Year of his Age.

C H A P. VI.

IT was agreeable to Darius to set over the Kingdom a hundred and twenty Lieutenants, who should be over it all.

2. And above these were three Viceroys, of whom Daniel was one; that those Lieutenants might give Account to them, and the King have no Damage.

3. Then this Daniel was made chief above the Viceroys and Lieutenants, by reason that there was an excellent Spirit in him, and the King thought to set him over the whole Kingdom.

4. The Viceroys and Lieutenants then sought to find Occasion against Daniel on the Part of the Kingdom, but were not able to find any Occasion or corrupt Thing, by reason that he was faithful, and Nothing amiss or corrupt was to be found in him.

As for what is ordered here, it seems by Ver. 17. that Daniel would not accept of it; as it would have been very imprudent, when Belshazzar's Enemy was just ready to take the Kingdom from him: besides it was at an improper Time, being Night, and the King was slain before the Morning. There is the like Chap. ii. 13. where some translate, and the wise Men are slain, the contrary to which likewise appears from Ver. 24, 48.

5. These Men then said, We shall find no Occasion against this Daniel, except it be in the Law of his God.

6. Then those Viceroy's and Lieutenants crouded together to the King, and said thus to him; O King Darius, live for ever:

7. All the Viceroy's of the Kingdom, the Peers and Lieutenants, Rulers and Captains, have consulted to establish a royal Statute, and make a firm Act; that whoever does ask a Petition of any God or Man for thirty Days, unless of thee, O King, shall be thrown into the Den of Lions.

8. Now, O King, establish the Act, and sign the Writing; that it may not be altered, according to the Law of the Medes and Persians which must remain.

9. By reason of this King Darius signed the Writing and Act.

10. However when Daniel knew that the Writing was signed, he went into his House, and the Windows being opened for him in his Chamber towards Jerusalem, three times in a Day he kneeled on his Knees, praying and giving thanks before his God; forasmuch as he did before this.

11. Then these Men crouded together, and found Daniel requesting, and making supplication before his God.

12. Upon which they went near, and said before the King concerning his Act; Hast not thou signed an Act that what Man soever does request Ought of any God or Man for thirty Days, unless of thee, O King, shall be thrown into the Den of Lions? The King made answer, The Matter is certain, according to the Law of the Medes and Persians which must remain.

13. Upon this they replied before the King, that Daniel who was one of the Captives of Judah made no Account of the King, nor of the Act which he had signed; but asked his Petition three times in a Day.

14. When the King heard those Words, he was then exceedingly displeased for it; and set his Mind on Daniel to deliver him; which he strove to do till the setting of the Sun.

15. These Men upon this crouded together to the King, and said to him, Know, O King, that the Law of the Medes and Persians is; that no Act or Statute, which the King establishes, must be altered.

16. Whereupon the King ordered that they should bring Daniel, and throw him into the Den of Lions, the King saying to him thus, Thy God whom thou serveest continually, he will deliver thee.

17. And a Stone being brought, was put upon the Mouth of the Den; and the King sealed it with his own Signet, as well as that of his Nobility, that their Will on Daniel might not be altered.

18. Then the King went to his Palace, and passed the Night fasting, nor were Instruments of Musick brought before him, and his Sleep fled from him.

19. With that he got up in the Morning as soon as it was light, and went in haste to the Den of Lions.

20. And when he was come near the Den, he cried to Daniel with a sorrowful Voice, saying thus to him, Daniel, Servant of the Living God, is thy God whom thou serveest continually, able to deliver thee from the Lions?

21. Daniel then spoke to him; O King, live for ever:

22. My God sent his Angel, who has shut the Lions Mouths, and they have not hurt me; forasmuch as there was Purity found in me before him, and also before thee, O King, I have done no Hurt.

23. At this the King was exceeding glad of it, and commanded to take up Daniel out of the Den; which being done, there was no Hurt found on him, because he believed in his God.

24. And the King ordered that they should bring those Men, who accused him as a Criminal, and throw them into the Den of Lions, with their Children and Wives; who did not come to the Bottom of the Den, before the Lions had power over them, and broke all their Bones in pieces.

25. King Darius hereupon wrote to the People of all Nations and Languages, who dwelt on the whole Earth: Your Peace be increased.

26. I give order, that in all the Dominion of my Kingdom People should tremble, and fear at the Presence of the God of Daniel; because he is the Living God, and steadfast for ever, whose Kingdom is that which will not be destroyed, and his Dominion will be to the End;

27. He that delivers and rescues, as also does Signs and Wonders both in Heaven and Earth, who has delivered Daniel from the Power of the Lions.

28. So this Daniel prospered in the Reign of Darius, and that of Cyrus the Persian.

Ver. 23. glad of it] as Ver. 14. displeased for it, by which there is a Concurrence in the Expressions, as they are alike, the Preposition and Pronoun being the same; see De Dieu.

C H A P. VII.

IN the first Year of Belshazzar King of Babylon, Daniel saw a Dream, or Visions of his Head on his Bed; upon this he wrote it down, expressing the Sum of the Matters,

2. Which he did as follows. I saw in a Vision I had by Night, that behold the four Winds of the Heaven rose at the great Sea.

3. Out of which there came up four huge Beasts, different one from another.

4. The foremost was like a Lion, but had an Eagle's Wings: I looked till its Wings were plucked off, whereby it was lifted up from the Ground, and it was set upon the Feet as a Man, and a Man's Heart was given to it.

5. Behold there was also a second other Beast in the Likeness of a Bear, which raised it self up on one Side, and there were three Ribs in the Mouth of it between its Teeth, and they said thus to it, Rise up, devour much Flesh.

6. After this I saw plainly that there was another like a Leopard, which had four Wings of a Fowl upon his Back; the Beast had likewise four Heads, and Dominion was given to it.

7. I saw afterwards apparently in the Visions of the Night, that there was a fourth Beast, exceeding terrible, dreadful and strong, which had huge iron Teeth: it devoured, broke in pieces, and trampled the rest with its Feet, was different from all the Beasts which were before it, and had ten Horns.

Ver. 2. rose] as we phrase it; Chald. came forth, not rose.

Ver. 4. a Lion] signifying the Babylonian Empire, and more particularly Nebuchadnezzar; as the Beasts are interpreted to be Kings, Ver. 17. as well as the Parts of the Image were Kingdoms, Chap. ii. 39, 40. see Ch. ii. 38.

Ib. Eagle's Wings] which may denote the Swiftness of his Conquests, the Eagle being a Bird of Prey.

Ib. whereby] So Jun. and Trem. have it quibus, Grot. per quas; and the Eng. Marg. wherewith, as the Sense requires.

Ib. as a Man] He both lost his Power as a Lion, and Advancement as an Eagle; and was as a Man, that could neither devour like the one, nor fly like the other.

Ib. Man's Heart] not only his Capacity, but his Disposition was changed.

Ver. 5. a Bear] the Empire of the Medes and Persians, and Cyrus as a King.

Ib. on one Side] for the Advancement was of the Persians; see Chap. viii. 3.

Ib. three Ribs] the conquered Kingdoms of Lydia, Babylon and Egypt; not the Hyracians and Gobrias (but two) that revolted to the Persians, as in Paul's Annot. who would not devour such.

Ver. 6. a Leopard] the Macedonian Empire, and Alexander in particular.

Ib. four] for which see Chap. viii. 8. & xi. 3, 4.

Ver. 7. fourth Beast] the Roman Empire, and its Emperor Augustus Caesar, under whom it was at its Height; and began declining in the next Reign of Tiberius, the same in which Christ had the Dominion, &c. given him, as in Ver. xiii. 14. Mat. xxviii. 18. Thus there was an orderly Succession in the whole five, since Augustus too agreeable to what the other three had done before, conquered Egypt, the last of the four Kingdoms denoted by the third Beast. By the coming up, Ver. 3. may be understood those Empires being at their Height, for each was existent before the Fall of the preceding one.

Ib. the rest] of the Jews.

Ib. ten] The Horns of this Beast have been to me one of the most difficult Parts of Daniel's Prophecies, and after deliberately considering what divers noted Commentators of diverse Opinions say of it, I could be satisfied with none. Not with Jun. and Trem. in their Annotations, Broughton in several Places of his Works, &c. who expound the fourth Beast to be the Family of the Seleucidae that reigned in Syria after Alexander; because that is making it the same with one Head of the third Beast, an Absurdity not to be endured! Nor would this have been the strongest of the four, but the weakest. And as to Antiochus Epiphanes, who is esteemed the little Horn, instead of being a King after ten that were before, he was but the 8th of those Kings, neither were three of them destroyed before him, nor any one. Nor with Grotius, &c. making up the ten with some Kings of Egypt, a Head of another Beast, Ver. 6. yet reckoning this Antiochus for one. The Description of this last Beast, and the lower Part of the Image in Chap. ii. which evidently betoken the same, has generally determined it for the Empire of the Romans; but then I was not satisfied to leave it so, with the Eng. marginal Annotations, Prideaux at the End of his Connexion, &c. without the particular Application of the Horns, which is the principal Thing to ascertain and explain the whole. This Mede in his Works, pag. 661. and our famous Newton in his Observations upon the Prophecies of Daniel, Chap. vi, vii. have done, but not so, that I can think it to be what was predicted. They seem to have laboured hard to frame up ten Kinds of Kingdoms in the Rom. Empire, about the Beginning of the 5th Century after the Birth of Christ; expounding the single Horn to be the Church of Rome, which made up its Patrimony in the 8th Century out of three Governments, Mede, pag. 778, 779. Newton, ibid. Whereas the Vision does not represent the Beast to have been at first without Horns, nor are the Kingdoms they mention too late only, but too short, indistinct, and of too little Note for this great Prophecy, the Empire being also more remarkably divided otherwise, and then fallen to Decay; nor is one of the three any one of the ten Kingdoms, besides that the Angel says they were Kings, Ver. 24. The Time, &c. Ver. 25. Newton computes at 1260 Years, as he says the Days are Years, Chap. viii. 14. and by referring both to the present and future Times, they should seem to end together: now the soonest Beginning that he ascribes to the latter, is at the Destruction of Jerusalem, A. C. 70. counting the former to begin about A. C. 800; according to which the 2300 will last above 300 Years after the other. But how is it consistent that the holy People should have the Kingdom and Dominion under the whole Heaven, Ver. 2. so long before the Sanctuary is made right or cleansed, Chap. viii. 14? But I must not forget that my proper Business is to explain the Scripture Text, not to answer other Books.

As the Prophecies in Daniel have a peculiar Respect to the Jews, Jerusalem and the Temple, that in Chap. xi. is plainly continued to the Time of Antiochus Epiphanes upon this Account, the like may be said of those in the eighth and ninth Chapters; it is therefore agreeable that it should be the same here, and [the rest] in this Verse is a particular Mark of it. Now after the Havock which Antiochus made, the next very remarkable Thing that befel them was from the Romans, by Pompey's taking Jerusalem about 60 Years before the Birth of Christ; whose Destruction was completed from the same People under their Emperor Vespasian; so that there this Prophecy properly ended, as well as that in Chap. ix. Pompey had in a Manner the Government of the Roman Empire, but being at 8. As I was minding the Horns, behold there was another little Horn came up between them, from before which three of the former Horns were rooted up; and lo in that Horn were Eyes like a Man's, with a Mouth speaking grand Things.

9. I looked till there were Thrones put down, where he that was of ancient Time sat, whose Apparel was as white as Snow, and the Hair of his Head like pure Wool, his Throne fiery Flames, his Wheels burning Fire.

10. A Flood of Fire flowed and came out from before him, a Million waited on him, and a hundred Millions stood before him; the Judgment was placed, and the Books were opened.

11. I kept looking then by reason of the Voice of the grand Words which the Horn spoke, till the Beast was slain, and his Body destroyed, being given to be burnt with Fire.

12. As for the rest of the Beasts, they took away their Dominion; however there was a prolonging of Life granted to them, for a Season and Time.

13. I saw manifestly in the Visions of the Night, that there came with the Clouds of Heaven one like a Man, who went to him that was of ancient Time, being brought near before him.

14. To whom there was given Dominion, Honour, and a Kingdom, for the People of all Nations and Languages to serve him: his Dominion being an everlasting one which will remain, and his Kingdom what will not be destroyed.

15. The Mind of me my self Daniel was pierced within the Body, and the Visions of my Head troubled me.

16. Drawing near to one of those that stood by, I requested of him the Certainty concerning all this; and he made known to me the Meaning of the Things as follows;

17. The foregoing huge Beasts, that in those four, are four Kings who will rise up out of the Earth.

18. But the Saints of the Highest Ones will receive the Kingdom, and possess it for ever, even for ever and ever.

19. Then I desired the Certainty concerning the fourth Beast; which was different from all the others, exceeding terrible, whose Teeth were Iron, and his Nails Brass, that devoured, broke in pieces, and trampled the rest with its Feet;

20. Concerning the ten Horns likewise which were on its Head, and the other that came up, from before which three fell, even that Horn which had Eyes, and a Mouth speaking grand Things, whose Appearance was greater than his Fellows:

21. Which Horn I saw made War with the Saints, and prevailed over them;

22. Till he who was of ancient Time came, and Judgment was given to the Saints of the Highest Ones, and the Time was come that the Saints possessed the Kingdom,

23. He said thus; The fourth Beast will be the fourth Kingdom on the Earth, which will be different from all the Kingdoms, will devour the whole Earth, thresh it, and break it in pieces.

24. And the ten Horns out of that King-

last overcome by Julius Caesar, the Emperors began, of whom there were nine before Vespasian, viz. Julius, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, Nero, Galba, Otho and Vitellius. These with Pompey I look upon as signified by the ten Horns, and Vespasian by the little Horn before which three of the others were rooted up, as Galba, Otho, and Vitellius were before him. For upon the Death of Nero, those three were successively Emperors for a few Months, who were all slain, and Vespasian was settled Emperor, of which there is a particular Account in Suetonius, Tacitus, and Dion Cassius; then was Jerusalem with the Temple destroyed, and the surviving Jews became a dispersed People. I have given a short Account, the Facts being very noted and publick, and so the more likely to be intended, but they might be largely exemplified from History.

Ver. 8. like a Man's] Vespasian appearing of a humane Disposition, and though he was the Jews worst Enemy, had less of the beastly Nature and Behaviour than others,

1b. grand] He was General of the Roman Army in Judea, before he was Emperor, then his Son Titus was General in his room; so that this great Affair was in a Manner wholly accomplished by his Orders.

Ver. 9. till] This seems to respect the Downfall of that Heathen Empire, and its becoming a Christian one, in the Time of the Emperor Constantine, in the Beginning of the fourth Century.

1b. white] Described with great Strength and Elegance of Language in a Poem called The Hist. of Joseph, at Gen. xlv. 2. in these Words,

*His Vesture were the Beams of purest Light :
To which compar'd, the Sun in all his Might Shines feebler, than to him the Lamp of Night.*

Ver. 11. by reason] which as well by the Heb. Pointing, as the Sense, has respect to Daniel's looking, not to the Beasts being slain.

Ver. 13. a Man] Ezekiel who lived in the Time of Daniel, and in Captivity as he did, has frequently the Expression Son of Man for Man of himself; and even Daniel, Chap. viii. 17. Christ also taking this Title on him seems to be no other, being strictly and immediately no Man's Son, though a Woman's; see Ezek. ii. 1.

Ver. 15. The Mind of me my self Daniel was pierced within the Body] Our Translators have changed the Verb from the third to the first Person, and added [in] without distinguishing it: the Vulg. has rendered it, My Spirit quaked, I Daniel was terrified at these Things; but as Buxtorf says, groping as the Blind in Darkness, by being not skilled enough in Chaldee, Vind. p. 796.

Ver. 18. Highest Ones] mentioned Ver. 13. which does not interfere with the Unity of the Godhead; Christ as Man, according to the Description there, being high above all others.

Ver. 20. greater] in regard to what he did against the Jews, as by the following Verse.

Ver. 21. made War] See Ver. 25.

Ver. 22. Till] Persecution was raised by Vespasian's Successors both against the Jews and Christians.

dom are ten Kings that will rise up, and another will rise up after them, who will be different from the former, and put down three Kings.

25. He will also speak Words against the Part of the Supreme One, wear out the Saints of the Highest Ones, and think to alter Seasons and Law; which will be delivered into his Power, while there is a Time, Times, and half a Time.

26. But the Judgment will be placed, and they will take away his Dominion, to consume, and destroy it to the End.

27. Thus will the Kingdom, Dominion, and the Greatness of the Kingdom under the whole Heaven, be given to the holy People of the Highest Ones; whose Kingdom will be an everlasting one, and all Dominions shall serve, and hearken to him.

28. Hitherto is the End of the Matter. As for me Daniel, my Thoughts troubled me exceedingly, and my very Looks altered; but I kept the Matter in my Heart.

C H A P. VIII.

IN the third Year of the Reign of King Belshazzar, a Vision appeared to me, who am Daniel, after that which appeared to me at first.

2. I being when I saw it at the Palace in Shushan, which is in the Province of Elam; in which Vision I saw that I was by the River Ulai.

3. Where looking up, I saw plainly that there stood before the River a Ram, that had two Horns which were high; but one was higher than the other, and the highest came up last.

4. I saw the Ram pushing, westward, northward and southward; so that there were not any Beasts could stand before him, and none could deliver out of his Power: but he did according to his Will, and became great.

5. And as I was considering, behold a He-goat came from the West over the Surface of the whole Earth, without touching the Ground; and the Goat had a Horn that appeared large between his Eyes.

6. And he came to the Ram that had two Horns, which I saw standing before the River, and ran at him in his strong Rage.

7. I saw him also come close to the Ram, and being exasperated against him, he struck the Ram, and broke his two Horns, for there was not Strength in the Ram to stand before him; but he cast him to the Ground, and trod on him, and none could deliver the Ram out of his Power.

8. And the He-goat became very great indeed: but when he was strong, the great Horn was broke; in the room of which there came up four that appeared large, towards the four Winds of the Heaven.

9. Besides a certain little Horn came out of one of them, which became exceeding great towards the South, the East, and the glorious Place.

Ver. 25. a Time] or Year; and Vespasian was conquering Judea and Jerusalem about three Years and a half, Josephus's Wars of the Jews, Book 7.

Ver. 2. being when] as Prideaux shews, Connec. An. 553. and the Genev. Transf. plainly; but is made obscure in the pres. Transf. or as if Daniel seemed to be there, and so I find the Assembly understood it by their Annot.

Ib. Shushan] See Neb. i. 1. Est. i. 2. where it is supposed Daniel was buried; and long after, as Benjamin the Jewish Traveller relates, his Body or Coffin being with the Jews on one Side of the River, was demanded by the Inhabitants on the other, and after fighting about it, they had it a Year by turns, till Senigar the great Sultan of Persia ordered it to be hung on the middle of the Bridge.

Ib. Ulai] otherwise Ulaeus, in Strabo, Lib. xv. p. 500. Pliny, Lib. vi. 27. & Ptolemy, Lib. vi. 3.

Ver. 3. Ram] denoting the Empire of the Medes and Persians, as explained Ver. 20.

Ib. highest] the Kingdom of Persia.

Ver. 4. Power] for band must be improper to that which has none; so Ver. 7.

Ver. 5. He-goat] signifying the Kingdom of Greece, which was westward from the other.

Ib. without touching] By which may be understood not only the Swiftmess of its Progress and Conquests, but that it went on wonderfully as it were above Nature. Such as have rendered or expounded it, whom none touched in the Earth, did probably not consider that it belongs to the Construction of this Verb, and so is not here for in.

Ib. Horn] Alexander, who utterly overthrew Darius in three Battles.

Ver. 7. two Horns] In Poole's Annot. there is mentioned for one of them ' Artaxerxes Mnemon who aided Cyrus against Alexander : ' two monstrous Absurdities; for Artaxerxes Mnemon reigned the third before Darius whom Alexander conquered, and Cyrus the ninth before that Artaxerxes.

Ver. 8. four] for the Kingdoms of Macedonia, Asia, Syria and Egypt; see Chap. xi. 4.

Ver. 9. little Horn] denoting Antiochus Epiphanes, concerning whom see Chap. xi. 21. to the End of the Book, which may help to explain this by their Agreement. Newton expounds this Horn to be Macedonia after the Romans conquered it, thereby making it in Effect the same with the Horn it came out of; and then ascribes to this subjected Province the future Power and Conquests of the Romans, with the putting Christ to death, destroying Jerusalem, &c. which cannot preponderate in my Mind.

Ib. out of one] namely the Kingdom of Syria. The Angel Gabriel himself expounds the four Horns to signify Kingdoms, and the single Horn a King, Ver. 22, 23. whereas Newton, to promote his own Scheme of interpreting the Prophecies in Daniel, says in his Observat. Ch. ix. a Horn of a Beast is never taken for a single Person; but it is of no Validity when confronted with the Scripture.

Ib. South] Egypt, &c. as Chap. xi. 25, 40, 42, 43.

Ib. East] Persia, & Mac. iii. 31, 37.

Ib. glorious Place] Juda, as Chap. xi. 22, 28, 45. see Ezek. xx. 6.

10. It even became great to the Army of Heaven, some of which, namely of the Stars, it cast down to the Ground, and trod on them.

11. Nay it magnified it self to the Prince of the Army, and by it was the continual Offering taken away, and the settled Place of his Sanctuary thrown down.

12. For an Army was given against the continual Offering by reason of Transgression; so that it threw down the Truth to the Ground, acted, and prospered.

13. Then I heard a certain holy one speaking; whom another holy one asked by Name, how long the Vision would be of the continual Offering, and the Transgression that would make desolate, causing both the Sanctuary and Army to be trod down?

14. And he said to me, Till there is Evening and Morning two thousand and three hundred Times, when the Sanctuary shall become right,

15. Now when I Daniel had seen the Vision, and sought for the Understanding of it, behold one stood before me like the Appearance of a Man.

16. And I heard a Man's Voice between Ulai, which called thus, Gabriel, let him understand that which has appeared.

17. So he came near where I stood, at whose coming I was frightened, and fell upon my Face: but he said to me, Understand, Man; for the End of the Vision will be at the Time.

18. And when he spoke to me, I being fast asleep on my Face towards the Ground, he touched me, and made me stand up where I did.

19. Behold, said he, I will let thee know what will be at the Conclusion of the Indignation; for the End will be at the appointed Time.

20. The Ram that thou sawest having two Horns, are the Kings of the Medes and Persians.

21. And the hairy Goat is the King of Greece, as the great Horn which was between his Eyes is the first King.

22. Whereas it was broke, and there stood up four in the room of it; four Kingdoms will stand up out of the Nation, but not with his Power.

23. At the Conclusion of which Kingdoms, when the Transgressors come to an end, there will stand up a King of a fierce Countenance, and understanding hidden Speeches.

24. Who will be strong in his Power, but not by his Power; insomuch that he will wonderfully destroy, prosper, and act: not only destroying the Strong, but the People of the holy ones.

25. For it will be through his Policy that he will make Deceit prosper in his Hand, will magnify himself in his Heart, and destroy many in Quietness; nay he will stand up against the Prince of Princes, but will be broke without Hand.

26. And the Appearance of the Evening and Morning which has been told is Truth: therefore do thou close up the Vision, because it is for many Days.

27. Upon this I Daniel was brought to such a pass, that I was sick some Time; afterwards I got up, and did the King's Business: though I was astonished at the Appearance, but none understood it.

Ver. 10. Army of Heaven] the holy People of the Jews, 1 Mac. i. 46. or their Priests.

Ib. namely] the Stars being the Army of the Heaven or Sky.

Ver. 11. Prince] Onias the chief Priest, called the Ruler of the Covenant, Chap. xi. 22.

Ib. taken away] as Chap. xi. 31.

Ib. settled Place] Jerusalem.

Ib. thrown] See 1 Mac. i. 31, 39. & iv. 38.

Ver. 12. Army was given] as we read 1 Mac. i. 34, 35. not given him, as in the com. Transf. but given (or put for which this Heb. Verb is frequently used) by him.

Ver. 14. when] This we may see was on the 25th of the 9th Month, in the Year of the Seleucids 148, 1 Mac. iv. 52. from which reckoning backward or subtracting 6 Y. 3 M. 20 D. the Beginning of the Time falls on the 5th of the 6th Month in the Year 142. It was the Year after this when Antiochus plundered and profaned the Sanctuary, 1 Mac. i. 20, 21. but one may easily observe it was not in right Order some while before, by 2 Mac. iv. The Commencement of the Time seems to be at the Sacrilege of Menelaus and Lyfimachus the chief Priests, Ver. 32, 39. which was consequently followed by Disorders in the Sanctuary. Which Newton says pag. 124. is not yet cleansed (counting the Days for Years to begin afterwards) as if it would be built again hereafter, and the Jewish Worship restored.

Ver. 17. End of the Vision] so translated by Pagn. and Munst. to whom may be added Grot. and the Expression is thus as two Verses further; but what is it the End of in the com. Bible? And would not the Vision be at the Beginning, &c. of it, as well as at the End?

Ver. 20. Kings] put for Kingdoms, as the first is in the next Verse.

Ver. 24. not by his Power] but by Policy, Craft and Deceit, as in the next Verse, and Chap. xi. 21, 23, 24, 32. own has been added only because it was imagined the Sense required it, as if it referred to some other Power; the Heb. having only 1 for his, as it has just before.

Ib. of the holy ones] the holy Ancestors of the Jews, being not an Adjective to People, which is sing.

Ver. 25. Prince] or God of gods, Chap. xi. 36. The Notes of this and the 11th Chap. may be sufficient to obviate Newton's Objections to its being Antiochus, in Observat. Pt. i. Ch. 9. as I would be sparing against such an eminent Man.

Ver. 27. was brought to—a pass] the Verb-substantive passive.

CHAP. IX.

IN the first Year of the Reign of Darius the Son of Ahasuerus, one of the Offspring of the Medes, who was made King over the Kingdom of the Chaldeans;

2. I Daniel understood by Books, the Number of the Years, of which the Prophet Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission, that he would fulfil seventy Years for the Wastings of Jerusalem.

3. Then I put my Face towards the Lord God, to make request by Prayer and Supplications, with Fasting, Sackcloth and Ashes;

4. Praying to the Lord my God, and making confession as follows: Oh, Lord the Great and Terrible God, keeping the Covenant and Kindness with those who love him, and keep his Commandments;

5. We have sinned, committed Iniquity, done wickedly, and rebelled, namely by departing from thy Commandments and Rules.

6. Neither have we hearkened to thy Servants the Prophets, who spoke in thy Name to our Kings, Princes and Fathers, as well as to all the People of the Country.

7. To thee, Lord, belongs Righteousness, but to us Shame of Face, as it is this Day, to the Men of Judah, the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel who are near and far off, in all the Countries whither thou hast driven them, for their Wickedness which they committed against thee.

8. Lord, to us belongs Shame of Face, to our Kings, Princes and Fathers; because we have sinned against thee.

9. To the Lord our God belong Compassions, and Forgivenesses; though we have rebelled against him.

10. For we have not hearkened to what the Lord our God said, to go in his Laws, which he put before us by the Ministry of his Servants the Prophets.

11. Even all Israel have transgressed thy Law, that is by departing without hearkening to what thou saidest; so that the Curse is poured out upon us, and the Oath which is written in the Law of Moses the Servant of God, since we have sinned against him.

12. Who has confirmed his Words which he spoke, both concerning us, and our Judges that judged us, by bringing great Adversity upon us: because there has not been done under the whole Heaven, as has been against Jerusalem.

13. All this Adversity come as it did upon us, according to what is written in the Law of Moses; we did not make supplication before the Lord our God, that we might return from our Iniquities, and mind thy Truth.

14. Therefore the Lord watched for Adversity, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his Deeds which he has done, as we did not hearken to what he said.

15. And now, Lord our God, who broughtest thy People out of the Country of Egypt by a strong Hand, and gottest thy self such a Name as there is this Day; we having sinned, we having done wickedly.

16. Lord, according to all thy Righteousness, let thy Anger and Wrath, I beseech thee, be turned away from thy City Jerusalem, thy holy Mountain: since for our Sins, and for the Iniquities of our Fathers, Jerusalem and thy People are a Reproach for all who are round about us.

17. Now therefore, our God, hearken to the Prayer of thy Servant, and to his Supplications, and make thy Face light to thy Sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

18. Incline thy Ear, my God, and hear; open thy Eyes, and see our Desolations, and the City which is called by thy Name: for we do not prostrate our selves with Supplications before thee for our own Righteousness, but for thy many Compassions.

19. Lord, hear, Lord, forgive, Lord, be attentive, and act without delay; for thy own sake, my God, since thy City and People are called by thy Name.

20. And while I was speaking, praying, and confessing my Sin, with that of my People Israel, and prostrating my self with Supplication before the Lord my God, for my God's holy Mountain;

21. Even while I was speaking in Prayer, the Man Gabriel whom I saw in the Vision at first, being made to fly swiftly, touched me about the Time of the evening Offering.

22. Who gave intelligence, speaking to me thus: Daniel, I am now come forth, to teach thee Understanding.

23. At the Beginning of thy Supplications the Commission came forth, which I am come to tell, as thou art a very desirable one: therefore consider the Matter, and understand the Appearance.

24. Seventy Sevens are determined for thy

Ver. 18. Incline] Wither, Thine Eares incline thou (O my God) and heare: Lift up thine Eyes, and us O looke upon; Us, who forsaken with thy Citie are; That Citie, where thy Name is called on.

Ver. 24. Sevens] As it is agreed that Years are to be understood, and not Days, the Text expressing neither of them, a Translator should not take in the latter, by rendering it Weeks; especially as it does not appear that Daniel uses any express Number of Days for Years, as is done in Ezek. iv. 5, 6. and even there we are told it is so; besides Weeks is otherwise in Heb. Chap. x. 1, 2.

1b. Seventy] See the Explanation of these Numbers at the latter End of the Chronology after Daniel.

People and holy City, to stop Transgression, to finish Sins, to make atonement for Iniquity, to bring everlasting Righteousness, to seal up the Visions and Prophets, and to anoint the very Holy One.

25. So thou art to know and consider, that from the coming out of the Commission to restore and build Jerusalem, to Messiah the Ruler, will be seven Sevens, and sixty two Sevens; the Streets and Ditches will be restored and built also in the shortest of the Times.

26. After those sixty two Sevens the Messiah will be cut off, though not for himself (and the Ruler's People that shall come, will destroy the City and Sanctuary, whose End will be with a Flood, and till the End of the War there will be what is determined of Desolations)

27. However he will make the Covenant strong to many in the one Seven, in the half of which he will abolish the Sacrifice and Offering; making desolate afterwards by reason of the overspreading of Abominations, even till consuming and that which is determined is poured out upon the Desolate.

CHAP. X.

IN the third Year of Cyrus King of Persia, a Matter which was true was revealed to Daniel, whose Name was called Belteshazzar, but the appointed Time was a great while; however he considered the Matter, and had Understanding of the Appearance.

2. At which Time I Daniel had been mourn-ing the Space of three Weeks

3. I eat no Food of desirable Things, Flesh or Wine did not come into my Mouth, nor was I anointed at all, till the Space of three Weeks was fulfilled.

4. And on the twenty fourth Day of the first Month, I being then by the Side of the great River which is Hiddekel;

5. I looked up, and saw that behold there was a Man cloathed in Linen, and his Loins were girded with the famous Gold of Uphaz.

6. His Body was also like the Beryl, his Face like the Appearance of Lightning, his Eyes like Lamps of Fire, his Arms and Feet as the Colour of polished Brass, and the Sound of his Words like that of a Multitude.

7. And I Daniel only saw the Appearance, but though the Men who were with me did not, such a great Fearfulness seized them, that they ran away to hide.

8. I being thus left alone, and seeing this great Appearance, there was no Strength left in me: for my Complexion was grievously

Ver. 25. seven] Newton's late Interpretation is very singular, as it seems such famous learned Men love their Works should be. Instead of the 7, 62, and 1 making up the 70, he puts them all four, and the half one also, as independent Numbers. The 70 Sevens or 490 Years he counts to end at Christ's Death, the 7 Sevens to be 49 Years yet to come, which are to conclude with the End of the World, the 62 to end at the Birth of Christ, the one Seven to be next after his Death, and the half Seven the Time of besieging Jerusalem, which ended An. Dom. 70. At the Beginning of the 7 Sevens by his Exposition, there is to go forth a Commandment to build Jerusalem; whereas the City is now in Being, and inhabited, such a Commandment also as the Prophecy mentions went forth a few Years after, and is recorded in Scripture, which to pass by for another so very long after, nay so unlikely ever to be, seems too uneligible. If the Jews are to be converted, why must they return to Jerusalem any more than other Christians? Or are any of their Ceremonies to be revived? The comparative Prophecies of the Gospel Times are not to be understood literally, as may be seen by a remarkable Instance in Acts ii. 16, 19, 20. and the Jews have returned, and Jerusalem with other Places there have been rebuilt already, to fulfil other Prophecies; as Newton quotes divers of those two Sorts, to favour his Notion. The next is a bold Stretch! That the 62 Sevens or 434 Years may begin when Jerusalem was built by Nebemiah, and end at the Birth of Christ, he reckons the former to be 8 Years a doing, till the 28th Year of Artaxerxes, from whence he counts; for Proof of which he does Nothing but cite Neb. vi. 15. that says it was 52 Days. The 1 Seven he concludes with the Calling of Cornelius and the Gentiles, which is uncertain what Year it was, but counted 2 or 3 sooner, and seems too particular an Affair for the Event of this great Prophecy, if the Matter did agree: this according to him was Christ's keeping the Covenant with the Jews till then; but the Text expresses more than a common keeping it as before, making the Covenant strong, or confirming it, as Christ did by his Preaching and Miracles. Prideaux beginning those Sevens in the 7th Year of Artaxerxes Longimanus, ends the 49 Years in the 15th of Darius Nothus, when he supposes what is recorded Neb. xiii. 23. to the End was done, Council. Anno 409. Lloyd's Computation is 13 Years later, who would have those Years end with the Prophecying of Malachi. But the Text here does not appear to predict either of these Things, unless it be that which Prideaux advances in a figurative Sense, and for this indeed that learned and ingenious Person pleads: yet I should rather understand the restoring and building literally, to be at the same Time as he counts the other, though the particular finishing of it be not express'd in History; as the Time is not for either of those Events, to which they ascribe the Termination of the 49 Years.

1b. Ditches] probably to supply the City with Water, at the Head of which the Conduit might stand, 2 Sam. v. 8. and by the Rabbinical Description of the several Sorts of Ditches in Bava kama, Cap. v. this was broad below and narrow above, which was fittest for that Purpose: they might likewise be for Fortification. The Name is also modern in a City, as Fleetditch, Hounsditch, &c. in London.

1b. shortest] This Word found only here, and coming from a Verb signifying to streighten or make narrow, is not an Adjective to Times, nor is the Expression Times of Trouble by the Position of the Words; besides that their Troubles were greater before than during those 49 Years. The Eng. Translators seem to mean the Street should remain built the 62 Weeks, and so Bedford expressly computes, even by contracted Years, Scrip. Chron. lib. vii. 1. 25. whereas it did so divers Years after, whether that Time be reckoned to end at the Coming or Death of Christ.

Ver. 27. in the one Seven] The Covenant is perpetual, not for a Week, Broughton's Works, Tom. ii. p. 662.

changed on me, and I could not retain Strength.

9. However I heard the Sound of his Words, though I was then in a Trance upon my Face, which was towards the Ground.

10. But behold a Hand touched me, and removed me upon my Knees and the Palms of my Hands.

11. Moreover he said to me, Daniel, a Man very desirable, understand the Things which I speak to thee, and stand up where thou didst, for I am now sent to thee; which Thing when he had spoken to me, I stood trembling.

12. Upon this he said to me; Be not afraid, Daniel, for thy Words were heard from the first Day that thou appliedst thy Heart to understand, and to afflict thy self before thy God; and I am come by reason of thy Words.

13. But the Prince of the Kingdom of Persia stood before me twenty one Days, when behold there came Michael one of the chief Princes to help me, I having been left there with the Kings of Persia.

14. And I am come to let thee understand what will fall out to thy People in the latter Days, as the Vision is for a good while hence.

15. As he was speaking such Words as these, I put my Face towards the Ground, and became dumb.

16. Yet behold one in the Likeness of Mankind touching my Lips, I opened my Mouth, and spoke thus to him who stood before me; My Lord, by the Appearance my Pains are turned upon me, and I cannot retain Strength.

17. How therefore can the Servant of this my Lord talk with him, when I shall henceforth not have Strength remaining in me, where there is not Breath left?

18. Then one like the Appearance of a Man touched me again, and strengthened me,

19. Saying, Be not afraid, O Man very desirable, may it be well with thee, be strong; be even strong. Accordingly when he had spoken to me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my Lord speak, since thou hast strengthened me.

20. Dost thou know, replied he, why I came to thee? And now I must return to fight with the Prince of Persia, and after I am gone forth, behold the Prince of Greece will come.

21. But I will tell thee that which is written in the Scripture of Truth; not one being strong with me for these Things, excepting Michael your Prince.

CHAP XI.

AND it was I, in the first Year of Darius the Mede, stood to strengthen and confirm him.

2. So I will now tell thee the Truth: Behold there will yet stand up three Kings of Persia, and a fourth will be rich with greater Wealth than all; who when he is strong by his Wealth, will stir up all against the Kingdom of Greece.

3. But a powerful King will stand up, and rule with great Dominion, doing after his own Will.

4. Nevertheless when he has stood up, his Kingdom will be broke, and parted to the four Winds of Heaven; yet not to his Posterity, nor according to his Dominion with

Ver. 12. by reason of] for being of uncertain Meaning, or as if he came to fetch the Words.

Ver. 13. stood before me] the Angel being employed concerning him; which Translation is literal, and so Jun. and Trem. have stetit coram me, it being also the same as in Ver. 16. I remember I have wondered how the Prince withstood the Angel, and stopped him from coming to Daniel, before I examined the Original. Lewth in his Commentary notwithstanding after some, expounds this Prince and that of Greece, Ver. 20. to be the Guardian or Tutelar Angels of these several Countries, and speaks particularly of the Contention; to which, as it is founded on wrong Translation, I shall on'y say in the Words of Peale's Annotations, Who can imagine that good Angels should quarrel one with the other? Or else after others, that they were evil Spirits, and consequently that such are distinctly appointed over particular Countries; which if fit to be advanced any where, is not however here, unless withstood has some better Existence than in a Vision.

Ver. 17. henceforth] or Heb. from now, therefore not straightway.

Ver. 21. not one] of the Princes, two of which are mentioned in the Ver. before; and may shew that the Princes of the Earth were against the Jews, but Michael for them. Unless any will prefer the Annotation of Grætius, Omnes aliarum nationum præsides Angeli aut Persis savebant aut Græcis. Talia inter Angelos studia exstinxit Christus: all the Angels presiding over other Nations, favoured either the Persians or Greeks. Such Endeavours among the Angels were extinguished by Christ; which I deliver to the Wind.

1b. Posterity] which neither of the four Kings, Seleucus, Ptolemy, Cassander and Lyfmachus was; and his posthumous Son Alexander Ægus was slain a Boy, after he had been several Years in Prison, Diod. Sicul. Lib. 19. Pausanias in Bæoticis.

which he has ruled : for his Kingdom will be plucked up, and for others besides those.

5. The King of the South will then be strong, as also another of his Princes, and that above him, ruling with his Dominion a great one.

6. And some Years after they will join themselves together, for the King's Daughter of the South will come to the King of the North, to perform Things right ; but she will not retain the Strength of the Arm, nor will he stand with his Arm ; nay she herself will be delivered up, as also those who have brought her, and he that was born of her, as well as he who has strengthened her in those Times.

7. There will however stand up a Shoot of her Roots in his State, who will come with an Army, and enter into the Fortrefs of the King of the North, will act against them, and make himself strong.

8. And also their gods, together with their Princes, and desirable Instruments of Silver and Gold, will he carry into Captivity to Egypt ; and he will remain more Years than the King of the North.

9. Thus will the King of the South enter into the Kingdom, and return to his own Country.

10. But the other's Sons will make war, gathering together a Multitude of large Forces ; and one will actually come, overflow, and pass through : then returning, War will be made as far as his Fortrefs.

11. Whereupon the King of the South being exasperated, will go out, and fight with him, namely the King of the North ; who will place a large Multitude, which will notwithstanding be delivered into the Power of the other.

12. When he has taken away the Multitude, his Heart will be exalted, and he will cast down some ten thousands, yet will not be strong.

13. For the King of the North will return, and place a larger Multitude than the former ; even the Space of some Years after he will actually come, with a great Army, and much Substance.

14. And in those Times many will stand up against the King of the South ; and though the Robbers of thy People will be lifted up to establish the Vision, they will fall.

15. Now the King of the North being come, will make a Rampart, take the City of Fortifications ; so that the Arms of the South will not stand, nor its choice People, as there will be no Strength to stand.

16. On the contrary he who comes against him will do after his own Will, none standing before him ; nay he will stand in the glorious Country, and consume with his Power.

18. Afterwards he will turn away his Face to the Isles, and take many ; a Captain however will make his Reproach to him cease, without letting it return on himself.

23. And after an Association with him, he will act deceitfully ; and going up, will become strong with a small Nation.

24. He will also quietly enter into the fat Places of the Province, and do what neither his Fathers, nor the Fathers of them have done ; he will scatter their Prey, Spoil and Substance, and contrive his Devices against the strong Holds, even for a Time.

30. For the Ships of Chittim coming to him, he will be grieved, and return, and having indignation against the holy Covenant, will act; as he will get intelligence at his Return, by those who forsake the holy Covenant.

31. And Arms standing by him, they will profane the Sanctuary of Strength, take away the continual Offering, and put the Abomination that will make desolate.

32. Those that will do wickedly against the Covenant, he will pollute too by Flatteries; yet the People who know their God will make themselves strong, and act.

33. Such also of the People as understand will give intelligence to many; but they will fall by the Sword, the Flame, Captivity and Prey, some Time.

34. However when they fall, they will be assisted with a little Help, though many were joined to them by Flatteries.

35. Some of them likewise that understand will fall, to purify them, make pure and white, till the final Time; because it is yet for an appointed Time.

Ib. by him] As Newton begins here to expound it of the Romans, in his Observ. on Dan. Chap. xii. whom he would have to be signified by Arms, he expresses it after him; that it may mean the Romans should stand up after Antiochus Epiphanes, as he says it signifies after the King, Ver. 8. Whereas in both Places that Interpretation is invalid, and different from the Manner of the Heb. Tongue. Besides it is he in the next Verse, and so on afterwards, the Return from the Digression at the 36th Verse being made with the King, not the Arms, and proceeds declaring only what the King would do. The Distinction between [him] and [Arms] is not only in the Scripture, but in Newton's own Observation, in what he counts the Beginning of the Description of the Romans; and must it not be quite incongruous then, to imagine that the former signifies the latter throughout the same Description? This is a Way of writing or speaking, in his own Expression, used by no Nation, p. 137. nay he ascribes Part of what follows to Ver. 36. to the Heathen Romans, Part in the next four Verses to the Christian Greeks, and the latter Part to the Turks, though it is obviously the same in the Scripture. It is agreeable to understand by the Kings of the South and North at Ver. 40. those of the same Kingdoms as at Ver. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, 13, 14, 15, 25. and not the Saracens and Turks, both which were castward from the Greek Empire, which Newton says they should push at, and come against. Nor is it at all likely that so many lesser Affairs, especially to the Jews, should be mentioned of Antiochus, and his great Persecution of them at last omitted; much less when there is a lively and particular Description of such a Persecution put in Order of Time, and just after it is foretold that he would have indignation against the holy Covenant, and get intelligence about it, is it to be expounded away to Something done by another People 237 Years after. Was it told that Antiochus designed and prepared to do it, and not that he did it? As for the Abomination of Desolation by the Romans, Mat. xxiv. 15. that is to be referred to Ch. ix. 26, 27. of this Book. And in our celebrated Universal History, B. ii. Ch. 2. it is said, 'The 11th Chap. of Daniel from the 20th Verse to the End, is wholly concerning Antiochus Epiphanes.'

Ver. 32. pollute—by Flatteries] as it is recorded to be attempted on Mattathias, 1 Mac. ii. 17, 18. and Eleazar, 2 Mac. vi. 21. which doubtless would prevail on those that would do wickedly.

Ver. 36. the King] Lowth conforming himself to Mede's Interpretation, abruptly breaks off the Thread of the Prophecy, as Newton did before, and expounds the King here to be Antichrist, meaning, as it appears, the Pope or Papacy. To this the former Observation on Ver. 31. may be partly applicable; and if it had been so, with what Probability can one think, but that it would have been introduced with In the latter Days, At the End of many Years or Days, After that, another King also (if not rather under a different Name) or some other suitable Form of Expression used in Scripture, and not with And the smallest Conjunction? Lowth however says, 'We may observe such a sudden Transition, Mat. xxiv. from the Destruction of Jerusalem to the General Judgment; but how should he think others observe it, if he himself has not, so as to tell us in what particular Place it is? If he means at the Beginning of Ver. 29. certainly that is not such a Transition, there is sufficient Notice given of it. Our Author too asserts, that the Words in the four following Verses (he should have said in this and the three following ones) are not at all applicable to Antiochus. We shall see whether it be so. In the Assembly's Annotations is an Observation in these Words, 'The Hebrew Article before the Word King, doth manifestly referre the Matter to the King spoken of before, but that without controversy was Antiochus Epiphanes.' Jun. and Trem. comment here, Nos ex antecedentium & sequentium comparatione, adeoque ex historiae fide statuimus haec omnia de Antiocho Epiphane esse intelligenda: by comparing together what goes before and what follows, and that with the Reality of History, we conclude all these Things are to be understood of Antiochus Epiphanes; see also Grot. Annot.

37. Ile

37. He will not mind even the god of his Fathers, nor the Desire of Women, neither will he mind any god: for he will magnify himself above every one.

38. Only in his State he will honour the god of Fortresses; even a god whom his Fathers did not know will he honour, with Gold, Silver, precious Stones, and desirable Things.

39. So will he do at the strong Holds of the Fortresses, with the strange god whom he will acknowledge, increasing the Honour; and he will make such rule over many, and divide the Country for a Price.

40. Thus at the final Time the King of the South will push at him, against whom the King of the North will behave himself tempestuously with Chariots, Horsemen and many Ships; and going into the Countries, he will overflow, and pass through.

41. He will further go into the glorious Country, and many Countries will fall; these however will be delivered from his Power, Edom, Moab, and the chief of the Ammonites.

42. But he will stretch forth his Hand against the Countries, so that the Country of Egypt shall not be one that escapes.

43. Nay he will rule over the hidden Treasures of Gold and Silver, with all the desirable Things of Egypt; the Lubites and Ethiopians being in his Steps.

44. News notwithstanding will trouble him both from the East and North; upon which he will go out in a great Rage to destroy many, and that utterly.

45. Yet plant as he will the Tents of his Pavilion between the Seas, at the glorious holy Mountain; he will come to his End; and have no Helper.

C H A P. XII.

AND at that Time will stand up Michael the great Prince, who stands for the Posterity of thy People, because it will be such a Time of Distress as had not been since it was a Nation till that Time; when every one of thy People notwithstanding will be delivered, who is found written in the Book.

2. And many of them who are sleeping in the dusty Ground will awake, some to everlasting Life, and others to everlasting Reproach and Contempt.

Ver. 37. the god of his Fathers] See the Note on the next Verse. In the other Scheme this god is explained to be the Heathen gods, that were worshipped before Christianity was established; so that it was doing well not to mind or regard such: whereas it is beside the Tenor of the Description, that the Angel was praising the King, especially as there is a contrary Object belonging to the same Verb. Nay Mede and Lowth interpret the god in the next Verse, and the strange god in the following one, to be the true God: which may surprize such as have not heard it, and is still more incoherent, as the Account given will be to this Effect, He will magnify himself above every god excepting the true God; whereas there are no other gods in the Christian Religion but the true one, and to understand it of the Pope's magnifying himself above the Heathen gods looks quite absurd, but is very congruous to them and Antiochus.

Ib. Desire] Diana, according to Polybius in the Excerpta out of him by Valesius, Strabo, Lib. 16. and Joseph. Antiq. Lib. xii. 13. or Venus, according to Appian in Syriacis, whose Temple at Elymais in Persia Antiochus would have plundered, 1 Mac. vi. 1, 2, 3.

Ib. magnify himself] I have a brass Coin, says Sir John Marsham in his Canon Chronicus, ad Secul. 4. ΒΑΣΙΛΕΩΣ ΑΝΤΙΟΧΟΥ ΘΕΟΥ ΕΠΙΦΑΝΟΥΣ, of King Antiochus the God Epiphanes: which still the more justifies applying this to him.

Ver. 38. god] Jupiter, as may be seen, 2 Mac. vi. 2. where he is repeatedly mentioned as here, and being called Olympius from a Mountain in Greece, was consequently a strange god to the Syrians, which the Ancestors of Antiochus were; and as this is called here the god of Fortresses, so there Jupiter the Defender of Strangers. Newton as it were by Compulsion to support his Scheme, which however he has taken from Mede with some Improvements as if it was his own, interprets the last mentioned of the worshipping Saints used by the Papists, with as little Propriety perhaps as great Pains. The same Word for Fortresses occurs in this Chapter, Ver. 10, 19, 39. Antiochus's honouring Jupiter seems to be in Respect to Alexander, whose god and pretended Father he was:

Ib. even] as it is said of this King that he would not mind or regard any god, Ver. 37. it is unlikely two gods should be here excepted; which is confirmed by his honouring it being repeated, whereas if there had been two, it might more probably have been said he would worship one of them.

3. Then

3. Then will they that consider, shine like the Brightness of the Firmament; and those who cause many to be virtuous, like the Stars for ever and evermore.

4. But do thou, Daniel, close up the Words, and seal up the Book, till the final Time. Many will go about, and Knowledge be increased.

5. Next I Daniel saw plainly that there were two others stood, one on this side the Bank of the River, and the other on that side of its Bank.

6. And one asking the Man cloathed in Linen, who was above the Water of the River, how long it would be to the End of those Wonders?

7. I heard the Man last mentioned swear by him who lives for ever, lifting up both his right and left Hand towards Heaven, that it would be for an appointed Time, Times, and half a one; and when there should be an Accomplishment of dispersing the Power of the holy People, all these Things would be accomplished.

8. But though I heard, I did not understand; therefore I said, My Lord, what will the Conclusion of these Things be?

9. And he answered; Go, Daniel: for the Words are closed and sealed up, till the final Time.

10. Many will be made pure and white, and will be purified; but the Wicked will do wickedly, and none of them understand: whereas those who consider, will understand.

11. Now from the Time that the continual Offering is taken away, and the Abomination put which will make desolate, will be a thousand two hundred and ninety Days.

12. He will be happy who tarries, and comes to a thousand three hundred and thirty five Days.

13. Do thou however go till the End; since thou wilt rest, and stand in thy Lot till the End of the Days.

Ver. 7. Time] The publick Religion of the Jews, or Power of the holy People, being at the Temple, was dispersed from thence by Antiochus; and about three Years and a half after, were all these Things, told by the Angel to Daniel in this Vision, accomplished.

Ver. 11. thousand] It is said 1 Mac. i. 54. they set up the Abomination of Desolation upon the Altar, the fifteenth Day of the Month Casleu, in the hundred forty and fifth Year; which is plainly and evidently the Time, by the Angel's Words here, to begin those Days from. Now the Sanctuary was cleansed and the Altar dedicated three Years and ten Days after, 1 Mac. iv. 52. and the Years containing 365 Days each, and the Months 30, with five Days added at the End of the Year, to the End of this last 9th Month would be 1110 Days, and 6 Months more, to the End of the next third Month, are just 1290. Ezekiel prophesying of this as appears, informs us they would be 7 Months cleansing the Country, Chap. xxxix. 12. which also determines the odd Time to be after those three Years, and not as some count it before; and as the Cleansing of the Sanctuary, and preparing their holy Things was doubtless their first Work, which being finished on the 25th of the 9th Month Casleu, it is probable they would then proceed to bury the many dead Bodies and Bones of those unclean Gentiles, who were lately slain in the Wars, and defiled their Country; for doing which there remained seven Months current, to make up the 1290 Days.

Ver. 12. thousand] forty five Days more than the other, that is a Month and a half, and that it was so much after, the Words of the Text shew; which from the End of the third Month extends to the Middle of the fifth: and the Grants of Toleration to the Jews, both from King Antiochus and the Romans are dated the 15th of Xanthicus, in the same 148th Year when the Sanctuary was cleansed, that Era of the Seleucidae beginning in Autumn; but the Jewish Year beginning in the Spring, the 9th Month answered partly to our November. Now Xanthicus being the first Month in the Syro-Macedonian Calendar, and the Month answering to that now called July being among the Greeks counted the first, as Ronsheims in his Archæologia Atticæ Lib. ii. Cap. 10. and Bedford in Scrip. Chron. Lib. vi. 2. 107. according to all this it follows, that Xanthicus was at the Time of the Jews 5th Month, and the 15th Day of it exactly completed the 1335 Days. And it was certainly a Happiness to such as had waited in Patience, to see Peace and Liberty confirmed. Though in fixing those Days precisely by certain Numbers recorded as above, I have perhaps attempted in the Words of Virgil, ire quâ nulla priorum devertitur orbita, Geor. 3.

To tread a Path untrodden heretofore; see Lowth's Commentary. But Floyer computes it will hereafter be so many Days from the taking of Jerusalem, to the Beginning of the Millennium, or thousand Years Reign of Christ on the Earth, Sibyl. Orac. p. 315.

Ver. 13. till the End of the Days] of his Life; and this till is in Heb. as just before.

As Rehoboam and Jeroboam began, and Ahaziah and Joram, being both slain by Jehu, ended their Reigns together, the Time of the Kingdoms of Judah and Israel was till then alike; but if we count the Years of their respective Kings, those of the former will be 95, and these of the latter 98; and if we reckon from thence to the 6th Year of Hezekiah and 9th of Hoshea, which were the same, 2 King. xviii. 10. the first will be 164 and the other 142: so that we must find out some other Way of Computation, if we would know the Certainty of the Time.

This may be by calculating it Step by Step, as in the preceding Tables, which though exceeding difficult, is notwithstanding a very concise Method. The Algebraic Signs in the first Column, after the Number of Years, which the Texts first quoted in that Line say each King reigned, signify, + more and — less than complete Years; the Proof of which is to be sought in the last Texts of each Line, compared with those of the foregoing Line. And the Years in the 2d Column are all full ones.

Thus Abijam reigning in the 18th Year of Jeroboam,

Rehoboam must have reigned more than 17 exact Years; but Asa in the 20th, shews that Abijam was not King 3 whole Years, and that his Father's Reign and his own were but 19 and odd; which with 1 Year and a Part of Asa's, can make but 21 and odd, and must be so much, else Jeroboam could not be said to reign 22 Years. In this Manner the Total to the End of Omri's Reign will be 57 Years, which must be right, though the Sum of the Years of the Kings of Israel's Reigns is 62, because they reigned but a little Part of their last Year. Next though Asa did not reign out 41 Years, 2 Chron. xvi. yet the Overplus of the 19 Years to the Beginning of his Reign made it up, so that both were 60; as 3 whole Years of Ahab in his Time, to be added to the 57 shew, 1 King. xxii. 41. Going on, in Ver. 52. when Jehoshaphat had been 17 Years King, which was his 18th Year, that with the 60 and odd make up the 78 to the End of the Reign of Ahab: for the Heb. Numerals signify either seven or seventh, ten or tenth, &c. and from Ahab's 4th Year, when Jehoshaphat began to reign, to his 22d when Ahab

Ahab died, must be above 17 Years; besides if Ahaziah began to reign in the 17th Year of Jehoshaphat, that being the 21st of his Father Ahab, as appears certain, and as Usher states it, nay puts the first Year of his Reign coincident with them, according to which Ahab's last Year will be his too; how is there then Time for what is recorded in Ahaziah's own Reign, 2 King. i. 2 Chron. xix. & xx. 1, 35, 37? Nor can it be pretended he was thus made King when his Father went to Ramoth-gilead, Ver. 29, 37, 40. 2 King. iii. 1. is also to be understood in the same Manner; and thus Chap. ix. 29. is to be reconciled with Chap. viii. 25. for Jeberam King of Judah could not be said to reign 8 Years, from the 5th to the 11th Year of Joram King of Israel, Chap. viii. 16, 17. but from the 5th to the 12th might be 8 Years not full. As the Amount to the Death of Ahaziah King of Judah and that of Jeberam King of Israel was the same, and as Jeberam King of Judah began reigning in the 5th Year of the latter, while his Father Jehoshaphat lived, 2 King. viii. 16. the last Year of Jehoshaphat falling in the first of his Son, is not reckoned in the Amount. The 92 Years which are coincident may be counted just full ones, as they seem not to be much over or under, and so 92 compleat Years in these Tables, are the same with the End of the 92d Year in the following Table.

Next Athaliah and Jehu began reigning together, she above 6 and he above 28 Years, as the Texts shew. I then find that the Numbers relative to 2 King. xiii. 10. do not agree with the 37th Year of Josiah King of Judah, the resolving of which see in the Note on that Text.

From thence the Chronology is easy, till we come to an Interregnum in the Kingdom of Judah; for Jeroboam beginning his Reign when Amaziah had reigned 14 Years, 2 King. xiv. 23. he could have reigned but 15 when Amaziah had reigned his whole 29; whose Son Azariah, by reason of his Minority, the Troubles in the Country, or both, did not begin to reign till the 27th Year of Jeroboam: so that there was a Space between of 11 Years, as by the Table, and Scholium on 2 King. xv. 1. Jeroboam then reigning 41 Years, at the Conclusion of it Azariah would be but in the 15th Year of his Reign, and Zachariah his Son not reigning till Azariah's 38th Year, there must have been an Interregnum of about 23 Years. Jeroboam having saved the Israelites from their Troubles, it seems that those returned upon them after his Decease, 2 King. xiv. 26, 27. yet his Son at last obtained the Kingdom for a little while, to fulfil the Word of the Lord, Chap. xv. 12.

Omitting what the Reader may now easily compute from the Table, I observe that Pekah was slain at 20 Years of Jotham, 2 King. xv. 30. that is from the Beginning of Jotham's Reign, for he reigning but 16 Years, brings it to 4 after his Death, as shewn on that Text; but Hoshea began reigning in the 12th Year of Ahaz, 2 King. xvii. 1. here then was another Interregnum in Israel of 7 Years, before Hoshea got to be King after he had slain Pekah: in which Time Ahaz King of Judah might partly rule there, as he is called King of Israel, 2 Chron. xxviii. 19. Hoshea reigning the 12th Year of Ahaz, and Hezekiah in the 3d of Hoshea, Hezekiah must begin before Ahaz had reigned 16 Years, as both Usher in Chron. sac. p. 17. and Bedford in Scrip. Chron. Tab. 46. put it. So here is a Year taken off from the End of the Reign of Ahaz. Lastly Hoshea being King almost 3 Years before Hezekiah, 2 King. xviii. 1, 9, 10. the Amount of the Years to the Beginning of the Reign of the first, will be 3 less than that of the other; and to the Commencement of Hezekiah's Reign was 259, as the Texts shew, therefore it was 256 when Hoshea began, and consequently as before there was an Interregnum of 7 Years.

Thus computing, the Kingdom of Israel or the ten Tribes remained 265 Years, from the Beginning of Jeroboam's to the End of Hoshea's Reign; for which we have an excellent confirming Testimony in Isa. vii. 8. where that Kingdom is called Ephraim, because of the Largeness of that Tribe, as it is elsewhere; and the Time of the 200 Years being over, which was not necessary to mention, the 1st of Ahaz being the Year 246, it is said, within the sixty five years, i. e. odd Years above the Hundreds, Ephraim shall be broken from being a People; reckoned according to the Words of the 17th Verse, from the Day that Ephraim departed from Judah. Prideaux and others indeed count those 65 Years from the Time of the Prophecy to a second Captivity of Israel by Esarhaddon, Con. An. 677. But such a Captivity is only imaginary for the sake of that Computation, and certainly Ephraim was broken before, 2 King. xvii. 6, 18. Broughton, our great Scripture Chronologer, blames others, but says he will not determine of it, Works p. 367. And here let me observe to the Reader, that the foregoing Tables of the Kings were composed, with a strict Attention to their several Particulars in the Texts cited, before I made the Computation of this and all the Numbers here following; so that I might well be agreeably surprized (in such a difficult Affair) to find those latter so exactly every one of them agree with the Calculation in the Table. I compare it as if one was now truly to survey that Country by Measure, and then examine the Scripture Account of its Geography, in which there would be doubtless the like Harmony. And if another, instead of an actual Survey, should compute the Dimensions of the Country from his own Notions of History (which Necessity indeed obliges to in that Case) he might be said to be imitated by such Chronologers, as adjust those extraneous Numbers by their own Imagination, and afterwards frame the Kings Reigns according to the same: which they mix together, in so much that Bedford counts Ahab, Ahaziah and Joram to reign at once in Israel, and two in Judah at the same Time, Scrip. Chron. Lib. VII. ii. 44. Again we find in Ezek. iv. 5. that the Family of Israel had been wicked 390 Years, as doubtless they still continued to be in their Affyrrian Captivity, or else might have been restored again as Manasseh was, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11, 12, 13. that being in the 5th Year of Zedekiah, Ezek. i. 2. & viii. 1. which shews that it was 390 Years from the Beginning of Jeroboam's Reign, when he set up Idolatry, to that Time; which is likewise according to the Table. And it would be preposterous and worse to reckon the Years of their Iniquity before they came, to the End of Zedekiah's Reign, or as some do 4 Years after, to which also the Particulars do not agree, and which did not belong to the Kingdom of Israel at all. Next from the Time that Josiah first endeavoured to reform Judah in the 8th Year of his Reign, 2 Chron. xxxiv. 3. since which their Iniquity was of a worse Kind, is by the Table 40 Years to that same Time, answerable to those in Ezek. iv. 6.

The 30th Year in Ezek. i. 1. appears to be that of the Establishment of the true Religion, and the great Passover kept by King Josiah in the 18th Year of his Reign, 2 Chron. xxxiv. 8. & xxxv. 19. which it is probable the better Sort might reckon from (as they also mourned for his Death, 2 Chron. xxxv. 25. 1 Esd. i. 32.) from whence to the 5th Year of Jehoiakim's Captivity, Ezek. i. 2. was the 30th Year likewise by the Table; agreeing with Usher; Annales ad A. M. 3409. Prid. Connell. An. 594.

I have still another very strong Proof. When the Israelites were going to the Country of Canaan, they were ordered when they came there, to let every 7th Year be a Sabbath of Rest from sowing, &c. Lev. xxv. 2, 3, 4; and with the 49th which would be one of those Sabbatical Years, they were likewise commanded to keep the 50th a Year of Jubile, Ver. 8, 10. and of Rest as the other, Ver. 5, 11. Such two Years together we read of 2 King: xix. 29. the first of which called this Year we may find to be the 14th Year of Hezekiah, Chap. xviii. 13. Now from the Israelites Entrance into Canaan to the Beginning of Hezekiah's Reign is by the Table 735 Years, consequently his 14th Year was such a Sabbatical Year, and the next a Year of Jubile: reckoning the Sabbatical Years to begin still from every Jubile, that the 7th of the former might be with the latter, according to Lev. xxv. 8, 9. which Prideaux says, is indeed the truth of the matter, Pref. to Vol. I. agreeable to Josephus, Antiq. iii. 12. Maimonides, Jobel x. 7. Thus counting on two more Jubiles, the third Sabbatical Year after falls on the 9th of Zedekiah's Reign, which we may find to be such by Jer. xxxiv. 6, 7, 8, 9, 14, 15, 22. 2 King. xxv. 1. and Usher's Annales Veteris Testamenti ad A. M. 3414.

Here is to be observed, that the odd Time over and under the Years of the respective Reigns, and the Latitude of one King beginning his Reign any Time in the whole Year of another, with the Computation being only by Years, occasion the 1st Year of a King sometimes to be put, not against the Year of the other King in which it began, but against the next Year in which the greater Part of it fell out, as may be seen of Asa, Jehoshaphat and Amaziah Kings of Judah, and Jehoram K. of Israel; but withal it is to be observed, that this cannot be but where the Predecessors Years before were not full ones, for which see the former Table; and from the Beginning of the Reigns of Joash K. of Israel, and Hezekiah K. of Judah, no Absurdity will arise, because not confined by the End of a foregoing Reign. In like Manner, where the 1st Year of a King, and the last of his Predecessor are put in the same Year, that last Year must not make up the whole one of the Amount. On the contrary, when the 1st Year of one is put as beginning the Year after the last of another, that last must make up the Year of its Amount full; or more: Instances of to h which occur in the Table.

Bedford in Scrip. Chron. Tab. 46. puts the 1 of Asa and 1 of Nadab the same Year, as he does also the 1 of Jotham and 1 of Pekab; with the 1 of Abaz and 16 of Pekab; each of which is impossible to be right, because Nadab began reigning in the 2 of Asa, 1 King. xv. 25. Jotham in the 2 of Pekab; 2 King. xv. 32. and Abaz in the 17 of Pekab, 2 King. xvi. 1. What then must the rest of the Table be which follows such Computation?

But if we come to Stackhouse, he has the Death of Nadab 4 Years after that of Jeroboam; Athaliah's Death 27 Years after she usurped the Kingdom; &c. with double Dates in such Manner.

This Table may be of great Use, besides Chronology, for understanding many Things which were done in those two Kingdoms within that Time.

The Beginning of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign to the End of Zedekiah's producing some Difficulties, I thought fit to tabulate it also as follows.

The first nineteen Years of Nebuchadnezzar answering to those of the Kings of Judah, with the Amount continued from the foregoing Table, and what was done in them.

It appears by the Texts cited, that in Nebuchadnezzar's first 8 Years was some of Jehoiakim's 3d Year, all that he reigned of his 11th, and the whole Time of Jehoiachin; which must all not amount to a full Year, because the 4th and 10th of Jehoiakim make 7 Years. It also appearing that the Year ended in Jehoiachin's Reign, 2 Chr. xxxvi. 10. according to the Computation in the former Table, Nebuchadnezzar's 8th must extend further than the 386th in the Amount, and consequently his 19th further than the 397th, but not Zedekiah's 11th, because not full. The Years of the Amount are not to be supposed to agree exactly with the others, which do not with one another. As Nebuchadnezzar began reigning in the End of Jehoiakim's 3d Year, as is acknowledged, his 1st most properly answers to the 4th of Jehoiakim, according to several Instances in the former Table: yet Bedford says his 1st is reckoned in Jehoiakim's 3d, 2 King. xxv. 8. Jer. lii. 30. (for Ver. 12.) but in his 4th, Jer. lii. 29. and so he counts Zedekiah's Captivity in the 19th by the first, and 18th Year of Nebuchadnezzar by the last Reckoning, supposing both to amount to the same, Script. Chron. p. 602. whereas the first Computation amounts to the 20th, and the last to the 19th of Nebuchadnezzar, in the 11th of Zedekiah, even by his own Table, p. 699, 700. and by his quoting Jer. xxxii. 1. for the last Reckoning. And the 18th of Nebuchadnezzar being there the 10th of Zedekiah, the Texts which he brings for the other Way of Reckoning, having the 19th Year of the former the 11th Year of the latter, must be counted in the same Manner.

Prideaux begins the Captivity of Jehoiachin in the next Year of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, both in his Table and History, Part 1. B. 2. whereas the Scripture mentions his 8th Year, 2 King. xxiv. 12. towards the End of which it being, the Beginning of the 37th in 2 King. xxv. 27. would be towards the End of Nebuchadnezzar's 44th, who dying in his 45th, and Jehoiachin's Advancement being near the End of the 37th Year of his Captivity, as Prideaux himself reckons, it might well enough be in the 1st Year of Evil-merodach, without contradicting the Scripture in either Place.

As I have already given a Catalogue of the Kings of lower Egypt, after Exod. to the Time the Israelites went from thence; and as their Succession continued till after this Captivity, and some of them are mentioned in the Scriptures; I thought it well to insert them from Manetho, Herodotus, Diod. Siculus and Africanus.

Under this last King, Cambyfes the Son of Cyrus conquering the Country, added it to the Persian Empire, which being in the 5th Year of Cambyfes, where Prideaux as well as Synellus places it, the whole agrees with the Israelites Departure from Egypt in my Tables. As no Part of the very ancient Chronology seems of so much Certainty and Use, as the Quotations from Manetho by Josephus against Apion, Lib. 1. It is fit to follow him to the End. Manetho relating that the Son of Amenophis was called Rhameffes, Josephus says it was 393 Years from the Departure of the Shepherds out of Egypt (which was at the Beginning of the Reign of Tethmofis) to the Reign of Sethon; and repeats the same Number in his 2d Book against Apion: according to which Rhameffes must have reigned 60 Years to make up that Sum, and it appears evident this was the Time of his reigning in Manetho's Account, though omitted by Josephus; for how else could Josephus know it was 393 Years? Africanus too has 60 Years expressly assigned to Rhameffes, notwithstanding he is differently placed in his Catalogue. In the next place Manetho informs us that Sethon reigned 59 Years, and his Son Rhameffes 66; to the End of whose Reign it was 518 Years, as Josephus mentions: which still more confirms this Computation, and clearly unfolds the Application of those Numbers, that I have yet found none who could deal with. Sir J. Marsham in Can. Chron. ad Sec. 13. supposes the Years of Sethon were doubled to make 518; but who can believe Josephus would reckon so? And that would have made but 517. The next Kings, the rest of the 19th Dynasty, according to Eusebius, are the three in the Table; and the like by Africanus, only he has Rhameffes between the 1st and 2d of them, where Eusebius has none: which is an Indication it is wrong placed; and by removing it before Sethon, Africanus agrees both with Manetho and Eusebius, and Africanus has also six Reigns in this Dynasty. To the Reign of this Amenophis indeed Eusebius has 40 Years, but considering he left out Rhameffes, he may rather be thought to enlarge here, and so the 20 Years of Africanus to be right; whom I also follow in the Reigns of Thueris, where Eusebius has one more. However Eusebius seems in some Places to have amended the Reckoning of the other: as Africanus has but 5 Years to Anmenemes, whereas Synellus himself, as well as Eusebius, puts 26, so that I preferred the latter. And the Numbers of the 20th Dynasty and Smendes are from Eusebius; but then I follow Africanus to the End of that Dynasty, whom Eusebius transcribes with the Difference of a few Years less in Psusennes. The next Dynasty begins with Sesenchis or Sesenchosis, and besides the Likeness of the Names, Marsham pleads that the famous Sesostris of the Greek Writers was thus called; nay the old Scholiast on the Argonautics of Apollonius, Lib. 4. says Sesenchosis King of Egypt subdued all Asia, and most Part of Europe; which none did but Sesostris: whom Marsham also industriously endeavours to shew was the Scripture Shishak, but was unhappy in his Manner of proving it, by throwing the Egyptian Chronology into so great Confusion. Sir Isaac Newton too in The Chronology of antient Kingdoms amended, Chap. 1, 2. and Shuckford, Connest. of Sacr. and proph. Hist. Pref. to Vol. 2. were of the same Mind that he was Shishak, whose Reasons for it may be seen. Accordingly the 5th Year of Rehoboam when Shishak took Jerusalem, is coincident with the 6th Year of this King of Egypt by my Tables. And as Sesostris began his Reign with 9 Years

War abroad, and first against the Ethiopians, Diod. Sicul. Lib. i. 4. this agrees exceeding well with his bringing Ethiopians and other Africans whom he had then subdued, against Judah in the 6th Year, 2 Chron. xii. 2, 3. But the taking Sethon to be Sesostris, and putting his Time and that of the rest so much forward as our two Knights do, makes the Account inconsistent and incredible. Josephus also observes, that Herodotus ascribes to Sesostris, what the Scripture relates of Shishak, Antiq. iv. 8. Another Thing I may add is, that Herodotus Lib. 2. relates, Sesostris was several Descents, and Diodorus Lib. i. 4. says seven after Myris or Maris, which is very suitable for a little more than 200 Years; but cannot be for Sethon to be Sesostris, who reigned above 200 Years before Maris; see after Exod. Helvicus in his Chronological History, calling this first Bubastite King Sesochosis or Sesenchis, adds these Words, without doubt the same who is named in the Scripture Sesac, or Shishak, 1 King. xi. 40. and quotes learned Men saying Sesosis in Diod. (whom all acknowledge, and his Exploits there plainly declare, to be Sesostris) should be read Sesenchis. Upon examining the Affairs of Sethon and Sesostris, I find a considerable Difference (tho' some who reckon Sesostris very ancient might mistake him for Sethon) the royal Family of the former fled to Ethiopia, where they had a generous Reception 13 Years, while the Enemy ravaged the Country, as Manetho delivers it; whereas Sesostris made war on the Ethiopians, and overcame them: Sethon was left in Egypt but 5 Years old, according to Manetho, or by Charemon in Josephus ag. Ap. Lib. i. not born, when his Father fled out of the Land; Sesostris on the contrary was by his Father bred up to martial Exercise, and then sent with an Army into Arabia: and certainly both might make Conquests, without being the same Person. Nor has it the Face of Probability, that presently after the Death of all the First-born in Egypt, and the great Overthrow in the Red Sea, the next Prince should go out with a great Army, and conquer other Countries, as Usher, Annal. 2515. and his Followers pretend. Sethon reigning 59 Years, the Reign of Sesostris by Diod. was 33, as I have therefore put it. His Successor, says the same Author, was a Son of his own Name, whom Herodotus, Lib. 2. calls Phero, and Pliny, Nat. Hist. Lib. xxxvi. 11. Nuncoreus, as the remarkable Relation of his being blind shews. Thus I go on, taking the 44 Years of Eusebius and the old Egyptian Chronicle, instead of the 6th of Africanus in the 24th Dynasty; whom I also quite leave at the Interregnum, which Diodorus says there was of two Years, and a Government by 12 Persons jointly 15 Years. But as there were 3 or 4 different Kingdoms in Egypt, and Diod. treating of any King that he knew remarkable, like Herodotus, we are not to expect an orderly Succession from him (of which see Marsham, Can. Chron. ad Sec. 3.) whom we have already traced from the upper to the lower Egypt, after Exod. and here; and who after speaking of Sesostris and his Son, may be supposed to wander again and go back, by the strange Names of the Kings he mentions, not met with elsewhere, and his mentioning the Time of the Trojan War afterwards, Lib. i. 5. The Reigns of the 6 last Kings are taken from Herodotus, as he seems to have known best concerning them. And Diodorus says Amasis died at the 3d Year of the 63d Olympiad, which was the 4188 of the Jul. Period. By my Tables the Reigns of Hofhea and So began together, which agrees exceeding well, as they are both so short, that a little might have made made them jar : the Death of Josiah accordingly falls in the 8th Year of Necho's Reign, and the 7th of Pharaoh-hophra's with the 11th of Zedekiah's, as Eusebius says it did. And Tirhakah seems to have been King of Ethiopia before he was of Egypt. Diod. Siculus in Lib. i. 4. as he is quoted by Sir John Marsham in his Canon Chronicus, Secul. 1. writes Ἀφραί λέγεται τὸ Μῦθ τὴν ἀποχόνου δύο πρὸς τοῖς πενήκοντα τὴν ἀπασταὶ ἐν πλείω τῶν χρόνων καὶ τετρακκοίων, they say the Posterity of Menes 52 in all reigned above 1400 Years. Accordingly reckoning Salatis the Successor of Menes in lower Egypt as after Exod. Bocchoris, in whom the ancient Egyptian Race as it seems ended, is the 49th King in the Tables, besides the 20th Dynasty which might contain 3 more; the Years of whose Reigns amount to about 1427.

Georg. Syncellus exhibits a Catalogue of 86 Kings reigning 2205 Years, from Menes to Anafis inclusive; which tho' Shuckford has lately inserted in his Connect. Book 11. and could not help thinking that Syncellus had added Reigns and made Numbers, to suit his own Purpose, yet he makes no Discovery of what that was: whereas the Intent of Syncellus doubtless was, to make a Chronology suitable to the Account of the Greek Bible, which has 100 Years apiece more than the Hebrew, from the Birth of one to another of the Postdiluvians, Arphaxad, Selah, Eber, Peleg, Ren and Serug, besides the Addition of 130 to Cainan, and 150, or by Usher, Chron. Sac. p. 46. only 50 to Nahor. These being put together amount to Syncellus's Augmentation, and in this Light only it is plain we are to look on it.

Several of the Affyrian Kings being also named in Scripture, and serving to confirm the divine Chronology, take the following Account of them from Ctesias, Africanus, Eusebius and Syncellus.

Ninus being counted the first King, and Sardanapalus the last, Augustine, De Civit. Dei, Lib. xviii. 20. reckons the whole Time 1305 Years, exactly as in the Table. Justin, Lib. 1. 2. computing by the cardinal Number, says they held the Affyrian Empire 1300 Years. For at the Death of Sardanapalus it being parted into two Empires, the Babylonian and as some term it the Median, Justin reckons Arbaces or Arbaces the first King of Media, who was Lieutenant of it before, under the Affyrian Monarch. Ctesias the Cnidian likewise, who was Physician to Artaxerxes Mnemon King of Persia some hundred Years before Christ, as quoted by Diodorus Siculus, Lib. ii. 2. his own

Works being lost, says that the Affyrian Monarchy, after it had flourished 1360 Years, at the Reign of Sardanapalus came to the Medes. Reckoning this to the Beginning of the Reign of Belus, it agrees also precisely with the Table. In the Years of the Reigns I follow Julius Africanus as quoted by Syncellus, except as hereunder mentioned; whose Chronology reaches to A. D. 221, as that of Eusebius does to 326: which latter Author being blamed by Scaliger in his Animadversions on him, for lessening the Time to make that of Tautanes be at the Trojan War, I have put to Sofarmus 42 Years, as Helvicus does, instead of Eusebius's 19. who has

has also no Reign between Tutaus and Thinaus; but Africanus has 4 thus, Arabelus 42, Chalaus 45, Anebus 38, Babius 37. Upon considering how this Difference might arise, it seems probable that they all four reigned together, and so both these Chronologers misapprehending it, fell into such Errors: their Reigns being near of a Length strengthens me in this Opinion, and that they were Brothers is not unlikely; the first of whom may be most properly supposed to succeed at the Death of Teutaus, which is what answers our Purpose. As for Chalaus, he might be made King while Teutaus lived, as a Partner and one who was to have the Kingdom, but upon Displeasure might be put by at the Decease of Teutaus; and then he, as likewise the other two afterwards might claim the Government, and partly reign, till Thinaus ended all their Reigns together. By Africanus too Teutaus reigned 44 Years, and Sardanapalus 15, which put together differ from those of Eusebius in the Table but 1; and by counting Sosarmus 22, and Sardanapalus 15, there arise 1280 Years, according to Castor's Computation. For farther Confirmation of this List of Kings, there are the following Words in Velleius Paterculus, Lib. i. 6. Sardanapalum tertio & tricesimo loco ab Nino & Semiramide, qui Babylona condiderant, Sardanapalus the thirty third by descent from Ninus and Semiramis, those who built Babylon; but as Semiramis did not begin to build Babylon, till after the Death of her Husband Ninus, Diod. Sic. ii. 1. Just. i. 2. Nino might be mistranscribed from Ninya, though Ninyas is called Ninus by Cedrenus, p. 16. from whom, according to Eusebius, Sardanapalus was the 33d, as Arabelus might not be counted in by reason of the Uncertainty, or the Omission of him in some Catalogue. Diod. Sicul. Lib. ii. 2. calls Teutamus the 20th, and Sardanapalus the 30th, reckoning only by the nearest of the greater Numbers, as appears in the same Chap. by his saying the Affyrian Empire lasted 1400 Years, when he had said before it was 1360. To this may be added that Georg. Syncellus from Diodorus asserts, that Sardanapalus was the 35th King from Ninus, as in the Catalogue. Now Arbaces beginning to reign when Nabonassar King of Babylon did, at which Time the noted Epocha of that Name commenced, in the Year of the Jul. Per. 3967, by my Tables Belus began reigning 258 Years after the Flood; which agrees so well with the Scripture, that it does not seem easy to tell how it could better. See the Note on Gen. xi. 9. Simplicius in his Treatise De Caelo, Lib. 2. relates from Porphyry, that Calisthenes sent to Aristotle his Master astronomical Observations of 1903 Years, found at Babylon when Alexander took it: that being in the Year of the Jul. Per. 4383, those Observations extended by my Tables to 131 Years after the Flood, and 26 after the Birth of Peleg, when as it appears Babylon was built, Gen. x. 25. & xi. 8. and which may confute the Opinion that it was built later. Acraganus seems to be the Scripture Pul mentioned 2 King. xv. 19. the Affair there shewing it self to be done at the very Beginning of Menahem's Reign, as it might near the End of that King of Affyria's, Sardanapalus being too effeminate a Prince for such an Expedition; which is agreeable to the Catalogues. Thus proceeding, Arbaces or Tiglath-pileser ended his Reign at the 12th Year of Ahoz. Shalmaneser began his Reign with Hoshea, Sennacherib his with the 12th of Hezekiah: which Prideaux puts to his 14th, as if Sennacherib had just began reigning when he made war on Judah; but how does it consist with 2 King. xviii. 35? I shall add another Proof of the Agreeableness of this Calculation, from Augustin, De Civitate Dei, Lib. xvi. 17. that when Abraham was born the Affyrian Monarchy flourished in Asia; whose Birth falls out 4 Years before the Death of Ninus.

Velleius Paterculus likewise, Lib. i. 6. quoting the Annals of Æmilius Sura, writes, that it was 1995 Years between the Beginning of the Reign of Ninus, and the Romans having a supreme Empire by the Conquest of the Macedonian Race, after the Ruin of Carthage: which latter, described by Justin, Lib. xl. 2. when the Empire of the Seleucida, Alexander's Successors ended, fell out as by Prideaux's Tables in the Year of the Jul. Per. 4649, Carthage being destroyed 81 Years before; from whence if we subtract 1995, there remains 2654 for the Commencement of Ninus's Reign, only 8 before the Time in the Table, and that small Space, if it is necessary to be exact, he might govern with his Father. Cumberland in: Orig. Gent. Ant. p. 258. contrary to the Expression, reckons back the 1995 Years from the Destruction of: Carthage, which then makes the Beginning of Ninus's Reign above 90 Years sooner than it is in his Table; however he intimates they should be counted from a Victory over Antiochus, that was not only 44 Years sooner, but before the Fall of Carthage, instead of after it.

As the Scripture likewise affords us the Name of a King of Tyre, Hiram, Chap. v, & ix. called Huram, 2 Chron. ii. and another of the Zidonians (who by the following Names, and Nearness of the Places, appear to be both of the same Line) viz. Ethbaal, Chap. xvi. 31. of the first Book of Kings; and as Josephus agt. Apion, Lib. x. furnishes us with a Catalogue of the Kings of Tyre, out of the Tyrian Annals by Menander (this being also omitted by Usher, &c.) I was willing to display such a concurrent Testimony as it yields.

After Abibal it is there recorded, reigned.

The foregoing Tables of the Kings being so full and exact, that the Time of other Transactions within the Compass of them may be readily found, I have here inserted but a few principal Matters. The 70 Years are placed as beginning with the first Captivity, and not with that of Jeboiachin nor Zedekiah: for the Prophecy of the 70 Years was in the first of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, when the said Captivity was; and beginning with that King's Successes in War, ended with the Babylonian Empire; besides the 70 Years are not spoken of Judah only, but of several other Nations, that are afterwards named in Jer. xxv.

Jeremiah also at the Beginning of the first Captivity, Chap. xxv. 1. speaking of its Desolation Ver. 11. (which Allen has used for an Objection to this) shews that the Desolation, &c. was then, Ver. 18. Daniel too near the End of the 70 Years, in the 1st of Darius, knowing the appointed Term, Chap. ix. 2. and that it was almost fulfilled, as appears from the first and his own Captivity, prayed that it might not be deferred, Ver. 19. being probably doubtful whether it might not be extended to 70 Years after the second or third Captivity; for it is not to be thought that he prayed thus, for fear the 70 Years should be increased. But see further Proof of their Beginning so, after the ensuing Canon of Ptolemy. The Medes and Lydians, after five Years War, fighting a great Battle, were parted by the Fright of an Eclipse of the Sun of 9 Digits that made it dark, Herodot. Lib. i. p. 13. which according to our present Account was on September 20. 3 h. 25 m. before Noon, and held almost two Hours, in the 4113th Year of the Jul. Period, in the Year 601 before Christ, by Hipparchus and Ptolemy; the Medes then choosing Labyntus or Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, and the Lydians Siennesis King of Cilicia, a Peace was made, by Astyages, the Son of Cyaxares King of Media marrying Ariena the Daughter of Halyattes King of Lydia; from which Marriage Darius mentioned Dan. v. 31. being born within a Year after, who being as Daniel says about 62 Years old when he received the Babylonian Kingdom, and dying two Years after left it wholly to Cyrus, brings the End of the 70 Years Captivity in the 1st Year of Cyrus to the 4178th Year of the Jul. Period, as by the Table. This Eclipse Herodotus says, Thales the Milesian foretold to the Ionians; but should not be mistaken for that which Cicero and Pliny mention; the former saying, De Divinat. Lib. 1. Astyages regnante facta est, it came to pass while Astyages reigned; whereas it is plain to be seen by the foregoing Narration, that Astyages had not then begun reigning: Pliny likewise saying, in Lib. ii. 12. that Thales, Olympiadis 48 anno quarto, prædictæ Solis defectu, predicted one in the 4th Year of the 48th Olympiad, which was 16 Years after this Eclipse; and was as is said almost or quite a total one, falling upon the 28th of the Month called May, Newton, Chron. Ch. 4. Alsted, Chron. 4. And why might not he calculate two as well as one? Yet our great modern Chronologers confound them together, even Sir Isaac Newton, Usher, Helvicus, &c. the first of whom applying the last Eclipse to the fore-mentioned Battle, says Darius the Son of Cyaxares being then 15 or 16 Years old, married Ariena the Daughter of Alyattes King of Lydia Chron. of Ant. Kingd. amend. Chap. 4. which however does not alter the Chronology. The 4th Year of the 48th Olympiad being the 168th after the building of Rome, and Pliny relating the Eclipse was in the 170th; Alstedius says he confounded two Eclipses together, placing the latter two Years after the other on October 1: which Astronomical Calculation might determine, but otherwise I am apt to think, that Pliny might have miscomputed 2 Years from the building of Rome, rather than two such great Eclipses to be so near together. As to what Suidas says in his Account of Thales, that he predicted an Eclipse of the Sun in the Time of Darius, it may be understood of the Life, not the Reign of Darius. That this Eclipse fell out while Cyaxares the Father of Astyages and Halyattes were engaged in a Battle, is confirmed by Endemus in his Astronomical History, quoted by Clemens Alexandrinus, Stromat. Lib. 1. see Univer. Hist. B. i. Ch. 10. nay Herodotus besides his main Account of it, p. 13. says again, p. 19. it was Cyaxares fought the Battle with the Lydians, when the Day was turned into Night.

Thus the Chronology has been carried on to the first Year of the Reign of Cyrus; and the 70 Years in Zech. vii. 5. from Zedekiah's Captivity, as the Fasts shew, to the 4th Year of Darius, Ver. 1. extend it 18 Years further, and Ezra vi. 13. two more; with which agree those in Zech. i. 12. After this the Chain of the Scripture Numbers being broke, it is necessary to seek other Help (in order der to fix remaining Transactions) the best or most certain of which is allowed to be that of Ptolemy in his Almagest. He being a great Astronomer in the Reign of Marcus Aurelius the 17th Roman Emperor, who began reigning Anno Dom. 161, made a Canon of Chronology, from the Time of Antoninus the preceding Emperor up to that of Nabonassar the first King of Babylon inclusive; this Canon written in Greek and printed by Calvisius, is confirmed by the Observations of Eclipses which had been made, and recorded to be in particular Years of the Kings Reigns, which makes it in a Manner undoubtedly true; and has been published by Bambridge from a Manuscript in the Bodleian Library, Gregor. Postum. Cap. 7. According to which I find the Chronology as follows, beginning in the Year of the Jul. Per. 3967, and before Christ 747 as commonly reckoned.

The first of these till Cyaxares governed the Babylonian Empire, the next till Alexander called the Great the Mædian and Persian, he and his 2 Successors the Macedonian, the Ptolemys with Queen Cleopatra Egypt, and the last were Roman Emperors; so that on the Change from one Empire to another, here is not the whole Time that the first reigned, but how long it was after the Death of the foregoing one. I chose to put down those who did not reign a Year, for the better illustrating the Scripture History, tho' they are not in Ptolemy's Canon, who reckoned the whole Year to such as he understood reigned at the Beginning of it, with some Exception, which was an excellent

Way to avoid the Uncertainty that might arise by the Parts of Years; so Laberoforced beginning his Reign at the Entrance of the Spring, ended it before the next Year began, &c. which Time is not to be counted to the Amount. Cyaxares and his Son-in-law Cyrus being also a Kind of Partners in the Government, this Author omits the latter, and counts 9 Years to Cyrus. Now the Eclipse of the Sun beforementioned being in the 4th Year of Nebuchadnezzar's reigning alone by this Canon, which was the 6th by Scripture Account, excepting Dan. ii. 1. and being 65 Years before the End of the 70 Years Captivity according to Dan. v. 31. their Beginning falls in the 1st of Nebuchadnezzar, which was the 4th of Jehoiakim, Jer. xxv. 1. and could not begin either with Jehoiachin's or Zedekiah's Captivity. Again, the 37th Year of Jehoiachin's Captivity was the 1st of Evil-merodach, 2 King. xxv. 27. from whence to the 1st of Cyrus are but 25 Years, which can make no more than 62, and from the Captivity of Zedekiah will be 10 Years less. Besides the 26th Year of Jehoiachin's Captivity, by which Ezekiel reckons, Ch. i. 2. &c. being the 34th of Jehoiakim's, when Tyre was taken, and Ishobal its King slain, Ezek. xxix. 17. Josephus against Apion, Lib. 1. the 70 Years are thus made up from the Phœnician Annals:

Cyrus beginning his Reign, as they say, in the 14th Year of Hiram, Joseph. ib. according to which the 70 Years of Jehoiakim's Captivity might end exactly in the 1st Year of Cyrus, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 21, 22. Nay even by the Scripture it self, Zech. vii. 5. it was 70 Years from Zedekiah's Captivity, not to the 1st of Cyrus, but to the 14th of Darius, which agrees with the Canon. Seventy Years also must needs have been too long for many of the Priests and Levites to be living, and returned from Captivity, who remembered the Extent of the first Temple, Ezr. iii. 12. see also on Zech. vii. 5. and Broughton's Works, p. 368. To conclude in Confirmation of what will be most for the following Purpose, Ptolemy gives account of 6 Eclipses of the Moon observed in the 7th Year of Cambyfes, 20th and 31st of Darius Hystaspis, 22d and 2 in the 23d of Artaxerxes Mnemon; the Truth of which appears by Street's Calculation of them in his Astronomia Carolina, p. 98. as also another of the Moon mentioned by Plutarch in the Life of Alexander, on Sept. 20. eleven Days before his last Battle with Darius, and by Pliny, Lib. ii. 10.

Let us go next to that Angelical Prophecy beginning Dan. ix. 24. and compare it with this Account. Seventy Sevens, or 490 Years seem plainly foretold to end at the Death of Christ, Ver. 24. But the late noted Scheme of Bish. Lloyd's, so earnestly contended for by Marshall in his Treatise upon the Seventy Weeks of Daniel; and approved of by Bedford, &c. reckons 69 of those Sevens to his Death, and the last Seven separate, above 30 Years after, for the Destruction of Jerusalem. In the first place let us consider it is there positively said, Seventy Sevens are determined to do six Things, with which that Sentence ends; and they were all not only evidently accomplished at or about Christ's Death, but I observe those latter Writers themselves interpret it so, and do not pretend one of them related to the Destruction of Jerusalem, Marsh. p. 2. Bedf. Scrip. Chron. Lib. vii. 1. 29. which I count a giving up their Controversy at first. How strange too is their parting the Numbers, as if 20 of the 120 Years in Gen. vi. 3. was to be placed a while after the Flood! Why should any of the Time belong to that Destruction, if not to tell how long it would be to it? Nor did that take up the Space of 7 Years. The next Verse shews it should be 69 Sevens, or 483 Years to the Messiah; which being expounded to his Death, does not agree with the foregoing, nor yet with the following Verse, where it is expressly said it would be after that Time. Now from the 19th of Tiberius, when as it is agreed Christ was crucified, on the 14th of Nisan and 3d of the Month called April, back to the 7th Year of Artaxerxes Longimanus, when he gave the Commission to Ezra, Chap. vii. 8. is by Ptolemy's Canon 490 Years, which is confirmed especially by the 6 Eclipses above-mentioned, 3 before and 3 after that Time, both being done in the first Month, Ver. 9. Exod. xii. 18. Mat. xxvi. 17. consequently from that Commission to 7 Years before the Death of Christ must be 483 Years, and we find him baptized, and the Holy Spirit descending on him in the 15th of Tiberius, Luk. iii. which was probably too about the same Time of the Year, that the Season might be suitable for John to go on with his Baptism, and the Multitude resort to him abroad, as it is said of the Place, John iii. 23. and this is called the Beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, Mark i. 1. That 15th Year, it is true, must not be according to Ptolemy's Account, to answer this Computation, but Suetonius in Tib. Paternulus, Lib. ii. 121. & Tacitus, Annal. Lib. i. 3. inform us Tiberius was put in joint Government of the Provinces before the Death of Augustus, from whence it is no Wonder that the Year was dated there while Tiberius lived; which the Reader may see more fully in Prideaux's Connec. Pt. 1. B. 5. and Mann's True Years of Christ, p. 138, 139, 140. and whereas Marshall makes great Objection against Prideaux, Pt. 1. Chap. 2. for leaving the Canon of Ptolemy, and he did not live to make reply; I would briefly remark, that I do not see why Luke might not compute another Way, as well as Jeremiah, Chap. xxv. 1. does the Beginning of the Reign of Nebuchadnezzar 2 Years before the Death of Nabopolassar, different to that Canon; and Ezra does the 1st of Cyrus, Chap. i. 1. which by Ptolemy was the third. Nay Marshall himself pleads against Lancaster, that the Scripture Years of Nebuchadnezzar and Cyrus are not according to his Canon, p. 46, 44. and Bedford puts the Baptism of Christ 7 Years before his Death like Prideaux, Tab. 50. see more further. As to the Beginning of those Years, Lloyd, &c. puts it in the 20th Year of Artaxerxes Longimanus, Neb. ii. 1. and as from thence to the Death of Christ there are but 477 Years, and by their Scheme there should be 483, they reckon only 360 Days to a Year, in order to make up the Number so; which is a leaving the foregoing Canon throughout. As this Prophecy was both for and concerning the Jews, probably their own Years, the same with Jeremiah's 70, Ver. 2. were intended; which must be solar, answerable to the present Julian or Gregorian ones, for their Festivals to be at the same Season of the Year, Exod. xxxiv. 22. Lev. xxiii. 39. and the Chaldean Years where Daniel was, had been 365 Days from the Time of Nabonassar. In 477 Years then of 365 1/4 Days, are 484 times 360, within 16 Days; even Marshall having tabulated the Days in every Year from Nehemiah's Grant to the Death of Christ, makes it want but 33 Days of 484 such Years, p. 212, 230. And if the 483 Years to the Messiah, Dan. ix. 25. were to his Death, as those Writers compute, this is not so by their own Reckoning. As for their sheltering the odd Time under the Word after in the next Verse, it sets the 2 Verses at Variance: for is 62 Sevens there exactly so many Years, and the very same here almost a Year more? And why almost a Year, since the Numbers are not Years, but Sevens? Marshall owns that the Year in that Country was 365 Days, yet pretends the common People used another of 360 Days; which would be unaccountable Confusion to have Years of such different Lengths at the same Time and Place, especially for a People so polite, and under kingly Government. But the great Matter insisted on is, that the Prophecy is literal, and so the Time must begin at the Command to build Jerusalem: whereas we find no such Command to Nehemiah, but a Grant only at his Request; and what he did build was the Wall, Gates, and Doors, Chap. iii. neither of which was mentioned by the Angel, Marshall owning it is Ditch there: besides that the Allowance for his own House alone, naturally excludes others, Neb. ii. 8. Nay who should he build Streets for, not carrying People with him to inhabit them? Whereas Ezra took many with him for Inhabitants, Ezr. viii. On the other hand Prideaux pleads for a figurative Sense, which may be literal to restore; and that the City was built even before fore his own Commencement of the Time; but it appears that the People who returned first from Captivity were dispersed in other Parts of the Country, Ezr. 2. 70. & iii. 1. and hindered from building the City, Chap. iv. 21. and though they built the Temple afterwards, yet being settled in other Places, we may conclude the main Building of Jerusalem began at the 2d Return of towards 2000 Males along with Ezr. Chap. viii. Now the Words for fixing the Beginning of those Sevens in Daniel are, the coming out of the Commission to restore and build Jerusalem, Chap. ix. 25. and there was an express Commission come out in the 7th of Artaxerxes, which may be said properly and literally to restore Jerusalem, both in its ecclesiastical and civil State, Ezr. vii. 19, 20, 23, 25, 26. and that they might build by Virtue of it appears by Ver. 18. and the very Nature of the Case required that they should have Houses to dwell in. However if they built but a little then, it might be sufficient to fulfil the Prophecy, since that allows seven Sevens of Years, for doing the Streets and Ditches. Marshall would have both the Verbs to mean only build again, according as our Eng. Transl. has it in the latter Part of the Verse: so another might plead in the same Manner, that the latter should be like the former. The first Verb for restores is a perfect one of it self, and if it may sometimes be rendered with another again, for the sake of the Eng. Expression, it is when it plainly signifies no more as separate: which is not the Case here, by Marshall's arguing for the one, and against the other.

To proceed to the last Seven in the 27th Verse, how do the Abettors of the new Scheme trifle, when they explain his confirming the Covenant with many, by the Romans making Peace with two or three other Nations? For which Marshall has set out three Years and a half, p. 270, 271, 272. though by the Text it belongs as well to the whole Seven. How much more suitable was the preaching of the Gospel, &c. by John and Christ seven Years! As Christ's own Preaching and Death, in the last Half of it, abolished the legal Offerings. What follows after is agreed to belong to the Destruction of Judea and Jerusalem by the Romans. And Christ's applying it to that Time, Mat. xxiv. 15. is no Proof, as is pretended, Bedf. Scr. Chr. L. vii. 1. 26. that the last Seven was then. On the contrary Ver. 24. shows that the whole seventy Sevens ended before, which Jf. Newton in his Observations on the Prophecies of Daniel, Chap. x. interprets to begin also in the 7th Year of Artaxerxes, and end at the Death of Christ.

I choose to add a little concerning the Time of Christ's Birth, as our common Account is found to be wrong, and as it will be a strong Confirmation of what I have been pleading for above. He must be born a considerable while before the Death of Herod the Father of Archelaus, by Mat. iii. Josephus gives Account that Herod died a little before the Passover, Ant. Lib. xvii. 11. and that there was an Eclipse of the Moon at Night a little before his Death, Ant. Lib. xvii. 8. which Eclipse appears to be a total one, on the 20th of the Month called January, about 5 o'clock in the Evening. in the 4712th Year of the Julian Period, Bedford's Scrip. Chron. Book viii. Sect. 9, 10. As this was in the Beginning of that Year, and as Christ was born towards the End of a Year, we may conclude it was in the 4709th of that Period, four Years before the common Æra, by the Wise Men's coming out of the East, their Stay there, and the Slaughter of the Children afterwards, at and about Bethlehem; which also extending to those who were two Years old, according as Herod had diligently enquired Christ's Age of the Wise Men, to whom the Star probably appeared when he was born, he may be supposed in his 2d Year then, of which see Light. Harm. 4 Evan. and by going into Egypt, and remaining there as it seems a considerable Time, Mat. ii. 14, 15. he might well be upwards of two Years old. Besides the Jews said to Christ, This Temple has been building 46 Years, Joh. ii. 20. as it should be rendered, because it was building several Years after that, Joseph. Antiq. Lib. xx. 8. see also Univer. Hist. B. II. Chap. ii. 5. whereas King Herod proposed the new building it to the Jews in the 18th Year of his Reign, Joseph. Antiq. Lib. xv. 14. probably towards the End of it at the Passover in the 1st Month, his Reign beginning about the 3d Month; but they were unwilling to have the old one pulled down, for fear he should not build a new one: upon this he undertook to get all the Materials ready first, which would likely take up more than a Year, before it began to be built. So that from 19 Years of Herod's Reign to 34 the whole are 15 Years, out of which taking 2 for the Age of Christ, there remain 13 at his Birth; from whence it follows, that Christ was 33 Years old when the Jews uttered the above-mentioned Expression to him, which being a little before the first Passover in his Ministry, Joh. ii. 11, 12, 13. rightly agrees with his Birth and the Prophecy in Daniel, as already placed. Now it appearing, and being acknowledged, by the 4 Passovers found in Joh. ii. 23. & v. 1. & vi. 4. & xi. 55. and according to Usher, &c. that Christ's publick Ministry continued about or towards 3 Years and a half; which is either reckoned from his Baptism in his 30th Year, or after John had been 3 Years and a half in his Ministry; the Consequence from this is evident, that Christ was not born in either of the 2 Years after that in which I put it, because it agrees with neither of the Reckonings, much less with any Year before these three, and it could not be after, because Herod was then dead.

Mann indeed in his late Dissert. of the true Years of the Birth and Death of Christ, reckons the Continuance of Christ's Ministry to be but one Year and Part of another; for this he supposes the 6th Chap. of John should be put before the 5th, and that the Passover should not be in Chap. vi. 4. which may be taken for an Acknowledgment, that his Calculation does not agree with the Scripture as it is, and consequently does not require, any more than it deserves, an Answer to be made to it, the Scripture it self being an Answer. He also places the Birth of Christ in An. P. J. 4707, farther from the com. Account than mine, of which enough already; and his Death in 4739: on which latter I would just remark, that Valerius Gratus, as Josephus relates, Antiq. L. xviii. 3. was sent Governor by Tiberius Caesar from Rome into Judea, where he staid eleven Years, and Pontius Pilate was sent to succeed in his Place; now 11 being added to 4728 of the Jul. Per. the Beginning of Tiberius's Reign in Ptolemy's Canon, make 4739 for the Commencement of Pilate's Government, and Christ, by Mann's Computation, was put to death almost in the Beginning of that Year; how then could Pilate govern there when John the Baptist began his Ministry? as we read, Luk. iii. 1, 2. and have killed the Galileans, so long before Christ's Death as in Luk. xiii. 1? As for Tiberius beginning his Reign something before 4728, it must so take up some Time for Gratus to be sent from Rome, who induxa trv auwpilas b ludaiq, dwelt 11 Years in Judea, says Josephus. Let me add, that Mann owns and asserts, the Jewish Passover fell on a Friday, the Year in which I have computed the Death of our Lord to be, and not in six Years before: here also it is placed by those two great Chronologers Scaliger and Usher.

Moreover Josephus says, Herod was declared King of the Jews by the Romans in the 184th Olympiad, when C. Demitius Calvinus the 2d time and C. Asinius Pollio were Consuls, Antiq. Lib. xiv. 26. and that he besieged and took Jerusalem, by which he was settled King, in the 185th Olympiad, when Marcus Agrippa and Candius Gallus were Consuls, Antiq. L. xiv. 28. which was three Years after the other, the former being in the Year of the Jul. Per. 4674, and the latter in 4677: Josephus next informing us that Herod died 34 Years after the Expulsion of Antigonus, when Jerusalem was taken, and 37 from his being declared King by the Romans, Antiq. L. xvii. 10. each amounts to 4711; and Herod really reigning so many Years, the Overplus will bring it into the 4712th Year of the Jul. Per. as before computed: for the last Year of the 184th Olympiad ended at the full Moon after the Summer Solstice, so that Herod must be made King at Rome before, and Jerusalem, Josephus says, was taken in the 3d Month; whereas Herod did not die, as we have already found, till towards the End of Winter, after another Year of the Jul. Per. began, which was on the 1st Day of the Month called January, reckoning reckoning 37 and 34 Years from those Consuls above-mentioned, Herod's Death fell out in the Consulship of L. Cornelius Lentulus and M. Valerius Messalinus.

Josephus says further, in his Wars of the Jews, L. ii. 6. that Archelaus, who was Herod's Son and Successor, was banished in the 9th Year of his Reign, Bell. Jud. B. ii. 6. which Dio Cassius, Lib. 5. relates was done when Emilius Lepidius and C. Arun. Nepos were Consuls; from whence counting 8 Years back in the List of the Roman Consuls, the Beginning of his Reign falls in the Time of the same Consuls as Herod's Death does before. The 37th and last Year of Philip likewise, another of Herod's Sons who had Part of his Dominions, Luk. iii. 1. being the 20th of Tiberius Caesar, Joseph. Antiq. Lib. xviii. 6. and that the 4747th of the Jul. Per. by the Subtraction of 36 there remains 4711: which comes right, supposing Josephus to reckon from Herod's 34 Years, that the Numbers might agree when joined together; for from 4677 above to 4747 are 70 Years, the Sum of both their Reigns. If those Numbers might be made to agree with the 4711th Year, the Want of an Eclipse shews that Herod's Death could not be then. The Eclipse mentioned by Whiston in his Astronomy, and Mann in his Chronology, on the 13th of the 1st Month called March at 3 in the Morning was too near the Passover for what Josephus relates to be between, and too late in the Night for publick Observation, as well as incoherent with the other Numbers, being in the 4710th Year.

The 'common Epochæ cannot be right, being after Herod's Death; and was framed by Dionysius Exiguus a Roman Abbot, as late as the Year 525, as in Cave's Chartophilax through Mistake of the 15th Year of Tiberius, Luk. iii. 1. which he counted from the Death of Augustus, as Marshall does. The Year reckoned that Way was in the 4742d of the Jul. Per. and Christ being then in his 30th Year, Luk. iii. 23. he was consequently born by that Account in the 4713th of the Jul. Per. (according to which the present Date is) almost 2 Years after Herod's Death, by the Times of both as above. This Absurdity utterly ruins the great Labour which Marshall has taken about it: as on the other hand, the first Computation of Christ's Birth establishes the reckoning the 15th Year of Tiberius, from his being made Partner with Augustus in the Empire; for that being 4 Years sooner, the Birth of Christ according to it falls in the same 4709th Year of the Julian Period; where the great Usher also places it, as well as the famous Dr. Hen. Moore in Paralipomena Sacra. The Distance of which from the present Time, may be easily counted any Year, by adding 4 to the common Æra; as the Jul. Per. may, by adding 4713 to the same.

In behalf of the vulgar Epochæ, the learned Gregory in his Notes and Observations upon some Passages of Scripture, pr. 1650, drawing out an Astrological Scheme of Jesus Christ's Nativity on Dec. 25 at Midnight, in the common Year of Reckoning, with some silly if not impious Remarks; says he was for that Account, as well in reverence to the Tradition of the Church, as for the rare Appearances in the Scheme it self, sufficient of their own Strength to evidence, that this was the time both for the year and day, though Reason and Tradition should pretend against it. Which Arguing may help the Reader to be of a different Opinion; seeing that so very ill supported, and considering too that by the Discoveries and Alterations made in Astronomy since, the Scheme is probably calculated wrong.

The placing Christ's Birth Dec. 25. bears the Mark of mere Uncertainty, however as to the particular Day: for our Julian Year being 11 Minutes too long, those Minutes amount to a Day in 131 Years, which brought back the Winter Solstice or shortest Day to Dec. 22 from the 25, till since altered; where the Birth of Christ was placed, upon that slender Account, as being a noted Day.

Before I conclude this difficult Subject of Chronology, I have Something more to add. There is Mention made of a seventh Year of Rest in 1 Maccab. vi. 49, 53. and of the 150th Year, Ver. 20. i. e. of the Seleucidae, beginning with the Reign of Seleucus King of Syria, in the 5th Year of the nominal Reign of Alexander Ægus, as in Prideaux's Table, which Æra with the Sabbatical Years both began in Autumn, Lev. xxv. 8, 9. and what is spoken of in the 150th Year above-mentioned is a Siege, which being Summer Work, appears from hence to be in the latter End of that Year; so that considering what follows in the same Chapter, especially Ver. 29, 52. the next must be the Sabbatical Year, in which also Demetrius went from Rome. 1 Mac. vii. 1. Now from the Israelites Entrance into Canaan to the End of the Captivity in the first of Cyrus being 924 Years, from thence to the 5th of Alexander Ægus 224, these added to 151, make 1299; out of which taking the fifties for Jubile's, as on the Tables of the Kings. there remain 49, whose last is a Sabbatical Year. This was in the 4552d of the Jul. Period according to Prideaux, whom Bedford follows, and continues citing in the 47th Table of his Scripture Chronology, yet reckons the Sabbatical Year 2 Years before; which being the 149th Year of the above-mentioned Æra used in Maccabees, manifestly destroys the whole Computation of Bedford's Sabbatical Years, of which he speaks so much, and even puts it in the Title of his Book: so the 14th and 15th Years of Hezekiah, already observed as one of those seventh Years and a Jubile, are by Bedford's Table 46 the 3 and 4 after a Sabbatical Year.

Next to the Ptolemaick Canon in those Times, may be counted the Chronicon Alexandrinum from an old Library in Sicily, which gives the Succession of the high Priests after the Captivity as follows.

Alexander the Great coming to Jerusalem, as Josephus relates, the Year before the last Defeat of Darius, as appears by Quintus Curtius, Lib. 4. Diodorus Siculus, Lib. 17. & Justin, Lib. 11. and Jaddua the high Priest going out to meet him; by the Computation both in this Catalogue and the Canon of Ptolemy falls in the 10th Year of Jaddua's Priesthood: so that this may confirm the Time of the Persian Kings, which it takes in so completely, wherein is greater Difficulty and Uncertainty in Authors, than there is in that of the following Kings; so that some who would begin Daniel's 490 Years before-mentioned from the first Year of Cyrus, shorten the Time of the Persian Monarchy from 205 to about 130 Years, whom those two most approved Lists of Succession may each of them confute, for which Purpose they are partly inserted.

The Æra of the Seleucidae beginning the 12th Year after Alexander styled the Great, by comparing those two Catalogues together, this ends at the 146th Year of that Æra, the same in which Judas Maccabeus took the Command of the Jews on him, 1 Mac. ii. 70. & iii. 1. It appears indeed that Onias died before, 2 Mac. iv. 34, 35. which Prideaux puts 5 Years, abating so many from Simon called the Just, upon the Authority of Eusebius; but I rather think the Shortness is occasioned by some of those Numbers being not full Years, or the Years of Onias reckoned to Judas, omitting the Usurpation of Menelaus, and that Onias was not slain so long before: for Antiochus Epiphanes beginning his Reign in the 2d Year of the 151st Olympiad, 1 Mac. i. 10. nine Years before Judas Maccabeus was made Captain, the Olympick Games would be 3 Years after, 2 Mac. iv. 7, 18. and other 3 Years, Ver. 23. would make six, and by what follows the Death of Onias is not likely to be sooner than the next Year. Or to reckon the last 3 Years from the coming of Antiochus to Jerusalem, Ver. 21, 22. which was in his 3d Year, and towards the End of it too, as seems by Prideaux's own Account, Account, Anno 173, it makes but little Difference. The Government of the three next, Judas, Jonathan and Simon is recorded by the Years of the Seleucidae, which is continued in Josephus, Antiq. Lib. xx. 8.

Some small Notes I would subjoin to this last Part of the Catalogue before I apply it to its main Use. The Asmonæan Race ending at Herod, and he being an Idumæan, was King only, not high Priest. In 1 Mac. xvi. 14. the Eng. Bibles that I have examined have threescore, which must be wrong, and upon consulting both the Latin and Greek, I found seventy in the room of it. Of the 12 Years of Hyrcanus's high Priesthood at first, 9 were while his Mother Alexandra had the Government; the rest indeed is in Josephus's 3 Months, but by an Error, according to Usher and Petavius, for 3 Years: for it is plain that Time, and the 3 Years of Aristobulus were 6 Years, by the Consuls of Rome whom Josephus names, Antiq. Lib. 14.

Now if to 4178 the Year of the Jul. Per. at the End of the Captivity, we add this Amount 533, it comes to the 4711th of the Julian Period, the same which was reckoned with the Overplus for the Death of Herod before: from whence arises the Confirmation of those two Points, as already related; that our present Æra of Christ is wrong, and that Luke counted the Years of Tiberius Cæsar from his being made Partner with Augustus.

Cumberland in his Origines Gentium, pag. 178. mentions the Testimony of Varro (esteemed the most learned Roman) that there were about 1600 Years between the Flood and Olympiads; to which my Tables only, that I know of, among the Moderns do agree: for from the 2348th Year of the Jul. Per. at the Flood by my Computation, to the 3938th when the first Year of the first Olympiad was, is 1590 Years; whereas others fall many short, and by the Table in Cumberland's Book it would be but 1573.

By Josephus's mentioning some Sabbatical Years about his own Time, which he must needs know, and no Jubiles, which were more remarkable, it seems as if the latter were dropped, as the former, or rather both, had been before the Babylonian Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 21. Lev. xxvi. 35. from hence might arise an Alteration of the Sabbatical Years, spoken of by Maimonides, De She- mittah & Jabel, Cap. x. and Petavius, De Doctrina Temporum, Lib. ix. 26. Two such Years Josephus says were, when Herod took Jerusalem, and the Year before the Destruction of it by Titus Vespasian, Lib. iv. 18. & xiv. 28. which being in the Years of the Jul. Per. 4677 and 4782, are 105 Years distant, which are sevens of Years. But the Sabbatical Year in which he says Simon Maccabeus was slain, 1 Mac. xvi. 14. agrees neither with his other, nor with that mentioned, Chap. vi. 49, 53. which may be supposed owing either to some Change of the Years, or Josephus's Mistake, by its being so long before his Time.

The 7 Stars being counted watery, by the ancient Greek and Latin Authors; Ovid writing. *Fast. v. 165. Ore micant Tauri septem radiantia flammis Sydera, quas Hyadas Grains ab Imbre vocat, the seven Stars glittering with Rays shine in the Bull's Mouth, which the Greeks call Hyades from the Rain, as hye in Greek signifies to rain; might not one imagine that the Tradition first rose from those Stars being foremost, at the Beginning of the first Sign, that is with the Sun at the Entrance of the Spring Quarter, when Noah's Flood was on the Earth, if they were really there at that Time? Now the Precession of the Equinox is reckoned, as I remember, by Street in his famous Caroline Tables 48 Seconds in a Year, but by our late Astronomers something more, and for the sake of an even Number 50", so that 49½ may seem more exact. Next Lucida Pleiadum the brightest Star of the seven, being put in Flamsted's Britannic Catalogue in Taurus 25° 40' 8" for the Year 1690, which was the 6403d of the Jul. Per. by dividing the Longitude by that yearly Precession, the Quotient is 4049 Years nearest, to be subtracted from 6403; which comes to 2354, but 5 Years after the Flood by my Tables.*

There is another great noted Star called Aldebaran, that is the Leader: for debar with the Chaldeans, the very ancient Astronomers, signifies to lead, as may be seen in Buxtorf's Chald. Lexicon, as is the Termination of a verbal Noun, and at the Article of the Arabians for the, who prefixed it; from whence is the whole Name, which with the Arabians and Persians reckoning Taurus our second their first Sign, Gravius De Siglis Arabum & Persarum Astronomicis, p. 1, 8, 9. may lead us to think Aldebaran was counted the first Star, for that it was really so appears by Calculation. In the Catalogue and at the Time above-mentioned its Distance past the Equinox is 65° 27' which divided by 49½, and subtracted as before, reaches back to the Year of the Jul. Per. 1643; being 29 Years after the Death of Adam, and 34 before the Translation of Enoch, according to the Table on Gen. 5. which is as early as we may suppose such an Observation preserved: and Origen relates that some of Enoch's Writings, containing the Courses and Names of the Stars, was found in Arabia Felix, Hom. i. in Num.

NOTES upon the BOOK of HOSEA.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commission which Hosea the Son of Beeri had, in the Time of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, Kings of Judah, and in the Time of Jeroboam the Son of Joash, King of Israel.

2. The Beginning of the Lord's Commission by Hosea: to whom the Lord said, Go, take thee a Wife of Whoredoms, and Children of Whoredoms; because the Country is quite gone a whoring from after the Lord.

3. So he went, and took Gomer the Daughter of Diblaim, who conceived, and bore him a Son.

4. Upon which the Lord said to him; Call his Name Jezreel: for within a little while I will punish the Family of Jehu for the Blood of Jezreel, and make the Kingdom of the Family of Israel cease.

5. At which Time I will break the Bow of Israel in the Vale of Jezreel.

6. And she conceived again, bearing a

Daughter, when he said to him; Call her Name Not compassionate: for I will again no more have compassion upon the Family of Israel, but will quite take them away.

7. Yet upon the Family of Judah will I have compassion, and save them by the Lord their God; not saving them either by Bow, Sword or War, by Horses or Horsemen.

8. At length having weaned Not compassionate, she conceived, and bore a Son.

9. Then he said: Call his Name Not my People; for you are not my People, nor am I for you.

10. However the Number of the Israelites shall be as the Sand of the Sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and in the Place that it is said to them, You are not my People; it shall be said to them, You are the Sons of the Living God.

11. And the Sons of Judah with those of Israel shall be gathered together, make them one Head, and come up from the Country: for great will be the Day of Jezreel.

Ver. 1. Jeroboam] and the rest that followed, whom the Times of those Kings of Judah shewed.

Ver. 2. Beginning] Since it was 66 Years from the Death of Jeroboam to the Reign of Hezekiah, and Hosea was old enough to have a Wife at first, we may suppose he did not prophesy long in their Reigns; I therefore reckon him, and Josiah with him, as beginning but about a Year before Amos, the Times of which two latter see.

1b. Whoredoms] The Affair seems to be, that Hosea really married a Woman, that was a Harlot before, and the first Child by her was his own, Ver. 3. who has not an ill Name like the other two, Ver. 4, 6, 9. which latter I suppose upon her turning Adulterers were by another Man, according to Chap. ii. 4, 5, 7. and so she being divorced, the Prophet was ordered to take her again, but she was to stay for him a while, Chap. iii. 1, 3. & ii. 7. Jun. and Trin. insist that it was but a Vision, because he could not really take the Children, and have them also born afterwards: but there is no Necessity that take should relate to the Children at the same Time it does to the Wife, only that he should have them afterwards; as a second Object of a Verb, for Brevity, may be less strictly affected by it. And as there are no Words that so much as intimate a Dream or Vision; and it is not consistent for this to have been only in a Vision, says Mercer in hoc Loc. the Time likewise is too long, being several Years, and the weaning of one before she had another, Ver. 8. which appears to be told not with respect to the Prophecy, but as a Circumstance of the Narration, all confirm the whole to be Matter of Fact, like that in Chap. iii. the wrong and absurd Notion of which perhaps has mostly conducted to make it be thought visionary, by Aben Ezra, Kimhi and Jerome, in their Commentaries. The Word take however claims its proper Signification on its nearest Object Wife of Whoredoms, whom he could not take such, unless she was so at that Time; and it is better to suppose a naughty Woman would continue the same, than another become so: as for its not suiting so well with God's taking Israel to be his People, it is not the Nature of Comparisons to agree in every Circumstance; yet the Israelites in Egypt, when God peculiarly took them for a People to himself, might be represented by a Harlot, according to Ezek. xxiii. 3, 8. The learned Piscator turns it in his Commentary on this Place, Accipe tibi scortum, & nates scorti gigne; Take thee a Harlot, and beget Children of the Harlot; and Castellio more elegantly to the same Purpose, duc uxorem meretricem, liberos gentis meretricies. The Lord forbade only Priests to marry such, Lev. xxi. 7. which the Command of God would have dispensed with, if it had; however Whoredom does not forfeit a Permission to marry; for this see also Grotius.

Ver. 4. the Family of Jehu] as shewn 2 King. xv. 8, 10, 12.

Ver. 5. Vale of Jezreel] Jerome here writes, In hac commissio certamine ab Assyriis caesus est Israel, In this the Battle was fought when Israel was beat by the Assyrians; which he says is large, of above ten Miles Extent.

Ver. 6. take away] old Lat. forget, by supposing the Heb. Root to be נשח when it was נשח

Ver. 11. great] as before, Ver. 5. and [for] as if, they shall be gathered, for they will be dispersed; not this to be when they were gathered, as some strain for.

C H A P. II.

CALL your Brothers My People, and your Sisters Compassionated.

2. Plead with your Mother, plead; for she is not my Wife, nor am I her Husband: so let her put away her Whoredoms from her Face, and her Adulteries from between her Breasts;

3. Lest I should strip her naked, and set her as in the Day that she was born, as also make her like a Wilderness, put her like a dry Country, and cause her to die with Thirst;

4. And not have compassion upon her Children, because they are the Children of Whoredoms.

5. For their Mother commits Whoredom, she that conceived them does shamefully: for she says, I will go after my Lovers, who give my Bread and Water, my Wool and Flax, my Oil and Drink.

6. Therefore behold I will hedge up thy Way with Thorns, and fence it with a Fence; insomuch that she shall not find her Paths.

7. And though she follows her Lovers, she shall not overtake them; nor though she seeks for them, find: so that she shall say, I will go back again to my former Husband; for it was then better with me than now.

8. Since she does not know that I give her Corn, Wine and Oil, as likewise cause the Silver to increase for her, and the Gold that they make up for Baal.

9. Therefore I will take back my Corn in its Season, and my Wine in its appointed Time; as also take away my Wool and Flax, that were to cover her Nakedness.

10. And now will I discover her Vileness in the Sight of her Lovers; and no Man shall deliver her from my Hand.

11. I will also make all her Joy cease, her Feast, New-moon and Sabbath, with every one of her appointed Times.

12. Besides I will make her Vine and Fig-tree desolate, of which she said, They are my Hire, which my Lovers gave me; I will even make them a Wood, and the wild Beasts shall eat them.

13. And I will punish her for the Days of the Baals, in which she burnt incense to them, and was decked with her Ear-ring and Jewel, going after her Lovers; and forgot me, says the Lord.

14. By reason of which behold I will persuade her, and cause her to go to the Wilderness; that I may speak kindly to her.

15. From whence I will give her Vineyards to her, and the Vale of Achor for a Door of Hope; where she shall sing as in the Days of her Youth, and as on the Day of her coming up from the Country of Egypt.

16. At which Time, says the Lord, thou shalt call me My Husband; and shall no more call me My Baal.

17. Since I will put away the Names of the Baals from her Mouth; and they shall be remembered by their Name no more.

18. I will further make a Covenant for them at that Time with the Beasts of the Field, with the Fowls of the Air, and the creeping Things of the Ground; the Bow, Sword, and War will I also break from the Earth, and cause them to lie down securely.

19. Moreover I will espouse thee to me for ever; and that in Righteousness, Judgment, Kindness and Compassions.

20. I will even espouse thee to me in Faithfulness; and thou shalt know the Lord.

21. At that Time too will I answer, says the Lord, I will answer the Heaven; and that shall answer the Earth;

Ver. 1. Call] Prideaux in Connell. Anno 446. relates from divers Authors, that Cardinal Hugo, who flourished about the Year 1240, first divided the Scripture into Chapters, which from the Latin was afterwards done in Hebrew by Nathan the Jew. As this Division is therefore of no Authority to direct the Sense, it appears this Verse belongs to that which goes before, not to what follows, which is of a contrary Kind; and it seems to be joined to the latter, only because both are imperative, and this Verse begins it. Jun. and Trem. notwithstanding translate, o popule mi, o my People, and o misericordiam consequuta, o compassionated, as if those were ordered to say to their Brothers and Sisters what follows in the next Verse, and those who are so commanded are supposed to be the better Sort of them: according to which the Brothers and Sisters being the bad ones, were not fit to plead with the Mother to make her good; nay indeed who was the Mother after this Manner? It is further invalidated by the Participle rendered Compassionated being feminine, and so belonging to Sisters; I might also say singular, and therefore not belonging to the Verb; see further Grotius.

Ver. 2. Plead] that she may enjoy the foregoing Blessings.

Ver. 7. so that] Jerome excellently, Ex quo intelligimus, &c. Hence we understand, that Harms befall us by the Providence of God, that we may not have those Things which we desire, and may be forced as it were, by the various Troubles and Afflictions of this Life, to turn again to serving God, Comment.

Ver. 13. punish her for] which is intelligible, as the like in the com. Transf. Chap. iv. 9, 14.

Ib. the Baals] being evidently more than one, especially by Names, Ver. 17.

Ver. 15. Vale of Achor] mentioned Josh. vii. ult.

Ib. for a Door of Hope] Sicut scil. Israelitae quum ex deserto in vallem istam pervenissent, spem conceperunt totius terrae Chanaan occupandae: that is as the Israelites, when they were come out of the Wilderness into that Valley, had the Hope of possessing the whole Country of Canaan, Piscator, Schol. with Jun. and Trem. to the same Purpose.

Ver. 16. Baal] which also signifies Husband or Master; the Dislike to the Name being because the Idols were so called, Ver. 17.

Ver. 21. answer] the Demands, by supplying what is wanted, the Word properly meaning so.

22. And

22. And the Earth shall answer the Corn, Wine and Oil; and they shall answer Jezreel.

23. Nay I will sow her for my self in the Earth, and have compassion upon her not compassionate: saying to a People not mine, Thou art my People; and it shall say, Thou art my God.

C H A P. III.

AND the Lord said to me, Go again, love the Woman who is loved of a Neighbour, and an Adulteress: as the Love of the Lord is to the Israelites, though they look to other gods, and love the Bottles of Wine.

2. So I purchased her to me for fifteen Shekels of Silver, and a Homer and a half of Barley.

3. To whom I said, Abide for me a great while, do not commit Whoredom, nor be for any Man; and I will be likewise to thee.

4. For the Israelites shall abide a great while with no King, no Prince, no Sacrifice, no Statue, no Ephod, nor Teraphs.

5. Afterwards the Israelites will again seek for the Lord their God, and David their King; fearing the Lord and his Goodness, in the latter Days.

C H A P. IV.

HEAR the Lord's Commission, O Israelites: for the Lord has a Contention with the Inhabitants of the Country; because there is no Truth, no Kindness, nor yet Knowledge of God there.

2. By swearing, lying, murdering, stealing, committing Adultery, they break out; and Blood reaches to Blood.

3. Therefore the Country shall mourn, every Inhabitant in it languish, with the Beast of the Field, and the Fowl of the Air; and the Fishes also of the Sea shall be gathered up.

4. However let no Man contend with, nor reprove another; since thy People are like those who contend with the Priest.

5. And thou shalt fall in the Day, as the Prophet also shall with thee in the Night; and I will cut off thy Mother.

6. My People are cut off, by being without Knowledge: for thou rejectest Knowledge, so I will reject thee from being a Priest to me; and thou forgetting the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy Children.

7. As they multiply, so they sin against me: I will change their Glory into Baseness.

8. They eat the Sin of my People, and lift up its Soul to their Iniquity.

9. And it shall be as with the People, so with the Priest; whom I will punish for their Ways, and render their Deeds to them.

10. For they shall eat, and not be satisfied; go a whoring, and not increase; because they have left observing the Lord.

11. Whoredom, and Wine, particularly new Wine, take the Heart.

12. My People ask of their Wood, and their Staff tells them: for the Spirit of Whoredoms causes to go astray, so that they go a whoring from under their God.

13. They sacrifice upon the Tops of the Mountains, and burn incense upon the Hills, under the male Oak, the Poplar and female Oak, because the Shadow of it is good: therefore your Daughters commit Whoredom, as do your Spouses Adultery.

14. I do not punish your Daughters, though

Ver. 22. Jezreel] the Place of Israel's Desolation, Chap. i. 5. put I suppose for the Desolation it self; of which Annotators make poor Work.

Ver. 1. the Woman] not a for any.

Ib. Neighbour, and] which suit together: as indeed do friend, yet in our com. Bib. taking friend for Hosea himself; but that must be straining it, and why should he be bid to love, whom he did love? The Word in Heb. being the same, Cass. translates it, alterius ac, of another and; Leo Jud. proximo tuo, nempe, by thy Neighbour, namely.

Ver. 4. Teraphs] The Things here mentioned being idolatrous ones, which they much valued; of which see Pocock in his Notes here, and Selden, Of the Syrian gods, Synt. i. Cap. 2.

Ver. 2. Blood] Sol. Farbi and Ab. Ezra both expound here, that the Blood of one killed touched or reached to that of another; and Lyra in his Comment. observes, Ex superioribus vitiis sequuta ingens effusio sanguinis, From the foregoing Vices there followed great Blood-shedding.

Ver. 3. languish] This may be a Prophecy of the Drought, particularly and very elegantly described in the Beginning of Joel.

Ver. 4. However] It being past Remedy, they were so bad.

Ib. with the Priest] that being a high Crime, Deut. xvii. 12. they were so incorrigible as to contend with the Priest, in vain therefore would the Reproof of another be.

Ver. 7. I will change] Jonathan in the Targ. וְיִשְׁתַּחֲוֶה they have changed, contrary to the Heb.

Ver. 8. Sin] The Priests eat the Offerings for Sin, and so are pleased with it, Lev. vi. 26.

Ib. its Soul] the Souls of the People to worship, when they brought those Sin-offerings; which being idolatrous, were Sin or Iniquity it self. The Heb. is not their, which makes both obscure in the com. Transl.

Ver. 9. as with] See the same Isa. xxiv. 2.

Ver. 13. commit] do commit, not shall commit.

Ver. 14. not punish your Daughters] not at present; and because they sinned by means of their Fathers, as [therefore] shews, Ver. 13. and while their Fathers did worse themselves.

they

they commit Whoredom, nor your Spouſes, though they commit Adultery; though they are ſeparated with Whores, and ſacrifice with Prostitutes: ſo the People that do not underſtand are diſquieted.

15. If thou, Iſrael, goeſt a whoring, let not Judah become guilty: neither come you to Gilgal, nor go up to Beth-aven, nor ſwear, By the Lord's living.

16. For Iſrael is unruly, like an unruly Heifer; whom the Lord will now feed like a Sheep in a large Place.

17. Ephraim is joined to Images; let him alone.

18. Their Wine is gone: they thoroughly go a whoring; the Protectors of it baſely do love, Give.

19. The Wind has tied her up in its Wings; and they will be aſhamed of their Sacrificings.

CHAP V.

HE A R this, you Priests, and hearken, O Family of Iſrael, as likewise that of the King, give ear; for whom there is Judgment: becauſe you are as a Gin at Mizpah, and a Net ſpread upon Tabor.

2. And thoſe who turn away get deep to kill; but I will be the Chaiſer of them all.

3. I know Ephraim, and Iſrael is not concealed from me: for now, Ephraim, thou goeſt a whoring; Iſrael is defiled.

4. They will not give up their Doings to return to their God: for the Spirit of Whoredoms is within them, and they know not the Lord.

5. Nay the Pride of Iſrael teſtifies in his Face; ſo Iſrael and Ephraim ſhall fall in their Iniquity, Judah ſhall alſo fall with them.

6. They will go with their Flocks and Herds, to ſeek the Lord, but not find; he being withdrawn from them.

7. They are treacherous againſt the Lord, for they beget ſtrange Children: now ſhall a Month conſume them with their Portions.

8. Sound the Cornet in Gibeah, the Trumpet in Ramah: cry out at Beth-aven, afterwards at thee, Benjamin.

9. Ephraim ſhall become deſolate at the Time of Rebuke: I make known a ſure Thing among the Tribes of Iſrael.

10. The Princes of Judah are like thoſe who remove the Bounds: I will pour out my Fury upon them like Water.

11. Ephraim is oppreſſed, daſhed to pieces in Judgment; becauſe he likes to follow the Statute.

12. So I am as a Moth to Ephraim, and as Rottenneſs to the Family of Judah.

13. Whereas Ephraim ſeeing his Diſeaſe, and Judah his Wound; Ephraim went to Aſſyria, and this ſent to a King who could contend: but he is not able to heal you, nor does he cure you of the Wound.

14. For I am as a fierce Lion to Ephraim,

Ib. diſquieted] See concerning it Prov. x. 8.

Ver. 15. Beth-aven] Beth-el being in Heb. the House of God, Gen. xxviii. 19. and now turned to a Place of Idolatry, 1 King. xii. 28, 29, 32, 33. is ſuitably called Beth-aven, that is the House of Iniquity or Vanity; ſee Chap. x. 5.

Ver. 16. feed] ſparingly, as the Context ſhews.

Ib. a Sheep in] one that being gone out of the Paſture, wanders any where.

Ib. in a large Place] denoting according to Jerome, captivitatē in Aſſyriis, & in latiffimam Medorum terram diſperſionem populi Iſraelis: the Captivity among the Aſſyrians, and Diſperſion of the People Iſrael into the very large Country of the Medes.

Ver. 18. Their Wine is gone] The *Chald. Ib. gone] regularly from WD as in many other Places, and ſo rendered in the Tig. Verf. and the literal Meaning may be ſafer taken than that in our com. Trans.

Ib. thoroughly] continually by Ignorance or Overſight, Ver. 19. tied her up in its Wings] to carry away into Captivity.

Ib. her] Iſrael as a Heifer, though not to be expected from any Authority of Commentators.

Ver. 1. as] the allowed Meaning.

Ver. 2. get deep] agreeable to Gin, Ver. 1. and concealed, Ver. 3.

Ver. 6. with their Flocks and Herds] to offer them in Sacrifice; and many People going together, there might well be Flocks and Herds, though not of each Perſon.

Ver. 7. a Month] in which Time the Aſſyrians might ravage the Country, deſtroying the Stores, and ſhut up Samaria in the Siege, 2 King. xviii. 9.

Ver. 8. Beth-aven] which may be uſed for the idolatrous Country or Kingdom of Iſrael, for which ſee on Ch. iv. 15. and Benjamin for the other of Judah, which had afterwards War with Aſſyria: accordingly both are ſpoken of, Ver. 3, 5, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14.

Ver. 10. like thoſe who remove the Bounds] acting with Violence contrary to Law and Juſtice.

Ver. 11. becauſe he likes to follow the Statute] For which the Chald. Targum has, becauſe their Judges have turned themſelves to wander after falſe Riches; and the vulg. Lat. becauſe he began to go after Filthineſs; concerning which ſee Buxtorf's Vindiciæ adverſus Cappel. p. 732, 757.

Ib. contend] it being the future Tenſe in Hiphil of a Verb ſignifying to contend.

and as a young Lion to the Family of Judah : I my self will tear, and go away ; I will carry away, and none shall deliver.

15. I will go away, return to my Place ; until they own themselves guilty, and seek my Face : in their Distress they will seek me early.

CHAP. VI.

COME, and let us return to the Lord : for he tears, and will heal us ; smites, and will bind us up.

2. He will make us alive after two Days ; on the third Day will he raise us up, and we shall live before him.

3. Then shall we know, following to know the Lord, whose going forth is prepared as the Morning ; and he will come like the Rain to us, like the latter and first Rain to the Earth.

4. What shall I do for thee, Ephraim ? What shall I do for thee, Judah ? Since your Kindness is like a Morning Cloud, and goes away as the early Dew.

5. Therefore I cut with the Prophets, slay them with the Sayings of my Mouth ; and thy Judgments are a Light that goes forth.

6. For I desire Kindness, and not Sacrifice ; and the Knowledge of God more than Burnt-offerings.

7. But they like Adam transgress the Covenant : there are they treacherous to me.

Ver. 2. on the third Day] A Prophecy of Christ's Resurrection, 1 Cor. xv. 4. by and in whom we are raised up, 2 Cor. iv. 14.

Ver. 5. thy Judgments] the Judgments on thee. The Targ. has יְהוָה my Judgment : a deal of it being מורא Medrash, as it is called, i. e. Exposition, rather than Translation ; so before in this Ver. Therefore I admonished them by sending my Prophets, yet they did not return ; I will bring Slayers against them, because they have transgressed against the Saying of my Will. The Author of the State of the printed Heb. Text imagines a Person read to some Transcriber umishpatacaer together, and he parted it wrong as in the pres. Heb. instead of umishpate caer, and my judgment (shall go forth) as the light, p. 517, 518. but alas ! to the spoiling the finest and most plausible Criticism, perhaps in his Book, e would not make it my, that must be i.

Ver. 7. like Adam] the same as in Job xxxi. 33. And like Men, either implies that all Men did so, which is not true ; or that they, being Men, did so like themselves, which would be absurd. Thus translate Cast. Sant. Leo Jud. and the vulg. Lat. Transf. which Græc. approves.

Ver. 8. deceitful] So translated Jer. xvii. 9. and according to the Signification of the Verb its Root, Gen. xxvii. 36. Jer. ix. 4. as likewise agreeable to the two foregoing Verses, and Ch. xii. 11. which shew the Gileadites were Hypocrites or deceitful, pretending to be religious while they were wicked : Castal. turns it callida, crafty ; nor does it appear that either the Root, or any of its Derivatives, have such a Meaning as polluted.

Ib. Blood] put for shedding it by Murder, Ver. 9.

Ver. 9. Manner] as rendered Am. iv. 9. & viii. 14.

8. Gilead is a City of the Workers of Iniquity : it is deceitful by reason of Blood.

9. And as Troops wait for a Man, the Company of Priests murder in the Manner as at Shechem : for they do Villainy.

10. I see a horrible Thing in the Family of Israel : there the Whoredom of Ephraim is, Israel is defiled.

11. He also makes a Harvest for thee, Judah, when I shall turn back the Captivity of my People.

CHAP. VII.

AS I am healing Israel, the Iniquity of Ephraim is discovered, and the Evils of Samaria : for they work Falsehood ; and the Thief enters, the Troop spoils abroad.

2. And they do not say in their Heart, that I remember all their Wickedness, whose Deeds now compassing them, are before my Face.

3. They make the King glad with their Wickedness, and the Princes with their Lyes.

4. All of them are Adulterers, like an Oven heated by the Baker ; who ceases from stirring up, from kneading the Dough, till it is leavened.

5. On the Day of our King, the Princes make him sick with Bottles of Wine, he stretches out his Hand with Deriders.

6. For they apply their Heart like an

Iso. x. 24, 26. and which the Heb. Word signifies, like Way also in English.

Ib. at Shechem] according as related Gen. xxxiv. 25. see also xlix. 5, 6, 7. and might be mentioned because the Priests came of Levi ; in which Manner Jun. and Trem. translate and expound it. Shechem signifying Shoulder, from hence our Translators rendered it consent, but the local ן denoting a Place, being here joined to it, excludes such a Meaning, if to murder by the Shoulder would have that Meaning, or any at all. ן when not local, is never instrumental, to signify by or with. De Dieu refers it to Jud. ix. 25.

Ver. 11. makes] The Israelites by their Sin before-mentioned procuring their own Dissolution and Dispersion, would divers of them be gathered (as Harvest may well denote gathering) to the People of Judah, when they should return from the Babylonian Captivity. Without exposing the Inconsistency of others, I will trust this Interpretation to be the most genuine.

Ver. 2. Heart] singular as in Ver. 14 and as Tongue, Ver. 16.

Ver. 4. from stirring up] the Fire in the Oven, when it is sufficiently hot already.

Ib. from kneading] It is the same here in Heb. as before stirring up : and our Translators seem not to have known, that the Leaven or Barm is put in first, and lying a while to leaven the rest, the Kneading is afterwards ; which they have put quite contrary.

Ib. till] As Leaven lies in the Dough or Flour, before it is kneaded ; so the Wickedness in their Hearts, before they acted it.

Ver. 5. Day] I suppose Birth-Day, because it was the King's ; see Gen. xl. 20. Mark vi. 21.

Oven

C H A P. VIII.

Oven in their lying in wait: their Baker sleeping all Night, in the Morning it burns like a flaming Fire.

7. They are all hot like an Oven, and consume their Judges: all their Kings are fallen, none among them calls to me.

8. Ephraim, he mingles himself among the People: Ephraim is a Cake not turned.

9. Strangers consume his Strength, which he does not know: even the grey Hair sprinkled about on him as it is, he is ignorant of.

10. Moreover the Pride of Israel testifies in his Face: but they do not return to the Lord their God, nor seek him for all this.

11. And Ephraim is like a simple Dove with no Heart: they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12. Since they go, I will spread my Net over them, will bring them down like the Fowls of the Air; will correct them, as their Assembly hears.

13. Wo be to them, because they flee from me; Wasting is for them, because they transgress against me: though I redeem them, yet they speak Lyes against me.

14. Nay they do not cry to me with their Heart, when they lament upon their Beds; when gathering themselves together for Corn and Wine, they come away to me.

15. Notwithstanding I instruct them, strengthen their Arms, they think Evil against me.

16. They return, not to the High One, they are like a deceitful Bow; their Princes shall fall by the Sword, for the Rage of their Tongue: this shall be their Derision in the Country of Egypt.

LET the Trumpet be at thy Mouth, there shall be like an Eagle against the Family of the Lord; because they transgress my Covenant, and trespass against my Law.

2. The Israelites will cry to me, My God, we know thee.

3. Israel casting off Good, the Enemy shall pursue him.

4. They make Kings, but not by me; appoint Princes, whom I do not acknowledge: with their Silver and Gold they make them Images, that they may be cut off.

5. Thy Calf casts off, O Samaria; I am angry with them: how long will they not attain Innocency?

6. For even that is from Israel, the Artificer made it, and that is not God; since the Calf of Samaria will be in Pieces.

7. For they sow Wind, and reap Whirlwind: there is no Stalk to it, the Sprout yields no Meal; if perhaps it should yield, Strangers would devour it.

8. Israel is devoured: now are they among the Nations like a Tool in which there is no Delight.

9. For they go up to Assyria, as a wild Ass alone by himself: the Ephraimites hire Love.

10. Even because they hire of the Nations, now will I gather them together; and they shall be in Anguish in a little while, by the Burden of the King of Princes.

11. Because Ephraim multiplies Altars to sin with, he shall have Altars to sin with.

Ver. 6. sleeping] or though he sleeps: by whom may be understood the wicked one, that needed not to tempt them to their Wickedness; since they were quite ready for it, according to the following Words, as soon as Opportunity offered.

Ver. 14. when gathering] thus the judicious Trem. and Jun. render it.

Ib. come away] The Heb. Word signifies to depart or turn away, but then the Preposition as well as the Sense shews it is not from here. Trem. and Jun. divertunt ad me, they turn away to me: and so Lewis De Dieu expounds it, Animadu. in Loc. Buxtorf also says in Thef. Gram. Lib. ii. Chap. 11. at Beg. 'וּבְעֵצָה אֲבָרָה אֲבָרָה אֲבָרָה Discedere pro diversa constructione, Sur is either to come to or go from according to the different Construction; and the Preposition here put to it is unusual. Whether or no rebel came from the Mistake of ב for פ there is that Mistake in the Commentary of no less a Man than Drusius, Professor of Hebrew in the University of Francker, where ב is supposed to signify rebel like בָּרָא.

Ver. 15. instruct] so the Verb signifies, and never bound.

Ib. Evil] mischief not suitable to God.

Ver. 1. Family] for the Lord's House or Temple not in the Kingdom of Israel, against which Hosea prophesies, and the Heb. Word signifies either: the plural Verbs which follow also shew it was the People. So Trem. and Jun. explain it, populum Israelit, the People of Israel; and Piscator, populum Israeliticum quem Deus pro familia sua habuit, the Israelitish People, whom God had for his own Family; Drusius likewise proposes it to be read familiam, Family. Jerome has doubtless taken it wrong, expounding, veniet Nabuchodonosor ad Hierosolymam, in qua templum Domini situm est, Nebuchadnezzar shall come to Jerusalem, in which the Temple of the Lord was placed; for it is evident this is spoken concerning Israel and Assyria.

Ver. 3. Israel casting off Good] which the Chald. Paraphrast turns indeed paraphrastically, The Family of Israel wander away from my Worship.

Ver. 4. make Kings] See 2 King. xv.

Ib. acknowledge] how much better than knew!

Ver. 5. Thy Calf casts off, O Samaria] In the Chald. thus, They wander after the Calf of Samaria: this Capel. wrings to have the Heb. רָצָה be read רָצָה which is commit Whoredom.

Ver. 6. Pieces] mistaken in supposing it belonged to the Root פָּרַץ several of the ancient Interpreters translated it, unsteady, deceiving, &c. see Drus. Vet. Interp. Frag.

Ver. 10. them] illos ipsos Assyrios contra Israelitas, those very Assyrians against the Israelites, Grot.

Ib. in a little while] So the Tig. Transf. has pauco tempore, and the Vulg. Lat. paulisper: for as Buxtorf. says in Lex. interdum dicitur de pauco temporis, it is sometimes said of a little while; of which he produces Instances, as Psa. xxxvii. 10. Jer. li. 33. Noldius in his Heb. Concord. more, and this among the rest. The Sense may speak for it self.

Ver. 11. he shall have Altars] in Captivity among the Idolaters.

12. I wrote to him the great Things of my Law; which are reckoned as a strange Thing.

13. In my roasted Sacrifices, when they offer Flesh, and eat, the Lord does not accept them: now will he remember their Iniquity, and visit their Sins; they shall return to Egypt.

14. Not only Israel forgets his Maker, and builds Temples, but Judah multiplies fortified Cities; however I will send a Fire into his Cities, and it shall consume the Palaces of them.

CHAP. IX.

BE not glad, O Israel, to Rejoicing, like the People; since thou goest a whoring from thy God: dost love Hire upon all the Corn-floors.

2. The Floor and Wine-press shall not feed them, and the new Wine shall fail in her.

3. They shall not dwell in the Lord's Country; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat what is unclean in Assyria.

4. They shall neither pour out Wine to the Lord, nor the Things be sweet to him; their Sacrifices shall be as the Food of Sorrows to them, all who eat it shall be unclean: for their Food to their Appetite shall not come into the House of the Lord.

5. What will you do at the solemn Day, and at that of the Lord's Feast?

6. For behold they shall go, because of wasting; Egypt shall gather them together, Moph bury them: the pleasant Places for their Money shall the Thistles inherit, the Thorns shall be in their Tents.

7. That the Days of Visitation are come, the Days of Recompence come, the Israelites shall know; that the Prophet is foolish, the spiritual Man frantick, by reason of the Multitude of thy Iniquity, and the great Hatred.

8. The Watchman of Ephraim is with my God: the Prophet is the Snare of a Fowler in all his Ways, Hatred in the House of his God.

9. They deeply corrupting themselves as at the Time of Gibeah, he will remember their Iniquity, will visit their Sins.

10. I found Israel as Grapes in the Wilderness, saw your Fathers as the First-fruit on the Fig-tree at the Beginning of it: they came to Baal-peor, and were separated to the Shame; the Abominations being such as they loved.

11. As for the Ephraimites, their Glory shall fly away like a Fowl; from the Birth, the Womb and Conception.

12. Nay if they breed up their Children, yet will I deprive them of Men: for even so be to them, when I depart from them.

13. Ephraim, as I saw of Tyre, is planted in a pleasant Place; but Ephraim is bringing forth his Children for the slayer.

14. Give them, O Lord; what shalt thou give? Give them a miscarrying Womb, and flagging Breasts.

15. All their Wickedness is in Gilgal, though I hate them there; I will drive them out of my House, for the Wickedness of their Doings: I will love them no more; all their Princes are rebellious.

16. Ephraim is smitten, their Root is dried up, they yield no Fruit; even though they should bear, yet will I cause the Desires of their Belly to die.

17. My God will reject them, because they do not hearken to him; and they shall be Wanderers in the Nations.

CHAP. X.

ISRAEL is an empty Vine, he provides Fruit for himself: according to the Multitude of his Fruit, he multiplies Altars; according to the Goodness of his Country, they make the Statues good.

Ver. 13. roasted] See Deut. xvi. 7. and Buxt. Lex. under צֶהֱ

Ib. to Egypt] whither some of the Israelites seem to have fled in the Time of the Assyrian War, as being in Friendship, and from the Enemy, and as seems by Ch. vii. 16. & ix. 3, 6. & xi. 11. Isa. xi. 11. therefore I suppose Lyra interprets away the real Meaning, duram & vilem servitutem qualem in Aegypto servierunt, they shall perform such hard and vile Slavery as they did in Egypt; and Grot. referring it to 2 King. xvii. 4.

Ver. 6. Moph] So the Heb. is; in other Places Neph, and thus rendered by the common Translators.

Ver. 7. Hatred] of God to him, as Ver. 8, 15.

Ver. 8. Watchman] He that watches rightly, and sees how it is with the false Prophet mentioned before and after, as also in Chap. iv. 5.

Ver. 9. as] as those of Gibeah did, Judg. xix. This is so far from invalidating or affecting the Interpretation given of Chap. x. 9. as possibly might be objected, that they might here have been compared to the Sodomites or others, and why not to those? And here is not such Distinction as is there.

Ver. 10. at the Beginning of it] Before the other Fruit is come; denoting their solitary Condition, which agrees to Grapes in the Wilderness.

Ver. 12. Nay if] so Noldius, that accurate laborious Distinguisher of the Sense of the Heb. Particles.

Ver. 15. is in Gilgal] See Chap. iv. 15. & xii. 11.

Ver. 1. he provides Fruit for himself] Of this the Targum is explanatory, The Fruits of their Works have caused them to be taken captive.

2. Their Heart is divided, now they are guilty: he will break down their Altars, will waste their Statues.

3. For now they may say, We have no King: for as we do not fear the Lord, what can a King do for us?

4. They speak Words, swearing falsely in making the Covenant; and Judgment springs forth like Hemlock upon the Ridges of the Field.

5. The Inhabitants of Samaria shall be afraid for the Calves of Beth-aven: since its People shall mourn for it, and its black ones who rejoice at it for its Glory, because that shall be carried away from it.

6. It shall even be had away to Assyria, a Present to a King who can contend: Ephraim shall take shame, and Israel be ashamed by his own Counsel.

7. As for Samaria, her King shall perish, like the Froth atop of the Water.

8. And the Chapels of Aven shall be destroyed, the Sin of Israel; Thorns and Thistles shall come up on their Altars: nay they shall say to the Mountains, Cover us; and to the Hills, Fall upon us.

9. From the Days of Gibeah hast thou sinned, O Israel: there they stood; the Battle against the Sons of Iniquity did not reach them at Gibeah.

10. It is in my Desire, that I may bind them; and the People shall be gathered up against them, when they are bound for their two Iniquities.

11. Notwithstanding Ephraim is a Heifer taught, that loves to tread out, I pass over her brave Neck: I will make Ephraim be rode on; Judah shall plough, Jacob harrow for him.

12. Sow you in Righteousness, reap with Kindness, break you up the fallow Ground; and it will be the Time to seek the Lord, till he comes, and rains Righteousness on you.

13. You plough Wickedness, reap Iniquity, eat the Fruit of Lying: for thou trustest in thy own Way, in the Multitude of thy powerful ones.

14. But a Tumult shall rise up among thy People, and every one of thy strong Holds shall be wasted, like Shalman's wasting Beth-arbel on the Day of Battle; the Mother being dashed in pieces upon the Children.

15. Thus will Beth-el do to you, by reason of your worst of Evils: in the Morning shall the King of Israel be quite cut off.

C H A P. XI.

WHEN Israel was a Child, and I loved him, I called my Son out of Egypt:

Ver. 2. divided] partim idola partim Deum colendo, by partly worshipping Idols and partly God, Lyra.

Ver. 3. no King] This Lowth refers to the Inter-regnum between Pekah and Hoshea.

Ver. 5. its—it] twice repeated, I understand of Beth-aven, with which they agree in Number and Gender, but differ in both from Calves in Heb.

Ver. 6. had away] according to the Account given in Seder Olam Rabba, Cap. 22. the golden Calf at Dan, 1 King. xii. 28, 29. was taken away by Tiglath-pileser, 2 King. xv. 29. and that at Beth-el (called by this Prophet Beth-aven, as remarked on Chap. iv. 15.) by Shalmaneser in the Beginning of the Reign of Hoshea, 2 King. xvii. 3. which agrees well with the Time of the Prophecy, as at Ver. 3.

Ver. 7. King] Pekah according to Lowth.

Ver. 9. From] hast failed in Zeal and Courage against Wickedness, as a People in general ever since, Judg. xx. for it seems unnatural to charge the Sin of Gibeah upon the Israelites, which they so unanimously and sharply punished, considering too that Gibeah did not now belong to the Kingdom of Israel; nay the Commendation of their standing may settle this Meaning, as also their being distinguished from the Sons of Iniquity.

Ib. stood] The Targ. adds to it in a contrary Sense, they rebelled against my Word by making for themselves a King, &c.

Ib. reach] did not reach their Country, as the Destruction now predicted should.

Ver. 10. bind] The same Letters might signify chastise, the Vowels for which would be regularly two long e's, and for bind a short e and long o; and here being the same short e and a short o instead of the long, seems to shew the latter; this too I think better accords with bound that follows, which has the same Letters. So Jun. and Trem. render it, and Buxt. in Thef. Gram. Lib. 1. Cap. 4.

Ib. for their two Iniquities] As the Septuag. Version and vulg. Latin, with Santes and Cast. have it: which Lowth, Abarbenel, Grotius and others explain by the Calves of Dan and Bethel; see Ver. 5. and hence may be the Transition to calling Ephraim a Heifer, Ver. 11. Iniquities seems nearest to the Masoretical Reading (of which see Buxt. Lex. under יו at מיו) as well as makes the best Sense, and is quite different in Heb. from that in Ver. 4.

Ver. 11. loves to tread out] that she might eat the Corn; see Deut. xxv. 4.

Ib. pass over] with a Yoke.

Ib. make Ephraim be rode on] or make him (the same that follows, viz. the Assyrian King, Ver. 6.) ride Ephraim; shewing, as in the rest, how he should labour.

Ver. 14. like Shalman's wasting Beth-arbel] For this the Chald. by the Wasting of Peace by Sineset; and the vulg. Lat. as Salmuna was wasted by his House that took vengeance on Baul; on which see Buxtorf's Vindiciae, p. 742, 766.

Ib. Shalman's] It seems Shalmaneser, the Father of Sennacherib, King of Assyria, destroyed a Place of this Name not mentioned, 2 King. xix. 12, 13. with great Cruelty, which is spoken of as being recent, and well known.

Ver. 15. in] The vulg. Lat. As the Morning passed away, the King of Israel did; for in is much like as, and passed away seems to be made to agree the better with it, since such Latitudes have been passed by Translators.

Ver. 1. I called] This being parted from the foregoing by the great Heb. Point; and in this Manner Jun. and Trem. translate.

2. As any call them, so they go from their Presence, sacrificing to the Baals, and burning incense to the carved Images.

3. Though I teach the Ephraimites to go, taking them by their Arms; yet they do not know that I heal them.

4. I draw them with the Cords of Man, with the Ropes of Love, and am to them like those who lift up the Yoke which is upon their Jaws; nay I put aside the Food to them.

5. He shall not return to the Country of Egypt, but the Assyrian himself shall be his King; since they refuse to return.

6. And the Sword shall remain on his Cities, waste his Limbs, and consume, by reason of their Counsels.

7. For my People are cleaved to turning away from me; but when any call them to the High One, there is not coming up together.

8. How shall I give thee up, Ephraim; deliver thee up, Israel? How shall I give thee to be like Admah; make thee like Zeboim? My Heart is turned in me, my being sorry is kindled together.

9. I will not perform my fervent Anger, will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not Man, the Holy One within thee; and will not come into the City.

10. They will go after the Lord, who will roar like a Lion: for when he roars, the Children will tremble from the Sea.

11. They will tremble like a Bird from Egypt, and as a Dove from the Country of Assyria; then will I make them dwell in their own Houses, says the Lord.

12. The Ephraimites compass me with Falsehood, and the Family of Israel with Deceit; but Judah yet governs with God, and is faithful with the Saints.

EPHRAIM feeds on Wind, and follows after the East-wind; every Day he multiplies Lying and Wasting; they also make a Covenant with Assyria, and Oil is had away to Egypt.

2. Therefore the Lord has a Contention with Judah, even to punish Jacob according to his Ways, to whom he will render according to his Deeds.

3. In the Womb he took hold of his Brother's Heel, and by his Strength he was like a Prince with God.

4. He was even like a Prince to the Angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication to him, who found him at Beth-el, and spoke there with us;

5. Even the Lord God of Armies, whose Memorial is the Lord.

6. So return thou to thy God: keep Kindness and Judgment, and wait for thy God continually.

7. As for the Dealer, the Scales of Deceit are in his Hand; he loves to oppress.

8. And Ephraim says, Verily I am rich, I have found me Substance; in all my Labours they shall not find that I have Iniquity which is Sin.

9. But I am the Lord thy God from the Country of Egypt; who will yet make thee dwell in Tents, as at the Days of the appointed Time.

10. I therefore speak by the Prophets, multiply Visions, and make Comparisons by the Ministry of the Prophets.

11. Is Gilead Vanity? Verily they are vain, they sacrifice Oxen in Gilgal; their Altars also are as Heaps upon the Ridges of the Field.

Ver. 2. any call] as Ver. 7.

Ver. 3. their Arms] With the old Lat. And I, as it were the Nurse of Ephraim, carried them in my Arms, in the Liberty that Translater took.

Ver. 5. not return] shall not return to Egypt as a People in general, though divers of them should flee thither, Chap. viii. 13.

Ib. refuse to return] to God; and therefore should not return to Egypt, but go to a worse Place into Captivity; which would not be to return, since they refused that.

Ver. 7. coming up] to the High One, as just before.

Ver. 10. Sea] As this appears to be a Prophecy of the Israelites being brought home from Egypt and Assyria, this would neither be the West nor western Sea.

Ver. 12. yet governs] But the vulg. Lat. is come down a Witness; gned, a Witness, being so near like gnod, yet, and rad by Mistake or Ignorance, derived from yarad instead of rud.

Ver. 1. Wind] as unprofitable.

Ib. East-wind] as hurtful.

Ib. and Oil] which [and] should not be Italick.

Ver. 3. was like a Prince with God] Where the Vulg. has, was directed with the Angel, supposing מר an unusual Verb to come from מר Buxtorf's Answer to Capellus on it may be worth reading by the Curious, l'indicia, p. 794, 795.

Ver. 4. who] that is God, Gen. xxviii. 12, 19. & xxxv. 1. while the com. Transf. may seem to speak for worshipping Angels.

Ib. us] like we, Psa. lxvi. 6. and see the Commentaries of Calvin and Cocceius. The Septuag. have wildly to them.

Ver. 8. Verily] the same with that in Ver. 11.

Ib. is Sin] for were, if it was proper, would be the labours.

Ver. 9. But] thus Chap. xiii. 4. so in Pool's Annotations it is turned but, and that Sense shewn; as likewise by Cast. atqui.

Ib. I am] God must do for Ephraim, as in this Verse, and Ch. xi. 3, 4. though he says, I am rich, and I have found &c. and notwithstanding his vindicating himself, God judges him, Ver. 10. Chap. vi. 5.

Ver. 11. they sacrifice Oxen] But the vulg. Lat. sacrificing to Oxen, though the Doway College turn it into English, with Oxen; for Jerome in Annot. expounds it, They offer Sacrifices to Oxen, imitating the Error of Samaria: Gr. sacrificing Princes.

12. Not only Jacob fled to the Country of Syria, and Israel served for a Wife, and for a Wife kept Sheep;

13. But by a Prophet the Lord brought up Israel from Egypt, and by a Prophet he was kept.

14. Ephraim provokes with the Spires; so his Lord will spread his Blood upon him, and make his Reproach return to him.

C H A P. XIII.

WHEN Ephraim spoke with trembling, he was advanced in Israel; but being guilty by Baal, he died.

2. And now they proceed to sin, and make them a molten Image of their Silver, Images by their own Understanding, all of it the Work of the Artificers; of which they say, Let the Men who sacrifice kiss the Calves.

3. Therefore shall they be like a Morning Cloud, and like the early Dew that goes away, like Chaff driven tempestuously out of the Floor, and as Smoak out of the Chimney.

4. But I am the Lord thy God from the Country of Egypt; nay a God excepting me thou knowest not, and a Saviour there is none besides me.

5. I knew thee in the Wilderness, in a Country of Droughts.

6. According to their Pasture, so are they filled; they being filled, their Heart is exalted: therefore they forget me.

7. So will I be to them like a fierce Lion, will watch like a Leopard in the Way.

8. I will meet them as a Bear deprived of its Young, and rend the Covering of their Heart; nay consume them there as a stout Lion, the wild Beast shall tear them asunder.

9. He destroys thee, O Israel; though there is for thy Help in me.

10. Where is thy King now, and he that will save thee in all thy Cities, as also thy Judges of whom thou saidst, Give me a King and Princes?

11. I gave thee a King in my Anger, and took him away in my Wrath.

12. The Iniquity of Ephraim is bound up, his Sin is hid.

13. The Pangs of a Woman in labour shall come to him: he is an unwise Son, for he should not remain some Time at the breaking out of Children.

Ver. 14. Spires] the very same as in Jer. xxxi. 21. from the radical Word signifying a Palm-tree, which grows so: this being confirmed and explained by, as it is agreeable to, the latter Part of Ver. 11. The Geneva Bib. has it high places.

Ver. 2. by] it being β not γ in all the Heb. Bibles I have, excepting Munster's of least Authority; as Drusus says it was in all he had seen but one.

Ib. Let the Men who sacrifice] The Sept. and vulg. Interp. Sacrifice Men; but not after the Heb. which has not γ and the Sept. have next, for the Calves have failed.

Ib. kiss] as Tully speaks concerning the Image of Hercules, in his 4th Oration against Verres.

Ver. 5. knew thee] By the Chald. Paraphrast, supplied their Necessities.

Ver. 8. Covering] called by Anatomists the Pericardium; the Heart being not in the Caul.

Ver. 9. He destroys thee] Namely Baal does, Ver. 1. or as Munster says, thy Iniquity; or according to Piscator in his Note on it, scilicet rex tuus, cujus mentio fit versu sequente, thy King of whom there is mention made in the following Verse. The Verb too is of the 3d Person; and the Heb. Tongue knows no such Thing as expressing a Reciproque, having the Subject and Object the same, or self by a Pronoun; because the Verbs have the Conjug. Hithpabel purposely for it. It is rendered the same in Lat. perdidit te, and in the Geneva Vers. one hath destroyed thee.

Ib. for] Heb. β

Ver. 10. Where] The Word אין here and in the 14th Verse might be either for אין where, by transposing the two Letters, or for אין I will be, by leaving out the last, both which are sometimes used in Heb. but the Sense will determine it for the former, as it is not proper, I will be thy King now, and he that will save thee—and thy Judges of whom thou saidst, &c. and Piscator here writes, Ero ita absolute positum, nec consequentia sermonis congruit, nec sensum aliquem convenientem gignit: I will be put thus nei- ther agrees with what follows, nor forms any other suitable Meaning.

Ib. Where is thy King now] So Lowth says, the Verbs may better be translated. In this Sense the 70 and the Targumist understand the Words, with several other Interpreters. But I have a better Proof to offer, viz. thus far is the first Member of the Sentence, both by the Heb. Pointing and the Conjunction which follows; so that the last Word of it cannot signify where, though it is rendered so in the com. Transl. by altering the Partition, and leaving out the Conjunction. And we may find ephe signifying now in several Places, as Isa. xix. 12. & xxii. 1. Pro. vi. 3. 2 King. x. 10. Job xix. 6. & xvii. 15. and commonly, if not always, when it has not the Letter א as Buxtorf observes under אין to make it interrogative. So Gost. renders it, Ubi nunc est tuus rex? and Drusus, Ubi rex tuus jam? whose Commentary see.

Ib. saidst, Give] as we read 1 Sam. viii. 6.

Ver. 11. gave] 1 Sam. viii. 7. & xii. 13, 17. In Pool's Annotations it is said, Such as Shalium, Menahem, Pekah, &c. but the Wickedness of those three in obtaining the Kingdom does not suit with the Expression of God's giving them, 2 King. xv. 10, 14, 16, 25. This Heb. Verb indeed is in the future Tense, and has therefore been referred to the King of Affyria; but I take it to be only future, after the Heb. Manner, to the foregoing Verb for saidst, which is in the past Tense.

Ib. took him away] 1 Sam. xiii. 14. & xv. 23. 1 Ch. x. 13, 14. This is not applicable to Shalmaneser or Enmesar King of Affyria, as he died a natural Death, Tobit i. 2, 15. Lowth reads this Verb only in the future Tense, and interprets it of Hoshea the last King of Israel, as if King was to be understood of all their Kings: but then it might be more probably extended to Zedekiah, as it began with Saul according to his Comment, and so belonged to Israel in general; since the taking away would otherwise but partly answer to the giving. Nor must it commence with Jeroboam, as the Assembly's Annotations mention, because he was not given in Anger to the Kingdom.

14. I will redeem them from the Power of the Grave, will ransom them from Death : where are thy Plagues, O Death? Where is thy Destruction, O Grave? Repentance shall be hid from my Eyes.

15. Though he is fruitful among the Brethren, the East-wind shall come, the Wind of the Lord come up from the Wilderness ; so that his Spring shall dry up, and his Fountain waste away : it shall spoil the Treasure of all the pleasant Things.

16. Samaria shall be desolate, for she has rebelled against her God : they shall fall by the Sword, their Children shall be dashed in pieces, and its Women with Child be cut up.

C H A P. XIV.

RETURN, O Israel, to the Lord thy God : for thou art fallen by thy Iniquity.

2. Take with you Words, and return to the Lord, supplicating him ; Forgive all Iniquity, and receive us well ; so will we render for Bullocks our Lips.

3. Assyria shall not save us, we will not ride upon Horses, nor call the Work of our Hands any more our god : it being thou by whom the Fatherless is had compassion upon.

4. I will then heal their turning away, will love them freely : for my Anger is turned away from him.

5. I will be like the Dew to Israel ; he shall flourish as a Lilly, and strike forth his Roots like Lebanon.

6. His tender Branches shall go on, his Comeliness be as an Olive-tree, and the Smell of him like Lebanon.

7. They shall return that dwell in his Shadow ; shall revive as Corn, and flourish like the Vine : the Remembrance of it shall be as the Wine of Lebanon.

8. Let Ephraim say, What are Images any more to me ? I will answer and observe him ; I am like a green Fir-tree, from me thy Fruit is found.

9. Who is wise, that he may understand these Things ; prudent, that he may know them ? For the Ways of the Lord are right, and the Virtuous go in them ; but Transgressors stumble therein.

Ver. 14. where] The Proof of this has been shewn at Ver. 10. to which may be added that the Apostle quotes it so 1 Cor. xv. 55. see Piscat. on Ver. 10.

Ver. 2. Forgive] the same Verb as in Psa. xxxii. 1. and which signifies so with such Nouns.

Ib. for Bullocks] which is proper ; but not bullocks of, nor is the Heb. so.

Ib. Bullocks] Thanksgivings as Jerome and others interpret it. Drusius says, Some translate it Calves, but wrong ; for עֲלִיִּים are rather called Calves, Comment. The Sept. have Fruit, and from thence in the Opinion of Hammond has, Heb. xiii. 15. whence he on Heb. viii. says, There is little reason to doubt, but the ancients and true reading was פֵּרִי not פֵּרִיָּה but though Somebody might think the latter should be in the contracted Form, denoting of between that and the following Word, which then would be like the former, and that might be mistaken for Fruit ; yet the Uncouthness of the Bullocks of our Lips was more likely the Occasion of taking it for Fruit ; whereas if it had been Fruit at first, it is not to be thought it would have been altered to Bullocks.

Ver. 4. will] or would, &c.

Ver. 5. to Israel] which is very express in the Heb. yet the vulg. Lat. is, I will be as it were Dew, Israel shall &c.

Ver. 7. Remembrance] according as in Chap. xii. 5. and every where else.

Ver. 8. like a green Fir-tree] not as the Images which are dead Stocks, and yield no Fruit.

Ib. thy Fruit] which thou hast to eat : not quem feret, which thou bearest, as Piscator interprets it ; for he himself allows it is God that is compared to the Fir-tree, not Ephraim.

NOTES upon the BOOK of JOEL.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commission which Joel the Son of Pethuel had.

2. Hear this, you Elders; and give ear, all Inhabitants of the Country: Has this been in your Days? Or was it in those of your Fathers?

3. Tell of it to your Children, and let them tell theirs, as also their Children to another Generation.

4. What is left by the Palmer-worm the Locust eats, what is left by the Locust the Canker-worm eats, and that which is by the Canker-worm does the Caterpillar eat.

5. Awake, O Drunkards, and weep; and lament, all Drinkers of Wine; for the new Wine, because it is cut off from your Mouth.

6. For a Nation is come up against my Country, strong, and out of Number: its Teeth are those of a Lion, and it has the Cheek-teeth of a stout Lion.

7. It has made my Vine desolate, and my Fig-tree foamy: has made quite bare, and cast off; the Branches of it are become white.

8. Lament like a Virgin girded with Sackcloth, for the Husband of her Youth.

9. The Meat-offering and Drink-offering being cut off from the Lord's House; the Priests, the Ministers of the Lord mourn.

10. The Field is wasted, the Ground mourns: for the Corn is wasted, the Wine dries up, the Oil languishes.

11. Be ashamed, you Husbandmen, lament, O Vine-dressers, for the Wheat and Barley; because the Harvest of the Field is perished.

12. The Vine dries up, and the Fig-tree languishes: the Pomegranate-tree, as well as the Palm-tree and Apple-tree, all the Trees of the Field dry up; for Joy is dried up from Mankind.

13. Gird your selves, and make lamentation, O Priests; lament, O Ministers of the Altar; come, abide all Night in Sackcloth, you Ministers of my God: for the Meat-offering, and Drink-offering, is withheld from the House of your God.

14. Sanctify a Fast, call a solemn Day, gather up the Elders, all the Inhabitants of the Country, to the House of the Lord your God; and cry to the Lord.

15. Alas for the Day; because the Day of the Lord draws near, and comes as a Wasting from the Almighty.

16. Is not the Food cut off before our Eyes, Gladness and Rejoicing from the House of our God?

17. The Grains are become mouldy under their Clods, the Granaries are desolate, the Barns broke down: for the Corn is dried up.

18. How the Beasts groan! The Herds of Oxen are perplexed, because there is no grazing for them; the Herds of Sheep too are become desolate.

19. To thee, O Lord, I call; because the Fire consumes the Pastures of the Wilderness, and the Flame burns all the Trees of the Field.

20. The Beasts of the Field also cry out

Ver. 1. Commission] This being in the Time of a great Drought, which is visibly here described (though Grotius strangely applies it to the Affyrians) and according to Usher in his Annals A. M. 3197, the same which Amos mentions as past, Chap. iv. 7, 8, 9. it follows that Joel's Prophecy was before the other's, the Time of which is told; and this may agree with Jerome, as an Author of most Authority in this Respect, making him Cotemporary with Hosea.

Ver 2. was it] Making a Question like it before.

Ver. 4. Caterpillar] In the Sept. Blast, but see Psa. lxxviii. 46.

Ver. 7. foamy] with Excrescences growing out like Foam, by the Heat and Driness, from the Verb (which this is not) to foam with rage: so Jun. and Trem. render it clavum.

Ver. 8. Lament like] The Sept. Lament to me over: for it without the Points signifying either lament or to me, and this Verb not having the former Meaning any where else, which it derives from the Chald. as also the latter though frequent not making Sense alone, they were profoundly joined together; and it likewise being mistaken for it was turned over: which seems the best Account that is to be given of it.

Ver. 14. to the House] for into it they might not come, only the Priests, nor would there be Room for all; and [to] may be included in Verbs of Motion.

[to cry to the Lord] In Jerome's Version intituled from the Heb. is this Addition, Glamate, inquit, ad Dominum in cordibus vestris, & dicite; Cry, says he, to the Lord in your Hearts, and say; but as no other Transf. has it, it is little to be regarded.

Ver. 15. Alas] The same Verf. of Jerome and the com. Lat. have it thrice, and the Sept. with to me after each; because, as Jerome says in his Comment, they had sinned against the Trinity; but this must be to think above what is written, 1 Cor. iv. 6. see Jerome's Works, Tom. 6. in fol. mine being published by Erasmus, 1516.

Ver. 19. Fire] estus solis, the Heat of the Sun, as I think Piscator best expounds it.

to thee; because the Channels of Water dry up, and the Fire consumes the Pastures of the Wilderness.

CHAP II.

BL O W the Trumpet in Zion, and found an Alarm on my holy Mountain: let all the Inhabitants of the Country be moved: for the Day of the Lord is coming, for it draws near;

2. A Day of Darkneſs and Dimneſs, a Day of Clouds and Obſcurity, like one of the Morning ſpread upon the Mountains: there is a People great and ſtrong, the like to which has never been, nor ſhall be again after them to the Years of all Ages.

3. The Fire consumes before them, and the Flame burns after them: the Country before them is like the Garden of Eden, and behind them a deſolate Wilderneſs; nay there is alſo no eſcaping of them.

4. The Sight of them is like that of Horſes, and juſt like Horſemen do they run:

5. As the Noiſe of Chariots which bound upon the Tops of the Mountains, as the Noiſe of a Flame of Fire that consumes the Stubble, as of a ſtrong People ſet in order for War.

6. The People are in Anguiſh at their Preſence, all Faces gather Blackneſs.

7. They run like the Powerful, climb up the Wall like Men of War; and go in their reſpective Ways, without turning out of their Paths.

8. Nor do they ſtreighten one another, they go in their ſeveral Roads; and falling by the Dart, are not wounded.

9. They run to and fro in the City, run on the Wall, climb up the Houſes, enter through the Windows like a Thief.

10. The Earth is moved before them, the Heaven ſhakes, the Sun and Moon are gloomy, and the Stars withdraw their Brightneſs.

11. Nay the Lord utters his Voice before his Army, as his Camp is very large, as he is ſtrong to accompliſh his Word: for the Day of the Lord is great, and very terrible; who then can bear it?

12. So even now, ſays the Lord, return to me with your whole Heart, with Fasting, Weeping, and Lamentation.

13. And rend your Heart inſtead of your Garments, and return to the Lord your God: for he is gracious and merciful, forbearing of Anger, and of large Kindneſs, and being ſorry for Harm.

14. Who knows but he may return, be ſorry, and leave a Bleſſing behind him, a Meat-offering and Drink-offering for the Lord your God?

15. Blow the Trumpet in Zion, ſanctify a Faſt, call a ſolemn Day:

16. Gather the People, ſanctify the Congregation, bring together the Elders, gather the Children and ſuch as ſuck the Breasts; let the Bridegroom come out of his Cloſet, and the Bride out of her Marriage-chamber.

17. Let the Priests, the Miniſters of the Lord, weep between the Porch and the Altar, and pray; Have compaſſion upon thy People, O Lord, and do not deliver thy Poſſeſſion to Reproach, for the Nations to rule over them: why ſhould they taunt among the People, Where is their God?

18. Then will the Lord be zealous for his Country, and ſpare his People.

19. To whom he will make answer thus: Behold I will ſend you Corn, Wine and Oil, ſo that you ſhall be ſatisfied with it; and will no more make you a Reproach among the Nations.

20. And I will remove the northern Army far from you, driving it away to a dry and deſolate Country, with its Face to the eaſt Sea, and its End to the hindermoſt Sea; and the Stink of it ſhall go up, as ſhall its Stench, though it acts in a great Manner.

21. Do not fear, O Ground, rejoice, and be glad; for the Lord will act in a great Manner.

22. Fear not, you Beaſts of the Field: for the Paſtures of the Wilderneſs will ſprout forth; for the Tree will bear its Fruit, the Fig-tree and Vine yield their Strength.

23. You Sons of Zion, therefore rejoice, and be glad through the Lord your God: for he will give you the former Rain ſuitably; and will cauſe the Shower to come

Ver. 2. like one of the Morning] ſo certainly coming, and near approaching, according to Ver. 1. with no Reſpect to Darkneſs, &c. tho' Jun. and Trem. have ventured to tranſlate, without diſtinguiſhing the Words, ut nubes aurora, as the clouds of the morning. And bewildered without the Correction here, Ab. Ezra and Kimbi expound it to be ſuddenly, Grot. largely; while Caſt. and the Biſhops quite diſjoin theſe, and notwithstanding the Heb. Diſſiſion, unite this to the following: which to mention, may be ſufficient to refute; yet allowing that an Attempt at ſome Senſe, may be more commendable than no Attempt at any, as with others.

Ver. 8. by the Dart] the Thorns of the Buſhes which are ſlippery throwing them down. It does not appear that this Particle ever ſignifies upon, and if the Inſects had fallen ſo, they might have been wounded.

Ver. 14. a Meat-offering] by giving Plenty.

Ver. 20. though] according to Lowth's Obſervation, and the Senſe of the Paſſage.

Ver. 23. suitably] Heb. to Juſtice, or juſtly, what is ſuitable or fit for the Ground.

Ib. at firſt] at the Beginning of the Season for each Rain, as Caſt. elegantly renders it in primis; which could not be both in the firſt month, nor is there month in the Original: Jun. and Trem. add tempore, Time; others tranſlate as at the Beginning.

down.

down for you, the former and latter Rain at first.

24. And the Floors shall be full of Wheat, the Presses too shall overflow with Wine and Oil.

25. I will further render to you the Years, which the Locust, Canker-worm, and Caterpillar, and Palmer-worm has eat, my great Army that I sent among you.

26. Thus shall you eat still, and be satisfied, praising the Name of the Lord your God, who deals wonderfully with you; and my People shall never be ashamed.

27. You will then know that I am within Israel, and am the Lord your God, there being none else; and my People shall never be ashamed.

28. And after that I will pour out my Spirit upon all Flesh, and your Sons and Daughters shall prophesy, your old Men dream Dreams, your young Men see Visions.

29. And also upon the Servant-men and Maids, will I pour out my Spirit in those Days.

30. Besides I will put strange Sights in the Heaven and on the Earth; Blood, and Fire, and Pillars of Smoak.

31. The Sun shall be turned into Darkness, and the Moon into Blood, before the great and terrible Day of the Lord comes.

32. And every one who calls on the Name of the Lord shall be delivered: for on Mount Zion, and in Jerusalem there shall be Deliverance, as the Lord has said, and among those that remain whom the Lord will call.

C H A P. III.

FOR behold in those Days, and at that Time, in which I shall turn back the Captivity of Judah and Jerusalem;

2. I will also gather together all Nations, and bringing them down to the Valley of Jehoshaphat, will come to Judgment with them there, for my People and my Possession Israel, whom they have scattered among the Nations, and divided my Country:

3. Having cast Lots for my People, given a Boy for a Whore, and sold a Girl for Wine, that they might drink.

4. And what have you also to do with me, O Tyre, Zidon, and all the Borders of Philistia? Will you render a Recompence to me? For if you recompense me, I will swiftly, speedily cause your Recompence to return on your own Head:

5. Who have taken my Silver and Gold, and carried my good pleasant Things to your Temples.

6. Have further sold the Posterity of Judah and those of Jerusalem to the Grecians, that you might remove them far off from their own Bounds.

7. Behold I will stir them up from the Place whither you have sold them; and will cause your Recompence to return on your own Head.

8. And I will sell your Sons and Daughters into the Hand of the Posterity of Judah, who shall sell them to the Shebäites, a People far off: for the Lord has spoken it.

9. Proclaim this among the Nations, prepare the War; stir up the strong ones, let all the Warriors approach, let them come up.

10. Beat your Spades into Swords, and your Pruning-hooks into Spears: let the Weak say, I am strong.

11. Assemble, and come on every Side, all Nations, and be gathered together: cause thy strong ones, O Lord, to come down thither.

12. Let the Nations be stirred up, and ascend to the Valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the Nations on every Side.

13. Put forth the Sickle, for the Harvest is ripe: come, get down, for the Winepress is full, the Presses overflow, because their Wickedness is great.

14. Multitudes, Multitudes will be in the Valley of Determination: for the Day of the Lord is near in the Valley of Determination.

15. The Sun and Moon will be gloomy, and the Stars withdraw their Brightness.

16. Nay the Lord will roar from Zion, and utter his Voice from Jerusalem, so that the Heaven and Earth shall shake; but the Lord will be the Refuge of his People, and the Strength of the Israelites.

17. So you shall know that I am the Lord your God, who dwell on Zion my holy Mountain; and Jerusalem shall be holy, and Strangers pass through it no more.

Ver. 25. Army] which is here plainly told to be these Insects: but Grot. expounds them to denote four Kings of Affria; what will not some learned Men do, to distinguish themselves by being singular?

Ver. 26. Still] for so the Verb being doubled as here signifies, Buxt. Thes. Gram. Lib. ii. Cap. 16. Reg. 2. and if transposed might have been plentifully: so Trem. and Jun. have indefinitely.

Ver. 2. Valley of Jehoshaphat] lying along on the east Side of the City of Jerusalem, where God would judge them from Mount Zion, Ver. 12, 16.

Ver. 8. sell] 'This might probably come to pass, when Alexander, after the taking of Tyre, sold thirty thousand of the Inhabitants for Slaves,' Lowth.

Ver. 14. Determination] agreeable to Ver. 2, 12.

Ver. 16. Refuge] not hope, unless from the old Latin.

18. At which Time the Mountains shall drop new Wine, and the Hills run with Milk, as all the Channels of Judah shall with Water; and a Fountain shall come out of the Lord's House, which shall water the Valley of Shittim.

19. Egypt shall become desolate, and Edom be a desolate Wilderness; for the Violence to the Posterity of Judah, in whose Country they have shed innocent Blood.

20. Whereas Judah shall abide for ever, and Jerusalem to all Ages.

21. Moreover I will cleanse their Blood that I have not cleansed; and the Lord will dwell in Zion.

Ver. 18. drop new Wine, and Sc.] Well expounded by Sir John Floyer, bring forth many Vines, and the Hills be fruitful Pastures, Sibylline Oracles translated, p. 317.

Ver. 19. whose] for which there is regularly the Heb.

Relative and Preposition, in the Manner of that Tongue; and so Fun. and Trem. who understood it better than most other Translators, have quorum.

NOTES upon the BOOK of AMOS.

C H A P. I.

THE Words of Amos, who was among the Sheep-men of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the Time of Uzziah King of Judah, and in that of Jeroboam the Son of Joash, King of Israel, two Years before the Earthquake;

2. Who said, The Lord will roar from Zion, and utter his Voice from Jerusalem; so that the Pastures of the Shepherds shall mourn, and the Head of the arable Land dry up.

3. Thus says the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of Damascus, nay four, because of their threshing Gilead with Threshing-instruments of Iron.

4. But I will send a Fire on the House of Hazael, which shall consume the Palaces of Ben-hadad.

5. And I will break the Bar of Damascus, and cut off the Inhabitant from the Vale of Aven, with him who holds the Scepter from the House of Eden; and the People of Syria shall be carried away to Kir, says the Lord.

6. Thus says the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of Gaza, nay four, because of their carrying away the whole Captivity, to deliver up to Edom.

7. But I will send a Fire on the Wall of Gaza, which shall consume the Palaces of it.

8. And I will cut off the Inhabitant from Ashdod, with him who holds the Scepter from Ashkelon; as also turn back my Hand against Ekron, and the Residue of the Philistines shall perish, says the Sovereign Lord.

9. Thus says the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of Tyre, nay four, because of their delivering up the whole Captivity to Edom, and not remembering the Covenant of Brothers.

10. But I will send a Fire on the Wall of Tyre, which shall consume the Palaces of it.

11. Thus says the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of Edom, nay four, because of his pursuing his Brother with the Sword, so that he lost his Compassions, did tear in his Anger for ever, and kept his Wrath perpetually.

12. But I will send a Fire on Teman, which shall consume the Palaces of Bozrah.

Ver. 1. Tekoa] situate on the north Side of a Hill, about nine Miles southward of Bethlehem, Maandr. Journ.

1b. two Years before the Earthquake] Sept. and Vulg. before the two Years of the Earthquake, which the Heb. confutes.

1b. Earthquake] spoken of long after, Zech. xiv. 5. and which Josephus says was when Uzziah was stricken with the Leprosy, Antiq. Lib. ix. 12. but could not be, as this was in Jeroboam's Time, and Jotham then ruled for Uzziah, 2 Chron. xxvi. 21. 2 King. xv. 5. since he was but in his 25th Year when he began reigning, 2 Chron. xxvii. 1. 2 King. xv. 33. and so Jeroboam was dead 14 Years before Jotham was born, as by the Chron. Table; see Univ. Hist. B. I. vii. 7.

Ver. 3. not turn it away] the Judgment and Destruction denounced in general, Ver. 2.

1b. by reason of] The Particle For in the com. Transf. makes the Sense obscure and doubtful.

1b. four] By the Use of the same Preposition by repeated, and by the whole Compass of the Context, it appears to me the Meaning is, that the Wickedness here mentioned was as great as three or four Transgressions.

1b. threshing Gilead] See 2 King. viii. 12. & x. 32, 33. & xiii. 3, 7.

Ver. 5. Eden] there being in Mount Libanus a Place called Eden to this Day, Maund.

1b. Kir] as exactly fulfilled, 2 King. xvi. 9.

Ver. 6. carrying] See 2 Chron. xxi. 16, 17. Joel iii. 4, 5, 6. Lowth also cites 2 Chron. xxviii. 18. but that was after the Time of the Prophecy.

1b. Edom] See Ver. 11. 2 Chron. xxi. 10.

VOL. II.

Ver. 7. send] This seems to be accomplished at the Time mentioned in 2 King. xviii. 8. as likewise foretold Isa. xiv. 29. though it might be more fully afterwards, at the other distinct Times spoken of Jer. xlvii. Ezek. xxv. 16, 17. (see also the Note on Jer. xxv. 20.) as it is here said they should perish.

Ver. 8. Residue] those who had in the former Part of Uzziah's Reign escaped the Slaughter he made among them, 2 Chron. xxvi. 6.

Ver. 9. Covenant] See 1 King. v. 1, 12. & ix. 11, 13.

Ver. 10. send] The fulfilling of this is omitted by all the Commentators I have now consulted, but according to the Annals of Menander in Josephus, Antiq. Lib. ix. 14. and against Apion, Lib. i. Shalmaneser King of Affria made war upon Elaleus King of Tyre, at which Time not only the other Towns revolted from the Tyrians, but the City Tyre it self was besieged five Years, though by Shalmaneser's dying not taken then: however this Prophecy might then be literally fulfilled on the Wall, and Palaces at the Outside of the City, or Fire here might metaphorically signify any destroying. Other Calamities of Tyre being much longer after the Time it was prophesied, cannot lay so proper a Claim to it.

Ver. 11. pursuing] See Joel iii. 19.

1b. in his Anger] Ablatively, according as it stands in the Heb. and as the Sense demands: for it must be he himself that did tear, not his anger, much less was it that which kept; but some Printers have helped out the Translators, by putting in [he] to the latter.

Ver. 12. send] Isa. xxxiv. 6. and the Note on Chap. xx. 1. A latter Destruction is more unlikely to belong to this Prophecy.

13. Thus says the Lord ; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of the Ammonites, nay four, because of their cutting up the Women of Gilead with Child, that it might enlarge their Bounds.

14. But I will kindle a Fire on the Wall of Rabbah, which shall consume the Palaces of it, with a Noise on the Day of Battle, with a Tempest on the Day of the Whirlwind.

15. And their King himself shall go into Captivity, with his Princes together, says the Lord.

CHAP. II.

THUS says the Lord ; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of Moab, nay four, because of his burning the Bones of the King of Edom to Lime.

2. But I will send a Fire on Moab, which shall consume the Palaces of Kerioth ; and Moab shall die with a Tumult, with a Noise, with the Sound of a Trumpet.

3. I will also cut off the Judge from within it, and slay all its Princes with him, says the Lord.

4. Thus says the Lord ; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of Judah, nay four, because of their despising the Law of the Lord, so that they do not keep his Ordinances ; but their Lyes cause them to go astray, after which their Fathers went.

5. But I will send a Fire on Judah, which shall consume the Palaces of Jerusalem.

6. Thus says the Lord ; I will not turn it away, by reason of three Transgressions of Israel, nay four, because of their selling the Righteous for Money, and the Needy for the sake of a Pair of Shoes.

7. They pant for the Dust of the Earth on the Head of the Poor, and turn aside the Way of the Meek ; a Man and his Father also go to a Maid, to profane my holy Name.

8. And upon Garments pawned they lean down by every Altar, and drink the Wine of those who are punished at the House of their God.

9. Though I destroyed the Amorite from their Presence, whose Height was like that of the Cedars, and he was strong like the Oaks ; yet I destroyed his Fruit from above, and his Roots from below.

10. And I brought you up from the Country of Egypt, causing you to go in the Wilderness forty Years, to inherit the Country of the Amorite.

11. Besides I raised up some of your Sons for Prophets, and of your young Men for Nazirites : was not this also, O Israelites ? says the Lord.

12. But you made the Nazirites drink Wine ; and commanded the Prophets, that they should not prophesy.

13. Behold I am pressed under you, as a Cart is that is full of Sheaves.

14. Therefore shall Flight perish from the Swift, the Strong shall not have much Strength, nor the Powerful deliver himself.

15. He also that takes hold of the Bow shall not stand, nor one that is swift of his Feet escape, nor shall he who rides a Horse deliver himself.

16. And the stout-hearted one among the Powerful shall flee away naked on that Day, says the Lord.

Ver. 13. Women] This seems to have been done at the Time the Syrians exercised their Cruelties on the same Place, Ver. 3. either jointly or separately.

Ver. 14. kindle] The Performance of this may be referred to 2 Chron. xxvii. 5. but that of going into Captivity to the Conquest of Nebuchadnezzar, as Ezek. xxv. 7. Zeph. ii. 9.

Ver. 1. King] Usher in his Annals, at the Year of the Jul. Per. 3819. says, the King of Moab took the King of Edom's Son Prisoner in the War related 2 King. iii. and offered him for a whole Burnt-offering, and that this was meant here. But I must dissent from him, and any others of that Opinion : for, 1. The King's Son was not the King, nor being so slain was ever a King. 2. If the Son of the King of Edom had been killed by the Moabites, it must have exasperated the Allies the more to take revenge, instead of making them cease from the Slaughter, as we find was the Case, 2 King. iii. 27. 3. The King of Edom being then but a Deputy or Lord Lieutenant appointed by the King of Judah, 1 King. xxii. 47. the Country of Edom having been subdued by David, 2 Sam. viii. 14. 1 King. xi. 15, 16, 17. it did not belong to his Son to reign after his Father, as is said of him that was offered up. 4. By saying Bones here, it seems to have been a dead Person, who was taken out of his Grave and burnt, the Effect of great Malice and Cruelty. 5. This Prophecy, Chap. i. 1. being about a hundred Years after that Act of the King of Moab, besides the future Time for fulfilling it, makes it improbable that the King who committed the other Fact, lived so long to be punished. Of my Opinion may be seen the learned and skilful Commentators Grotius, Mercer, and Piscator, as likewise Jesephus.

1b. to Lime] probably to build Something with, an abominable, proud, and inhuman Action ; not suitable to what the King of Moab did.

Ver. 2. send] This was probably done a little before the Overthrow of the Kingdom of Israel by the Assyrians, as observed on Isa. xvi. 14.

Ver. 5. Fire] the Completion of which see 2 Chron. xxxvi. 19.

Ver. 7. Dust] Money, as in the foregoing Verse.

1b. on] or for, by selling him, as just before. What wide and weak Things have been advanced for the Meaning of this Expression, which admits of such a natural and agreeable Sense !

Ver. 8. Garments pawned] which were not to be detained, Exod. xxii. 26.

1b. lean down] with one Elbow on that which was spread under, as the eastern Posture was at Feasts, Godwin's Moses and Aaron, Lib. iii. 2. But lay down, which the Heb. Word does not signify, intimates another Meaning.

C H A P. III.

HEAR this following Expression which the Lord speaks against you, O Israelites, against all the Family that I brought up from the Country of Egypt;

2. I knew you only of all the Families of the Ground; therefore will I punish you for all your Iniquities.

3. Can two walk together, except they come together?

4. Does a Lion roar in the Wood, when there is no Prey for him? Does a young Lion utter his Voice from his Den, except he has caught?

5. Can a Bird fall in a Gin of the Earth, when there is no Snare for it? Will one take up a Gin from the Ground, when he has not caught at all?

6. Will a Trumpet be sounded in the City, and the People not be afraid? Will there be Harm in the City, and the Lord not do it?

7. For the Sovereign Lord will not do a Thing, without revealing his Secret to his Servants the Prophets.

8. A Lion roaring, who will not fear? The Sovereign Lord speaking, who will not prophesy?

9. Publish at the Palaces in Ashdod, and at those in the Country of Egypt, as follows, Get together upon the Mountains of Samaria, and see the great Vexations within it, and the Oppressed in the midst of it.

10. For they know not how to do Right, says the Lord, treasuring up Violence, and Wasting in their Palaces.

11. Therefore thus says the Sovereign Lord, There shall be an Adversary even round about the Country, who shall bring down thy Strength from thee, and thy Palaces shall be plundered.

Ver. 3. come together] Their Iniquities having separated them and the Lord; who would therefore justly and certainly punish them as follows. See this Meaning of ׁ in Niph. as here in Bux. Lexic.

Ver. 4. Prey] Those People being become a Prey for the Lord to seize on.

Ib. caught] as God would catch them.

Ver. 5. Gin] such as there was put for them, and should not be taken up till they were caught in it.

Ver. 6. Trumpet be sounded] Denoting the Warning now given by the Prophet.

Ib. Will there be Harm] Will it come by Chance? No.

Ver. 7. For] ׁ is a casual Conjunction, as the Cause or Reason here follows, of using the Comparisons in the foregoing Verse.

Ver. 12. the Nook] It is not Damascus; but thus interpreted with Ab. Ezra and Dav. Kim. as likewise in the Transf. of Pagn. and Montan. by Jun. and Trem. crure, in the Manner Pagn. shews in Lex. which he explains the Side or Feet: besides there is no in belonging to Couch, nor was Damascus in the Israelites Country.

Ver. 13. Lord God of Armies] as Psa. lxxxix. 8. where the Majorab numbers 12 such, and 5 others with the 12. Thus says the Lord, As a Shepherd delivers out of the Mouth of a Lion two Legs, or a Piece of an Ear; so shall the Israelites who dwell at Samaria be delivered in the Corner of a Bed, and in the Nook of a Couch.

13. Hear you, and testify among the Family of Jacob, says the Sovereign Lord God of Armies,

14. That at the Time I shall bring the Visitation of Israel's Transgressions upon him, I will also bring a Visitation upon the Altars of Beth-el, so that the Horns of the Altar shall be cut off, and fall to the Earth.

15. And I will smite the Winter-house with the Summer-house; nay the Houses of Ivory shall perish, and the great Houses have an end, says the Lord.

C H A P. IV.

HEAR this Word, O Heifers of Bashan, which are on the Mountain of Samaria, that oppress the Poor, bruise the Needy; who say to their Masters, Bring, that we may drink.

2. The Sovereign Lord has sworn by his Holiness, that behold the Days are coming upon you, when he will take you away with Prickles, and your Posterity with Fishing-hooks.

3. And you shall go forth at the Breaches, each one at that before her; and shall throw away what is at the Palace, says the Lord.

4. Come to Beth-el, and revolt at Gilgal, multiply revolting: even bring your Sacrifices in the Morning, your Tithes at the third Year;

5. And burn incense of the leavened Bread with Thanksgiving, and proclaim, publish

Ver. 1. Heifers] the inferior Magistrates and Officers, who pampered themselves like those Heifers. The Heb. Verbs must be feminine because the Word for Heifers is, and does not seem to intend Women as has been imagined; which the other Words Masters and drink confirm, and you twice masc. in the next Ver.

Ib. Bring] to us the Orders for Oppression.

Ver. 3. Breaches] at those in the Wall of the City, in order that you may escape, as Heifers go out at the Gaps in the Hedges.

Ib. throw away] that the Enemy might not have it, which might be done into the Water, or Holes dug in the Earth. So Jun. and Trem. translate, objicietis quæ erunt in palatio. The Commentators omit explaining it as in the Eng. Text, probably not without Reason. And 7, being local, as the Accent shews, better denotes at than into.

Ib. at the Palace] Theodotion, on the Mountain of Mona, as if the Heb. Word was parted in two, as likewise for the latter Symmach. and the Chald. Paraph. have Armenia.

the Free-offerings : for so you have loved, O Israelites, says the Sovereign Lord.

6. Therefore have I also given you Clean-ness of Teeth in all your Cities, and Want of Bread in all your Places ; yet you have not returned to me, says the Lord.

7. And I have also with-held from you the Shower, when it was yet three Months to Harvest ; and though I caused it to rain upon one City, I did not upon another : it rained on one Part, and the Part upon which it did not rain dried up.

8. Inasmuch that two or three Cities wandered to one City to drink Water, and were not satisfied ; yet you have not returned to me, says the Lord.

9. I have smitten you with Blasting and Blight : your Gardens, Vineyards, Fig-trees, and Olive-trees that were multiplied, the Palmer-worm consumed ; yet you have not returned to me, says the Lord.

10. I have sent among you the Murrain in the Manner of Egypt, have slain your young Men by the Sword, with the Captivity of your Horses, and caused the Stink of your Camps to go up, even into your Nose ; yet you have not returned to me, says the Lord.

11. I have overthrown some among you like God's Overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and you have been as a Firebrand rescued out of the Burning ; yet you have not returned to me, says the Lord.

12. Therefore I do thus to thee, Israel : because I do this to thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

13. For behold he that formed the Mountains, created the Wind, who declares to Man what his Mind is, makes the Morning Obscurity, and treads upon the high Places of the Earth, the Lord God of Armies is his Name.

C H A P. V.

HEAR this Word, the Lamentation which I bear concerning you, O Family of Israel.

2. The Virgin of Israel will fall down, without rising up : she will be forsaken in her Country, none raising her up.

3. For thus says the Sovereign Lord, The City that went forth a thousand shall leave a hundred, and that which went forth a hundred shall leave ten to the Family of Israel.

4. Yet thus says the Lord to the Family of Israel ; Seek me, and live.

5. But you shall not seek Beth-el, nor go to Gilgal, nor pass to Beer-sheba : for Gilgal shall be quite carried away, and Beth-el become Vanity.

6. Seek the Lord, and live ; lest he should have success as Fire in the Family of Joseph, and consume, and there be none who quenches at Beth-el ;

7. You that turn Judgment to Worm-wood, and leave off Righteousness on the Earth :

8. Him who made the seven Stars and Orion, as also turns the Shadow of Death into Morning, and causes the Day to be dark with Night, that calls the Waters of the Sea, and pours them out upon the Surface of the Earth, whose Name is the Lord :

9. Who takes refreshment with Wasting against the Strong, when Wasting comes against the Fortification.

10. They hate him that reproves at the Gate, and abhor him who speaks with Integrity.

11. Therefore because you tread upon the Poor, and take a Burden of Wheat from him ; though you build Houses of hewn Stone, you shall not dwell in them ; though you plant pleasant Vineyards, you shall not drink the Wine of them.

12. For I know your great Transgressions, and your numerous Sins ; distressing the Righteous, taking a Fee, for them to turn away the Needy at the Gate.

13. The understanding one will therefore be silent at that Time, for it will be an evil Time.

14. Seek Good, and not Evil, that ye may live ; and it will be so, the Lord of Armies will be with you, as ye say.

Ver. 7. dried up] for Ground does not wither.

Ver. 10. Murrain] Exod. ix. 3. where it is the same Heb. Word, and see on Exod. ix. 15.

Ver. 13. Mountains] Septuag. Thunder, these Words having some Resemblance in the Heb.

Ib. what his Mind is] For this the foresaid Gr. Interpreters have his Christ, taking the two Words כח שיהו as if כח שיהו

Ver. 5. Vanity] as Piscator has it in Schol. Hebr. vanitatem, Græc. in vanum.

Ver. 9. takes refreshment] or according to the con-Transf. comfort, Jeb x. 20. & ix. 27. Jer. viii. 18. the Word having no other but such a Meaning in Buxtorf's Lexicon, nor even in Castellus's. So Jun. and Trem. trans-late, Qui recreat se vastatione, Who refreshes himself with Wasting ; as God doubtless does in punishing the Wicked, and so restraining them from their Wickedness.

Ib. with Wasting] here being no Sign of the Accusative Case, or Object of the Verb ; neither is it a Participle, but a Noun ; nor does it any where signify spoiled, or passively.

Ver. 14. say] now falsely say he is, while you are so wicked.

15. Hate

15. Hate Evil, and love Good, and set up Judgment at the Gate: perhaps the Lord God of Armies will be gracious to the Residue of Joseph.

16. Therefore thus says the Lord God of Armies, the Lord; There shall be Lamentation in all the Streets, and they shall say in all the Courts, Alas, alas! as also call the Husbandman to Mourning, and Lamentation for those who know Bewailing.

17. And there shall be Lamentation in all the Vineyards; for I will pass through the midst of thee, says the Lord.

18. Alas to those who desire the Day of the Lord: why would you have this? The Day of the Lord that will be Darkness, and not Light:

19. As if a Man fled from the Face of a Lion, and a Bear met him; or got into a House, and leaning his Hand upon the Wall, a Serpent bit him.

20. Will not the Day of the Lord be Darkness, and not Light; and dim, having no Brightness?

21. I hate, I despise your Feasts; and will not smell in your solemn Days.

22. Nay if you offer to me Burnt-offerings, and your Oblations, I will not accept; nor will I look on the Peace-offerings of your fat Beasts.

23. Put away from me the Noise of thy Songs; and let me not hear the Melody of thy Lutes.

24. But let Judgment roll like Waters, and Righteousness like a strong Flood.

25. Did you bring Sacrifices and Oblation to me, in the Wilderness for forty Years, O Family of Israel?

26. Whereas you carried the Tabernacle of your Moloch, with Chiun, your Similitudes, the Star of your god which ye made you.

27. So I will take you away beyond Damascus, says the Lord, whose Name is the God of Armies.

C H A P. VI.

WHO be to those who are at ease in Zion, and who trust in the Mountain of Samaria, that are expressed to be the chief of the Nations, to which the Family of Israel are come;

2. (Pass to Calneh, and see, and go from thence to great Hamath, and go down to Gath of the Philistines; are they better than these Kingdoms? Are their Bounds larger than yours?)

3. Who drive off the ill Time, and you that bring the Seat of Violence nigh;

4. Who lie upon Beds of Ivory, and abound upon their Couches, eating Lambs from the Flock, and Calves from within the Stall;

5. Who chant to the Sound of the Lute, those that contrive them Instruments of Musick like David;

6. Who drink in Bowls of Wine, and anoint with the chief Ointments, but Nothing ails them for the Breach of Joseph.

7. Therefore now they shall be carried away at the Beginning of such as are carried away, and the Funeral-banquet of those that abound shall depart.

8. The Sovereign Lord swears by himself, says the Lord God of Armies; I abhor the Excellency of Jacob, and hate his Palaces: so I will deliver up the City, and the Multitude of it.

9. Moreover if ten Men are left in one House, they shall die.

10. And when his Beloved, or he that burns him, taking him up to bring the Bones out of the House, asks him who is at the

12. Will Horses run on the Rock? Shall one plough it with Oxen? For you turn Judgment into Hemlock, and the Fruit of Righteousness into Wormwood:

13. Who are glad for what is Nothing; that say, Have we not taken us Horns by our Strength?

14. For behold I will raise up a Nation against you, O Family of Israel, says the Lord God of Armies; and they shall oppress you, from the entering of Hamath to the River of the Desert.

C H A P. VII.

THUS the Sovereign Lord shewed me plainly that he formed Grasshoppers in the Beginning of the coming up of the latter Grass, which behold was that after the King's Mowings.

2. And when they had finished eating the Herb of the Earth, I said, O Sovereign Lord, forgive, I beseech thee; who will rise up for Jacob? For he is little.

3. The Lord was sorry for this: it shall not be, said the Lord.

4. Thus the Sovereign Lord shewed me plainly, that he himself proclaimed to contend by Fire, that it might consume the great Deep, and it consumed a Part.

5. Whereupon I said, O Sovereign Lord, leave off, I beseech thee; who will rise up for Jacob? For he is little.

6. The Lord was sorry for this: it also shall not be, said the Sovereign Lord.

7. Thus he shewed me plainly, that the Lord stood upon a Wall of a Plumb-line, having a Plumb-line in his Hand.

8. And the Lord said to me, What dost thou see, Amos? And upon my answering, A Plumb-line; he replied, Behold I will put a Plumb-line within my People Israel, I will pass to them again no more.

9. The Chapels also of Isaac shall be desolate, and the Sanctuaries of Israel wasted; and I will rise up against the Family of Jeroboam with the Sword.

10. And Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent Word to Jeroboam King of Israel; Amos has conspired against thee within the Family of Israel, the Country is not able to bear with all his Words.

11. For thus says Amos, Jeroboam shall die by the Sword, and Israel be wholly carried captive from his own Country.

12. Besides Amaziah said to Amos; Seer, go, flee thou to the Country of Judah; and eat Victuals there, and there prophesy.

13. And prophesy again no more at Beth-el: for it is the Sanctuary of the King, and it is the royal House.

14. But Amos made answer to him: I was not a Prophet, nor was I a Prophet's Son; for I was a Herdman, and a Searcher out of Sycomores.

15. And the Lord taking me from after the Flock, said himself to me, Go, prophesy to my People Israel.

16. So now hear the Lord's Commission; Thou sayest, Do not prophesy against Israel, and mention Nothing against the Family of Isaac.

17. Therefore thus says the Lord, Thy Wife shall commit Fornication in the City, thy Sons and Daughters shall fall by the Sword, thy Country be divided by Line, thou shalt die in an unclean Country, and Israel shall be wholly carried captive from his own Country.

Ver. 6. not be] As the Fire did not continue burning, nor should Tiglath-pileser destroying the Country of Israel.

Ver. 8. a Plumb-line] to measure out, as Ver. 17.

Ib. no more] because the third Time should complete their Overthrow and Desolation, according to the next Words; which was brought to pass by Sbalmaneser King of Assyria, 2 King. xvii. 3, 5, 6.

Ver. 9. Sword] as related, 2 King. xv. 10. and that in Ver. 11. seems to be the Priest's Perversion of this.

Ver. 14. Sycamores] of which Ramusliff says, being at Tripoli in that Country, They bear Fruit not unlike our Fig-trees, only sweeter, and not so good, and are commonly sold only to the poorer Sort of People, growing in Fields and Grounds; but the Eng. Transf. though published by Ray, is poorly express'd.

Ver. 17. fall by] probably in Shallum's Conspiracy, or while he reigned, 2 King. xv. 10. as they were Favourites of Jeroboam's Family, whose Priest Amaziah was, Ver. 10, 13. and whose Son Shallum slew.

Ib. die in] whither he might flee to save his own Life, when his Children were slain.

C H A P. VIII.

THUS the Sovereign Lord shewed me plainly, that there was a Basket of Summer-fruit.

2. And he said, What dost thou see, Amos? And upon my answering, A Basket of Summer-fruit; the Lord replied to me, The End is come to my People Israel, I will pass to them again no more.

3. At which Time the Songs of the Temple shall be Lamentation, says the Sovereign Lord; many dead Bodies in every Place shall they cast out silently.

4. Hear this, you who swallow up the Needy, even to cause the Afflicted of the Country to cease,

5. Saying; When will the New-moon pass away, that we may sell Provision; the Sabbath, that we may open the Wheat; to make the Ephah little, and the Shekel great, and to pervert the Scales with Deceit,

6. To purchase the Poor with Money, and the Needy for a Pair of Shoes, that we may sell the Refuse of the Wheat?

7. The Lord swears by the Excellency of Jacob, I will never forget any of their Doings.

8. Shall not the Country quake for this, and every Inhabitant in it mourn? Since all of it shall heave up as a River; and be driven out, and sink down like the River of Egypt.

9. And at that Time, says the Sovereign Lord, I will cause the Sun to set at Noon, and make the Country dark in the light Day.

10. I will also turn your Feasts into Mourning, and all your Songs into Lamentation, putting Sackcloth upon all Loins, and Baldness upon every Head; I will even make it like the Mourning for an only one, and the End of it as a bitter Day.

11. Behold the Days are coming, says the Sovereign Lord, when I will send Hunger into the Country; not Hunger for Bread, nor Thirst for Water, but to hear the Words of the Lord:

12. Inasmuch that they will wander from Sea to Sea, and from the North, even to the East; will range about to seek the Word of the Lord, and not find.

13. At that Time shall the fair Virgins and young Men faint for Thirst.

14. Those who swear by the Guilt of Samaria, and say, By thy god's living, O Dan; and By the Way of Beertheba's living; shall fall, and rise up no more.

C H A P. IX.

IS A W the Lord stand upon the Altar, and he said; Smite the Ball, that the Thresholds may shake, and cut all of them on the Head; and I will slay the Remainder of them with the Sword: he who is fleeing away of them shall not flee away, nor he that escapes of them deliver himself.

2. If they dig into Hell, my Hand shall take them thence; and if they climb up to Heaven, I will bring them down from thence;

3. Otherwise if they hide in the Top of Carmel, I will search, and take them thence; nay if they lurk from before my Eyes in the Bottom of the Sea, from thence will I command the Serpent, that he should bite them;

4. And if they go into Captivity before their Enemies, I will command the Sword from thence, and it shall slay them: as I will set my Eyes upon them for Harm, and not for Good.

5. For the Sovereign Lord of Armies will strike the Country, and it shall be dissolved, and all the Inhabitants in it shall mourn; since all of it shall heave up as a River, and sink down like the River of Egypt.

Ver. 3. Songs] Gr. Cielings, and old Lat. Hinges shall break; the Author of the latter taking שִׁיר for שִׁירָה and mistaking the Gender, rather than שִׁירָה for שִׁירָה as Schindler and others have supposed.

Ver. 8. sink down] after it has swelled up, and been driven out of the Channel; denoting perhaps besides the literal Description of the Earthquake, Ch. i. 1. the dwindling Condition of the Israelites when they should be gone into Captivity, Ch. ix. 4, 5. in which Manner this Verb is rendered, Jer. li. 64. Job xli. 1. nor will it any where bear to be translated drowned, and which is absurd here, for a floud (as in the com. Transl.) to be drowned.

lb. like the River of Egypt] which used to overflow that Country, and then sink down again.

Ver. 9. Sun] Usher, Annales ad An. Mun. 3213, refers this to three great Eclipses of the Sun a few Years after, one at Pentecost, another in the Feast of Tabernacles, and the other at the Passover, according to Ver. 10. which, or most strictly the first of them, that was in the Year of the Jul. Period 3923, and by my Table that after the Death of Jeroboam 2, being at the Time of the Earthquake; consequently the Earthquake must be at that Time, and so this be prophesied the Year before his Death, and the 14th of Uzziah, Chap. i. 1.

Ver. 11. are coming] For what is the Days come besides obsolete, or rather pedantick?

lb. Hunger] suiting the Context, as may be seen, much better than famine.

Ver. 12. Sea] from the Mediterranean to the dead Sea and that of Tiberias, on the West and East.

lb. East] every Way besides the South where the Temple at Jerusalem was, whither the Idolaters in the Kingdom of Israel would not go.

Ver. 1. the Ball] put probably on the Middle of the Lintel, over the Door, for Ornament; the Word not signifying the lintel, and of the door is added by the Translators. The LXX have it in asphion the Atonement-covering or Mercy-seat, reading, as the learned Cocceius observes in his Commentary, כפרת instead of כפתר through Unskillfulness.

6. It is he builds his Stairs in the Heaven, and founds his Troop on the Earth; who calls the Waters of the Sea, and pours them out upon the Surface of the Earth, the Lord is his Name.

7. Are you not like the Ethiopians to me, O Israelites? says the Lord: did not I bring up Israel from the Country of Egypt, so the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8. Behold the Eyes of the Sovereign Lord are on the sinful Kingdom, so that I will destroy it from the Surface of the Ground; save that I will not utterly destroy the Family of Jacob, says the Lord.

9. For lo I will command, and sift the Family of Israel in all Nations, like the sifting in a Sieve, when there does not fall a Grain to the Earth.

10. All the Sinners of my People shall die by the Sword, who say, No Harm will come nigh, nor prevent us.

11. At that Time I will raise up the Tabernacle of David which is fallen down; will fence its Breaches, raise up his Destructions, and build it as in ancient Days:

12. That they may inherit the Remainder of Edom, and of all the Nations who are called by my Name, says the Lord, the Doer of this.

13. Behold the Days are coming, says the Lord, when the Ploughman shall come nigh to the Reaper, and the Treader of Grapes to the Drawer out of the Seed; the Mountains shall also drop new Wine, and all the Hills be dissolved.

14. And I will turn back the Captivity of my People Israel; who shall build the desolate Cities, and inhabit; nay plant Vineyards, and drink the Wine of them; as likewise make Gardens, and eat their Fruit.

15. Thus will I plant them upon their own Land, and they shall be plucked up no more from their Land which I gave them, says the Lord thy God.

Ver. 7. like] The Drift of this Verse seems to be, that as the Israelites were wicked, they had Nothing to claim above other People.

Ib. Ethiopians] as if the worst Species of Mankind, being Blacks, Jer. xiii. 23. and the Race of cursed Ham.

Ib. Caphtor] See Gen. x. 14.

Ib. Syrians] Lowth remarks Affyrians to be a Mistake of the Print in some Eng. Bibles; I do not find it otherwise in any now, and for a long while past; though to do the Translators Justice, it was Syrians at first.

Ib. from Kir] This seems to be an ancient Affair like the others, not mentioned elsewhere; while the Attempts to explain it by 2 King. xvi. 9. are absurd.

Ver. 12. they may inherit the Remainder of Edom] the fulfilling of which see Obad. 18. But Hammond on Heb. viii. counts the Original was as in the Sept. and Act. xv. 17. the Remainder of Men may seek after the Lord, which might be he says by light Changes of for 7, n for h (Letters much unlike) and taking 1 out of Edom; whereas who that is impartial can think all these fell out together? Nor would it make the Lord then, but God. Spare, O ye Criticks, the sacred Page, and be not so rapacious! James omitted and changed more than this, as you may see.

Ver. 13. come nigh] but the Word does not signify overtake. The Harvest and Vintage being early in those Countries, used to be over sooner than is here described; but should not in those Times, by reason of the Plenty of Corn and Fruit, which would so much lengthen the Time to get it in.

Ib. be dissolved] as it were by the Abundance of Wine, which they should produce, and be soaked with.

NOTES upon the BOOK of OBADIAH.

THE Vision of Obadiah. Thus says the Sovereign Lord to Edom; We have heard a Report from the Lord, and an Ambassador is sent into the Nations, Get ready, and let us get ready against it for War.

2. Behold I make thee small among the Nations; thou art despised exceedingly.

3. The Pride of thy Heart deceives thee, that dwellest in the Clefts of the Rock, whose Seat is high; that says in his Heart, Who shall bring me down to the Ground?

4. If thou shouldest exalt thy self like an Eagle, and if thou shouldest make thy Nest among the Stars, I would bring thee down from thence, says the Lord.

5. If Thieves come to thee, if Robbers at Night (how thou art perished) would not they steal but what was sufficient for them? If those who gather Grapes come to thee, would not they leave Gleaning-grapes?

6. How are the Things of Esau searched, his hidden Things enquired for?

7. All the Men who are in League with thee send thee to the Bounds, the Men that are at Peace with thee deceive thee, prevail against thee; those at Meals with thee shall make an Ulcer under thee, of which there is no Understanding.

8. Will it not be at that Time, says the Lord, that I shall cause the Wise to perish from Edom, and Understanding from the Mountain of Esau?

9. And thy powerful ones shall be daunted, O Teman, that each may be cut off from the Mountain of Esau by killing.

10. For the Violence to thy Brother Jacob Shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11. At the Time of thy standing at a Distance, at the Time of the Strangers taking his Forces captive, when the Aliens enter his Gates, and cast the Lot for Jerusalem, thou also art as one of them.

12. But do not look at thy Brother's Time, at that of his Alienation, neither be glad for the Men of Judah at the Time of their perishing, nor magnify thy Mouth at the Time of Distress.

13. Enter not into the Gate of my People at the Time of their Calamity, look thou not also at his Harm at the Time of his Calamity, nor should the Hands be put out to his Wealth at the Time of his Calamity;

14. And do not thou stand at the tearing asunder to cut off such as escape of him, nor deliver up those who remain of him at the Time of Distress.

15. For the Time of the Lord is near upon all the Nations; according as thou doest it shall be done to thee, thy Recompence shall return on thy own Head.

16. For as you have drunk upon my holy Mountain, shall all the Nations drink continually; and not only drink, but swallow down, so that they shall be as if they were not.

17. But there shall be escaping on Mount Zion, as there shall be Holiness; and the Family of Jacob shall inherit their Inheritances.

18. The Family of Jacob will also be a Fire, and that of Joseph a Flame, and the NOTES upon the BOOK of JONAH.

CHAP. I.

NOW Jonah the Son of Amittai had the Lord's Commission as follows,

2. Get ready, go to the great City Nineveh, and proclaim against it: for their Wickedness is come up before me.

3. On the contrary Jonah got ready, to flee to Tarshish from before the Lord: and going down to Joppa, he found a Ship going to Tarshish; so he gave the Hire of it, and went down into it, to go with them to Tarshish, from before the Lord.

4. Upon which the Lord cast out a great Wind into the Sea, and such a great Tempest was there, that it was thought the Ship would break.

5. Then the Sailors were afraid, and cried each to his god, throwing out the Things which were in the Ship into the Sea, to make it light of them; but Jonah was gone down to one of the Sides of the Vessel, where he lay, and was fast asleep.

6. To whom the Master-pilot going near, said to him, What is the Matter with thee that thou art fast asleep? Rise up, call on thy God; perhaps God will think of us, that we may not perish.

7. They also said one to another, Come, and let us cast Lots, that we may know for whose sake we have this Harm; and upon casting Lots, the Lot fell for Jonah.

8. Therefore they said to him, Tell us now for what Cause we have this Harm: What is thy Business? And whence dost thou come? What Country is thine? And where is the People from whence thou art?

9. And he made answer to them, I am a Hebrew; and I fear the Lord God of Heaven, who made the Sea, and the dry Ground.

10. Whereupon the Men were seized with a great Fear, and asked him, Why didst thou do this? When they knew that he fled from before the Lord, for he told them.

11. They asked him further, What shall we do to thee, that the Sea may be still from us? For this went on being tempestuous.

12. And he said to them, Take me up, and cast me out into the Sea, and the same will be still from you: for I know that for my sake this great Tempest is upon you.

13. However the Men rowed to bring back to the dry Ground, but they could not; because the Sea went on being tempestuous against them.

14. So they called on the Lord in this manner, We beseech thee, O Lord, let us not now perish for the Person of this Man, nor put innocent Blood upon us: for thou, O Lord, doest according as thou wilt.

15. At length they took up Jonah, and cast him out into the Sea; at which the Sea stood still from its Raging.

16. Fearing the Lord therefore with great Awe, the Men offered Sacrifice to him, and made Vows.

Ch. 2. Certen also says it has no Harbour, but Ships ride at Anchor above a League from the main Land: and in 1738, when he was there, it was a Town with a great Traffick of Soap exported, and the Franciscans had an Office at that Place, taking care of Pilgrims or Travellers who go to Jerusalem, this being the usual Way, and to which it is about a Day and a half's Ride; they having all the Places of the Holy Land in Possession, by paying an exorbitant Tribute to the Turks, and had within 20 or 30 Years increased their Convents from 8 or 10, to more than 20.

Ver. 11. went on] which the Heb. Word signifies, and not wrought.

Ver. 14. now] as Ver. 8. and not the same with We beseech thee just before.

17. Now the Lord had prepared a great Fish to swallow up Jonah; and he was in the Bowels of it, three Days and three Nights.

C H A P. II.

MOREOVER Jonah prayed to the Lord his God, from the Bowels of the Fish,

2. And said: I call on the Lord by reason of my Distress, and he answers me: I crying out from the Belly of the Grave, thou hearest my Voice.

3. As thou hast cast me to the Depth, into the Heart of the Seas, so that the Flood compasses me: all thy Waves and Billows pass over me.

4. Inasmuch that I said, I am driven out from before thy Eyes; but I will look again to thy holy Temple.

5. The Waters surround me to the Soul, the Gulf compasses me, the Flag is bound to my Head.

6. I go down to the Bottoms of the Mountains, the Earth is about me with its Bars continually: but thou wilt bring up my Life from Corruption, O Lord my God.

7. When my Soul faints in me, I remember the Lord; and my Prayer comes to thee, at thy holy Temple.

8. Those who observe false Vanities, forsake their own Kindness.

9. Whereas I will sacrifice to thee with the Voice of Thanksgiving, will perform that which I have vowed: Salvation it self is of the Lord.

10. And the Lord speaking to the Fish, he vomited up Jonah on the dry Ground.

C H A P. III.

THEN Jonah had the Lord's Commission the second time as follows,

2. Get ready, go to the great City Nineveh, and proclaim to it the Proclamation which I speak to thee.

3. So Jonah got ready, and went to Nineveh according to the Lord's Commission; that being a great City of God, of three Days Journey.

4. And when Jonah began to enter into the City one Day's Journey, and proclaimed thus, Within forty Days Nineveh will be overthrown;

5. The Men of Nineveh believed in God, and proclaimed a Fast, putting on Sackcloth, from the greatest of them to their least.

6. For Word coming to the King of Nineveh, he rose up from his Throne, put away his Robe from him, covered himself with Sackcloth, and sate in Ashes.

7. He also had the following Order cried in Nineveh, by the Sentence of the King and his great ones, thus; Let neither Men nor Beasts, Herds nor Flocks, taste any Thing; let them not feed, nor drink Water.

8. But let Men and Beasts be covered with Sackcloth, and let those call strongly on God; as also return from their respective evil Ways, and from the Violence which is in their Hands.

9. Who knows but God may return, and be sorry, returning from his fervent Anger, so that we may not perish?

10. And God seeing of their Deeds, that they returned from their evil Way, he was sorry for the Ill which he spoke of doing to them, and did not do it.

And other Purpose presently seemed best to his Mind, and he did not send the ill Fate on them.

CHAP. IV.

NEVERTHELESS it was so exceeding grievous to Jonah, that he was angry, 2. And prayed thus to the Lord; I pray, O Lord, was not this my Saying whilst I was in my own Country? Therefore I went before, to flee to Tarshish: for I knew that thou wast a God gracious and merciful, forbearing of Anger, and of large Kindness, and being sorry for what is ill.

3. So now, O Lord, take my Life, I pray, from me: for it is better for me to die, than to live.

4. Whereupon the Lord said, Is it well that thou art angry?

5. Now Jonah was gone out of the City, and abode on the East of it; where he made him a Booth, and abode under it in the Shadow, until he should see how it would be with the City.

6. And the Lord God prepared a Spurge-tree, which he caused to go up over Jonah, to be a Shadow above his Head, to deliver him from his Adversity; and Jonah was exceeding glad of the Spurge-tree.

7. However God prepared a Worm, when the Morning ascended the next Day, which smote the Spurge-tree, so that it withered.

8. And when the Sun rose, God also prepared a still east Wind, and the Sun smote Jonah upon the Head, so that he fainted; upon which he asked with his Soul to die, saying, It is better for me to die, than to live.

9. At this God said to him, Is it well that thou art angry for the Spurge-tree? And he answered, It is well that I am angry to Death.

10. But the Lord replied; Thou hast compassion for the Spurge-tree which thou didst not labour for, nor make it grow up; that was the Offspring of a Night, and perished such:

11. And shall not I have compassion for the great City Nineveh; in which there are more than sixscore thousand Persons, who do not know their right Hand from their left, and much Cattle?

Ver. 6. a Spurge-tree] called otherwise Palma Christi, which Mercer, Gratius, Piscator, and Drusus sufficiently show it was; nay the last of them says, Ineptum est dubitare nunc de hac arbore, It is foolish to doubt any longer of it; Mentan. also with Jun. and Trem. thus render it; Bux. and Castellus so interpret it in their Dictionaries: therefore not the Herb called a gourd.

Ib. glad] Lyra in Comment. observes rightly, Facilis fuit Propheta natura, non tristis, non letus, The Prophet's Temper was, easy to be one while sorrowful, another while glad.

Ver. 8. still] from its Verb to be silent, and so far from being vehement; which if it had been, it would have moderated the Heat of the Sun; but now brought it more violently, by a still gentle Gale from the Sun, that way, eastward in the Forenoon. Jun. and Trem. accordingly, turn it silentium; see also Buxter's Lex. with Gret. and Poole's Annotat.

NOTES upon the BOOK of MICAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commission that Micah the Morashtite had in the Time of Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, Kings of Judah; which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2. Hear, all those People; hearken, O Country, and what it is filled with: against whom the Sovereign Lord is a Witness, the Lord from his holy Temple.

3. For behold the Lord comes out of his Place, and will descend, and tread upon the high Places of the Country.

4. Inasmuch that the Mountains shall be melted under him, and the Vales cleaved; as Wax by the Presence of the Fire, like Water poured out on a Descent.

5. For the Transgression of Jacob will all this be, and for the Sins of the Family of Israel: what is the Transgression of Jacob? Is not Samaria? And what the high Places of Judah? Is not Jerusalem?

6. So I will make Samaria a Heap of the Field, the Plantations of a Vineyard; and will pour out the Stones of it into the Valley, and discover its Foundations.

7. And all its carved Images shall be beat in pieces, as shall all the Hires of it be burnt in the Fire, and I will cause all its Images to be made desolate: for each was gathered from the Hire of a Harlot, and to that shall they return.

8. For this I cry, and lament, go spoiled and naked: I make Lamentation like the Dragons, and Mourning like the young Ostriches.

9. Because the Strokes of it are mortal: for it comes to Judah, he reaches to the Gate of my People, to Jerusalem.

10. Declare you not in Gath, do not weep at all: in the House of Aphrah roll thy self in the Dust.

11. Pass you away, each Inhabitant of Shaphir, with the Shame bare: the Inhabitant of Zaanan shall not go forth at the Lamentation of the Family of Ezel; he shall receive his State from you.

12. For though the Inhabitant of Maroth wait with concern for Good, Harm will come down from the Lord to the Gate of Jerusalem.

13. Tie the Chariot to the Mule, O Inhabitant of Lachish; she being the Beginning of Sin to the Daughter of Zion, for the Transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14. Therefore shalt thou give Presents to the Inheritance of Gath: the Houses of Achzib shall become a Lye to the Kings of Israel.

15. I will yet bring an Inheritor to thee, O Inhabitant of Maresnah; he shall come to Adullam the Glory of Israel.

16. Make bald, and shave thy self, for the Sons of thy Delights: enlarge thy Baldness like an Eagle, for they shall be carried away from thee.

CHAP. II.

WO be to those who contrive Iniquity, and work Evil upon their Beds, doing it when the Morning is light, because it is in the Power of their Hand;

Ver. 1. Micah the Morashtite] spoken of Jer. xxvi.
18. see on Ch. ii. 8.

Ver. 2. those] It is not ye, but a Pronoun of the 3d Person.

Ib. Country] of Israel and Judah, Ver. 1. and as all the Earth was not to be punished wholly for the Transgression of Jacob, Ver. 5. so Piscat. explains it, nempe terra Israelis.

Ver. 5. Jerusalem] where the idolatrous high Places mostly were.

Ver. 7. Hires] what was paid towards the Idol-service; see Pisc. Schol.

Ib. a Harlot] Idolatry, or the Images just mentioned; see Drus. Lett.

Ib. return] being taken by their Enemies, and bestowed in the same Manner.

Ver. 8. I] Micah himself, as my in the next Verse particularly shews.

Ib. young] qui amissam matrem lugeant, that mourn the Loss of their Dam, Drusus; yet left out in our Eng. Transl.

Ib. Ostriches] as rendered Lam. iv. 3.

Ver. 9. to Jerusalem] fulfilled in 2 King. xvi. 5. Isa. vii. 1.

Ver. 10. Dust] The Heb. being aphar resembling the Name; as a Lye is achzab, Ver. 14.

2. And who covet Fields, taking by force, and Houses, taking away; and oppress a Man and his House, a Person and his Possession.

3. Therefore thus says the Lord, Behold I will contrive Ill against this Family; from whence you shall not remove your Necks, nor go exalted, for it will be an ill Time.

4. On that Day will one take up a Proverb concerning you, and lament with a lamentable Lamenting thus, We are quite wasted, he has changed the Portion of my People: how has he removed what was divided to me, to turn away our Fields!

5. Therefore thou shalt have none who casts a Line by Lot in the Congregation of the Lord.

6. Mention Nothing, say they to those that make mention: let them mention Nothing to these, who will take no Shame.

7. Thou that art called the Family of Jacob, is the Spirit of the Lord diminished? Are these his Doings? Do not my Words do well with him who goes uprightly?

8. Whereas lately my People rose up for an Enemy; you pulled off the Cloak from the Garment it was on, from such as were passing by securely, turning away from War.

9. You have driven out the Women of my People from the House of their Delights, have taken off my Comeliness from their Children for ever.

10. Rise up, and go, for this is not a Rest; because being unclean it will corrupt, and the Corruption will be vehement.

11. If a Man going with a Spirit and Falsehood, does lye, saying, I will mention to thee of Wine and strong Drink; even he will be one that shall make mention to this People.

12. I will wholly gather up all of thee, O Jacob, I will wholly gather the Residue of Israel, will put him together as the Sheep of Bozrah: like a Flock within its Fold, shall they make a Noise by reason of Men.

13. The Breaker down comes up before them, those break down, and pass through the Gate, then these go forth at it; and their King passes through before them, with the Lord at the Head of them.

C H A P III.

AND I say; Hear now, O Heads of Jacob, and Leaders of the Family of Israel; Is it not for you to know Judgment?

2. Who hate Good, and love Evil; who take off their Skin from them by force, and their Flesh off from their Bones;

3. And that eat the Flesh of my People, pull off their Skin from them, break their Bones, and divide as there is in the Pot, and as Flesh within the Cauldron.

4. Then will they cry to the Lord, who will not answer them; but will hide his Face from them at that Time, according as they make their Doings evil.

5. Thus says the Lord concerning the Prophets who cause my People to err, who bite with their Teeth, and proclaim Peace; but against him that does not put into their Mouth, they even prepare War;

6. Therefore it shall be Night to you from

Ver. 2. Person] which is not the same Word with that for Man in Heb.

Ver. 3. Necks] as if in a Yoke.

Ver. 4. lamentable] the Heb. having three Words as here, nabab nehi nihjah.

Ib. to me] not from me: so Sebast. Munst. renders, quod meum est, what is mine; for which Drusius observes ? may be put for נָשִׂי It may not be amiss to add, that the Heb. Accent or Point Zakeph katon shews that to me does not belong to the following Word, as Montan. Castal. and the Genev. Bib. have it, to restore to me.

Ver. 6. Mention] as Am. vii. 16. where it is distinguished from prophecie.

Ib. to these] who say so, forbidding it.

Ver. 7. diminished] Heb. shortened, as Num. xi. 23, &c.

Ver. 8. lately] when the Israelites under Pekab invaded Judah, 2 King. xv. 37. and they not getting to Jerusalem as prophesied, Ch. i. 9. till after Jotham's Death, it may be concluded Micah began prophesying in the last Year of his Reign.

Ib. on] agreeable to Noldius in his Concordance of the Heb. Particles, p. 611. and the vulg. Lat. desuper, from upon; otherwise it is over against, not with.

Ver. 9. Women] as related, 2 Chren. xxviii. 8.

Ver. 10. go] into Captivity.

Ib. this] Country.

Ver. 12. gather] into the fortified Cities of Samaría and Jerusalem, Ch. i. 1. for Security from the invading Affyrians and Chaldeans.

Ib. the Residue] belonging to the Kingdom of Judah, when that of Israel was overthrown.

Ver. 13. comes up before them] to besiege them, where they are penned up as in a Fold, Ver. 12.

Ib. these] that break down, viz. the besieging Enemies.

Ib. these] the People of Israel, Ver. 12.

Ib. their King] of each Kingdom of Israel and Judah, to be taken into Captivity.

Ib. at the Head of them] taking them into Captivity guarded by their Conquerors, and so indeed the Lord would be at the Head of both; but it seems spoken ironically of the Israelites, as Ver. 12.

Ver. 1. now] rather than I pray you, being spoken by God; so in Ver. 9.

Ver. 3. in] as within that follows, and as the Heb. properly is.

Ver. 4. Then] which Jun. and Trem. comment on well, videlicet cum immitteret ea quæ denuntiavit supra, ii. 12. & 13. that is when he sends on them what he declared above, Ch. ii. 12, 13.

Ver. 6. from] The Original has no more.

Vision, and dark to you from divining: for the Sun shall set to the Prophets, and the Day be gloomy to them.

7. The Seers also shall be ashamed, the Diviners blush, and shall all of them cover over the Lip: for there will be no Answer from God.

8. But indeed I am filled with Might by the Spirit of the Lord, and with Judgment and Power; to declare to Jacob his Transgression, and to Israel his Sin.

9. Hear now this, O Heads of the Family of Jacob, and Leaders of the Family of Israel, who have Judgment in abomination, and pervert all that is right;

10. Who build up Zion with Blood, and Jerusalem with Iniquity.

11. The Heads of it judge for a Bribe, the Priests of it teach for a Price, and its Prophets divine for Money; yet they depend upon the Lord, saying, Is not the Lord amongst us? No Evil will come upon us.

12. Therefore by reason of you will Zion be ploughed a Field, Jerusalem become Heaps, and the Mountain of the House the high Places of a Wood.

C H A P. IV.

BUT in the latter Days will the Mountain of the Lord's House be established on the Top of the Mountains, and it will be raised up above the Hills; and the People will assemble together upon it.

2. Nay many Nations will go, and say, Come, and let us go up to the Mountain of the Lord, and to the House of the God of Jacob; that he may teach us of his Ways, and we may walk in his Paths: for the Law shall go forth from Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

3. He will also judge between many People, and determine for numerous Nations even far off: so that they will beat their Swords into Spades, and their Spears into Pruning-hooks; one Nation will not lift up the Sword against another, nor will they learn War any more.

4. But they will dwell each under his own Vine, and Fig-tree, and none will make afraid; for the Mouth of the Lord of Armies has spoken it.

5. For all People will go each in the Name of its god; and we will go in the Name of the Lord our God, for ever and evermore.

6. At that Time, says the Lord, will I gather up the Lame, and gather together the Expelled, and her whom I have punished.

7. Thus I will make the Lame a Residue, and the farther one a numerous Nation; and the Lord will reign over them on Mount Zion, henceforth even for ever.

8. As for thee, O Tower of Eder, the Ascent of the Daughter of Zion, it shall approach to thee; and there shall come the former Dominion, the Kingdom to the Daughter of Jerusalem.

9. Why dost thou now cry out aloud? Is there no King in thee, is thy Counsellor perished, that the Anguish as of her who is in labour takes hold of thee?

10. Be in anguish, and bring forth, O Daughter of Zion, as she who is in labour: for thou shalt now come out of the Town, and dwell in the Field, nay go to Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued, there the Lord will redeem thee from the Power of thy Enemies.

11. Since many Nations are now gathered up against thee, that say, She shall be polluted, and our Eyes shall look on Zion.

12. Whereas they do not know the Thoughts of the Lord, nor understand his Counsel: for he will gather them together like the Sheaves of the Floor.

13. Get ready, and tread out, O Daugh-

Ver. 1. in the latter Days] This according to Grotius, with Jun. and Trem. was taken from Isa. ii. as observed before concerning Something in Obadiab.

Ver. 3. See Isa. ii. 4. Thus poetically express'd by Pope,

*No more shall Nation against Nation rise,
Nor ardent Warriors meet with hateful Eyes,
Nor Fields with gleaming Steel be cover'd o'er;
The brazen Trumpets kindle Rage no more;
But useless Lances into Scythes shall bend,
And the broad Faulchion in a Plow-share end.*

Ver. 6. punished] Sixtus inserts upon the Authority of a Pope, I will comfort.

Ver. 8. Tower of Eder] the very same as in Gen. xxxv. 21. being at Bethlehem, Ver. 19. as Grotius also says, and that Beth-lehem is here understood by it; at which Place Christ being born, it is a noble Prophecy of it, agreeing with Mic. v. 2. and heretofore scarce observed, even the very industrious Jun. and Trem. acknowledging not to remember, they had read this Name any where else in the Scripture.

1b. Ascent] properly, and rendered tower by our Translators, 2 King. v. 24. in the old Lat. here, nebula, the cloudy one, by taking בֵּן for בֵּן and then dark for cloudy.

Ver. 9. no King] when Zedechiah and his People should be carried Prisoners to Babylon, according to the next Verse.

Ver. 10. rescued] for delivered might seem as if it was of Child, by the former Part of the Verse, which is not meant.

Ver. 13. tread out] as the Cattle with Horns and Hoofs did, Deut. xxv. 4. Hos. x. 11.

ter of Zion : for I will make thy Horn iron, as I will thy Hoofs brass, so that thou shalt bruise many People ; whose Gain I will devote to the Lord, and their Wealth to the Master of the whole Earth.

CHAP V.

COME now together by Troops, O Daughter of the Troop, that will make a Fortification against us : they will smite the Judge of Israel with a Stick upon the Cheek.

2. But thou Beth-lehem Ephrathah, it is little to be among the Thousands of Judah ; from thee will he come forth to me, who is to be the Governor in Israel : whose Goings forth were from Eternity, from the everlasting Days.

3. Therefore will he give them up, till the Time she who is in labour brings forth ; when the rest of his Brethren shall return with the Israelites.

4. And he will stand, and feed in the Strength of the Lord, in the Excellency of the Name of the Lord his God ; and they will abide, for he will now be great to the Limits of the Earth.

5. And this will be Prosperity : when the Assyrian comes into our Country, and when he treads in our Palaces ; we will raise up against him seven Shepherds, and eight Princes of Men.

6. Who shall feed on the Country of Assyria with the Sword, and on that of Nimrod in its Entrances ; thus will he deliver from the Assyrian when he comes into our Country, and when he treads in our Bounds.

7. And the Residue of Jacob will be amongst many People, as the Dew from the Lord, as the Showers upon the Grass ; which does not wait for Man, nor stay for Mankind.

8. The Residue of Jacob too will be in the Nations amongst many People, as a Lion among the Beasts of the Wood, as a young Lion among the Flocks of Sheep ; who when he passes through, both tramples and tears, and none delivers.

Ver. 1. Come now] calling the Enemy to execute its Office of Punishment, that Zion might then conquer, as in the Verse before.

Ib. that] not be ; and if Daughter was intended, it should be be, which the Heb. does not allow of.

Ib. with a Stick] which should hurt and punish, but not destroy ; and Stick must be more proper than Rod, in our Use of the Words.

Ver. 2. Beth-lehem Ephrathah] its two Names joined together, Gen. xxxv. 19. to distinguish it from another Beth-lehem, Josh. xix. 15. and was distant from Jerusalem 35 Furlongs, or near 4 ½ Miles, Just. Martyr, Apol. 2.

Ib. little] Though the Place is styled not the least in a paraphractical Quotation, Mat. ii. 6: by the Priests and Scribes ; this frequent Heb. Word for little is not therefore to be understood here in a contrary Meaning, as not only Hettinger, but also Pocock attempts to shew in his Miscellaneous Notes upon Porta Moysi, pag. 18, 19. neither suiting with the Condition of the Place, nor Subject ; no nor with the Jews Citation as above, since they obviously did not term it so, from their taking the original Word to mean great or notable ; besides that it largely also signifies little in Arabick (which Pocock interprets so much by) and great as I find in no Language. But then little is not to be made an Epithet to the Place, as disagreeing in Gender, this being masc. and the Names of Places fem. which Lightfoot pleads against it, in his Herm. of 4 Evang. and Cross that the Points disprove it, because that at little, being Pascha a King, divides it from the Substantive-verb, not to be art little, Taghm. Art. p. 117, 118. and I may add in the same Manner, and with the same Point, as light is, Isa. xlix. 6. these two curious Criticks therefore I nearly follow, with Osiander and De Dieu.

Ib. to be] infinitive with to before it in Heb. the same that is so rendered further in this Verse by our Translators ; who have here added thou, and changed it into finite.

Ver. 3. Therefore] that what is mentioned in Ver. 1. might be done to the Israelites.

Ib. she] the Virgin Mary, which seems to agree much the best, with what goes before and follows.

Ib. rest of his Brethren] the Gentiles.

Ver. 4. he] Jesus Christ, whom she brings forth, Ver. 3. Ib. feed] his Flock, as Cant. i. 7. or them, active, not neuter.

Ib. abide] Chald. Targ. return out of Captivity, as likewise Sol. Jar. seems to expound the Word by מִן חַבְלֵי מָוֶן now from Captivity, in the vulg. Lat. too is revertentur, and with Cass. redibunt, both return ; but the original Word is yashuvu, not yashuvu : hence may appear what Care and Skill are requisite for a Translator.

Ib. to the Limits] by the spreading of the Gospel. This with the two foregoing Verses seem to be a Digression concerning Christ.

Ver. 5. this] the divine Preservation, set forth in the preceding Verse.

Ib. Prosperity] as more suitable than Peace, it being in War ; and according to Grotius, Drusus, Jun. and Trem. by the latter, Eritque hujusmodi (and such will be the) pax, which they expound by prosperitas.

Ib. when the Assyrian comes] as he did about the middle of Hezekiah's Reign, 2 King. xviii. 13. the last of the Kings in whose Time Micah prophesied, Chap. i. 1. so that this might very likely be a competent Space of Time before it came to pass, his Unsuccessfulness also in that Expedition agreeing with this Prophecy. Yet Mede in his Works, p. 796. and Lowth concurring with him, expound the Assyrian here to be some remarkable Enemy that is to be destroyed hereafter : a wide Way of Exposition.

Ib. against him seven Shepherds] Chal. Targ. in the Wantonness of Translation, over us seven Kings.

Ib. seven] used for an indeterminate Number, as agreed by Commentators ; see the like Ecclef. xi. 2.

Ver. 6. feed on] the same Verb with that in Ver. 4.

Ib. and on that of Nimrod] Lowth prefers the translating even for and, saying, Assyria is called the Land of Nimrod : which may however be understood with and, that being more usual and unexceptionable ; and by the Mention of the Assyrian only, both before and after, this seems to be the Meaning, and also by thus, as it is properly express'd to prevent a Tautology ; see Gen. x. 11.

Ver. 7. as the Dew] The Prosperity and Power of the Kingdom of Judah (which was the Residue of Jacob)

9. Thy Hand will be lifted up over thy Foes, and all thy Enemies be cut off.

10. And at that Time, says the Lord, will I cut off thy Horses from within thee, and cause thy Chariots to perish.

11. I will likewise cut off the Cities of thy Country, and demolish all thy strong Holds.

12. Nay I will cut off Witchcrafts from thy Hand; so that thou shalt have no Soothsayers.

13. I will cut off also thy carved Images and Statues from within thee; and thou shalt no more bow down to the Work of thy own Hands.

14. Besides I will pluck up thy Groves from within thee, and so destroy thy Adversaries.

15. Afterwards will I wreak unheard of Vengeance, in Anger and Wrath, on the Nations.

CHAP. VI.

HEAR you now what the Lord says, Get ready, contend with the Mountains, and let the Hills hear what thou sayest.

2. Hear, O Mountains, the Lord's Contention, and you strong Foundations of the Earth: for the Lord has a Contention with his People, and will dispute with Israel.

3. My People, what have I done to thee? Or in what have I wearied thee? Answer against me.

4. For I brought thee up from the Country of Egypt, and redeemed thee from the Place of Slaves; sending before thee Moses, Aaron and Miriam.

5. My People, remember now what Counsel Balak the King of Moab took, and what Balaam the Son of Beor answered him; that you may acknowledge the righteous Things of the Lord from Shittim to Gilgal.

6. With what shall I come before the Lord, bow down to the high God? Shall I come before him with burnt Offerings, with Calves in their first Year?

7. Will the Lord take delight in thousands of Lambs, in ten thousands of Floods of Oil? Shall I give my First-born for my Transgression, the Fruit of my Body for the Sin of my Soul?

8. He declares to thee, Man, what is good; and what does the Lord seek from thee, but to do Justice, love Kindness, and walk modestly with thy God?

9. The Voice of the Lord calls to the City, and what is substantial sees thy Name: mind you the Rod, and who appoints it.

10. Are the Treasures of Wickedness yet in the House of the Wicked, and the scanty Ephah that is abhorred?

11. Shall I count it pure with the Scales of Wickedness, and with the Bag of deceitful Weights?

12. Whose rich ones are full of Violence, and the Inhabitants of it speak Falsehood, and their Tongue is deceitful in their Mouth.

should be by Divine Providence, according to what we read 2 Chr. xxxii. 27.—30.

Ver. 10. cut off] by the Assyrian Invasion, to which at that Time confines it; and that should cause the People of Judah to leave their Idolatry, Ver. 12, 13, 14. Otherwise it might denote Hezekiah's destroying it, 2 Chr. xxx. 14. & xxxi. 1.

Ver. 14. Adversaries] as with the Targ. Drus. Jun. and Trem. and in Psa. cxxxix. 20. not to make a Tautology, Ver. 11. and those Adversaries may seem the Idols.

Ver. 1. Get ready] speaking this to Micah himself.

Ver. 5. what Counsel] how he sought your Overthrow.

Ib. Balaam] If you think the Servants of the Lord partial in speaking on his behalf; and being turned to Idols, Chap. v. 13, have let in Unbelief of what God has done for you, like your Forefathers, who said the golden Calf was their god, that brought them up from the Country of Egypt, Exod. xxxii. 4. comp. Ver. 4. remember then what Balaam said, who would rather have spoken otherwise, Numb. xxiii. 22, 23. & xxiv. 8.

Ib. that you may acknowledge] particularly from the Time of Balaam's Testimony, when you were at Shittim, Num. xxv. 1. till you came into this Country at Gilgal, Josh. iv. 19. The principal Partition of the Verse by the great Point Athnach is as I have made it, agreeing with Jun. and Trem. who also render, ut agnoscens, that acknowledging, &c. as likewise Piscat. expounds it. Whereas the com. Transf. has no Point for Division there, which makes quite a different Sense, if any at all; and the Comments that are made on that, instead of the Heb. Text, will consequently be of the same Kind: thus it has been expounded of Balaam's surveying the Camp of Israel with his Eye, from Shittim to the other Extremity of them over against Gilgal; and less to the Purpose, that from Shittim to Gilgal signified an Enemy's sudden Change of his wicked Passions and Designs; see the Bishop of Coventry and Litchfield's Defence of Christianity from the ancient Prophecies, pag. 290.

Ver. 8. to do Justice] Polus the Pythagorean in his Book of Justice writes, Δικὴ μὲν τῶν ἀνδρῶν τὰ δὲ δικαιοσύνην μαρτυρεῖται καὶ καὶ τὸν δὲ τῶν ἄλλων ἀρετῶν προσηγορίαν, I think Justice may be said to be the Mother and Nurse of other Virtues.

Ib. to do &c.] By these Words God teaches us, writes Ostervald of Neuchâtel in Switzerland, among his Arguments of the Books and Chapters, that the only true Worship He does receive, is Humbleness of Heart, and Innocency of Life.

Ver. 9. what is substantial] every material Thing that is done: Jun. and Trem. quod res est, what is a Thing; and Piscat. explains it, quod in civitate agitur, what is done in the City. The LXX Interp. very wrong, He will save those who fear his Name, which some little Variations of the Heb. would make, whereby is discovered their Ignorance and Rashness; and the vulg. Lat. Transf. not much otherwise.

Ib. sees thy Name] experiences God's Power.

Ver. 11. it] to agree with whose and is in the next Verse.

Ver. 12. it] the City, Ver. 9. being both fem.

13. Therefore

13. Therefore I will also make sick by smiting thee, by causing to be desolate for thy Sins.

14. Thou shalt eat, without being satisfied, and shalt have bowing down within thee: nay shalt remove, without escaping; even that which thou makest escape will I deliver to the Sword.

15. Thou shalt sow, and not reap: thou shalt tread the Olives, and not anoint thy self with Oil; as also new Wine, and shalt not drink Wine.

16. Since the Statutes of Omri are observed, and every Deed of the Family of Ahab, and you go in their Counsels; that I may deliver thee to Desolation, and the Inhabitants of it to Hissing; and you shall bear the Reproach of my People.

C H A P. VII.

ALAS to me, for I am as at the Gatherings of the Summer-fruit, as of the Gleaning-grapes of the Vintage: there is no Bunch to eat, when my Appetite desires the First-fruit.

2. The Pious is perished from the Earth, and there is none upright among Men: all of them lie in wait for Blood, they hunt each one his Brother with a Net.

3. To do evil effectually with both Hands, the Prince and Judge ask for a Recompence; then the great one himself speaks the Frowardness of his Mind, and they wrest it.

4. The best of them is like a Brier, the uprightest exceeds a thorny Hedge: the Day of thy Watchmen, thy Visitation comes; now will be their Perplexity.

5. Have no belief in a Friend, trust you not in a Leader; keep the Doors of thy Mouth from her who lies in thy Bosom.

6. For the Son makes the Father vile, the Daughter rises up against her Mother, the Daughter-in-law against her Mother-in-law; a Person's Enemies are the Men of his own Family.

7. But I will watch for the Lord, will wait for the God of my Salvation: my God will hear me.

8. Be not glad against me, my Enemy: though I fall, I shall rise up; though I sit in Darkness, the Lord will be a Light to me.

9. I will bear the Indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against him; until he pleads my Cause, and executes my Judgment, bringing me forth to the Light, that I may see his Righteousness.

10. And my Enemy will see, and Shame will cover her who said to me, Where is the Lord thy God? My Eyes will look on her; now will she be trod down as the Dirt of the Streets.

11. The Time for thy Fences to be built up, that is the Time the Decree will come far off.

12. That Time also will there come to thee from Assyria, and the Cities of Fortification; and from the Fortification even to the River, and to Sea from Sea, and Mountain from Mountain:

13. After the Country has been desolate for the Inhabitants of it, by reason of the Fruit of their Doings.

14. Feed thy People with thy Stick, the Flock of thy Possession that dwells alone at the Wood within Carmel: let them feed at Bashan and Gilead, as in ancient Days.

15. As in the Days of thy Coming out of the Country of Egypt, will I cause him to see Wonders.

16. The Nations will see, and be ashamed because of all their Power; will put the Hand upon the Mouth, their Ears will be deaf.

17. They will lick up the Dust as a Serpent, as the creeping Things of the Earth will they move out of their close Places; they

Ver. 14. remove] the same Verb in the same Conj. being thus rendered, Deut. xix. 14. & xxvii. 17. Prov. xxii. 28. Hos. v. 10. that is every where else.

Ver. 16. of it] of the City, Ver. 9. the same as in Ver. 12.

Ver. 1. of the Gleaning-grapes] at the Gatherings of them, when none are left; not I am as the grape-gleaning, to spoil the Sense, or quite destroy it.

Ib. when—desires] being no other than desiring in one Word.

Ver. 3. effectually] Heb. well.

Ib. wrest] or twist, not wrap.

Ver. 11. thy] Jerusalem's, Ch. i. 1. &c. How poorly does Grot. apply this to Chaldea! and absurdly interpret in that day following, to be the Day it would be trod down!

Ib. the Decree] of Cyrus, Ezr. i. Isa. xlv. ult.

Ver. 13. After] as Jun. and Trem. translate, and as it is in the Eng. Margin, which Lowth prefers.

Ver. 14. thy] Jerusalem's, considered as the Legislature of the Country, Ver. 13. & Ch. iv. 8. so Jun. and Trem. put it evangelically, God prescribing the Duty to the Ministers of Christ and the Church.

Ib. Stick] or Crook, as Jun. and Trem. with Cass. render it, and Grot. expounds.

Ver. 15. him] or it, viz. the People, Ver. 14.

Ver. 16. the Hand] to which the Original has no more than to Mouth.

Ver. 17. be in dread at] But the Lat. Vulg. desire, with no Foundation, and incoherent too.

will be in dread at the Lord our God ; and be afraid of thee.

18. Who is a God like thee, forgiving Iniquity, and passing over the Transgression of the Residue of his Possession ? He will not hold his Anger for evermore, for he delights in Kindness.

19. He will return, he will have mercy upon us, will subdue our Iniquities; and thou wilt cast all their Sins into the Depths of the Sea.

20. Thou wilt give the Truth to Jacob, the Kindness to Abraham, which thou hast sworn to our Fathers from the Days of old Time.

NOTES upon the BOOK of N A H U M.

C H A P. I.

THE Burden of Nineveh: the Book of the Vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2. God is zealous, and the Lord takes vengeance; the Lord takes vengeance, and has Wrath: the Lord takes vengeance on his Adversaries, and he keeps it for his Enemies.

3. The Lord is forbearing of Anger, and of great Power, but will not at all hold innocent: the Lord, his Way is in the Whirlwind and Tempest, and the Cloud is the Dust of his Feet.

4. He rebuking the Sea, dries it up, and wastes away all the Rivers: Bashan languishes and Carmel, as does also the Flower of Lebanon.

5. The Mountains move by reason of him, and the Hills are dissolved; and the Earth is carried away because of his Presence, with the World, and all that dwell in it.

6. At the Presence of his Indignation who shall stand? And who shall rise up in his fervent Anger? His Wrath being poured out as Fire, the Rocks break down by reason of him.

7. The Lord is good, a Habitation in the Time of Distress, and knows those who trust in him.

8. But with a Flood passing through he will make an entire End of its Place; and Darkness shall pursue his Enemies.

9. What do ye think of the Lord? He will make an entire End, Distress will not rise up twice.

10. For whilst the Thorns are wrapt together, and they are drunk according to their Swallowing, they will be consumed like Stubble fully dried.

11. Out of thee comes one who thinks Evil against the Lord, an ungodly Counsellor.

12. Thus says the Lord; If they are compleat, and so are many, yet so shall they be cut off, and he shall pass away: though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no longer.

13. But I will now break off his Yoke from thee, and pluck off thy Bonds.

14. And the Lord commands concerning thee, that none of thy Name should be sown any more: I will cut off from the House of thy gods, the carved and molten Image; I will make thy Grave, for thou art base.

15. Behold upon the Mountains are the Feet of the Preacher, the Publisher of Peace; keep thy Feasts, O Judah, perform thy Vows: for the Ungodly will pass through thee again no more, he is all cut off.

C H A P. II.

THE Disperser is coming up against thy Face; keep the Fortification, watch the Way, strengthen the Loins, fortify the Power exceedingly.

Ver. 1. Nineveh] which was destroyed by Nabopolassar or Nabuchodonosor, the Father of Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, and Astyages or Abasuerus, the Father of Darius, and Son of Cyaxares King of the Medes; according to Alexander Polyhistor in Georg. Syncellus, pag. 210. and in the Chronicle of Eusebius, pag. 46. Josephus, Antiq. Lib. x. 6. Strabo, Lib. xvi. Tobit xiv. 15. Dan. ix. 1. which by Eusebius in Chron. p. 124. was in the 23d Year of Cyaxares, and that being the 4102d of the Julian Period, falls by my Tables at the 30th of Josiah King of Judah.

Ib. Book] For the Time of writing it look at Chap. iii. 10.

Ver. 5. carried away] suitable to move before, and stand after, with the common and frequent Meaning of the Heb. Word, which cannot be proved to be burnt at all: so Cast. turns it here tollitur, taken away; and the Tigurin Trans. se proripit, gets it self away.

Ver. 8. its Place] that of the Earth or World, Ver. 5. with either of which the Gender agrees in Heb.

Ver. 10. according to] as in the Heb. but that has Nothing here for while; so that the latter while, and not as, should have been Ital. in the com. Eng.

Ver. 11. thee] Nineveh, concerning which this Prophecy is.

VOL. II.

Ib. one] Sennacherib, according to the following Verses, and as Drusius, Munster, and Lightfoot say; see 2 King. xviii 13. & xix. 36.

Ver. 12. they] the Assyrians or Ninevites, who came against Judah.

Ib. compleat] more suitable than quiet, and which the Heb. Word does not signify.

Ib. so] twice the same in Heb. as here.

Ib. be] Sennacherib as before, which see in Isa. xxxvii. 37.

Ib. pass away] of which see the excellent Drusius.

Ib. thee] Judah.

Ib. no longer] according to the next Verse, and not as Grat. would Ver. 9.

Ver. 14. Name] that his Fame should perish.

Ib. cut off] Thy Idol-temple shall not be a Place of Worship (as probably it was not after he was slain there, 2 King. xix. 37.) but as a Grave to hold thy dead Body. It may be rendered, or understood, I will make it thy Grave.

Ver. 1. The Disperser] that should overthrow Nineveh. De clade Assyriorum, writes Drus. deque cade regis balthennus. Sequitur nunc de expugnatione urbis Nini: Thus far concerning the Destruction of the Assyrians, and the Murder of the King; now there follows a Prophecy of the Conquest of the City Nineveh.

2. Though the Lord has turned away the Excellency of Jacob like that of Israel, though the Emptiers have emptied them, and spoiled their Vine-branches;

3. The Shield of his powerful ones will be red, the Men of Force in Scarlet, the Chariots with the Fire of Torches at the Time of his preparing, and the Fir-trees will be made to shake.

4. The Chariots will do madly in the Courts, will run to and fro in the Streets: their Appearances will be as Lamps, they will run like Lightnings.

5. He will remember his gallant ones, who will fall in their going; they will make haste to its Wall, and he that protects will be prepared.

6. The Gates of the Rivers will be opened, and the Palace be dissolved.

7. And she that is placed will be carried captive, had up; her Maids leading away, as with the Voice of Doves, the Striking of Timbrels upon their Hearts.

8. Notwithstanding Nineveh has been like a Pool of Water since the Days of it were; yet they will run away: when they say, Stand, stand still; none will turn about.

9. Plunder the Silver, plunder the Gold; as there is no End to the Furniture, the Glory of all the pleasant Things.

10. She will be empty, emptied out, and made void: even the Heart will be dissolved, and there will be Staggering of the Knees, with sore Anguish in all Loins; and the Faces of them all will gather Blackness.

11. Where is the Habitation of the Lions, and the very Pasture of the young Lions, where the Lion, the stout Lion goes, the Lion's Whelp, and none makes afraid?

12. The Lion that tears enough for his Whelps, and strangles for his stout Lionesses; filling his Holes with Prey, and his Habitations with the Torn?

13. Behold I am against thee, says the Lord of Armies, and will burn her Chariots in the Smoak, and the Sword shall consume thy young Lions; nay I will cut off thy Prey from the Earth, and the Voice of thy Ambassadors shall be heard no more.

CHAP. III.

WO be to the bloody City: all of it is full of lying, tearing asunder; the Prey does not depart.

2. There will be the Sound of the Whip, and that of the Commotion of the Wheel, as also of the prancing Horse, and the bounding Chariot.

3. The Horseman will lift up both the flaming Sword, and the glittering Spear; so that there will be a Multitude of pierced ones, and abundance of Corpses; nay there will be no End of the Bodies, they will stumble at their Bodies:

4. By reason of the abundant Whoredoms of the well-favoured Whore, the Mistress of Witchcrafts; that sells Nations by her Whoredoms, and Families by her Witchcrafts.

5. Behold I am against thee, says the Lord of Armies, whom I will uncover with thy Skirts over thy Face; shewing the Nations thy Nakedness, and the Kingdoms thy Baseness.

6. And I will cast Abominations upon thee, making thee vile; and will make thee as a Sight.

7. So that every one of those who see thee shall remove from thee, and say, Nineveh is wasted; who will bemoan her? From whence shall I seek Comforters for thee?

8. Shalt thou do better than No of the Multitude? That was situate among the Streams, with the Waters round about her; whose Fort was the Sea, her Wall of the Sea.

Ib. keep] O Nineveh; which Jun. and Trem. add in the Text.

Ver. 2. Though] which the Particle signifies, and connects this well to the next Verse.

Ib. turned away] by the Invasion of the Assyrians before spoken of.

Ib. Jacob] id est, tribus Judæ, that is the Tribe or Kingdom of Judah, as Piscator says: so Israel, he says, is the ten Tribes.

Ib. like that of Israel] in the Overthrow of the Kingdom of Israel before the Invasion of Judah; which might be well enough compared together, though different in Degree. Drusus honestly but eloquently owns, he did not understand this Verse.

Ib. spoiled their Vine-branches] which I suppose the Assyrians actually did; yet metaphorically those Branches might denote the weaker Places which they destroyed or plundered, according to 2 King. xviii. 13. so by Græc. Towns and Villages, from the Targ.

Ver. 3. his powerful ones] who should act for God against Nineveh.

Ib. red] the Colour those Nations used; see Jun. and Trem. Annot.

Ib. Fir-trees] Lances of Fir, as I think, with Piscator: the LXX mistaking 2 for 3 have it Horsemen.

Ver. 5. remember] to choose for Captains, or remember them when fallen: for it is in Hiphil, another Mood, that the Verb signifies recount, if at all.

Ib. make haste] Being beat in going out to fight, they will endeavour to secure themselves in the City.

Ib. prepared] such as are to defend the City will then get ready.

Ver. 8. like a Pool] being settled in her Place.

Ver. 11. Where is the Habitation] that is it will be at Nineveh.

Ver. 5. whom I will uncover] see Jer. xiii. 22. where the Verb is the same, and Ver. 26. where it is not.

Ver. 8. do better] which the Verb signifies, being in the Conjug. Hiphil, not art better; and so Commentators take the Sense of it, as most suitable.

Ib. No] since called Alexandria, standing between the Mediterranean Sea and the Lake Marcotis, Strabo, Lib. 17.

Ib. Multitude] The Words are transposed Jer. xvi. 25.

9. Behold

9. Ethiopia was the Strength, and Egypt, nay there was no End; Libya and the Lubites were for thy Help.

10. Yet she was carried away, she went into Captivity, her Children also were dashed in pieces at the Top of all the Streets; and they cast the Lot for her honourable Men, and all her great ones were chained with Fetters.

11. Even thou shalt be drunk, be hid: thou too shalt seek for a Fortrefs, by reason of the Enemy.

12. All thy strong Holds shall be as Fig-trees with the First-fruits; which if they are shaken, fall into the Mouth of the Eater.

13. Behold thy People are like Women within thee, the Gates of thy Country shall be quite opened to thy Enemies; Fire shall consume thy Bars.

14. Draw thee the Water of the Siege, strengthen thy strong Holds; come into the Clay, and tread in the Mortar, repair the Brick-kiln.

15. There Fire shall consume thee, the Sword cut thee off, it shall consume thee like a Canker-worm: become numerous like the Canker-worms, be as numerous as the Locusts.

16. Thou hast multiplied thy Merchants, to be more than the Stars of Heaven: the Canker-worm strips, and flies away.

17. Thy crowned ones shall be like the Locust, and thy Commanders like the principal Grasshopper, that encamp in the Hedges on a cold Day; the Sun rising, each removes, and his Place is not known where they are.

18. Thy Shepherds shall slumber, O King of Assyria, thy stately ones sit down; thy People shall become abundant upon the Mountains, and none gather together.

19. There shall be no Restraint to thy Breaking, thy Blow shall be grievous: all that hear the News of thee will clap Hands at thee: for against whom has not thy Wickedness passed continually?

Ver. 9. the Strength] her by mistaking ן for ח
Ib. Libya] as rendered Ezek. xxx. 5. and Libyans Jer. xlv. 9.

Ib. Lubites] the same as in Dan. xi. 43.
Ver. 10. These Things appear by the foregoing Ver. to have been done while the Ethiopian Family reigned in Egypt, for which see the Egyptian Catalogue of Kings after Dan. when in the Time of Sevtechus or Setbon, as in Herodotus, Lib. 2, Sennacherib King of Assyria harassed those Countries three Years, Isa. xx. as it is there explained before the 14th Year of Hezekiah, 2 King. xviii. 13, 14. & xix. 9. Hence also Nabum made this Prophecy between that Time of Hezekiah, and the Destruction of Nineveh in the Reign of Josiah, Chap. I. 1. though Josephus says, 115 Years before it was fulfilled, Ant. Lib. ix. 11.

Ver. 14. Brick-kiln] to make Bricks for fortifying the City against the Siege.

Ver. 15. like a Canker-worm] According to what follows Nineveh is compared to this, as also Gratius says, propter sequentia, adding that they were for Food to the Syrians, but it may rather mean the Weather destroying it as a tender Insect, as in the next Verses driving away.

Ver. 16. the Canker-worm strips] So Nineveh gets from others by her Merchandice for a while.

Ver. 17. crowned ones] Septuag. and vulg. Lat. Keepers, wrong interpreting nazar by natzar, Drus. and Schind.

Ib. in the Hedges] representing the chief Men of Nineveh in the Fortifications, when besieged.

Ib. removes] denoting their going into Captivity, or fleeing, when the City should be taken.

Ver. 18. King] named Saracus; see Zeph. ii. 13.

Ib. become abundant] as the Word exactly signifies.

NOTES upon the BOOK of HABAKKUK.

CHAP. I.

THE Burden which the Prophet Habakkuk saw.

2. How long, O Lord, shall I cry out, and thou not hear; cry Violence to thee, and thou not save?

3. Why dost thou make me see Iniquity, and cause to behold Grievousness, nay let Wasting and Violence be before me? For there is he who takes up Strife, and Contention.

4. Therefore the Law ceases, and Judgment never goes forth: because the Wicked surrounds the Righteous, therefore perverted Judgment goes forth.

5. Look in the Nations, behold, and be astonished, be in Astonishment: for I will perform a Work in your Days, you will not believe, though it be told.

6. For lo I will raise up the Chaldeans, a bitter and hasty Nation; that shall go to the Breadths of the Country, to inherit the Dwelling-places not its own.

7. It shall be terrible, and fearful: its Judgment, and Excellency shall come forth from it self.

8. Its Horses also shall be swifter than Leopards, and sharper than evening Wolves: its Horsemen too shall be abundant; and they shall come far off, shall fly like an Eagle making haste to eat.

9. Every one of it shall come violently, the supping up of their Faces shall be eastward; and it shall gather up Captives as the Sand.

10. Nay it shall make mock at Kings, and Princes shall be Laughter for it: it shall laugh at every strong Hold, and heaping up Earth, take it.

11. Then will the Spirit alter, and it will transgress, and offend, saying this its Power is of its god.

12. Art not thou from Eternity? O Lord my God, my Holy One, we shall not die: O Lord, thou hast put it for Judgment; and, O Rock, thou hast founded it to reprove.

13. O thou of pure Eyes from seeing Evil, and who canst not behold Grievousness; why dost thou behold them that are treacherous, art silent when the Wicked devours him who is more righteous than himself?

14. And makest Men like the Fishes of the Sea, as the creeping Thing, over whom there is no Governor?

15. Every one of them brings up with the Hook, he gets it together with his Net, and gathers it up with his Casting-net: therefore he is glad, and rejoices.

16. Therefore he sacrifices to his Net, and burns incense to his Casting-net; because by them his Portion is gross, and his Food fat.

17. Shall he therefore empty his Net, and not spare to slay the Nations continually?

Ver. 1. Habakkuk] whom the Jewish Writers, Light-foot, and Grotius place in the Time of K. Manasseh.

Ver. 3. before me] The famous Sixtine and Lovain Editions of the Vulg. Lat. annex here, Why dost thou behold &c. in Ver. 13. to the End of the 14, with some small Variation, besides their having not to behold there.

Ver. 8. be abundant] the same Verb as in Nab. iii. 18. and does not signify as rendered in the com. Transf.

Ver. 9. supping up] panting in carrying the Spoil or Plunder homeward: a Noun, no Verb. Jun. and Trem. render, haustu faciei ipsorum Orientem versus spectante, the supping up of their Face looking towards the East; Montan. oppositio facierum eorum ad Orientem, their Faces turned to the East; and Piscat. explains it, Quicquid aspexerint &c. Whatever they saw which they could take by force, was designed to be carried away into Babylon or Chaldea, which was situate towards the East of Judea.

Ib. eastward] n being local as Bux. says in Lexic.

Ver. 10. Earth] for dust would be of little Service.

Ver. 11. Spirit] or Courage, or Temper, as it may signify, rather than Mind.

Ib. alter] Being before excited or stirred up by the true God, Ver. 6. will now ascribe the Power to a false one, and so transgress, as the next Verb signifies; which Interpretation I believe may be found the best, though as far as I know new.

Ver. 12. it] the Chaldean Nation, Ver. 6. as before, the Pronouns being singular.

Ib. to reprove] and be for the Judgment of the People of Judah, the Word being the infinitive Mood active.

Ver. 14. like the Fishes] so that Men may be destroyed like them, as in the following Verse.

Ver. 16. sacrifices to his Net] the Prophet thus exposing Idolatry, Ver. 11.

C H A P. II.

I STAND upon my Ward, and place my self upon the Fortification; and watch to see what he will speak to me, and what I shall reply upon my Reproof.

2. And the Lord makes answer to me: Write the Vision, and declare upon Tables, that he may run who reads in it.

3. For the Vision is yet for the appointed Time, and it will utter at the End, and not fail: if it should delay, wait for it; though it will actually come, without staying.

4. Behold his Soul is not right in him that is lifted up; but the Righteous shall live by his Faith.

5. And much more is he treacherous by Wine, a haughty Man, and does not remain at home; who enlarges his Appetite like the Grave, and he is like Death, being not satisfied; and gathers to himself all the Nations, and gets together to him all the People.

6. Will not these, all of them take up a Proverb against him, and the Interpretation of obscure Expressions concerning him, and each say, Alas how long he multiplies not for himself, and makes the thick Clay heavy upon him!

7. Will not they that bite thee rise up at an Instant, and those who move thee awake, and thou become Plunderings for them?

8. Because thou hast spoiled many Nations, all the rest of the People shall spoil thee; for the Blood of Mankind; and the Violence of the Country, the Town and all who dwell in it.

9. Wo be to him that gains an evil Gain to his House, to put his Nest on high, to be delivered from the Power of Harm:

10. Thou who consultest Shame to thy own House, by cutting off many People, and sinnest against thy self.

11. For the Stone cries from the Wall, and the Knot from the Wood answers it.

12. Wo be to him that builds up a City with Blood, and establishes a Town with Iniquity..

13. Is it not behold from the Lord of Armies, that the People shall labour for the Fire, and the Nations be tired for what is vain?

14. For the Earth shall be full of knowing the Glory of the Lord, as the Waters cover over the Sea.

15. Wo be to him that causes his Neighbour to drink, applying thy Bottle, and also making drunk; to look upon their Nakedness.

16. Thou art filled with Vileness more than Glory; drink thou likewise, and be seen uncircumcised: the Cup of the Lord's right Hand will be turned upon thee, and vile Vomiting upon thy Glory.

17. Since the Violence of Lebanon shall cover thee, and the Wasting of the Beasts that terrified them; for the Blood of Mankind, and the Violence of the Country, the Town and all who dwell in it.

18. What does the carved Image profit, that its Former carves it; the molten Image, and Teacher of Falsehood, that the Former of its Shape trusts upon it, to make dumb Idols?

19. Wo be to him that says to the Wood, Awake; to the silent Stone, Sit up: it teaches, behold it is spread over with Gold and Silver, but there is no Breath at all within it.

20. But the Lord is in his holy Temple; keep silence by reason of him, all the Earth.

Ver. 1. to me] or in me, as the Eng. Marg. Pagn. Montan. and Drusius have it; which the latter expounds to be by the Spirit, as 2 Sam. xxiii. 2. so the vulg. Lat. has it in Psa. lxxxv. 8. as from hence, and Gell in Eng. Essay, p. 126.

Ib. reply] not the same Verb as in the next Verse.

Ib. my Reproof] made by my Gainsayers or Opposers; so Munst. translates, contra correctionem mihi (objectionem) against the Reproof objected to me: much better than to take it, as most I find do, for the Prophet's Reproof to the People, or his Objection to the Providence of God, thus supposing he was to answer himself.

Ver. 2. makes answer] for will stand and answered in the com. Transf. are very unsuitable.

Ver. 3. though] because making it absurd.

Ver. 5. a haughty Man] a Babylonian or Chaldean, and particularly Nebuchadnezzar, Dan. iv. 30.

Ib. the Grave] fitter than Hell to agree with Death, and according to Prov. xxx. 16. where it is also the same Word; and such might be said of Heaven as well as Hell.

Ver. 6. Interpretation] This Word is besides only in Prov. i. 6. where it is so translated.

Ver. 7. they] the Medes and Persians.

Ver. 13. for the Fire] by building up what would be burnt, Ver. 12. Jun. and Trem. render it the same, pro igne; and Grotius gives this for the Meaning of it, sic ut Chaldaei ista Babylonis opera flammæ paraverint, it shall come to pass that the Chaldeans have prepared those Works of Babylon for the Fire; Piscat. the like; which the parallel Place, Jer. li. 58. may also shew: and here is no more very than there; of which see Buxt. Lex. and Drus. Lect.

Ib. Nations] not the same as before rendered People.

Ver. 16. more than] which the Heb. Preposition means, and not for that signifies instead of.

Ib. seen] from the Verb in the Ver. before. With the old Lat. be laid fast asleep, as if the Letters y and n were transposed, but then wrong.

Ver. 17. Violence of Lebanon] such as Nebuchadnezzar did to Lebanon, whose fine Cedars, I suppose, were cut down for his vast Buildings; rather than the Temple was meant by it, or any other forced Interpretation.

Ib. Wasting] such as the Beasts suffered there by Hunting.

Ver. 19. it teaches] that it is dumb and dead, Jun. the great Partition being before.

CHAP. III.

A PRAYER of the Prophet Habakkuk upon the variable Poems.

2. O Lord, on hearing the Report of thee, I was afraid : revive thy Work it self, O Lord, within the Years, make it known within them : remember Compassion in Disturbance.

3. God came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran ; a Pause : his Majesty covered the Heaven, and his Praise filled the Earth.

4. The Brightness was even like the very Light, he had two Horns out from his Hand ; and there was hidden his Power.

5. The Pestilence went before him, and burning Coals did go forth at his Feet.

6. He stood, and measured the Earth ; he looked, and loosened the Nations ; and the perpetual Mountains were dispersed, the ancient Hills bended : his Goings have been everlasting.

7. I saw the Tents of Cushan representing what is in vain, the Curtains of the Country of Midian were moved.

8. Was the Lord incensed at the Rivers ? Was thy Anger against them ? Or thy Wrath against the Sea ; that thou didst ride upon thy Horses, thy Chariots of Salvation ?

9. Thy Bow was made quite bare, for the Oaths to the Tribes, the Word ; a Pause : thou didst cleave the Earth with Rivers.

10. The Mountains seeing thee, shook ; the overflowing Storm of Waters passed : the Gulf gave forth its Voice, lifted up its Hands on high.

11. The Sun, the Moon stood still in the Habitation ; in the Light thy Arrows went, in the Shining thy glittering Spear.

12. With Indignation thou marchedst through the Country, in Anger didst thou thresh the Nations.

13. Thou wentest forth for the Salvation of thy People, for Salvation to thy anointed one : thou smotest the Head who was of the Family of the Wicked, by making bare the Foundation to the Neck. A Pause.

Ver. 1. variable] See Psa. vii. 1.

Ver. 2. within the Years] of Judah's Captivity ; but this to be in the midst of them, not at all necessary, and to be only then much worse.

Ib. it self] denoted as here by the Heb. though left out of the Eng. so that it is not redundant, much less not agreeable to Sense, notwithstanding Green asserts both ; therefore adds for to thy Work, and joins it to the foregoing Verb across the Heb. Partition, calling it le as elsewhere instead of el, and expounding thy Work to be the People of God.

Ver. 3. Teman] a Country of the Edomites, as Jerome says on Am. i. 12. see also Jer. xlix. 7, 20. Ezek. xxv. 13. Obad. 9. in which I suppose Sinai was ; and so it will accord with Deut. xxxiii. 2. whence the Matter, and some of the Expression, as Grotius remarks, is taken.

Ver. 4. even] Green in his New Transf. 1755, writes, 'The Vau, and, is redundant in Sense before venogah ;' which might better be denied, than asserted, as so ; and when rendered even, is nervous and elegant. He adds, 'and wanting after it ;' but amidst his four times, one might more sublimely be omitted in such lofty Language, as may be tried in the Transf. nay the Brightness was rather that of the Majesty, than of God himself who was not visible, Deut. iv. 12, 15. He accounts for it thus, 'Who then can doubt but that it was first dropped in transcribing, and then placed in the Margin ; and afterwards prefixed to it instead of being affixed ;' on the contrary how is it credible, but that if i had been missed, it would far more likely have been interlined than put in the Margin ? If we leave out i in writing, though heighten'd with a Tittle, do we place it in the Marg. and would a Scribe do it on Purpose to deface his Copy the more ? If he had done such an improbable Thing, would not he have made a Caret or Mark where it should be inserted ? Or when Transcribing was a Trade like Printing, did not they know how to do it ? He that will swallow such a Bait as the foregoing, may be caught with the new Infidel Hook ; and with this Author reverend Father Heubigant, as he calls him in the next Page, tho' the primitive Protestants would not, I presume, have given that Title to the very Pope. This indeed is of no great Moment, but when insinuated, greater follows of another vau in Job

(for which the present Edition was too far printed before I knew of it) nay the rejecting ten English Words together, p. 24. To conclude, our kind Critick refutes this himself by subjoining, 'the constructive Form of the Word being changed into the absolute :' for if so, there was more done than misplacing the vau, and this wilfully as well as that by Mistake ; which is not to be pretended, when the Form of the Word alone would have prevented the Mistake.

Ib. two Horns] the Word being the dual Number, as Dan. viii. 6. and might be the two Tables of Stone (looking like Horns) on which God wrote the ten Commandments, and delivered them out of his Hand to Moses, Exod. xxxi. 18. Those Criticks who reckon them Rays, proclaim their own Ignorance notably.

Ver. 6. measured the Earth] to give a suitable sufficient Part of it to Israel.

Ib. Mountains were dispersed] their Fortifications and high Walls being demolished, Num. xiii. 28, 29. Deut. i. 28.

Ib. bended] were subjected to the Israelites ; and there is no Necessity to understand by the Mountains and Hills the People of them, nay the Representation is more grand otherwise.

Ver. 7. I saw] The Prophet himself seeing it mentally, and so speaking it of himself as in Ver. 16, 18, 19. rather than personating Israel, according to others.

Ib. representing what is in vain] Heb. instead of Vanity, never affliction.

Ver. 9. for] so as well as according should be Italic in the com. Transf.

Ib. with Rivers] according to Exod. xvii. 6. Num. xx. 11. Psa. cv. 41.

Ver. 11. in the Light] of the Sun standing still, as Hervey observes in his Meditat. Vol. ii. p. 212. in which Manner likewise Jun. and Trem. with Drusius, translate and expound it ; and not as if the Sun and Moon wanted the Light of the Arrows to go by : nor is there any Pronoun for they in Heb.

Ib. in the Shining] It being elegant without the Copulative and, as Buxtorf produces it for an Example, with Judg. v. 27. Exod. xv. 9. in Vind. p. 828.

Ver. 13. for Salvation to thy anointed one] The sixth

14. In his Tribes didst thou pierce the Head of his Towns, that were tempestuous to disperse me: their triumphing was as it were to consume the Afflicted in a lurking Place.

15. Thou trodest in the Sea with thy Horses, the Heap of much Water.

16. When I heard, my Inside was moved, my Lips quivered at the Voice, Rottensness came into my Bones, and I was moved in my Seat; who shall rest at the Time of Distress, at his coming up against the People that will invade them with Troops.

17. Though the Fig-tree should not blossom, and there be no Increase in the Vines, the Work of the Olive-tree fail, and Food be not yielded by the Fields, the Flock be cut off from the Fold, and there be no Herd in the Stalls;

18. Yet I will triumph through the Lord, will rejoice through the God of my Salvation.

19. The Sovereign Lord is my Force, and he makes my Feet as the Hinds, and causes me to tread upon my high Places. For the chief Musician on my striking Instruments.

Gr. Edit. διὰ τῶν Χερσὶν σου for thy Jesus Christ, which nearly answers to the Heb.

Ib. anointed one] Joshua strictly, Ver. 11. The Assembly, one may perceive, were put so it in their Annotations, though Learned Divines thereunto appointed, as said in their Title-page, to know whether anointed was sing. or plur.

Ib. the Head] This I interpret to be King Jabin, Josh. xi. 1, 10.

Ib. who was of] Green M. A. of Cambridge declares, 'No Sense can be made of this, unless we suppose that the mem before bet belongs to the next Word, and that the two Words should be read bet resayim, the House of the Wicked.' But even in our com. Bib. it is only for one to be understood before out of to be the same as he makes it with of alone; and mem prefixed to a Noun properly signifies one of sing. as here after Head, or some of plur. like ex in Lat. though it seems apparent that English Translators have been ignorant of this; yet since Head next before one might sound like an Adjective to it, I have substituted who was as more explicit. Mem also would not belong properly to Wicked, neither has this Writer put it in his bet resayim.

Ib. making bare the Foundation] depopulating and pillaging the Country, Josh. xi. 14.

Ib. the Foundation] The New-England Metre after the Psalms adds to, making downright Nonsense thus,

to the foundation

Was to the neck discovered.

Ib. the Neck] The City of Hazer, Ver. 11. as I suppose. Jun. and Trem. join to the Neck with Wicked, which the Heb. Pointing does not permit. And Green renders, thou rasedst the Foundation even to the Rock, by altering yarot (in his Manner) into parita, and xavver into xur. Confutation enough of it self.

Ver. 14. his Tribes] For this Green has thy Scepter, supposing the plur. should be sing. which must be by taking away a Letter, and as he adds, 'affixing to it Caph final instead of Vau,' that is 7 for 1 'which two Letters, he says, have frequently been mistaken for each other;' but I appeal to ocular Demonstration, whether this is not quite incredible, in a Language especially that requires particular Care of mistaking some Letters for others.

Ib. Tribes] the same as in Ver. 9. and his shews it not to be slaves; see also Dieu.

Ib. me] By Green, us: for says he, 'I conclude that the jod was originally vau.' Whereas vau would make his not us, nor is it the jod only that makes me. This is one of the great Criticks that attacks our Heb. Bible, not an anonymous Scribbler, nor a mere Writer for a Book-seller.

Ib. in a lurking Place] by Ambuscade.

Ver. 16. who] This Word is the next after the Heb. grand Partition of the Ver. 'Where, says Green, all the Commentators are puzzled what to make of it,' but this is the proper Meaning of the Word, and surely who may be of the first Person, then let the Sense speak for it self: whereas our Critick has added to it to make it my Steps, and put the latter Word for a Nominative Case to the foregoing Verb, which for that Purpose he was to alter from the 1st Person sing. of the fut. Tense to the 3d Person plur. of the past Tense; but tirgan, that he has substituted, would be singular and future, either of the 2d or 3d Pers. if any Thing. He translates on in another Period, Oh that I may be at Rest, while the Heb. has Nothing at all to signify or denote Oh.

Ib. his] the Enemy's, as Jun. and Trem. add in the Text, and others expound it: the Chaldean against the People of Judah.

NOTES upon the BOOK of ZEPHANIAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commission which Zephaniah had, the Son of Cushi, the Son of Gedaliah, the Son of Amariah, the Son of Hezekiah, in the Time of Josiah, the Son of Amon, King of Judah.

2. I will quite take away all Things from the Surface of the Ground, says the Lord.

3. I will take away Man and Beast, I will take away the Fowl of the Air and the Fish of the Sea, as also the Stumbling-blocks with the Wicked; and will cut off Man from the Surface of the Ground, says the Lord.

4. For I will stretch out my Hand against Judah, and all the Inhabitants of Jerusalem; and will cut off from this Place the Remainder of Baal, the Name of the black ones with the Priests;

5. And those who bow down upon the Roofs to the Army of Heaven, as likewise them that bow down swearing both to the Lord, and by Malcam;

6. With such as are turned back from after the Lord, and those that do not ask for the Lord, nor seek him.

7. Keep silence by reason of the Sovereign Lord: for the Day of the Lord is near, for the Lord has ordered the Sacrifice, has prepared his Guests.

8. And in the Day of the Lord's Sacrifice, I will punish the Princes, and the King's Children, and all who are cloathed with strange Cloathing.

9. I will also punish every one that leaps over the Threshold on that Day, those who fill the House of their Masters with Violence and Deceit.

10. And there shall be on that Day, says the Lord, the Noise of a Cry from the Fish-gate, and of a Lamentation from the second, and of a great Breaking from the Hills.

11. Lament, O Inhabitants of the Cavity, because all the People of the Dealer shall perish, all who carry Money shall be cut off.

12. And at that Time I will search Jerusalem with Lamps, and punish the Men that are become thick upon their Lees, who say in their Heart, The Lord does neither Good nor Harm.

13. So that their Wealth shall be plundered, and their Houses desolate: they shall also build Houses, and not inhabit; as likewise plant Vineyards, and not drink the Wine of them.

14. The great Day of the Lord is near, it is near and very speedy, the Voice of the Lord's Day, the powerful one shall cry bitterly there.

15. A Day of Fury shall that Day be, a Day of Distress and Streightness, a Day of Wasting and Devastation, a Day of Darkness and Dimness, a Day of Clouds and Obscurity;

16. A Day of the Trumpet and Sound, both against the fortified Cities, and the high Corners.

17. And I will distress Mankind, so that they shall walk like the Blind, because they sin against the Lord; nay their Blood shall be poured out as Dust, and their Flesh as Dung.

18. Both their Silver and Gold shall not be able to deliver them in the Day of the Lord's Fury, but with the Fire of his Zeal

Ver. 1. Hezekiah] The Name is the same with that of the noted King of Judah who is so called.

Ver. 2. quite take away] The Heb. Verb in the first Person might be doubtful, whether it means I will gather up or take away from הסיר or else I will finish or consume from הסד but that the Duplication of it in the infinitive Mood after the Heb. Manner, expressed here by quite, evidently shews the former; as also Jun. and Trem. Drus. Lewis de Dieu, and the old Lat. Transf. render; and Buxtorf puts it in Thef. Gram. Lib. i. Cap. 15. with Mercer on Pagnine's Lex. nay הסד has no Hiphil at all, excepting the controverted Words, but הסיר has, in which Conjugation those Words are agreed to be; and such doubling of a Verb is frequent, but not joining different ones in that Manner, and the infinite Verb is undeniably from הסיר which may be very sufficient for clearing this so great a Doubt.

Ver. 3. the Stumbling-blocks with the Wicked] idola cum suis cultoribus, the Idols with their Worshipers, Grot.

Ver. 4. black ones] W. Fulke that Eng. Champion of the Protestants in the Time of Qu. Eliz. writes, 'Ghemurim (which is the Heb. Word) the Priests of Baal had that Name of their blacke Garments, which they did weare superstitiously,' Defense of Translations of the holie Scrip. Ch. xxi. 6. so Kimbi, Piscat. and Drus. nay Pagn. translates, qui nigras induunt vestes, those who wear black Cloaths; Jun. and Trem. atratorum as here.

Ver. 5. Malcam] See 1 King. xi. 5, 7.

Ver. 7. prepared] The Heb. Word does not signify bid, even not as being the old Word for invited here.

Ver. 9. leaps over] in Imitation probably of Dagon's Worshipers, 1 Sam. v. 5. who might count stepping over the Threshold to be common going, and that it was not sufficiently missed without leaping over it; see Grot. An.

Ver. 15. Wasting and Devastation] The Heb. Words are shoah and meshoah, and mean as translated.

will will he consume the whole Country : for a Consuming indeed hurried on, will he make of all the Inhabitants of the Country.

C H A P. II.

GATHER up your selves, even gather up, O Nation not longed for :

2. Before the Day to bring forth the Decree is passed away like Chaff ; while yet the Lord's fervent Anger comes not on you ; while yet the Day of the Lord's Anger does not come upon you.

3. Seek the Lord, all the Meek of the Earth, who perform his Judgment ; seek for Righteousness, seek after Meekness : perhaps you will be hid on the Day of the Lord's Anger.

4. For Gaza shall be left, and Ashkelon be desolate : as for Ashdod, they shall drive her out at Noon, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5. Wo be to the Inhabitants of the Sea-coast, the Nation of the Cherethites : the Word of the Lord is against you, O Canaan, the Country of the Philistines ; and I will cause thee to perish, by having no Inhabitant.

6. And the Sea-coast shall be Folds, the Ditches of Shepherds, and the Fences of Flocks.

7. The Coast also shall be for the Residue of the Family of Judah, they shall feed upon them ; shall lie down in the Houses of Ashkelon in the Evening : for the Lord their God will visit them, and turn back their Captivity.

8. I hear the Reproach of Moab, and the Revilings of the Ammonites, with which they reproach my People, and magnify themselves against their Bounds.

9. Therefore by my living, says the Lord of Armies the God of Israel, Moab shall be like Sodom, and the Ammonites like Gomorrah, a forsaken Place of Nettles, Pits of Salt, and be desolate for ever : the Residue of my People shall prey upon them, and the rest of my Nation possess them.

10. This shall they have for their Pride ; because they reproach, and magnify themselves against the People of the Lord of Armies.

11. The Lord will be terrible against them, for he will make all the gods of the Earth lean ; and all the Isles of the Nations shall bow down to him from their respective Places.

12. You also, O Ethiopians, are those who shall be pierced through with my Sword.

13. And he will stretch out his Hand against the North, will cause Assyria to perish, and make Nineveh desolate, a dry Place like a Wilderness.

14. So the Herds shall lie down within it, every Beast of the Nation ; both the Pelican and Bittern shall lodge on its Balls : the Voice shall sing in the Window, Wasting shall be on the Threshold, for he will make bare the Cedar of it.

15. This shall be the triumphing City, which is situate securely, that says in its Heart, I am, and there is none else but I : how shall it become desolate, a Place for Beasts to lie down in ! every one passing by it shall hiss, shall shake his Hand.

C H A P. III.

WO be to that which is shewn, and polluted, the oppressing City.

2. It hearkens not to what is said, it does not receive Instruction, trusts not in the Lord, comes not near to its God.

Ver. 2. to bring forth] the Verb being infinitive ; and thus it is good Sense, and intelligible.

Ib. not] twice omitted in the com. Bib.

Ver. 4. Gaza] See Jer. xlvii. 1, 2.

Ver. 6. Ditches] as there are by Fences or Hedges, and the Root of this Word is to dig ; see the Lexic.

Ver. 7. visit them] the Family of Judah, not those of Azotus and that Neighbourhood, as Gret. labours to shew.

Ver. 9. Moab] See Ezek. xxv. 3.

Ib. a forsaken Place] So Jun. and Trem. translate it locus derelictus, and I see no Pretence in Heb. for it to signify the breeding, see Buxt. Lex. and Conc. with Castel. Lex.

Ib. for ever] Those Things seem spoken of Sodom and Gomorrah, in which Moab and Ammon should be like them comparatively, not strictly : for they were to return again from Captivity, Jer. xlviii. 47. & xlix. 6.

Ver. 12. those] not ye here.

Ver. 13. Assyria] Cyreniadanus being King of the Assyrian and Babylonian Empire, Nabopolassar his General took the latter Part from him, which by my Tables applied to Ptolemy's Canon was at the 16th Year of King Josiah, 14 Years after which Saracus the King was slain, and Nineveh destroyed, as shewn on Nab. i. 1. which

Ib. of it] which our Translators rather mistook, than omitted.

Ver. 15. City] namely Nineveh, Ver. 13.

Ver. 1. that which is shewn] being a Participle in Hophal, as in the Lexicons of Buxtorf and Castellus, from חָשַׁף to see, and in the active of Hophal to shew, never signifying to be filthy in any Form ; according as another Participle of the same, and the only one besides, is rendered Exod. xxv. 40.

Ib. City] Jerusalem by what follows, and as Interpreters are agreed.

Ver. 2. Instruction] as at the 7th Ver. which one may wonder should be turned otherwise in the com. Transf. when joined with the same Verb.

3. Its Princes within it are as roaring Lions; its Judges as evening Wolves, that break not the Bones till the Morning.

4. The Prophets of it are unstedfast, Men of Treacheries: its Priests profane the holy Place, they do violence to the Law.

5. The righteous Lord is within it, he will do no Iniquity: each Morning he gives his Judgment for Light, he is not lacking; but the Unjust knows not Shame.

6. I did cut off the Nations, their Corners were desolate, I made their Streets waste, by being without a Passenger: their Cities are destitute; by being without a Man, by having no Inhabitant.

7. I said, Verily thou shouldest fear me, shouldest receive Instruction; that its Habitation might not be cut off, in all that I punished it: surely rising early, they corrupted all their Deeds.

8. Therefore wait you for me, says the Lord, till the Day of my rising up to the Prey: for my Judgment is to gather the Nations, to get me together the Kingdoms, to pour out upon them my Indignation, all my fervent Anger; since all the Earth shall be consumed with the Fire of my Zeal.

9. For then will I turn a pure Language to the People; for all of them to call on the Name of the Lord, to serve him as with one Shoulder.

10. From the Side of the Rivers of Ethiopia, my Supplicators, the Daughter of my dispersed ones shall bring my Present.

11. On that Day thou shalt not be ashamed of all thy Deeds, with which thou rebellest against me: for then will I take away from within thee, those that triumph in thy Haughtiness; and thou shalt be lofty again no more for my holy Mountain.

12. And I will leave within thee an afflicted and poor People; and they shall trust in the Name of the Lord.

13. The Residue of Israel shall not do Iniquity, nor speak Lying; neither shall there be found in their Mouth a deceitful Tongue; but they shall feed, lie down, and none make afraid.

14. Sing, O Daughter of Zion, sound forth, O Israel: be glad and triumph with the whole Heart, Daughter of Jerusalem.

15. The Lord will take away thy Judgments, will turn away thy Enemy: the King of Israel, the Lord is within thee; thou shalt see Evil no more.

16. On that Day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Do not fear; to Zion, Let not thy Hands be slack.

17. The Lord thy God, powerful within thee, will save: he will be joyful for thee with Gladness, he will be silent with his Love, will rejoice for thee with Singing.

18. I will gather up those that are of thee, who are sorrowful for the solemn Assembly, for the Burden upon it, the Reproach.

19. Behold I will manage all who afflict thee at that Time; and will save the Lame, and gather together the Expelled, making them be praised, and famous in all the Country of their Shame.

20. At that Time will I bring you, even at the Time of my gathering you together: for I will cause you to be famous, and be praised among all the People of the Earth, when I turn back your Captivities before your Eyes, says the Lord.

NOTES upon the BOOK of HAGGAI.

CHAP. I.

IN the second Year of King Darius, on the first Day of the sixth Month, there was the Lord's Commission by the Ministry of the Prophet Haggai, to Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel Magistrate of Judah, and to Joshua the Son of Jehozadak the high Priest, as follows :

2. Thus speaks the Lord of Armies, saying ; This People say, The Time is not come, the Time for the House of the Lord to be built.

3. So the Lord's Commission was by the Ministry of the Prophet Haggai, in this manner :

4. Is it a Time for you your selves to dwell in your covered Houses, and this House be waste ?

5. And now thus says the Lord of Armies ; Set your Mind upon your Ways.

6. You sow much, and there is little coming ; you eat, and none are satisfied ; you drink, and none sufficiently ; are cloathed, and none have Heat : and he who gets himself Hire, does it into a Bag made with Holes.

7. Thus says the Lord of Armies ; Set your Mind upon your Ways.

8. Go up the Mountain, bring Wood, and build the House ; which I will take delight in, and will be glorified, says the Lord.

9. Looking for much, behold there is little ; so that you bring home, when I have blown on it :— for what reason ? says the Lord of Armies ; by reason of my House which is waste, while you are running each to his own House.

10. Therefore above you the Heaven is shut up from Dew, as is the Earth from its Increase.

11. Since I call for Wasting upon the Earth, particularly upon the Mountains, as also upon the Corn, and upon the Wine, and upon the Oil, and upon that which the Ground brings forth ; nay, upon Man, and upon Beast, and upon all the Labour of the Hands.

12. And Zerubbabel the Son of Shaltiel, Joshua the Son of Jehozadak the high Priest, and all the Residue of the People hearkened to what the Lord their God said, and the Words of the Prophet Haggai, as the Lord their God sent him ; and the People were afraid by reason of the Lord.

13. Whereupon Haggai the Messenger of the Lord, spoke in the Lord's Message to the People thus, I am with you, says the Lord.

14. Then the Lord stirred up the Spirit of Zerubbabel the Son of Shaltiel Magistrate of Judah, and the Spirit of Joshua the Son of Jehozadak the high Priest, with the Spirit of all the Residue of the People ; so that they came, and did the Work in the House of the Lord of Armies their God ;

15. On the twenty fourth Day of the sixth Month, in the second Year of King Darius.

CHAP. II.

ON the twenty first of the seventh Month, there was the Lord's Commission by the Ministry of the Prophet Haggai as follows :

2. Speak now to Zerubbabel the Son of Shaltiel Magistrate of Judah, to Joshua the Son of Jehozadak the high Priest, and the Residue of the People, in this manner ;

3. Who is left among you that saw this House in its former Glory ? And what do you see it now ? Is it not in comparison of that as Nothing in your Sight ?

4. Yet now be strong, Zerubbabel, says the Lord ; and be strong, Joshua the Son of Jehozadak the high Priest ; be strong too, all the People of the Country, says the Lord, and be doing : for I am with you, says the Lord of Armies.

5. With the Word which I confirmed to you when you came out of Egypt, and my Spirit remaining within you, do not fear.

6. For thus says the Lord of Armies ; It shall be yet once a little while, when I will move the Heaven, Earth, Sea and dry Land.

7. And when I have moved all Nations, the Desirable of all Nations shall come ; and I will fill this House with Glory, says the Lord of Armies.

Ver. 1. Darius] See Zech. i. 1. Ezr. iv. 24. & v. 1.
Ver. 9. blown] blasted it in the Fields and Vineyards ; see Ver. 11. Chap. ii. 17.

Ver. 12. Shaltiel] not spell'd here &c. as in Ver. 1. and the last of the Book.
Ver. 14. Then] See Ezr. v. 1, 2.

8. The Silver is mine, and the Gold is mine, says the Lord of Armies.

9. The Glory of this latter House shall be greater than that of the former; says the Lord of Armies; and I will give Peace in this Place, says the Lord of Armies.

10. On the twenty fourth Day of the ninth Month, in the second Year of Darius, there was the Lord's Commission by the Ministry of the Prophet Haggai as follows:

11. Thus says the Lord of Armies; Ask now the Priests the Law, saying,

12. Behold a Man who bears holy Flesh in the Skirt of his Garment, or touches with his Skirt Bread, Broth, Wine, Oil, or any Food, is it holy? And the Priests made answer, No.

13. And Haggai said, If any one unclean by a dead Body touch any of these, is it unclean? And the Priests made answer, It is.

14. Haggai then made reply: So is this People, and so is this Nation before me, says the Lord, so likewise is all the Work of their Hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15. And now do apply your Mind from this Day upward, till before one Stone was put on another in the Temple of the Lord.

16. Since those were, come to a Heap of twenty, and there were but ten; come to a Wine-press to draw fifty out of the Press, and there were but twenty.

17. Smite you as I did with Blasting, Blight and Hail, in all the Works of your Hands; none of you would be mine, says the Lord.

18. Do apply your Mind from this Day upward, from the twenty fourth Day of the ninth, till the Day that the Foundation of the Lord's Temple was laid, apply your Mind.

19. Is the Seed yet in the Barn? And it is while the Wine, Fig, Pomegranate, and Olive Tree does not bear: from this Day will I bless.

20. And Haggai had the Lord's Commission again, on the twenty fourth of the Month thus:

21. Say as follows to Zerubbabel Magistrate of Judah; I will move the Heaven and the Earth.

22. So that I will overthrow the Throne of the Kingdoms, and destroy the Strength of the Kingdoms of the Nations; I will also overthrow the Chariot and its Riders, and the Horses and their Riders shall come down, by the Sword of one another.

23. At that Time, says the Lord of Armies, will I take thee, my Servant Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel, says the Lord, and will put thee as a Seal: for I have chosen thee, says the Lord of Armies.

C H A P. I.

IN the eighteenth Month, in the second Year of Darius, Zechariah the Son of Berechiah, the Son of Iddo, the Prophet, had the Lord's Commission as follows :

2. The Lord has been quite in a Wrath against your Fathers.

3. And declare thou to them ; Thus says the Lord of Armies, Return to me, says the Lord of Armies ; and I will return to you, says the Lord of Armies.

4. Be not like your Fathers, to whom the former Prophets called, saying ; Thus says the Lord of Armies, Return now from your evil Ways, and your evil Doings : but they would not hear, nor hearken to me, says the Lord.

5. Where are those Fathers of yours ? And do the Prophets live for ever ?

6. But did not my Words and Ordinances, which I commanded my Servants the Prophets, reach your Fathers ? So that they returned, and said, As the Lord of Armies thought to do to us, according to our Ways and Doings, so has he dealt with us.

7. On the twenty fourth Day of the eleventh Month, which is the Month of Shebat, in the second Year of Darius, Zechariah, the Son of Berechiah, the Son of Iddo, the Prophet, had the Lord's Commission thus :

8. I saw plainly at Night, that there was a Man riding upon a red Horse, and he stood among the Myrtle-trees which were in the Deep ; and behind him were red, diverse-coloured, and white Horses.

9. And I asked, What are these, my Lord ? And the Angel who talked with me said to me, I will shew thee what they are.

10. Upon this the Man that stood among the Myrtle-trees made answer, These are they whom the Lord has sent to go about on the Earth.

11. And they made reply to the Angel of the Lord that stood among the Myrtle-trees, We have gone about on the Earth ; and behold all the Earth sits still, and is quiet.

12. Then the Angel of the Lord spoke in this manner, O Lord of Armies, how long wilt thou not have compassion upon Jerusalem and the Cities of Judah ; with which thou hast had Indignation these seventy Years ?

13. And the Lord answered the Angel who spoke to me with good Words ; with comfortable ones :

14. Moreover the Angel who talked with me said to me : Call as follows ; Thus says the Lord of Armies, I am zealous for Jerusalem and Zion, with great Zeal.

15. And with great Wrath am I in a Wrath against the Nations that are at Ease ; because I being in a Wrath a little, they helped towards the Harm.

16. Therefore thus says the Lord, I will return to Jerusalem with Compassions : my House shall be built in it, says the Lord of Armies ; and a Measuring-line shall be stretched out upon Jerusalem.

17. Call yet as follows ; Thus says the Lord of Armies, My Cities shall yet be dispersed by reason of Prosperity ; and the Lord will yet comfort Zion, and yet choose Jerusalem.

18. And looking up, I saw plainly that there were four Horns.

19. So I enquired of the Angel who talked with me, What are these ? And he said to me, These are the Horns which have scattered Judah, Israel and Jerusalem.

20. Next the Lord shewed me four Artificers.

21. And I asked, What come these to do ? Then he said thus, Those being the Horns which have scattered Judah, as if no Man should lift up his Head ; these come to make them afraid, to cast down the Horns of the Nations, that lift up the Horn at the Country of Judah, to scatter it.

8. The Silver is mine, and the Gold is mine, says the Lord of Armies.

9. The Glory of this latter House shall be greater than that of the former; says the Lord of Armies; and I will give Peace in this Place, says the Lord of Armies.

10. On the twenty fourth Day of the ninth Month, in the second Year of Darius, there was the Lord's Commission by the Ministry of the Prophet Haggai as follows:

11. Thus says the Lord of Armies; Ask now the Priests the Law, saying,

12. Behold a Man who bears holy Flesh in the Skirt of his Garment, or touches with his Skirt Bread, Broth, Wine, Oil, or any Food, is it holy? And the Priests made answer, No.

13. And Haggai said, If any one unclean by a dead Body touch any of these, is it unclean? And the Priests made answer, It is.

14. Haggai then made reply: So is this People, and so is this Nation before me, says the Lord, so likewise is all the Work of their Hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15. And now do apply your Mind from this Day upward, till before one Stone was put on another in the Temple of the Lord.

16. Since those were, come to a Heap of twenty, and there were but ten; come to a Wine-press to draw fifty out of the Press, and there were but twenty.

17. Smite you as I did with Blasting, Blight and Hail, in all the Works of your Hands; none of you would be mine, says the Lord.

18. Do apply your Mind from this Day upward, from the twenty fourth Day of the ninth, till the Day that the Foundation of the Lord's Temple was laid, apply your Mind.

19. Is the Seed yet in the Barn? And it is while the Wine, Fig, Pomegranate, and Olive Tree does not bear: from this Day will I bless.

20. And Haggai had the Lord's Commission again, on the twenty fourth of the Month thus:

21. Say as follows to Zerubbabel Magistrate of Judah; I will move the Heaven and the Earth.

22. So that I will overthrow the Throne of the Kingdoms, and destroy the Strength of the Kingdoms of the Nations; I will also overthrow the Chariot and its Riders, and the Horses and their Riders shall come down, by the Sword of one another.

23. At that Time, says the Lord of Armies, will I take thee, my Servant Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel, says the Lord, and will put thee as a Seal: for I have chosen thee, says the Lord of Armies.

CHAP. II.

A GAIN looking up, I saw clearly that there was a Man with a Measuring-line in his Hand.

2. At which I said, Whither art thou going? Who answered me, To measure Jerusalem, to see how much its Breadth is, and how much the Length of it.

3. Now behold the Angel who spoke to me went forth, as did another Angel to meet him,

4. And said to him; Run, speak thus to this young Man, Those of Jerusalem shall inhabit the Towns, by reason of the Multitude of Men and Beasts within it.

5. Nay I will be to it, says the Lord, a Wall of Fire round about, and will be for Glory within it.

6. Ho, ho, even flee from the Country of the North, says the Lord, though I have spread you abroad as the four Winds of Heaven, says the Lord.

7. Ho, Zion, deliver thy self, thou Inhabitant with the Daughter of Babylon.

8. For thus says the Lord of Armies, who after the Glory, sends me to the Nations that spoiled you; since he who touches you, touches the Apple of his Eye:

9. For behold I will shake my Hand against them, and they shall be a Spoil to their Servants; so you shall know that the Lord of Armies has sent me.

10. Sing, and be glad, O Daughter of Zion: for behold I will come, and dwell within thee, says the Lord.

11. Besides many Nations shall cleave to the Lord at that Time, and become a People to me: and I will dwell within thee; so thou shalt know that the Lord of Armies has sent me to thee.

12. Thus the Lord will possess Judah his Portion upon the holy Ground: and will yet choose Jerusalem.

13. Keep silence, all Flesh, at the Presence of the Lord: for he is stirred up out of his holy Habitation.

CHAP. III.

A ND he shewed me Joshua the high Priest, standing before the Angel of the Lord; and Satan standing at his right Hand to oppose him.

2. But the Lord said to Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, Satan; even the Lord, who chooseth Jerusalem, rebuke thee: Is not this a Firebrand plucked out of the Fire?

3. Now Joshua was clothed with filthy Garments, as he stood before the Angel.

4. So he spoke to them who stood before him in the following manner, Take away the filthy Garments from him; and to him he said, See, I have made thy Iniquity pass from thee, even to cloath thee with Change of Apparel.

5. Then I said, Let them put a pure Mitre upon his Head: which they did accordingly, and clothed him with Garments; while the Angel of the Lord was standing by,

6. Who testified to Joshua as follows:

7. Thus says the Lord of Armies; If thou wilt go in my Ways, and if thou wilt keep my Charge; thou shalt both judge my House, and also keep my Courts: and I will grant thee to go among these who are standing by.

8. Hear now, Joshua the high Priest, with thy Friends who sit before thee; since they are Men for a Token: for behold I will bring forth my Servant the Sprout.

9. For behold upon that one Stone, which I put before Joshua, there are seven Eyes: lo I will engrave the Engravings of it, says the Lord of Armies, and will remove the Iniquity of that Country in one Day.

10. At that Time, says the Lord of Armies, shall you call to your several Neighbours, under both the Vine and the Fig-tree.

Ver. 4. shall inhabit the Towns] for Want of Room, as Grotius observes; the Heb. Verb being in the active Form: so Jun. and Trem. 'per pagos habitabunt cives urbis Jerusalem, the Citizens of the City of Jerusalem shall dwell in the Villages or Towns.

C H A P. IV.

AND the Angel who talked with me returned; and rousing me up, like a Man that is roused up from his Sleep,

2. Asked me, What dost thou see? And I said, I see plainly that there is a Candlestick which is all Gold, having a Dish upon the Top of it, with its seven Lamps upon it there, and so many Funnels to them;

3. As also two Olive-trees upon it, one at the right Side of the Bowl, and the other upon the left Side of it.

4. I further made this Answer to the Angel that talked with me, What are these, my Lord?

5. Who made reply to me, Dost not thou know what they are? And I said, No, my Lord.

6. Besides he made reply to me as follows; This is the Commission the Lord says to Zerubbabel, It shall not be by Force nor Might, but by my Spirit, says the Lord of Armies.

7. Whatever thou art, O great Mountain, before Zerubbabel thou wilt become a Plain; and he will bring forth the Top-stone, with Acclamations of constant Grace to it.

8. I had moreover the Lord's Commission thus;

9. The Hands of Zerubbabel laid the Foundation of this House, and his Hands will accomplish it; and thou wilt know that the Lord of Armies has sent me to you:

10. For who despises the Day of little Things? Since they shall be glad, and see the Weight of Tin of these seven in the Hand of Zerubbabel: they are the Eyes of the Lord which go about on all the Earth.

11. And I made answer to him, What are these two Olive-trees upon the right Side of the Candlestick, and upon the left Side of it?

12. As I did likewise again, What are the two Parcels of Berries of the Olive-trees, which empty the golden Liquor from them into the Receptacle of the two golden Pipes?

13. Whereupon he spoke thus to me, Dost not thou know what these are? And I said, No, my Lord.

14. Then said he, These are the two anointed ones, that stand by the Lord of the whole Earth.

C H A P. V.

AFTERWARDS I turned again, and looking up, saw plainly that there was a flying Volume.

2. Upon which he asked me, What dost thou see? And I answered, I see a flying Volume, the Length of it twenty Cubits, and its Breadth ten.

3. And he replied to me; This is the Curse that goes forth over the Surface of all the Earth: for every one who steals is quit according to it on one Side, and every one who swears is quit according to it on the other Side.

4. I cause it to go forth, says the Lord of Armies; and it shall enter into the House of him who steals, and into that of him who swears by my Name falsely: within whose House it shall lodge, and consume it, with its Wood, and the Stones of it.

5. Besides the Angel who talked with me came out, and said to me, Look up now, and see what this is that goes forth.

6. And I enquired, What is it? This that goes forth, answered he, is an Ephah; adding, This is the Look of them on all the Earth.

7. Behold there was a Piece of Lead too lifted up, with this a Woman who was sitting within the Ephah.

8. This, says he, is Wickedness; and he cast her into the midst of the Ephah, casting the Weight of Lead on the Mouth of it.

9. Next I looked up, and saw apparently that two Women went forth, and the Wind was in their Wings, and the Wings of them were like those of a Stork; who lifted up the Ephah between the Earth and Heaven.

Ver. 2. Dish] to distinguish what Sort of Bowl.
Ib. Funnels] not the same Word as that rendered Pipes, Ver. 12.

Ver. 7. the Top-stone] Top being an Adjective to Stone, and therefore fem. and not it a Pronoun for thereof, since both Mountain and Temple are masc. thus it is in Bux. Lex. as likewise in the Trans. Vulg. that of Pagn. Cast. Jun. and Trem. with no Pronoun to it.

Ver. 10. Weight of Tin] so the Heb. as there is Weight of Lead, Ch. v. 8.

Ib. these seven] Eyes, Ch. iii. 9.

Ver. 12. Berries] or Spikes according to the Heb. Olive, as they are called, being longish and big like an Ear of Corn; consult Bux.

Ib. Receptacle] the proper Eng. here of the Heb. Hand.

Ib. anointed ones] Heb. Sons of Oil, because they were anointed with it: so in Isa. v. 2. a Place as if replenished with Oil, or fat and fertile, as Drusius observes, but could not tell where the Expression was.

Ver. 3. quit] and consequently judged as the old Lat. Verf. has it; and punished, as the Chald. whereas there is no Proof, nor indeed Mention in Bux. Lexic. of this Verb ever signifying cut off, nor has it that Meaning either in Chald. or Arabick, from whence Heb. Words sometimes fetch theirs: so Castal. translates it absolvitur; Leo Jud. absolvitur; Jun. and Trem. se innocentem asserit, clears himself; Piscat. innocens habetur, is held innocent.

Ver. 6. This that goes forth] otherwise as in the com. Verf. that goeth forth is superfluous and improper; see L. de Dieu, Anim.

Ib. Look] Heb. Eye. Thieves and perjured Persons, Ver. 4, 5. who are concealed Sinners, look like that Ephah with Wickedness in it, Ver. 8.

Ver. 7. with this] So Jun. and Trem. render it cum ea, and Drus. with Piscat. which the Sense requires of Necessity, since the Lead and Woman were distinct Things, Ver. 8. And this is jars with there was in our Bible.

Ver. 8. on the Mouth] for a heavy Lid, to shut the Woman representing Wickedness fast in.

10. And I asked the Angel who talked with me, Whither are they carrying away the Ephah?

11. With this he said to me, To build a House for it in the Country of Shinar; that may be established, and it may be placed there upon its own Base.

C H A P. VI.

AND turning again, I looked up, and saw plainly that four Chariots came out from between two Mountains; and the Mountains were brazen ones.

2. In the first Chariot were red Horses, in the second black ones,

3. In the third white ones, and in the fourth speckled ones, being strong.

4. Thereupon I spoke as follows, to the Angel who talked with me, What are these, my Lord?

5. And the Angel made answer to me, These are the four Spirits of Heaven, that go forth from standing by the Lord of the whole Earth.

6. They that were black Horses in it were going forth to the north Country, the white went forth after them; and the speckled went forth to the south Country.

7. Thus the Strong went forth, and endeavoured to go, and walk about on the Earth; and when he bade them do so, they did.

8. He also cried to me, and spoke to me thus, See, those that go forth to the north Country, give Rest to my Spirit in that Country.

9. And I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

10. Taking some of the Captivity, of Hel-dai, Tobijah and Jedaiah; thou shalt come the same Day, and that to the House of Josiah the Son of Zephaniah, who all came from Babylon;

11. And shalt take Silver and Gold, making Crowns, and put on the Head of Joshua the Son of Jozadak, the high Priest;

12. As also tell him, that thus speaks the Lord of Armies, saying; Behold the Man, whose Name is the Sprout, even he shall sprout forth from his Place, and build the Temple of the Lord.

13. Which he shall not only build, but he shall bear the Comeliness, and sit, having dominion upon his Throne; nay be a Priest upon it, and the Counsel of Peace shall be between those two.

14. The Crowns likewise shall be for Hel-lem, Tobijah, Jedciah, and Hen the Son of Zephaniah, for a Memorial in the Temple of the Lord.

15. Besides those who are far off shall come, and build in the Temple of the Lord; so you shall know that the Lord of Armies has sent me to you: thus it shall be, if you will at all hearken to what the Lord your God says.

C H A P. VII.

AND in the fourth Year of King Darius, Zechariah had the Lord's Commission, on the fourth of the ninth Month Chisleu.

2. When there was sent to the House of God Sharezer, and Regem-melech, with his Men, to make supplication before the Lord;

Ver. 11. that may] to wit the House, with which this accords in Gender, and not with Ephah.

Ver. 1. Chariots] It is explained what these were, Ver. 5. so that there is less Likelihood of another Meaning. Some however, particularly Lowth in his Commentary upon the larger and lesser Prophets, expound it of the four Empires like the Visions in Daniel: according to which the black Horses are to denote the sad and mournful State of the Jews under the Persian Empire; whereas that was a Time of much Joy, as well as Peace, for their Deliverance from Captivity, Rebuilding the City and Temple, &c. The white Horses are thus referred to the Persian Empire, for some Kindness which Alexander shewed the Jews; but their terrible Sufferings under Antiochus causes it to be represented in a contrary Manner in Dan. Ch. viii. & xi. with which this must not disagree. This Vision and the Interpretation of it has a plain Similitude with that in Chap. i. 8, 9, 10, 11. which is not pretended to relate to those different Empires; and Lowth applies the red Horses there to Darius the Persian King, here to the Babylonian Empire, as he does the white there to the same King, but here to another Empire. The Colours rather denoted the Business of these celestial Messengers, and as it was a Time of Peace the Chariot of red Horses for War did not now go forth, Ver. 6. and the others went to different Parts, did not come to Judah, Ver. 6, 7.

Ver. 3. speckled] See it Gen. xxxi. 10.

Ib. being strong] or speckled strong Horses, there being no Conjunction for the [and] in our com. Bib. But Piscator in Commentariis in Duodecim Prophetas minores, interpreting it robusti, strong; adds, Hoc Epitheton referendum est ad Equos illos omnes; ut percipitur ex V. 7. this Quality is to respect them all, as appears by Ver. 7. The Word no more signifies bay, from its Use in other Places, than the Eng. strong does.

Ver. 6. were going] which the Prophet saw as Ver. 7. not the Angel told, as incongruously in the pres. Eng. and the Heb. is a Participle.

Ver. 7. Thus] Interpreters who make this a distinct going forth from the rest, seem not to have minded how many Chariots there were, or what Horses were seen to draw them in the Vision. If the 4th Chariot had two Sorts of Horses according to the pres. Transl. how did one Sort go to the south Country, and the other remain behind, going after into other Parts?

Ib. Strong] It is not easy to determine whether the speckled only, or all are meant, unless some material Discrimination can be discovered.

Ver. 10. when all came &c.] This being the last in the Verse.

Ver. 12. the Sprout—shall sprout forth] thus the Heb.

Ver. 13. those two] the King and Priest united in one, i. e. Jesus typified so by Joshua.

3. Speaking to the Priests who were at the House of the Lord of Armies, and to the Prophets thus, Shall I weep in the fifth Month, being separated as I have been these so many Years?

4. Upon this I had the following Commission of the Lord of Armies:

5. Speak to all the People of the Country, and to the Priests as follows; When you fasted, and were making lamentation in the fifth and seventh Months, even these seventy Years, did you at all fast to me my self?

6. And when you eat, and when you drank; did not you eat and drink for your selves?

7. Are there not the Things which the Lord proclaimed by the Ministry of the former Prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited, and quiet, with its Cities round about it, as also the South and Vale inhabited?

8. Zechariah had moreover the Lord's Commission as follows:

9. Thus spoke the Lord of Armies, saying; Execute true Judgment, and shew Kindness and Compassions one to another.

10. And do not oppress the Widow or Fatherless, the Stranger or Afflicted; nor think ill one to another in your Hearts.

11. But they refused to hearken, and yielded an obstinate Shoulder, and made their Ears heavy from hearing;

12. Nay they set their Heart as a Diamond from hearing the Law, and the Words which the Lord of Armies sent by his Spirit, by the Ministry of his former Prophets: so that there was great Wrath from the Lord of Armies.

13. And according as he called, and they would not hearken; so they called, and I would not hearken, says the Lord of Armies.

14. But I drove them as with a Tempest over all Nations, which they did not know; and the Country was desolate after them, from passing and returning: for they made the desirable Country a Desolation.

C H A P. VIII.

T H E R E was further the Commission of the Lord of Armies as follows:

2. Thus says the Lord of Armies, I have been zealous for Zion with great Zeal, and with great Fury have I been zealous for it.

3. Thus says the Lord, I am returned to Zion, and dwell within Jerusalem; so that Jerusalem shall be called The City of Truth, and the Mountain of the Lord of Armies, The holy Mountain.

4. Thus says the Lord of Armies, Old Men and old Women shall yet dwell in the Streets of Jerusalem, and each with a Staff in his Hand for Multitude of Days.

5. And the Streets of the City shall be full of Boys and Girls playing in them.

6. Thus says the Lord of Armies, Because it is wonderful in the Sight of the Residue of this People in those Days, is it also wonderful in my Sight? says the Lord of Armies.

7. Thus says the Lord of Armies, Behold I will save my People from the Country of the rising and that of the setting of the Sun.

8. And I will bring them, so that they shall dwell within Jerusalem; and they shall be to me a People, as I will to them a God, both in Truth and Righteousness.

9. Thus says the Lord of Armies; Let your Hands be strong, that hear these Words in these Days, from the Mouth of the Prophets who are at the Time of laying the Foundation of the House of the Lord of Armies, to build the Temple.

10. For before those Days there was no Reward for Man, nor was there any Reward for a Beast: both to the Goer out, and to the Comer in, there was no Peace by reason of Distress; as I sent all Mankind one against another.

11. But I will not be now as in former Days, to the Residue of this People, says the Lord of Armies.

12. For the Seed shall be prosperous, the Vine yield its Fruit, as shall the Earth the Increase of it, and the Heavens shall give their Dew: I will even make the Residue of this People possess all these Things.

13. And as you have been a Curse in the Nations, O Family of Judah, and that of Israel; so will I save you, and you shall be a Blessing: do not fear, let your Hands be strong.

14. For thus says the Lord of Armies; As I intended to do you Harm when your Fathers made me in a Wrath, says the Lord of Armies; and I did not repent:

15. So I intend again in these Days, to do Good to Jerusalem, and the Family of Judah: fear not.

16. These are the Matters which you shall do: speak the Truth one to another, judge with Truth and the Judgment of Peace at your Gates;

17. And think not ill one towards another in your Hearts, nor love a false Oath: for all these are Things which I hate, says the Lord.

18. I had also a Commission of the Lord of Armies as follows:

19. Thus says the Lord of Armies, Let the Fast of the fourth, with those of the fifth, seventh and tenth Months, be to the Family of Judah for Joy, Gladness, and good Solemnities; so love Truth and Peace.

20. Thus says the Lord of Armies; There shall be yet when the People shall come, and the Inhabitants of many Cities;

21. And the Inhabitants of one shall go to another, saying, Let us go still to make supplication before the Lord, and to seek the Lord of Armies: I will go also.

22. Nay many People and numerous Nations shall come, to seek the Lord of Armies at Jerusalem, and to make supplication before the Lord.

23. Thus says the Lord of Armies, Those shall be the Days in which ten Men from all Languages of the Nations shall take even fast hold on the Skirt of one who is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for we hear that God is with you.

THE Burden of the Lord's Commission on the Country of Hadrach, and Damascus the Resting-place of it: when the Eyes of Mankind, as well as of all the Tribes of Israel, will be to the Lord;

2. And upon Hamath also bordering on it, Tyre, and Zidon, though it is very wise;

3. Notwithstanding Tyre has built a Fortification for it self, and heaped up Silver like Dust, and Gold as the Dirt of the Streets.

4. Behold the Lord will dispossess it, and smite its Force in the Sea; and it shall be consumed with Fire.

5. Ashkelon shall see, and fear; as also Gaza, and be exceedingly in Anguish; and Ekron, for he will make the Expectation of it ashamed; nay the King shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall be uninhabited.

6. Moreover a Bastard shall dwell in Ashdod; and I will cut off the Pride of the Philistines.

7. So will I take away his Blood from his Mouth, and his Abominations from between his Teeth, and he also who is left shall be our God's; and be as a Leader in Judah, while Ekron is like a Jebusite.

8. And I will encamp at my House by reason of the Army, by reason of such as pass and return; so that the Exacter shall pass against them no more: for now I have seen with my Eyes.

9. Rejoice very much, O Daughter of Zion, shout, O Daughter of Jerusalem: behold thy King shall come to thee, who is righteous, and has Salvation; afflicted, and riding upon an Ass, even upon a Colt the Foal of a She-ass.

10. Then will I cut off the Chariot from Ephraim, and the Horse from Jerusalem, the Curtius, Lib. iii.

Ib. to the Lord] for Fear of Alexander, as Josephus particularly relates of the Jews, who were preserved; see Antiq. xi. 8. & Ver. 8.

Ver. 2. on it] the Country, Ver. 1. not the Rest or Resting-place, which is unapt, nor the Burden, because disagreeing in Gender.

Ver. 4. in the Sea] Tyre standing on the Sea-coast, the Inhabitants after a long Siege by Nebuchadnezzar, withdrew to an Island about half a Mile from the Land; where Alexander, according to this Prophecy, afterwards conquered the new City by making a Bank to it from the Continent, Curtius, Lib. iv. Bow of War shall likewise be cut off; and he shall speak Peace to the Nations: his Dominion also shall be from Sea to Sea, and from the River to the Limits of the Earth.

11. As to thy self, for the Blood of thy Covenant, I have sent thy Prisoners out of the Pit in which was no Water.

12. Return to the Fort, O Prisoners of Waiting; I also who declare to Day, will cause double to return to thee,

13. For I will bend Judah for my self, will fill the Bow with Ephraim; and stir up thy Sons, Zion, against thine, Greece: and will make thee like the Sword of the Powerful.

14. Thus will the Lord appear against them, and his Arrow go forth as Lightning: even the Sovereign Lord will sound the Trumpet, and walk with the Storms of the South.

15. The Lord of Armies will protect them; nay they shall consume, and subdue with Sling-stones; and drinking, make a Noise as with Wine; and shall be filled as a Bowl, like the Corners of the Altar.

16. So the Lord their God will save them at that Time, as the Flock of his People: for they shall be as the Stones of a Crown, which are set up for a Standard upon his Ground.

17. For how is his Goodness! and how his Beauty! Corn the young Men, and new Wine shall make fruitful the Virgins.

AS K the Lord for Rain at the Time of the latter Rain, the Lord who makes the bright Clouds; and he will give them the showery Rain, to each one Grass in the Field.

2. For the Teraphs speak Iniquity, the Diviners see Falsehood, and speak Dreams in vain, they comfort with Vanity: therefore they go away like Sheep, being afflicted because there is no Shepherd.

3. I am angry at the Shepherds, and will punish the He-goats: for the Lord of Armies has visited his Flock the Family of Judah, and made them as his comely Horse in War.

4. Out of him the Corner, out of him the Nail, out of him the Bow of War, out of him shall go every Exacter together.

5. And they shall be as powerful ones treading down in the Dirt of the Streets in War; thus shall they fight, for the Lord will be with them: and those who ride on Horses shall be ashamed.

6. So will I make the Family of Judah powerful, and save that of Joseph, settling them again; for I will have compassion upon them, and they shall be as when I did not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will answer them.

7. Thus Ephraim shall be as a powerful one, and their Heart shall be glad as with Wine: their Sons too shall see, and be glad, their Heart shall rejoice through the Lord.

8. I will whistle for them, and gather them together, for I have redeemed them; and they shall multiply, as they have done.

9. And I having sown them among the People, they shall remember me in remote Places; nay they shall live with their Children, and return.

10. For I will cause them to return from the Country of Egypt, and gather them together from Assyria; bringing them to the Country of Gilead and Lebanon, so that there shall not be sufficient for them.

CHAP. XI.

OPEN thy Gates, O Lebanon; that Fire may consume thy Cedars.

2. Lament, O Fir-tree, because the Cedar is fallen, those which were stately are wasted: lament, you Oaks of Bashan, because the Coppice of the Vintage is come down.

3. There will be a lamentable Noise of the Shepherds, because their Stateliness is wasted; a roaring Noise of the young Lions, because the Excellency of Jordan is wasted,

4. Thus says the Lord my God; Feed the Flock of the Slaughter.

5. Whom their Buyers slay, and are not held guilty; and their Sellers say, Blessed be the Lord that I am rich: so their Shepherds do not spare them.

6. For I will no more spare the Inhabitants of the Country, says the Lord; but behold I will cause Men to be found in the Custody of their several Neighbours, with that of their Kings; who shall beat the Country, and I will not deliver from their Power.

7. Accordingly I fed the Flock of the Slaughter, therefore the Afflicted of the Flock; and took me two Staves, one I called Pleasantness, as I did the other Cords, while I fed the Flock.

8. And I cut off three Shepherds in one Month; and my Soul was grieved for them, and their Soul also abhorred me.

9. Then I said, I will not feed you: that which does die let it, and that which is cut off let it be, and let those who are left eat each the Flesh of one another.

10. And I took my Staff Pleasantness, and cut it asunder; to break my Covenant which I had made with all the People.

11. Thus it was broke at that Time; and so the Afflicted of the Flock who observed me, knew that it was the Word of the Lord.

12. I said further to them, If you like it, give my Wages; and if not, forbear: so they paid my Wages, thirty Pieces of Silver.

Ver. 12. Wages] for keeping the Flock.

Ib. thirty] This being quoted under the Name of Jeremy, Mat. xxvii. 9. it has been argued that the latter Part of Zechariah does in Reality belong to Jeremiah; Newton more strangely in the Beginning of his Observations on the Prophecies of Daniel, says to Isaiah: in Favour of which Interpretation it is pretended, that the Beginning of Chap. ix. and the last Part of Ch. x. 12. were fulfilled by the Conquests of Nebuchadnezzar before Zechariah's Time. But by the Notes on those Texts it may be seen otherwise: and as to Tyre, Ch. ix. 4. Nebuchadnezzar conquered it on the Continent, but Alexander in the Sea; the Philistine Cities also seeing the Overthrow of Tyre, Ch. ix. 5. shews that it was subdued before them, as it was by Alexander, who went from Tyre to Gaza, Josephus, Ant. Lib. i. 8. whereas it appears by the Order of Ezekiel's Prophecies, that Nebuchadnezzar made a Conquest of the Philistines, before he did of Tyre, Ezek. xxv. 16. and Ch. xxvi. &c. and next Zidon, which lay on the other Side of Tyre, Ch. xxviii. 22. It has been otherwise pretended that Matthew had the Passage from some Apocryphal Writing of Jeremiah; but I cannot think he would rather have cited it from thence, than from the Scripture, if there had been such a Writing. That it is a Mistake is not well to allow, without either Proof or Necessity. Now why might not Matthew refer both to this Place of Zechariah, and to Chap. xxxii. 6,—12. of Jeremiah, and so the other be mentioned as the first and principal Prophet? The Quotation in Matthew does but partly agree with either: the Occasion and chief Matter of it is buying a Field, which is only in Jeremiah. Thus what is cited in Rom. ix. 12, 13. is one Part of it in Genesis, and the other in Malachi; as Mat. xxi. 5. is also taken from Isa. lxii. 11. and Zech. ix. 9.

13. Upon this the Lord said to me, Cast it to the Potter, the stately Price that I was valued at by them. Accordingly I took the Thirty Pieces of Silver, and cast it to the Potter, at the House of the Lord.

14. Afterwards I cut asunder my second Staff Cords, to break the Brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15. Again the Lord said to me; Take thee yet the Instruments of a foolish Shepherd.

16. For behold I will raise up a Shepherd in the Country, who will not visit them that are cut off, not seek the young one, nor heal the broken; he will not support that which stands, but will eat the Flesh of the fat one, and break off their Hoofs.

17. Wo be to the Shepherd of Nought, that forsakes the Flock; the Sword shall be both upon his Arm and right Eye: his Arm shall be quite withered, and his right Eye be quite dim.

C H A P. XII.

THE Burden of the Lord's Commission concerning Israel. Says the Lord, the Stretcher out of the Heaven, the Founder of the Earth, and the Former of the Spirit of Man within him;

2. Behold I will make Jerusalem a Basin of Horror to all the People round about; even when they are in the Siege against Judah, at Jerusalem.

3. And at that Time I will make Jerusalem a burdensome Stone to all the People; all who are burdened with it shall be cut in pieces, and all the Nations of the Earth that are gathered up against it.

4. At that Time, says the Lord, I will smite every Horse with Astonishment, and his Rider with Distraction; and upon the Family of Judah will I open my Eyes, smiting every Horse of the People with Blindness.

5. And the Leaders of Judah shall say in their Heart, My Strength shall be the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, through the Lord of Armies their God.

6. At that Time will I make the Leaders of Judah as a Pan of Fire in Wood, and as a Torch of Fire in a Sheaf; so that they shall consume, both upon the right Hand and left, all the People round about: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again, in its own Place at Jerusalem.

7. And the Lord will save the Tents of Judah first; that the Glory of David's Family, and the Glory of the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, may not be magnified against Judah.

8. At that Time will the Lord protect the Inhabitants of Jerusalem about; and he who is fallen among them at that Time shall be as

Ver. 16. a Shepherd] This may point particularly to Herod, the fulfilling of which may be seen in Josephus, Bel. Jud.

Ib. Hoofs] claws belonging not to Cattle.

Ver. 2. Jerusalem] This and several Passages to the End of the Book are by Lowth referred to future Times, though I think not so well as they might be, admitting them so to be interpreted. The literal fulfilling of the Prophecy might be pleaded for it, as what may come to pass; but that which can be applied to past Transactions, in the Manner of other Scripture Prophecies that are known to have been accomplished, may more eligibly be referred thither. And it might be best for the future Application of Prophecies not to be too particular and circumstantial, especially from such Texts as have a more easy and obvious Meaning. Thus our Author not content to suppose, that the Jews will hereafter return to Jerusalem, and be there besieged by the Mahometan Nations; imagines from Chap. xiv. 14. that these will be some who shall return before the rest, and from Isa. lx. 8. that the other Jews will then resort to them, &c. very remote Conjectures! This indeed seems the most likely Prophet to foretel what is yet to come, as being after the great Affairs of the Jews Captivity and Return from it, and the latest excepting Haggai and Malachi, who have scarce any Thing of that Sort; and by the Manner of his Predictions, which notwithstanding seem rather to be all long ago come to pass. However the figurative Explication of other Interpreters, by spiritual Things in the Church, ought not peradventure to pass for the primary and genuine Meaning. If I may attempt at another here, I should apply it (as I find since the great Grotius does) to the Time of the Maccabees as follows; especially since Ver. 10. Ch. xiii. 1, 7. evidently speak of the 'Time of Christ's being on Earth, and limit the former Part of this Chap. within it, by the Expression at that Time put after, Ver. 9. Chap. xiii. 1. and Lowth himself applies Chap. xiv. 2. to the Destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans.

David, and the Family of David like God, like the Angel of the Lord before them.

9. Moreover at the same Time I will seek to destroy all the Nations that come against Jerusalem.

10. I will also pour out upon the Family of David, and the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, the Spirit of Grace and Supplications; and they shall look on me whom they have pierced: as likewise make lamentation for him, as the Lamentation for an only one; and be in Bitterness for him, as the being in Bitterness for a First-born.

11. At that Time there shall be great Lamentation at Jerusalem, like that of Hadadrimmon in the Vale of Megiddon.

12. And the Country shall make lamentation, Families by Families alone: the Family of the House of David alone, and their Women alone; the Family of the House of Nathan alone, and their Women alone;

13. The Family of the House of Levi alone, and their Women alone; the Family of Shimei alone, and their Women alone;

14. All the Families that are left, Families by Families alone, and their Women alone.

C H A P. XIII.

AT that Time there shall be a Fountain opened for the House of David, and the Inhabitants of Jerusalem; for Sin, and Separation.

2. And at the same Time, says the Lord of Armies, I will cut off the Names of the Images from the Country, so that they shall be remembered no more; and also the Prophets, with the Spirit of Uncleanness, will I cause to pass from the Country.

3. For when a Man shall prophesy any more, his Father and Mother who begot him, shall say to him, Thou shalt not live, because thou speakest falsely in the Name of the Lord; and they themselves shall pierce him through when he prophesies.

4. And at that Time the Prophets shall be ashamed each of his Vision when he prophesies; and shall not wear a Cloak of Hair, that they may lye.

5. But he shall say, I am not a Prophet: I am a Man who tills the Ground, for the Folk put me in possession from my Youth.

6. When one further asks him, What are these Strokes within thy Hands? He shall say, They which I was smitten with at the House of my Lovers.

7. O Sword, be stirred up against my Shepherd, and against the Man who is my Companion, says the Lord of Armies: smite the Shepherd, and let the Flock be dispersed; but I will turn back my Hand upon the little ones.

8. And in all the Country, says the Lord, two Parts in it shall be cut off, shall expire; but the third shall be left in it.

9. However I will bring the third into the Fire, and purify them as Silver is purified and try them as Gold is tried: it shall call on my Name, and I will answer it; I will say, It is my People; and it shall say, The Lord is my God.

C H A P. XIV.

BEHOLD the Day shall come for the Lord, when thy Spoil shall be divided within thee.

2. For I will gather up all the Nations to Jerusalem for War; and the City shall be taken, the Houses plundered, and the Women ravished: nay half the City shall go forth into Captivity, but the rest of the People shall not be cut off from the City.

3. The Lord also will go forth, and fight against those Nations, as at the Time of his fighting on the Day of Battle.

Ver. 10. pour] agreeable to Josel ii. 28, 29, 32. the fulfilling of which is shewn Act ii. 16, 17, 18, 21.

Ver. 11. that] for Josiah, 2 Chron. xxxv. 22, 25.

Ver. 5. put me in possession] namely of the Ground or Land just mentioned, and as the Verb signifies. Grotius has it from the Chald. taught me Husbandry; in the same Manner too L. Jud. see also De Dieu, An.

Ver. 7. little ones] Christ's Disciples, Mat. x. 42. & xviii. 6, 14. Luk. xii. 32. Pocock in his Notes upon Porta Moysi, Cap. ii. pretends from some Copies of the Septuagint, that the Heb. Word signifies great, and so the Sense to be quite contrary, of punishing the Rulers of the Jews. Thus it is that some Authors gain Reputation in this Age, at the Expence of that of the Scripture, by making it uncertain. But surely four Nouns and a Verb of the Original, constantly of the like Signification, are not to give Way to what is perhaps but a Mis-transcription or Forgery, of a very incorrect Translation at best. Nor were the Jewish Rulers punished at the Time of fulfilling this, Mat. xxvi. 31.

Ver. 2. all the Nations] the same as in Chap. xii. 3, 9, and as all the People Ch. xii. 2, 3, 6. see 1 Mac. iii. 58.

Ver. 3. fight] according to Ch. xii. 4. which was not done at the final Conquest by the Romans.

4. And his Feet will stand at that Time upon the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the East; and the Mount of Olives shall be cleaved in the middle of it, eastward and westward, into a very great Valley; so that one half of the Mountain shall depart to the North, and the other of it to the South.

5. Then shall you flee to the Valley of the Mountains, for that will reach to Azal; you shall even flee as you did from the Presence of the Earthquake, in the Time of Uzziah King of Judah: since the Lord my God will come, all the Saints being with thee.

6. And on that Day the Light will not be very clear, nor dull.

7. For there will be one Day (which is known to the Lord) not Day nor Night; but at Evening-time there will be Light.

8. And at that Time living Waters will go forth from Jerusalem, one half of them towards the eastern Sea, and their other towards the hindermost Sea: both in Summer and Winter it will be.

9. Moreover the Lord will be King over all the Earth: at that Time the Lord will be one, and his Name one.

10. All the Country shall be turned as a Plain, from Geba to Rimmon on the South of Jerusalem; which shall be exalted, and inhabited in its own Place, even from the Gate of Benjamin to the Place of the first Gate, to the Gate of the Corners, and from the Tower of Hananeel to the King's Wine-presses.

11. Thus shall they dwell in it, and there shall be a Curse no more; but Jerusalem shall be inhabited securely.

12. And this will be the Plague that the Lord will smite all the People with, who go to war against Jerusalem; their Flesh will waste away while they stand upon their Feet, and their Eyes waste away in their Holes, as their Tongue will in their Mouth.

13. Nay at that Time there will be so much Vexation of the Lord among them, that they will take hold each of his Neighbour's Hand, and his Hand will be lifted up against that of his Neighbour.

14. And Judah also will fight at Jerusalem; and the Wealth of all the Nations round about shall be gathered up, Gold, Silver; and Garments very abundantly.

15. Besides so shall be the Plague of the Horse, Mule, Camel, and Ais, and every Beast which shall be in those Camps, like this Plague.

16. Every one too that is left of all the Nations which come against Jerusalem, shall come up from Year to Year, to worship the King the Lord of Armies, and to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

17. As for that which does not come up of the Families of the Earth to Jerusalem, to worship the King the Lord of Armies, upon such there shall be no Rain.

18. So if the Family of Egypt does not ascend, nor come, upon which there is none; there shall be the Plague that the Lord will smite the Nations with, which do not come up, to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

19. This will be the Sin of Egypt, and the Sin of all the Nations which do not come up, to keep that Feast.

20. At that Time there will be upon the Bells of the Horses Holiness to the Lord; and the Pots in the Lord's House will be like the Bowls before the Altar.

21. As likewise every Pot in Jerusalem and Judah will be holy to the Lord of Armies, and all who sacrifice will come, and take out of them, and boil in them; there will also be no Canaanite any more in the House of the Lord of Armies, at that Time.

NOTES upon the BOOK of MALACHI.

CHAP. I.

THE Burden of the Lord's Commission to Israel, by the Ministry of Malachi.

2. I love you, says the Lord; yet you ask, In what dost thou love us? Was not Esau Brother to Jacob? says the Lord, and I loved Jacob.

3. But I hated Esau; and laid his Mountains desolate, and his Possession for the Dragons of the Wilderness.

4. Though Edom says, We being made poor, will return, and build up the waste Places; thus says the Lord of Armies, They may build up, but I will throw down; and they shall be called The Border of Wickedness, and the People that the Lord has Indignation with for ever.

5. And your Eyes shall see; so that you shall say, The Lord is magnified from the Border of Israel.

6. A Son honours a Father, and a Servant his Master: now if I am a Father, where is my Honour? And if I am a Master, where is my Fear? says the Lord of Armies to you, O Priests, who despise my Name; yet ask, In what do we despise thy Name?

7. Who bring polluted Bread to my Altar; yet ask, In what do we pollute thee? When you say, The very Table of the Lord is despicable.

8. And when you bring the Blind for Sacrifice, is it no Evil? So when you bring the Lamé and Sick, is it no Evil? Present it now to thy Magistrate; will he be pleased with thee, or accept thee? says the Lord of Armies.

9. And now, I pray, make supplication before God, that he may be gracious to us: this being from your Hand, will he accept you? says the Lord of Armies.

10. Who also is there among you that shuts the Doors (and you do not enlighten my Altar) for nothing? I have no Delight in you, says the Lord of Armies, nor am I pleased with an Offering from your Hand.

11. For from the Rising of the Sun, to the Setting of it, my Name shall be great in the Nations, and in every Place shall Incense be brought nigh to my Name, with a pure Offering: for my Name shall be great in the Nations, says the Lord of Armies.

12. Whereas you profane it when you say, The very Table of the Lord is polluted, and its Fruit, the Food of it despicable.

13. Nay you say, Behold what Fatigue it is! so that you puff at it, says the Lord of Armies; and you bring what is taken by force, lame and sick, when you bring an Offering: shall I be pleased with it from your Hand? says the Lord.

14. On the contrary the Contriver is cursed, who when there is a Male in his Flock, vows and sacrifices what is corrupted to the Lord: for I am a great King, says the Lord of Armies, and my Name is terrible in the Nations.

CHAP. II.

AND now to you is this Commandment, O Priests.

2. If you will not hear, and if you will not regard, to give Glory to my Name, says the Lord of Armies; I will send a Curse among you, and curse your Blessings: nay I have even cursed them, because you do not regard.

3. Behold I will destroy your Offspring, and scatter Dung upon your Faces, the Dung of your Feasts; and you shall be taken away with it.

4. And you shall know that I have sent this Commandment to you, for my Covenant to be with Levi, says the Lord of Armies.

5. My Covenant with him was Life and Peace, which I gave him, for the Fear that he feared me with; and his being contrite by reason of my Name.

Ver. 4. the waste Places] See the Note on Ezek. xxv.

13. Ver. 7. when you say] as it is translated in our com. Bib. Ch. ii. 17. and so here Munst. renders it quando dicitis: and Leo Jud. quum dicitis: for what Sense does In that ye say make? Or how did their saying what follows pollute the Lord?

Ib. very] אין in Heb.

Ib. is despicable] Their owning the Lord's Table was despicable, by their bringing polluted Bread to it, was owning they polluted the Lord's Presence there, according to Mat. xxiii. 20, 21, 22.

Ver. 9. this] mentioned in the two foregoing Verses. Ib. being] which makes a good Connection.

Ver. 12. when &c.] as in Ver. 7.

Ver. 14. when] So Jun. and Trem. Munst. Cast. Leo Jud. and Drus. translate: for having a Male in the Flock was no Fault, such being appointed for Sacrifice, Leo. xxii. 19.

6. The Law of Truth was in his Mouth, and Iniquity was not found in his Lips: in Peace and Uprightness did he walk with me, and turned many from Perverseness.

7. For the Lips of the Priest should keep Knowledge, that they may seek the Law from his Mouth; since he is the Messenger of the Lord of Armies.

8. But you are departed from the Way, and make many stumble in the Law: you corrupt the Covenant of Levi, says the Lord of Armies.

9. Therefore have I also made you despicable, and low to all People; according to the Manner as you did not keep my Ways, but respected the Face in the Law.

10. Have not all of us one Father? Has not one God created us? Why are we treacherous one to another, to profane the Covenant of our Fathers?

11. Judah is treacherous, and Abomination is done in Israel and Jerusalem: for Judah has profaned the Holiness of the Lord which he loves, and has married the Daughter of a strange god.

12. The Lord will cut off the Man who does it, the Stirrer up and him that answers, from the Tents of Jacob, and him who brings an Offering to the Lord of Armies.

13. But this you do secondly, cover the Altar of the Lord with Tears, weeping and crying; by reason there is no looking to the Offering any more, nor receiving with Favour from your Hands.

14. And you say, For what? Because the Lord bears Witness between thee and the Wife of thy Youth, to whom thou art treacherous; though she is thy Companion, and the Wife of thy Covenant.

15. Nay did not he make one, though he had a Remainder of the Spirit? And why one? By reason of seeking a godly Offspring: so you should be reserved in your Spirit, and let it not be treacherous to the Wife of thy Youth.

16. For the Lord God of Israel says he hates sending away, and him who covers Violence with his Cloaths, says the Lord of Armies: when you should be reserved in your Spirit, and not be treacherous.

17. You make the Lord weary with your Words; yet you say, In what do we make weary? When you say the Lord is pleased with every one that does Evil, and he delights in them; or, Where is the God of Judgment?

CHAP. III.

BEHOOLD I will send my Messenger, who shall make ready the Way before me: and suddenly there shall come into his Temple the Lord whom you seek, and the Messenger of the Covenant in whom you delight; so he shall come, says the Lord of Armies.

2. But who will bear the Day of his coming? And who will stand at his appearing? For he is like a Refiner's Fire, and like a Fuller's Soap.

3. And he shall sit as a Refiner and Cleanser of Silver; so that he shall cleanse the Sons of Levi, and purify them like Gold and Silver: whereby they shall bring to the Lord an Offering in Righteousness.

4. Thus shall the Offering of Judah and Jerusalem be sweet to the Lord; as at the ancient Days, and as at the Years of old Times.

5. However I will come near to you in Judgment, and will be a speedy Witness against the Wizards, Adulterers, and Swearers of Falsehood; as also against them who oppress the hired one in Hire, the Widow and Fatherless, and turn aside the Stranger, not fearing me, says the Lord of Armies.

6. Because I the Lord do not change, therefore you Sons of Jacob are not consumed.

7. Even from the Days of your Fathers you have departed from, and not kept my Ordinances; return to me, and I will return to you, says the Lord of Armies: yet you say, In what shall we return?

8. Will Men rob God? For you rob me; yet say, In what do we rob thee? In Tithe and Offering.

9. You are cursed with a Curse, since you rob me; all the Nation it self.

10. Bring all the Tithe into the Store-house, that there may be Food in my House, and prove me now with this, says the Lord of Armies; whether I will not open to you the Flood-gates of Heaven, and empty to you a Blessing, till there is not Place sufficient.

Ver. 7. should] The Papists would have it be shall; but Ribera the Jesuite writes hereon, Custodient, which because it may signify other than should keep in Latin, he expresses his Meaning of by adding, id est, custodire debent, that is ought to keep.

Ver. 13. by reason] which signifies, as explained here by De Dieu, but I think never inasmuch that; and the Interpretation seems forced and obscure to apply the Weeping, &c. to their Wives, and not to themselves, as is done to make it out that Way: which is clear and consistent, as I translate; see also Ch. iii. 14.

Ver. 15. make one] but one Man and Woman for each other, when he might have made several of one Sex.

Ib. a Remainder] sufficient for more Persons.

Ib. Spirit] of which he breathed into Man, Gen. ii. 7.

Ib. godly Offspring] as the Children by one Wife might be better educated than those by several Wives, especially of such as were divorced, of which this treats, Ver. 16.

Ib. should be reserved] very fitly, the Heb. being Passive, and not Imperative.

Ib. it] Jun. and Trem. have Spiritus tuus.

Ib. thy] not his.

11. And I will rebuke for you the Consumer, so that he shall not spoil the Fruit of your Ground ; nor shall the Vine miscarry of its Grapes to you in the Field, says the Lord of Armies.

12. Moreover all Nations shall call you blessed : for you shall be a Country of Delight, says the Lord of Armies.

13. Your Words are strong against me, says the Lord : yet you say, What are we speaking against thee ?

14. You say, It is in vain to serve God ; and what Gain is it that we keep his Charge, and that we walk sad before the Lord of Armies ?

15. And now we call the Proud blessed : those that do Wickedness are also built up, they even try God, and are delivered.

16. Then such as fear the Lord will be speaking one to another : and the Lord will hearken, and hear : nay a Book of Memorial will be written before him, for those who fear the Lord, and think on his Name.

17. They shall further be mine, says the Lord of Armies, at the Day that I make up my Property ; and I will spare them, as a Man does his Son who serves him.

18. So shall you return, and see the Difference of the Righteous and Wicked ; the Difference of him who serves God, and him that does not.

C H A P. IV.

FOR behold the Day is coming that will burn like an Oven : and all the Proud, with every one who does Wickedness, shall be as Stubble ; and the Day that is coming shall set them on fire, says the Lord of Armies, which shall not leave them Root or Branch.

1. But the Sun of Righteousness shall rise to you who fear my Name, with Healing in its Wings ; so that you shall go forth, and abound like Calves of the Stall.

3. You shall then trample on the Wicked : for they shall be Ashes under the Soles of your Feet, on the Day that I shall do it, says the Lord of Armies.

4. Remember the Law of Moses my Servant : which I gave him in command at Horeb for all Israel, the Ordinances and Rules.

5. Behold I will send you Elijah the Prophet, before the coming of the great and terrible Day of the Lord.

6. And he shall turn back the Heart of the Fathers to the Children, and that of the Children to their Fathers ; lest I should come, and smite the Country with a Curse.

Ver. 6. to the Children] by having a right Regard for their doing well, giving them good Education, &c. which the Children then minding and acting according to, would have their Heart turned to their Fathers : much rather I think than as in the Assembly's Annotation, "to bring back the Children of Israel to the Piety of their Forefathers, whereby they shall reaccept them ;" which preposterously makes what is last, the Means of the first ; and in such Case it would be God who would accept, instead of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, as there said. The Application of it by Grot. to making up the Discords among the Jews, falls quite short of the emphatical Distinction here, of Fathers and their Children.

Ib. the Country] of Israel or Judah ; for all the Earth were not to mind the Law of Moses, Ver. 4.

ADDITIONAL REMARKS

On the following PART of the TRANSLATION.

WHEN the former Introductory Remarks were first made, after the Books of the Old Testament were translated, there was no Apprehension or Intent of doing those of the New, concerning which therefore some Supplement may be necessary; but as what has been said of them, may in great Measure also of these, without producing the like Instances of my Manner of translating, I shall premise to the latter but the few subsequent Remarks.

1. Since the Greek Original is not uniform like the Hebrew, it may be fit to tell what Copy or Edition I translated from, which was that printed by Wetsten at Amsterdam, 1711, consulting others when needful, and Mills's large Notes, King James's Translators being blamed in this Respect, though it is thought they followed that of Stephens at Paris, since which Time much Improvement has been made in collating various Exemplars.

2. Of Greek Words not translated into the common Version, the Account in the following Appendix (I) is much more compleat than that from the Hebrew, this being made along with the Translation; and the same may be said of Words supplied without being distinguished in Italick, as in the Catalogue (K) there subjoined.

3. Our present Translation from the Greek, though that Language is so much easier, and nigher to ours, seems worse worded than the other Part from the Hebrew, insomuch that there are the following Words in the Appendix (L) to add to the Lists already given at (D) and (E) of such as are clownish, barbarous, hard, &c. and these not as all, as before from the Hebrew; several others in the former Lists being also more frequent here than there.

For Words ill joined together, as in the other Introductory Remarks, take the following Instances in the Appendix (M).

4. As the Hebrew uses very few Participles, and the Greek very many; it is needful in a Translation, that the common Conjunction of the Hebrew should in several Places be rendered by Participles in —ing, and a Verb sometimes in the same Manner, where a Conjunction is wanting: on the other hand a Version from the Greek requires divers of the Participles to be occasionally turned into various Particles, like ἢ Vau in the former Introductory Remarks, but less extensively, viz. those in the Appendix (N) as the principal.

The common English has several more, of which I have noted, as at (O).

5. Tote then being more frequent than the Hebrew וְ and therefore than לָכֵן and על־כֵּן I but rarely turn καὶ or διὰ so, which I did ἢ oftener in Hebrew.

6. If we confess that the Scripture was given by Divine Inspiration, as we must if we believe what it says 2 Tim. iii. 16. there can scarce, one might think, be denied to it the lesser Regard of Providence for its Preservation, which also peculiarly appears in the Uniformity of the Hebrew Original Copies. But it may be enquired why then have there not been the like in the Greek? It really is more than enquired, there is so ill a Use made of it by some, as to disown likewise the Hebrew being kept incorrupt, and such a Providence allowed to neither. While this may be the Difference, which might pass unnoticed, that the old Law lying in the Letter, required an Exactness there, which the new being spiritual does not require; though the latter has it sufficiently in what is material, and different Readings I observe have been commonly made, especially the larger Sort, to be conformable to other Texts. It is also undeniable that the Jews have used great Diligence to keep the Hebrew Scripture from being altered; whereas the Christians were so negligent, as not to settle what Books of the Greek should be counted Scripture, till long after the Time of Christ. Divine Providence however may plainly appear, in keeping the common Copies of the first so exceeding similar, and of the latter so little varying materially. And a farther Reason for the Hebrew Scripture being providentially preserved so exactly uniform, might well be the near Likeness of Letters and different Words in that Language, to the Danger of its being mis-transcribed or corrupted, far beyond what there was in the Greek.

7. Scott, by correcting the Mistakes, and supplying the Omissions of Mills, in Part of his Various Readings, and that only in Matthew, flattered himself, he says, and not unjustly, however in the latter, that he should do his Countrymen a real Pleasure, and Service, Preface to his New Version. What then may I hope, in detecting, and refuting the Errors of that great Man's Judgment; Errors of so high a Nature, as debasing and mangling our Original Scripture, and withal exalting a very corrupt, not to say Popish Translation; and these in other Books also? Whitby indeed answered Mills in that Matter, and some Things in his Answer are useful; but when he comes to Particulars, of what Use is it to tell us such and such Copies, &c. have the received Reading, which we may understand by Mills himself? And he but little attempts, and sometimes poorly, to answer his Antagonist's Reasons, the principal Matter to be done. Besides his Examen Millii is so exceeding incorrect and false, that there is no trusting to it. I may add, that as they both wrote in Latin, and were never translated, I may modestly presume, that what I have faithfully and carefully done in this Respect, will not be altogether useless and unacceptable, to the English Readers, and Lovers of those sacred Books, if it were only for Information of the principal Various Readings, as some of it is; unless the Knowledge of the Scripture is to be concealed from them, on which I might expatiate much.

8. As to whence the Various Readings were collected, Mills (as I call him, having known several of that Name, but none Mill as some write it) in whom Learning, Industry, and good Sense met, did, after what divers others had done from Time to Time, A. D. 1707. publish his Work of about thirty Years, in which he collated, besides the ancient Copies of Euthalius, Arethas, and the Commentators of the first Ages, ninety three Manuscripts, as I number them (being made before Printing was in Use, and that as Mattaire shews in his Annales Typographici, Vol. I. p. 4, 35. began 1457. so that those MSS. are now 300 Years old since then) examining such as he could procure himself, and taking the Account of the rest from others, as also eight Collections from various MSS. chiefly the same with the foregoing, the most uncertain and doubtful of which were by Curcellæus and Velesius, though the last is very often quoted by Mills; but few of the MSS. were of all the Books of the New Testament. I reckon only five, viz. the Copy from Alexandria (along with the Version of the Septuagint) that of Baroccinus (which, besides some wanting, is to Æt's of a later and very bad Hand) one at Leicester (the Beginning and End lost) Montfort's (collated but as far as the first Chapter of Romans, and not all Æt's) and the sixteenth of Stephens (that had only Part of three Chapters more than Revelation left, nor the latter entirely) none but the first MS. having the whole; to these I count eleven without the Revelation, forty seven to have only the four first Books, twenty six not them: a few are Duplicates, others nearly alike; and Part of some, most Part of few, is lost or torn. Besides these he gathered different Readings from twenty early printed Editions, and eight ancient Translations; exclusive of those called the Gothick and Saxon Gospels, with all the Primitive Authors, and some Writers of the middle Age, of whom we have Commentaries, &c. on this Part of the Scripture, and even from whomsoever in several of the first Centuries he found to have quoted it otherwise than at present. To those MSS. Kuster in Holland added what Variations he met with in twelve more, that were published at Roterdam, An. 1710, which I have made use of together.

Of the forementioned MS. Copies the Alexandrian is reckoned the best, which Hammond calls the King's Manuscript, and makes much use of; and the widest from our present common Copy goes under the Name of the first Cambridge, often quoted by Beza, and so esteemed by Whiston, that he published it in English according to our Translation, where they agree, A. D. 1745. the Account of which and the rest see in Mills's large Prolegomena.

For an Instance of a particular Account that, by a diligent Examination and Reckoning of the Notes throughout and the Prolegomena, might be taken, to judge thereby of the rest; The Revelation, of which there appears to be the fewest Manuscripts, was compared with the following, so marked and distinguished, Alex. Baroc. Cov. 2. L. M. (for M. 1.) Pet. 2 & 3. Hunt. 1. Sin. Steph. 18 & 15. being but eleven, and out of the Collections by others sometimes Barb. 1, 2 & 4 (once 3.) Cur. (Guil. twice) Hervag. Vel. Wech. and another Copy, with Seidel. added by Kuster; since Mills counts Steph. α. the same as the Complutensian Edit. besides which are used the Aldine Collation, and here more than in other Books the four first Editions of Erasmus (or Froben the Printer) and the two first of *Rob. C H A P. I.

THE Book of the Pedigree of Jesus Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham.

2. Abraham begot Isaac, and Isaac begot Jacob, and Jacob begot Judas and his Brothers,

3. And Judas begot Phares and Zara of Thamar, and Phares begot Esrom, and Esrom begot Aram,

4. And Aram begot Aminadab, and Aminadab begot Naasson, and Naasson begot Salmon,

5. And Salmon begot Booz of Rachab, and Booz begot Obed of Ruth, and Obed begot Jesse,

6. And Jesse begot King David, and King David begot Solomon of her who had belonged to Urias,

7. And Solomon begot Roboam, and Roboam begot Abia, and Abia begot Asa,

8. And Asa begot Josaphat, and Josaphat begot Joram, and Joram begot Ozias,

9. And Ozias begot Joatham, and Joatham begot Achaz, and Achaz begot Ezekias,

10. And Ezekias begot Manasses, and Manasses begot Amon, and Amon begot Josias,

11. And Josias begot Jechonias and his Kinsmen, before the carrying away to Babylon,

12. And after the carrying away to Babylon, Jechonias begot Salathiel, and Salathiel begot Zorobabel,

13. And Zorobabel begot Abiud, and Abiud begot Eliakim, and Eliakim begot Azor,

14. And Azor begot Sadok, and Sadok begot Achim, and Achim begot Eliud,

Ver. 1. The Book of &c.] Which is the true Title, the common being made since, Mills Prol. 347. and to a plain Reader interferes with Rom. i. 16. This Book is computed to have been written before the three next following, but after the two Epistles to the Thessalonians, Corinthians, those to the Romans and Galatians, with that of James and the first of Peter, about the common Year of our Lord 61, and in the first Year of Paul's Imprisonment at Rome, Act. xxviii. 30. tho' there has been a Subscription at the End, which stated it 20 Years sooner; see Mills's Prolegomena ad Lect. Var. Being first penned in Hebrew by general Consent of the Primitive Writers (but then interpolated by the Ebionites, and long ago lost) Mills, from the Author of Synopsis Sacra Scriptura, supposes it was soon after translated into Greek by James the Less. The Editions of it in Heb. now, are Translations made by Munster, &c. to convert the Jews.

Ver. 6. King] the second Mills would sling out, for the Deficiency of one Gr. Copy, &c. whereas it might be omitted because of Rachab and of Ruth are in the Ver. before.

Ib. belonged to] as the gen. Case is rendered Heb. v. 14.

Ver. 11. Kinsmen] namely Jehoabaz, Jehoiakim and Zedekiah, 2 King. xxiii. & xxiv. as Gen. xiii. 8. and thus the Cavil drops, that these were the Brothers of Joakim (for Jehoiakim) and that there is a Defect of the com. Copy in the Original.

15. And Eliud begot Eleazar, and Eleazar begot Matthan, and Matthan begot Jacob,

16. And Jacob begot Joseph, the Husband of Mary; of whom was born Jesus, called Christ.

17. Therefore all the Generations from Abraham to David are fourteen, from him to the carrying away to Babylon so many, and thence to Christ fourteen Generations.

18. Now the Birth of Jesus Christ was thus: for his Mother Mary being espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with Child by the Holy Spirit.

19. And Joseph her Husband being righteous, and not willing to expose her to shame, would have put her away privately.

20. But as he was thinking on these Things, behold an Angel of the Lord appeared to him in a Dream, and said; Joseph, Son of David, do not fear to take Mary thy Wife: for that which is conceived in her is by the Holy Spirit.

21. And she will be delivered of a Son, whom thou shalt name Jesus: for he will save his People from their Sins.

22. All this being done, that there might be fulfilled what was spoken from the Lord by the Prophet as follows,

23. Behold a Virgin shall be with Child, and bear a Son. whose Name shall be called Emmanuel, which is, being interpreted, God with us.

24. Whereupon Joseph being roused up from Sleep, did as the Angel of the Lord commanded him, and took his Wife;

25. But had not the knowledge of her, till she was delivered of her first-born Son, whom he named Jesus.

CH A P. II.

THUS Jesus being born at Bethlehem of Judah, in the Time of King Herod, behold wise Men from the East came to Jerusalem,

2. Enquiring, Where is he who is born the King of the Jews? For we have seen the Star of him in the East, and are come to worship him.

3. This King Herod hearing, was alarmed at, and all Jerusalem with him.

4. He therefore gathered together all the chief Priests and Scribes of the People, and asked of them where Christ would be born.

5. Whom they answered; In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the Prophet,

6. And thou Bethlehem in the Country of Juda, art not the least among the Governors of Juda: for from thee will come forth the Governor, who will have the Management of my People Israel.

Ver. 15. Eleazar] Mills putting the Syr. to have Eli-azar, the Readings of which Version, as likewise of the Perf. Arab. and Ethiop. he took from the Latin, as he confesses, Prol. 1472. Scott in his Review asks, How could this appear to him, when its Lat. Vers. has Eleazar? The Case as I find was thus, that tho' Mills mentions his collecting the Readings of those Versions from the Lat. of them in the Polyglot Bible, yet he took that of the Syr. as the best I suppose, from the Transf. of Tremellius, where it is Eliazar. This has led Scott into several needless or wrong Criticisms, being often on the Syr. for again at Ver. 17. he says, the Lat. Vers. of Syr. omits et. before from David, but that of Trem. does not; which has also thy Offering, Ch. viii. 4. where Scott says he has no Edition of the Syr. with thy; so Ch. xii. 32. &c.

Ver. 17. from Abraham to David] inclusive, as likewise the next; so that David is to be reckoned twice accordingly; for otherwise Jechonias must, which is not so likely, since the two latter Periods hinge together upon a certain Time, not a Person; and Jechonias being in the Captivity, and but a Youth before, 2 King. xxiv. 8, 15. & xxv. 27. is to be numbered there. Whereby the Presence of a Corruption in Ver. 11. and the Shift of counting the Brethren of Jechonias for one Generation, both fall.

Ver. 18. Jesus] This Word a few Copies have not, and is thought an Addition by some.

Ib. came together] were actually married, Hammond's Annot. fol. 1653.

Ib. Holy Spirit] as in the com. Transf. Luk. xi. 13. Eph. i. 13.

Ver. 19. put her away privately] by making the Espousals or Marriage-contract void, and concealing that it had been.

Ver. 20. an Angel] not being mentioned before.

Ib. take] unto thee seems oddly added by the last Transf.

lators, she being then his espoused Wife, as Luk. ii. 5. so unto him, Ver. 24.

Ib. conceived in her] Vulg. born in her, but Nary forcibly renders natum, begotten or conceived, and would torture that Meaning out of it in his Pres. to vindicate that Translation.

Ver. 21. from their Sins] Doddridge in his Method by Paraphrase of expounding Scripture, with a few others; which I look on not only as the dullest, but the worst, since it represents the Text as merely obscure and imperfect; paraphrases this away to the Punishment and Domination of their Sins, instead of the Sins themselves.

Ver. 22. that] doth frequently denotes the consequent or event only, Ham. he instances in Rom. v. 20. and Wall on Joh. vii. 23. says this Gr. Particle is often to be rendered (or may be understood) so as that, instancing Mar. iv. 12. as also on Rom. v. 20. he brings Chrysostom speaking of that as a clear Instance, where it notes not the final Cause, but the Event.

Ver. 24. commanded] Geneva Version, enjoined.

Ver. 1. Bethlehem] two Hours Travel from Jerusalem southward, Maandr. and Certen.

Ib. in the Time of King Herod] Mills mentioning four MSS without this, tho' with no Remark on it; Whitby falls on him, Exam. Lib. ii. C. 2. and accuses him of suspecting this, when he speaks only of Mar. vii. 16. Prol. 1475.

Ib. wise Men] They were, writes Suidas, religious Philosophers, Μάρις ἐγένοντο φιλόσοφοι καὶ φιλόδοτοι.

Ib. Men from] See Leusden's Clavis Græca Nov. Test. and Camer. in Myræth. here.

Ver. 4. of them] which Mills doubted of, whether it did not creep from Ver. 7. Pr. 1421. but according to Whitby need not have done, Exam. L. ii. C. 2.

Ver. 6. art not the least] Mills informs us he found two Manuscripts and the vulg. Lat. at first had, art thou the

7. Then

7. Then Herod privately calling the wise Men, diligently enquired of them the Time when the Star appeared.

8. And sending them to Bethlehem, he said, Go, and diligently enquire concerning the Child; and after you have found, tell me, that I may also come, and worship him.

9. Upon hearing the King, they went, and behold the Star which they had seen in the East went before them, till it came, and stood over where the Child was.

10. And when they saw the Star, they rejoiced exceeding much.

11. Now entering into the House, they saw the Child along with Mary his Mother, at which they fell down, and worshipped him; as also opening their Treasures, they brought to him Gifts, Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh.

12. And being divinely admonished in a Dream, not to turn back to Herod, they departed into their Country by another Way.

13. Moreover when they were departed, behold an Angel of the Lord appears in a Dream to Joseph, saying, Rise up, and take the Child with his Mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there till I speak to thee: for Herod is about to seek for the Child, to destroy him.

14. So rising up, he took the Child with his Mother at Night, and departed into Egypt:

15. And was there till the Decease of Herod: that the following might be fulfilled which was spoken from the Lord by the Prophet, I called my Son out of Egypt.

16. Herod then seeing that he was deluded by the wise Men, was in a Wrath, and sending, killed all the Male-children in Bethlehem and in all the Borders of it, from two Years old downward, according to the Time which he had diligently enquired of the wise Men.

17. Then was fulfilled what was spoken by the Prophet Jeremias as follows,

18. A Voice has been heard at Ramah, Lamentation, Weeping, and much Mourning, Rachel weeping for her Children; and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19. But Herod being deceased, behold an Angel of the Lord appears in a Dream to Joseph in Egypt,

20. Saying, Rise up, and take the Child with his Mother, and go into the Country of Israel: for they are dead who sought the Child's Life.

21. Accordingly he rising up, took the Child with his Mother, and came into the Country of Israel.

22. However hearing that Archelaus reigned in Judea, in the room of his Father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; so being divinely admonished in a Dream, he went off into the Parts of Galilee:

23. Whither being come, he dwelt in a City called Nazareth; that there might be fulfilled least interrogatively, which he puts in the List of genuine Readings, Proleg. N. 383, 384, 392. but μή signifies not, as well as denotes a Question, and mostly, so that the Lat. Translator might mistake the Intent of it; and it might slip into the Gr. by minding the Sense more than the Word, μή being frequently used for not, ἐνδεχόμενος here seldom; and so μή must be taken according to Mills, if the other as he says crept in instead of it; he adds, as being dilutus, more explanatory, but in that he may be mistaken, since a simple not is sufficiently clear, and ἐνδεχόμενος only more elegant, for which a Scholiast would scarce have altered it, when the Difference too is paucis, but little, as Mills himself confesses.

Ver. 8. sending] being a Participle, often thus used in Gr. and agreeably also in Eng. as Mar. iii. 31. which contains the Force and Sense of [and] before the following or present Member, and that therefore should not be Italick, for an Addition to the Original; as Scott in his New Version of this Book, 1741, puts it here and elsewhere, notwithstanding his great and commendable Exactness, far exceeding that of all our authorized Translators: and though this in him might be ascribed to an Excess in translating literally, yet the turning of a Participle into a Verb would be a Defect in such Conformity; and he himself has it thus in some Places, as answering said, Ch. xxvi. 25. and four times more in the two next Verses,

Ver. 9. the Star] Sweet Jesus, let that Starre of thine,
Thy Grace which guides to finde out thee,
Within our Hearts for ever shine,
That thou of us found out maist be,
prays Wither in Song 49.

Ver. 10. when] at the first appearing of the Star again.

Ver. 11. saw] Vulg. Lat. and Epiphany, found, as if είδεν had been εἶπεν, which Mills has in Favour to that Transf. though he counted it wrong, and of Luke ii. 16.

Ver. 12. not to turn back] The Geneva Transf. has here this Note, Promise ought not to be kept where God's honour and preaching of his truth is hindered; but what has the Context to enforce it, which does not tell us they made any Promise, besides their being directly warned by God in this? And how much is this short of what is charged on the Papists, that Faith is not to be kept with Hereticks?

Ver. 13. were departed] Why was this mentioned, but that the following was just after? Nay there was a Necessity for it, since Herod would soon find the wise Men did not return, and without Delay kill the Children there, Ver. 16. so that it must be after the Purification, Luke ii. 22, 23. Lev. xii. 3, 4. as Hammond also reasons; yet Whitby after him the contrary, pleading on this Chap. Ver. 2. that from the Purification at Jerusalem the Parents of Jesus went with him to Nazareth, by Luke ii. 39. but there he owns it was after they had fled into Egypt, and Hammond says they returned to Bethlehem.

Ver. 16. downward] For the Absurdity and Impropriety of [and under] look in Castal. Def. p. 173.

Ver. 18. Lamentation] not in some Copies and Versions, but I suppose to be more literal to Jer. xxxi. 15.

1b. Mourning] By Laurence Tomson bowling, some Editions of whom were published, the first 1576, differing a little from the Geneva, with Notes translated from Beza, Commerarius and Villerius.

Ver. 20. they are dead] not only Herod, but he had just before put to death his wicked Son Antipater, who was to succeed him, Jesephus.

Ver. 23. Nazareth] by Maunderell two Hours Journey westward from Mount Taber; being at present a mean filled filled what was spoken by the Prophet, He shall be called a Nazorite.

C H A P. III.

NOW in those Days John the Baptizer came, preaching in the Wilderness of Judea,

2. And saying, Repent: for the Kingdom of Heaven draws near.

3. For this is he who was spoken of by the Prophet Esaias, who says; There is the Voice of one crying out in the Wilderness, Prepare the Way of the Lord, make straight Roads for him.

4. And John himself had on him Raiment of Camel's Hair, with a leathern Girdle about his Loins; moreover his Food was Locusts and wild Honey.

5. Then there went out to him they of Jerusalem, of all Judea, and all about the Country of Jordan;

6. And were baptized by him in Jordan, confessing their Sins.

7. But he seeing many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his Baptism, said to them: Offspring of Vipers, who has shewn you to flee from the Wrath hereafter?

8. Therefore yield Fruit worthy of Repentance.

9. And do not think to say in your selves, We have Abraham for a Father; since I tell you, that God can from these Stones raise up Children to Abraham.

10. And now the Ax also is put to the Root of the Trees: therefore every Tree that does not yield good Fruit, is cut down, and thrown into the Fire.

11. I indeed baptize you with Water into

Repentance; but one coming after me that is stronger than I, the Shoes of whom I am not fit to carry, will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and Fire.

12. Whose Fan is in his Hand, and he will cleanse out his Floor; putting his Wheat together into the Granary, but will burn up the Chaff with unquenchable Fire.

13. Jesus then came from Galilee, to John at Jordan, to be baptized by him.

14. But John thus forbade him, I have need to be baptized by thee, and dost thou come to me?

15. And Jesus made answer to him, Permit it now: for thus it is what becomes us to fulfil all Righteousness; then he permitted him.

16. So Jesus being baptized, went up presently from the Water; when behold the Heavens were opened, and he saw the Spirit of God descend as a Dove, and come upon him.

17. When behold a Voice from the Heavens said, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am pleased.

C H A P. IV.

THEN Jesus was brought into the Wilderness by the Spirit, to be tempted by the Devil.

2. Where fasting forty Days and forty Nights, he afterwards was hungry.

3. With that the Tempter coming to him, said, If thou art the Son of God, command that these Stones should become Bread.

4. But he made answer; It is written, Man shall not live upon Bread alone, but upon every Word that proceeds out through the Mouth of God.

Ib. a Nazorite] after the Gr. and as the same Word in this Version, which see at Isa. xi. 1.

Ver. 3. for him] according to Isa. xi. 3.

Ver. 6. in Jordan] But Wesley, as it seems from Guyse, writes, 'It seems that they stood in Ranks on the Edge of the River, and that John cast Water on their Heads or Faces.'

Ver. 10. is put to] West. lieb at.

Ver. 11. into] as in Rom. vi. 3. 1 Cor. xii. 13. Gal. iii. 27. and Repentance being then begun, Ver. vi. 8.

Ib. one] as translated Mark i. 7. Luke iii. 16.

Ib. and Fire] Mills at first took this to be genuine, but afterwards in different Places of his Proleg. his Mind was altered. A considerable Number of Copies are without it; but as Luke has it, Ch. iii. 16. it may be safest to retain it; and the Doubt of Mills about it in Luke is wholly extravagant, as there is no Appearance of its Omission, Pr. 690.

Ib. Fire] The Geneva Transf. has this Note, When God baptizeth inwardly with the virtue of his spirit, he burneth and consumeth the vices, and inflameth the hearts with love towards him; for if Scripture is to expound Scripture, ac- cording to the Protestant Doctrine, this Fire seems to be like the Water in John iii. 5. either natural or spiritual, not a Resemblance only of the former, as that in Acts ii. 3, was; though Interpreters have so much fallen into that Sense.

Ver. 16, 17. Jerome on Isa. xi. gives us these two Verses from the ancient Hebr. Gospel thus, 'And it came to pass when the Lord went up from the Water, all the Fountain of the Holy Spirit came down, and rested upon him, and said to him, "My Son, I waited for thee in all the Prophets, that thou mightest come, and I might rest in thee: for thou art my Rest, thou art my First-born, and reignest for ever."'

Ver. 16. he] John, B. i. 32, 33. which is so express, that it may be wondered it should be made a Doubt of, as in Scott's late Notes, &c.

Ver. 1. tempted] which is very poetically described in Milton's Paradise Regain'd.

Ver. 2. fasting forty Days] Whitby speaking against Imitation of this, says, Obligation to a more than ordinary Temperance for forty Days, is to place Morality in Numbers, &c. for by like reason we must ride upon an Ass, &c.

Ver. 4. every Word &c.] In the Version of Beausobre and Lenfant, done from French into Eng. 1727, in Way of Paraphrase, every thing which the Mouth of God shall ordain.

5. Next

5. Next the Devil takes him into the holy City, and setting him on a Turret of the Temple,

6. Says to him; If thou art the Son of God, throw thy self down: for it is written, He will command his Angels concerning thee; and they will hold thee up in their Hands, lest at any time thou shouldest strike thy Foot against a Stone.

7. Jesus answered him; It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8. Again the Devil takes him to a very high Mountain, and shews him all the Kingdoms of the World, with the Glory of them;

9. And says to him, All these Things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down, and worship me.

10. Then Jesus replies to him; Be gone, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and serve him alone.

11. The Devil then leaves him, and behold Angels came, and ministred to him.

12. At length Jesus hearing that John was committed to Prison, departed into Galilee.

13. And leaving Nazareth, he came, and dwelt in Capernaum by the Sea, in the Borders of Zabulun and Nephthalim;

14. That there might be fulfilled what was spoken by the Prophet Esaias as follows;

15. In the Country of Zabulun, and that of Nephthalim, at the Way of the Sea, the Side of Jordan, in Galilee of the Gentiles,

16. The People that sat in Darkness have seen a great Light; and to them who sat in the Region and Shadow of Death, is Light risen.

17. From that Time Jesus began to preach, and say, Repent: for the Kingdom of Heaven draws near.

18. And Jesus walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two Brothers, Simon called Peter, and his Brother Andrew, throwing a Net into the Sea (for they were Fishermen)

19. At which he says to them, Come after me, and I will make you Fishers for Men.

20. Upon this they presently left the Nets, and followed him.

21. And going on thence, he saw two other Brothers, James of Zebedee, and his Brother John, in a Ship with their Father Zebedee, mending their Nets; and he called them.

22. Whereupon they presently leaving the Ship and their Father, followed him.

23. Besides Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, as also curing every Disease and every Ailment among the People.

24. So that the Report of him went into all Syria, and they brought to him all who were ill with various Diseases, and oppressed with Torments, and those in whom the Devil was, with the Lunatics, and them that had the Palsy; and he cured them.

25. Moreover a great Multitude followed him from Galilee, Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea, and the Side of Jordan.

C H A P. V.

NOW seeing the Multitude, he went up on a Mountain; where he sitting down, his Disciples came to him.

2. And opening his Mouth, he taught them as follows.

3. Blessed are they that are poor in Spirit; since the Kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

4. Blessed are those who lament; since they will be comforted.

5. Blessed are the Meek; since they will inherit the Earth.

6. Blessed are such as are hungry and thirsty for Righteousness; since they will be filled.

7. Blessed are the Merciful; since they will obtain Mercy.

Ver. 5. Next] This being so by the Original; concurrent also with again to takes, Ver. 8. consequently it is transposed in Luke iv. 5, &c. where a different Conjunction does not so restrict it. But Beza begins the 5th Ver. of both with Tunc, Then, which is contradictory.

Ib. Turret] This I make choice of, rather than the old French Pinacle, which may be mistaken for a Spire.

Ver. 7. tempt] Though Hammond and Whitby say much to shew it means distrust, I should rather take it in its certain Meaning try, viz. to try whether God would save him in the Fall.

Ver. 12. At length] The Matters related from John i. 29. to Ch. iii. 24. inclusive, being at least between, nay those from John i. 15. to the End of the ivth Chap. as appears by John i. 15 & 33 comp. and Ver. 13. here with John iv. 46, 47. and by the Chronology a considerable while before.

Ib. Jesus] Mills names 3 MSS and 2 Versions in which it is wanting, unless Editions (which in Kuster's reprinting his can scarce be) differ; and Whitby in defending it, says two of the former, and but one of the latter, Exam. L. ii. C. 2. however we need not scruple to keep it.

Ib. to Prison] which, though committed signifies of it self, I have added for Clearness, as Beza has in custodiam, Ital.

Ver. 18. Sea of Galilee] the same as in John vi. 1. and Luke v. 1. said, according to Corten, to be three German Miles long, and an Hour and a half wide, through which Jordan runs.

Ver. 20. presently] inserted from elsewhere according to Mills, Pr. 673. on the slight Grounds of a few omitting it.

Ver. 25. Decapolis] How flat our Translators have made it, by adding those needless frons! as they have also of people.

8. Blessed are they who are pure in Heart ; since they will see God.

9. Blessed are the Peace-makers ; since they will be called the Sons of God.

10. Blessed are those that are persecuted for the sake of Righteousness ; since the Kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

11. Blessed will you be when People shall reproach you, persecute, and say every wicked Word against you falsely for my sake.

12. Be glad, and rejoice ; since your Reward will be much in Heaven : for so they persecuted the Prophets before you.

13. You are the Salt of the Earth ; but if Salt is become insipid, with what shall it be made of a salt Taste ? It is of force for Nothing further, excepting to be thrown out, and trod on by Men.

14. You are the Light of the World. A City set upon a Mountain cannot be hid :

15. Nor do People light a Candle, and put it under a Bushel ; but in a Candlestick, whereby it gives light to all in the House.

16. Let your Light so shine before Men, that they may see your good Deeds, and glorify your Father who is in Heaven.

17. Do not suppose that I am come to destroy the Law, or the Prophets : I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18. For I tell you certainly, Till Heaven and Earth pass away one Jot or one Tittle shall not at all pass away from the Law, till the Whole is done.

19. Whoever therefore shall disannul one of the least of these Commandments, and teach Men so, shall be called the least in the Kingdom of Heaven ; but whosoever shall do and teach them, shall be called great there.

20. For I tell you, that except your Righteousness shall surpass that of the Scribes and Pharisees, you will not at all enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

21. You have heard that it was said long ago, Thou shalt not murder ; and he who murders, shall be obnoxious to the Judgment.

22. But I tell you, that every one who is angry with his Brother without cause, shall be obnoxious to the Judgment ; whosoever says to him, Blockhead, shall be obnoxious to the Council ; and whoever says, wicked Fool, be obnoxious to the Punishment of Fire.

23. If therefore thou bringest thy Gift to the Altar, and there remembrest that thy Brother has any Thing against thee ;

24. Leave there thy Gift before the Altar, and go away ; first be reconciled to thy Brother, and then coming, offer thy Gift.

25. Agree with thy Adversary quickly, whilst thou art in the Way along with him ; lest at any time the Adversary should deliver thee to the Judge, and this to the Officer, so that thou shouldest be thrown into Prison.

26. Verily I tell thee, Thou wilt not at all come out thence, until thou payest the last Farthing.

27. You have heard that it was said long ago, Thou shalt not commit Adultery.

28. But I tell you, that every one who has been looking at a Wife so as to lust after her, has already committed Adultery with her in his Heart.

29. And if thy right Eye offend thee, pull it out, and throw it from thee : for it is profitable to thee, that one of thy Members should perish, and not thy whole Body be thrown into Hell.

30. As likewise if thy right Hand offend thee, cut it off, and throw it from thee : for it is profitable to thee, that one of thy Members should perish, and not thy whole Body be thrown into Hell.

31. And it was said, that whoever shall send away his Wife, let him give her a Writing of Divorce.

32. But I tell you, that whoever shall send away his Wife, besides on the Account of Whoredom, makes her commit Adultery ; and whosoever shall marry her that is sent away, commits Adultery.

Ver. 13. with what shall it] If that has not a salt Property in it self, what else shall endue it with such a Quality ?

Ver. 19. disannul] The Gr. leads me to interpret according to Ch. xv. 6. and Beza, not by Jam. ii. 10.

Ver. 21. long ago] or in ancient Times ; while Guyse from Whitby would have by in the com. Tr. be to.

Ver. 22. without cause] some have not ; and it might be annexed by way of Comment, as Mills thought, since it may be questioned whether a Person can be angry without some Cause, so that there may seem still the Word sufficient wanting to it ; yet rather perhaps none of it is wanting, but the Meaning, He that is angry with his Brother, is liable to give Account of it ; see Prol. 1256. and as Whitby owns it not left out designedly, it was scarce accidentally.

Ib. Blockhead] properly ; the original Word being Syr. there in Use.

Ib. wicked Fool] to be necessarily here what Fool in Scripture means.

Ib. Punishment of] as hinted by Beza, and with a Genitive.

Ver. 27. long ago] omitted by many ; but since Irenæus, and others named by Whitby have it, with the Vulg. and the received Reading, we may be safe to retain it.

Ver. 28. Wife] for if a Woman unmarried, it could not be committing Adultery, and it is said every one who &c. Moreover by Analogy, this will include every Husband looking so at any Woman.

Ib. to lust after her] Of this see an Instance in the early Treatise of Hermas mentioned at Rom. xvi. 14. Vision 1.

Ver. 32. and whosoever shall marry &c.] to the End, Mills names a Copy now, and another formerly which was without ; but besides all the rest, and all the Versions, Whitby produces Authors who have it, Ex. L. ii. 2.

33. Again you have heard that it was said long ago, Thou shalt not be forsworn; but shalt perform to the Lord thy Oaths.

34. But I tell you; Do not swear at all: neither by Heaven, since it is the Throne of God;

35. Nor by the Earth, since it is his Footstool; nor by Jerusalem, since it is the City of the great King:

36. Neither shalt thou swear by thy Head, since thou canst not make one Hair white or black.

37. But let your Word be, Yes, yes; No, no: and what is over and above these, is from Evil.

38. You have heard that it was said, An Eye for an Eye, and a Tooth for a Tooth.

39. Whereas I tell you; Do not resist Wickedness; but to him who shall strike thee on thy right Cheek, turn also the other.

40. And let him that will sue thee, and take thy Coat, have also the Waistcoat.

41. Moreover with him who shall force thee to go one Mile, go two.

42. Give him who asks of thee, and turn him not away that would borrow from thee.

43. You have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour, and hate thy Enemy.

44. But I tell you; Love your Enemies, bless those who curse you, do well to them that hate you, and pray for such as molest you, and persecute you:

45. That you may become the Sons of that Father who is in Heaven; since he makes his Sun rise on the wicked and good, and causes it to rain on the righteous and unrighteous ones.

46. For if ye should love but those who love you, what Reward would ye have? Do not even Publicans the same?

47. And if ye should salute your Brethren only, what would ye do more? Do not even Publicans so?

48. Be you therefore perfect, according as your Father who is in Heaven is perfect.

C H A P. VI.

TAKE heed not to bestow your Alms before Men, to be seen by them; for otherwise you have no Reward with your Father who is in Heaven.

2. When therefore thou bestowest Alms, thou shalt not sound a Trumpet before thee; according as Hypocrites do at the Synagogues, and in the Streets, that they may be applauded by Men: I tell you certainly, They receive of them the Reward.

3. But as thou art bestowing Alms, let not thy left Hand know what thy right Hand does:

4. That thy Alms may be in Secret; and thy Father who beholds in Secret, will himself recompense thee in Publick.

5. And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the Hypocrites; since they love to pray standing in the Synagogues, and in the Corners of the Streets, that they may be seen by Men: I tell you certainly that they receive of them the Reward.

6. But when thou art to pray, enter into thy Closet, and shutting thy Door, worship thy Father who is in Secret; which Father who beholds in Secret, will recompense thee in Publick.

7. And as you pray, do not speak impertinently, like the Heathen: for they think that they shall be hearkened to by their speaking much.

8. Be not therefore like them; for your Father knows what Things you have need of, before you ask of him.

Ver. 37. Word] by the strongest Gr. Word for it. Ib. is from Evil] now in the Purity of the Gospel, as the Gr. Verb is of the present Tense, and Christ makes a Distinction from the Law.

Ver. 39. Do not resist] wholly, Ptol. mentioned Ch. xv. 5. in his Epist. to Flora, a Woman of his Sect; which takes off from our Lord's Command, and is one of those Refinements, used by many, that injure the sacred Code.

Ver. 40. Waistcoat] Gr. Garment, any one, and without thy, and rationally the upper one first.

Ver. 41. to go] with thy Horse, Wagon, &c. as was done on extraordinary Occasions, by Officers especially.

Ver. 42. turn him not away] active thus, not neuter with from.

Ver. 44. bless—hate you] Two or three Translations not having all this, and some ancient Writers not quoting it; Mills says, he does not at all doubt, that it was brought hither from Luke vi. 28. but I doubt it much, for the two Members of the Sentence are transposed, and why must one Historian at first have more than the other? And why those indirect Witnesses turn the Cause against almost a hundred direct M S S Copies? Nor do the others, few as they are, agree together; see also Whitby.

Ver. 47. Publicans] Some have Gentiles, as a few in the foregoing Ver. but Mills disapproves of it, tho' the Vulg. has it here, Pr. 888.

Ver. 48. according as] Since as alone may signify as— as, or as much as, which certainly is not here to be understood.

Ver. 1. Alms] Some having Righteousness, Beza's and Mills's Approbation of it is the more extraordinary, as there is this in the three following Verses, and the present is joined to the next by therefore; the latter's Remark also is singular, that Isedakab, which he takes for granted Matthew wrote in Heb. signifying Righteousness, was so rendered by his Translator. A short Way to end Disputes, if allowed of; while he makes a pretty many Words beside the Matter, or to very little Purpose; and see Whitby.

Ver. 2. be applauded] In the New Version of 1729, as likewise in that from Beauf. and Lenf. have the applause.

Ib. by] a Preposition in the Original.

Ver. 2, 5. of them] as their should mean, however stupidly mistaken perhaps by all; to which that in Ver. 6. is properly an Antithesis.

Ver. 4, 6. in Publick] Some have not, and more Copies the former; but see Whitby's Examen Millii.

9. Thus

9. Thus therefore do you pray : Our Father who art in Heaven, sacredly revered be thy Name ;

10. Let thy Kingdom come ; may thy Will be done, even on the Earth according as in Heaven ;

11. Give us our daily Bread to Day ;

12. And forgive us our Trespases, as we also forgive those that trespass against us ;

13. And do not bring us into Trial, but deliver us from Wickedness ; since the Kingdom, Power, and Glory is thine for ever : so let it be.

14. For if you shall forgive Men their Offences, your heavenly Father will also forgive you :

15. Whereas if you forgive not Men their Offences, neither will your Father forgive yours.

16. And when you fast, be not like the Hypocrites, with a sorrowful Look : for they disfigure their Faces, that they may appear to Men to be fasting : I tell you certainly that they receive of them the Reward.

17. But as thou fastest, anoint thy Head, and wash thy Face :

18. That thou mayest not appear to Men to be fasting, but to thy Father who is in Secret ; which Father who beholds in Secret, will recompense thee in Publick.

19. Do not hoard up for you Treasures on the Earth, where Moth and Rust defaces, and where Thieves break through, and steal.

20. But hoard up for you Treasures in Heaven, where neither Moth nor Rust defaces, and where Thieves do not break through, nor steal.

21. For at the Place where your Treasure is, your Heart also will be.

22. The Eye is the Lamp of the Body ; if thy Eye therefore sees distinctly, thy whole Body will be light :

23. Whereas if thy Eye is bad, thy whole Body will be dark ; if the Light in thee therefore is Darkness, how much Darkness must there be !

24. None can serve different Masters : for he will either hate one, and love the other ; or cleave to one, and despise the other : you cannot serve God and Riches.

Ver. 9. our Father] The Lord's Prayer in above a hundred Languages was printed at London 1700 ; but with divers more, and much better by John Chamberlain an Englishman, and F. R. S. at Amsterd. 1715 : yet might be still improved ; for I have observed in that of Madagascar, it very little, if at all, agrees with the Vocabulary of Robert Drury, who lived there 15 Years, and may be allowed a faithful and the most knowing Relater ; and even the modern English is in the old Letter and Pointing, though all were to be expressed in their proper Characters. Jenslon in Lat. Verse begins it,

Magne Pater ! cæli qui cingis et incolis arces,
Great Father, who dost surround and inhabit the Palaces of Heaven. This Description of the Supreme Being, says a certain Author, surpasses all that can be found in any Pagan Writer.

Ib. sacredly revered] with a holy Regard, and true Worship.

Ver. 10. Let thy Kingdom come] How the primitive Protestants understood this may appear by their Metre of it as follows, put at the End of the Psalms,

Thy kingdom come even at this bour,
And henceforth everlastingly :
Thine holy Ghost into us pour,
With all his gifts most plenteously.

Ver. 12. Trespases] debts being what are owed, or to be paid, and the debtors those who are to be forgiven, have no Right of Place here.

Ib. as] The Difficulty that has been apprehended in this will vanish, if we are to take it strictly (which I do not determine) to forgive others on their desiring us, as we here pray to God for it, and according to Luke xvii. 3, 4. when they repent, which also must be supposed sincerely, not in Falsehood or Mockery.

Ver. 13. Trial] as rendered in the com. Transf. 1 Pet. iv. 12. and of which our curious and learned Dan. Scott has this Note, ' May not πειρασμοι rather refer to Trials or Afflictions ? as Jam. i. 2. rather than to Temptations, into which God, who tempteth no one, cannot properly be said to bring any Man.' But herein he was not so accurate as usual ; since one rather is redundant, and the Note of Interrogation should be either at Temptations or at the End, besides that Jam. i. 13. would have been much more to the Purpose. The common Expression lead us not into Temptation has been a Stumbling-block to several, whom I have heard speak of it, and who not knowing the Original, did suppose it not rightly translated by lead. Hammond has it straighten or difficulties, Annot.

Ib. since the Kingdom—for ever] Whitby owns that many Criticks, as well as Mills, adjudge the Rise of this Doxology here to the Gr. Liturgist, Examen, Lib. ii. Cap. 1. but might it not rather pass from hence thither ? And the Vulg. not having it might have a great Effect for the Omission in others. Besides it might be left out because not in Luke ii. 4. and if not here at first, would scarce have been added here, and not there. Of the Gr. Copies also, which are to be the Test of the Matter, Mills could muster up but four without it, two of those on Report, and another very erroneous in his own Account, Pr. 1272. and on Luke iii. 36. which in other Cases would hardly be worth minding ; for further Proof of it read Whitby.

Ver. 19. defaces] the same Verb with disfigure, Ver. 16.

Ver. 21. For your twice a very few have thy, yet Mills says your is of Luke, Pr. 385. but why not of Matthew too ? And thy might be taken from the following. As to Whitby's bringing the plur. in Luke xii. 34. and here Ver. 19, 20. for it, Exam. Lib. ii. 2. it is that, if any Thing, makes it suspected.

Ver. 22. Lamp] or Candle, which gives light while it is lighted, and supplied with Oil or Tallow, Chap. xxv. 3, 4, 8. such is the Eye to the Body : and such the spiritual Sense of seeing to the Soul, in regard to which our Saviour must speak.

Ib. distinctly] not doubly or confusedly, as with bad Sight.

Ver. 23. Light in thee] Seneca by L'Estrange, p. 110. Every Man has a Light set up in him for a Guide ; which we do all of us both see and acknowledge, tho' we do not pursue it.

Ib. is Darkness] If thy spiritual Sensation is darkened, how dark must thou be in other Respects !

Ver. 24. different] How came the Translators to miss this plain Meaning !

Ib. Riches] the allowed Meaning of mammon, and why

25. For

25. For this reason I say to you ; Be not careful for your Life, what you shall eat, and what you shall drink ; nor for your Body, what you shall wear : is not the Life it self more than the Food, and the Body than the Apparel ?

26. Look on the Fowls of the Air ; since they do not sow, reap, nor put together into Barns, but your heavenly Father feeds them : are you not more excellent than they ?

27. Nay which of you in being careful, can add one Cubit to his Stature ?

28. And why are you careful about Apparel ? Consider how the Lillies of the Field grow ; they do not labour, nor spin :

29. Yet I tell you, that Solomon in all his Glory was not cloathed like one of these.

30. Now if God thus array the Herbage of the Field, that exists to Day, and to Morrow is thrown into the Oven, will he not you much more, O ye of little Faith ?

31. Be therefore not careful, saying, What shall we eat ? or, What shall we drink ? or, What shall we be cloathed with ?

32. Though all these Things the Gentiles seek for ; since your heavenly Father knows, that you have Need of all these :

33. But seek first the Kingdom of God, and his Righteousness ; and they will all be added to you.

34. Be therefore not careful for the next Day ; since that will be careful of its own Things : sufficient for a Day is the Evil of it.

C H A P. VII.

DO not judge, that you may not be judged.

2. For with what Judgment you judge, you will be judged ; and with what Measure you measure, there will be measured again to you.

3. And why dost thou look at the Mote in thy Brother's Eye, and not observe the Piece in thy own ?

4. Or how wilt thou say to him, Let me pull out the Mote from thy Eye ; when behold there is a Piece in thy own ?

5. O Hypocrite, pull first the Piece out of thy own Eye ; and then thou wilt see thoroughly to pull the Mote out of thy Brother's.

6. Do not give Dogs a holy Thing, nor throw your Pearls before Hogs ; lest at any time these should tread on them with their Feet, and those turning about, should tear you.

7. Ask, and there will be given you ; seek, and you will find ; knock, and there will be opened to you.

8. For every one who asks, receives ; and he that seeks, does find ; and to him who knocks, there will be opened.

9. Or what Man of you is there, whom if his Son ask for Bread, will he give him a Stone ?

10. And if he ask for a Fish, will he give him a Serpent ?

11. If therefore you that are wicked, know how to give good Gifts to your Children ; how much more will your Father who is in Heaven, give good Things to those that ask of him !

12. All Things therefore whatever ye are willing that Men should do to you, so do ye also to them : for this is the Law and the Prophets.

13. Go in at the narrow Gate ; because the Gate is wide, and the Way broad which leads to Destruction, and many are they that enter in at it :

14. Since the Gate is narrow, and the Way streight which leads to Life, and few are those that enter in at it.

should not that be translated as well as other Words, and particularly philarguria, the Love of Money, 1 Tim. i. 6.

Ver. 25. *He that buildeth a costly House even to the Tiling, will not leave there, and lose so great a Cost for so small a Trifle more. No more will he that gave thee so precious a Soul, and so beautiful a Body, let either of them perish again before the Day, for so small a Thing as Food and Raiment, Wm. Ver. 11. wicked] The Note here to the Verf. of Beau. and Len. gives it to be understood, that the Disciples of Christ were thus, as compared with God ; whereas it is but suppositive, and might mean only those who were really wicked, and not his Disciples.

Ver. 14. Since] Many have, How narrow is &c. by the Change of ori into ti, and Mills ingeniously shews two Ways how it might be done. This rational Conjunction is to connect with narrow Gate before.

15. And take heed of false Prophets, who come to you in the Dress of Sheep, but within are ravening Wolves.

16. You will know them by their Fruits : do People pick off Grapes from Briers, or Figs from Brambles ?

17. Thus every good Tree yields good Fruit, as a corrupt one does that which is bad.

18. A good Tree cannot yield bad Fruit, nor yet a corrupt one what is good.

19. Every Tree which yields not good Fruit, is cut down, and thrown into the Fire.

20. Well then by their Fruits you will know them.

21. Not every one that will say, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven ; but he who does the Will of my Father who is in Heaven.

22. Many will say to me on that Day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy Name, expelled Devils in it, and done many powerful Things in the same ?

23. But then I shall profess to them, I never knew you ; depart from me, you Workers of Iniquity.

24. Every one therefore who hears these Words of mine, and does them, I will liken him to a wise Man, who built his House on a Rock :

25. So that when a Shower descended, Floods came, Winds blew, and rushed on that House, it did not fall ; since it was founded on a Rock.

26. As also every one that hears these Words of mine, and does them not, shall be likened to a foolish Man, who built his House on the Sand :

27. And a Shower descended, Floods came, Winds blew, and rushed on that House ; so that it fell, and the Fall of it was great.

28. And when Jesus finished these Words, the Multitude were surprized at his Doctrine.

29. For he taught them as having Authority, and not as the Scribes.

NOW he coming down from the Mountain, a great Multitude followed him.

2. And there was a Leper came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst cleanse me.

3. Whereupon Jesus stretching forth the Hand, touched him, and said, I will ; be thou cleansed : which his Leprosy presently was.

4. And Jesus says to him, See thou tellest Nobody ; but go, shew thy self to the Priest, and offer the Gift which Moses commanded, for a Testimony to them.

5. Next Jesus entering into Capernaum, there came to him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6. And saying, Lord, my Lad lies at home having the Palsy, vehemently tormented.

7. At which Jesus says to him, I will come, and cure him.

8. And the Centurion made reply ; Lord, I am not fit that thou shouldest enter under my Roof ; but speak the Word only, and my Lad will be healed :

9. For thus I, who am a Man in Authority, having Soldiers under me ; say to one, Go, and he goes ; to another, Come, and he comes ; and to my Servant, Do this, and he does.

10. Which when Jesus heard, he wondered at, and said to them who followed ; I tell you certainly, I have not found so much Faith in Israel.

11. Nay I say to you, that many will come from the East and West, and sit down with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the Kingdom of Heaven.

12. But the Sons of the Kingdom will be cast forth into outer Darkness ; there Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth will be.

13. And Jesus said to the Centurion, Go away, and as thou hast believed, let it be for thee : accordingly his Lad was healed the same Hour.

14. Moreover Jesus coming into the House of Peter, saw his Mother-in-law lie, and have a Fever.

Ver. 16. from] which ~~and~~ properly is, as well as Sterling Eng. so in the Eng. Vers. of Beaus. and Leinf.

Ver. 5. Jesus] With many is read be, which might be made at first by writing advē inadvertently from the following, and letting it remain, not to deface the Copy ; what

Ver. 8. the Word] Many in a Word.

Ver. 10. not] and is no more than not, 1 Cor. xv. 13. Scott.

15. Upon this he touched her Hand, and the Fever left her; insomuch that she rose up, and waited on them.

16. And the Evening being come, People brought to him many in whom the Devil was; and he expelled the Spirits with a Word, and cured all who were ill;

17. That there might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet Esaias thus; He himself took our Weaknesses, and bore the Diseases.

18. Now Jesus seeing a great Multitude about him, commanded to go away to the farther Side.

19. And some Scribe coming near, said to him, Master, I will follow thee, whithersoever thou goest.

20. To whom Jesus says, The Foxes have Holes, and the Fowls of the Air Nests, but the Man has not where he may lay down the Head.

21. Another also of his Disciples said to him, Lord, permit me first to go away, and bury my Father.

22. But Jesus answered him, Follow me, and leave the Dead to bury their own Dead.

23. So he going aboard a Ship, his Disciples followed him.

24. And behold there was a great Tempest in the Sea, so that the Ship was covered under the Waves; but he was asleep.

25. With that his Disciples coming near, awaked him, and said, Lord, save us; we are perishing.

26. And he says to them, Why are you fearful, ye of little Faith? Then he rose up, and rebuked the Winds, with the Sea; and there was a great Calm.

27. Therefore the Men wondered, saying, What Sort of a Person is this, that even the Winds and Sea obey him?

28. At length he coming to the farther Side, into the Country of the Gergesenes, two Men in whom were Devils met him, as they came out from the Tombs, so very mischievous, that none could pass along that Way.

29. And behold they cried out as follows, What hast thou to do with us, Jesus, the Son of God? Art thou come hither to torment us before the Time?

30. Now far from them was a Herd of many Hogs feeding;

31. Whereupon the Devils besought him thus, If thou dost expel us, permit us to go away into the Herd of Hogs.

32. And he said to them, Go: accordingly coming out, they went away into those; when behold all the Herd of Hogs ran with violence down a steep Place into the Sea, and died in the Waters.

33. The Keepers then ran away, and getting into the City, told all the Things, particularly of them in whom the Devils were.

34. And lo all the City came out to meet Jesus, and on seeing him, besought that he would depart from their Borders.

CHAP. IX.

NOW going aboard the Ship, he passed over, and came into his own City.

2. And behold the People carried to him one that had the Palsy, lying on a Bed; and Jesus at seeing their Faith, said to him who had the Palsy, Take courage, Child, thy Sins are forgiven thee.

3. Upon this behold some of the Scribes said in themselves, He blasphemeth.

4. However Jesus perceived their Thoughts, and said; Why do ye think wicked Things in your Hearts?

5. For which is easier, to say, The Sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

6. But that you may perceive, the Man has Authority on the Earth to forgive Sins (then says he to him who had the Palsy,) Arise, take up thy Bed, and go away home.

7. Accordingly he arose, and went away thither.

8. This the Multitude seeing, wondered, and glorified God, who had given such Authority to Men.

9. Afterwards Jesus passing away thence, saw a Man sitting at the Custom-house, called Matthew, and says to him, Follow me: so he rose up, and followed him.

10. Moreover as he was sitting in the House, behold many Publicans and Sinners came, and sat down with Jesus and his Disciples.

11. Which the Pharisees seeing, said to his Disciples, For what reason does your Master eat with Publicans and Sinners?

12. This Jesus hearing, answered them; Such as are in Health have no Need of a Physician, but those who are ill.

13. Besides go, and learn what is, I would have Mercy, and not Sacrifice: for I did not come to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance.

14. Then the Disciples of John come to him, saying, For what reason, when we and the Pharisees fast much, do thy Disciples not fast?

15. And Jesus said to them; Can the Sons of the Bride-chamber lament, as long as the Bridegroom is with them? But the Days will come when he will be taken away from them, and then shall they fast.

16. Nay none puts a Patch of fresh Cloth upon an old Garment; since a Piece of that pulls off some of the Garment, and the Rent is made worse.

17. Nor do People put new Wine into old Bottles; for if so the Bottles break, the Wine is shed out, and the Bottles will perish: but they put new Wine into new Bottles, and both are preserved together.

18. While he was speaking these Things to them, behold a Ruler came, and worshipped him, saying, My Daughter is just dying; but come, and put thy Hand upon her, and she will live.

19. At this Jesus rising up, followed him, as likewise his Disciples.

20. And lo a Woman, that had a Flux of Blood twelve Years, came near behind, and touched the Skirt of his Garment.

21. For she said in her self, If I only touch his Garment, I shall be made well.

22. Upon which Jesus turned about, and seeing her, said, Take courage, Daughter, thy Faith has made thee well: so the Woman was made well from that Hour.

23. At last when Jesus came into the Ruler's House, and saw the Pipers, with the Company making a Noise,

24. He said to them, Get aside; for the Maid is not dead, but asleep: at which they derided him.

25. Nevertheless when the Company was put forth, he entering in, took hold of her Hand; and the Maid rose up.

26. And this Fame went out into that whole Country.

27. Next as Jesus went away thence, two blind Men followed him, crying out in this manner, Have mercy upon us, O Son of David.

28. And he being come into the House, the blind Men came to him; to whom Jesus says, Do you believe that I can do this? They answer him, Yes, Lord.

29. Then he touched their Eyes, saying, According to your Faith let it be to you.

Ver. 8. wondered] Some fear'd, but Mills thought from Luke v. 26.

Ib. to Repentance] This both here and in Mark ii. 17. being not in various MSS. and Translations, has been thought fetched from Luke v. 32. and it is not unlikely that Luke writing, after, might make the Addition to Mat. and Mark, what Augustine says, De Consen. Evang.

L. ii. 27. as in other Things, and it might be from the farther Remembrance of Somebody that Jesus said this: yet both Mat. and Mark having it may overballance that, and see Whitby's Exam. L. ii. 2.

30. And their Eyes were opened, but Jesus strictly charged them, as follows, See that none may know it.

31. Whereas they went out, and told his Fame about in that whole Country.

32. Now they being gone out, behold some brought to him a dumb Man in whom the Devil was.

33. And when the Devil was expelled, the dumb Person spoke; so that the Multitude wondered, saying, There was never seen such a Thing in Israel.

34. Yet the Pharisees said, He expels Devils by the Prince of them.

35. Jesus too went about in all the Cities and Villages, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, as also curing every Disease and Ailment among the People.

36. And upon seeing the Multitude, he was moved with Affection for them, because they were faint, and dispersed about, as Sheep that had no Shepherd.

37. Then he says to his Disciples: The Harvest indeed is great, but the Workmen few;

38. Pray therefore to the Master of it, that he would send forth Workmen into his Harvest.

C H A P. X.

AFTERWARDS calling thither his twelve Disciples, he gave them Authority over unclean Spirits, so that they might expel them, as likewise cure every Disease and Ailment.

2. And these are the Names of the twelve

Apostles; the first Simon called Peter, and his Brother Andrew, James of Zebedee, and his Brother John,

3. Philip, and Bartholomew, Thomas, and Matthew the Publican, James of Alphaeus, and Lebbaeus surnamed Thaddeaus.

4. Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, that also delivered him up.

5. These twelve Jesus sent, ordering them as follows: You shall go into no Road to the Gentiles, nor enter into a City of the Samaritans.

6. But go rather to the Sheep that are lost of the Family of Israel.

7. And as you go, preach, saying, The Kingdom of Heaven is come near.

8. Cure the Sick, cleanse the Lepers, raise up the Dead, expel Devils: you have received for Nothing, give in the same Manner.

9. You shall provide neither Gold, Silver, nor Brass, in your Girdles;

10. Not a Bag for the Road, nor two Coats, nor Shoes, nor Sticks: for the Workman deserves his Food.

11. Into whatever City or Village also you enter, diligently enquire who in it is worthy; and remain there, until you go out.

12. Besides when you enter into a Family, salute it.

13. And if indeed the Family be worthy, let your Peace come on it; but if it be unworthy, let your Peace return to your selves.

14. And whosoever will not receive you, nor hear your Words; come out of that House or City, and shake off the Dust of your Feet.

15. I tell you certainly, It will be more

Ib. Lebbaeus surnamed] left out of the vulg. Lat. of which Mills gives a strange Account, that it was a Note designed to the Name of Matthew, and taken into the Text afterwards in a wrong Place; a Proof only of a fer-

Ib. Thaddeus] So called also Mark iii. 18. elsewhere Judas, as recited at Jude 1.

Ver. 4. Canaanite] signifying Zealot, as Hammond writes, according to Luke vi. 15. Acts i. 13. and not denoting any Place.

Ib. delivered up] the Verb that is in Ver. 17, 19, 21.

Ver. 8. raise up the Dead] About half of the Gr. MSS I think are without this, and Mills reckons it added from Ch. xi. 5. which is not likely, as being done by Jesus himself; and rather omitted here, as not appearing done by the Apostles then.

Ver. 10. Sticks] which seems the true Reading, to agree with Luke ix. 3. and not to interfere with Mark vi. 8. tho' Mills puts it sing. and contrary to Luke.

16. Behold I send you like Sheep into the midst of Wolves; be therefore as wise as Serpents, yet innocent as Doves.

17. Take heed now of Men: for they will deliver you up to the Councils, and whip you in their Synagogues;

18. And before Governors, nay even Kings will you be brought for my sake, for Evidence to them and the Gentiles.

19. However when they deliver you up, be not careful how, or what you shall speak; since this will be given you the same Hour.

20. For you are not they who speak, but the Spirit of your Father is he that speaks in you.

21. And a Brother will deliver up the Brother to Death, as likewise a Father the Child; Children too will rise up against the Parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22. Nay you will be hated by all for my Name; but he who perseveres to the End, shall be saved.

23. Yet when they persecute you in one City, flee into another: for I tell you certainly, You will not at all finish the Cities of Israel, until the Man shall come.

24. A Scholar is not above the Teacher, nor a Servant above his Master.

25. It is sufficient for a Scholar that he may be as his Teacher, and a Servant as his Master: if they have called the Householder Beelzebub, how much more those of his Household!

26. Do not therefore fear them: for there is Nothing covered, which will not be revealed; and hid, which will not be known.

27. What I tell you in the Darkness, speak in the Light; and what you hear in the Ear, preach on the House-tops.

28. So be not afraid of them that kill the Body, but cannot kill the Soul; but rather fear him who can destroy both Soul and Body in Hell.

29. Are not two Sparrows sold for a Halfpenny, not one of which falls on the Ground without your Father?

30. Nay even the Hairs of your Head are all numbered.

31. Do not therefore fear; you excel many Sparrows.

32. Every one therefore that shall make confession of me before men, I will also make confession of him before my Father who is in Heaven.

33. But whoever denies me before Men, I will also deny him before my Father who is in Heaven.

34. Do not suppose, that I am come to put Peace upon the Earth: I am not come to put Peace, but the Sword.

35. For I am come to make a Man at dissension against his Father, a Daughter against her Mother, and a Daughter-in-law against her Mother-in-law.

36. And a Man's Enemies will be those of his own Family.

37. He who loves Father or Mother above me, is unworthy of me; as also he that loves Son or Daughter above me, is unworthy of me.

38. Moreover he who does not take his Cross, and follow after me, is unworthy of me.

39. He that finds his Life, will lose it; and he who loses his Life for my sake, will find it.

C H A P. XI.

AND when Jesus had made an end of ordering his twelve Disciples, he departed thence, to teach and preach in their Cities.

2. Now John having heard in Prison the Works of Christ, sent two of his Disciples,

3. And said to him, Art thou he who was to come, or are we to expect another?

4. Whereupon Jesus made answer to them; Go, and tell John what Things you hear, and behold:

5. The Blind have sight, and the Lame walk, the Lepers are cleansed, and the Deaf hear, the Dead are raised up, and the Poor are preached to;

6. And whoever shall not be offended at me is blessed.

7. Besides when they were gone, Jesus began to say to the Multitude concerning John: What did you go out into the Wilderness to see? A Reed shaken by the Wind?

8. But what did you go out to look at? A Man dressed in soft Cloaths? Behold those who wear such are in Kings Houses.

9. However what did you go out to look at? A Prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a Prophet.

10. For this is he of whom it is written, Behold I send my Messenger before thy Face, who shall make ready thy Way before thee.

11. I say to you certainly; There has not risen up, among those that are born of Women, a greater than John the Baptizer; yet the least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

12. And from the Days of this John till now, the Kingdom of Heaven has been pressed after, and they who press on take it by force.

13. For all the Prophets, and the Law till John, prophesied.

14. Moreover if you will receive it, this is Elias who should come.

15. He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

16. To what also shall I liken this Generation? It is like Boys that sit in the Markets, and calling to the Companions,

17. Say, We have piped to you, and ye have not danced: We have mourned to you, and ye not lamented.

18. For John came neither eating, nor drinking; and they say, He has a Devil.

19. The Man came eating, and drinking; and they say, Behold a Man who is a Glutton and a Wine-drinker, a Friend of Publicans and Sinners. Yet Wisdom is justified by its Children.

20. Then he began to reproach the Cities, in which most of his powerful Things were done, because they did not repent.

21. Wo is to thee, Chorazin, wo is to thee, Bethsaida; since if the powerful Things done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented of old in Sackcloth and Ashes.

22. But I tell you, It will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon, on the Day of Judgment, than for you.

23. And thou, Capernaum, exalted as thou art to Heaven, wilt be cast down to Hell; since if the powerful Things done in thee, had been done in Sodom, they would have remained until this Day.

24. But I tell you, that it will be more tolerable for the Country of Sodom on the Day of Judgment, than for thee.

25. At that Time Jesus on this Occasion said; I make acknowledgment to thee, Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth, since thou hast hid these Things from the wise and understanding ones, and revealed them to little Children:

Ver. 2. two of] Gr. duo, but some of the Translations have [by] as from dia, which Mills pleads stoutly for, after changing his Mind; that Disciples would rather have been in another Case with duo, when it is the same as in Luke ix. 19. that none would designedly change that into dia, less expressive; but might so corrupt it, as he thought before.

Ver. 5. and the Lame walk] This Mills would expunge on small Authority, as if Matthew must leave out Something, Luke vii. 22. see also Whitby.

Ver. 7. were gone] as both Luke vii. 24. where the Gr. Word is of a past Tense, and Christ's speaking to the Multitude inform me.

Ver. 8. wear such] The Gr. repeating only the Adject. in the plur. which makes the Expression finer.

Ver. 13. Prophets] The Prophets spoke of what was to come; but John speaks of what now is; of the present Time, and therefore of greater Import to the present Generation.

Ver. 16. like Boys] Not properly speaking, like those that call, but those to whom they call: neither the Severity and Austerity of John, nor the Meekness and Condescension of Jesus Christ, could prevail upon the Jews, From the Notes to B. & L. Vers.

Ver. 19. Wisdom &c.] q. d. The Wisdom both of Job's Dispensation and mine, can be vindicated by those who are truly wise.

Ver. 21. wo is to thee, Bethsaida] Somebody having and Bethsaida, Mills catches it for the Archetypal Reading; but the common being preferable, and favouring more of Scripture Language, besides Luke's telling us Jesus said so, Ch. x. 13. we may well ascribe it to Matthew. But why then, may the Objector say, was it altered for the worse? Perhaps because the Repetition was thought needless. But why not too in Luke? Those Books might not then be published together.

Ver. 23. exalted as thou art] A few have it interrogatively wilt thou be exalted, but enow for Mills to prefer it, tho' I find his Mind altered in Prod. 1251. see also Whitby's Exam. L. 2. C. 1. who not having Kuster's Edit. of Mills answered it.

Ib. cast down] according to the Relation of Travellers, there are not now above eight Cottages where it stood, Note to Beauf. and Lenf. Vers.

27. All Things are delivered to me by my Father : and none knows the Son, excepting the Father ; nor does any know the Father, excepting the Son, and he to whom the Son is minded to reveal him.

28. Come to me, all who labour, and are loaded, and I will refresh you.

29. Take my Yoke on you, and learn of me ; since I am of a meek and humble Mind ; so you will find Refreshment to your Souls.

30. For my Yoke is gentle, and my Load is light.

CHAP. XII.

AT that Time Jesus went on the Sabbath through the standing Corn ; when his Disciples being hungry, began to pluck the Ears, and eat.

2. Which the Pharisees seeing, said to him, Behold thy Disciples do that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath.

3. But he answered them ; Have you not read what David himself did, when he was hungry, and those with him ?

4. How he entered into the House of God, and did eat the Presence-bread ; which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor those with him, but for the Priests only ?

5. Or have you not read in the Law, that on the Sabbath the Priests in the Temple profane the Sabbath, and are without Crime ?

6. Whereas I say to you, that there is here one superior to the Temple.

7. Besides if you had known what is, I would have Mercy, and not Sacrifice ; you would not have condemned those without Crime.

8. For the Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.

9. Now departing thence, he went into their Synagogue ;

10. And behold there was a Man had a withered Hand : so they asked him thus, Is it lawful to cure on the Sabbath ? that they might accuse him.

11. To whom he said ; What Man will there be of you, who having a Sheep, if even that shall fall into a Pit on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it, and lift out ?

12. How much then does a Man excel a Sheep ! So that it is lawful to do well on the Sabbath.

13. Then he says to the Man, Stretch forth thy Hand ; which he stretching, it was restored as sound as the other.

14. Upon this the Pharisees went out, and took Counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

15. Which Jesus knowing, went aside thence ; and a great Multitude followed him, all of whom he cured.

16. However he charged them, that they should not make him manifest ;

17. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet Esaias as follows ;

18. Lo my Servant whom I have chosen, my Beloved with whom my Soul is pleased ; I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall declare Judgment to the Gentiles.

19. He shall neither contend, cry out, nor shall any one hear his Voice in the Streets.

20. A bruised Reed shall he not break, nor quench the smoking Flax, till he brings forth Judgment to Victory.

21. Moreover the Gentiles shall hope in his Name.

22. Then was brought to him a blind and dumb Man in whom there was a Devil ; and he cured him, so that the blind and dumb one both spoke and saw.

23. At which all the Multitude were amazed, and said, Is this the Son of David ?

24. Nevertheless the Pharisees hearing, said, He does not expel Devils but by Beelzebub the Prince of them.

25. But Jesus perceiving their Thoughts, said to them : Every Kingdom divided against it self, is made desolate ; and every City or House divided against it self will not stand.

26. Thus if Satan expel Satan, he is divided against himself ; how therefore will his Kingdom stand ?

27. And if I by Beelzebub expel Devils, by whom do your Children expel them ? For this reason they will be your Judges.

Ver. 26. good Will] according as in Luke ii. 14. Eph. i. 5, 9. Phil. i. 15. & ii. 13. 2 Thes. i. 11.

Ver. 27. none] For the Father is not a Man, nor is it in the Original.

Ver. 5. profane] By doing the necessary Duties of their Profession. Labour being forbid to all, yet to the Priests it was permitted, because the Service of the Temple must otherwise have been interrupted.

Ver. 8. even] or also, which is not extant with divers, and Mills says is of Mark or Luke ; yet this might formerly be left out for needless or improper, as in one Copy at Mark ii. 28. and might be omitted here but in one at first.

Ver. 10. was a Man] This Branch is better in the foregoing Ver. Luke vi. 6.

Ver. 11. a] for one, as several times elsewhere, and one only would make it more valuable ; see Doddr.

Ver. 20. Victory] paraphrastically for Truth, Isa. xlii. 3. as the next also is omitted and altered, with chose here instead of uphold, Ver. 18.

Ver. 23. Is this] without not.

Ver. 24. Beelzebub] so the Greek.

Ver. 25. perceiving their Thoughts] not hearing what they said, as also by Luke xi. 15, 17.

Ver. 27. Children] Disciples or Country-men, Ham.

28. But

28. But if I by the Spirit of God expel Devils, then the Kingdom of God is come to you.

29. Or how can any one enter into a strong Man's House, and plunder his Goods, except he first bind the strong Man? And then he may plunder his House.

30. He who is not with me, is against me; and he that does not gather with me, disperses.

31. For this reason I say to you; All Sin and Blasphemy will be forgiven Men, only the Blasphemy of the Spirit will not be forgiven them.

32. And whoever speaks a Word against the Man, it will be forgiven him; but whoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it will neither be forgiven him in this World, nor in the future.

33. Either make a Tree and its Fruit both good, or make the one and the other both corrupt: for a Tree is known by the Fruit.

34. Offspring of Vipers, how can you speak good Things, who are wicked? For the Mouth speaks from the Abundance of the Heart.

35. A good Man from the good Treasure of the Heart, puts forth good Things; and a wicked Man from the wicked Treasure puts forth wicked Things.

36. But I tell you, that every idle Word whatever Men shall speak, they will render Account concerning it on the Day of Judgment.

37. For by thy Words thou wilt be justified, and by thy Words wilt thou be condemned.

38. Then some of the Scribes and Pharisees made answer, Master, we would see a Sign from thee.

39. But he made reply to them: A wicked and adulterous Generation seeks for a Sign, and none will be given to it, excepting that of the Prophet Jonas.

40. For according as Jonas was three Days and three Nights in the Belly of the Whale, so will the Man be so many Days and Nights in the Heart of the Earth.

41. The Men of Nineveh will arise in Judgment with this Generation, and condemn it; because they repented at the Preaching of Jonas, and behold one above Jonas is here.

42. The Queen of the South will rise up in Judgment with this Generation, and condemn it; because she came from the Ends of the Earth to hear the Wisdom of Solomon, and behold one above Solomon is here.

43. And when the unclean Spirit is gone forth from a Man, he goes through dry Places, seeking Refreshment, and does not find.

44. He then says, I will return into my House, whence I came forth; and coming, he finds it empty, swept and adorned.

45. Then goes he, and takes with him seven other Spirits, more wicked than himself; and they entering in, dwell there; so that the last Things of that Man become worse than the first: thus will it also be to this wicked Generation.

46. And while he was speaking to the Multitude, behold his Mother and Brethren stood without, seeking to speak to him.

47. Whereupon one said to him, Behold thy Mother and thy Brethren stand without, seeking to speak to thee.

48. But he made answer to the Person that told him, Who is my Mother? And who are my Brethren?

49. Besides stretching forth his Hand towards his Disciples, he said; Behold my Mother, and my Brethren!

50. For whosoever shall do the Will of my Father who is in Heaven, this is my Brother, and Sister, and Mother.

C H A P. XIII.

MOREOVER on the same Day Jesus went forth from the House, and sat down by the Sea.

but I am apt to think it was literally Children, as being innocent, and so thought fitter for such a Work.

Ib. expel them] which might be only as the Jews imagined, or sometimes real then; this Practice of theirs Ham. and Whit. shew by Quotations from Christian Writers.

Ver. 32. this World] A considerable Number of Copies have it the World now, which I think is no better Greek than English.

Ib. nor] for neither must not have the second Place.

Ver. 35. of the Heart] many Copies and Versions are without, so that Mills says it belongs to Luke; but then I should think it would have been added twice, as it is there, Ch. vi. 45. however must needs think that his would have been with it; moreover it is necessary and wanting, and might be dropped to make this Part like the latter.

Ver. 46. his] but once in Gr.

Ver. 47. to speak to] Mills upon the Faith of two or three Versions, imagines this taken from Ver. 46. poor Conjecture! Prol. 388.

Ver. 50. and] hereby taking these together to be parallel to those in the Ver. before, denoting that such a Person was to him as each, and as much as every natural Relation; rather than to enervate it with or, as Doddr. does.

2. Where a great Multitude were gathered together to him, so that he went aboard a Ship, to sit down; and all the Company stood upon the Shoar.

3. To whom he spoke many Things in Similitudes as follow: Behold a Sower went forth to sow.

4. As he was doing this, some indeed fell by the Way, so that the Fowls came, and eat it up.

5. Other also fell in stony Places, where it had not much Earth; and presently sprung up, because it had not Depth of Earth.

6. However when the Sun rose, it was scorched; and because it had not Root, it withered.

7. Other likewise fell in Briers; which came up, and choaked it.

8. Other too fell in good Land, and yielded Fruit, some indeed a hundred, some sixty, and some thirty-fold.

9. He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

10. Upon this the Disciples coming near, said to him, For what reason dost thou speak to these People in Similitudes?

11. And he made answer to them: Because it is given you, to know the Mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven; but it is not given to them.

12. For to him who has shall be given, and it shall abound; but from him who has not, shall be taken even what he seemingly has.

13. For this reason I speak to them in Similitudes; because seeing they do not clearly see, and hearing they do not hear plainly, nor understand.

14. And the Prophecy of Esaias is fulfilled in them, which says; You shall hear still, though you will not at all understand, and behold still, though you will not at all know.

15. For the Heart of this People is become fat, they hear heavily with the Ears, and wink their Eyes; lest they should at any time see with the Eyes, hear with the Ears, understand with the Heart, and when they are converted, I might heal them.

16. But your Eyes are blessed, because they see; and your Ears, because they hear.

17. For I tell you certainly, that many Prophets and righteous Men desired to behold the Things which you see, and did not see; and to hear the Things which you hear, and did not hear.

18. Do you therefore hear the Similitude of the Sower.

19. When any Man hears the Word of the Kingdom, and does not understand, the wicked one comes, and catches away what was sown in his Heart: this is he that was sown on by the Way.

20. He also who was sown on in stony Places, is this that hears the Word, and presently receives it with Joy.

21. However he has not Root in himself, only exists for a Time; and there being Affliction or Persecution for the Word, he is presently offended.

22. He likewise that was sown on among Briers, is this who hears the Word; and the Care of this World, with the Deceit of Riches, do together choak the Word, so that it becomes unfruitful.

23. He too who was sown on in good Land, is this that hears the Word, and understands; who verily bears fruit, and yields, some indeed a hundred, some sixty, and some thirty-fold.

24. Another Similitude he propounded thus to them: The Kingdom of Heaven is likened to a Man, who sowed good Seed in his Field.

25. But when Men were asleep, the Enemy came, and sowed Cockle amongst the Wheat, and went away.

26. So when the Blade sprung forth, and yielded Fruit, then the Cockle also appeared.

Ver. 2. Company] So I translate the Gr. Word when sing. as Luke vi. 17. where it does not mean Multitude; but which I render it by when plur. as before in this Ver. where great Multitudes may be too many: elsewhere our Translators turn it people, as Ch. ix. 23, 25.

Ver. 4. it] The Pronouns and Articles are indeed plural in the Original, but as the Verbs are sing. and the others too in Mark iv. Luke viii. I chose to keep to it here; and sure we are not to understand one Seed (or rather Grain) only fell here, and another there, the Verb, as I said, being singular.

Ver. 5. presently sprung up] instead of taking root down first, which it did not for Want of Earth.

Ver. 11. given you, to know] The critical Author of Letters concerning Poetical Translations, pr. 1739, counts to give to do a thing one of the most beautiful Expressions in all the poetical Language, as in

Give you to level Priam's baughty Tow'rs, Lect. i. but in the Passive as here it may be rather more so, and see Rev. ii. 7.

Ver. 12. it shall] not be.

Ib. abound] according as in Ch. xxv. 29. without more.

Ib. from him &c.] which makes compleat English, and yet answers Word for Word to the Greek, being the only Way, I suppose, it is to be done.

Ib. seemingly has] which plain Sense requires, and Luke viii. 18. confirms.

Ver. 14. in them] Several have not the Gr. Preposition, as the Meaning is the same without it.

Ver. 22. it becomes] the same being thus translated Mark iv. 19.

Ver. 25. Cockle] well known as injurious to Wheat, so that some pick it out before that is threshed.

27. With

27. With that the Servants of the Householder coming near, said to him, Lord, didst not thou sow good Seed in thy Field? Whence therefore has it Cockle?

28. And he answered them, Some Enemy has done this. The Servants again asked him, Wouldest thou have us therefore go, and pick it up?

29. To which he said; No, lest at any time by picking up the Cockle, you should root out the Wheat along with it.

30. Permit both to grow together till Harvest, and at the Time of Harvest I will say to the Reapers, Pick up the Cockle first, and bind it into Bundles, to burn it; but gather together the Wheat into my Barn.

31. Another Similitude he propounded to them as follows; The Kingdom of Heaven is like a Grain of Mustard, which a Man took, and sowed in his Field.

32. Which is indeed the least of all Seeds; but when it is grown up is the greatest of Herbs, nay becomes a Tree; so that the Fowls of the Air come, and dwell in the Branches of it.

33. Another Similitude he spoke to them, The Kingdom of Heaven is like Leaven, which a Woman took, and hid in three Pecks of Flour, until the whole was leavened.

34. Jesus spoke all these Things in Similitudes to the Multitude, and did not speak to them without a Similitude;

35. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken thus by the Prophet, I will open my Mouth with Similitudes, utter Things hid from the founding of the World.

36. Then Jesus leaving the Multitude, went into the House; and his Disciples came to him, saying, Declare to us the Similitude of the Cockle in the Field.

37. He made answer to them: The Sower of the good Seed is the Man,

38. And the Field is the World, as also the good Seed these who are the Sons of the Kingdom, and the Cockle is the Sons of the wicked one,

39. The Enemy likewise that sowed it is the Devil, the Harvest is the End of the World, and the Reapers are the Angels.

40. According as the Cockle therefore is picked up, and burnt in the Fire; so will it be at the End of this World:

41. The Man will send his Angels; and they will pick up out of his Kingdom all Things that offend, with those who do Iniquity,

42. And will cast them into a Hearth of Fire; there Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth will be.

43. Then the Righteous will shine out as the Sun, in their Father's Kingdom. He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

44. Again the Kingdom of Heaven is like Treasure hid in a Field, which a Man finding, hides, and for Joy of it goes, and sells all that ever he has, and buys that Field.

45. Again the Kingdom of Heaven is like a Man that was a Merchant, seeking for good Pearls;

46. Who having found one exceeding precious Pearl, went away, and sold all that ever he had, and bought it.

47. Again the Kingdom of Heaven is like a Net cast into the Sea, and gathering together some Fish of every Kind;

48. Which, when it was full, they bringing up on the Shoar, and sitting down, picked the good into Vessels, but cast the corrupt out.

49. Thus will it be at the End of the World: the Angels will come forth, and separate the Wicked from among the Righteous:

50. And will cast them into a Hearth of Fire; there Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth will be.

51. Jesus says to them, Have you understood all these Things? They answer him, Yes, Lord.

52. Upon which he replied to them, For this reason every Scribe that is taught for the Kingdom of Heaven, is like a Man that is a Householder, who brings out of his Treasure new and old Things.

53. At length when Jesus had made an end of these Similitudes, he departed thence.

54. And coming into his own Country, he taught them in their Synagogue; so that they were surprized, and said; Whence has he this Wisdom and the powerful Things?

55. Is not this the Carpenter's Son? Is not his Mother called Mary, and his Brethren James, Joses, Simon and Judas?

Ver. 27. thy] not with some.

Ver. 28. Some Enemy] Gr. An Enemy Man, and the Gen. Verf. as I since see, Some envious Man.

Ver. 34. without] at that Time.

Ver. 35. founding] As the Gr. Word must signify, or equivalent to it. And of what Authority is any Writer's following the ctm. Transf. to force such a Meaning on foundation? For which that Language has also a different Word, as in 1 Cor. iii. 10, 11, 12, &c.

Ver. 36. leaving] as the Gr. is more properly, and the sense as much or more than sent away; see Scott's Note.

Ver. 37. Sower] A Participle in the Gr. and not to be made the present Tense, Ver. 39.

Ver. 51. Jesus says to them] Mills pretends, the following being a little too abrupt, this was put for the sake of Perspicuity, but he adds, before the Times of Chrysostom; so then we may best suppose by Matthew himself, notwithstanding four or five have dropped it, and perhaps long after.

Ver. 55. his Brethren] Cousins, according to Hammond, &c. which this Word in Scripture is used for. But let us compute, their Mother being named Mary, Ch. xxvii. 56.

56. And are not his Sisters all with us? Whence therefore has he all these Things?

57. So they were offended at him. But Jesus said to them, A Prophet is not without Honour, excepting in his own Country, and in his own House.

58. And he did not do many powerful Things there, by reason of their Unbelief.

C H A P. XIV.

AT that Time Herod the Tetrarch heard the News of Jesus.

2. Whereupon he said to his Servants, This is John the Baptizer, he is risen from the Dead, and for this reason powerful Things operate in him.

3. For Herod had taken hold of John, and bound him, and put in Prison, by reason of Herodias the Wife of his Brother Philip.

4. For John said to him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5. And he being minded to kill him, was afraid of the Company, because they regarded him as a Prophet.

6. But when Herod's Birth-day was kept, the Daughter of Herodias danced in the midst of them, and pleased Herod.

7. He thereupon professed with an Oath, to give her whatever she should ask for.

8. And when she had been instructed before by her Mother, she said, Give me the Head of John the Baptizer, here on a Plate.

9. At which the King, sorry as he was, did by reason of the Oath, and of those who were sitting together, command it should be given.

10. Accordingly he sent, and had John beheaded in the Prison.

11. Moreover his Head was brought on a Plate, and given to the Maid; which she brought to her Mother.

12. And his Disciples coming thither, took up the Body, and buried it; then they came, and told Jesus.

13. Which Jesus hearing, departed thence in a Ship into a desert Place privately; this when the Multitude heard, they followed him on Foot from the Cities.

14. Upon that Jesus going out, saw much Company, and was moved with Affection to them, and cured their Sick.

15. At length when it was Evening, his Disciples came to him, saying, It is a desert Place, and the Hour is now past; send the Multitude away, that they may go hence into the Villages, and buy themselves Meat.

16. But Jesus answered them, They have no Need to go away; do ye give them some to eat.

17. And they say to him, We have none here, excepting five Loaves, and two Fishes.

18. Yet he replied, Bring these hither to me.

19. Next when he had commanded the Multitude to sit down on the Grass, taking the five Loaves and two Fishes, he looked up to Heaven, and blessed; then breaking, gave the Loaves to the Disciples, and they to the Multitude.

20. Who all did eat, and were filled; nay they took up what was over and above of Fragments twelve Baskets full.

21. Now those who eat were about five thousand Men, beside Women and Children.

22. Jesus then presently compelled his Disciples to go aboard a Ship, and to go before him to the farther Side, whilst he sent the Multitude away.

Mark xv. 40, 47. and she the Sister of Jesus's Mother, John xix. 25. how is it possible they could be his Brothers in the primary Meaning? see also Luke xxiv. 18. John xix. 25. And what Whistly pleads here so speciously to the contrary, is big with Absurdity: for their Mother being the Wife of Joseph before the Virgin Mary, they would not be Sisters by being his Wives, nor by Birth, as having the same Name, nay in Opposition to both these Things, they were then living together; and what he pitches on, for their Mother and the Mother of Jesus to be one Person, carries its own Improbability with it, and their Mother being put so often not first, Ch. xxvii. 56, 61. & xxviii. 1. Mark xv. 40, 47. & xvi. 1. &c. as the Mother of Jesus is, John xix. 25, 26. and for the three Women in Ch. xxvii. 56. Mark xv. 40. & John xix. 25. to be the same, Mary, Salome, &c. must be but one, and the Mother of Zebedee's Children be the Wife of Cleophas. Would it be related in such a strange confused Manner?

Ver. 2. powerful Things operate] West. these mighty powers exert themselves; as if the powers were animate Beings, with these added as the very Scripture.

Ver. 3. Philip] rejected by Mills on the Faith of two only, when he had thought otherwise!

Ver. 8. when] as in Mark vi. 24.

Ver. 9. by reason of the Oath] Wesley in his Explanatory Notes upon the New Test. 2d and best Edit. has to it, So he murdered an innocent Man, from mere Tenderness of Conscience! But whatever other Motive of Conscience he might have, from Bigotry or Mistake, it appears to be different from Tenderness, as that is from Murder; and that it was not mere Tenderness, the next Words shew.

Ver. 10. had John beheaded] which Josephus tells of, Antiq. B. 18. Ch. 7.

Ver. 13. privately] so translated Chap. xxiv. 3.

1b. followed] Both Ham. and Whit. say, took a compass by Land, but it was rather went a nearer Way as at Mark vi. 33.

Ver. 19. gave the Loaves] The Fishes, I suppose, are not mentioned here, being not broke, but probably cut; besides being done perhaps separately, Mark vi. 41.

Ver. 21. about] This, says Mills, is Luke's, not Matthew's, Pr. 1246. though he has no Copy, nor Author without it, and only the Syr. Transf. trusting also to the Lat. of that; yet he might have added Vulg. Pers. and Arab.

23. Which

23. Which when he had done, he went up on a Mountain privately to pray; and it being Evening, he was there alone.

24. But the Ship was already in the midst of the Sea, tossed about by the Waves: for the Wind was contrary.

25. And in the fourth Watch of the Night Jesus went away to them, walking on the Sea.

26. This the Disciples seeing, were troubled, saying, It is an Apparition; and cried out for Fear.

27. Whereas Jesus spoke to them as follows, Take courage, it is I, do not fear.

28. And Peter made answer to him, Lord, if it be thou, command me to come to thee on the Water.

29. He accordingly said, Come. So Peter went down from the Ship, and walked on the Water to come to Jesus.

30. But seeing the Wind was strong, he feared; and beginning to sink, cried out thus, Lord, save me.

31. And presently Jesus stretching forth the Hand, took hold of him, and said to him, Thou of little Faith, for what didst thou doubt?

32. Besides when they went aboard the Ship, the Wind ceased.

33. Upon which those in the Ship came, and worshipped him, saying, Truly thou art the Son of God.

34. At last passing over, they came into the Country of Gennesaret.

35. The Men also of that Place knowing him, sent into that whole Region round about, and they brought to him all who were ill,

36. And besought him, that these might only touch the Skirt of his Garment; and whoever touched, became safely well.

CHAP. XV.

THEN there came to Jesus from Jerusalem Scribes and Pharisees, who said,

2. For what reason do thy Disciples transgress the Tradition of the Elders? For they wash not their Hands when they eat Victuals.

3. But he made answer to them: For what reason do you also transgress the Commandment of God by your Tradition?

4. For God commanded thus, Honour thy Father and Mother; and, Let him who curses Father or Mother be quite put to Death.

5. Yet you say; Whoever shall tell Father or Mother, Whatsoever thou mightest be profited with by me is a Gift;

6. He may then not honour his Father or his Mother at all: so you have repealed the Commandment of God by your Tradition.

7. O Hypocrites, Esaias prophesied well concerning you as follows;

8. This People come nigh me with their Mouth, and honour me with the Lips, but their Heart is far from me;

9. Thus they worship me in vain, teaching the Doctrines, the Commandments of Men.

10. Moreover he called thither the Company, and said to them; Hear, and understand:

11. Not what enters into the Mouth pollutes a Man; but that which comes out thence, does it.

12. His Disciples then coming, said to him, Dost thou know that the Pharisees at hearing the Speech were offended?

13. But he made answer; Every Plantation which my heavenly Father has not planted, will be rooted up.

14. Let them alone; they are blind Guides of the Blind: and if a blind Person guide a blind one, both will fall into a Pit.

15. Nevertheless Peter made reply to him, Declare to us this Similitude.

16. And Jesus rejoined; Are you yet also simple?

17. Do not you yet understand, that every Thing which enters into the Mouth, goes into the Belly, and is cast forth into the Vault?

Ver. 33. came] seems thrust in, quoth Mills, for the sake of more copious Explanation, Pr. 1466. but not with the Ethiop. only wanting it, as in Whitby's Exam. L. ii. 2.

Ver. 35. knowing him] as Mark vi. 54.

Ib. they brought] not those who sent, Mark vi. ult.

Ver. 4. commanded thus] This Mills would have a Comment for [said,] the true Reading which a few retain, Pro. 389. when he thought before, as I incline to do still, that was taken from Mark vii. 10. for what Explanation does said want? And why any more here than in Mark? Why not made both alike, if they were so at first? Moreover he quoted commanded only in the Place of spoke, in his Note.

Ib. thy] several are without, but Whitby vindicates it in Examen, Lib. ii. C. 2. and in his Annot. between Ver. 13 and 14. of Edit. 4. yet as to his saying Mills rejects it, no such Thing appears.

Ver. 5. Whatsoever] as if he should say, Whatever I can spare, I have given to a religious Use.

Ib. a Gift] is God added Ptolemy, whose Time Cave places A. D. 150; and so in the next Ver. by Addition the Tradition of your Elders, Epiphan. Hæret. N°. 3, &c.

Ver. 8. come nigh me with their Mouth, and] wanting with some, though it does not stand together in the Gr. The Citation is from Isa. xxix. 13. and is thus Mark vii. 6. to which latter I suppose it left out to be conformable, notwithstanding Mills puts it for an Addition in our Bibles; see Whitby as at Ver. 4.

Ver. 9. teaching the Doctrines] as appears by the Transl. of the Septuag. whence this is taken, which has and between Doctrines and Commandments.

Ver. 13. Plantation] as Hammond, &c. render it, and he says it signifies not one single Plant; nay since it means the Pharisees, Ver. 12, 14. that is requisite.

Ver. 17. not yet] How much easier is it to suppose avēr shrunk to av, or nondum to non in some Copy, making only not; than with Mills, that the latter was first, and the former crept in from Chap. xvi. 9.

18. Whereas the Things which go out of the Mouth, come out of the Heart; and those pollute a Man.

19. For out of the Heart come wicked Reasonings, Slaughters, Adulteries, Whoredoms, Thefts, false Evidences, Blasphemies.

20. These are the Things that pollute a Man; but to eat with Hands unwashed does not.

21. Afterwards Jesus going out thence, withdrew into the Parts of Tyre and Sidon.

22. And behold a Canaanite Woman coming forth from those Borders, cried out to him, as follows, Have mercy upon me, Lord, Son of David, the Devil has possession of my Daughter grievously.

23. However he did not answer her a Word; whereupon his Disciples coming near, thus intreated him, Send her away, since she cries after us.

24. But he made answer, I am not sent but to the lost Sheep of the Family of Israel.

25. Upon this she coming, worshipped him and said, Lord, help me.

26. He again made answer, It is not well to take the Children's Bread, and throw to Puppies.

27. Yet she replied, Yes, Lord; forasmuch as Puppies eat of the Crumbs that fall from the Table of their Masters.

28. Then Jesus gave answer to her, O Woman, thy Faith is great; let it be to thee as thou wilt. Accordingly her Daughter was healed from that Hour.

29. And Jesus departing thence, came nigh the Sea of Galilee, and going up on a Mountain, sat down there.

30. Where a great Multitude came to him, having with them Lame, Blind, Dumb, Cripples and many others, whom they put down at the Feet of Jesus, and he cured them.

31. So that the Multitude wondered, at seeing the Dumb speak, the Cripples sound, the Lame walk, and the Blind see; and glorified the God of Israel.

32. Jesus also calling thither his Disciples, said, I am moved with Affection to the Company, because they have remained with me now three Days, and have Nothing to eat; and I will not send them away fasting, lest they should any time faint in the Way.

33. At which his Disciples say to him, Whence should we have so much Bread in the Wilderness, that may fill so great a Company?

34. And Jesus enquires of them, How many Loaves have you? To which they answered, Seven, and a few little Fishes.

35. So he commanded the Multitude to sit down on the Ground.

36. Next he took the seven Loaves and the Fishes, and giving Thanks, broke, and gave to his Disciples; and the Disciples to the Company.

37. Who did all eat, and were filled; nay they took up of the Fragments that were over and above seven Baskets full.

38. Now those that eat were four thousand Men, beside Women and Children.

39. At last sending away the Multitude, he went into a Ship, and came into the Borders of Magdala.

21. Thenceforth Jesus began to shew his Disciples, that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many Things from the Elders, high Priests, and Scribes, as also be killed, and the third Day be raised up.

22. At this Peter taking him aside, began to rebuke him thus, Let there be mercy to thee, Lord; this shall not at all be to thee.

23. But he turned, and said to Peter, Begone behind me, Satan, thou art an Offence to me; since thou dost not mind the Things of God, but those of Men.

24. Jesus then said to his Disciples; If any one would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his Cross, and follow me.

25. For whoever would save his Life, will lose it; and whoever shall lose his Life for my sake, will find it.

26. For what Profit would it be to a Man, if he should gain the whole World, but suffer the Loss of his Soul? Or what shall a Man give for the Exchange of his Soul?

27. For the Man will come in the Glory of his Father, with his Angels; and then will render to each according to his Deeds.

Ver. 27. Statēr] The Name of a Piece of Money containing the Weight of four Drachmas.

Ver. 1. saying] not to him, but one to another, Mark ix. 33, 34. Luke ix. 46. so Whitby.

2. Upon this Jesus called thither a little Child, and set him in the midst of them,

3. And said : I tell you certainly ; Except you shall be converted, and become as little Children, you will not at all enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

4. The very same therefore that shall humble himself like this little Child, is greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven.

5. Moreover whosoever shall receive one such little Child in my Name, receives me.

6. On the contrary whoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it would be more profitable for him that a Millstone should be hanged on his Neck, and he drowned in the Depth of the Sea.

7. Wo is to the World by Offences, though they must needs come ; nevertheless wo is to that Man by whom Offence comes.

8. And if thy Hand or thy Foot offend thee, cut them off, and thrown them from thee : it is better for thee to enter into Life lame or a Cripple, than having two Hands or two Feet, to be thrown into everlasting Fire.

9. As likewise if thy Eye offend thee, pull it out, and throw from thee : it is better for thee to enter into Life with one Eye, than having two Eyes to be thrown into Hell Fire.

10. See you do not despise one of these little ones : for I say to you, that their Angels in Heaven always behold the Face of my Father who is there.

11. For the Man is come to save that which is lost.

12. What do ye think ? If any Man has a hundred Sheep, and one of them go astray ; does not he leave the ninety nine, and going on the Mountains, seek for that which went astray ?

13. And if it come to pass that he finds it, I tell you certainly, that he rejoices more for it, than for the ninety nine which did not go astray.

14. Thus it is not the Will with your Father who is in Heaven, that one of these little ones should be lost.

15. And if thy Brother sins against thee, go, and convict him between thee and him alone : if he should hearken to thee, thou hast gained thy Brother.

16. But if he will not hearken, take with thee one or two more, that by the Mouth of two or three Witnesses every Word may stand.

17. If he shall further refuse to hearken to them, tell the Church ; and if he shall also refuse to hearken to the Church, let him be to thee as a Heathen and a Publican.

18. I say to you certainly, Whatsoever you shall bind on the Earth, will be bound in Heaven ; and whatsoever you shall let loose on the Earth, will be let loose in Heaven.

19. Again I say to you, that if two of you shall agree on the Earth concerning any Matter whatsoever they shall ask for, it will be done for them by my Father who is in Heaven.

20. For where two or three are assembled together in my Name, there am I in the midst of them.

21. Then Peter coming to him, said, Lord, how often shall my Brother sin against me, and I forgive him ? Till seven times ?

22. Jesus answers him : I do not say to thee, Till seven times, but till seventy times seven.

23. For this reason the Kingdom of Heaven may be likened to a Man that was a King, who would take account of his Servants.

24. Which he beginning to take, there was brought to him one who owed ten thousand Talents.

25. This he having not to pay, his Lord commanded that he should be sold, with his Wife and Children, and all that ever he had, and that it should be paid.

26. The Servant therefore fell down, and revered him, saying, Lord, be forbearing to me, and I will pay thee all.

27. So the Lord of that Servant being moved with Affection, let him go, and forgave him the Debt.

28. Yet the same Servant went out, and found one of his Fellow-servants, that owed him a hundred Pence, whom he took hold of, and held by the Throat, demanding, Pay me what thou owest.

29. His Fellow-servant therefore falling down at his Feet, thus besought him, Be forbearing to me, and I will pay thee all.

Ver. 10. their Angels] The Angels which by God's Appointment take care of them, Wall in Crit. Not.

Ver. 26. reverenced] not taking them to be divine, as was the Case of Cornelius, Act. x. 25. and John, Rev. xix. 10.

Ver. 29. therefore] not and.

Ib. all] a pretty many Books omit, and the Reason that Whitby gives why it should be retained, because in Ver. 26. makes it more doubtful, as it might be taken from thence ; yet it might be omitted too because there, and Possession may turn the Scale.

30. However he would not; but went away, and threw him into Prison, till he should pay the Debt.

31. But when his Fellow-servants saw what was done, they were grieved exceedingly; and coming, declared to their Lord all that was done.

32. Then his Lord calling him thither, says to him; O wicked Servant, I forgave thee all that Debt, since thou besoughtest me.

33. Oughtest thou not also to have had mercy upon thy Fellow-servant, even as I had mercy upon thee?

34. Nay his Lord being angry, delivered him to the Tormentors, till he should pay all that was due to him.

35. Even thus will my heavenly Father do to you, if ye do not each forgive his Brother from your Hearts their Offences.

CHAP. XIX.

AND when Jesus had made an end of these Sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the Borders of Judea, along the farther Side of Jordan.

2. Moreover a great Multitude followed him, and he cured them there.

3. The Pharisees also came to him, who tempting him, said to him, Is it lawful for a Man to send away his Wife for what Cause soever he will?

4. And he made answer to them; Have you not read, that he who made at the Beginning, made them Male and Female?

5. And said, For this Cause let a Man forsake Father and Mother, that he may cleave to his Wife; since the two shall be one Flesh.

6. So that they are no more two, but one Flesh: what God therefore has yoked together, let not Man separate.

7. They say to him, Why did Moses then command to give a Bill of Divorce, and to send her away?

8. He replies to them; Moses for your Hardheartedness permitted you to send away your Wives, but at the Beginning it was not so.

9. And I say to you, Whoever shall send away his Wife, excepting for Whoredom, and shall marry another, commits Adultery; and he who marries her that is sent away, commits Adultery.

10. His Disciples say to him further, If the Case of a Man with a Wife be so, it is not profitable to marry.

11. But he rejoined to them; All do not receive this Saying, but they to whom it is given.

12. For there are Eunuchs, who were born so from the Mother's Womb; and there are Eunuchs, who were made such by Men; there are also others, who have made themselves Eunuchs for the Kingdom of Heaven: he that can receive, let him.

13. Then little Children were brought to him, that he might put Hands on them, and pray; but the Disciples rebuked them.

14. Whereas Jesus said, Permit little Children, and do not forbid them to come to me: for the Kingdom of Heaven is of such.

15. So he put Hands on them, and went thence.

16. And behold one coming near, enquired of him, Good Master, what Good shall I do, that I may have everlasting Life?

17. To whom he said, Why dost thou call me good? None is good, excepting one, even God: but if thou wouldest enter into Life, keep the Commandments.

18. He asks him, Which? And Jesus said; Thou shalt not murder, thou shalt not commit Adultery, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not give Evidence falsely, 19. Honour thy Father and Mother; and, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self.

20. The young Man says to him, All these Things I have observed from my Youth; what am I in want of more?

21. Jesus replied to him, If thou wouldest be perfect, go, sell the Things which are thine,

Ver. 1. along the farther Side] See Mark x. 1. and here is the same Gr. Word as there.

Ver. 5. And said] viz. God by Moses or the Scripture, Gen. ii. 24. tho' Whitby supposes it from Mark x. 6, 7. to be Christ; but his pleading from this in the next Ver. with So that, shews it otherwise; and Whitby himself adds saying at the End of Mark x. 6. for it to be God there, however the Quotation is there without And said.

Ver. 11. do not]. So Gell takes notice it is, not cannot, Essay, p. 537.

Ver. 17. call me good? None is good, excepting one] for which some have, ask me concerning Good? There is one good, and the Criticks count it genuine; but there is no Necessity for that, since Mat. surely might have the same as Mark and Luke, not to say must (as one is not an Addition to the other) but some early Hand, when the Interpolators were, the Ebionites, Marcionists, Valentinians, &c. before Origen, who mentions the pres. Reading of Mark and Luke without Mat. might enter the other into some Copy, as more direct to the Question; whereas our Lord used not to answer directly. This may be sufficient, with the Weight of Books, for the received Lectio, and Whitby, whom I have consulted since.

Ver. 19. and, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self] Origen relates was added in; but he might think so, because it is not in Mark and Luke. As to Mills's Query, How could the young Man then want any Thing? Jesus told him what he wanted besides that.

Ver. 20. from my Youth] Added from Mark or Luke, Mills. Easily said.

and give to the Poor, and thou wilt have Treasure in Heaven; and come, follow me.

22. But the young Man hearing the Saying, went away sorry: for he was one who had many Possessions.

23. Whereupon Jesus said to his Disciples; I tell you certainly, that it will be difficult for a rich Person to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

24. And again I say to you, It is easier for a Camel to go through the Eye of a Needle, than for a rich Person to enter into the Kingdom of God.

25. Which when his Disciples heard, they were surprized exceedingly, saying, Who then can be saved?

26. However Jesus looking on, replied to them, With Men this is impossible, but with God all Things are possible.

27. Then Peter made answer to him, Behold we have left all, and followed thee; what then will there be for us?

28. And Jesus said to them: I tell you certainly, that ye who have followed me in being born again, when the Man shall sit upon the Throne of his Glory, ye will also sit on twelve Thrones, judging the twelve Tribes of Israel.

29. Nay, every one who has left Houses, Brothers, Sisters, Father, Mother, Wife, Children, or Land, for the sake of my Name, will receive a hundred-fold, and inherit everlasting Life.

30. But many first will be the last, and last the first.

CHAP. XX.

FOR the Kingdom of Heaven is like a Man that was a Householder, who went out early in the Morning, to hire Workmen into his Vineyard.

2. And agreeing with the Workmen for a Penny a Day, he sent them into his Vineyard,

3. Going out also about the third Hour, he saw others standing idle in the Market-place.

4. Upon which he said to them, Go ye also into the Vineyard, and whatsoever is just I will give you: so they went.

5. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth Hour, and did in like Manner.

6. About the eleventh Hour too going out, he found others standing idle, and says to them, Why do ye stand here the whole Day idle?

7. They answer him, Because Nobody has hired us. He replies to them, Go ye also into the Vineyard, and whatever is just you shall receive.

8. And when it was Evening the Master of the Vineyard says to his Steward, Call the Workmen, and pay them the Wages, beginning from the last to the first.

9. Accordingly those coming who were about the eleventh Hour, received a Penny apiece.

10. But when the first came, they supposed that they should receive more; whereas these also received a Penny apiece.

11. On receiving which, they murmured against the Householder as follows,

12. These last have wrought one Hour, and thou hast made them equal to us, who bore the Burden of the Day, and the Scorching.

13. However he made answer to one of them; Companion, I do thee no Injury; didst not thou agree with me for a Penny?

14. Take thy own, and go; since I am minded to give to this last, even as to thee.

15. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with my own? Is thy Eye wicked, because I am good?

Ver. 23. difficult] for hardly reads as if it was scarcely, in a more vague and obscure Meaning.

Ver. 24. Camel] Had it been Cable, as Bochart and Whitby contend, there is no Probability it would have been altered to Camel; but the contrary is very probable, as two Copies have it so; yet not the Syr. nor Arab. though Whit. says it: I don't find it has been considered that a Needle might be made big enough for a Cable-rope, and so not impossible to Men, Ver. 26. and that it is go through act. not be put or pulled through pass. nor is this Saying of a Camel strange, since the Jews had such a Proverb of an Elephant; of which consult Hammond, with the Mistake made (and yet Whitby repeats it) of this Gr. Word signifying a Cable.

Ver. 26. possible] Wesley to impossible, which should be to this, has, representing the Salvation of a rich Man, as the utmost Effort of Omnipotence; and before, A poor Man; a Peasant; a Beggar: ten thousand of them; sooner than one that is rich, can be saved.

Ver. 28. being born again] as regeneration signifies. Our Annotators seem inclined to have the Partition at me, for this to belong to the following; and Wall in Crit. Notes says, by it here is meant the same as by the restitution, Acts iii. 21. but Mills has only one MS. besides some of Ste- phens's, so pointed, and it is a Force upon the Expression to join it with when, to which if it belonged, it would properly be after.

Ver. 30. first] such as those spoken of in the foregoing Verses: and thus, as well as by the Order of the Words in the Original, this Way of translating is justified; rather than Scott's, But Many shall be First, that are Last, where But seems inconsistent with the foregoing; besides he makes this and that in Ch. xx. 16. alike, when they are opposite in the Gr.

Ver. 1. For] Scott, notwithstanding his great and commendable (though but necessary) Attention, in his New Version and Notes, writes thus, It is difficult to see the Connection usually expressed by this Particle, and seems to think it redundant here: yet it appears clear to me from Ver. 29. before; where the Bounty of God to his Servants is declared, which the following Similitude illustrates, Ver. 9, 14, 15.

Ver. 10. should receive] The publick Eng. Transf. says Scott, is certainly improper, because their Expectation was future.

Ver. 11. Householder] as Ver. 1.

Ver. 15. with my own] which Mills says is Commentary, not Text, Proleg. 397. a Transf. or two having missed or

16. Thus some last will be the first, and some first the last: for many are called, but few chosen.

17. And as Jesus went up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve Disciples privately in the Way, and said to them;

18. Behold we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Man will be delivered up to the chief Priests and Scribes; and they will condemn him to Death;

19. As likewise deliver him up to the Gentiles, to mock, whip and crucify; and the third Day he will rise up.

20. Then came to him the Mother of Zebedee's Sons, with her Sons, who worshipped, and asked for Something.

21. And he said to her, What wouldest thou have? She replies to him, Say that these my two Sons shall sit, one at thy right Hand, and one at thy left, in the Kingdom.

22. But Jesus made answer, You know not what you ask for: can you drink the Cup which I am about to drink, and be baptized with the Baptism that I am baptized with? They reply to him, We can.

23. With that he says to them, You will indeed drink my Cup, and be baptized with the Baptism that I am baptized with; nevertheless to sit at my right Hand, and at my left, is not mine to give; but is for whom it is prepared by my Father.

24. This when the ten heard, they were enraged at the two Brothers.

25. But Jesus calling them, said; You know that the Princes of the Gentiles rule over them, and the Grandees have authority above them.

26. Yet it shall not be so among you; but whosoever would become great among you, let him be your Waiting-man:

27. And whosoever would be the first among you, let him be your Servant.

28. According as the Man is not come to be waited on, but to wait on, nay give his Life a Redemption for many.

29. As they went forth too from Jericho, a great Company followed him.

30. And behold two blind Men who sat by the Way, when they heard that Jesus passed along, cried out thus, Have mercy upon us, Lord, Son of David.

31. Whereas the Company rebuked them, that they should be silent; but they cried out the louder, saying, Have mercy upon us, Lord, Son of David.

32. And Jesus standing still, called them, and enquired, What would ye have me do to you?

33. They say to him, Lord, that our Eyes may be opened.

34. So Jesus being moved with Affection, touched their Eyes; which presently had Sight, and those followed him.

CHAP. XXI.

AND when they came near to Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, at the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two Disciples,

2. Saying to them; Go on to the Village over against you, and presently you will find an Ass tied, and a Colt with her; them undo, and bring to me.

neglected it. But he represents it also needless, which is not to be allowed, as the Saying would be both imperfect and improper without it.

Ver. 17. in the Way] The vulg. Lat. not having this, Mills roundly affirms it is of Mark x. 32. notwithstanding the Expression there is different.

Ver. 18. delivered up] as in the next Verse.

Ver. 20. asked] Witber in Hymn 73. observes well on it,

*Whereby we finde how much ado,
The best men have this world to leave;
How, when they wealth and friends forego,
Ambitious aims to them will cleave.
And sure this Angel-sin aspires,
In such men chiefly to reside,
That have exilde those brute desires
Which in the vulgar sort abide.*

*To thee, oh God, we therefore pray,
Thy humble minds in us may dwell;
And charme that Fiende of Pride away,
Which would thy Graces quite expell:*

*But of all other those men keep,
From this Delusion of the Foe,
Who are the Shepherds of thy Sheep,
And should each good example shew.*

*For such as still pursuing be
That greatness which the world respects,
Their servile baseness neither see,
Nor feele thy Spirits rare effects.*

which may be too useful to be lost, as it was too scarce to be referred to.

Ver. 22, 23. and be baptized—baptized with] All have not these, and more have not the latter, both which Mills therefore ascribes to Mark, Pr. 674. but the Vulg. being one of them might promote it in the rest, and it might be for Abridgment; see also Whitby.

Ver. 23. is for whom] Several would have it to whom; but the Gr. Particle for but seems to forbid it, such a but signifying unless or excepting, for which the Gr. uses ἢ.

Ver. 28. In a Manuscript Copy of very great Antiquity, Gr. and Lat. which Beza made use of, mentioning it often in his Notes, and after gave it to the University of Cambridge, there follows after this Verse, But you seek to be increased out of a little, and to be diminished out of that which is greater. Yet bring entered in and invited to dine, do not sit down, &c. nearly as Luke xiv. 8, 9, 10. and the same in a Saxon MS. Lewis's Hist. of Eng. Trans. p. 9. and by Mills. I have thought concerning the ancient Copies, which vary from these commonly received, that they were kept for their Singularity, before they were for their Antiquity; and that the common ones, as being common, were not so preserved: which Consideration, that is quitelike, will turn out much to the Advantage of the latter; and do a great deal towards quieting what Whiston, the Author of the State of printed Heb. Text, &c. have troubled themselves and the World with, in preferring some old Copies to the present vulgar ones.

3. And

3. And if any one says any Thing to you, ye shall answer, that the Lord has Need of them; whereupon he will presently send them.

4. Now the whole of this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet as follows;

5. Say to the Daughter of Sion, Behold thy King comes to thee, meek, and riding upon an Ass, and a Colt the Foal of it.

6. Accordingly the Disciples went, and doing as Jesus commanded them;

7. Brought the Ass and Colt, and upon them they put their Cloaths, and let him sit upon these.

8. Moreover a very great Company spread their Cloaths in the Way; as also others cut off Branches from the Trees, and spread there.

9. The Multitude too that went before and followed, cried out thus, Pray save be to the Son of David; he is blessed who comes in the Name of the Lord; pray save be to him that is in the highest Places.

10. At length he entering into Jerusalem, all the City was in a Commotion, asking; Who is this?

11. Upon which the Multitude said, This is the Prophet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.

12. Jesus also entered into the Temple of God, and put forth all who sold and bought in the Temple, and the Tables of the Money-changers he overthrew, as likewise the Seats of those that sold Doves.

13. And he says to them; It is written, my House shall be called the House of Prayer; but you have made it a Cave of Robbers.

14. Besides there came to him the Blind and Lame in the Temple, and he cured them.

15. However the chief Priests and Scribes seeing the wonderful Things which he did; and the Children trying out in the Temple, and saying, Pray save be to the Son of David; they were enraged;

16. And asked him, Dost thou hear what these say? And Jesus says to them; Yes; have you never read, Thou hast compleated a Vindication by the Mouth of Infants and sucking Babes?

17. Afterwards he left them, and went forth without the City to Bethany, and lodged there.

18. And in the Morning returning back to the City, he was hungry.

19. When seeing one Fig-tree in the Way, he came to it, and found Nothing on it but Leaves only; so he says to it; Let there no more be Fruit from thee for ever: with that the Fig-tree immediately withered.

20. Which the Disciples seeing, wondered; and said, How the Fig-tree is immediately withered!

21. But Jesus made answer to them: I tell you certainly; If you have Faith, and do not doubt, you shall not only do what there is to the Fig-tree, but also if you say to this Mountain, Be thou lifted up, and cast into the Sea; it shall be done.

22. Nay all Things whatever ye ask for in Prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23. Next he came into the Temple, and as he was teaching, there came to him the chief Priests; and Elders of the People, saying, By what Authority doest thou these Things? And who gave thee this Authority?

24. But Jesus made answer to them; I will also ask one Matter of you, which if ye tell me, I also will relate to you by what Authority I do these Things.

25. Whence was the Baptism of John?

Ver. 4. the whole of] not with some, and Mills says is aliunde, from some other Place; but it is fit we should know where, before we discard it; see also Whit. Exam.

Ver. 6. doing] the Gr. being a Participle, while and brought is Tautology with did, Ver. 2.

Ver. 7. upon them] that he might ride on which he pleased, who chose the Colt, Mark xi. 7. Luke xix. 35:

Ib. upon these] viz. the Cloaths.

Ver. 9. Pray save] by Hammond Save I beseech thee.

Ver. 12. the Temple] which the Court for the People was sometimes called, as Godwyn in his Moses and Aaron says, B. ii. Ch. 1. especially in the Writings of the New Testament; as the Tabernacle had also been called, 1 Sam. iii. 3.

Ib. put] not cast or threw the Men. I have consulted Commentators in vain for the true Time of this, and the withering of the Fig-tree, which Mat. and Mark alternately put first. They relate indeed, and agree from Mark xi. 11. that this was the second Day of Jesus's coming to Jerusalem and the Temple, yet suppose he healed the Blind and Lame mentioned here Ver. 14. on the first of the Days; which latter I think unlikely as it stands here, and because he seems to have gone thither in the Evening, Mark xi. 11. perhaps to Prayer according to Act. iii. 1. & Ver. 13. Now that Mark, writing after Mat. adjusted Things more in Order, where they dissent, is most likely; besides the Affair of the Fig-tree being in the Morning, Ver. 18. and of the 2d Day, Mark xi. 12. this Transaction in the Temple will be after on the same Day, Mark xi. 15. as also what here begins at Ver. 23. on the 3d Day, Mark xi. 19, 20, 27, 28. Luke xx. 1, 2. from whence it appears that the Place of this Ver. 12, and to the 18, in Order of Time would be between the 22, & 23.

Ver. 16. a Vindication] This Quotation is from the Gr. Vers. of Psa. viii. 2. whose Translator, I suppose thinking Strength not plain enough, would signify by alvor, as it means, a Vindication or strong proverbial Saying, fittest for Children to utter; though the same Gr. Word otherwise denotes Praise, which the old Lat. Transf. adopting, others have taken it on Trust from him, notwithstanding the Stretch is quite too wide for Strength to mean Praise.

Ver. 20. withered!] Better expressed by a Note of Admiration, than of Interrogation, Scott's Note; which see farther:

From Heaven, or from Men? Whereupon they reasoned thus with themselves; If we say, From Heaven; he will retort to us, For what reason then did not you believe him?

26. But if we say, From Men; we fear the Company: for all hold John as a Prophet.

27. So they made answer to Jesus, We do not know. He also said to them: Neither tell I you by what Authority I do these Things.

28. But what do ye think? A Man had two Children, and going to the first, he said, Son, go, work to Day in my Vineyard.

29. Whereas he made answer, I will not; yet afterwards repenting, he went.

30. And going to the second, he said in like manner. Whereas he made answer, I will, Lord; but went not.

31. Which of the two did the Will of the Father? They say to him, The first. Jesus replies to them; Verily I say to you, that the Publicans and Harlots get into the Kingdom of God before you.

32. For John came to you in the Way of Righteousness, and ye believed him not, but the Publicans and Harlots did; which you seeing, did not repent afterwards, to believe him.

33. Hear another Similitude; there was some Man a Householder, who planted a Vineyard, put a Hedge about it, dug in it a Winepress, built a Tower, let it out to Husbandmen, and travelled away.

34. Now when the Time of the Fruits came near, he sent his Servants to the Husbandmen, to receive the Fruits of it:

35. And the Husbandmen taking his Servants, beat indeed one, killed another, and stoned another.

36. Again he sent other Servants, more than the first; and they did to them in like Manner.

37. At this he afterwards sent to them his Son, saying, They will reverence my Son.

38. But the Husbandmen seeing the Son, said among themselves, This is the Heir, come, let us kill him, and seize his Inheritance.

39. Him accordingly they took, and threw forth without the Vineyard, as well as killed.

40. When the Master of the Vineyard therefore shall come, what will he do to those Husbandmen?

41. They say to him, He will grievously destroy these evil ones, and let out the Vineyard to other Husbandmen, who will render to him the Fruits in their Times.

42. Jesus replies to them; Have you never read in the Scriptures, The same Stone that the Builders rejected, is become the Head of the Corner: this is come to pass by the Lord, and it is wonderful in our Sight?

43. For this reason I tell you, that the Kingdom of God will be taken away from you, and be given to a Nation yielding the Fruits of it.

44. And he that falls on this Stone, will be broke to pieces; but it will dash him, on whom it shall fall, to shivers.

45. Thus the chief Priests and Pharisees hearing his Parables, knew that he spoke concerning them.

46. Yet seeking to take hold of him, they feared the Multitude, since they esteemed him as a Prophet.

C H A P. XXII.

MOREOVER Jesus spoke to them again in Parables in the following manner:

2. The Kingdom of Heaven is likened to a Man that was a King, who made a Marriage for his Son.

3. And sent his Servants to call those who were invited to the Marriage, but they would not come.

4. Again he sent other Servants, saying; Tell them that are invited, Behold I have got ready my Dinner; my Oxen and fat Beasts are killed, and all Things are ready: come to the Marriage.

5. Yet they neglected, and went away, one indeed to his own Field, and another to his Merchandise.

6. Nay the Residue taking hold of his Servants, abused and stoned them.

7. Which when the King heard of, he was angry; afterwards sending his Warriors, he destroyed those Murderers, and burnt their City.

8. Then he says to his Servants; The Marriage indeed is ready, but those who were invited, have been unworthy.

9. Go therefore to the High-ways, and whomsoever you shall find, call to the Marriage.

10. Accordingly those Servants went out

Ver. 33. some] several being void of, Mills would have an Insertion from Luke, Pr. 674. yet it might rather be pruned off, as more unnecessary with Householder.

Ver. 39. Him they took] The him in the Original is with took as Mills has it, and with cast after the false Complutensian Copy, as in our Transf.

Ver. 42. Sight?] Our Bibles now have the End of the Question here, but the early Editions had the Note at Corner, making the latter Part none of the Quotation from Psa. cxviii. 22, 23. And Scott, though so exact a Translator, has left that Point quite out.

into the Ways, and gathered together all that ever they found, both bad and good, whereby there were enow sate down at the Marriage.

11. At length the King coming in, to see them that sate down, beheld there a Man not dressed in Wedding-cloaths.

12. Whereupon he says to him, Companion, how didst thou come in hither, without having Wedding-cloaths? And he was speechless.

13. The King then said to the Ministers, Bind his Hands and Feet, and take him, and cast forth into outer Darknes; there Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth will be.

14. For many are called, but few chosen.

15. Then the Pharisees went, and took counsel, how they might insnare him in Discourse.

16. So they sent to him their Disciples, with the Herodians, who said; Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the Way of God in Truth, and dost not care for any: for thou lookest not at the Person of Men.

17. Tell us therefore, what dost thou think? Is it lawful to give Tribute to Cesar, or not?

18. But Jesus knowing their Wickedness, said; Why do ye tempt me, Hypocrites?

19. Shew me the Money of the Tribute. So they brought him a Penny.

20. And he asks them, Whose Image and Superscription is this?

21. They say to him, Cesar's. Then he replies to them, Render therefore Cesar's Things to Cesar, and those of God to God.

22. Which they hearing, wondered; and leaving him, went away.

23. On that Day came to him the Sadducees, who say there is no Resurrection, and asked him as follows:

24. Master, Moses said, If any Man dies, having no Children, his Brother shall marry his Wife, and raise Offspring for him.

25. Now there were with us seven Brothers, and the first having married, deceased; and as he had no Offspring, left his Wife to his Brother.

26. In like Manner also the second, and the third, to the seventh.

27. Moreover last of all the Wife also died.

28. In the Resurrection therefore whose Wife of the seven will she be? For they all had her.

29. But Jesus made answer to them; You err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the Power of God.

30. For in the Resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in Marriage, but are as the Angels of God in Heaven.

31. And have not ye read concerning the Resurrection of the Dead, what was spoken thus to you by God,

32. I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the Dead, but of the Living.

33. Which the Multitude hearing, were surprized at his Doctrine.

34. Besides when the Pharisees heard that he had made the Sadducees speechless, they were gathered together.

35. And one of them, an Expounder of the Law, asked, trying him in this manner,

36. Master, which is the great Commandment in the Law?

37. To whom Jesus said; Thou shalt love the Lord thy God in thy whole Heart, in thy whole Soul, and thy whole Mind;

38. This is the first and great Commandment.

39. The second also is like it, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self.

40. On these two Commandments all the Law and the Prophets hang.

41. Now the Pharisees being gathered together, Jesus asked them as follows,

42. What do ye think concerning Christ? Whose Son is he? They say to him, David's.

43. He replies to them; How then does David in Spirit call him Lord thus;

44. The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right Hand, until I make thy Enemies thy Footstool?

45. If David therefore calls him Lord, how is he his Son?

46. And none was able to answer him a Word, nor did any one dare from that Day any more to enquire of him.

Ver. 13. take him, and] is lacking in some Versions, &c. whence Mills declares it put in for Copiousness; but was rather put out, because it was thought absurd to take him after he was bound; which yet is not, as it was then to cast him forth. Whitby omits answering this among others.

Ver. 35. an Expounder of the Law] being a Pharisee, Ver. 34. and a Scribe, Mark xii. 28. so rendered by Beza, Legis interpret, and our modern Lawyer has a different Sense.

Ib. trying] not tempting wickedly, Mark xii.

Ver. 40. all] One Copy and 2 or 3 Versions being without this, Mills took it not to be genuine; for Nobody, he says, would ever have erased out that Word: yet it is not altogether unlikely Somebody over scrupulous might, however it might be left out by Oversight, and the more probably as being like the End of the last Word. Whitby in his Manner opposes Mills with telling who have it, which is little to the Purpose, especially as it is implied by Mills that the rest have it.

C H A P. XXIII.

THEN Jesus spoke to the Multitude, and to his Disciples, as follows :

2. The Scribes and Pharisees sit in the Seat of Moses.

3. All Things therefore whatsoever they shall bid you to observe, observe and do ; but do not according to their Deeds : for they say, and do not.

4. For they bind up Loads heavy and grievous to be born, which they lay upon Men's Shoulders ; but will not move any of them with their own Finger.

5. Nay they do all their Deeds to be seen by Men : thus they enlarge their Labels, and make the Fringes of their Cloaths great.

6. They also love the first Places at Suppers, and the first Seats in the Synagogues ;

7. As likewise Salutations in the Markets, and to be called by Men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8. But do not you be called Rabbi : for there is one your Master Christ, but you are all Brethren.

9. And do not call any your Father on the Earth : for there is one your Father in Heaven.

10. Nor be you called Masters : for one is your Master Christ.

11. Whereas he that is the greatest of you, shall be your Waiting-man.

12. He also who exalts himself, will be humbled ; and he who humbles himself, will be exalted.

13. But wo is to you, Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites ; because ye shut the Kingdom of Heaven before Men : for ye neither go in, nor permit those who are going in to do it.

14. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites ; because ye devour Widows Houses, and pray long in Pretence : for this reason ye will receive more abundant Judgment.

15. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites ; because ye go about Sea and Land, to make one Profelyte ; and when he is made, ye make him doubly more a Son of Hell than your selves.

16. Wo is to you, blind Guides, that say, Whoever shall swear by the Temple, it is Nothing ; but whoever shall swear by the Gold of the Temple, is indebted.

17. Foolish and blind ones ! for which is superior, the Gold, or the Temple that sanctifies the Gold ?

18. And whosoever shall swear by the Altar, it is Nothing ; but whoever shall swear by the Gift upon it, is indebted.

19. Foolish and blind ones ! for which is superior, the Gift, or the Altar that sanctifies the Gift ?

20. He therefore that swears by the Altar, swears both by it and all Things upon it.

21. And he that swears by the Temple, swears both by it and him who dwells in it.

22. He likewise that swears by Heaven, swears by the Throne of God, and by him who sits upon it.

23. Wo is to you, Scribes and Pharisees, Hypocrites ; because ye give tythe of Mint, Anise and Cummin, and have left the more weighty Things of the Law, Judgment, Mercy and Faith : ye ought to do these, though not leave them.

24. Blind Guides, that strain out a Gnat, but swallow down a Camel !

Ver. 4. and grievous to be born] Mills says, it is Luke's, 4 or 5 Translations being without it ; a rash Way of judging, when Luke too has not the same Expression, Chap. xi. 46.

Ib. not move any of them] not put a Finger to them, Luk. xi. 46. to move so much as that could move. But alas what do those make of Things who do not attend to the literal Sense ! The wiser Part of them may well say Nothing. The Meaning Lyra exhibits thus, Medicum Conatum ad agendum talia nolunt apponere, They will not apply a small Endeavour to do such Things : who expounded so well the literal Sense of the Scripture, that the Romanists said of him,

Nisi Lyra lyraffet,

Nemo nostrum saltasset ;

If Lyra had not played on the Lyre, none of us should have danced ; whose Commentaries in 4 vols. fol. I have, printed at Nuremberg 1497, he being an English Christian Jew.

Ver. 5. Labels] Exod. xiii. 16. Deut. vi. 8. & xi. 18. Phylacteries being Gr.

Ib. Fringes] Num. xv. 38, 39. Deut. xxii. 12.

Ib. of their Cloaths] Four or five Copies and Translations together not having this, it has been deemed a Supplement, though so necessary, and as if those were weightier than many more.

Ver. 14. This whole Verse some do not acknowledge, and is therefore adjudged by Mills to be fetched (he should have said made) from Mark xii. 40. or Luke xx. 47. it may better be thought, that in three or four Sentences beginning alike one was missed. In both Whitby's Examen and Annot. it is mistaken for being no further than Hypocrites, though the Place of the Prel. cited, as well as Mills's Note has otherwise ; but the whole is spoken of after Ver. 19. see also Scott's Reply in Review.

Ver. 18. indebted] no other than in Ver. 16. and not signifying guilty.

Ver. 19. Foolish and] prefixed, quoth Mills, from Ver. 17. Prel. 395. whose Criticisms of this Sort, if you examine as much and as candidly as I have done, you may believe as little. I suppose this might be at the End of a Line, and so missed by the Translator of the vulg. Lat. to which it is out of Dispute some Gr. has been made conformable.

Ver. 23. Hypocrites] Wm. Tyndal in his Prologue to Jonas writes, In open Sinnes there is hope of repentance, but in bely ypocrysy none at al.

Ver. 24. strain out] as from Milk, &c. that they might not drink it down, according to their Exposition of the Law in Lev. xi. as may be seen in Gill's Quotations, which makes it intelligible. 25. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites; because ye cleanse what is without the Cup and Platter, but within they are full of Pillage and Excess.

26. Blind Pharisee, cleanse first the Inside of the Cup and Platter, that the Outside of them may also be clean.

27. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites; because ye are like whitened Graves, which without indeed appear beautiful, but within are full of the Bones of the Dead, and all Uncleanneſs.

28. Thus ye also without indeed appear to Men righteous, but within are full of Hypocrisy and Iniquity.

29. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Pharisees, Hypocrites; because ye build up the Graves of the Prophets, and adorn the Tombs of the Righteous;

30. And say, If we had been in the Days of our Forefathers, we would not have been their Partners in the Blood of the Prophets.

31. So that ye testify for your selves, that ye are the Sons of them who murdered the Prophets.

32. And fill ye up the Measure of your Forefathers.

33. Serpents, Offspring of Vipers, how will ye flee from the Judgment of Hell?

34. For this reason behold I send you Prophets, wise Men, and Scribes; some of whom ye will kill, and crucify, some of them also whip in your Synagogues, and persecute from one City to another:

35. That there may come upon you all the righteous Blood shed on the Earth, from the Blood of righteous Abel, to that of Zacharias, the Son of Barachias, whom ye murdered between the Temple and the Altar.

36. I tell you certainly, that all these will come upon this Generation.

37. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the Prophets, and storest those who are sent to thee, how often would I have gathered together thy Children, in the Manner a Hen does her Chickens under the Wings, and ye would not!

38. Behold your House is left to you desart.

39. For I tell you; Ye shall not at all see me henceforth, until ye say, He is blessed who comes in the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIV.

AFTERWARDS Jesus going out, went from the Temple, and his Disciples came near, to shew him the Buildings of it.

2. To whom Jesus said; Do not ye see all these? I say to you certainly, Here will not be left one Stone at all upon another, which will not be quite demolished.

3. And he sitting down upon the Mount of Olives, the Disciples came to him privately, saying, Tell us, when will these Things be, as also what the Sign of thy Coming, and of the End of the Age?

4. Upon which Jesus made answer to them: That none may seduce you.

5. For many will come in my Name, saying, I am Christ; and will seduce many.

6. Besides you will hereafter hear of Wars, and News of Wars; see that you be not troubled: for all must come to pass, but the End is not yet.

7. For one Nation will rise up against another, and one Kingdom against another; and

In behalf of the present Reading it might be said, that he had both these Names, and I will add, that Jesus having spoken the former, as well known to the Jews, Joiada might be* substituted from Chren. for the sake of Perspicuity to others, rather than the contrary; for this Zacharias see circumstantially Whitby's Annot.

there will be Famines, with Pestilences, and Earthquakes throughout the Places.

8. Yet all these will be the Beginning of Pangs.

9. Then will they deliver you up to Affliction, and kill you; and you will be hated by all Nations for my Name.

10. Nay then will many be offended, and deliver up one another, and hate one another.

11. Moreover divers false Prophets will rise up, and seduce many.

12. And because Iniquity will be increased, the Love of many will become cold;

13. But he who perseveres to the End, shall be saved.

14. And this Gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached in the whole World, for a Testimony to all Nations; and then the End will come.

15. When therefore you see the abominable Thing of Desolation, spoken of by the Prophet Daniel, stand in the holy Place (let him who reads understand)

16. Then let those in Judea flee to the Mountains;

17. Let him on the House-top not come down, to take any Thing out of his House;

18. And let him in the Field not return back, to take his Cloaths.

19. Wo also will be to them who are with Child, and to such as give suck in those Days.

20. But pray that your Flight may not be in the Winter, nor on the Sabbath.

21. For there will be then such great Affliction, as has not been from the Beginning of the World till now, nor will be at all.

22. And if those Days should not be shortened, no Flesh would be saved; but for the sake of the chosen ones those Days will be shortened.

23. Then if any one shall say to you, Behold here is Christ, or there; do not believe.

24. For false Christs and false Prophets will rise up, and give great Signs and Wonders; so that they would seduce, if possible, even the chosen ones.

25. Behold I have foretold you.

26. If therefore they shall say to you, Lo he is in the Wilderness; do not go out: Lo in the Closets; do not believe.

27. For according as the Lightning comes out from the East, and shines to the West; so will also the Coming of the Man be.

28. For wheresoever the dead Body is, thither will the Eagles be gathered together.

29. Presently too after the Affliction of those Days, the Sun will be darkened, the Moon not give its Light, the Stars fall from Heaven, and the Powers of the Heavens be shaken.

30. And then will appear the Sign of the Man in Heaven; so that then all the Tribes of the Earth will lament, when they see the Man come in the Clouds of Heaven, with Power and much Glory.

31. He will also send his Angels with a Trumpet of a loud Sound, and they will gather together his chosen ones from the four Winds, from one End of the Heavens to their other.

32. Moreover learn a Similitude from the Fig-tree; When its Branch is now tender, and sprouts forth Leaves, you know that Summer is near:

Ver. 15. the abominable Thing of Desolation] the Heathen Roman Army making desolate, Luke xxi. 20.

Ver. 16. flee] Accordingly the Christian Jews fled to Pella beyond Jordan, and were preserved, as Eusebius and Epiphanius relate; and see Luke xxi. 21.

Ver. 22. for the sake of the chosen ones] viz. the Christian Jews perhaps, that they might be delivered from the Jewish Law by the Overthrow of the Temple, and be saved by the Gospel, according to Gal. v. 2, 4. and particularly might be those mentioned at Ver. 16. let it be tried whether any other Interpretation, with respect to that Time, is so suitable.

Ver. 24. false Christs] Wm. Tyndal says in his Obedience of a Christian Man, Though I for a Consideration have translated false Christs, keeping the Greek Word; yet signifieth it in the English false Anointed, and ought so to be translated.

Ver. 28. the Eagles] which the Roman Army had for Ensigns.

Ver. 29, 30. Hammond and Whitby apply all in these Verses to the Overthrow of the Jews by the Romans, as Lightfoot and the latter do that in the 31st to the gathering of the Christian Church; which Ver. 34. may seem to confirm, especially as it has all with these Things, and so Luke xxi. 32. But Wall distinguishes between these Ver. 34. and that Ver. 36. referring the first to all from Ver. 5. to Ver. 30. and the latter to Ver. 30, 31. yet [then] may again seem to combine Ver. 30. to Ver. 29. in Time, as also at Luke xxi. 27. However if I go so far in such great Company, I must make a full Stop here, and not take Rev. i. 7. also in that Sense, as both Ham. and Whit. do, nor 1 Thes. v. 2. 2 Thes. i. 7, 8, 9, 10. 2 Pet. iii. 10, 12. as Ham. not Whit. for so we might disbelieve any future visible Coming of Jesus to Judgment, since Acts i. 11. might be expounded in the same Manner, and perhaps 1 Thes. iv. 15, 16, 17. if the Clouds may be made metaphorical; besides how did the Destruction of Jerusalem and the Temple, concern or belong to the distant Christians of Lesser Asia? Whitby besides his Paraphrase and Annotations, has an Appendix on this Chap. in Answer to Whiston, and another to Grotius; which latter to the 3 Questions (or threefold Question) of the Disciples, Ver. 3. supposes Jesus answering thus, to the first (Part) as far as to Ver. 23. to the second, which he refers to the Time of Constantine, but others to the general Conversion of the Jews, from thence to Ver. 30. and to the last concerning the End of the World after; but Whitby asserts that at least to Ver. 34. (I suppose he meant inclusive) it is only of the Destruction of the Jews, a little inconsistent with what he says of Ver. 31. and to me he discourses more plainly and convincingly of it in his Gen. Pref. p. 29, 30, 31, 32.

Ver. 31. Trumpet of a loud Sound] according to the Gr. as also Scott's Transf.

33. So also when you see all these Things, know that it is near at the Doors.

34. I say to you certainly, This Generation will by no means pass away, until all these Things are done.

35. Heaven and Earth will pass away, but my Words will not at all.

36. Nevertheless concerning that Day and Hour none knows, not the Angels of Heaven, but my Father only.

37. Now according as the Days of Noe, so will also the Coming of the Man be.

38. For according as they were in the Days before the Flood, eating and drinking, marrying and giving in Marriage, till the Day that Noe entered into the Ark;

39. And did not know till the Flood came, and took them all away: so will also the Coming of the Man be.

40. Then two Men being in the Field, one will be taken, and one left.

41. Of two Women grinding at a Mill, one will be taken, and one left.

42. Watch therefore; since you know not in what Hour your Lord comes.

43. But this know, that if a Householder had known in what Watch the Thief would come, he would have watched, and not let his House be broke through.

44. For this reason be you also ready; since the Man comes in an Hour which you do not think.

45. Who then is a faithful and wise Servant, whom his Lord has set over his Family, to give them Food in Season?

46. That Servant will be blest, whom his Lord when he comes shall find doing so.

47. I tell you certainly, that he will set him over all the Things he has.

48. But if that Servant being evil says in his Heart, My Lord delays coming;

49. And begins to beat the Fellow-servants, and also to eat and drink with Drunkards:

50. The Lord of this Servant will come in a Day that he does not expect, and in an Hour that he does not know of;

51. And will cut him asunder, and put his Part with Hypocrites; there Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth will be.

C H A P. XXV.

THEN will the Kingdom of Heaven be likened to ten Virgins, who took their Lamps, and went out to meet a Bridegroom;

2. Five of them being wise, and five foolish.

3. They who were foolish, taking their Lamps, did not take Oil with them.

4. Whereas the wise took Oil in their Vessels with their Lamps.

5. And as the Bridegroom delayed, they all slumbered and slept.

6. But at Midnight there was a Cry made, Behold the Bridegroom is coming, go out to meet him.

7. Then all those Virgins arose, and trimmed up their Lamps.

8. And the foolish said to the wise, Give us some of your Oil, because our Lamps are gone out.

9. But the wise answered thus, No, lest at any time there should not be sufficient for us and you; but go rather to them that sell, and buy for your selves.

10. Now while they were gone away to buy, the Bridegroom came; so those who were ready went in with him to the Marriage, and the Door was shut.

11. But afterwards the rest of the Virgins also come, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

12. Nevertheless he made answer; I say to you certainly, I do not know you.

13. Watch therefore, since you know not the Day nor Hour, in which the Man will come.

14. For it is according as a Man who travelling away, called his own Servants, and delivered to them the Things which he had.

15. And to one he gave five Talents, to another two, and to another one, to each according to his own Ability; and presently travelled away.

Ver. 36. that Day and Hour] when Heaven and Earth will pass away, Ver. 35. of a sudden as the Flood of Noe came, Ver. 37, 38, 39. and the Destruction of Sodom, Luke xvii. 28, 29, 30. and being joined to the Chap. after this by then; yet Hammond applies it all to the Overthrow of the Jews by the Romans, which was doing some Years; and Whitby inconsistently Ver. 39, 40, 41. but not Ver. 36.

Ver. 38. they were] according to the Gr. and as in Scott's late Version.

Ver. 40, 41. taken] as Paul declares 1 Thes. iv. 16, 17. but tallies poorly with the Destruction of the Jews, and particularly with on or in that Night, Luke xvii. 34. tho' Whitby praises Hammond for referring it thither.

1b. one left] not the other here as in Luke xvii. 35, 36.

Ver. 48. coming] a Verb, not a Noun.

Ver. 11. come] the pres. Tense, as in Mark ii. 3, 18. & xi. 15, 27.

Ver. 12. I do not know you] i. e. you are Strangers to me.

Ver. 13. in which the Man will come] taken from Ch. xxiv. and perhaps Ver. 44. says Mills, several Exemplars and Versions being without it; but what great Matter is that, as so usual, since many more are with it, and these Words are not there?

16. Whereupon he who had received five Talents going, wrought with them, and made other five Talents.

17. In like Manner also he with two, did himself also gain other two.

18. But he that had received one going away, dug in the Ground, and hid his Lord's Money.

19. And after much Time the Lord of those Servants comes, and takes Account of them.

20. When he coming near who had received five Talents, brought so many more, saying, Lord, thou didst deliver five Talents to me; so I have gained to them other five.

21. Upon this his Lord answered him, Well, good and faithful Servant, thou hast been faithful over a few Things, I will set thee over many; enter into the Joy of thy Lord.

22. And he also coming near who had received two Talents, said, Lord, thou didst deliver two Talents to me; so I have gained to them other two.

23. His Lord answered him, Well, good and faithful Servant, thou hast been faithful over a few Things, I will set thee over many; enter into the Joy of thy Lord.

24. Next he likewise came near, who received one Talent, and said; Lord, I know thou art a hard Man, who reapest where thou hast not sown, and gatherest together whence thou hast not dispersed.

25. So being afraid, I went away, and hid thy Talent in the Ground; behold thou hast thy own.

26. But his Lord made answer to him; Wicked Servant and slothful, since thou knewest I reap where I did not sow, and gather together whence I did not disperse;

27. Thou shouldest have put my Money to the Bankers; that on my coming I might have received what was mine with Interest.

28. Take therefore the Talent from him, and give to him that has the ten Talents.

29. For to every one who has shall be given, and it shall abound; but from him that has not, shall be taken away even what he seemingly has.

30. Moreover cast forth the unprofitable Servant into outer Darknes; there Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth will be.

31. And at the Time when the Man shall come in his Glory, and all the holy Angels with him, he will sit on his glorious Throne.

32. All Nations too will be gathered together before him; and then will he separate one from another, according as a Shepherd does the Sheep from the Goats.

33. Besides he will indeed make the Sheep stand at his right Hand, and the Goats at the left.

34. Then will the King say to those at his right Hand; Come, O blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the founding of the World.

35. For I was hungry, and you gave me to eat; thirsty, and you made me drink; was a Stranger, and you took me in;

36. Naked, and you clothed me; sick, and you visited me; was in Prison, and you came to me.

37. Then will the Righteous answer him as follows; Lord, when did we see thee hungry, and fed; or thirsty, and made drink?

38. When also did we see thee a Stranger, and took in; or naked, and clothed?

39. When likewise did we see thee sick, or in Prison, and come to thee?

40. And the King will make reply to them; I tell you certainly, Whatsoever you did to one of the least of these my Brethren, you did to me.

41. Then will he say also to them on the left Hand; Go from me, O cursed, into everlasting Fire prepared for the Devil and his Angels.

42. For I was hungry, and you did not give me to eat; thirsty, and you did not make me drink;

43. I was a Stranger, and you did not take me in; naked, and you did not cloath me; sick, and in Prison, and you did not visit me.

44. Then will they also answer him as follows; Lord, when did we see thee hungry, thirsty, a Stranger, naked, sick, or in Prison, and did not minister to thee?

45. Then will he reply to them thus; I tell you certainly, Whatsoever you did not to one of the least of these, you did not to me.

46. And the latter shall go away into everlasting Torment; but the Righteous into everlasting Life.

Ver. 24. 26. whence] not where as before.

Ver. 32. the Sheep] Our last Translators with their too usual Incorrectness have thrust in his, which was not in the Geneva Edition.

Ver. 33. indeed] Mills mentions but one MS. without this (and Translations might neglect it as ours) yet reckons that genuine, Presl. 383, 384, 392.

Ver. 39. likewise] $\delta\epsilon$ as at Ver. 38. not or, as our Eng. Translators have made it from the Vulg.

Ver. 40. Whatsoever] In as much as, the same with forasmuch as, is quite of another Meaning from the Gr.

Ver. 41. prepared] which my Father prepared, Mills thought the right Reading; but has not told us why a few Copies, with no other Reason, should be preferred before many. To me that seems more a Glifs.

C H A P. XXVI.

AND when Jesus had made an end of all these Speeches, he said to his Disciples,

2. You know that two Days hence the Passover is, and the Man is delivered up to be crucified.

3. Then the chief Priests, Scribes, and Elders of the People gathered together into the Hall of the high Priest, called Caiaphas;

4. And consulted together, that they might take hold of Jesus by Deceit, and kill.

5. However they said, Not at the Feast, lest there should be a Tumult among the People.

6. Now Jesus having been in Bethany, in the House of Simon the Leper;

7. There came to him a Woman who had an Alabaster-box of very precious Ointment, and poured upon his Head, as he sat down.

8. Which when his Disciples saw, they were enraged, saying; What is there this Waste for?

9. Since that Ointment could have been sold for much, and this given to the Poor.

10. That Jesus knowing, said to them; Why do ye give the Woman Trouble? For she has wrought a good Work for me.

11. Since ye have always the Poor with you, but have not me always.

12. And she putting this Ointment on my Body, did it for me to be buried.

13. I tell you certainly, Wheresoever this Gospel is preached in the whole World, there shall be spoken also what she has done, in Remembrance of her.

14. Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief Priests,

15. And said, What are you willing to give me, that I may deliver him up to you?

And they appointed for him thirty Pieces of Silver.

16. Thus from that Time he sought an Opportunity, that he might deliver him up.

17. And on the first of unleavened Bread the Disciples came to Jesus, asking him, Where wouldest thou have us get ready for thee to eat the Passover?

18. Whereupon he said; Go into the City to such a one, and tell him, Master says, My Time is near, with thee will I make the Passover along with my Disciples.

19. And the Disciples did as Jesus appointed them, and got the Passover ready.

20. So while it was Evening, he sat down with the twelve.

21. Moreover as they were eating, he said, I tell you certainly, that one of you will deliver me up.

22. Upon this they being exceedingly sorry, began each of them to say to him, Is it I, Lord?

23. To which he made answer; The same who dipped the Hand with me in the Dish, will deliver me up.

24. The Man indeed goes, as it is written concerning him; but wo will be to that Man by whom he himself is delivered up: it would have been well for that Man, if the same had not been born.

25. And Judas who delivered him up made answer, Is it I, Rabbi? He replied to him, Thou hast said it.

26. Now as they were eating, Jesus took Bread, and blessing, broke; then gave to the Disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my Body.

27. The Cup likewise he took, and giving thanks, gave to them, saying, Drink all of it.

28. For this is my Blood of the new Covenant, shed for many for the Forgiveness of Sins.

Ver. 1. all] Mills recites some that have it not; Whitby in Answer to it (which admitted none) or his Examination of the Various Readings of Mills, as he entitles his Book (which here amounted to Nothing) without culpating any Thing, produces a few others which have it, while we learn from Mills himself that they are many.

Ver. 3. Scribes] crept from other Gospels, says Mills, by the Absence of it with some.

Ver. 6. having been] that is four Days before, Ver. 2. with Joh. xii. 1. and this may be referred back to Ch. xxi. 17. as it is also in Luk. vii. 36. and is a Participle of the 2 Aor. not of the pres. Tense; overlooked by Scott, who translates, Now Jesus being.

Ver. 15. thirty Pieces] four pound ten shillings, Ham. tho' Whitby relates he says 3l. 15s. which is easily seen.

29. But I tell you, that I will not at all drink henceforth any of this Product of the Vine, till that Day when I shall drink it with you new in the Kingdom of my Father.

30. And having sung praise, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

31. Then Jesus says to them; All you will be offended at me this Night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the Sheep of the Flock shall be dispersed.

32. Nevertheless after I am risen up, I will go before you into Galilee.

33. At which Peter made answer to him, If they should even all be offended at thee, I never will.

34. Jesus told him, I say to thee certainly, that this Night, before the Cock has crowed, thou wilt thrice deny me.

35. Peter replies to him, If I must even die with thee, I will not at all deny thee; and in like Manner said all the Disciples.

36. Then Jesus comes with them into a Place, called Gethsemane, and says to the Disciples, Sit here, whilst I go away, and pray there.

37. So taking Peter, and the two Sons of Zebedee, he began to be sorrowful and grieved.

38. He then says to them, My Mind is very sorrowful to Death; remain here, and watch with me.

39. And going on a little, he fell on his Face, and praying, said, My Father, if it is possible, let this Cup pass away from me; nevertheless not as I would, but as thou.

40. Afterwards he comes to the Disciples, and finds them asleep, and says to Peter; So, were you not able to watch one Hour with me?

41. Watch, and pray, that you may not enter into Trial: the Spirit indeed is ready, but the Flesh weak.

42. Again he went away the second time, and prayed as follows, My Father, if this Cup cannot pass from me, except I drink it, thy Will be done.

43. And when he came, he finds them asleep again: for their Eyes were heavy.

44. Upon which he left them, and going away again, prayed the third time, speaking the same Matter.

45. Then he comes to his Disciples, and says to them; Sleep on, and be refreshed; behold the Hour draws near, and the Man is delivered up into the Power of Sinners.

46. Rise up, let us go along; behold he that delivers me up draws near.

47. And while he was speaking, lo Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great Company, with Swords and Sticks, from the chief Priests and Elders of the People.

48. Now he that delivered him up gave them this Sign, Whomsoever I shall kiss is he; take hold of him.

49. And presently coming to Jesus, he said, Hail, Rabbi; and kissed him.

50. With that Jesus said to him, Companion, what art thou come for? Then coming near, they put Hands upon Jesus, and took hold of him.

51. And lo one of those with Jesus stretching forth the Hand, drew out his Sword, and striking a Servant of the high Priest, took off his Ear.

52. Then said Jesus to him; Turn back thy Sword into its Place: for all who take the Sword shall perish by it.

53. Dost thou think that I cannot beseech my Father, and he would provide for me more than twelve Legions of Angels?

54. How then will the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it must so be?

55. At the same Time Jesus said to the Multitude; Are you come out as against a Robber, with Swords and Sticks to take me; I sate daily with you teaching in the Temple, and you did not take hold of me.

56. But the whole of this has been done, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the Disciples left him, and fled.

57. And those that took hold of Jesus, had him away to Caiaphas the high Priest, where the Scribes and Elders were gathered together.

58. Peter notwithstanding followed him far off, to the Hall of the high Priest; and entering in, sat down with the Officers, to see the Conclusion.

59. Next the chief Priests, Elders, and the whole Council sought for false Evidence against Jesus, that they might put him to death.

60. Yet they found none; nay though many false Witnesses came thither, they found none. However afterwards two false Witnesses coming thither,

61. Declared; He said, I can destroy the Temple of God, and in three Days rebuild it.

62. And the high Priest rising up, said to him, Dost thou answer Nothing? What do they testify against thee?

63. But Jesus was silent. Whereupon the high Priest made answer to him, I conjure thee by the Living God, that thou wilt tell us, whether thou art Christ the Son of God.

64. Jesus says to him; Thou hast spoken it: nevertheless I say to you, Hereafter you will see the Man sit at the right Hand of Power, and come on the Clouds of Heaven.

65. The high Priest then tore his Cloaths asunder, saying, He has blasphemed; what Need have we of Witnesses further? Lo now you have heard his Blasphemy:

66. How does it seem to you? And they made answer, He is guilty for Death.

67. They then spit in his Face, and beat him; as likewise some struck,

68. Saying, Prophecy to us, Christ, who it is smote thee.

69. Whilst Peter too sat without in the Hall, there came to him a young Woman, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70. Whereas he denied before them all as follows, I am ignorant of what thou sayest.

71. Besides when he was gone out into the Porch, another saw him, and says to those there, He also was with Jesus the Nazorite.

72. And again he denied with an Oath, I do not know the Man.

73. A little after likewise they who stood by coming near, said to Peter, Truly thou art also one of them: for even thy Speaking makes thee manifest.

74. Then he began to curse at it, and swear, I do not know the Man. And presently the Cock crowed.

75. Upon this Peter remembered the Words of Jesus, who said to him, Before the Cock has crowed, thou wilt deny me thrice. And going out abroad, he wept bitterly.

C H A P. XXVII.

AND when it was Morning, all the chief Priests, and the Elders of the People took a Consultation against Jesus, so that they might put him to death.

2. Whom they bound, as also carried away, and delivered him up to Pontius Pilate the Governor.

3. Judas then who delivered him up, seeing that he was condemned, repented, and carried back the thirty Pieces of Silver, to the chief Priests and Elders,

4. Saying, I have sinned, in delivering up innocent Blood. But they said, What is it to us? Do thou look to it.

5. Whereupon throwing down the Pieces of Silver in the Temple, he departed; and being gone away, hanged himself.

6. And the chief Priests taking the Pieces of Silver, said, It is not lawful to put them into the Treasury, since it is the Price of Blood.

7. So taking Counsel, they bought with them the Potter's Field, for the Burial of Strangers.

8. Therefore that Field is called the Field of Blood to this Day.

Ver. 59. Elders] some want, but that it crept in from other Parts of this Chap. as Mills pronounces, Presl. 392. I am not forward to credit, and find no such; for in Ver. 3. 47. it is with of the People, and Ver. 57. with Scribes.

Ver. 61. He] fellow is too irreverent to be added by the Translators.

Ver. 64. Hammond and Whitby expound as Chap. xxiv. 30.

It. Thou hast spoken it] viz. that which is so, as in Luk. xxii. 70. though both unintelligible in the com. Transl. while it, often understood in the Original, makes Sense.

Ver. 66. for Death] By guilty of death, says Wells here, we commonly understand guilty of having killed another; and the Genitive rendered by for see in Ch. xvi. 26. Jude 11. Rom. viii. 36. 2 Thes. iii. 5.

Ver. 67. struck] the same Word as in Ch. v. 39. without the Meaning of, or any Thing for, with the palms of their hands.

Ver. 73. makes thee manifest] Look at Mar. xiv. 70.

Ver. 74. to curse at it] to express the Force of the Preposition (prefixed to the Verb, and that used in Mar. xiv. 71.) as Beza speaks, though he does it otherwise; but in Kuster's Edit. of Mills are enumerated sixty MS Copies that have a different Reading, which Mills judged was the right, signifying, as I apprehend, to lay it down or affirm; besides what Mills says, it might be left as being a strange Word, and it seems to have a better Gradation to swear, Peter first affirming, then swearing, nay the more likely as several urged the Charge against him, Ver. 73.

Ver. 3. delivered—up] the Verb. that is so rendered in the Ver. before.

9. Then was fulfilled what was spoken thus by the Prophet Jeremy; Accordingly they took the thirty Pieces of Silver, the Value of him that was valued, whom those of the Israelites did value;

10. And gave them for the Potter's Field, as the Lord appointed me.

11. Now Jesus stood before the Governor, who asked him as follows, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said to him, Thou sayest it.

12. And when he was accused by the chief Priest and Elders, he answered Nothing.

13. Then Pilate said to him, Dost not thou hear how many Things they testify against thee?

14. However he did not answer him to any one Word; so that the Governor wondered very much.

15. Now at the Feast the Governor used to release one Prisoner to the Company, whom they would.

16. They had also then a notorious Prisoner, called Barabbas.

17. Therefore they being gathered together, Pilate said to them, Which would ye have me release to you, Barabbas, or Jesus called Christ?

18. For he had perceived that through Envy they had delivered him up.

19. Besides as he sat on the Judgment-seat, his Wife sent Word to him, Have thou Nothing to do with that righteous Man: for I have suffered many Things to Day in a Dream by reason of him.

20. But the chief Priests and Elders persuaded the Multitude, that they would ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21. Accordingly when the Governor made Proposal to them, which of the two would ye have me release to you? They said, Barabbas.

22. Pilate asks them, What then shall I do with Jesus called Christ? They all say to him, Let him be crucified.

23. Whereas the Governor replied, What Evil forsooth has he done? Yet they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24. Thus Pilate seeing that he profited Nothing, but that a Tumult was made the more, took Water, and washed the Hands before the Company, saying, I am innocent from the Blood of this righteous Man; do ye look to it.

25. Upon which all the People made answer, Let his Blood be charged on us, and on our Children.

26. Then he released Barabbas to them; and having scourged Jesus, delivered him up, that he might be crucified.

27. The Soldiers of the Governor then taking Jesus into the Judgment-hall, gathered together the whole Regiment to him.

28. And stripping him, they put on him a scarlet Cloak.

29. As also plaiting a Crown of Briers, they put it upon his Head, and a Reed in his right Hand; then they kneeled down before him, and mocked him thus, Hail, the King of the Jews.

30. Moreover they spit upon him, nay took the Reed, and struck him upon the Head.

Ver. 9. Jeremy] See the Note on Zech. xi. 12. But Wesley leaves it out; what a rare Example to others!

Ib. the Value] to be nearer the Original, though Harvey says no Translation can equal it, Ther. and Asp. V. 3.

Ver. 10. gave] The Gr. Word in the Ver. before for they took may as well signify I took, which the Heb. also is Zech. xi. 13. and the Verb idunav here for they gave would without v be I gave, as the Syr. too has it, and so agree nearer with I cast in Zech. besides that they does not seem to suit well with as the Lord appointed me: from all which the Reader may scarce but think with such great Men as Mede here, and Hammond on Heb. viii. 9. that the v is a Mistake of the Scribe; and I will add how it might be, viz. either because the Word of the Gr. Sept for I cast may be they cast, as well as the foregoing they took, and both end with v like idunav, or because it is the Manner of Gr. to add v at the End of Words with s or t when a Vowel begins the next, as it does here; however not as here after a, but that might be owing to the Ignorance of the Transcriber, and he might be the more induced to insert v, as there would else be a Gr. a and a together; moreover the Gr. Translator of Matthew from the Heb. might make it thus, not he himself. Yet as Mills has no various Reading of I gave (having omitted the Syr.) nor any other, we should, not to disturb the Repose of the sacred Scripture, tread softly; and for it there may be said, 1. that it is not likely the Blunder or Corruption of a single Scribe would be received in all Copies; 2. Matthew might, nay did, paraphrase on the Prophet, instead of quoting him literally; 3. their taking and giving would be as the Prophet was ordered, when they did it by his Order; 4. I took and gave would be improper here, since it is applied to the chief Priests, Ver. 6, 7. and it is plain Mat. adapted the Speech to them, so far as he changed cast into gave; 5. though those Greek Verbs are alike in Zech. yet the Context shews them to be of the 1st Pers. sing. 6. an universal Alteration is incredible, against both the first Original here, and the Sept. there; 7. this could not be a Mistake as rendered from the Heb.

Ver. 14. not—any one] distinct like the Gr. so Scott; never being too vulgar, if that at all.

Ib. the Governor wondered] Though the Syr. only has he wondered, Mills concludes the Vulg. added it, Pr. 1251. which Whitby simply opposes with four others, if not two of them the same.

Ver. 16. notorious] So Gregory says it should be, Notes on some Passages of Scripture.

Ver. 18. had perceived—delivered] the preterpluperfect Tense, and first Aorist; different thus from those Verbs in Mar. xv. 10.

Ver. 24. righteous Man] Mills, from one very corrupt Copy alone, says this seems to have crept in from Abi or elsewhere, Pr. 1278.

Ver. 26. having scourged] before, not then, Joh. xix. 1, 16. and this translating Ham. proposes on Luk. xxiii. and Guyse reasons for.

31. And when they had mocked him, they strip him of the Cloak, and put his Cloaths on him; so had him away to be crucified.

32. And as they went out, finding a Cyrenean Man, named Simon, him they forced to take up his Cross.

33. At length coming into a Place called Golgotha, which is called the Scull Place;

34. They gave him to drink Vinegar mixed with Gall; which he tasted, but would not drink.

35. Next they crucified him, and divided his Garments, casting Lots; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, They divided my Garments to themselves, and cast Lots for my Cloaths.

36. Afterwards sitting down, they kept him there.

37. And they put over his Head his Crime written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38. Then were two Thieves crucified with him, one at the right Hand, and one at the left.

39. Nay those who went by blasphemed him, moving their Heads,

40. And saying, Thou who wouldst destroy the Temple, and in three Days build up, save thy self: if thou art the Son of God, come down from the Cross.

41. And in like Manner also the chief Priests mocking, with the Scribes and Elders; said;

42. He who saved others, cannot save himself: if he is the King of Israel, let him come down now from the Cross; and we will believe him.

43. He trusted on God, let him now deliver him, if he likes him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44. And the Thieves too who were crucified with him, reproached him with the same.

45. Now from the sixth Hour there was Darkness in all the Country, till the ninth.

46. About which Hour Jesus cried out thus aloud, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani; that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47. With that some of them who stood there hearing, said, He calls Elias.

48. So presently one of them running; took a Sponge, which filling with Vinegar, he put on a Reed, and gave him to drink.

Ver. 35. that it might &c.] All this to the End of the Verse is not in above fifty MSS reckoned in Kuster's Edit. of Mills, besides Versions and Authors, and is thought to be taken from Job. xix. 24. but the Vulg. has it, which may have prevailed on the com. Reading and European Translations.

Ver. 37. JESUS] a dozen omit.

Ver. 40. Cross] If the Cross were not, Christ would have Disciples enough, Tyndal's Prologue to Exod.

Ver. 41. Elders] I find upwards of fifty Copies named that have added and Pharisees, but Mills saying no further, and Whitby Nothing about it. The Syr. too has it, with the Arab. and Perf. as Scott writes in his Review of Dr. Mill's Various Readings in St. Mat. but the Vulg. not, so that it seems to be an ancient eastern Reading; and I suppose genuine, as being so diffusive without or against the Vulg. three Copies also having Pharisees instead of Elders, and neither of them being mentioned by Mark, the last might be dropt here.

Ver. 42. he cannot save himself] Mills observes some Copies have it pointed interrogatively, and more in Mar.

Ver. 31. cannot he save himself?
Ib. believe him] More than fifty Copies have believe on him, but Mills objects to it; and it seems justly, according to Mar. xv. 32. i. e. they would believe he could save himself.

Ver. 43. now] omitted by some, as in Psa. xxii. 8. which the Jews used inadvertently; and Mills says is by the Vulg. which is wrong, though put by it self.

Ib. likes] This fulfilling Ver. 8. of the evangelical xxiid Psalm, of which consult Interpreters; whereas he will have is more properly referrible to Jesus.

Ver. 44. Thieves] What was done by one is sometimes said to be done by those of which he was one, and may so much the better the fewer they are.

Ib. reproached] the very same Word with that in Mar. xv. 32. but our Translators, like Hopkins particularly (as I have observed) in the Psalms, seem fond of vulgar Idioms.

Ver. 46. Eli, Eli] The same as in the Heb. Psa. xxii. 1. or the com. Syriack, which Jesus here used, from the Chald. Elahi, and therefore Eloi, Mar. xv. 34.

Ib. lama] from למה lema; as before:

Ib. sabachthani] from the Verb שבח instead of the Heb. שבח

Ver. 47. said] which may refute the Fancy of Hammond, that our Saviour said over all the xxiid Psa. or a considerable Part of it: for that would have put them out of their Mistake; nor was all of it suitable, as David expected to recover, Ver: 20, 21, 22, 25, 31, and that from long Fatigue and Grief, or lingering Illness, Ver. 14, 15, 17. not even Ver: 2, 4, 5. and I cannot be persuaded he would use any Expression unsuitable to his Condition. The Author of Holy David clear'd, in the Pref. says, He chose to perform his last Devotions on the Cross in the Words of David, rather than his own; what this Writer might have been afraid to think, much more to teach others: he also instances in Luk. xxiii. 46: from Psa. xxxi. 5. where Father being our Lord's own Word, overturns his Assertion; and I do not find our Translators of that Mind, who render the Expressions different, as they are, and therefore not a Form, unless from the Seventy, if Christ rather chose their Words than his own.

Ib. Elias] Alludunt isti (ut solent irrisores) ad nomen Eli, non imperitia lingua, ut nonnulli stultè opinati sunt, sed quòd profanus & crudelis animus hac eis impelleret, Beza in Annot. i. e. They mock, as Scoffers use to do; at the Name Eli, not through Ignorance of the Language, as some have foolishly thought, but because they were set on to it by a profane and cruel Mind.

Ver. 48. running] The Greek so abounds with Participles active, that here are four together, n. running, taking, filling and putting; though our Translators have not kept one. Thus there are three in Ch. xiv. 19. & xxvi. 26. with the Parallel of this Mar. xv. 36. Luk. xxiii. 36.

Ib. Vinegar] What an Imagination has J. Wesley here! It does not appear, that this was given Him in Derision; but rather with a friendly Design, that he might not die before Elias came. Did they then who crucified him, believe that Prophet would come, and save him? And did they both endeavour to kill him, and to keep him alive, this being one of them? See also Luk. xxiii. 36.

49. And the rest said, Do thou let alone, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.

50. But Jesus cried out again with a loud Voice, and yielded up the Spirit.

51. When behold the Veil of the Temple was divided into two, from Top to Bottom, nay the Earth quaked, and the Rocks were divided.

52. Moreover the Graves were opened, and many Bodies of Saints who slept were raised up;

53. And coming out of the Graves after his rising up, went into the holy City, and appeared to many.

54. So that the Centurion, and those with him who kept Jesus, seeing the Earthquake and the Things which were done, were exceedingly afraid, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55. Many Women too were there, looking far off, who followed Jesus from Galilee, and ministered to him;

56. Among whom was Mary Magdalene, with Mary the Mother of James and Joses, as also the Mother of Zebedee's Sons.

57. And when it was Evening, there came a rich Man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who was also himself a Disciple to Jesus;

58. He went to Pilate, and asked for the Body of Jesus; then Pilate commanded it to be delivered.

59. Thus Joseph receiving the Body, wrapt it up in clean fine Linen;

60. And laid it in his new Grave, which he had cut out in a Rock; next rolling a great Stone to the Door of the Grave, he went away.

61. Mary Magdalene likewise was there, and the other Mary, sitting over against the Sepulchre.

62. And the next Day, which was after the Preparation, the chief Priests and Pharisees were gathered together to Pilate,

63. Saying; Lord, we remember, that this Seducer said while alive, Three Days after I shall rise up.

64. Command the Sepulchre therefore to be made fast till the third Day, lest his Disciples coming at any time by Night, should steal him away, and say to the People, He is risen up from the Dead; so the last Error will be worse than the first.

65. And Pilate said to them, You have a Watch; go, make it fast, as you know how.

66. Accordingly they went, and made the Sepulchre fast, sealing the Stone, together with a Watch.

C H A P. XXVIII.

BUT in the Night after the Sabbath, at the dawning to the first Day after it, Mary Magdalene came, with the other Mary, to look at the Sepulchre.

2. And behold there had been a great Earthquake: for an Angel of the Lord coming down from Heaven, went thither, and rolled away the Stone from the Door, and fate upon it.

3. Moreover his Look was as Lightning, and his Raiment as white as Snow:

4. Insomuch that for Fear of him the Keepers shook, and became as if dead.

5. Whereas the Angel spoke in this manner to the Women; Do ye not fear; for I know that ye seek Jesus who was crucified.

6. He is not here: for he is risen up, according as he said; come, see the Place where the Lord lay.

7. And going quickly, tell his Disciples, that he is risen up from the Dead: behold also he goes before you into Galilee, there ye shall see him; so I have told you.

Ver. 49. let alone] as Mar. xv. 36. only plur. there.

Ver. 50. yielded up] West. dismissed.

Ver. 51. Rocks were divided] now to be seen, of which look in Ray's Trav. p. 268. Maund. Journ. p. 71. 1 Edit.

Ver. 55. looking] This merely by the Vulg. Mills refuses, and declares it Mark's, Ch. xv. 40.

Ver. 56. Joses] mentioned rather than Judas the Apostle, because he was an elder Brother; of which see at Jude 1. so Mar. xv. 40, 47. & xvi. 1.

Ver. 57. Arimathea] reckoned the same as Ramah, 1 Sam. i. 9. and the Franciscans have a magnificent Convent, supposed to be where his House stood, Corten.

Ver. 60. new Grave] A curious Plan of which, and the Buildings about it, brought from thence in 1738 by Jonas Corten, see in The Compendious Library, Vol. 2.

Ver. 61. was there] there was makes it seem only the Verb-substantive. Scott has there were there, which does not sound well, besides the Change into plural.

Ver. 63. Three Days after] as this Preposition is to be construed with Time. And how insufficient would securing the Sepulchre be till the third Day, if he was not to rise till after three Days! which he also did sooner.

Ver. 64. by Night] several leave out, and Mills says seems added from Ch. xxviii. 13. I suppose not, since the leading Vulg. is among them.

Ver. 1. But] left out of our English, yet so only in three Gr. Copies by Mills.

1b. Night] Gr. Evening, as where this Word else occurs, viz. Mar. xi. 19. & xiii. 35. and being understood here to continue till the Morning Light, Job. xx. 1.

1b. Sabbath] which is the same both times in Gr. and is not week, Luk. iv. 16. Act. xiii. 14. for as Trapp remarks in his Commentary, The Jews gave that Honour to their Sabbath, that they named from it all the other Days of the Week, as the 1st, 2d, 3d day, &c. of the Sabbath (or rather after it;) he adds, which we from the Heathens, a worse Pattern, name Munday, Tuesday, &c.

Ver. 2. had been] As we may find by Mar. xvi. 4. Luk. xxiv. 2. Job. xx. 1. so Ham. here and at Job. 20. N. a.

8. Not more afraid than glad at this, they went out quickly from the Grave, and ran to tell his Disciples.

9. Now as they were going to tell his Disciples, behold Jesus too met them, saying, Hail you; whereupon they came near, and took hold of his Feet, and worshipped him.

10. Then says Jesus to them, Do not fear; go, declare to my Brethren, that they should go away into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11. However as they were going, behold some of the Watch came into the City, and declared to the chief Priests all the Things that were done.

12. Upon which after being gathered together with the Elders, they took Counsel, and gave much Money to the Soldiers,

13. Saying; Tell, His Disciples came at Night, and stole him away when we were asleep.

14. And if this should be heard by the Governor, we will persuade him, and make you secure.

15. So taking the Money, they did as they were taught; and this Saying has been told about with the Jews till this Day.

16. Thus the eleven Disciples went into Galilee, to a Mountain where Jesus appointed them.

17. And on seeing him, they worshipped him; yet some doubted.

18. To whom Jesus came, and spoke to them as follows; There is given to me all Authority in Heaven and on Earth.

19. Go therefore, and teach all Nations, baptizing them into the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit;

20. Teaching them to keep all Things whatever I have commanded you: and behold I am with you every Day to the End of the World: so let it be.

Ver. 8. went out] of the Grave in which they were, Mar. xvi. 5. the very same as in Mar. xvi. 8. ticiples.

Ver. 9. Now as they were going to tell his Disciples] Mills says is of some Scholiast too careful about the Coherence, Pr. 875. though he thought otherwise before, and that of Erasmus looks better, that it was missed as ending like the other before, the very Verb being the same.

Ver. 14. heard] so the Original.

Ver. 17. doubted] whether he was the very same Person who was crucified, which some not much acquainted with him might among so many; and so there be no Need to alter the Original into had doubted, as Doddr. proposes, and renders it so.

Ver. 19. therefore] not in about fifty Copies; possibly the Vulg. might introduce it for Connection, as doubtless it swayed Stephens to insert this when all his 16 MSS. were without it.

1b. into] the proper Meaning of the Gr. whether Name be taken for Profession or Power as Act. iv. 7.

NOTES upon the BOOK of MARK.

CHAP. I.

THE Beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God :

2. As it is written in the Prophets ; Behold I send my Messenger before thy Face, who shall make ready thy Way before thee :

3. There is the Voice of one crying out in the Wilderness, Prepare the Way of the Lord, make straight Roads for him.

4. John was baptizing in the Wilderness, and preaching the Baptism of Repentance for the Forgiveness of Sins :

5. And there went out to him all they of the Country of Judea, with those of Jerusalem ; and were all baptized by him in the River Jordan, confessing their Sins.

6. Now John was clothed with Camel's Hair, and a leathern Girdle about his Loins ; moreover he did eat Locusts and wild Honey.

7. He also preached as follows ; There comes one stronger than I after me, the Latchet of whose Shoes I am not fit to stoop down and undo.

8. I indeed have baptized you with Water ; but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit.

9. In those Days too did Jesus come from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized by John in Jordan.

10. Then presently going up from the Water, he saw the Heavens parted, and the Spirit as a Dove come down on him.

11. When behold there was a Voice from Heaven, Thou art my beloved Son, with whom I am pleased.

12. Moreover the Spirit presently takes him out into the Wilderness.

13. And he was there in the Wilderness forty Days, tempted by Satan ; as also was with wild Beasts, and Angels ministered to him.

14. At length after John was committed to

Tit. Mark} I put the Names of the Writers only for Titles, as to the Books of the Prophets, being sufficient for Understanding and Distinction, as well as Quotation ; especially since more is all human, and may better be spared to these Sacred Records. Mark, by the best Account I find, wrote this about the Year of our present Reckoning 63, and as some Manuscripts have it, with Theophylact and Epiphanius, at Rome. That he did not write it as a Compendium of Matthew's, which some have thought, I am entirely of the Mind with Mills, having observed in translating, what I since see him producing Instances of, that Mark frequently enlarges on Matthew, while he omits divers other Matters. Nor will Mills allow that Mark wrote it in Latin. Though this Evangelical History may be counted the least valuable of the four, yet it seems the most exact and regular ; since Mark makes Improvements on Matthew, moreover Luke places Things out of Order, as Ham. several times observes, and John does not only write a Sort of an Appendix to the others, but the least grammatically, as it appears, of all the Penmen of the Scripture. This Mark was very probably, and as it is thought, the same that is mentioned 1 Pet. v. 13. and seems to be he also who is named in other Places, viz. Act. xii. 12, 25, & xv. 37, 39. Col. iv. 10. 2 Tim. iv. 11. Phil. xxiv. though rendered by our Translators differently ; no Wonder then that he largely heard from the Disciples, what Jesus did on Earth ; of whom see also at Act. xiii. 5.

Ver. 2. the Prophets} to wit that of this Ver. in Mal. iii. 1. and of the next in Isa. xl. 3. but the vulg. Lat. and several have it Esaias the Prophet. Mills has a Notion, which he seemed fond of, mentioning it several times, though destitute of any Suffrage, as he confesses, of Copies or Fathers, that in Mark's Original Writing it was the Prophet, that Esaias was added after, and these again changed to the Prophets ; as if Mark did not know he quoted the following from more than one : for the Pretence that by the Prophet was meant the Book of the Prophets seems without Foundation, no such Thing appearing to me elsewhere, and the Prophets being thus cited, Luk. xxiv. 44. Job. vi. 45. Act. xiii. 40. & xxiv. 14. see also Whitby's Annot.

1b. before thee] rejected by Mills on the Credit of a few, as it was, I imagine, by Somebody at first because in Mal. is me ; which has no Validity, however it might some Shew, against it, thee being necessary here by reason of thy ; for this look Whit. Exam. L. 2.

Ver. 5. were all baptized] The Vulg. and eastern Versions, with a few Copies, have this all to those of Jerusalem, and so Mills did not doubt it was at first ; but perhaps all being thought needless here, was removed : a plainer Reason than Mills's to the contrary.

Ver. 7. Two different Specimens of very old Eng. in this and a few other Verses, may be seen in Lewis's Hist. p. 16, 30, 31.

Ver. 8. indeed] This, says Mills, is Matthew's (viz. added thence by Somebody else to Mark) but how did he know that ? Surely not by two or three Translators neglecting it, as ours do commonly in other Places.

Ver. 9. was baptized] Ignatius in his Epist. to the Ephesians writes, ὁς ἱερωδῆς καὶ ἑκατέρωθεν, ἡμεῖς τῷ ᾧ ἡμεῖς ἰδοὺ καθάριον. Which Bp. Wake translates, He was born, and baptized, that through his Passion (plainer Suffering) he might purify Water (but better perhaps the Water) and adds into his Transf. to the washing away of Sin ; which seems for an Improvement of that in the Office of Baptism, didst sanctify Water to the mystical washing away of Sin, thus made real ; and a Note of Exposition would have been more candid, and might have been, for John's Baptism, as what Christ was to fulfil, Mat. lili. 15. & v. 17. and as the same Ignatius says in another Epistle to the Smyrnaeans, Sect. 1.

Ver. 10. parted] opened but in a few Copies.

Ver. 11. whom] Some have thee, rightly, says Mills (after changing his Mind) so Luke, an Imitator of Mark, Pr. 1196. but why not Mark as well an Imitator of Matthew, Ch. iiii. 17. & xvii. 5 ? Whitby mentions, not answers, this and that at Ver. 5.

Ver. 13. there in the Wilderness] 7 leave out there, so many the other.

Prison,

Prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom of God,

15. And saying, The Time is fulfilled, that the Kingdom of God draws near; repent, and believe in the Gospel.

16. And he walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw Simon, and his Brother Andrew, throwing a Net into the Sea (for they were Fishermen)

17. At which Jesus said to them, Come after me, and I will make you become Fishers for Men.

18. So they presently left their Nets, and followed him.

19. And going on thence a little, he saw James of Zebedee, and his Brother John, who were in a Ship mending the Nets;

20. And he presently called them: when they leaving their Father Zebedee in the Ship, along with those that were hired, went away after him.

21. They go also into Capernaum; and presently on the Sabbath he entered into the Synagogue, and taught:

22. Inasmuch that they were surprized at his Doctrine: for he taught them as having Authority, and not as the Scribes.

23. Besides there was in their Synagogue a Man with an unclean Spirit, and he cried out,

24. Saying, Let alone, what hast thou to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? I know who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25. However Jesus rebuked him thus, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26. Accordingly the unclean Spirit tearing him, and crying aloud, came out of him.

27. And they were all astonished, so that they queried with themselves as follows, What is this? What new Doctrine this, that by Authority he even bids the unclean Spirits, and they obey him?

28. Whereupon the Report of him went out presently into the whole Country about Galilee.

29. And presently going out of the Synagogue, they came into the House of Simon and Andrew, along with James and John.

30. But Simon's Mother-in-law lay having a Fever, and presently they tell him concerning her.

31. Upon this he came near, and raised her up, taking hold of her Hand, and the Fever left her presently; inasmuch that she waited on them.

32. And the Evening being come, when the Sun set, People brought to him all who were ill, and them in whom the Devil was.

33. Nay the whole City was gathered together to the Door.

34. And he cured many who were ill with various Diseases, and expelled many Devils; besides he did not suffer the Devils to speak, because they knew him.

35. Afterwards at the Morning getting up long within Night, he went out, and away into a desert Place, and there prayed.

36. Simon likewise and those with him followed after him.

37. Whom finding, they say to him, All seek thee.

38. And he says to them, Let us go along into the next Towns, that I may also preach there; since I came for this.

39. Accordingly he preached in their Synagogues throughout all Galilee, and expelled Devils.

40. And there came to him a Leper, who beseeching him, kneeled down to him, and said, If thou wilt, thou canst cleanse me.

41. Jesus then being moved with Affection, stretched forth the Hand, and touched him, as likewise says to him, I will; be thou cleansed.

42. And when he had spoken, presently the Leprosy went away from him, and he was cleansed.

43. He also strictly charging him, presently sent him forth;

44. And says to him, See thou tellest Nobody any Thing; but go, shew thy self to the

Ver. 16. walking] Some passing along, but since Mills took no farther Notice of it, why should Whitby in his Answer to him; or tell us what we did not want to know, that it is without Difference? While the Brother of this Simon is found with many more (lest we should understand it, says Mills, to be Christ's), without any Notice from Whitby.

Ver. 21. Sabbaths] plural as Luk. iv. 31. which is the same Passage. The Geneva Translators, whom the King's followed (but the Bishops have as here) appear to take the sing. from Beza, who reckons it apparent that the plur. Num. is put for the sing. yet renders it plurally there.

Ver. 24. the Holy One of God] I question whether Expositors have hit upon, what may notwithstanding perhaps be allowed the Motive of the wicked Spirit's saying this. Addison on Milton's Poem in Spectat. 303. observes that the Devil there frequently confesses God's Omnipotence, as being the only Consideration which could support his Pride under the Shame of his Defeat; which if just, may fitly be applied here: as to the saying this Fiend was forced to it; who forced, him since Christ forbade him?

Ver. 31. raised] the Gr. being in this Order.

Ver. 34. to speak] which the Gr. signifies rather than say, as Wesley has it; but his Note is smart and commendable, 'That is, according to Dr. Mead's Hypothesis (That the Scriptural Demoniacs were only diseased Persons) He suffered not the Diseases to say, that they knew him!'

Ver. 35. desert] as Mat. xiv. 13, 15. and rightly.

Ver. 42. when he had spoken] being left out, as what might be spared, by some Transcriber or Translator, thence Mills would justify the Omission of it.

Ver. 44. any Thing] Some Books wanting this, Mills supposes it transferred hither from, Ch. vii. 36. where it Priest, and offer for thy Cleansing the Things which Moses commanded, for a Testimony to them.

45. Who nevertheless on going out, began to proclaim it much, and to tell the Matter about, so that he could no more openly enter into the City; but was without in desert Places, and People came to him all round about.

C H A P. II.

NOW he went again into Capernaum in some Days, and it was heard that he was in the House.

2. Upon which many were presently gathered together, so that they could be received no more, even not at the Door; and he spoke the Word to them.

3. And the People came to him, carrying one who had the Palsy, held up by four.

4. When being not able to get near him by reason of the Company, they uncovered the Roof where he was; and pulling it off, let down the Couch on which he that had the Palsy lay.

5. And Jesus at seeing their Faith, says to him who had the Palsy, Child, thy Sins are forgiven thee.

6. But there were some of the Scribes who sat there, and reasoned in their Hearts,

7. Why does he thus speak Blasphemies? Who can forgive Sins, excepting God only?

8. However Jesus presently knew in his Spirit, that they so reasoned in themselves, and said to them, Why reason ye these Things in your Hearts?

9. Which is easier, to say to him who has the Palsy, The Sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy Couch, and walk?

10. But that you may perceive, the Man has Authority to forgive Sins on the Earth (says he to him who had the Palsy;)

11. I order thee, Arise, and take up thy Couch, and go home.

12. Accordingly he arose straightways, and taking up the Couch, went out before them all; so that they were all amazed, and did glorify God, saying, We have never seen such a Thing.

13. Afterwards he went out again by the Sea; and all the Company came to him, and he taught them.

14. Passing along also, he saw Levi of Alphaeus sitting at the Custom-house, and says to him, Follow me: so he rose up, and followed him.

15. Moreover when he was sitting in his House, many Publicans and Sinners sat down with Jesus and his Disciples: for there were many, who followed him.

16. So the Scribes and Pharisees seeing him eat with these, said to his Disciples, How is it that he eats and drinks with Publicans and Sinners?

17. Which Jesus hearing, answers them, Such as are in health have no Need of a Physician, but those who are ill: I did not come to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance.

18. Next there were the Disciples of John and of the Pharisees who fast, and they come, and say to him, For what reason, when the Disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, do thy Disciples not fast?

19. And Jesus said to them; Can the Sons of the Bride-chamber fast, while the Bridegroom is with them? As long Time as they have him with them, they cannot fast.

is but in fewer, i. e. he would have it be there, and not here, just contrary to the received Reading; which may be termed playing at cross Purposes indeed!

Ver. 45. much] not in 3 or 4 Transf. and Copies together, but not therefore added, as Mills asserts, Prol. 410.

Ver. 1. some] A very few Latin Books have eight, which Mills however is for, as Mark's own: he supposes there was 4 the Numeral for eight before ἡμέρας Days, and being written close together with the preceding Word, the Scribes thinking we should not be together, ejected one; but if those Scribes were ignorant of Greek, how should they think a double Letter wrong, that is so frequent? If they understood it, they would have known those two Letters were to be distinguished, and the Use of the former. Besides both the writing in one continued Word may be doubted, excepting in a few Copies, and also the putting numeral Letters for the Words at Length. Rather Somebody fancied, like Mills, there might have been 2 η's instead of one, and so put eight. If this Manner of Some is not a Hebraism, there is the like in Heb. Neb. i. 4. Dan. viii. 27. &c. Whitby only objects Mills's altering his Opinion, which is giving Strength to the latter, as supposing it better considered, instead of refuting it.

Ver. 4. get near] In 3 Copies and 4 Versions, carry (him) to, which with Mills is genuine; but I want some Reason, and more Strength for it. Whitby answers by telling who has ours, yet wrong.

Ver. 7. speak Blasphemies?] Two or three have it speaking? He blasphemes; but Mills vindicates this to be Mark's own Writing, by Luke's accommodating himself usually to his Speaking (as Ch. v. 21.) and not Matthew's (in Ch. ix. 3.) as he calls him a little further a perpetual Follower of Mark.

[b. only] One very odd Copy only being without this Word, Mills pronounces it to be put in from Mat. Prol. 410. Who would have been so rash besides himself? But where from Mat. There is no such Thing in the parallel Place, Ch. ix. 3.

Ver. 11. go] the very same as in Mat. ix. 6.

Ver. 15. and Sinners] In one Version or two only omitted, and yet Mills had a vehement Suspicion, he said, that it was brought from Ver. 16. when much rather left out here, by so few also, because twice there so near.

Ver. 17. to Repentance] See Mat. ix. 13.

Ver. 18. of the Pharisees] For the first some have the Pharisees nominatively without of.

20. But the Days will come when the Bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those.

21. And none sews a Patch of fresh Cloth upon an old Garment; for if thus a new Piece of that pulls off some of the old, and the Rent is made worse.

22. None likewise puts new Wine into old Bottles; for if thus the new Wine breaks the Bottles, the Wine is shed out, and the Bottles will perish: but new Wine is to be put into new Bottles.

23. He went along too on the Sabbath through the standing Corn, and his Disciples began to make the Journey with plucking the Ears.

24. With this the Pharisees said to him, Lo why do they on the Sabbath that which is not lawful?

25. And he answered them; Have you never read what David himself did, when he had Need, and was hungry, and those with him?

26. How he entered into the House of God under Abiathar the high Priest, and did eat the Presence-bread; which it is not lawful to eat, excepting for the Priest; and gave also to those who were with him?

27. He said further to them; The Sabbath was made for the sake of Man, not Man for the sake of the Sabbath.

28. So that the Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.

C H A P. III.

NOW he entered into the Synagogue; where there was a Man had a Hand withered up.

2. So they watched him, whether he would cure him on the Sabbath, that they might accuse him.

3. Nevertheless he says to the Man who had the Hand withered up, Get up in the midst of them.

4. He also says to them, Is it lawful to do good, or to do evil on the Sabbath? to save Life, or to kill? But they were silent.

5. When looking about at them with Anger, being sorrowful at the Hardness of their Hearts, he says to the Man, Stretch forth thy Hand; which he stretching, that was restored as sound as the other.

6. At which the Pharisees went out, and presently consulted the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7. And Jesus went aside with his Disciples to the Sea; and a great Multitude from Galilee followed him, as also from Judea;

8. From Jerusalem too, and from Idumea, and the Side of Jordan, with those about Tyre and Sidon, a great Multitude, hearing how many Things he did, came to him.

9. Upon this he said to his Disciples, that a little Ship should continue with him, by reason of the Company, that they might not throng him.

10. For he cured many; so that whoever had Distempers pressed on him, that they might touch him.

11. And unclean Spirits when they saw him, fell down to him, and cried out, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

12. However he charged them much, that they should not make him manifest.

13. Moreover he went up on a Mountain, and called thither whom he himself would; whereupon they came to him.

14. And he appointed twelve, that they might be with him, and that he might send them to preach;

15. As likewise to have Authority to cure Diseases, and to expel Devils:

16. To wit Simon on whom he put the Name Peter,

17. And James of Zebedee, and John the Brother of James (on whom he put the Names Boanerges, that is Sons of Thunder)

18. And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James of Alphaeus, and Thaddeaus, and Simon the Canaanite, Ver. 20. those] Some that Day, not worth our Notice, if it had not Whitby's.

Ver. 22. the new Wine breaks] Mills says this new crept in from the former Part of the Verse; but far less likely than for it to be omitted, as it is by a few, because there.

Ib. perish] better than marred, and as the same is Mat. ix. 17.

Ver. 23. He went along too] Mills having found three with again, declares it entirely Mark's, and thinks it expunged by some audacious Amender, and so omitted by the Scribes, who composed themselves to his Exemplar, that I may give it to the Eng. Reader almost in Latin. But is not this imaginary Man the Picture of himself, who would thrust it in with so much Confidence? However he may not be so lucky with Scribes.

Ib. to make the Journey with plucking] literal.

Ver. 26. under Abiathar] not in the days of; see likewise Act. 11. 28.

Ib. the high Priest] not that he was so then, but soon after; which Whitby makes much Ado about.

Ver. 28. the Man] Christ himself, as distinguished from Man in the Ver. before.

Ver. 5. as sound as the other] some Manuscripts and the ancient Versions in general want, so is said by Mills to be from Mat. but Mark uses rather to add, than subtract such little Things from him. It is given by Whitby as if only sound was wanting, but his Examen Millii is excessively incorrect, even the Edition said to be more correct.

19. And Judas Iscariot, who also did deliver him up; and they went into a House.

20. Whereupon the Company come together again, so that they could not even eat any Victuals.

21. Which those who belonged to him hearing, they went out to take hold of him: for they said, that he was amazed.

22. Nay the Scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, that he had Beelzebul, and that he expelled Devils by the Prince of them.

23. And he calling them thither, said to them in Similitudes; How can Satan cast forth Satan?

24. If a Kingdom also be divided in it self, that Kingdom cannot stand.

25. If a Family likewise be divided in it self, that Family cannot stand.

26. Thus if Satan rise up at himself, and is divided; he cannot stand, but has an End.

27. None can plunder a strong Man's Goods, by entering into his House, except he first bind the strong Man; and then he may plunder his House.

28. I say to you certainly, that all Sins will be forgiven Mankind, and Blasphemies whatsoever they shall blaspheme with;

29. Only whoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit, has not Forgiveness for ever, but is obnoxious to everlasting Judgment:

30. Because they said, He has an unclean Spirit.

31. Therefore his Brethren and Mother come, and standing without, sent for him.

32. Now as the Company sate about him, they said to him, Behold thy Mother and thy Brethren without are seeking thee.

33. And he made them answer, Who is my Mother, or my Brethren?

34. Besides looking about at those who sate around him, he said; Lo my Mother, and my Brethren!

35. For whoever shall do the Will of God, that is my Brother, and my Sister, and Mother.

AND again he began to teach by the Sea: where a great Company was gathered together to him, so that he went aboard a Ship, to sit down on the Sea; at which all the Company was, upon the Land.

2. Whom he taught many Things in Similitudes, and said to them in his Doctrine:

3. Hearken; behold a Sower went forth to sow.

4. As this was doing, some indeed fell by the Way, so that the Fowls of the Air came, and eat it up.

5. Other also fell in a stony Place, where it had not much Earth; and presently sprung up, because it had not Depth of Earth.

6. However when the Sun rose, it was scorched; and because it had not Root, it withered.

7. Moreover other fell among Briers; which came up, and choked it together, so that it yielded no Fruit.

8. And other fell into good Land, and yielded Fruit that came up and grew, nay bore one thirty, one sixty, and one a hundred-fold.

9. He further said to them, He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

10. And when he was alone, those who attended him with the twelve, asked him of the Similitude.

11. Upon this he said to them; It is given you, to know the Mystery of the Kingdom of God; but to them without all Things are done in Similitudes:

12. That they may behold still, though they will not clearly see, and hear still, though they will not understand; lest they should return at any time, and the Sins be forgiven them.

13. He likewise says to them: Do ye not know this Similitude? And how will ye know all Similitudes?

Ver. 20. come] plur. in the Gr.

Ver. 21. went out] as the Gr. is, viz. out of the Company, Ver. 20.

1b. amazed] as Ch. ii. 12. & vi. 51, &c. by being here overhurred.

Ver. 27. a strong Man's Goods] so the Greek.

Ver. 29. Judgment] Sin with Some; but though Grosius and Mills think it so written by Mark, another may think otherwise, and run no great Risque of being exposed: as to its being a Hebraism, for Sin to signify the Punishment of Sin; this was Greek, and Punishment is different, but Somebody might think so oddly before, and thereupon substituted Sin; see also Whit. Exam.

Ver. 31. Therefore] then conveys a different temporal Meaning, which the Gr. Particle has not.

1b. come] See it at Mat. xxv. 11: being the same as in the 20th Verse here.

Ver. 32. Brethren] Many Copies add and thy Sisters, which Mills embraces, but it does not appear by Matthew nor Luke.

Ver. 4. of the Air] A great many have not this, and Mills deemed it of other Gospels, Prol. 1100. but Matthew is without it Ch. xiii. 4. and I think it is more usual for Mark to add such to him, than for Luke to Mark.

Ver. 8. one—one—one] A pretty many MS. Copies have in or with repeated, that is in for in and so Ver. 20. but the Criticks condemn it.

Ver. 11. to know] not with a few, and exploded by Mills for Matthew's or Luke's, Prol. 1466. but so Mark must subduct from Matthew, what is unusual, besides the Sense requiring this.

14. The Sower sows the Word.

15. Next these are they by the Way, where the Word is sown, that when they have heard, presently Satan comes, and takes away the Word which was sown in their Hearts.

16. And these are they in like Manner that are sown on in stony Places, who when they have heard the Word, presently receive it with Joy.

17. Yet they have not Root in themselves, only exist for a Time; afterwards there being Affliction or Persecution for the Word, they are presently offended.

18. These too that are sown on among Briers, are such as hear the Word;

19. And the Cares of this World, the Deceit of Riches, with the Desires concerning other Things entering in, choak the Word together, so that it becomes unfruitful.

20. These also are they that are sown on in good Land, who hear the Word, and receive, and bear fruit, one thirty, one sixty, and one a hundred-fold.

21. Besides he said to them; Does a Candle come, that it may be put either under a Bushel or a Bed; not that it may be put in a Candlestick?

22. For there is not any Thing hid, which will not be made manifest; nor has been hidden, but that it will come to Manifestation.

23. If any one has Ears to hear, let him hear.

24. Moreover he said to them; Mind what you hear: with what Measure you shall measure, it will be measured to you; nay there will be some added to you who hear.

25. For to him whoever has, shall be given; and from him who has not, shall be taken even what he seemingly has.

26. And he said; Thus the Kingdom of God is, as if a Man should cast Seed on the Land:

27. Then should sleep, and get up Night and Day; and the Seed should sprout out, and spring up, he does not know how.

28. For the Land bears fruit of it self; first the Blade, afterwards the Ear, after that the full Corn in the Ear.

29. But when the Fruit is yielded forth, presently he puts in the Hook, because Harvest is come.

30. Again he said; To what shall we liken the Kingdom of God? Or to what shall we make a Comparison of it?

31. As to a Grain of Mustard, which when it is sown on the Land, is the least of all the Seeds there.

32. Nevertheless when it is sown, it comes up, and becomes the greatest of all Herbs, nay yields great Branches; so that the Fowls of the Air can dwell under its Shadow.

33. And with many such Similitudes he spoke the Word to them, according as they could hear.

34. But he did not speak to them without a Similitude; however he explained all the Things privately to his Disciples.

35. He also says to them that Day, when it was Evening, Let us go along to the farther Side.

36. So they sending away the Company, took him as he was in the Ship; and there were likewise other little Ships with him.

37. And there was a great tempestuous Wind, which drove the Waves into the Ship, so that it was quickly filled.

38. In the mean while he was on the Stern, asleep on a Pillow; with that they awaken him, and say to him, Master, dost not thou care for our perishing?

39. At this he got up, and rebuked the Wind, and said to the Sea, Be silent, hold thy peace; whereupon the Wind ceased, and there was a great Calm.

40. Besides he said to them, Why are you so fearful? How have you no Faith?

41. Whereas seized with a great Fear, they said one to another, Who indeed is this, that even the Wind and Sea obey him?

Ver. 15. that] which rendering is requisite to be proper.

Ver. 17. only] as Mat. xiii. 21. not and so.

Ver. 18. are such as] many are destitute of, but see Whitby's Exam. L. ii. 2.

Ver. 19. this World] two or three have but the World, which Mills seizes as a Prey, and tells us [this] is Matthew's, Proh. 410. But Mark used rather to make some Addition to Matthew.

1b. Desires] Lust being now seldom used but for carnal Desire.

Ver. 24. may there will be some added to you who hear] omitted in some Copies, probably to make it like Mat. vii. 2. Luke vi. 38. the Case of other various Readings. But Mills uncanonizes to you who hear, as added from the foregoing Part of the Verse; which is gratis dictum, a mere Say-so.

Ver. 31. As to a Grain] It is likely Mark retained the dative Case of Matthew, as the received Reading is; yet many have an accusative, which would be As a Grain, and a few a nom. in the Manner our Translators have turned it. Whitby's Answer is of the worthless Kind.

Ver. 33. many] four Copies and the like Number of Versions are without; what shall be done for its Vindication? It wants none, and surely not such as Whitby's, one Version and one Author that have it.

Ver. 34. all the Things] viz. of the Similitudes, not all indiscriminately; John xiv. 25, 26. & xvi. 12, 13.

Ver. 37. which drove the Waves] in this Manner the Original.

C H A P. V.

AT length they came to the farther Side of the Sea, into the Country of the Gadarenes.

2. And he coming out of the Ship, there presently met him from the Tombs, a Man with an unclean Spirit.

3. Who had a Dwelling among the Tombs; and Nobody could bind him, even not with Chains:

4. Because he had been often bound with Fetters and Chains, but the Chains were torn asunder by him, and the Fetters broke in pieces; so Nobody was able to tame him.

5. And always Night and Day, he was on the Mountains, and among the Tombs, crying out, and cutting himself with Stones.

6. However when he saw Jesus far off, he ran, and worshipped him.

7. And crying out aloud, said, What hast thou to do with me, Jesus, the Son of the Highest God? I conjure thee by God, that thou wilt not torment me.

8. For Jesus said to him, Come out of the Man, O unclean Spirit.

9. He moreover asked him, What is thy Name? Who made answer, It is Legion, because we are many:

10. As also besought him much, that he would not send them out of the Country.

11. Now there at the Mountains was a great Herd of Hogs feeding;

12. So all the Devils besought him thus, Send us into the Hogs; that we may enter into them.

13. And Jesus permitted them presently: upon which the unclean Spirits coming out, entered into the Hogs; when the Herd ran with violence down a steep Place into the Sea (being about two thousand) and were stifled in the Sea.

14. The Keepers of the Hogs then ran away, and related it both in the City and the Fields; and the People came out to see what was done.

15. And coming to Jesus, they behold him in whom the Devils were, that had the Legion, sitting, and cloathed, and being sober; at which they were afraid.

16. Besides those who saw told them, how it was done to him in whom the Devils were, and concerning the Hogs.

17. With that they began to beseech him, to go away from their Borders.

18. Who going aboard the Ship, he in whom were Devils besought him, that he might be with him.

19. Yet Jesus did not let him, but say to him, Go into thy House to thy own Folk, and relate to them all the Things which the Lord has done for thee, and had mercy upon thee in.

20. Accordingly he went away, and began to proclaim in Decapolis, whatever Things Jesus had done for him; at which they all wondered.

21. And Jesus passing over in the Ship again to the farther Side, a great Company gathered together to him, while he was by the Sea.

22. When behold there comes one of the Rulers of the Synagogue, named Jairus, and on seeing him, fell down at his Feet;

23. And besought him much, saying, My little Daughter is near her End; so that come, and put the Hands on her, that she may be made well; and she will live.

24. At this he went away with him; as likewise a great Company followed him, and thronged him.

25. And a certain Woman that was with a Flux of Blood twelve Years,

26. Having also suffered many Things by many Physicians, and all which belonged to [Ver. 1. of the Sea] Finding this deficient in a Copy or two, Mills supposes it taken from the last Verse of the foregoing Chapter, there being the same without it, Ch. iv. 35. But the latter might be the Occasion of omitting this, and Mark accustoms himself to add a little to Mat. as this to Ch. viii. 28. Our great Critick to enforce it more; says, Luke the Follower of Mark in almost all Things, dismisses all Mention of the Sea. But does he follow him here in the other Words, Ch. viii. 26? Certainly No. And where could Sea be inserted there?

[Ver. 2. from the Tombs] agreeable to among in the next Verse.

[Ver. 7. said] that is the unclean Spirit by the Man, Ver. 2. Luke viii. 28, 29. so related as done by the Man, with the foregoing Things.

[Ver. 11. Mountains] Abundance have Mountain, and with a different Gr. Case; but as the Criticks bring no Writ of Ejectment, we may quietly possess our Mountains; and that they never may, let it be considered, that probably Mountains was thought too much for one Herd, and the contrary Change seems utterly improbable.

[Ib. great] an Explanation, says Mills, he means inserted afterwards; because not found with a few, which he so often prefers before many for genuine Reading. If I may guess also, it is that a great Herd of Hogs might seem too many for the Jews to have, who must not eat them, and those Creatures being very useless otherwise, and therefore great was dropped, not I suppose as Mark's, but as some other's counted to be got in.

[Ver. 12. all] some are without.

[Ver. 15. that had the Legion] Mills outstretching Gratius himself, turns this out for a Comment; whereas it was left out, I suppose, by a few, as what might be spared; not added by many, as wanted.

[Ver. 16. them] where the Comma is in the Gr. and properly; the like Ver. 18.

[Ver. 19. in] which the Eng. Construction requires.

[Ver. 22. behold] Matthew's or Luke's, says Mills, in his Way of thinking, Prol. 401. but he had now spoken of Luke as constantly following Mark, whether with or without Matthew, n. 398. if so Mark must have behold.

her, being spent, yet she nothing profited, but was got rather to be worse;

27. Now having heard concerning Jesus, she came in the Company behind, and touched his Garment.

28. For she said, If I but touch his Cloaths, I shall be made well.

29. So the Fountain of her Blood presently became dry, and she knew in her Body that she was healed of the Distemper.

30. And Jesus presently knowing in himself that Power was gone out from him, turned about in the Company, and asked, Who touched my Cloaths?

31. Whereas his Disciples said to him; Thou beholdest the Company thronging thee, and dost thou enquire, Who touched me?

32. Nevertheless Jesus looked about to see her that did this.

33. The Woman then being afraid, and trembling, as she knew what was done in her, came, and fell down to him, and told him all the Truth.

34. Upon which he said to her, Daughter, thy Faith has made thee well; go away in Peace, and be sound from thy Distemper.

35. While he was speaking, they come from the Ruler of the Synagogue's, saying, Thy Daughter is dead; why dost thou trouble the Master any more?

36. But Jesus presently hearing the Matter that was spoken, says to the Ruler of the Synagogue, Do not fear, only believe.

37. And he let none follow after him, excepting Peter, James, and John the Brother of James.

38. At last he came into the Ruler of the Synagogue's House, and beheld the Bustle, those who wept and lamented much.

39. Thus he being entered in, says to them, Why do ye make a noise, and weep? The Girl is not dead, but asleep:

40. At which they derided him; nevertheless he put them all forth, and takes the Father of the Girl, and the Mother, as also those with him, and goes in where she was lying.

41. Next he took hold of the Girl's Hand, and says to her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Maid (I say to thee) rise up.

42. And presently the Maid arose, and walked; for she was twelve Years old: whereupon they were seized with great Amazement.

43. He notwithstanding commanded them much, that none should know this; and said there should be Something given her to eat.

C H A P. VI.

AFTER this he went out thence, and came into his own Country, and his Disciples follow him.

2. And when it was the Sabbath, he began to teach in the Synagogue; and many who heard were surprized, saying; Whence has he these Matters? And what Wisdom is given to him, that even such powerful Things are done by his Hands?

3. Is not this the Carpenter, the Son of Mary, as likewise the Brother of James, Joses, Judas and Simon? And are not his Sisters here with us? So they were offended at him.

4. But Jesus said to them, that a Prophet is not without Honour, excepting in his own Country, among Relations, and in his own House.

5. And he could not do any powerful Thing there, except that he put the Hands on a few Sick, and cured.

6. He also wondered by reason of their Unbelief; and went on round about in the Villages, teaching.

7. Afterwards he called thither the twelve, and began to send them two by two, and gave them Authority over unclean Spirits.

8. However he ordered them, that they should take Nothing for the Road, excepting a Stick only; not a Bag, not Victuals, not Brags in the Girdle:

Ver. 35. Synagogue's House being understood, as with us, nay denoted by the Apostrophe.

Ver. 36. presently Mills, though this immediately follows that at Ver. 22. in his Proleg. supposes the Word put in by some Scribe, as being not in Luke viii. 50.

Ver. 38. he Some have they came, as may seem made from the preceding Ver. and Luke viii. 51.

Ib. into the same Preposition as in Mat. ix. 23. and so signifying, nay with the Verb which that has the Participle of.

Ver. 41. Talitha Beza justly condemns the Lat. and Gr. Copies which have Talitha from Acts ix. 40. but I doubt with more Affectation of Knowledge than he had in the Heb. Tongue, through Ignorance of which, he says, that was made; since this Word is neither Heb. nor from it, but Syriack the Mother-tongue of our Lord, and from the Chald. which has in one Targum taliyetha. Est. ii. 9.

and in another talitha, Deut. xxii. 21. the Heb. and Chald. being and signifying alike in the other Word, the Imperat. fem. of נָתַן

Ver. 42. old as rendered in Luke ii. 42. Acts iv. 22. 1 Tim. v. 9. and of age, Luke iii. 23. & viii. 42.

Ver. 3. The Carpenter Justin Martyr, who was of Samaria, and born about 70 Years after the Death of Jesus Christ (in his Dialogue with Trypho the Jew, lately translated into English by Brown) relates that he made ἀροτρα καὶ ζῦλα, Ploughs and Yokes, working at the Trade of a Carpenter.

Ib. Brother Look at Gal. i. 9.

Ib. Judas as Mat. xiii. 55.

Ver 7. over A Power of the genitive Case, as in Rom. vi. 9. & vii. 1. 1 Cor. ix. 12. John xvii. 2. which might be comprehended, though not so well expressed, in of.

9. But to have Sandals tied on, and not to put on two Coats.

10. Besides he said to them, Wheresoever you enter into a House, remain there, until you go out thence.

11. And to as many as ever will not receive you, nor hear you; go out thence, and shake off the Earth underneath your Feet, for a Testimony to them. I tell you certainly, It will be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorra on the Day of Judgment, than for that City.

12. Accordingly they went out, and proclaimed that People should repent.

13. Moreover they expelled many Devils, and anointed with Oil many sick Persons, and cured.

14. Which King Herod heard (for his Name was made publick) and said, John the Baptizer is risen from the Dead, and for this reason powerful Things operate in him.

15. Some said, He is Elias; as did others, He is a Prophet, or as one of the Prophets.

16. But Herod hearing, said, This is John whom I beheaded, he is risen from the Dead.

17. For Herod himself had sent, and taken hold of John, and bound him in Prison, by reason of Herodias, the Wife of his Brother Philip, because he had married her.

18. For John said to Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy Brother's Wife.

19. Thus Herodias bore him a grudge, and would have killed him, but could not.

20. For Herod was afraid of John, knowing that he was a righteous and holy Man; so he observed him, and on hearing him, did many Things, as also heard him gladly.

21. At length there was a seasonable Day, when Herod on his Birth-day made a Supper for his Grandees, Colonels, and the chief Men of Galilee;

22. And the Daughter of this Herodias coming in, danced, and pleasing Herod, as likewise those who were sat down together, the King said to the Maid, Ask of me whatever thou wilt, and I will give thee.

23. Nay he swore to her, Whatever thou shalt ask of me, I will give thee, to half my Kingdom.

24. And going out, she said to her Mother, What shall I ask? And she answered, The Head of John the Baptizer.

25. So she came in presently with Haste to the King, and asked as follows, I am willing that thou shouldest give me the Head of John the Baptizer, at this Time on a Plate.

26. At which the King becoming very sorry, would by reason of the Oath, and of those who were sitting together, not reject her.

27. Accordingly the King presently sent away the Executioner, and ordered his Head to be brought; so he went away, and beheaded him in the Prison.

28. Moreover he brought his Head on a Plate, and gave it to the Maid; as she also did to her Mother.

29. Which his Disciples hearing, came, and took up the dead Body, and put it in a Grave.

30. The Apostles also gathered together to Jesus, and declared to him all Things, both whatever they had done, and whatever they had taught.

31. And he said to them, Come ye yourselves privately into a desert Place, and be refreshed a little: for there were many coming and going, so that they had not Time to eat.

Ver. 11. I tell you certainly, It will &c.] All this to the End of the Verse, five or six MSS. and a Version or two are without, so that some Criticks judge it transplanted hither from Mat. x. 15. Should it be so, it would be Scripture, but there is not Country here, which may denote otherwise, and Mark uses to add Sentences or Expressions to Matthew, rather than lessen them, when treating of the same Matter.

Ver. 12. proclaimed] to be different, as the Gr. is, from that in Luke ix. 6.

Ver. 15. or] Many leave out, and Mills, with Grotius, thought we should, Pr. 674. which I shall not contradict.

Ver. 16. This is] Matthew's, cries Mills, in Prol. 411. since not with a few.

Ib. John] Is it not surprizing in the great Variety of Reading which Mills found, and so laboriously collected, that he should so often throw Stumbling-blocks in our Way, by giving the Preference to a very few out of very many undistinguished Votes, and generally against our received Reading? So here again the (little known) Coptic Version, and one (very particular and strange) Manuscript (as I may well distinguish them, and neither of them the same as before) not having John, our Critick pronounces it an Addition from Luke ix. 9. Prol. 402.

when he had, been just telling and repeating, how Luke carefully follows Mark; according to which then Mark had this Word.

Ver. 20. righteous and holy] Of whom Wither wrote, And that his Voice might not alone Inform us what we should believe His Life declar'd what must be done, If Thee [Christ] we purpose to receive: His Life our pattern therefore make, That we the course he took may take.

Ver. 21. seasonable] Gr. well-timed.

Ver. 27. the King] is repeated, Mills says, from the last Ver. How many such Words may it be so pretended of, in the Historical Books of the Old Testament!

Ib. presently] the vul. Lat. only being without, is also condemned by Mills, Prol. 413. But how odd would it have been for any one to put it, according to his Hypothesis, in the Marg.

Ib. went away] the same, on no more Authority than the last, tells us he thinks this is of the Scribes, not St. Mark. But what should the Scribes add it for? It is much easier to think they omitted it, because they thought it might be; and this with all other Copies and Translations against that one.

32. With that they went away into a desert Place, in a Ship privately.

33. But the Multitude saw them going away, and many knew him; whereupon they ran together on Foot thither from all the Cities, and got before them, then went together to him.

34. Upon this Jesus going out, saw much Company, and was moved with Affection to them, because they were as Sheep that had not a Shepherd; and he began to teach them many Things.

35. And it being now a late Hour, his Disciples came to him, and say; It is a desert Place, and the Hour now late:

36. Send them away, that they may go home into the Fields and Villages round about, and buy themselves Bread; for they have Nothing to eat.

37. But Jesus made answer to them, Do ye give them some to eat. And they say to him, Shall we go away, and buy two hundred Penny-worth of Bread, and give them to eat?

38. Whereas he asks them, How many Loaves have you? go, and see; and on knowing, they reply, Five, and two Fishes.

39. Next he ordered them to make those all sit in Companies on the green Grass.

40. And they sat down in Parcels, by hundreds and by fifties.

41. He also taking the five Loaves and two Fishes, looked up to Heaven, blessed, and broke apart the Loaves, then gave to his Disciples, that they might set before them; the two Fishes likewise he divided to them all.

42. Who all did eat, and were filled.

43. Nay they took up twelve Baskets full of Fragments, and some of the Fishes.

44. And there were who did eat of the Loaves about five thousand Men.

45. He then presently compelled his Disciples to go aboard a Ship, and to go before to the farther Side towards Bethsaida, while he himself sent the Company away.

46. And when he had taken leave of them, he went away on a Mountain to pray.

47. It being Evening too, the Ship was in the midst of the Sea, and he himself alone on the Land.

48. And he saw them tormented in driving on (for the Wind was contrary to them) so about the fourth Watch of the Night he comes to them, walking on the Sea, and would have passed by them.

49. But on seeing him walk there; they thought it was an Apparition, and cried out.

50. (For they all saw him, and were troubled) and he presently spoke to them in this manner, Take courage, it is I, do not fear.

51. Besides he went up to them into the Ship, and the Wind ceased; so that they were very much amazed in themselves, and wondered.

52. For they did not understand about the Loaves, since their Heart was hardened.

53. At last passing over, they came on the Country of Gennesaret, when they were got to Shoar.

54. Who being come out of the Ship; the People presently knowing him,

55. Ran round about that whole Region; and they began to carry about those who were ill on Beds, to the Place where they heard that he was.

56. Nay where-ever he entered into Villages, Cities or Fields, they put the Sick in the Market-places, and besought him that they might but touch the Skirt of his Garment; and whosoever touched him were made well.

Ver. 33. and got before them] according to Mills not in three Copies; but Whitby says in two, and charges Mills (instead of others he mentions) that he would have it be a Scholium, when he says expressly the contrary both in his Note and Pr. p. 42. c. 2. or in Kuster's Edit. num. 398. As Jesus and his Apostles might sail round some Promontory, the People understanding whither he was going, could get thither before him by Land on Foot.

Ver. 36. Fields] to the publick Houses in Roads, &c. the Gr. being plural, and meaning so.

1b. Bread; for they have Nothing to eat] Mills after a few supposes it curtailed originally thus, what they may eat, the rest, as he declares, being from Ch. viii. 2. Strange fetching and carrying, as vulgarly said, at this Rate! but Bread is not there. How wrong and uncertain is Whitby's Examen on this!

Ver. 44. about] wanting in about fifty MSS. besides Persons, and Mills says is of the other Evangelists; truly it is suspicious, and Mark might have a more punctual Information (as supposed from Peter) viz. that there were full five thousand: for why should so many omit the Word in this only of all the four?

Ver. 45. towards] For it appears they did not go to Bethsaida, Ver. 53. John vi. 17. which surely they would, if Jesus had so constrained them.

Ver. 46. taken leave] This is not the Verb in the foregoing Ver. but the same as in Acts xviii. 18, 21. 2 Cor. ii. 13. Luke ix. 61. there rendered in this Manner.

Ver. 51. and wondered] From a Couple of Translations and another of MSS. Mills affirms these Words crept out of the Margin; but has not been so liberal as to tell us how they came in, or what they did there first.

Ver. 53. when] not after they came into that land.

Ver. 54. the People] which is divers times the proper Subject of Scripture Verbs, and here as shown by Mat. xiv. 35. and Christ's Disciples doubtless know him before, Ver. 45. nor is it to be thought, they that came out of the Ship carried the Sick.

Ver. 56. touched him] understand on any Part of his Cloaths.

CHAP. VII.

NOW there gather together to him Pharisees, and some of the Scribes, who came from Jerusalem.

2. And seeing some of his Disciples eating Victuals with polluted Hands, that is not washed, they found fault.

3. For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their Hands rightly, do not eat, holding the Tradition of the Elders.

4. When come from Market, except they are washed, they do not eat; and many other Things there are which they have received to hold, the Washing of Cups, Jugs, Kettles and Beds.

5. Next the Pharisees and Scribes asked him, For what reason do not thy Disciples walk according to the Tradition of the Elders, but eat Victuals with Hands not washed?

6. But he made answer to them: Esaias prophesied well concerning you Hypocrites, as it is written; This People honour me with the Lips, but their Heart is far from me;

7. Thus they worship me in vain, teaching the Doctrines, the Commandments of Men.

8. For putting away the Commandment of God, you hold the Tradition of Men, the Washing of Jugs and Cups; and many other such like Things you do.

9. He also said to them: You reject the Commandment of God effectually, that you may keep your own Tradition!
